12 Then the spirit tooke me vp, and I heard behind me a noyse of a great rushing, saying, <sup>a</sup> Blessed be the glorie of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noyse of the wings of the beasts, that touched one another, and the rattling of the wheelles that were by them, euen a noyse of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lift me vp, & tooke me away, and I went in bitterness, and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-abib, that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, & remained there astonished among them seuen dayes.

16 And at the end of seuen daies, the word of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, & giue them warning from me.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely dye, and thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that hee may liue, the same wicked man shall dye in his iniquitie: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warne the wicked, & he turne not from his wickednes, nor from his wicked way, he shall dye in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousness, and committ iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him, and he shall dye, because thou hast not gi-uen him warning: he shall die in his sinne, and his righteous deedes, which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Neuertheles, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, & that he doeth not sinne, he shall liue: because he is admonished: also thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hande of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, Arise, and go into the<sup>a</sup> field, & I will there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, beholde, the glorie of the Lord stood there, as the glorie which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and I fel downe vpon my face.

24 Then the Spirit entred into me, which set me vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto me, and said to me, Come, and stand vpon thine house.

25 But thou, O sonne of man, beholde, they shall put bandes vpon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue cleaue to the rooffe of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them as a man that rebuketh: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I shall haue spoken vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, He that heareth, let him heare, and hee that leaueth of, let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

forth into all the house of Irael.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Ierusalem: I haue set it in the mids of the nations & countreys, that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my <sup>a</sup> iudgements into wickednes more then the nations, & my statutes more then the countreys, that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, and they haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because your <sup>b</sup> multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither haue ye kept my iudgements: no, ye haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you,

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I, euē I come against thee, and will execute iudgement in the middes of thee, even in the sight of the nations.

9 And I wil do in thee, that I neuer did before, neither wil do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the middes of thee, the fathers shall eat their sonnes, and the sonnes shall eat their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

11 Wherefore, as I liue, saith the Lord God, Surely because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthines, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also destroy thee, neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue anie pitie.

12 The third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they bee consumed in the middes of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all windes, and I will drawe out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I wil cause my wrath to cease in them, and I wil be <sup>c</sup> comforted: and they shall knowe, that I the Lord haue spoken it in my zeale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations, that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt be a reproche and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment vnto the nations, that are rounde about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

16 When I shall send vpon the <sup>a</sup> euil arrowes of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I wil send to destroye you: and I will encrease the famine vpon you, and wil breake your staffe of bread.

17 <sup>b</sup> So wil I send vpon you famine, and euil mine beastes, and they shall spoyle thee, and pestilence & blood shall passe through thee, and I wil bring the sword vpon thee: I the Lord haue spoken it.

1 A Gaine the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face towards the mountaines of Israel, and prophesie against them,

3 And say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hilles, to the riuers and to the valleis, Beholde, I, even I wil bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroye your hie places:

4 And your altars shalbe desolate, and your images of the sunne shalbe broken: and I will cast downe your flaine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their idoles, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shalbe desolate, and the hie places shalbe laid waste, so y your altars shalbe made waste and desolate, and your idoles shalbe broken, and cease, and your images of the sunne shalbe cut in peeces, and your works shalbe abolished.

7 And the flaine shall fall in the middes of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet wil I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shall escape the sworde among the nations, when you shalbe scattered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shalbe in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from me, and for their eies, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, & they shalbe displeased in them selues for the euils, which they haue committed in al their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not saide in vaine, that I would do this euil vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, I smite with thine hand, & stretch forth with thy foote, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is farre of, shall dye of the pestilence, and he that is neere, shall fall by the sword, and he that remaineth & is besieged, shall dye by the famine: thus wil I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then ye shall know, that I am the Lord, when their flaine me shalbe among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euerie hie hill in all the toppes of the mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euerie thicke oke, which is the place where they did offer sweete saour to all their idoles.

The end of all the land of Israel shall suddenly come.

1 Moreouer the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come vnto the lande of Israel: the end is come vpon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and wil laye vpon thee all thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie: but I will laye thy waies vpon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, one euil, even one euil is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it is war- ched for thee: beholde, it is come.

7 The morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I wil shortly powre out my wrath come vpon thee, & fulfil mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, & wil lay vpon thee al thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie, but I will laye vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shalbe in the middes of thee, & ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth. his force and ready.

10 Behold, the day, beholde, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth: pride hath budded.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neere: let not the byer reioyce, nor let him that selleth, mourn: for the wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 For he that selleth, shall not returne to that which is solde, although they were yet alieue: for the vision was vnto all the multitude thereof, & they returned not, neither doeth anie encourage him selfe in the punishment of his life.

14 They haue blowen the trumper, and prepared al, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the way, & none field, shall dye with the sword, and he that is in the citie, famine and pestilence shall deuoure him.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shalbe in the mountaines, like keth heart repent for his euil. o The Israelites made a brag, but their hearts sayled them.

26 Calamitie shal come vpon calamitie, and rumour shall be vpon rumour: then shall they seeke a vision of the Prophet: but the Law shal perish from the Priest, and counsell from the Ancient.

27 The King shall mourne, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people in the lande shall be troubled: I will do vnto them according to their waies, and according to their iudgements will I iudge them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

An appearance of the similitude of God. 3. Ezekiel is brought to Ierusalem in the spirit. 6. The Lord sheweth the Prophet the idolatries of the house of Israel.

And in the sixth yere, in the sixth month, and in the fifth day of the month, as I sate in mine house, and the Elders of Iudah sate before me, the had of the Lord God fell there vpon me.

Then I beheld, and lo, there was a likenes, as the appearance of fire, to looke to, from his loines downward, and from his loynes vpward, as the appearance of brightnes, and like vnto amber.

And he stretched out the likenes of an hand, and tooke me by an hearie locke of mine head, and the Spirit lift me vp betwene the earth, & the heauen, & brought me by a Diuine vision to Ierusalem, into the entry of the inner gate that lieth toward the North; where remained the idole of indignation, which prouoked indignation.

4 And beholde, the glorie of the God of Israel was there according to the vision that I sawe in the field.

5 Then saide he vnto me; Sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift vp mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northward, at the gate of the altar, this idole of indignation was in the entrie.

6 He said furthermore vnto me, Sonne of man, seest thou not what they do? Behold the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depart from my Sanctuary: but yet turne thee & thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court; and when I looked; behold, an hole was in the wall.

8 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, digge now in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, beholde, there was a doore.

9 And he said vnto me, Go in, and beholde the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in, and sawe, and beholde, there was euerie similitude of creeping thinges and abominable beasts and all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 And there stode before them seuentie men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the middes of them stode Iazaniah, the sonne of Shaphan, with euerie man his censour in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went vp like a cloud.

12 Then saide hee vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seene what the Ancients of the house of Israel do in the darke, euery one in the chamber of his imagerie? for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 Again he said also vnto me, Turne thee againe, & thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 And he caused me to enter into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and beholde there sate women mourning for Tammuz.

15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lords house, and beholde, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betwene the porche and the altar were about fise and twentie men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O sonne of man? Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they do here? for they

of the hie gate, which is toward the North, and euery man a weapon in his hand to destroye it: and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writers y<sup>e</sup>nkhorne by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brasen altar.

And the glorie of the God of Israel was gone vp from the Cherub, whereupon he was and stood on the doore of the house and he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writers y<sup>e</sup>nkhorne by his side.

And the Lord said vnto him, Go through the middes of the citie, even through the middes of Ierusalem, and see a marke vp-on the foreheads of them that mourne, and crye for all the abominations that be done in the middes thereof.

And to the other he said, that I might heare, Go ye after him through the citie, and smite let your eye spare none, neither haue pitie.

Destroye vterly the olde, and the yong, and the maidens, and the children, and the women, but touch no man, vpon whose is the marke, and begin at my Sanctuary.
Then they began at the Ancient men, which were before the house.

And he said vnto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slaine, then go forth: and they went out, and slewe them in the citie.

Now when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fel downe vpon my face, & cried, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

Then said he vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel, and Iudah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the citie full of corrupt iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth vs not.

As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pitie, but will recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

And beholde, the man clothed with linen which had the y<sup>e</sup>nkhorne by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

Of the man that tooketh burning coales out of the middle of the wheels of the Cherubims. b. A rebear of the vision of the wheels, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

And as I looked, beholde, in the firament that was about the head of the Cherubims there appeared vpon the face vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a saphir stone.

And he spake vnto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in betwene the wheels, even vnder the Cherub, and fil thine hands with coales of fire from betwene the Che-rubims, and scatter them ouer the citie.

And he went in in my sight, and the clouds filled the inner court.

Then the glorie of the Lord went vp from the Cherub, and stood ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloudes, and the court was filled with the brightnes of the Lords glorie.

And the sound of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vpper court, as the voice of the Almighty God, when hee speakeeth.

And when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from betwene the wheels, & from betwene the Cherubims, then he went in and stood beside the wheele.

And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from betwene the Cherubims vnto the fire, that was betwene the Cherubims, & tooke thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who toke it and went out.

And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenes of a mans hande vnder their wings.

And when I looked vp, beholde, foure wheels were beside the Cherubims; one wheele by one Cherub, & another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a chrysolite stone.

And their appearance (for they were all foure of one facion) was as if one wheele had bene in another wheele.

When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, & they turned not as they went.

And their whole body, and their rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even in the same foure wheels.

And the Cherub cried to these wheels in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

And euery beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, & the second face was the face of a man, and the thirde face was the face of a lyon, and the fourth the face

 17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: & when they were lifted up, they lifted them selves vp also: for the spirit of the beaste was in them.
 18 Then the glorie of the Lord departed from above the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims:
 19 And the Cherubims lift vp their wings, & mounted vp fro the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were besides the: & every one stood at the entrie of the gate of the Lords House at the East side, & the glorie of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.
 20 This is the beast that I saw vnder the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I knew that they were the Cherubims.
 21 Every one had foure faces, & every one foure wings, & the likenes of many hands was vnder their wings:

CHAP. XI.

¶ Phery were that seduced the people of Israel. 1. Against the selfe be prophesie, shewing them how they shal be disperfed abroad. 2. The templing of the heart: com- mending God, for our dayes sake, that we may not vnto shew some con- fite.

Moreover, the Spirit lift me vp, and brought me vnto East gate of the Lords house, which lyeth Eastwarde, and behold, at the entrie of the gate were five and twentie men: among whom I saw Iazaniah the sonne of the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah; the princes of the people.
 Then saide he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuise wicked counsell in this cite.
 For they say, It is not neere, let vs build houses; this cite is the caldron, and we be the flesh.
 Therefore prophesie against them, sonne of man, prophesie:
 And the Spirit of the Lorde fel vpon me, and said vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lorde, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye said, and I knowe that which riseth vp of your mindes.
 Many haue ye murdered in this cite, & ye haue filled the streets thereof with the slaine.
 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue layed in the middes of it, they are the fleshe, & this cite is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the middes of it.

 Ye haue feared the sworde, and I will bring a sworde vpon you, saith the Lorde God.
 And I will bring you out of the middes thereof, and deliuer you into the hands of strangers, and wil execute iudgements among you.
 Ye shal fall by the sworde, & I will iudge you in the border of Israel, and ye shal know that I am the Lorde.
 This cite shal not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the fleshe in the middes thereof, but I will iudge you in the border of Israel.
 And ye shal knowe that I am the Lorde: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the maners of the heathen, that are round about you.
 ¶ And when I prophesied, Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah dyed: then fel I downe vpon my face, & cried with a loud voyce, and saide, Ah Lorde God, wilt thou then vnterlye destroye all the remnant of Israel?
 Again the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
 Sonne of man, thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholly are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue said, Depart ye farre from the Lorde, for the land is giuen vs in possession.
 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lorde God, Although I haue cast them far of among the heathen, & although I haue scattered them among the countreis, yet wil I be to them as a little Sanctuarie in the countreis where they shal come.
 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lorde God, I will gather you againe from the people, and assemble you out of the countreis where ye haue bene scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.
 And they shal come thither, & they shal take away al the idoles thereof, and al the abominations thereof from thence.
 ¶ And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a newe spirit within their bowels: and I will take the stonie heart out of their bodies, & wil giue them an heart of fleshe,
 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, and execute them; and they shal be my people, and I will be their God.
 But vpon them, whose heart is towarde their idoles, & whose affection goeth after their abominations, I wil lay their way vpon their owne heades, saith the Lorde God.
 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheels besides them, and the glorie of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.
 And the glory of the Lorde went vp from the middes of the cite, & stood vpon the

CHAP. XVI.

The parable of the captiuitie. 1. An other parable where by the house of Iudah and Ierusalem is signified.

1 The word of the Lord, also came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of mā, thou dwellest in the middes of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, & see not they haue eares to heare, and heare not; for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, prepare thy stuffe to go into captiuitie & go forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider in for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuffe by daye in their sight as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt go forth at euē in their sight, as they that go forth into captiuitie.

5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and cary out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon thy shoulders, & carie it forth in the darke: thou shalt couer thy face that thou see not yea: for I haue set thee as a signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the darke, and I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, saide vnto thee, What doest thou?

10 But saye thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God, This burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, & al the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shal it be done vnto them: they shal goe into bondage & captiuitie.

12 And the chiefe that is among the, shal beare vpon his shoulder in the darke and shal go forth: they shal digge through the wall, to cary out thereby: he shal couer his face, y he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net also wil I spread vpon him, and he shal be taken in my net, and I wil bring him to Babel to the lande of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shal dye there.

14 And I wil scatter toward euerie winde al that are about him to helpe him, and al his garisons, and I wil draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lorde, when I shal scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I wil leaue a litle number of them from the worde, from the famine, & from the pestilence, that they may declare al these abominations among the heathen, where they come, & they shal know that I am the Lorde.

18 Sonne of man, eate thy bread with trembling, and drinke thy water with trouble, and with carefulness,

19 And saye vnto the people of the lande, Thus saith the Lorde God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, & of the land of Israel, They shal eat their bread with carefulness, & drinke their water with desolation: for the land shal be desolate from her abundance because of the cruelty of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shal be left void, & the land shal be desolate, and ye shal know that I am the Lorde.

21 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The daies are prolonged & al visions faile?

23 Tel them therefore, Thus saith the Lorde God, I wil make this prouerbe to cease, & they shall no more vie it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The daies are at hand and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shalbe any more in yaine, neither shal there be any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lorde: I wil speake, and that thing that I shal speake, shal come to passe: it shalbe no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, wil I say the thing, & wil performe it, sayth the Lorde God.

26 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel saye, The vision that he seeth is not for many daies to come, & he prophesieth of the times that are farre of.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God, Al my words shal no longer be delaied, but that thing which I haue spoken, shalbe done, saith the Lorde God.

foolish Prophets that followe their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes in the waste places.

5 Ye haue not risen vp in the gappes, neyther made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the daye of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanity, & lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: & they haue made othes to hope that they would confirme the word of their prophesie.

7 Haue ye not seene a vaine vision? & haue ye not ipoken a lying diuination? ye say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie & haue sene lies, therefore beholde, I am against you, saith the Lord God,

9 And mine hand shalbe vpon the Prophets that see vanity, & diuine lies: they shal not be in the assemblie of my people, neither shal they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shal they enter into the land of Israel, and ye shal know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceiued my people, saying, Peace, and there was no peace: & one built vp a wall, and beholde, the others daubed it with vntempered mortar,

11 Saye vnto them which daube it with vntempered mortar, that it shal fall: for there shal come a great shewre, and I wil sende hailestones, which shal cause it to fall, and a stormie winde shal breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shal it not be said vnto you, Where is y daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I wil cause a stormie winde to breake forth in my wrath, and a great shewre shall be in mine anger, and hailestones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I wil destroy the wal that ye haue daubed with vntempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the fundatiō thereof shalbe discouered, & it shal fall, & ye shalbe consumed in the middes therof, and ye shal know, that I am the Lord.

15 Thus wil I accomplish my wrath vpon the wal, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered mortar, & wil saye vnto you, The wall is no more, neyther the daubers thereof,

16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against y daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne heart: & prophesie thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lorde God, Wo vnto the women that sowe pillows vnder all armes, and make vailles vpon the head of euery one that stideth vpon to hunt foules: will ye hunt the foules of my people, and will ye giue life to the foules that come vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley, & for peeces of k bread to slay the foules of the that should not dye, and to giue life to the foules that shoulde not lue in lying to my people, that heare your lies?

20 Wherefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, I wil haue to do with your pillows, wherewith ye hunt the foules to make the to flye, and I wil teare them from your armes, and wil let the foules go, euen the foules, that ye hunt to make them to flie,

21 Your vailles also wil I teare, and deliuer my people out of your hande, & they shal be no more in your hands to be hunted, & ye shal know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies ye haue made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I haue not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not returne from his wicked waye, by promising him life,

23 Therefore ye shal see no more vanity, nor diuine diuinations: for I wil deliuer my people out of your hand, & ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.

2 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these me haue set vp their idoles in their heart, & put the stumbling blocke of their iniquity before their face: should I, being required, answer them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idols in his heart, & putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the Prophet, I the Lord wil answer him, that commeth according to the multitude of his idoles:

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore saye vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lorde God, Returne, and withdraw your selues, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from al your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, & setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to a Prophet, for to inquire of him for me, I the Lord wil answer him for my selfe.

19 Or if I send a pestilence into this land, & powre out my wrath vpon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast,

20 And though Noah, Daniel & Iob were in the middes of it, As I liue, saith the Lorde God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shall <sup>but</sup> deliuer their owne soules by their righteousness.

As the unprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Ierusalem shall be burnt.

1 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree about al <sup>other</sup> trees? and of the vine branch, which is among<sup>a</sup> the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to doe anye worke? or wil men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Beholde, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the ends of it, and the middes of it is burnt. Is it meet for any worke?

5 Beholde, when it was whole, it was meete for no worke: howe much lesse shall it be meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, As the vine tree, <sup>that</sup> is among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so wil I giue the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shall go out from <sup>one</sup> fire, and <sup>another</sup> fire shall consume them: & ye shall knowe, that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them,

8 And when I make the land waste, because they haue greatly offended, saith the Lord God.

thy blood, I said vnto thee, thou shalt liue.
7 I haue caused thee to multiply as the bud of the felde, and thou hast increased and waxed great, & thou hast gotten excellēt ornaments: thy breasts are facioned, thine heare is grown, where as thou wast naked and bare.
8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpō thee, behold, thy time was as the time of loue, & I spred my skirts ouer thee, and couered thy filthines: yea, I sware vnto thee, & entred into a couenāt with thee, saith the Lorde God, and thou becamest mine.
9 Then washed I thee with water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oyle.
10 I clothed thee also with broidred worke, and strod thee with badgers skinner: and I girded thee about with fine linen, & I cou-ered thee with silke.
11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets vpō thine hands, & a chaine on thy necke.
12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earings in thine eares, and a beautifull crowne vpon thine head.
13 Thus wast thou deckt with golde and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linen, & silke, & broidred worke: thou didest eate fine floure, & honie & oyle, and thou wast verie beautiful, and thou didest growe vp into a kingdome.
14 And thy name was spred among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfit through my beautie which I had set vpō thee, saith the Lord Gnd.
15 Nowe thou didest trust in thine owne beautie, & plaiedst the harlot, because of thy renoume, & hast powred out thy for-nications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.
16 And thou didest take thy garments, and decktst thine hie places with diuers colours, & playedst the harlot thereupon:
the like thinges shall not come, neyther hast any done so.
17 Thou hast also takē thy faire iewels made of my golde and of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, & madest to thy selfe images of men, and didest commit whoredome with them,
18 And tookest thy broidred garmēt, & coueredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them.
19 My meat also, which I gaue thee, as fine floure, oyle, & honie, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast euē set it before the for a sweete sanour: thus it was, saith the Lord God.
20 Moreouer thou hast takē thy sonnes & thy daughters, whom thou hast borne vnto me, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to be deuoured: is this thy whoredome a smal matter?
21 That thou hast slaine my children, and deliuered them to cause them to passe through fire for them?
22 And in al thine abominations & whore-domes thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, & wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside al thy wickednes (wo, wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God) 24 Thou hast also buykt vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an hie place in euery streete.
25 Thou hast built thine hie place at euery corner of the way, & hast made thy beau-tie to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that passed by, & multiplied thy whoredome.
26 Thou hast also committed fornication with Egyptians thy neighbours, which haue great members, and hast encreased thy whoredome, to prouoke me.
27 Behold, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, & wil diminishe thine or-dinarie, and deliuer thee vnto the wil of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philistims, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.
28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insacia-ble: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldst not be satisfied.
29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.
30 How wake is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest al these things, yet the worke of a presumptuous whorish woman?
31 In that thou buildest thine hie place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine hie place in euery street, and hast not bin as an harlot that despiseth a reward, 32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband: 33 They giue gifts to all other whores, but thou giuest gifts vnto al thy louers, & re-wardest them, that they may come vnto thee, on euery side for thy fornication.
34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shalke after thee: for in that thou giuest a reward, and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrarie.
35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the word of the Lord.
36 Thus saith the Lorde God, Because thy shame was powred out, and thy filthines discovered through thy fornications with thy louers, and with al the idoles of thine abominations and by the bloods of thy children, which thou didest offer vnto them,
37 Beholde, therefore I will gather al thy louers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast hated: I wil euē gather the round about against thee, and wil discouen thy filthines vnto them that they may see al thy filthines.

40 They ſhall alſo bring vp a companie againſt thee, and they ſhal ſtone thee with ſtones, and thruſt thee through with their ſwordes.

41 And they * ſhal burne vp thine houſes w fire, & execute iudgements vpon thee in the ſight of many women: and I wil cauſe thee to ceaſe from playing the harlot, and thou ſhalt giue no reward any more.

42 So wil I make my wrath towards thee to reſt, & my * ielouſie ſhal depart from thee, and I wil ceaſe and be no more angrie.

43 Becauſe thou haſt not remembered the dayes of thy youth, but haſt prouoked me with al theſe thinges, beholde, therefore I alſo haue * brought thy waye vpon thine head, ſaith the Lorde God: yet haſt not thou had conſideration of all thine abominations.

44 Beholde, all that vſe prouerbes, ſhal vſe this prouerb againſt thee, ſaying, As * the mother, ſo is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that haſt caſt off her husband & her children, & thou art the ſiſter of thy * ſiſters, which forſooke their husbands & their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

47 Yet haſt thou * not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had bene a very litle thing, thou waſt corrupted more then they in al thy wayes.

48 As I liue, ſaith the Lorde God, Sodom thy ſiſter hath not done, * neither ſhe nor her daughters, as thou haſt done and thy daughters.

49 Beholde, this was the iniquitie of thy ſiſter Sodom, * Pride, fulnes of bread, and abundance of idlenes was in her, & in her daughters: neither did ſhe ſtrengthen the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were haughty, & committed a * abomination before me: therefore I tooke them away, as pleaſed me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy finnes, but thou haſt exceeded the in thine abominations, and haſt * iuſtified thy ſiſters in al thine abominations, which thou haſt done.

52 Therefore thou which haſt iuſtified thy ſiſters, beare thine own ſhame for thy ſins, that thou haſt committed more abominable then they, which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded alſo, and beare thy ſhame, ſeeing e that thou haſt iuſtified thy ſiſters.

6 And it budded vp, and was <sup>d</sup> like a spreading vine of <sup>a</sup> low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the rootes thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth brāches, & shot forth buds.

There was also <sup>f</sup> another great eagle with great wings & many feathers, & beholde, this vine did turne her rootes toward it, & spread forth her branches toward it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soyle by great waters, that it should bring forth branches, & beare fruit, & be an excellēt vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shal it prosper? shal <sup>a</sup> he not pul vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruit thereof, and cause the drie? al the leaues of her bud shal wither without great power, or many people, to pluck it vp by the rootes therof.

10 Beholde, it was planted: but shal it prosper? shal it not bee dried vp, and wither? when the East winde shal touch it, it shal wither in the trenches, where it grew.

11 Moreover, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Know ye not, what these things <sup>a</sup> meane? tel them, Beholde, the King of Babel is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken <sup>a</sup> the King therof, and the princes therof, and led them with him to Babel,

13 And hath taken <sup>a</sup> one of the Kings seede, & made a couenant with him, and hath takē <sup>a</sup> an othe of him: hee hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the kingdom might bee in subiection, and not lift it selfe vp, <sup>a</sup> but keepe their couenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shal he prosper? shal he escape, that doeth such things? or shal he breake the couenant, & be deliuered?

16 As I liue, sayth the Lord God, he shal die in the middes of Babel, in the place of the king, that had made him king, whose othe he despised, & whose couenant <sup>a</sup> made with him, he brake.

17 Neither shal Pharaoh with <sup>a</sup> his mightie hoste, & great multitude of people, maintain him in the warre, whē they haue cast vp mounds, and builded ramparts to destroy many persons.

18 For he hath despised the othe, & broken the couenant (yet <sup>a</sup> lo, hee had giuen <sup>a</sup> his hande) because hee hath done all these things, he shal not escape.

19 Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God, As I liue, I wil surely bring <sup>a</sup> mine othe that hee hath despised, and my couenant that hee hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 <sup>a</sup> And I wil spread my net vpon him, and he shal be taken in my net, and I wil bring him to Babel, & wil enter into iudgement with him there for his trespass that hee hath committed against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his hoste, shal fall by the sworde, and they that remaine, shal be scattered toward all the windes: and ye shal know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus sayth the Lord God, I wil also take of the toppe <sup>a</sup> of this hie cedar, and wil set it, and cut of the <sup>a</sup> toppe of the tender plant therof, & I wil plant it vpon an hie mountaine and great.

23 Euen in the hie mountaine of Israel wil I plant it: and it shal bring forth boughes and beare fruit, and be an excellent cedar, and vnder it shal remaine al byrdes, and euery <sup>a</sup> foule shal dwell in the shadow of the branches therof.

24 And al the <sup>a</sup> trees of the field shal knowe that I the Lorde haue brought downe the hie tree, and exalted the low tree, that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the drie tree to flourish: I the Lorde haue spoken it, and haue done it.

k. In punishing the Father with the children.

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needy, or hath spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idols, or hath committed abomination,

13 Or hath giuen forth vpon vsurie, or hath taken increase, shall hee liue? he shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations, he shall die the death, and his blood shall be vpon him.

14 But if hee beget a sonne, that seeth all his fathers sinnes, which he hath done, & feareth, neither doth such like,

15 That hath not eaten vpon the mountaynes, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, nor hath defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath spoyled by violence, but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment,

17 Neither hath withdrawn his hand from the afflicted, nor receyued vsurie nor increase, but hath executed my iudgements, and hath walked in my statutes, hee shall not die in the iniquitie of his father, but he shall surely liue.

18 His father, because he cruelly oppressed, and spoyled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people; lo, euery he dieth in his iniquitie.

19 Yet say ye, Wherefore shall not the sonne beare the iniquitie of the father? because the sonne hath executed iudgement and iustice, and hath kept all my statutes, and done them, he shall surely liue.

20 The same soule that sinneth, shall dye: the sonne shall not beare the iniquitie of the father, neither shall the father beare the iniquitie of the sonne, but the righteousness of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednes of the wicked shall be vpon himselfe.

21 But if the wicked wil returne from all his sinnes that hee hath committed, and keepe all my statutes, and do that which is lawful & right, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 Haue I any desire that y<sup>e</sup> wicked should die, saith the Lord God? or shall hee not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

24 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousness, & commit iniquitie, and do according to all the abominations, that the wicked man doeth, shall he liue? all his righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned in them, shall he die.

25 Yet ye say, The waye of the Lorde is not equal: heare now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal? or are not your wayes vnequal.

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, & committeth iniquitie, he shall euery die for the same, he shall euery die for his iniquitie, that he hath done.

27 Again when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall saue his soule alieu.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that hee hath committed, he shall surely liue & shall not die.

29 Yet sayeth the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel are not my wayes equal? or are not your wayes vnequal?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, euery one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne therefore and cause others to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not bee your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed & make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore one another to returne, and liue ye.

The captiuitie of the Kings of Iudah signified by the lions whelpes, and by the lion. 10 The prosperitie of the city of Ierusalem that is past, and the miserie thereof that is present.

1 Thou also, take vp a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And saye, Wherefore laye thy mother as a lionesse among the lyons? she nourished her yong ones among the lyons whelpes,

3 And she brought vp one of her whelpes & it became a lyon, and it learned to catche the pray, and it deuoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, and hee was taken in their nets, and they brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when the sawe, that he had wayted and her hope was lost, she toke another of her whelpes, and made him a lyon.

6 Which went among the lyons, & became a lyon, and learned to catche the pray, & he deuoured men.

7 And he knew their widowes, and he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noise of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on euery side of the countreys, and laid their nettes for him: so he was taken in their piere.

9 And they put him in prison & in chaines and brought him to the King of Babel, & they put him in holdes, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaynes of Israel.

bringing them forth of the lande of Egypt.
10 Nowe I caried them out of the lande of Egypt, and brought them into the wildernesse.
11 And I gaue them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them, * which if a man do, he shal liue in them.
12 Moreouer I gaue the also my * Sabbaths to be a signe betwene me & the, that they might know that I am the Lord, that sanc-tifie them.
13 But the house of Israel rebelled agaynst me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my iudge-ments, which if a man do, hee shal liue in them, and my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them in the wil-dernes to consume them.

14 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathē in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheles, I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderness that I would not bring them into the land, which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and hony, which was pleasant aboue all lands,

16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idoles.

17 Neuertheles, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said vnto their children in the wil-dernes, Walk ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, neither obserue their ma-ners: nor defile your selues w their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my statutes, and kepe my iudgements and do them,

20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, & they shal be a signe betwene me & you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the childre rebelled against me: they walked nor in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to do the, which if a man do, he shal liue in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

22 Neuertheles I withdrew mine hand and had respect to my Name that it shoulde not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wildernes, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countreys,

24 Because they had not executed my iudge-ments, but had cast away my statutes and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I gaue them also statutes that were not good, & iudgements, wher-in they should not liue.

in I condemned those things, and counted them as abominable which they thought had bin excellent, and to haue declared most zeale, Luke 16.15. for that which God required as most excellent, that gaue they to their idoles. n Not onely in the wilderness, when I brought them out of Egypt, but since I placed them in this land: which declareth howe prompt his heart is to idolatry, feeing that by no admonitions he can be drawn backe.

o Which significeth, an hie place, declaring y they wanted the felues of their idolatry, & were not ashamed thereof, though God had comanded them exprefly, that they should haue no altar lifted vp on hie by staires, Exod.20.26.

p Else in the way: p. He sheweth, that the ingratitude of the people deserueth, y God should cut the of, & y they should not haue the comfort of his word.

q He declarcth, that man of nature is wholly enemie vnto God & to his owne saluation, and therefore God casteth him to the right way, partly by chastising, but chiefly by his mercie in forgiving his rebellion, and wickednes.

r I will bring you among strange nations as into a wilderness, and there will visite you, and so call you to repentance and then bring the godly home againe, Isa.65.9.

s Signifying, that he will not burne the chaffe, but chuse out the wicked to punish them when he will spare his.

26 And I polluted them in their owne gifts in that they caused to passe by the fire all that first openeth the wombe, that I might destroy them, to the ende that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, & say vnto the, Thus saith the Lorde God, Yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed mee, though they had before grieuouly transgressed agaynst me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for y which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to the, then they saw euery hie hil, & al the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of prouocation: there also they made their sweete sauour, & powred out these their drinke offerings.

29 Then I sayd vnto them, What is the hie place wherunto ye go? And y name thereof was called Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore, say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not polluted after the maner of your fathers? & committe ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your giftes, & make your sonnes to passe through the fire, you pollute your selues with all your idoles vnto this day: shal I answere you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, saith the Lord God, I wil not answere you whe I am asked.

32 Neither shal that be done that commeth into your minde: for ye say, We wil be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreys, and serue wood and stone.

33 As I liue, saith the Lord God, I wil surely rule you with a mightie hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out.

34 And wil bring you from the people, and will gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are scattered, with a mightie hand, & with a stretched out arme and in my wrath powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there wil I pleade with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, sayth the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and will bring you into the bonde of the couenant.

38 And I will chuse out from among you the rebelles, and them that transgresse agaynst me: I wil bring them out of the land where they dwel, & they shal not enter into the land of Israel, and you shall knowe that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus sayeth the Lord God, Go you, and serue euerie one his idole, seeing that ye will not obey mee, and pollute mine holie Name no more with your giftes and with your idoles.

This is spoken to the hypocrites.

40 For in mine holy mountaine, euen in the hie mountaine of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shal al the house of Israel, and al in the land, serue me: there wil I accept the, and there wil I require your offerings and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweete sauour, when I bring you from the people, & gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye haue bene scattered, that I may bee sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know, that I am the Lorde, when I shal bring you into the land of Israel, into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there shal ye remember your waies, and al your workes, wherein ye haue bene denied, & ye shal iudge your selues worthy to be cut of, for al your euils, that ye haue committed.

44 And ye shall knowe, that I am the Lorde, when I haue respect vnto you for my Names sake, and not after your wicked waies, nor according to your corrupt workes, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 Moreover, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

46 Sonne of man, set thy face toward the way of Teman, and droppe thy worde toward the South, & prophesie toward the forest of the field of the South,

47 And say to the forest of the South, Heare the worde of the Lord: thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shal deuoure al the green wood in thee, and al the drie wood: the continuall flame shal not be quenched, and euerie face from the South to the North shal be burnt therein.

48 And al flesh shal see, that I the Lord haue kindled it, & it shal not be quenched. The said I, Ah Lorde God, they say of me, Doeth not he speake parables?

He threatneth the sword, and destruction to Ierusalem. 25 He sheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 28 He commanded to prophesie the destruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threatneth to destroy Ninue.

1 The worde of the Lord came to me againe, saying,

2 Sonne of man, let thy face toward Ierusalem, and droppe thy worde toward the holy places, & prophesie against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I come against thee, and wil draw my sword out of his sheath, & cut of from thee both the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing the that I wil cut of fro thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore shall my sword go out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North, and it shal not returne any more.

6 Mourne therfore, thou sonne of man, as in the paine of thy reines, and mourne bitterly before them.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherefore mournest thou? then answer, because of the brute: for it commeth, & euerie heart shal melt, and all hands shal be weake, and all mindes shal faint, and all knees shal fall away as water: behold, it commeth, & shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, say, A sworde, a sworde both sharpe, and fourbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a fore slaughter, & it is fourbished that it maye glitter: how shal we reioyce, for it contemneth the rod of my sonne, & all other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to bee fourbished, that he may handle it: this sworde is sharpe, and is fourbished, that he may giue it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Crie, and howle, sonne of man: for this shal come to my people, and it shal come vnto al the princes of Israel: the terrours of the sworde shal be vpon my people: finite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a trial, and what shal this be, if the sworde contemne euen the rod? It shal be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophesie, and finite hand to hand, and let the sworde be doubled: let the sworde that hath killed, returne the thinde time: it is the sworde of the great slaughter entring into their priue chambers.

15 I haue brought the feare of the sworde into all their gates to make their heart to faime, and to multiplie their ruines. Ah it is made bright, and it is dressed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee alone: go to the right hand, or get thy selfe to the left hand, whither so euer thy face turneth.

17 I wil also finite mine hands together, and wil cause my wrath to cease. I the Lorde haue said it.

18 ¶ The worde of the Lorde came vnto me againe, saying,

19 Also thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sworde of the King of Babel may come: both twaine shal come out of one land, and chuse a place, & chuse it in the corner of the way of the citie.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, & to Iudah in Ierusalem the strong citie.

21 And the King of Babel stood at the parting of the waye, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, and made his arrows bright: he consulted with idoles, and looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the diuination for Ierusalem to appoint captaines, to open their mouth in the slaughter, and to lift vp their voice with shouting, to laye engines of warre against the gates, so cast a moult, and to build a forresse.

23 And it shal be vnto them as a false diuination in their fight for the ones made vnto them: but hee will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Because ye haue made your iniquitie, to be remebred, in discouering your rebellion, that in all your workes your sinnes might appeare: because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shal be taken with the hande.

25 And thou prince of Israel, polluted, wicked, whose day is come, whose iniquitie shal haue an ende.

26 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I wil take away the diademe, & take of the crowne: this shal be no more the same: I wil exalt the humble, and wil abase him that is high.

27 I wil ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it shal be no more: vntill hee come, whose right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 ¶ And thou, sonne of man, prophesie, & say, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemie, say thou, I say, The sworde, the sworde is drawn forth, & fourbished to the slaughter, to consume, because of the glittering: Whiles they see vanity vnto thee, and prophesied a lie vnto thee to bring thee vpon the neckes of the wicked that are slaine, whose day is come when their iniquitie shal haue an ende.

29 Shal I cause it to returne into his sheath? I will iudge thee in the place where thou wast created, euen in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will powre out mine indignation vpon thee, and wil blowe against thee in the fire of my wrath, & deliuer thee into the hand of beastly men, & skilfull to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood shal bee in the middes of the lande, & thou shalt bee no more remembred: for I the Lorde haue spoken it.

yet thou shalt as surely come, as though thou werest already vpon their neckes.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ierusalem is repproved for crueltie. 25 Of the wicked doctryne of the false Prophets and Priests, and of their consociable counsailes. 27 The tyrannye of rulers. 29 The wickednes of the people.

1 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Now thou sonne of man, wilt thou iudge, wilt thou iudge this bloodie citie? wilt thou shewe her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus saith the Lord God, The citie sheddeth blood in the middes of it, that her time maye come, and maketh idoles agaynst her selfe to pollute her selfe.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, and hast polluted thy selfe in thine idoles, which thou hast made, and thou

f Because there was a league betwene the Iewes, & the Babylonians, they of Ierusalem thall think nothing lesse than that this thing should come to passe.

thou hast caused thy dayes to draw nere, and art come vnto thy terme: therefore haue I made thee a reproche to the heathen, and a mocking to all countreys.

Those that be nere, & those that be farre from thee, shall mocke thee, which are vile in name and sore in affliction.

Beholde, the princes of Israel euery one in thee was readie to his power, to shed blood.

In thee haue they despised father & mother in the middes of thee: haue they oppressed the straungers: in thee haue they vexed the fatherles and the widow.

Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

In thee are men that carie tales to shed blood in thee: they that eate vpon the mountaynes: in the middes of thee they commit abomination.

In thee haue they discovered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vexed her that was polluted in her floures.

And euery one hath committed abomination with his neighbours wife, and euery one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in law, and in thee hath euery man forced his own sister, even his fathers daughter.

In thee haue they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken vsurie and the engrosse, & thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, & hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

Beholde, therefore I haue smitten mine handes vpon thy countenances, that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood, which hath bene in the middes of thee.

Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong in the dayes that I shall haue to do with thee: the Lord haue spoken it, and will do it.

And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countreys, & will cause thy biddines to cease from thee.

And thou shalt take thine inheritance in thy selfe in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know, that I am the Lord.

And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as a droffe: all they are brasse, & tinne, and yron, and lead in the middes of the fornace: they are euene the droffe of siluer.

Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God, Because ye are all as droffe, beholde, therefore I will gather you in the middes of Ierusalem.

As they gather siluer and brasse, & yron, and lead, & tinne into the middes of the fornace, to blowe the fire vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger, and in my wrath, and will pur you there, and melt you.

I will gather you, I say, and blowe the fire of my wrath vpon you, and you shall be melted in the mids thereof.

As siluer is melted in the middes of the fornace, so shall ye bee melted in the middes thereof, and ye shall knowe, that I the Lord haue powred out my wrath vpon you.

And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art the land, that is vncleane, & not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

There is a conspiracie of her Prophets in the middes thereof like a roaring lyon, rauening the pray: they haue deuoured soules: they haue taken the riches and precious things they haue made, her many widowes in the middes thereof.

Her Priests haue broken my Lawe, and haue defiled mine holy things, they haue put no difference betwene the holy and prophane, neither discerned betwene the vncleane, and the cleane, and haue hid their eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

Her princes in the middes thereof are like wolues, rauening the praye to shed blood, & to destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

And her Prophets haue dawbed them with vntempered mortar, seeing vanities, and dinning lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling and robbing, and haue vexed the poore and the needy, yea, they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

And I sought for a man among thee, that should make vp the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fyre of my wrath: their owne wayes haue I rendred vpon their heades, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of the idolatrie of Samaria and Ierusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

The word of the Lord came again vnto me, saying,

Sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother.

And they committed fornication in Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, & there they brufed the teares of their virginities.

And the names of them were Aholah, the elder, and Aholibah her sister: & they were mine, & they bare sonnes & daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholibah.

And Aholah plaid the harlot, when she was mine, and she was fet on fire with her louers, so with the Assyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blew filke, both captaynes and princes: they were all pleasant yong men, and horsemen ryding vpon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, even with all them that were the chofen men of Ashur, and with all on whom she doted, & defiled her self with all their idoles.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginitic, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hāds of her louers, even into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whom she doted.

10 These discouered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes and her daughters, and slew her with the sword, and she had an evil name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this,
the married her self with inordinate loue, more then she, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaynes and princes clothed with diuers sutes, horsemen ryding vpon horses: they were all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and that they were both after one sort,

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when the sawe men painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loines, and with dyed attyre vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the maner of the Babylonians in Caldea, the land of their natiuities)

16 Asone, I say, as she sawe them, she doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto the into Caldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, & she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discouered her fornication, & disclosed her shame: then mine heart forsooke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet she increased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the dayes of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted vpon their seruants whose members are as the members of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance the wickednes of thy youth, whē thy reates were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the pappes of thy youth are thus.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will raise vp thy lou-ers against thee, from whom thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on euery side,

23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Cal-deans, Poked, and Shoah, and Koa, and al
the Assyrians with the: they were all pleasant yong men, captaynes and princes: all they were valiant and renoumed, ryding
vpon horses.

24 Euen these shall come against thee with charets, waggons, and wheeles, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee, buckler and shield, & helmet round about: and I will leaue the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their iudgements.

25 And I will mine indignation vpo thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee:
they shall cut of thy nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword:
they shall carie away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be deuou-red by the fire.

26 They shall also strippe thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fayre iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednes to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the lande of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will deliuer thee into the hand of them, whom thou hatest: even into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy labour, & shall leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shall be discovered, both thy wickednes, and thy whoredome.

30 I will do these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the waye of thy sister: therefore will I giue her a cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large:
thou shalt be laughed to scorne and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness & forowe, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samarita.

34 Thou shalt euē drinke it, and wring it out to the dregges, and thou shalt breake the sheardes thereof, and reare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behinde thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednes & thy whoredome.

36 The Lord said moreover vnto me, Some of man, wilt thou iudge Aholah and Aho-libah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whore, and blood is in their handes, and with their idoles haue they committed adultery, and haue also caused their sonnes, whom they

39 For when they had slaine their children to their idols, they came the same day in to my Sanctuarie to defile it: and lo, thus haue they done in the middes of mine house.

40 And how much more is it that they sent for men to come from farre vnto whome a messenger was sent, and lo, they came? for whome thou didest wash thy selfe, and paintedst thine eies, & deckedst thee with ornaments, 42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the companie great were brought men of Saba fro the wilderness, which put bracelets vpon their hands, & beautiful crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I saide vnto her, that was olde in adulteries, Now shall she and her fornications come to an end.

44 And they went in vnto her as they go to a common harlot: so went they to Aholah and Aholibah the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall iudge them, after the maner of harlots, and after the maner of murderers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their hands.

46 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, I will bring a multitude vpon them, and will giue them vnto the tumult, and to the spoyle.

47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them with their swordes: they shall slay their sonnes, & their daughters, and burne vp their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednes to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your wickednes.

49 And they shall lay your wickednes vpon you, and ye shall beare the finnes of your idols, & ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVIII.

v He sheweth the destruction of Ierusalem by a parable of a seething pot, and The parable of Ezekiel's wife being dead.

A Gaine in the ninth yere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day, for the King of Babel set himself against Ierusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speake a parable vnto the rebellious house, & say vnto the, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a pot, prepare it, and also powre water into it.

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, & euerie good piece, as the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, and burne also the bones vnder it, and make it boyle well, and seeth the bones of it therein.

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, Wo to the bloodie citie, even to the pot, whose skomme is therein, and whose skomme is not gone out of it: bring it out a piece by piece: let no lot fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the middes of her: she set it vpon an high rocke, and powred it not vpon the ground to couer it with dust.

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: even I haue set her blood vpon an high rocke that it should not be couered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Wo to the bloodie citie, for I will make the burning great.

10 Heape on much wood: kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and cast in spice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it emptic vpon the coles therof, that the brasse of it may be hot, and maye burne, and that the filthines of it may be molten in it, and that the skomme of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied her selfe with lies, & her great skome went not out of her: therefore her skomme shall be consumed with fire.

13 Thou remainest in thy filthines & wickednes: because I would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged fro thy filthines, til I haue caused my wrath to light vpon thee.

14 I the Lord haue spoken it: it shall come to passe, & I will do it: I will not go backe, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy wayes, and according to thy workes shall they iudge thee, sayth the Lord God.

15 Also the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Sonne of man, beholde, I take away from thee the pleasure of thine eyes with a plague: yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shalt thy teares run downe.

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, and binde the tyre of thine head vpon thee, and put on thy shoes vpon thy feete, and couer not thy lippes, and eate not the bread of men.

18 So I spake vnto the people in the morning, and at euen my wife dyed: and I did in the morning, as I was commanded.

19 And the people said vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what these thinges meane toward vs, that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

1 THe word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophesie against them.

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord God, Because thou saidst, 'Ha, ha, against my Sanctuarie, when it was polluted, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Iudah, whē they went into captiuitie,

4 Beholde, therefore I wil deliuer thee to the men of the East for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, they shall drinke thy milke.

5 And I wil make <sup>d</sup>Rabbah a dwelling place

despite against the land of Israel,

7 Behold, therefore I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and will deliuer thee to be spoyled of the heathen, and I will roote thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to be destroyed out of the countreys and I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir do say, Beholde, the house of Iudah is like vnto all the heathen.

11 And I will execute iudgements vpon Moab, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Edom hath done evil by taking vengeance vpon the house of Iudah, and hath committed great offence, and reuenged himselfe vpon them,

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man, and beast out of it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, & they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will execute my vengeance vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, & they shall do in Edom according to mine and they shall knowe my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because the Philistims haue executed vengeance, and reuenged themselues with a despitefull heart, so destroy it for the olds hatred, 21 I will bring thee to nothing, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou neuer be found againe, saith the Lord God.

C H A P. XXVII.

The Prophet bewaileth the desolation of Tyrus, shewing what were the riches, power and aueritie thereof in some past.

1 The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Tyrus,

3 And say vnto Tyrus, that is situate at the entrie of the sea, which is the mart of the people for manie yles, Thus saith the Lord God, O Tyrus, thou hast saide, I am a perfite beautie.

4 Thy borders are in the mids of the sea, and thy builders haue made thee of perfite beautie.

5 They haue made all thy ship boordes of firre trees of Shenir: they haue brought cedars from Lebanon, to make masts for thee.

6 Of the okes of Bashan haue they made thine ores: the companie of the Assyrians haue made thy bankes of yuorie, brought out of the yles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broyded worke, brought from Egypt, was spread ouer thee to be thy sayle, blewes like and purple, brought from the yles of Elisah, was thy couering.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon, & Arad were thy mariners, O Tyrus: thy wife men that were in thee, they were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers, all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupie thy marchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud and of Phut were in thine armie: thy me of waue they hanged the shielde and helmet in thee: they set forth thy beautie.

11 The men of Arad with thine armie were vpon thy walles rounde about, and the Gammadims were in thy towres: they hanged their shieldes vpon thy walles round about: they haue made thy beautie perfite.

12 They of Tarshish were thy marchants for the multitude of all riches, for silver, yron, tinne, and leade, which they brought to thy faires.

13 They of Iauan, Tubal & Meshech were thy marchants, concerning the liues of men, and they brought vessels of bras for thy marchandise.

CHAP. XXIX.

He propheseth against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lorde promisseth that he will reuise Egypt after fourtie yeres. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad-nezzar for the labour, which he tooke against Tyrus.

1 IN the tenth yere, and in the tenth moneth in the twelfth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the King of Egypt, & prophesie against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speake, & say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, Pharaoh King of Egypt, the great dragon, that lyeth in the middes of his riuers, which hath said, The riuer is mine, and I haue made it for my selfe.

4 But I will put hookes in thy chawes, and I will cause the fishes of thy riuers to sticke vnto thy scales, & I will drawe thee out of the middes of thy riuers, and all the fish of thy riuers shall sticke vnto thy scales.

5 And I will leaue thee in the wilderness, both thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giuen thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowles of heauen.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lorde, because they haue bene a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

7 When they rooke hold of thee with their hand, thou didest breake, and rent al their shoulder: and when they leaped vpon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loynes to stand vpright.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will bring a sword vpon thee, and destroy man and beast out of thee,

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate, & waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord: because he hath saide, The riuer is mine, and I haue made it,

10 Beholde, therefore I come vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, and I will make the lande of Egypt vterly waste and desolate from the towre of Seuench, euen vnto the borders of the blacke Mores.

11 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beast shall passe by it, neither shall it be inhabited fourtie yeres.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the mids of the countreys, that are desolate, and her cities shall be desolate among the cities that are desolate, for fourtie yeres: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countreys.

13 Yet thus saith the Lorde God, At the end of fourtie yeres will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scattered,

16 And it shalbe no more the confidence of the house of Israel, to bring their iniquitie to remembrance by looking after them, so shall they knowe, that I am the Lord God.

17 ¶ In the seuen and twentieth yeere also in the first moneth, and in the first day of the moneth came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel caused his armie to serue a great seruice against Tyrus: euery head was made balde, and euery shoulder was made bare: yet had he no wages, nor his armie, for Tyrus, for the seruice that he serued against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I will giue the lande of Egypt vnto Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel, and he shall take her multitude, and spoyle her spoyle, and take her pray, and it shalbe the wages for his armie.

20 I haue giue him the land of Egypt for his labour, that he serued against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord God.

21 In that daye will I cause the horne of the house of Israel to growe, and I will giue thee an open mouth in the middes of them, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

CHAP. XXX.

The destruction of Egypt and the cities thereof.

1 The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie, and saye, Thus saith the Lorde God, Houle & crye, Wo be vnto this day.

3 For the day is neere, and the daye of the Lord is at hand, a cloudie day, & it shalbe the time of the heathen.

4 And the sworde shal come vpon Egypt, & feare shalbe in Ethiopia, when the slayne shall fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, & when her fundations shalbe broken downe.

5 Ethiopia, and Phut, and Lud, and all the common people, and Cub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shal fall with the by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that mainteine Egypt, shal fall, and the pride of her power shal come downe from the towre of Seueneth that they fall by the sword, sayth the Lord God.

7 And they shal be desolate in the middes of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the middes of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when al her helpers shalbe destroyed.

9 In that day shal there messengers go forth from mee in shippes, to make the careles Mores asfayde, and feare shall come vpon them, as in the day of Egypt for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel.

11 For he and his people with him, euen the terrible nations shalbe brought to destroy the land: and they shal draw their swordes against Egypt, and fill the lande with the slayne.

12 And I wil make the riuers drye, and sell the lande into the handes of the wicked, & I wil make the land waste, & all that therein is by the handes of strangers: I the Lord haue spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lorde God, I wil also destroye the idoles, and I will cause their idoles to cease out of Noph, & there shal be no more a prince of the lande of Egypt, and I wil sende a feare in the land of Egypt.

14 And I wil make Pathros desolate, and wil set fire in Zoan, and I wil execute iudgement in No.

15 And I will powre my wrath vpon Sin, which is the strength of Egypt: and I will destroy the multitude of No.

16 And I wil set fire in Egypt: Sin shall haue great sorow, and No shalbe destroyed, and Noph shal haue sorowes dayly.

17 The yong men of Auen, and of Phibeseth shal fall by the sworde: and these cities shal go into captiuitie.

18 At Tchapnches the day shal restraine his light, when I shall breake there the barres of Egypt: & when the pomp of her power shal cease in her, the cloude shal couer her, and her daughters shall goe into captiuitie.

19 Thus will I execute iudgements in Egypt, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

20 ¶ And in the eleuenth yeere, in the first moneth, and in the seuenth daye of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Sonne of man, I haue broken the arme of Pharaoh King of Egypt: & lo, it shal not be bounde vp to be healed, neither shall they put a roule to binde it, and so make it strong, to holde the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I come against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and will breake his arme, that was strong, but is broken, and I will cause the power sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and wil disperse them through the countries.

CHAP. XXXI.

3 A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharaoh with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10 He prophesieth a like destruction to them both.

a Of Zedekiahs reigne or of Ieconiahs captiuitie.

1 And in the eleuenth yere, in the third moneth, and in the first daye of the moneth the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, b Meaning, that he was not like in strength to the King of the Assyrians, whom the Babylonians ouercame.

2 Sonne of man, speake vnto Pharaoh King of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whome art thou like in thy greatnes?

3 Behold, Asshur was like a cedar in Lebanon with faire branches, and with thicke shadowing boughes, and shor vp verie hye, and his toppes was among the thicke boughes.

4 The waters nourished him, & the deepe exalted him on hye with her riuers running rounde about his plants, and sent out her little riuers vnto all the trees of the field.

c Many other nations were vnder their dominion. Or, countrey.

5 Therefore his height was exalted aboue all the trees of the field, and his boughes were multiplyed, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters, which the deepe sent out.

6 All the foules of the heauen made their nestes in his boughes, and vnder his branches did all the beastes of the field bring forth their yong, and vnder his shadowe dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Thus was he fayre in his greatnes, and in the length of his branches: for his roote was neere great waters.

d Signifying, that there was no greater power in the world then his was.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: no firre tree was like his branches, & the chessenut trees were not like his boughes: all the trees in the garden of God were not like vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him fayre by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuyed him.

e Or, then wast lift vp.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because he is lift vp on hygh, and hath shor vp his toppes among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height, 11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, for I haue cast him away for his wickednes.

e That is, of Nebuchad-nezzar, who afterward was monarche & only ruler of the world.

12 And the strangers haue destroyed him, even the terrible nations, & they haue left him vpon the mountaines, & in all the valleys his branches are fallen, & his boughes are broken by all the riuers of the lande: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadowe, and haue forsaken him.

f Herby is signified the destruction of the power of the Assyrians by the Babylonians.

13 Vpon his ruine shal all the foules of the heauen remaine, and all the beastes of the field shalbe vpon his branches,

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shalbe exalted by their height, neither shal shoote vp their top among the thicke boughes, neither shall their leaues stande vp in their height, which drinke so much water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the nether partes of the earth in the middes of the children of men among them that go downe to the pit.

g The deepe waters that caufed him to moue so hie (meaning his great abundance & pompe) shall now lament as though they were covered with sackcloth.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day whē he went downe to hell, I caufed them to mourne, & I covered the deepe for him, and I did restraine the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayd: I caused Lebanon to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field faynted.

16 I made the nations to shake at the found of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell, with them that descende into the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, & the best of Lebanon, even all that are nourished with waters, shal be comforted in the nether partes of the earth.

h To cause this destruction of the King of Assyria to seeme more horrible, he setteth forth other Kings and princes which are dead, as though they reioyced at this of such a tyrant.

17 They also went downe to hel with him vnto them that be slayne with the sword, and his arme, and they that dwell vnder his shadowe in the middes of the heathen.

i Meaning, that Pharaohs power was nothing so great as his was. k Read Chap. 28. 10.

18 To whome art thou thus like in glorie and in greatnes among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast down with the trees of Edenvnto the nether partes of the earth: thou shalt sleepe in the middes of the vncircumcised, with them that be slayne by the sword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

3 The Prophet is commanded to bewaile Pharaoh king of Egypt. 10 He prophesieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the King of Babylon.

1 And in the twelfth yere in the twelfth moneth, & in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Which was the first yere of the general captiuitie vnder Zedekiah.

2 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art like a lyon of the nations & art as a dragon in the sea: thou castedst out thy riuers, and troubledst the waters with thy feete, and stampedst in their riuers.

b Thus the pictures compare tyrants to small & huge beastes which deuour all that be weaker then they, and such as they may ouercome. Or, whole.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil therefore spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, and they shall make thee come vp into my net.

c Thou preparedst great armies. (chap. 12. 1) & 17. 22.

4 Then will I leaue thee vpon the land, and I will cast thee vpon the open field, & I will caufe al the foules of the heaueto remaine vpon thee, & I wil fill all the beastes of the field with thee.

5 And

5 And I will laye thy fleſhe vpon the mountaines, and fill the valleyes <sup>d</sup> with thine heyght.

6 I will alſo water with thy blood the lande wherein thou <sup>e</sup>ſwimmest, euens to the mountaines, and the riuers ſhalbe ſul of thee.

7 And when I ſhal <sup>f</sup>put thee out, I will coper the heauen, & make the ſtarres thereof darke: <sup>g</sup>I will coper the ſunne with a cloude, and the moone ſhall not giue her light.

8 All the lights of heauen will I make darke for thee, and bring <sup>h</sup>darkeneſſe vpon thy lande, ſaith the Lord God.

9 I will alſo trouble the hearts of many people, when I ſhall bring thy deſtruction among the nations, and vpon the countries which thou haſt not knowne.

10 Yea, I will make many people amaſed at thee, & their kings ſhalbe aſtoniſhed with feare for thee, when I ſhal make my ſword to glitter againſt their faces, and they ſhal be afraid at euery moment: euery man for his owne life in the day of thy fal.

11 For thus ſayth the Lord God, The ſword of the King of Babel ſhall come vpon thee.

12 By the ſwords of the mightie will I cauſe thy multitude to fal: they al ſhalbe terrible nations, and they ſhal deſtroy the <sup>i</sup>pompe of Egypt, & all the multitude thereof ſhal be conſumed.

13 I will deſtroye alſo all the beaſtes thereof from the great waterſides, neither ſhal the foote of man trouble them any more, nor the hooues of beaſt trouble them.

14 Then will I make <sup>j</sup>their waters deepe, & cauſe their riuers to runne like oyle, ſaith the Lord God.

15 When I ſhal make the land of Egypt deſolate, & the countrey with all that is therein ſhalbe layde waſte: when I ſhal ſmite all them, which dwell therein, then ſhal they know, that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they ſhal lament her: the daughters of the nations ſhal lament her: they ſhal lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, ſaith the Lord God.

17 <sup>k</sup>In the twelfth yeere alſo in the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, ſaying, 18 Sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and <sup>l</sup>caſt them downe, euens them and the daughters of the mightie nations vnto the nether partes of the earth, with them that goe downe into the pit.

25 They haue made his bed in the middes of the ſlayne with all his multitude: their graues are rounde about him; al theſe vncircumciſed are ſlayne by the ſworde: though they haue cauſed their feare in the lande of the liuing, yet haue they borne their ſhame with them that goe downe to the pit: they are layd in the mids of them, that be ſlayne.

28 Yea, thou ſhalt be broken in the middes of the vncircumciſed, and lye with them that are ſlaine by the ſworde.

29 There is <sup>x</sup>Edom, his Kinges, & all his princes, which with their ſtrength are layd by them that were ſlayne by the ſworde: they ſhall ſleepe with the vncircumciſed, and with them that goe downe to the pit.

30 There be <sup>y</sup>all the princes of the <sup>z</sup>North, <sup>aa</sup>the Kings of with all the Zidonians, which are gone downe with the ſlayne, with their feare: they are aſhamed of their ſtrength, and the vncircumciſed ſleepe with them that be ſlayne by the ſworde, and beare their ſhame with them that goe downe to the pit.

31 Pharaoh ſhall ſee them, and he ſhall be <sup>ab</sup>comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharaoh, and all his armie <sup>ac</sup>ſhalbe ſlayne by the ſworde, ſaith the Lord God.

32 For I haue cauſed my <sup>ad</sup>feare <sup>ae</sup>ſo be in the lande of the liuing: and he ſhalbe layde in the mids of the vncircumciſed with them, that are ſlayne by the ſworde, euens Pharaoh and all his multitude, ſayeth the Lorde God.

<sup>5</sup> For he heard the ſounde of the trumpet, & would not be admoniſhed: therefore his blood ſhalbe vpon him: but he that receiuech warning, ſhal ſaue his life.

<sup>6</sup> But if the watchman ſee the ſworde come, and blowe not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the ſworde come, & take any perſon from among them, hee is taken awaye for his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

<sup>8</sup> When I ſhall ſay vnto the wicked, O wicked man, thou ſhalt dye the death, if thou doeſt not ſpeake, and admoniſhe the wicked of his waye, that wicked man ſhal dye for his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, O thou ſonne of man, ſpeake vnto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ye ſpeake & ſay, If our tranſgreſſions and our ſinnes be vpon vs, and we are conſumed becauſe of them, how ſhould we then liue?

<sup>11</sup> Say vnto them, As I liue, ſaith the Lorde God, I deſire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way & liue: turne you, turne you from your euill wayes, for why will ye dye, O ye houſe of Iſrael?

<sup>13</sup> When I ſhall ſay vnto the righteous, that he ſhall ſurely liue, if he truſt to his owne righteousnes, and commit iniquitie, all his righteousnes ſhalbe no more remembered, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he ſhal dye for the ſame.

<sup>14</sup> Again when I ſhall ſay vnto the wicked, Thou ſhalt dye the death, if he turne from his ſinne, and do that which is lawfull and right, <sup>15</sup> To wiſe, if the wicked reſtore the pledge, and giue agayne that he had robbed, and walke in the ſtatutes of life, without committing iniquitie, he ſhall ſurely liue, and not dye.

<sup>21</sup> Allo in the twelfth yeere of our captiuitie, in the tenth moneth, & in the ſift day of the moneth, one that had eſcaped out of Ieruſalem, came vnto me, and ſaid, The citie is ſmitten.

<sup>22</sup> Nowe the hand of the Lorde had bene vpon me in the euening afore he that had eſcaped, came, & had opened my mouth, vntill he came to me in the morning: and when he had opened my mouth, I was no more domme.

<sup>24</sup> Sonne of man, theſe that dwell in the deſolate places of the land of Iſrael, talke and ſaye, * Abraham was but one, and he poſſeſſed the lande: but wee are manie, therefore the lande ſhall be giuen vs in poſſeſſion.

<sup>25</sup> Wherefore ſaye vnto them, Thus ſayeth the Lorde God, Ye eate with the blood, and liſt vp your eyes toward your idoles, and the dead blood: ſhould ye then poſſeſſe the land?

<sup>27</sup> Say thus vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lorde God, As I liue, ſo ſurely they that are in the deſolate places, ſhal fall by the ſworde: and him that is in the open field, will I giue vnto the beaſtes to be deuoured: & they that be in the fortres and in the caues, ſhall dye of the peſtilence.

when I haue layde the lande desolate and waste, because of all their abominations, that they haue committed.

31 For they come vnto thee, as the people visit to come: and my people sit before thee, and heare thy wordes, but they will not do them: for with their mouthes they make iustes, and their heart goeth after their couetousnes.

32 And lo, thou art vnto them, as a iesting song of one that hath a pleasant voyce, and can sing well: for they heare thy wordes, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to passe (for lo, it will come) then shall they know, that a Prophet hath bene among them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Against the shepherdes that despised the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gaynes. 2 The Lorde sayeth that he will visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together. 3 He promyseth the true shepherde Christ, and with him peace.

1 AND the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie against the shepherdes of Israel, prophesie and saye vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God vnto the shepherdes, Wo be vnto the shepherdes of Israel, that feede themselves: should not the shepherds feede the flockes?

3 Yee eate the fat, and yee clothe you with the wooll: ye kill them that are fed, but ye feede not the sheepe.

4 The weake haue yee not strengthened: the sicke haue ye not healed, neither haue ye bounde vp the broken, nor brought againe that which was driuen away, neither haue yee sought that which was lost, but with crueltie, and with rigour haue ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepherd: and when they were disperfed, they were deuoured of all the beastes of the field.

6 My sheepe wandred though all the mountaines, and vpon euery hye hill: yea, my flocke was scattered through all the earth, and none did seeke or search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, heare the worde of the Lord.

8 As I liue, sayth the Lorde God, surely because my flocke was spoyled, & my sheepe were deuoured of all the beastes of the field, hauing no shepherde, neither did my shepherdes seeke my sheepe, but the shepherdes fed themselves, and fedde not my sheepe,

9 Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord, O ye shepherdes.

10 Thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I come against the shepherdes, & will require my sheepe at their handes: and cause them to cease from feeding the sheepe: neither shall the shepherdes feede themselves any more: for I wil deliuer my sheep from their mouthes, and they shall no more deuoure them.

11 For thus sayth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will seache my sheepe, and seeke them out.

12 As a shepherd searcheth out his flocke, when he hath bene among his sheep that are scattered, so will I seeke out my sheepe & wil deliuer them out of all places, where they haue bene scattered in the cloudie and darke day,

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and wil bring them to their owne lande, & feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel, by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in a good pasture, and vpon the hye mountaines of Israel shall their folde be: there shal they lye in a good fold & in fat pasture shal they feede vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, & bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seeke that which was lost and bring againe that which was driuen away, & will binde vp that which was broken, and will strengthen the weake, but I will destroye the fat & the strong, and I will feede them with iudgement.

17 Also you my sheepe, Thus sayeth the Lord God, behold, I iudge betweene sheepe, and sheepe, betwene the rammes and the goats.

18 Semeth it a small thing vnto you to haue eaten vp the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feete the residue of your pasture: and to haue dronke of the deepe waters, but ye must trouble the residue with your feete?

19 And my sheepe eate that which yee haue troden with your feete, and drinke that which ye haue troubled with your feete.

20 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God vnto them, Behold, I, euen I will iudge betweene the fat sheepe, and the leane sheepe.

21 Because ye haue thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the weake with your hornes, till ye haue scattered them abroad.

22 Therefore will I helpe my sheepe, & they shall no more be spoyled, and I will iudge betweene sheepe and sheepe.

23 And I will set vp a shepherd ouer them, and he shall feede them, euen my seruauent David, he shall feede them, and he shalbe their shepherd.

24 And I the Lorde will be their God, & my seruauent David shalbe the prince among them. I the Lorde haue spoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the euill beastes to cease

CHAP. XXXV.

2 The destruction that shall come vpon mount Seir, because they troubled the people of the Lord.

1 Moreouer the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesie against it.

3 And saye vnto it, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Behold, O mount Seir, I come against thee, and I will stretch out mine hande against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

4 I will laye thy cities waste, & thou shalt be desolate, & thou shalt knowe that I am the Lorde.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred & hast put the children of Israel to flyght by the force of the sworde in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an ende,

6 Therefore as I liue, sayth the Lorde God,
I will prepare thee vnto blood, and blood shal pursue thee: except thou hate blood, euen blood shal pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut of from it him that passeth out and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountaines with his slayne men: in thine hills, & in thy valleyes and in all thy riuers shal they fall, that are slayne with the sworde.

9 I will make thee perpetuall desolations, and thy cities shal not returne, & ye shal know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast sayde, These two nations, & these two countryes shalbe mine, and we will possesse them (seeing the Lord was there)

11 Therefore as I liue, sayth the Lord God, I will euen do according to thy wrath, and according to thine indignation which thou hast vsed in thine hatred against them: & I will make my selfe known among them when I haue iudged thee.

12 And thou shalt knowe, that I the Lorde haue heard al thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They lye waste, they are giuen vs to be deuoured.

13 Thus with your mouthes ye haue boasted against mee, & haue multiplyed your wordes against me: I haue heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord God, So shal all the worlde reioyce when I shall make thee desolate.

15 As thou didest reioyce at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do vnto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, & al Idumea wholly, and they shal know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 He promisseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles. 22 The benefites done vnto the Lewites, are to be ascribed to the mercy of God, and not vnto their deservings. 26 God re-moueth our hearts, that we may walke in his commandements.

1 Also thou sonne of man, prophesie vnto the mountaines of Israel, and say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the worde of the Lorde.

2 Thus sayth the Lorde God, Because the enemie hath sayd against you, Aha, euen the hye places of the worlde are ours in possession,

3 Therefore prophesie, and say, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Because that they haue made you desolate, and swallowed you vp on euery side, that ye might be a possessio vnto the residue of the heathen, & ye are come vnto the lippes and tongues of men, and vnto the reproche of the people,

4 Therefore ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lorde God to the mountaines, and to the hilles, to the riuers, and to the valleyes, and to the waste, and desolate places, & to the cities that are forsaken: which are spoyled and had in derision of the residue of the heathen that are round about.

5 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Surely in the fire of myne indignation haue I spoken against the residue of the heathen, & against all Idumea, which haue taken my lande for their possession, with the joy of all their heart, & with despisefull minds to cast it out for a pray.

6 Prophesie therefore vpō the land of Israel, & say vnto the mountaines, & to the hills, to the riuers, and to the valleyes, Thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I haue spoken in myne indignation, & in my wrath, because ye haue suffred the shame of the heathē, vnto them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I haue lifted vp mine hande, surely the heathen that are about you, shal beare their shame.

9 For beholde, I come vnto you, and I will turne vnto you, & ye shall be tilled and sown.

10 And I will multiplie the men vpon you, <sup>euē</sup> al the house of Israel wholly, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the desolate places shall be builded.

11 And I will multiplie vpon you man and beaste, and they shall encrease, and bring fruite, and I will cause you to dwell after your olde estate, & I will bestow benefites vpon you more then <sup>at the first</sup>, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walke vpon you, <sup>euē</sup> my people Israel, & they shall possesse you, and ye shall be their inheritance, and ye shall no more henceforth deprive them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, Because they saye vnto you, Thou <sup>land</sup> deuourest vp men, & hast bene a waster of thy people,

14 Therefore thou shalt deuoure men no more, neither waste thy people henceforth, saith the Lord God, 15 Neither will I cause me to heare in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou beare the reproche of the people any more, neither shalt I cause thy folke to fall any more, saith the Lord God.

16 Moreouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their owne wayes, & by their deeds: their way was before me as the filthines of the menstruous.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrath vpon the, for the blood that they had shed in the lande, and for their idoles, <sup>wherewith</sup> they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered the among the heathen, & they were dispersed through the countreis: <sup>for</sup> according to their wayes, and according to their deeds, I iudged them.

20 * And when they entred vnto the heathē, whither they wet, they polluted mine holy Name, when they saide of them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone out of his land.

21 But I fauoured mine holy Name which the house of Israel had polluted among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therefore saye vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine <sup>holy</sup> Names sake, which ye polluted among the heathen whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctifie my great Name, which was polluted among the heathen, among whom you haue polluted it, & the heathen shall knowe that I am the Lorde, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before <sup>their</sup> eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of al countreis, and wil bring you into your owne land.

25 Then will I powre cleane <sup>water</sup> vpon you, and ye shall be cleane: <sup>yea</sup>, from al your filthines, and from all your idoles will I <sup>cleane</sup> you.

26 * A new heart also will I giue you, and a newe spirite will I put within you, and will take awaye the stonie heart out of your body, and I wil giue you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walke in my statutes, and ye shall keepe my iudgements and do them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land, that I gaue to your fathers, and ye shall be my people and I wil be your God.

29 I will also deliuer you from all your filthines, and I will call for <sup>corne</sup>, and will increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 For I will multiplie the fruite of the trees, and the increase of the field, that ye shall beare no more the reproch of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and your deeds that were not good, and shall iudge your selues worthe to haue bene destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Be it knowne vnto you that I do not this for your sakes, saith the Lord God: <sup>therefore</sup>, O ye house of Israel, be ashamed, and confounded for your owne wayes.

33 Thus saith the Lord God, What time as I shall haue cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will cause you to dwell in the cities and the desolate places shall be builded.

34 And the desolate lād shall be tilled, whereas it lay waste in the sight of al that passed by.

35 For they said, This waste lād was like the garden of Eden, & these waste and desolate and ruinous cities were strong, and were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathē that are left rounde about you, shall knowe that I the Lorde buylde the ruinous places, and plant the desolate places: I the Lorde haue spoken it, and wil do it.

37 Thus saith the Lorde God, I will yet for this be sought of the house of Israel, to performe it vnto them: I wil encrease the with men like a flocke.

38 As the holy flocke, as the flocke of Ierusalem in their solemne feasts, so shall the desolate cities bee filled with flocks of men, and they shall knowe, that I am the Lorde.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 He prophesieth the bringing againe of the people being in captiuitie. 16 He sheweth the union of the ten tribes with the two.

1 The hand of the Lorde was vpon me, and he caried me out in the Spirit of the Lorde, and set me downe in the middes of the field, which was ful of bones.

2 And he led me round about by them, and his people from their captiuitie in as much as he is able to giue life to the dead bones, and bodies, and raise them, vp againe.

Ye shall come to true repentance, & thinke your selues vnto the number of Gods creatures for your ingratitude against him.

He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the foyle or plentifulnes of the earth that any countrye might be, and abundant, but onely to Gods mercies, as his plagues, and curses declare when he maketh it barren.

behold,

behold, there were very many in the open field, and lo, they were verie drie.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, can these bones liue? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Again he said vnto me, Prophecie vpon these bones and say vnto them, O ye drie bones, heare the worde of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lorde God vnto these bones, Behold, I wil cause breath to enter into you, and ye shal liue.

6 And I wil lay sinewes vpon you, and make flesh grow vpon you, and couer you with skinned, and put breath in you, that ye may liue, & ye shal know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophesied, as I was commanded: & as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold, there was a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I behelde, lo, the sinewes, and the flesh grew vpon them, and aboue, the skin covered the, but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he vnto me, Prophecie vnto the winde: prophecie, sonne of man, and say to the winde, Thus sayth the Lorde God, Come from the foure <sup>b</sup> windes, O breath, and breathe vpon these slaine, that they may liue.

10 So I prophesied as he had commanded me: and the breath came into them, and they liued, and stood vp vpon their feete, an exceeding great armie.

11 Then he saide vnto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Beholde, they saye, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut of.

12 Therefore prophecie, & saye vnto them, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my people, I wil open your graues, and cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel,

13 And ye shal knowe that I am the Lorde, when I haue opened your graues, O my people, and brought you vp out of your sepulchres.

14 And shall put my Spirit in you, and ye shal liue, & I shal place you in your owne land: then ye shal knowe that I the Lorde haue spoken it, and performed it, saith the Lord.

15 ¶ The worde of the Lorde came againe vnto me, saying,

16 Moreouer thou sonne of man, take thee a piece of wood, & write vpon it, Vnto Iudah, and to the childre of Israel his companions: then take another piece of wood, & write vpon it, Vnto Ioseph the tree of Ephraim, and to al the house of Israel his companions.

17 And thou shalt ioine them one to another into one tree, and they shalbe as one in thine hand.

18 And when the childre of thy people shal speake vnto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew vs what thou meanest by these?

19 Thou shalt answer them, Thus saith the Lorde God, Behold, I wil take the tree of Ioseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellowes, and wil put them with him, even with the tree of Iudah, and make them one tree, & they shalbe one in mine hand.

20 And the pieces of wood, whereon thou writest, shall be in thine hande, in their sight.

21 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, & wil gather them on euery side, & bring the into their owne land.

22 And I wil make them one people in the land, vpon the mountaines of Israel, and one King shalbe king to them al: and they shal be no more two peoples, neither be deuided any more henceforth into two kingdomes.

23 Neither shal they be polluted any more with their idoles, nor with their abominations, nor with any of their transgressions: but I wil saue them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they haue sinned, & wil cleanse them: so shal they be my people, and I wil be their God.

24 And Dauid my * seruant shalbe King over them, and they al shal haue one shepherd: they shal also walke in my iudgements, & obserue my statutes, & do them.

25 And they shal dwell in the <sup>e</sup> lande, that I haue giue vnto Iakob my seruant, where your fathers haue dwelt, & they shal dwell therein, even they, & their sonnes, & their sonnes sonnes for euer, and my seruant Dauid shalbe their prince for euer.

26 Moreouer, I wil make * a couenant of peace with them: it shalbe an euerlasting couenant with them, & I wil place them, and multiplie them, and wil set my Sanctuary among them for euermore.

27 My tabernacle also shalbe with them: yea, I wil be their God, and they shal be my people.

28 Thus the heathen shal know, that I the Lord do sanctifie Israel, whe my Sanctuary shalbe among them for euermore.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
2 Sonne of man, set thy face against * Gog, and against the land of Magog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal, & prophecie against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I wil destroye thee, and put hooks in thy chawes, & I wil bring thee forth, and al thine hoste both horles, and horsemen, all clothed with all sortes of armour, even a great multitude with bucklers, and shields, al <sup>b</sup> handling swordes.

d Which signifieth the ioyning together of the two houses of Israel, and Iudah.

a Which was a people that came of Magog the sonne of Iaphet, Gene. 10. 3. Magog also here signifieth a certain countrey, for that by these two countrees, which had the government of Grecia and Italie, hee meant the principal enemies of the Church, Reuelat. 20. 8.
b He sheweth that the enemies should benide the selues against the Church, but it should be to their own destruction.

5 They of Paras, of Cuth, and Phut with them, even all they that beare shielde and helmet.

6 Gomer and all his bandes, and the house of Togarmah of the North quarters, & all his bands, & much people with thee.

7 Prepare thy selfe, and make thee readie, both thou, and all thy multitude, that are assembled vnto thee, and be thou their sauegarde.

8 After manye dayes thou shalt be visited: for in the latter yeres thou shalt come into the land, that hath bene destroyed with the sworde, and is gathered out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue long lien waitē: yet they haue bene brought out of the people, and they shal dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalt ascend & come vp like a tempest, & shalt be like a cloude to couer the land, both thou, and al thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lorde God, Euen at the same time shall manie thinges come into thy minde, and thou shalt thinke euill thoughts.

11 And thou shalt say, I wil go vp to the land that hath no walled towres: I wil go to them that are at rest, and dwell in safetie, which dwell all without walles, and haue neither barres nor gates,

12 Thinking to spoyle the praye, & to take a bootie, to turne thine hand vpon the desolate places that are now inhabited, & vpon the people, that are gathered out of the nations which haue gotten cattell & goods & dwell in the middes of the land.

13 Sheba and Dedan, and the marchantes of Tarshish with all the lions thereof shall say vnto thee, Art thou come to spoyle y praye? hast thou gathered thy multitude to take a bootie? to cary away siluer and gold, to take away cattell and goods, & to spoyle a great pray?

14 Therefore, sonne of man, prophesie, and say vnto Gog, Thus saith the Lorde God, In that daye when my people of Israel dwelleth safe, shalt thou not knowe?

15 And come fro thy place out of the North partes, thou and much people with thee? al shalt ride vpon horses, even a great multitude and a mightie armie.

16 And thou shalt come vp against my people of Israel, as a cloude to couer the land: thou shalt be in the latter dayes, & I will bring thee vpon my land that the heathē may knowe me, when I shalbe sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lorde God, Art not thou he, of whom I haue spoken in olde time by the hand of my seruants the Prophets of Israel which prophesied in those dayes & yeres, that I woulde bring thee vpon them?

18 At the same time also when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, sayth the Lorde God, my wrath shall arise in mine anger.

19 For in mine indignation & in the fire of my wrath haue I spoken it: surely at that time there shalbe a great shaking in the land of Israel.

20 So that the fishes of the sea, & the foules of the heauen, and the beasts of the field & al that moue & creepe vpon the earth, and all the men that are vpon the earth, shal tremble at my presence, & the mountaines shalbe ouerthrowen, & the staires shall fall, and euery wall shall fall to the ground.

21 For I will call for a sworde against him throughout all my mountaines, saith the Lord God: euery mans sworde shalbe against his brother.

22 And I will pleade against him with pestilence, and with blood, and I will cause to raine vpon him and vpon his bandes, and vpon the great people, that are with him, a fore raine, and hailestones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus wil I be magnified, and sanctified, & knowen in the eyes of many nations, and they shal know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIX.

He sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 11 The graues of Gog and his host. 17 They shalbe deuoured of birds and beasts. 23 VVherfore the house of Israel is captiue. 24 Their bringing againe from captiue is promised.

Therefore, thou sonne of man, prophesie against Gog, & say, Thus saith the Lorde God, beholde, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I wil destroye thee & leaue but the sixt part of thee, & wil cause thee to come vp from the North partes and will bring thee vpon the mountaines of Israel:

And I wil smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and I wil cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall vpon the mountaines of Israel, and all thy bandes and the people, that is with thee: for I wil giue thee vnto the birds & to euery feathered foule and beast of the field to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

6 And I wil send a fire on Magog, & among them that dwell safely in the yles, and they shal know that I am the Lord.

7 So wil I make mine holy Name known in the middes of my people Israel, and I wil not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name anye more, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, the holy one of Israel.

8 Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel, shal go forth, and shal burne and set fire vpon the weapons, and on the shieldes, & bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrowes, & vpon the staves in their hands, and vpon the speares, and they shal burne

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the field, neither cut downe any out of the forests: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, & they shall rob those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoiled them, saith the Lord God.

11 And at the same time will I giue vnto Gog a place there for buriall in Israel, <sup>even</sup> the valley whereby men go toward the East part of the Sea: and it shall cause them that passe by, to stoppe their noses, and there shall they burie Gog with all his multitude: & they shall call it the valley of Hamon-Gog.

12 And seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of the, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, al the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall chuse out men to go continually through the land with the that trauaile, to burie those that remaine vpon the ground, and cleanse it: they shall search to the end of seuen moneths.

15 And the traualers that passe through the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he set vp a signe by it, till the buriers haue buried it, in the valley of Hamon-Gog.

16 And also the name of the citie shall be Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus sayth the Lord God, Speake vnto euery feathered foule, and to all the beastes of the field, Assemble your selues, and come: gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I do sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaines of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Ye shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambes, and of the goats, of bullocks, <sup>even</sup> of al fat beastes of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eate fat til you be full, and drinke blood, til ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, & with al me of warre, saith the Lord God.

21 And I wil set my glorye among the heathen, & al the heathen shall see my iudgement, that I haue executed, & mine hand, which I haue layed vpon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall knowe, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forth.

23 And the heathen shall knowe, that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for their iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hande of their enemies: so fel they al by the sword.

24 According to their vncleannes, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Now wil I bring againe the captiuitie of Iakob, & haue compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and wil be ielous for mine holy Name, 26 After that they haue borne their shame, and al their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, & without feare of any.

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, & gathered them out of their enemies landes, & am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shall they knowe, that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heath: but I haue gathered them vnto their owne land, & haue left none of them any more there, 29 Neither wil I hide my face any more from the: for I haue powred out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XL.

The restoring of the citie and the Temple.

1 In the five and twentieth yeere of our being in captiuitie in the beginning of the yere, in the tenth day of the moneth, in the fourteenth yere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfe same daye, the hand of the Lord was vpon me, & brought me thither.

2 Into the lande of Israel brought he me by a diuine vision, and set me vpon a verie high mountaine, wherupon was as the building of a citie, toward the South.

3 And he brought me thither, and beholde, there was a man, whose similitude was to looke to, like brasse, with a linen thread in his hand, and a reede to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

4 And the man said vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, and set thine heart vpon al that I shall shew thee: for to the intent, that they might see shewed thee, art thou brought hither: declare al that thou seest, vnto the house of Israel.

5 And beholde, I saw a wall on the outside of the house rounde about: and in the mans hand was a reed to measure with, of six cubits long, by the cubite, and an had breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building with one reede, & the height with one reede.

6 Then came he vnto the gate, which looketh toward the East, & went vp the stairs thereof, & measured the post of the gate, which was one reede broad, and the other poste of the gate, which was one reede broad.

7 And euery chamber was one reede long, & one reede broad, & betwene the chambers were five cubites: & the post of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reede. He measured also the porche of the gate within with one reede.

12 The space also before the chambers was one cubite on this side, & the space was one cubite on that side, & the chambers were six cubites on this side and six cubites on that side.

13 He measured the gate fro the roufe of a chamber to the toppe of the gate: the breadth was five & twenty cubites, doore against doore.

14 He made also postes of threescore cubites, & the postes of the court, and of the gate had one measure round about.

15 And vpon the forefront of the entrie of the gate vnto the forefront of the porche of the gate within were fiftie cubites.

16 And there were narrow windowes in the chambers, and in their postes within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and the windowes were round about within: and vpon the postes were palme trees.

17 Then brought he me into the outward court, and lo, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about & thirte chambers were vpon the pavement.

18 And the pavement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates, & the pavement was beneath.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within; an hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate of the outward court, that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, & three on that side, & the postes thereof & the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

22 And their windowes, & their arches with their palme trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, & the going vp vnto it had fewe steppes, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and he measured fro gate to gate an hundred cubites.

24 After that, he brought me toward the South, and lo, there was a gate toward the South, & he measured the postes thereof, & the arches thereof according to these measures.

45 And he said vnto me, This chāber whose prospect is towards the South, is for the Priests that haue charge to keep y<sup>e</sup> houle.
46 And the chamber whose prospect is towards the North, is for the Priests that haue the charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Zadok among the sonnes of Leui which may come nere to y<sup>e</sup> Lorde to minister vnto him.
47 So he measured the court, an hundredth cubites long, & an hundredth cubits broad even four square: likewise the altar that was before the Houfe.
48 And he brought me to the porch of the houfe, & measured the pofts of the porch, fiue cubites on this side, and fiue cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, & three cu-bites on that side.
49 The length of the porch was twentie cu-bites, and the breadth eleuen cubites, and he brought me by the steps wherby they wēt vp to it, & there were pillars by the poftes, one on this side, & another on that side.

that the poftes might be fastned therein, and not be fastned in the wall of the houfe.
7 And it was large and went round mounting vpward to the chambers: for the stair of the houfe was mounting vpward, round about the houfe: therefore the houfe was larger vpward: so they went vp from the lowest chamber to the hiest by the middes.
8 I saw also the houfe hie round about the foundations of the chambers were a full reed of six great cubites.
9 The thickenes of the wal which was for the chamber without, was fiue cubites, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.
10 And betwene the chambers was the widenes of twentie cubites rounde about the Houfe on euery side.
11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another doore toward the South, & the breadth of y<sup>e</sup> place that remained, was fiue cubits round about.
12 Now the building that was before the separate place toward the West corner, was seuentie cubites broad, and the wal of the building was fiue cubites thicke, round about, and the length ninetie cubites.
13 So he measured the houfe an hundredth cubites long, & the separate place & the building with the walles thereof were an hundredth cubites long.
14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the houfe and of the separate place toward the East, was an hundredth cubites.
15 And he measured the length of the building ouer against y<sup>e</sup> separate place, which was behinde it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundredth cubites with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.
16 The poftes and the narrow windowes, & the chambers round about, on three sides ouer agaynst the poftes, sieled with cedar wood round about, & from the ground vp to the windowes, and the windowes were sieled.
17 And from about the doore vnto the inner houfe and without, and by all the wal rounde about within and without it was sieled according to the measure.
18 And it was made with Cherubims and palme trees, so that a palme tree was be-twene a Cherub & a Cherub: and euery Cherub had two faces.
19 So that the face of a man was toward the palme tree on the one side, and the face of a lyon toward the palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the houfe round about.
20 From the ground vnto about the doore were Cherubims and palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.
21 The poftes of the Temple were squared, and thus to looke vnto was the similitude & forme of the Sanctuarye.
22 The altar of wood was three cubites hie, and the length thereof two cubites, & the corners thereof and the length thereof & the sides thereof were of wood. And he said vnto me, This is the table that shalbe before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two doores.

24 And the doores had two wickets, even two turning wickets, two wickets for one doore, & two wickets for another doore.

25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims & palmetrees, like as was made vpon the walles, & there were thicke planks vpon the forefront of the porch without.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.

Verf. 1 Having described the length & breadth of the Temple, he commeth to the outward court on the North side. T. This appeareth in the great figure. He brought me into the chamber: that is, the rowe of chambers, which were toward the separate place Westward. 2.

Verf. 3 He meaneth that the North was an hundred cubites long, x y, and in breadth fiftie. b. x.

Verf. 4 This gallerie appeareth in the great figure by this number 12.

Verf. 5 These chambers were contrarie facioned to them of the Temple.

Verf. 8 So that the wall for the chambers of the outward court and the wall of the inner, was eyther fiftie cubites, and the whole court an hundred.

Verf. 9 Under these chambers were entries, or doores to passe from one place to another, which are noted euer by x in the great figure.

Verf. 10. 11. The chambers, p, of the East court M were like to the chambers of the North court.

1 Then brought hee mee into the vtter court by the way toward the North, & he brought mee into the chāber that was ouer against the separate place, & which was before the building toward y North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubites was the North doore, & it was fifty cubites broad.

3 Ouer against the twentie cubites which were for the inner court, & ouer against the pauement, which was for the vtter court, was chamber agaynst chamber in three rowes.

4 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubites wide, & within was a waye of one cubite, and their doores toward the North.

5 Now the chābers aboue were narrower: for those chambers seemed to eat vp these, so wis, the lower, & those that were in the middes of the building.

6 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath & from the middlemost, even from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chābers, toward the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, was fiftie cubites long.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vtter court, was fifty cubites: & lo, before the Temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And vnder these chambers was the entry, on the East side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers were in the thickeffe of the wal of the court toward the East, ouer against the separate place, & ouer against the building.

11 And the waye before them was after the maner of the chābers, which were toward the North as long as they, and as broad as they: and al their entries were like, both according to their facions, & according to their doores.

12 And according to the doores of y chambers that were toward the South, was a doore in the corner of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entreth.

13 Then said he vnto me, The North chambers & the South chābers which are before the separate place, they be holy chābers, wherein the Priestes that approche vnto the Lorde, shall eate the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meate offering, & the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering: for the place is holy.

14 When the Priestes enter therein, they shal not go out of the holy place into the vtter court, but there they shal lay their garments wherein they minister: for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, & so shall approach to those things, which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, hee brought mee forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it rounde about.

16 He measured the East side with the measuring rod, five hundred reeds, even with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured also the North side, five hundred reeds, even with the measuring reed round about.

18 And he measured the South side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

19 He turned about also to the West side, & measured five hundred reedes with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reedes long, and five hundred broad to make a separation between the Sanctuarie, & the prophane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

He seeth the glorie of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. 7 He mentioneth the idolatry of the children of Israel for the which they were consumed and brought to nought. 9 He is commanded to call them againe to repentance.

Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that turneth toward the East.

2 And behold, the glorie of the God of Israel came from out of the East, whose voice was like a noife of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glorie.

3 And the vision which I saw was like the vision, even as the vision that I saw when I prophesied the destruction of the citie by the Chaldeans. And I fell vpon my face.

4 And the glorie of the Lord came into the house by the waye of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit tooke me vp & brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glorie of rie of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house: and there stood a man by me,

7 Which said vnto me, Sonne of man, this place is my throne, and the place of the soles of my feete, where as I will dwell among the children of Israel for euer, and the house of Israel shall no more defile mine holy Name, neither they, nor their Kings by their fornication, nor by the carkeises of their Kings in their high places.

8 Albeit they set their thresholds by my thresholds, and their postes by my posts (for there was but a wall betweene me and them) yet haue they defiled mine holie Name with these abominations, that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 Now therefore let them put away their fornication, and the carkeises of their Kings farre from me, and I wil dwell among them for euer.

10 Thou sonne of man, shew this House to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their wickednes, & let them measure the paterne.

11 And if they bee ashamed of all that they haue done, shewe them the forme of the house, & the paterne thereof, & the going out thereof, and the coming in thereof, and the whole facion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and al the lawes thereof: & write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole facion thereof, and al the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the description of the house, It shalbe vpon the top of the mount: all the limites thereof round about shalbe moste holy. Behold, this is the description of the house.

THE FIGURE OF THE ALTAR.

13 And these are the measures of the Altar, after the cubites, the cubite is a cubite, & an hand breadth, even the bottome shalbe a cubite, and the breadth a cubite, & the border thereof by the edge thereof round about shalbe a spanne: and this shalbe the height of the altar.

14 And from the bottome which toucheth the ground to the lower piece shalbe two cubites: & the breadth one cubite, & from the litle piece to the great piece shalbe four cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 So the altar shalbe foure cubites, & from the altar vpward shalbe foure hornes.

16 And the altar shalbe twelue cubites long, and twelue broad, and fouresquare in the foure corners thereof.

17 And the frame shalbe fourtene cubits long, & fourtene broad in the fouresquare corners thereof, & the border about it shalbe halfe a cubite, & the bottom thereof shalbe a cubite about, and the steppes thereof shalbe turned toward the East.

18 And he saide vnto me, Sonne of man, thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lorde God, These are the ordinances of the altar in the day whē they shall make it to offer the burnt offering thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt giue to the Priests, and to the Leuites, that be of the seed of Zadok, which approach vnto me, to minister vnto me, sayth the Lord God, a yong bullocke for a sinne offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, & on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcile it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offering, & burne it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuary.

22 But the seconde day thou shalt offer an hee goat without blemish for a sinne offering, & they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullocke.

23 Whē thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a yong bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flocke without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, & the Priests shall cast salt vpon the, and they shall offer them for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare euerye daye an hee goate for a sinne offering: they shall also prepare a yong bullocke and a ram out of the flocke, without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seuen dayes purifie the altar, and cleanse it, & consecrate it.

27 And when these dayes are expired, vpon the eight day and so forth, the Priests shall make your burnt offerings vpon the altar, & your peace offerings, and I wil accept you, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLV.

One of the land of promises are these separate forces portions, of which the first is given to the Priests and to the Temple, the second to the Levites, the third to the cities, the fourth to the prince. 9 An exhortation vnto the houses of Israel. 10 Of just weights and measures. 13 Of the fruit fruit, &c.

a Of all the land of Israel the Lorde ouely requireth this portion for the Temple and for the Priests, for the cities and for the prince.

1 Moreouer when yee shall deuide the land for inheritance, yee shall offer an oblation vnto the Lorde an holy portion of the land, five & twentie thousand reeds long, and ten thousand broad: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof rounde about.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuarie five hundred in length with five hundred in breadth, a square round about, and fiftie cubites round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twentie thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the Sanctuarie, and the moste holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be the Priests, which minister in the Sanctuarie, which came nere to serue the Lord: and it shall be a place for their houses, & an holy place for the Sanctuarie.

5 And in the five and twentie thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall the Levites that minister in the house, haue their possession for twentie chambers.

6 Also yee shall appoint the possession of the cities, five thousand broad, & five & twentie thousand long ouer against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side, and on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the cities, even before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the cities fro the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward, & the length shall be by one of the portions from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people, & the rest of the lande shall they giue to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: leaue of crueltie & oppression, & execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

10 Yee shall haue iust balances, & a true Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be equal: a Bath shall conteyne the tenth part of an Homer, & an Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equalitie thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 And the shekel shall be twentie gerahs, & twentie shekels, and five & twenty shekels & fiftene shekels shall be your Maneh.

13 ¶ This is the oblation that yee shall offer, the sixt part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheat, and yee shall giue the sixt part of an Ephah of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oyle, even of the Bath of oyle, yee shall offer the tenth parte of a Bath out of the Cor (ten Baths are an Homer: for ten Baths fill an Homer)

15 And one lambe of two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat offering, & for a burnt offering & for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the lande shall giue this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the princes parte to giue burnt offerings, and meat offerings, & drink offerings in the soleme feasts and in the new moones, & in the Sabbaths, and in all the hie feasts of y house of Israel: he shall prepare the sinne offerings, and the meate offerings, and the burnt offering, & the peace offerings to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lorde God, In the first moneth, in the first day of the moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish and cleanse the Sanctuarie.

19 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the posts of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the altar, and vpon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so shalt thou do the seuenth day of the month, for euery one that hath erred and for him that is deceyued: so shall you reconcile the house.

21 ¶ In the first moneth in the fourteenth day of the moneth, yee shall haue the Passeouer a feast of seven dayes, & yee shall eate unleavened bread.

22 And vpon that day, shall the prince prepare for himselfe, and for al the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinne offering.

23 And in the seven dayes of the feast hee shall make a burnt offering to the Lord, even of seuen bullocks, and seuen rams without blemish dayly for seven dayes, and an he goate dayly for a sinne offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meate offering of an Ephah for a bullocke, an Ephah for a ram, and an Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

25 In the seuenth moneth, in the fiftenth day of the moneth, shall he doe the like in the feast for seuen daies, according to the sinne offering, according to the burnt offering, & according to the meate offerings, and according to the oyle.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, & the Priests shal make his burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and he shal worship at the threshold of the gate: after, he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut till the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shal worship at the entrie of this gate before the Lord on the Sabbaths, and in the new moones.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shal offer vnto the Lorde on the Sabbath day, shalbe fixe lambs without blemish, & a ram without blemish.

5 And the meat offering shalbe an Ephah for a ram: and the meat offering for the lambs a gift of his hand, & an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moone it shalbe a yong bullocke without blemish, and six lambs and a ram: they shalbe without blemish.

7 And he shal prepare a meat offering, even an Ephah for a bullocke, & an Ephah for a ram, and for the lambs according as his hand shal bring, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shal enter, he shall go in by the waye of the porche of that gate, and he shall go forth by the waye thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in y<sup>e</sup> solene feastes, hee that entreteth in by the waye of the North gate to worship, shal go out by the waye of the South gate: & he that entreteth by the waye of the South gate, shall go forth by the waye of the North gate: hee shall not returne by the waye of the gate whereby he came in, but they shal go forth ouer against it.

10 And the prince shal be in the middes of them: he shall go in when they go in, and when they go forth, they shal go forth together.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities the meate offering shall be an Ephah to a bullocke, & an Ephah to a ram, and to the lambs, the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall make a free burnt offering or peace offerings freely vnto the Lord, one shall then open him the gate, that turneth toward the East, and he shal make his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day: after, he shal go forth, and when he is gone forth, one shal shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt dayly make a burnt offering vnto the Lord of a lamb of one yere without blemish: thou shalt do it euerie morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it every morning, the sixt part of an Ephah, and the thirde parte of an Hin of oyle, to mingle with the fine flour: this meate offering shalbe continually by a perpetual ordinance vnto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lambe, and the meate offering and the oyle euerie morning, for a continual burnt offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, If the prince giue a gift of his inheritance vnto any of his sonnes, it shalbe his sonnes, and it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he giue a gift of his inheritance to one of his seruants, then it shal be his to the yere of libertie: after, it shall returne to the prince, but his inheritance shal remaine to his sonnes for them.

18 Moreouer the prince shall not take of the peoples inheritance, nor thrust them out of their possession: but he shall cause his sonnes to inherit of his own possession, that my people be not scattered euery man from his possession.

19 ¶ After, he brought me through the entrie, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priestes, which stood toward the North: & behold, there was a place at the West side of them.

20 Then said he vnto me, This is the place where the Priests shall see the trespass offering and the sinne offering, where they shall bake the meate offering, that they should not beare the into the vter court, to sanctifie the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the vter court, and caused me to goe by the foure corners of the court: and behold, in euery corner of the court, there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courts ioined of fourtie cubites long, & thirty broad: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wall about them, even about those foure, & kitchens were made vnder the walles round about.

through the waters: the waters were to the ancles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters: the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me through: the waters were to the loynes.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, & it was a river, that I could not passe over: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flow, as a river that could not be passed over.

6 And he sayde vnto mee, Sonne of man, hast thou seene this? The he brought me, and caused me to returne to the brinke of the river.

7 Nowe when I returned, beholde, at the brinke of the river were very many trees on the one side, and on the other.

8 Then said he vnto me, These waters issue out toward the East country, and runne downe into the plaine, and shal go into one sea: they shal runne into another sea, and the waters shal be wholsome.

9 And euery thing that lieth, which moeth, wherefoener the rivers shal come, shal liue, & there shal be a very great multitude of fishes: because these waters shal come thither: for they shal be wholsome, & euery thing shal liue whether the river commeth.

10 And then the fishers shal stand vpon it, & from En-gedi euen vnto En-eglain, they shal spread out their nettes: for their fish shal be according to their kind, as the fish of the maine sea, exceeding many.

11 But the myrie places thereof, and the marishes thereof shal not be wholsome: they shal be made salt pittes.

12 And by this river vpon the brinke thereof, on this side, and on that side shal growe all manner of trees, whose leafe shal not fade, neither shal the fruit thereof fade: it shal bring forth newe fruit according to his season, because their waters shal issue out of the Sanctuarie: and the fruit thereof shal be meat, & the leafe thereof shal be for medicine.

13 Thus sayth the Lord God, This shal be the border, whereby ye shal inherite the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shal haue two portions.

14 And ye shal inherite it, one as well as another: concerning the which I lift vp mine hand to give it vnto your fathers, and this land shal fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And this shal be the border of the lande toward the North side, from the maine sea toward Hechlon as men go to Zedadah:

16 Hamath, Berorah, Sibram, which is betweene the border of Damascus, & the border of Hamath, & Hazar, Hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shal be Hazar, Enan, & the border of Damascus, and the residue of the North, Northward, and the border of Hamath: so shal be the North part.

18 But the East side shal ye measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, & from Gilead, & from the lande of Israel by Iorden, and from the border vnto the East sea: and so shal be the East part.

19 And the Southside shal be toward Teman from Tamar to the waters of Meriboth in Orsifi. Kadesh, and the riuier to the mayne sea: so shal be the South part toward Teman.

20 The West parte also shal be the great sea from the border, till a man come ouer against Hamath: this shal be the West part.

21 So shal ye deuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And you shal deuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, & to the strangers that dwell among you, which shal beget children among you, & they shal be vnto you, as borne in the country among the children of Israel: they shal part inheritance with you in the middes of the tribes of Israel.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, there shal ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord God.

THe great providence of God, and his singular mercie towards his Church are most lively here to be seen, who neuer leaveth his churche, but nowe in their greatest miseries and afflictions giveth them Prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whome he adorned with such graces of his holy spirit, that Daniel above all other had most special revelations of such things as should come to the Church, even from the time that they were in captivitie, to the last ende of the worlde, & to the general resurrection, as of the foure Monarchies & empires of all the world, to wit, of the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians, & Romans. Also of the certaine number of the times, even unto Christ, when all ceremonies and sacrifices should cease, because he should be the accomplishment thereof; moreover he sheweth Christs office & the cause of his death which was by his sacrifice to take away sinnes, and to bring everlasting life. And as from the beginning God ever exercised his people under the crosse, so he teacheth here, that after thus Christ is offered, he will still leave this exercise to his Church until the dead rise againe, and Christ gather his into his kingdome in the heauens.

1 The captivity of Iehoiakim King of Iudah. 4 The King chuseth certain young men of the Jews to learn his laws.
5 They have the King's ordinances appointed; 8 But they 7 obtain from us.

In the third yeere of the reigne of Iehoiakim
King of Iudah, came Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babel vnto Ierusalé,

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; which he carried into the land of<sup>b</sup> Shinar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his gods' temple.

3 And the King spake vnto * Aſſpenaz the maſter of his Eunuchies, that he ſhoulde bring certaine of the children of Iſrael, of the Kings ſeede, and of the princes:

4 Children in whome was no blemish, but well favoured; & instruct in all wisdom, and well versed in knowledge, and able to teach knowledge, and such as were able to stand in the Kings palace; and whome they might teach the learning, & the tongue of the Chaldeans.

And the King appointed them provision every day of a portion of the Kings meat, and of the wine, which he dranke, so nourishing them three yere, till at the ende therof they might stand before the King

these noble men, ¶ The king required three things, 1 That they should be born of a noble birth, that they should be of a way & learned of all things and come of a noble nature, & lastly that they should be of a noble mind, & be able to praise his liberality: yet in this hee is worthy to be learned, & knew that it was a necessary mean to serve him the better to his purpose: yet it is not that Daniel did learne any knowledge that was not before hee, but hee did learne to be able to resist the abuse of things and superstition, in that hee would not eat the meat which the King appointed him, but hee did learne to know the nature of things, & that hee might learne to forget the mediocrity of people. ¶ To the intent that in this tyme they should be able to know the manners of the Chaldeans, and also their tongue, & to be able to sit at the table, as in other offices.

6 Nowe among these were certain of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah.

7 Unto whom the chief of the Eunuchs gave other names: for he called Daniel, Belshazzar, & Hananiah, Shadrach, & Michael, Mefstach and Azariah, Abednego.

8 ¶ But Daniel had determined in his heart, that he would not<sup>m</sup> defile him selfe with the portion of the Kings meate, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he required the chiefe of the Eunuches that he might not defile him selfe.

9 (Now God had brought Daniel into favour, and tender love with the chiefs of the Eunuques)

10 And the chiefe of the Eunuches said vnto Daniel, We feare my lord the King, who hath appointed your meate & your drinke: therefore if he see your faces worse liking then the other children, which are of your sort, the shall you make me lofe mine head vnto the King.

¶ Then sayd Danielso Melzar,whome the chiefe of the Eunuches had set over Daniel Hananish Michael and Azariash

12 Prouerby seruants, I beseeche thee,* ten dayes, and let them giue vs* pulfe to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the Kings meate: and as thou feelest, deal with thy seruants.

4 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

5 And at the end of ten dayes, their Accoun-tenances appeared fayrer, and in better liking then all the childrens, which did eat the portion of the Kings meat.

they did this foolish religion, which was contrary to and therefore he would be great enough to them; which ion: for neither he would condemn their nor man Meaning, that within this space he might have man should be able to defend it: and thus he spake by the Spirit of God. ¶ Not that it was a thing deitie meates and to drinke wine, as both before

CHAP. II.

The dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar. 13 The King commaunded all the wise men of Babylon to be slayne because they could not interpret his dreame. 14 Daniel requieth tyme to solve the question. 15 Daniel is brought vnto the King and sheweth him his dreame and the interpretation thereof. 16 Of the surdasing kingdom of Babil.

- 1 And in the second yeere of the reygne of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed dreames wherewith his spirite was troubled, and his sleepe was vpon him.
- 2 Then the King commaunded to call the inchanters, and the astrologians and the forcerers, and the Caldeans for to shewe the King his dreames: so they came and stode before the King.
- 3 And the King sayde vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirite was troubled to know the dreame.
- 4 Then spake the Caldeans to the King in the Aramites language, O King, liue for euer: shewe thy seruants thy dreame, and we shall shewe the interpretation.
- 5 And the King sayde vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirite was troubled to know the dreame.
- 6 But if ye declare the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me gifts and rewardes, and great honour: therefore shewe mee the dreame and the interpretation of it.

at the wisdom and knowledge of the country depended vpon them, and that al other countreys were voyd of the same. f That is, in the Syrian tongue which differed not much from the Caldeans, (sue it seemed to be more eloquent, and therefore the learned vsed to speake it: as the Iewish writers do to this day. g This is a iust reward of their arrogance (which vaunted of themselves that they had the knowledge of all things) that they should be proued fooler, & that to their perpetual shame and confusion.

- 7 They answered againe, and sayd, Let the King shew his seruants the dreame, & we will declare the interpretation thereof.
- 8 Then the King answered, and sayd, I know certainly that ye would gaine the tyme, because yee see the thing is gone from mee.
- 9 But if ye wil not declare me the dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for ye haue prepared lying and corrupt wordes, to speake before me till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dreame, that I may know, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.
- 10 Then the Caldeans answered before the King, & sayde, There is no man vpon earth that can declare the Kinges matter: yea, there is neither king nor prince nor lord that asked such thinges at an inchanter or astrologian or Caldean.
- 11 For it is a rare thing that the King requieth, and there is none other that can declare it before the King, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.
- 12 For this cause the king was angrye and in great furie, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.
- 13 And when sentence was giuen, the wise men were slayne: and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be put to death.
- 14 Then Daniel answered with counsel and wisdome to Arioch the Kinges chiefe stewarde, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel.
- 15 Yea, he answered and sayde vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hasty from the king? Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.
- 16 So Daniel went and desired the king that he woulde giue him leasure and that hee woulde shewe the king the interpretation thereof.
- 17 Then Daniel went to his house & shewed the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions.
- 18 That they should beseeche the God of heauen for grace in this secreete, that Daniel & his fellows should not perishe with the rest of the wise men of Babel.
- 19 Then was the secreete reueyled vnto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel prayed the God of heauen.
- 20 And Daniel answered and sayde, The Name of God be prayed for euer & euer for wisdome and strength are his.
- 21 And he changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth vp kings: he giueth wisdome vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.
- 22 He discovereth the deepe and secreete things: he knoweth what is in the darkenes, and the light dwelleth with him.
- 23 I thank thee and praye thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen mee wisdome and strength, and hast shewed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the kinges matter.

h Here appeared their ignorance, which was able to tell the dreame, except hee entered into the mystery, and therefore they would pretend knowledge where was no more ignorance, and so as deluders of the people, they were worthy to die. e Everlasting the tyme.

Which declared that God would not have his seruants in the company of the forcerers and Astrologers, whose art were wicked, & therefore they ought to die, though the king did it wronge, & so forth. Or the captain of the guard.

24 ¶ There-fore it.

And he was Nebuchad-nezzar, full of wisdom, and the form of his visage was bright as the sun. He was king of Babylon, and he reigned forty and three years. He was a man of great power, and he was a man of great wisdom.

And he charged the most valiant men of his army, that were in his army, to bring forth Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the furnace of fire, because the King commanded that the furnace should be made exceeding hot, and the flame of the fire should be kindled.

And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, were brought forth by the King, and they were cast into the furnace of fire, and they were bound unto the four sides of the furnace.

Then Nebuchad-nezzar the King was wondered, and he rose up in haste, and spoke, and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the middle of the fire? Who answered and said unto him, Yea, we did so.

And he answered, and said, Lo, now I see four men walking in the middle of the fire, and they have no hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the form of God.

Then the King, Nebuchad-nezzar, came forth to the mouth of the fire, and he spoke, and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, this servants of the Lord
God, go forth and come hither to me.

And they came forth, and they were in the middle of the furnace, and they were bound unto the four sides of the furnace.

Then the nobles, princes, and dukes, and the Kings counsellors, came together to see what men, because the fire had no power over their bodies, for not an hair of their heads was burnt, neither was their coats changed, nor any smell of fire came upon them.

Then Nebuchad-nezzar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and delivered his servants, that they might stand in his furnace, and he changed the burning coals into ashes, and he delivered their bodies, and they would serve and worship him.

Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be broken in pieces, and their houses shall be made a desolation, because there is no God that can deliver after this sort.

Then the King promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and he made them rulers over the province of Babylon, and he made them rulers over all the provinces of the Kingdom of Babylon.

13 ¶ Then was Daniel brought before the King, and the King spake and saide vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, whom my father the King brought out of Iewrie?

14 Now I haue heard of thee, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, & that light and vnderstanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

1. Daniel made request vnto the gouernours, saying, He is put into a denne of Lyons by the decree of the King, & he is deliuered by him in Gods time. 2. Darius answered, and put vnto the hymn, 3. Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Dauid.

a. Read Enter Chap. I. v. 1. I pleaded Darius to set ouer the kingdome: an hundredth and twentieth gouernours, which shoulde be ouer the whole kingdome.

b. And ouer these three rulers, of whom Daniel was one, what gouernours might giue account vnto them, and the King should haue no damage.

c. Now this Daniel was preferred above the rulers and gouernours, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the King thought to set him ouer the whole realm.

d. Wherefore the rulers and gouernours sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they coulde finde none occasion nor cause for he was so faithfull that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

e. Then said these men, We shall not finde an occasion against this Daniel, except we finde against him concerning the Lawe of his God.

f. Therefore the rulers and these gouernours went together to the King, and said thus vnto him, King Darius, due for euer.

g. All the officers of thy kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellors, & dukes him selfe consulted together to make a decree for the King and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirde dayes saueth of thee, O King, he shall be cast into the denne of Lyons.

8. Now, O King, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9. Wherefore King Darius sealed the writing and the decree.

10. Now when Daniel vnderstood that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his windowe beeing open in his chamber towards Ierusalem, he kneeled vpon his knees three times a day, and prayed and prayd his God, as he did aforetime.

11. Then these men assembled, and founde Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

12. So they came, and spake vnto the King concerning the Kings decree. Hast thou not sealed the decree, that euery man that shall make request to any god or man within thirte dayes, saue to thee, O King, shall be cast into the denne of Lyons? The King answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the Lawe of the Medes & Persians, which altereth not.

13. Then answered they, and said vnto the King, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O King, nor the decree, that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14. When the King heard these wordes, he was fore displeased with him selfe, and let his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: and he laboured till the sunne went downe, to God pray deliuer him.

15. Then these men assembled vnto the King, and saide vnto the King, Vnderstand, O King, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the King confirmeth, may be altered.

16. Then the King commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the denne of Lyons: now the King spake, & said vnto Daniel, Thy God, whome thou alway serueth, euen he will deliuer thee.

17. And a stone was brought, and layed vpon the mouth of the denne, and the King sealed it with his owne signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

18. Then the King went vnto his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of musike brought before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19. Then the King arose early in the morning, and went in all haste vnto the denne of Lyons.

20. And when he came to the denne, he cried with a lamentable voyce vnto Daniel, and the King spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel, the seruant of the liuing God, is not thy thy God (whome thou alway seruest) able to deliuer thee from the Lyons :

11 Then said Daniel vnto the King, O King, liue for euer :

12 My God hath sent his Angel and hath shut the lions mouths, that they haue not hurt me : for my iustice was found out before him : and vnto thee, O King, I haue done no hurt.

13 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, & commanded that they should take Daniel out of the denne : so Daniel was brought out of the denne, & no manner of hurt was found vpon him, because he beleued in his God.

14 And by the commandment of the King these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were cast into the denne of lions, even they, their children, and their wives : and the Lyons had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones a pieces, or euer they came at the ground of the denne.

15 Afterward King Darius wrote, Vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world: Peace be multiplied vnto you.

16 I make a decree that in al the dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and feare before the God of Daniel: for he is the liuing God, and remaineth for euer: and his kingdom shall not perish, and his dominion shall be euerlasting.

17 He rescueth and deliuereth, and he worketh signes and wonders in heauen and in earth, who hath deliuered Daniel from the power of the Lyons.

18 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

And when this wickedness is come to light: though not in euery place with like consequences, yet to execute true iustice vpon sin. As this growth that Darius did worshipping God might be punished: for thus he would haue destroyed all superstition and idolatry, and only in his God the others place, but also haue for him self, and caused him to be honored according to his will: but this was a certain confidence of Gods power, which was compelled by the world to fall into it. Which hath not only life in him, but also the only fountain of life, and quickeneth all things, so that he is the only fountain of life.

CHAP. VII.

A vision of four beasts is shewed vnto Daniel. The four horns of the fourth beast. Of the euening time.

1 In the first yere of Belshazzar King of Babel, Daniel saw a dreame, and there vpon in his head, vpon his bed, he wrote the dreame, and declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and beheld the four winges of the heauen stood vpon the great sea:

3 And foure great beastes came vp from the sea, the first from another.

And from all troubles, but beginning, and therefore incouraged them to look for a continual affliction in the Messiah be vttered and promised, whome they should haue a spiritual deliuerance, and at the promise fulfilled: wherof they should haue a certain token in the destruction of the Babylonical kingdom. Which signified that there should be horrible troubles, and afflictions in the world in all manner of the world, and at sundry times.

4 The first was as a Lyon, & had eagles winges: I beheld, til the winges thereof were plucked of, and it was lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon his fete as a man, and a mans heart was giuen him.

5 And beheld, another beast which was the second, was like a beare, and stood vpon the one side: and he had three ribbes in his mouth betwene his teeth, and they saide thus vnto him, Arise and deuoure much flesh.

6 After this I behelde, and lo, there was another like a leopard, which had vpon his backe foure winges of a foule: the beast had also foure heads, and dominion was giuen him.

7 After this I saw in the visions by night, & beheld, a fourth beast, which was terrible and very strong: it had great yron teeth shod and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue vnder his fete: and it was like to the beasts that were before it: for it had ten hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beheld, there came vp among the another little horne, before whome there were three of the first hornes plucked away: & beheld, in this horne were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld, all the thrones were set vp, and the Ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the haire of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the fire flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

10 A fire flame issued, and came forth from before him: thousand thousand mi-

- 2 Euen in the first yere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstood by books the number of the yeres, whereof the Lord had spoken vnto Ieremiah y Prophet, that he woulde accomplish seuentie yeres in the desolation of Ierusalem.
- 3 And I turned my face vnto the Lord God, and sought by praier and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.
- 4 And I prayed vnto the Lord my God, and made my cōfession, saying, Oh Lord God, which art great & feareful, and keepest cōenant & mercy toward them which loue thee, and toward them that keepe thy commandements,
- 5 We haue sinned, & haue committed iniquity & haue done wickedly, yea, we haue rebelled, & haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.
- 6 For we woulde not obey thy seruants the prophets, which spake in thy Name to our Kings, to our princes, & to our fathers, & to all the people of the land.
- 7 O Lord, righteousnes belongeth vnto thee, & vnto vs open shame, as appeareth this day vnto euery man of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem: yea, vnto all Israel, both neere & farre of, through all the countreys, whither thou hast driuen the, because of their offences, that they haue committed against thee.
- 8 O Lord, vnto vs appertineth open shame, to our Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we haue sinned against thee.
- 9 Yet compassion and forgiuenes is in the Lord our God, albeit we haue rebelled against him.
- 10 For we haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which he had laide before vs by the ministerie of his seruants the Prophets.
- 11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed thy Law, and are turned backe, & haue not hearde thy voice: therefore the curse is powred vpō vs, and the othe that is written in the law of Moses the seruant of God, because we haue sinned against him.
- 12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against vs, & against our iudges that iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not bene the like, as hath bene brought vpon Ierusalem.
- 13 All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is writtē in the Lawe of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turne from our iniquities and vnderstand thy truth.
- 14 Therefore hath the Lord made ready the plague, and brought it vpō vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we would not heare his voyce.
- 15 And now, O Lorde our God, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, and hast gotten thee renoume, as appeareth this daye, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

- 16 O Lord, according to al thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger & thy wrath be turned away fro thy citie Ierusalem thine holy mountaine: for because of our finnes, & for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem & thy people are a reproche to all that are about vs.
- 17 Nowe therefore, O our God, heare the praier of thy seruant, & his supplications, and cause thy face to shine vpon thy Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the Lords sake.
- 18 O my God, encline thine eare & heare: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, & the citie whereupon thy Name is called: for we doe not present our supplications before thee for our owne righteousness, but for thy great tender mercies.
- 19 O Lord, heare, O Lord forgiue, O Lorde consider, & doe it: deferre not, for thine owne sake, O my God: for thy Name is called vpon thy citie, & vpon thy people.
- 20 And whiles I was speaking & praying, and confessing my sinne, and the sinne of Iuda my people Israel, & did present my supplicatiō before the Lord my God, for the holy Mountaine of my God,
- 21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, euen the man Gabriel, who I had sene before in the vision, came flying, & touched me about the time of the euening oblation.
- 22 And he informed me, & talked with me, and sayde, O Daniel, I am nowe come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.
- 23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandement came forth, & I am come to shewe thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore vnderstand the matter & consider the vision.
- 24 Seuentie weekes are determined vpon thy people & vpon thine holy citie, to finish the wickednes, and to seale vp the sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquity, & to bring in euermlasting righteousness, and to seale vp the vision & prophesie, and to anoint the most Holy.
- 25 Knowe therefore and vnderstande, that from the going forth of the commandement to bring againe the people, & to build Ierusalem, vnto Messiah the prince, shall be seuen weekes, and three score & two weekes, & the streete shall be built againe, and the waecuen in a troublous time.
- 26 And after three score & two weekes, shall Messiah be slaine, & shall haue nothing, and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city & the Sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood: &

There appereth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linen, 11 Which sheweth him wherefore he is sent.

1 In the <sup>2</sup>third yere of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was reueiled vnto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) & the word was true, but the time appointed was <sup>3</sup>long, and he vnderstoode the thing, and had vnderstanding of the vision.

2 At the same time, I Daniel was in heauens for three weekes of daies.

3 I ate no pleasaunt bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neyther did I anoint my self at al, al three weekes of daies were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure & twentieth day of the first moneth, as I<sup>d</sup> was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddekel,

And I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there was a man<sup>e</sup> clothed in lin<sup>e</sup>, whose loines were girded with fine golde of <sup>5</sup>Vphaz.

6 His body also was like the Chrysolite, and his face (to looke vpon) like the lightening, & his eyes as lampes of fire, and his armes and his feete were like in colour to polished brasse, & the voice of his wordes was like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone sawe the visio: for the me that were with me, saw not the vision: but a great feare fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid them selues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and sawe this great visio, & there remained no strength in me: for my strength was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no power.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his wordes: and when I hearde the voyce of his wordes, I slept on my face: & my face was toward the ground.

10 And beholde, an hand<sup>e</sup> touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees and vpon the palmes of mine hands.

11 And he saide vnto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloued, vnderstand the wordes that I speake vnto thee, and stande in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had saide this worde vnto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didest set thine heart to vnderstand, & to humble thy selfe before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy wordes.

13 But the<sup>e</sup> prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twentie daies: but lo, Michael one of y<sup>e</sup> chiefe princes, came to helpe me, and I remained there by the Kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to shew thee what shall come to thy people in the latter daies: for yet the<sup>e</sup> vision is for many daies.

15 And when he spake these wordes vnto me, I set my face toward the ground, and helde my tongue.

16 And beholde, one like the similitude of the sonnes of man touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and sayde vnto him that stood before mee, O my Lord, <sup>17</sup>by the vision my sorowes are returned vpon me, and I haue retained no strength.

17 For how can the seruant of this my Lord talke with my Lord being such one? for as for me, straight way there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came againe, and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me.

19 And said, O man, greatly beloued, feare not: peace be vnto thee: be strong and of good courage. And when he had spoken vnto me, I was strengthened, and saide, Let my Lord speake: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then saide he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? but nowe will I returne to fight with the prince of Persia: & when I am gone forth, lo, the<sup>e</sup> prince of Grecia shal come.

21 But I wil shew thee that which is decreed in the Scripture of truth: <sup>22</sup>and there is none y<sup>e</sup> holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

<sup>23</sup>Which declareth that when God finiteth downe his children, he doeth not immediately lift them vp at once (for now the Angel had touched him twice) but by litle and litle. <sup>p</sup> Meaning that he would not onely him selfe bridle the rage of Cambyse, but also the other kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia. <sup>q</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

CHAP. XI.

A prophesie of the kingdomes, which shoulde be enemies to the Church of God, as of Persia, 3 Of Greece, 5 Of Egypt, 21 Of Syria, 28 And of the Romanes.

1 Also I, in the first yere of Darius of the Medes, euen I<sup>d</sup> stood to incourage & to strengthen him.

2 And nowe will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shal stand vp yet<sup>e</sup> three Kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength, & by his riches he shal stirre vp<sup>e</sup> all against the realme of Grecia.

3 But a<sup>d</sup> mightie King shall stand vp, that reigned, was the first, the seconde Smerdes, the thirde, Darius the sonne of Hytaspis, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God and stood against them. <sup>c</sup> For hee raysed vp all the East countreis to fight against the Grecians: and albeit he had in his annie nine hundred thousand men, yet in foure battels he was difcomfited and fled away with shame. <sup>d</sup> That is, Alexander the Great.

<sup>h</sup> Meaning, Cambyse who reigned in his fathers absence, and did not onely for this space hinder the building of the Temple, but would haue farther raged, if God had not sent me to resist him, and therefore haue I stayed for the profite of the Church. <sup>i</sup> Though God could by one Angel destroy all the world, yet to assure his children of his loue, hee sendeth forth double power euen Michael, that is, Christ Iesus the head of Angels. <sup>k</sup> For though the Prophet Daniel should ende and cease, yet his doctrine shoulde continue till the coming of Christ for the comfort of his Church.

<sup>l</sup> This was the same Angel that spake with him before in the similitude of a man. <sup>m</sup> I was overcome with feare and sorowe, when I haue the vision. <sup>n</sup> Hee declareth hereby that God would be mercifull vnto the people of Israel.

<sup>o</sup> Which declareth that when God finiteth downe his children, he doeth not immediately lift them vp at once (for now the Angel had touched him twice) but by litle and litle. <sup>p</sup> Meaning that he would not onely him selfe bridle the rage of Cambyse, but also the other kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia. <sup>q</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

<sup>r</sup> Meaning that he would not onely him selfe bridle the rage of Cambyse, but also the other kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia. <sup>s</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

<sup>t</sup> Meaning that he would not onely him selfe bridle the rage of Cambyse, but also the other kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia. <sup>u</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

<sup>v</sup> Meaning that he would not onely him selfe bridle the rage of Cambyse, but also the other kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia. <sup>w</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

<sup>x</sup> Meaning that he would not onely him selfe bridle the rage of Cambyse, but also the other kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia. <sup>y</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

<sup>z</sup> Meaning that he would not onely him selfe bridle the rage of Cambyse, but also the other kings of Persia by Alexander the King of Macedonia. <sup>aa</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

<sup>cc</sup> For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church vnder Christ, who is the head thereof.

Lilij. shall

e For when his estate was most flourishing, hee ouercame him selfe with drink, and so fell into a discafe: or as some write, was poysoned by Cassander.
f For his twelue chiefe princes first deuided his kingdome among them selues.
g After this his Monarchie was deuided into foure: for Seleucus had Syria, Antigonus Asia minor, Cassander the kingdome of Macedonia, and Ptolemus Egypte.
h Thus God reuenged Alexanders ambition and crueltie in causing his posteritie to be murdered, partly of the fathers chiefe friends, and partly one of another.
i None of these foure shalbe able to be compared to the power of Alexander.
k That is, his posteritie hauing no part thereof.
m That is, Antiochus the sonne of Seleucus, and one of Alexanders princes shalbe more mightie: for he should hate both Asia and Syria.
n That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolemus Philadelphus shalbe giuen in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinitie that Syria and Egypt should haue a continuall peace together.
o That force and strength shall not continue: for soone after Berenice and her yong sonne after her husbands death, was slaine of her stepsonne Seleucus Calinicus the sonne of Laodice, the lawfull wyfe of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake.
p Neyther Ptolemus, nor Antiochus.
q Some reade, feede, meaning the childe begotten of Berenice.
r Some reade, she that begate her, and thereby vnderstand her nurse, which brought her vp: so that all they that were occasion of this marriage, were destroyed.
s Meaning, that Ptolemus Euergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus shoulde succede in the kingdome being of the same stocke that Berenice was.
t To reuenge his sisters death against Antiochus Calinicus King of Syria.
u For this Ptolemus reigned fixe and fourtie yeres.
x Meaning, Seleucus and Antiochus the Great, the sonnes of Calinicus shall make warre against Ptolemus Philopater the sonne of Philadelphus.
y For his elder brother Seleucus died, or was slaine while the warres were preparing.
z That is, Philopater when he shall see Antiochus to take great dominions from him in Syria, and also ready to invade Egypte.
a For Antiochus had fixe thousand horsemen and three score thousand footemen.
b After the death of Ptolemus Philopater, who left Ptolemus Epiphanes his heire.

shall rule with great dominion, & do according to his pleasure.
4 And when he shall stande vp, his kingdome shalbe broken, and shalbe deuided toward the foure windes of heauen: and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion, which he ruled: for his kingdome shalbe plukt vp, euē to be for others besides his thofe.
5 And the King of the South shalbe mightie, and one of his princes, and shal preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion shalbe a great dominion.
6 And in the ende of yeres they shalbe ioyned together: for the Kings daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but she shal not reiteine the power of the arme, neyther shal he continue, nor his arme: but she shal be deliuered to death, & they that brought her, and he that begate her, and he that comforted her in these times.
7 But out of the budde of her rootes shall one stand vp in his stead, which shal come with an armie, & shal enter into the fortresse of the King of the North, & do with them as he list, and shal preuaile,
8 And shall also carie captiues into Egypte their gods with their molten images, and with their precious vessells of siluer and of gold, & he shal continue mo yeres then the king of the North.
9 So the King of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne land.
10 Wherefore his sonnes shall be stirred vp, and shal assemble a mightie great armie: and one shal come, and ouerflowe, & passe through: then shal he returne, and be stirred vp at his fortresse.
11 And the King of the South shall be angry, and shall come forth, and fight with him, euē with the King of the North: for he shal set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shalbe giuen into his hand.
12 Then the multitude shalbe proude, and their heart shalbe lifted vp: for he shal cast downe thousands: but he shal not stil preuaile.
13 For the King of the North shall returne, and shal set forth a greater multitude then afore, & shal come forth (after certeyne yeres) with a mightie armie, and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shal manie stande vp against the King of the South: also the rebellious children of thy people shal exalt them selues to establishe the vision, but they shal fall.
15 So the King of the North shal come, and cast vp a mount, and take the strong citie: and the armes of the South shal not resiste, neyther his chofen people, neither shal there be any strength to withstand.
16 But he that shal come, shal doe vnto him as he liste, and none shal stande against him: and he shal stande in the pleasant land, which by his hand shalbe consumed.
17 Again he shal set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdome, and his confederates with him: thus shal he do, & he shal giue him the daughter of women, to destroy her: but the shal not stande on his side, neyther be for him.
18 After this shal he turne his face vnto the yles, & shal take many, but a prince shal cause his shame to light vpon him, beside that he shal cause his own shame to turne vpon himselfe.
19 For he shal turne his face toward the fortres of his owne lande: but he shall be ouerthrowen and fall, and bee no more founded.
20 Then shal stande vp in his place in the glorie of the kingdome, one that shal raise taxes: but after fewe dayes he shal be destroyed, neither in wrath, nor in battell.
21 And in his place shal stand vp a vile person, to whome they shal not giue the honour of the kingdome: but he shal come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdome by flatteries.
22 And the armes shall be ouerthrowen with a flood before him, & shalbe broken; and also the prince of the covenant.
23 And after the league made with him, he shal worke deceitfully: for he shal come vp, and ouercome with a smal people.
k She shal not agree to his wicked counsell, but shall loue her husband, as her dutie requireth, and not seeke his destruction.
l That is, toward Asia, Grecia and thofe yles which are in the Sea called Mediterranean: for the Iewes called all countreys yles which were deuided from them by Sea.
m For whereas Antiochus was wont to contemne the Romanes, and put their ambassadours to shame in all places, Attilius the Consul, or Lucius Scipio put him to flight and caused his shame to turne on his owne head.
n By his wicked lye and obeying of foolish counsell.
o For feare of the Romanes he shal flee to his holdes.
p For when as under the pretence of pouterie he would haue robbed the Temple of Iupiter Dodoneus, the countrey men slew him.
q That is, Seleucus shal succede his father Antiochus.
r Not by foreine enemies, or battell, but by treason.
s Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as thought, was the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death and was of a cruell and flattering nature, and defrauded his brothers sonne of the kingdome, and vsurped the kingdome without the consent of the people.
t He heweth that great foreyne powers shall come to helpe the yong sonne of Seleucus against his vnkle Antiochus, & yet shalbe ouerthrowen.
u Meaning Ptolemus Philometor and his vnkle Antiochus made a league.
y For he came vpon him at vnwares, and when he suspected his vnkle Antiochus nothing.

24 He shal enter into the quiet and plentiful prouince, & he shall do that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shal deuide among the pray and the spoile, and the substance, yea, and he shall forecast his deuises against the strong holdes, euen for a time.

25 Also he shal stirre vp his power and his courage against the King of the South with a great armie, and the King of the South shall be stirred vp to battell with a very great & mightie armie: but he shall not stand: for they shal forecast and practise against him.

26 Yea, they that feede of the porciō of his meate, shal destroy him: & his armie shall ouerflowe: and manie shal fall, and bee slaine.

27 And both these Kings hearts shalbe to do mischief, and they shal talke of deceite at one table: but it shal not auaille: for yet the end shalbe at the time appointed.

28 Then shal he returne into his land with great substance: for his heart shalbe against the holy couenant: so shal he do & returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed he shal returne, and come towarde the South: but the last shal not be as the first.

30 For the shippes of Chittim shal come against him: therefore he shal be forie & returne, and freat against the holy couenant: so shal he doe, he shal euen returne & haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes shal stand on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuary of strength, and shal take away the dayly sacrifice, and they shal set vp the abominable defolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the couenant, shall he cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that do knowe their God, shal preuaile and prosper.

33 And they that vnderstand among the people, shal instruct many: yet they shall fall by sworde, and by flame, by captiuitie and by spoyle many dayes.

34 Now when they shal fall, they shalbe holpen with a litle helpe: but manie shall cleaue vnto them & faignedly.

35 And some of the of vnderstanding shal to trie them, and to purge, & to make them white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And the King shal do what him list: he shal exalt himselfe, and magnifie himselfe against al, that is God, & shal speake maruelous things against the God of gods, & shal prosper, till the wrath be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shal he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of womē, nor care for any God: for he shal magnifie himselfe aboute all.

38 But in his place shal he honour the god Mauzzim, and the god whom his fathers knew not, shal he honour with golde & with siluer, and with precious stones, and pleafant things.

39 Thus shal he do in the holdes of Mauzzim with a strange god whom he shal acknowledge: he shal increase his glory, and shal cause them to rule ouer many, & shal diuide the land for gaine.

40 And at the ende of time shal the King of the South pusihe at him, and the King of the North shal come against him lyke a whirlewinde with charrets, & with horsemen, and with many shippes, and he shal enter into the countreis, & shal ouerflow and passe through.

41 He shal enter also into the pleasant lād, & many countreis shalbe ouerthrowen: but these shal escape out of his hand, euen Edom & Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shal stretch forth his hands also vpon the countreis, and the land of Egypt shal not escape.

43 But he shal haue power ouer the treasures of gold and of siluer, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, & of the Lybiās, & of the black Mores where he shal passe.

44 But the tidings out of the East and the North shal trouble him: therefore he shal go forth with great wrath to destroye & roote out many.

45 And he shal plant the tabernacles of his palace betwene the seas in the glorious & holy mountaine, yet he shal come to his end, and none shal helpe him.

To wit, of them that feare God and wil lose their life for the defence of true religion, signifying also the Church must continually be tried and purged and ought to looke for one per secution after another: for God hath appointed time: therefore we must obeye.

Because the Angels purpose is to shewe the whole course of the persecutions of the Iewes vnto the coming of Christ, he nowe speaketh of the monarchie of the Romanes which he noteth by the name of a King, who were without all religion and contemned the true God.

So long the tyrants shal preuaile as God hath appointed to punish his people: but he sheweth that it is but for a time.

The Romanes shall obserue no certaine forme of religion as other nations, but shal change their gods at their pleasures, yea, contemne them and prefer them selues to their gods.

Signifying, that they should be without all humanitie: for the loue of women is taken for singular or great loue, as 2. Sam. 1. 26.

That is, the god of power and riches: they shall esteeme their owne power aboute all their gods and worship it. Under pretence of worshipping the gods, they shal enriche their cite with the most precious iewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should haue them in admiration for their power and riches.

Although in their heartes they had no religion, yet they dyd acknowledge the gods and worshipped them in their temples, least they should haue bene despised as Atheistes: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they gate any countrey, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profite euer came to the Romanes.

That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romanes, but they shalbe overcome. The Angel forewarneth the Iewes that when they should see the Romanes invade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, that then they should not thinke but that all this was done by Gods providence, for as much as hee warned them of it so long afore, and therefore hee would fill preface him.

Hearing that Crassus was slaine and Antonius discomfited. For Augustus ouercame the Parthians, and recovered that which Antonius had lost.

The Romanes after this reigned quietly through all countreies and from sea to sea, and in Iudea: but at length for their crueltie God shal destroy them.

CHAP. XII.

Of the deliuerance of the Church by Christ.

a The Angel here noteth two things: first that the Church shall be in great affliction and trouble at Christes coming, and next that God will sende his Angel to deliuer it, who here hee calleth Michael, meaning Christe, which is published by the preaching of the Gospel.

b Meaning, all shall rise at the generall resurrection, which thing he here nameth, because the faith full should haue euer their respect to that: for in the earth there shall be no sure comfort.

c Who haue kept the true feare of God and his religion.

d He chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods worde, and next, all the faithfull which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God. e Though the most part despise this prophesie, yet keepe thou it sure and esteeme it as a treasure. f Till the time that God hath appointed for the full reuelation of these things: and then many shall runne to and fro to seache the knowledge of these mysteries, which things they obtaine now by the light of the Gospel. g Which was Tygris.

And at that time shall Michael stande vp, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation vnto that same time: & at that time thy people shall be deliuered, euery one that shall be found written in the booke.

And manie of them that sleepe in the dust of y<sup>e</sup> earth, shall awake, some to euertlasting life, & some to shame and perpetual contempt.

And they that be wise, shall shine, as the brightness of the firmament: & they that turne many to righteouines, shall shine as the starres, for euer and euer.

But thou, O Daniel, shut vp the wordes, & seale the booke: til the end of the time: many shall runne to and fro, & knowledge shall be increased.

Then I Daniel looked, & beholde, there stood other two, y<sup>e</sup> one on this side of the brinke of the riuer, & the other on that side of the brinke of the riuer.

And one said vnto the man clothed in linen, which was vpō the waters of y<sup>e</sup> riuer, When shall be the end of these wonders?

And I heard the man clothed in linen which was vpon the waters of the riuer, when he held vp his right hand, and his left hand vnto heauē, & iware by him that liueth for euer, that it shall varie for a time, two times and an halfe: and when he shall haue accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

Then I heard it, but I vnderstood it not: then saide I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed vp, & sealed, til the end of the time.

Manye shall be purified, made white, and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly, and none of the wicked shall haue vnderstanding: but the wise shall vnderstand.

And from the time that the dayly sacrifice shall be taken away, & the abominable desolatio set vp, there shall be a thousand, two hundredth and ninetie dayes.

Blessed is he that waiteth and commeth to the thousand, three hundredth and thirtie dayes.

But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest and stande vp in thy lot, at the end of the dayes.

ged, though it be deferred. n In this number he addeth a month and an halfe to the former number, signifying that it is not in mans power to know the tyme of Christes coming, but that they are blessed that patiently abyde his appearing. o The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abyde, tyll the tyme appointed come, signifying that he should depart this life, and rise againe with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

HOSEA.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and subtile counsel of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in steade of his true seruice commanded by his worde worshipped him according to their owne fantasies and traditions of men, giuing themselves to most vile idolatrie and superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophetes to call them to repentance: but they grew euer worse and worse, and still abused Gods benefites. Therefore now when their prosperitie was at the highest vnder Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash, God sent Hosea and Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time Isaiah & Micah to them of Iudah) to condemne them of their ingratitude: and where as they thought themselves to be greatly in the fauour of God, & to be his people, the Prophet calleth them bastards and children borne in adulterie and therefore sheweth them that God would take away their kingdome, and giue them to the Assyrians to be led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seuenie yeres, though they remained stil in their vices and wickednes, & derided the Prophetes, and contemned Gods iudgements. And because they shoulde neither be discouraged with threatnings onely, nor yet flatter them selues by the sweetnes of Gods promises, he setteth before them the two principal parts of the Law, which are the promises of saluation, & the doctrine of life: for the first part he directeth the faithfull to Messiah, by whom onely they shoulde haue true deliuerance: and for the second, he vseth threatnings and menaces to bring them from their wicked manners and vices, and this is the chiefe scope of all the Prophetes, either by Gods promises to allure them to be godly, els by threatnings of his iudgements to feare them from vice: and albeis that the whole Law conserne these two points, yet the Prophetes moreouer note peculiarly both the tyme of Gods iudgements and the manner.

CHAP. I.

CHAP. II.

1 The time wherein Hosea prophesied. 2 The idolatrie of the people. 3 The calling of the Gentiles. 4 Christ is the head of all people.

1 The people is called to repentance. 2 He sheweth their idolatrie and threatneth them except they repent.

a Called also A-parah, who being a leper was despoiled from his kingdom.

b So that it may be gathered by these four Kings, that he preached about three score years.

c That is, one of long time hath accustomed to ply the harlot: not that the Prophete did this thing in effect, but he saw this in a vision, or els was commanded by God to set forth under this parable figure the idolatrie of the Synagogue, and of the people her children.

d Gomer signifieth a corruption, or corruption, or Dablim cluſures of figges, declaring y they were all corrupte the root signifieth meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites, of the which name they boasted, because Israel did preuaile with God: but that they were as bullocks, & therefore should be called Israelites, that is, scattered people, allying to Israel, which was the chiefe one of the ten tribes under A-hab where Iehu shed so much blood, 2 Kings. 10. 8.

e I will be remembered upon Iehu for that he shed in Ieruel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet hee did them for his owne ambition and not for the glorie of God, as the end declared: for he bade vp that idolatrie, which he had destroyed. g When the measure of their iniquitie is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their power and force. h That is, not obteyning mercie whereby he signifieth, that Gods fauour was departed from them. i For the Israelites neuer returned, after that they were taken captiues by the Assyrians. k For after their captiuitie he restored them miraculously by the means of Cyrus, Bar. 1. 1. l That is, not my people. m Because they thought that God could not haue bene true in his promises except he had preserved them, he declared, y though they were destroyed, yet the true Israelites, which are the sonnes of the promises, should bee without number, which stande both of the Iewes, and the Gentiles, Rom. 9. 26. n To wit, after the captiuitie of Babylon when the Iewes were restored: but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Iewes and Gentiles. o The calamitie and destruction of Izreel shall be so great, that to restore them shall be as a miracle.

THE word of the Lord that came vnto Hosea y sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, & Hezekiah Kings of Iudah, and in the dayes of Ieroboam the sone of Ioath king of Israel.

2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord saide vnto Hosea, Go, take vnto thee a wife of fornications, & children of fornications: for the land hath committed great whoredome, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went, & tooke Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim, which concueyed and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, Cal his name Izreel: for yet a lide, and I wil visite the blood of Izreel vpon the house of Iehu, & will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

5 And at that day wil I also breake the bow of Israel in the valley of Izreel.

6 She conceived yet again, & bare a daughter, and God said vnto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel: but I wil verily take them away.

7 Yet I will haue mercie vpon the house of Iudah, and will saue them by the Lord their God, and wil not saue them by bow, nor by sword nor by battell, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when he had wained Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a sonne.

9 Then said God, Cal his name Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people: therefore will I not be yours.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which can not be measured nor told: & in the place where it was sayde vnto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said vnto them, Ye are the sonnes of the liuing God.

11 Then shall the children of Iudah, and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint them selues one head, & they shall come vp out of the land: for great is the day of Izreel.

God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet hee did them for his owne ambition and not for the glorie of God, as the end declared: for he bade vp that idolatrie, which he had destroyed. g When the measure of their iniquitie is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their power and force. h That is, not obteyning mercie whereby he signifieth, that Gods fauour was departed from them. i For the Israelites neuer returned, after that they were taken captiues by the Assyrians. k For after their captiuitie he restored them miraculously by the means of Cyrus, Bar. 1. 1. l That is, not my people. m Because they thought that God could not haue bene true in his promises except he had preserved them, he declared, y though they were destroyed, yet the true Israelites, which are the sonnes of the promises, should bee without number, which stande both of the Iewes, and the Gentiles, Rom. 9. 26. n To wit, after the captiuitie of Babylon when the Iewes were restored: but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Iewes and Gentiles. o The calamitie and destruction of Izreel shall be so great, that to restore them shall be as a miracle.

1 Say vnto your brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah,

2 Plead with your mother: plead with her: for shee is not my wife, neither am I her husband: but let her take away her fornications out of her sight, & her adulteries from betwene her breasts.

3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was borne, and make her as a wilderness, and leaue her like a drye land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I will haue no pitie vpon her children: for they bee the children of fornications.

5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that concueyed the, hath done shamefully: for the sayde, I will go after my louers that giue me my bread & my water, my wooll and my flaxe, mine oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore beholde, I wil stoppe thy way with thornes, and make an hedge, that she shall not find her paths.

7 Though she follow after her louers, yet shall she not come at them: though she seeke them, yet shall she not find them: then shall she say, I wil goe and returne to my first husband: for at that time was I better then now.

8 Now she did not knowe that I gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and golde, which they bestowed vpon Baal.

9 Therefore wil I returne, and take away my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and wil recouer my wooll and my flaxe lent, to couer her shame.

10 And now wil I discouer her lewdnes in the sight of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of mine hand.

11 I wil also cause al her mirth to cease, her feast dayes, her new moones, & her Sabbaths, and al her solemne feasts.

12 And I wil destroy her vines and her fig-trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my louers haue giuen me: & I wil make them as a forest, and the wilde beasts shall eate them.

13 And I wil visite vpon her the dayes of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to the: & she decked her selfe with her earrings, and her iewels, & she folowed her louers, and forgate me, sayth the Lord.

14 Therefore beholde, I wil allure her, and a Seeing that I haue promised you deliuerance, it remayneth that you encourage one another to embrace the same, considering that ye are my people on whom I wil haue mercie. b God sheweth that the fauour was not in him but in their Synagogue, and their idolatries, that he forsooke them, Isa. 50. 1. c Meaning, that their idolatrie was so great, that they were not ashamed, but boasted of it, Ezek. 16. 25.

d For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he had left them with their apparel and dowrie and certaine signes of his fauour, but if they continued still, he would utterly destroy them.

e When I brought her out of Egypt, Ez. 16. 4. f That is, bastards and begotten in adulterie. g Meaning, the idols which they serued and by whom they thought they had wealth and abundance.

h I will punish the thee that then thou mayest try whether thine idoles can helpe thee, and bring thee into such streightnes, that thou shalt haue no lust to playe the wanton.

i This he signifieth, that God will take away his benefites when man by his ingratitude doeth abuse them. k That is, all her seruice, ceremonies and inuentions whereby she worshipped her idoles. n I will punish her for her idolatrie. o By shewing howe harlots trimme them selues to please others, he declareth howe the superstitious idolaters set a great parte of their religion in decking them selues on their holy dayes. p By my benefites in offering her grace and mercie, euen in that place where she shall thinke her selfe destitute of all helpe and comfort.

q For though shee be as a harlot, yet shee shall be restored to her first husband, which is Christ, who shall restore her to her true husband, which is God.

r That is, the dayes of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to the: & she decked her selfe with her earrings, and her iewels, & she folowed her louers, and forgate me, sayth the Lord.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel convert, and seek the Lord their God, & Dauid their King, and shall feare the Lorde, and his goodnes in the latter dayes.

CHAP. IIIII.

A complaint against the people, and the Priests of Israel.

1 Heare the worde of the Lorde, ye children of Israel: for the Lorde hath a controuersie with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and whoring they breake out, & blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourne, & euen one that dwelleth therein, shall be cut off, with the beasts of the helde, and with the foules of the heauen, and also the fishes of the sea shall be taken away.

4 Yet let none rebuke, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that rebuke the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day, and the prophete shall fall with thee in y night, and I will destroy thy mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee, that thou shalt be no Priest to me: and seeing thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will chide thee, and forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I chaunge their glorie into shame.

8 They eat vp the finnes of my people, & lift vp their mindes in their iniquitie.

9 And there shall be like people, like Priests: for I will visite their wayes vpon them, and reward them their deedes.

10 For they shall eat, and not haue ynough: they shall commit adulterie, and shall not increase, because they haue left off to take heede to the Lord.

11 Whoredome, and wine, and new wine take away their heart.

12 My people aske counsel at their stocks, and their staffe teacheth the: for the spirit of fornication hath caused the to erre, and they haue gone a whoring from vnder their God.

13 They sacrifice vpon the toppes of the mountaines, and burne incense vpon the hilles vnder the oaks, and the poplar tree, and the elme, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall be harlots, and your spouses shall be whores.

i To wit, the Priests seeke to eate the peoples offerings and flatter them in their finnes. k Signifying, that as they haue sinned together, so shall they be punished together. l Showing, that their wickednes shall be punished on all sortes: for though they thinke by the multitude of wives to haue many children, yet they shall be deuyed of their hope. m In giuing them felues to pleasures, they become like brute beasts. n Thus he speaketh by denision in calling them his people, which nowe for their finnes they were not: for they sought helpe of stocks and stickes. o They are caried away with a rage. p Because they take away Gods honour, and giue it to idoles, therefore he will giue them vp to their lutes, that they shall dishonour their owne bodies, Rom. 1. 28.

It is a most sore fall and when y Lord punisheth not punishing. c. 4. 16. 17.

1 I will not visit your daughters when they are harlots: nor your spouses when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doeth not vnderstand, shall fall.

15 Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Iudah sinne: come not yee vnto Gilgal, neyther goye vp to Beth-auen, nor sweare, The Lord lieth.

16 For Israel is rebellious as an vnruely heifer. Now the Lorde will feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is ioyned to idoles: let him alone.

18 Their drunkennes stinketh: they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue to say with shame, Bring ye.

19 The winde hath bound them vp in her wings, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices.

20 Here calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-auen, that is, the house of iniquitie, because of their abominations set vp there, signifying that no place is holy where God is not purely worshipped. 21 God wil so disperse them that they shall not remayne in any certaine place. x They are so impudent in reuoyng bribes, that they will command men to bring them vnto them. y Iocary them sodainly away.

10 The princes of Iudah were like them that remove the bounde: therefore wil I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed, & broke in iudgement, because he willingly walked after the commandement.

12 Therefore wil I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Iudah as a rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickenes, and Iudah his wounde, then went Ephraim vnto Asshur, and sent vnto King Iareb: yet coulde he not heale you, nor cure you of your wounde.

14 For I wil be vnto Ephraim as a lyon, and as a lyons whelp to the house of Iudah: I, euen I wil spoyle, and go away: I wil take away, and none shall reſcure it.

15 I wil go, & returne to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, and seeke mee: in their affliction they will seeke mee diligently.

k They haue turned vpside downe al political order, and all manner of religion.

CHAP. VI.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 2 The wickednes of the Priests.

1 Come, & let vs returne to the Lord: for he hath spoiled, and he wil heale vs: he hath wounded vs, and he wil binde vs vp.

2 After two dayes wil he reuiue vs, and in the third day he wil raise vs vp, & we shall liue in his sight.

3 Then shall we haue knowledge, and indouour our selues to know the Lord: his going forth is prepared as the morning, and he shall come vnto vs as the rain, & as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what shall I do vnto thee? O Iudah, howe shall I intreat thee? for your goodnes is as a morning cloud, and as the morning dewe it goeth away.

5 Therefore haue I cut downe by the Prophets: I haue slaine them by the wordes of my mouth, and thy iudgements were as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice, & the knowledge of God more then burnt offrings.

7 But they like men haue transgressed the couenant: there haue they trespassed against me.

8 Gilead is a cite of them that worke iniquitie, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as the eues waite for a man, so the companie of Priestes murther in the way by consent: for they worke mischief.

10 I haue seene vileny in the house of Israel: there is the whoredome of Ephraim: Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, Iudah hath set a plant for thee, whiles I would returne the captiuitie of my people.

h Which was the place where the Priestes dwelt, & which should haue bene best instructed in my worde. i That is, doeth imitate thine idolatrie, and hath taken grasses of thy trees.

CHAP. VII.

1 Of the vices and wantonnes of the people. 2 Of their punishment.

a He sheweth the people howe they ought to turne to the Lord, that hee might call backe his plagues.

b Though he correct vs from time to time, yet his helpe will not be far off, if we returne to him.

c You seeme to haue a certain holines and repentance, but it is vpon the sodaine, & as a morning cloude.

d I haue still laboured by my Prophets, and as it were, framed you to bring you to amendment, but all was in vaine: for my worde was not meate to feede the, but a sword, to slay them.

e My doctrine which I taught thee, was most euident.

wicked priests.

1 The Priests & priuies caught the poore people in their snares as the fowlers did: y birds in these two high mountaynes.

2 Now without doubting they seemed to be giuen altogether to holynesse, and to sacrifices, which here he calleth slaughter in contempt.

3 Though I had admonished the continually by my Prophets.

4 They boasted them selues not meely to be Israellites, but also Ephraimites, because their King Ieroboam came of that tribe.

5 Meaning, their concerning of aladmonitions.

6 Thus is, their children are degenerate, so that there is no hope in them.

7 Their destruction is not far off, signifying that the Lords plagues should pursue them from place to place till they were destroyed.

8 By the successe they shall knowe that I haue surely determined this.

CHAP. V.
1 Against the Priests and rulers of Israel. 2 The helpe of man is in vaine.

1 O Ye Priests, heare this, and hearken ye, O house of Israel, and giue yee eare, O house of the King: for iudgement is towards you, because you haue bene a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread vpon Tabor.

2 Yet they were profounde, to decline to slaughter, though I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

3 I knowe Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They wil not giue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the middes of them, & they haue not knowne the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doth testifie to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquitie: Iudah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their sheepe, and with their bullocks to seeke the Lord: but they shall not find him: for he hath withdrawne himselfe from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lord: for they haue begotten strange children: now shall a moneth deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the trumpet in Gibeah, and the shauime in Ramah: crie out at Beth-auen, after thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel haue I caused to know the truth.

h That is, al Israel comprehended vnder this parte, signifying that the Lords plagues should pursue them from place to place till they were destroyed.

1 When

a Meaning, that there was no one kinde of vice among them, but that they were subiect to all wickednes, both secret and open.

b They esteeme their wicked king Jeroboam about God, and seeke but howe to flatter, and please him.

c He compareth the rage of the people to a burning ouen which the baker heareth still till his dough be leauened, and raysted.

d They vsed all ryot and excess in their feasts and solemnities, whereby their King was overcome with surfeit, & brought into disenes, and delisted in flatulencies.

e By their occasion God hath deprived them of all good rulers.

f That is, he counterfaith the religion of y<sup>e</sup> Gentiles, yet is but as a cake baked on the one side, and raw on the other, that is, neyther through hot nor through colde, but partly a Iew, and partly a Gentile.

g Which are a token of his manifold afflictions.

h That is, without al iudgement, as they that can not tell whether it is better to cleaue onely to God, or to seeke the helpe of man.

i According to my curses made to the whole congregation of Israel.

k That is, diuers tymes redeemed them, and deliuered them from death.

l When they were in affliction and cryed out for paine, they sought not vnto me for helpe.

m They onely seeke their owne commoditie and wealth, and passe not for me their God.

n Because they boast of their owne strength, & passe not what they speake against me and my seruants, Psal. 73.9.

When I woulde haue healed Israel, then the iniquitie of Ephraim was discouered, & the wickednes of Samaria: for they haue delt falsly: and the theefe commeth in, and the robber spoyleth without.

And they cōsider not in their hearts, that I remember al their wickednes: now their owne inuentions haue be set them about: they are in my sight.

They make the King glad with their wickednes, and the princes with their lies.

They are al adulterers, & as a very ouen heated by the baker, which ceaseth from rayfing vp, & from kneading the dough vntil it be leauened.

This is the day of our King: the princes haue made him sick with flagons of wine: he stretcheth out his hand to scornors.

For they haue made ready their heart like an ouen whiles they lie in waite: their baker sleepeeth al the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

They are al hore as an ouen, and haue deuoured their iudges: al their Kings are false: there is none among them that calteth vnto me.

Ephraim hath mixt himselfe among the people. Ephraim is as a cake on y<sup>e</sup> hearth not turned.

Strangers haue deuoured his strength, & he knoweth it not: yea, gray heares are here and there vpon him, yet he knoweth not.

And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they do not retume to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for all this.

Ephraim also is like a doue deceyued, without<sup>r</sup> heare: they cal to Egypt: they go to Asshur.

But when they shal go, I wil spred my net vpon them, & drawe them downe as the fowles of the heauen: I wil chastise them as their congregation hath heard.

Wo vnto them: for they haue fled away from me: destruction shalbe vnto the, because they haue transgressed agaynst me: though I haue redeemed them, yet they haue spoken lies against me.

And they haue not cried vnto mee with their hearts, when they howled vpō their beds: they assemble thefelses for corne, and wine, and they rebell against me.

Though I haue bound, and strengthened their arme, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

They retume, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shal fal by the sword, for the rage of their tongues: this shalbe their derision in the land of Egypt.

See the trumpet to thy mouth: as he shal come as an eagle against y<sup>e</sup> House of the Lord, because they haue transgressed my couenant, and trespassed against my Law.

Israel shal<sup>r</sup> crie vnto mee, My God, wee knowe thee.

Israel hath cast of the thing that is good: the enemy shal pursue him.

They haue set vp a King, but not by me: they haue made princes, and I knew it not: of their siluer and their gold haue they made them idoles: therefore shall they be destroyed.

Thy calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee of: mine anger is kindled against them: howe long wil they be without innocencie!

For it came euen from Israel: the workman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calfe of Samaria shall bee broken in pieces.

For they haue sowne the wind, and they shal reape the whirlwind: it hath no stalk: the budde shal bring forth no meale: it shall so be it bring forth, the strangers shal deuoure it.

Israel is deuoured, now shall they bee among the Gentiles as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

For they are gone vp to Asshur, they are as a wilde asse alone by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

Yet though they haue hired among the nations, now wil I gather them, and they shal sorow a litle, for the burden of the King, and the princes.

Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sinne, his altars shalbe to sinne.

I haue written to them the great things of my Law: but they were counted as a strange thing.

They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it: but the Lord accepteth them not: now wil he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes: they shal retume to Egypt.

For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth Temples, & Iudah hath increased strong cities: but I wil send a fire vpon his cities, and it shal deuoure the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

to him: but they shall be vnto them as the bread of mourners: all that eate thereof, shall be polluted: for their bread for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lord.

What wilt ye do then in the soleme day, and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

For lo, they are gone from destruction: by Egypt shall gather them vp, and Memphis shall burie them: the nettle shall possesse the pleasant places of their situer, and the thorne shall be in their tabernacles.

The dayes of visitation are come: the daies of recompence are come: Israel shall know it: the Prophet is a foole: the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquitie: therefore the hatred is great.

The watchman of Ephraim should be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fouler in al his wayes, & hatred in the House of his God.

They are deeply fet: they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquitie, he wil visite their finies.

I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the figge tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-Peor, and separated themselves vnto that shame, & their abominations were according to their louers.

Ephraim their glorie shall flee away like a birde: from the byrth and from the wombe, and from the conception.

Though they bring vp their children, yet I will deuiue them from being men: yea, wo to them, when I depart from them.

Ephraim, as I sawe, is as a tree in Tyrus planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

O Lord, giue them: what wilt thou giue them? giue them a baren wombe & drie breasts.

All their wickednes is in Gilgal: for there do I hate them: for the wickednes of their inuentions, I wil cast them out of mine Houfe: I wil loue them no more: al their princes are rebels.

Ephraim is smitten, their roote is dried vp: they can bring no fruite: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I laye euen the dearest of their bodie.

My God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations.

p The Prophet seeing the great plagues of God toward Ephraim, praith to God to make them baren, rather then that this great slaughter should come vpo their children. q The chiefe cause of their destruction is that they commit idolatry, and corrupt my religion in Gilgal.

CHAP. X.

Against Israel and his idoles. 14 His destruction for his sinne.

Israel is a emprie vine, yet hath it brought forth fruite vnto it selfe, and according as it gathered newe strength, it increased newe wickednesse, so that the correction which should haue brought them to obedience, did but ruer their Rulbernes.

cording to the multitude of the fruit thereof hee hath increased the altars: according to the goodnes of their lande they haue made faire images.

Their heart is decided: now shall they be founde faultie: hee shall breake downe their altars: he shall destroy their images.

For nowe they shall say, Wee haue no King because we feared not the Lord: & what should a King do to vs?

They haue spoken words, swearing falsly in making a couenant: thus iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrows of the field.

The inhabitantes of Samaria shall feare because of the calfe of Beth-aen: for the people thereof shall mourne ouer it, & the Chemarims thereof, that reioyced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

It shall be also brought to Ashur, for a present vnto King Iareb: Ephraim shall receiue shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his owne counsel.

Of Samaria, the King therof is destroyed as the fume vpon the water.

The hic places also of Auen shall be destroyed, euen the sinne of Israel: the thorne and the thistle shall grow vpo their altars, and they shall say to the mountains, Couer vs, and to the hilles, Pal vpon vs.

O Israel, thou hast sinned from the daies of Gibeah: there they stood: the battel in Gibeah against the children of iniquitie did not touch them.

It is my desire that I shoulde chastice them, and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall gather themselves in their two furrows.

And Ephraim is as an heiffer vfed to deile in threshing: but I will passe by her faire necke: I wil make Ephraim to ride: Iudah shall plowe, and Iaakob shall breake his cloddies.

Sow to your selues in righteousness: reap after the measure of mercie: breake vp your fallow ground: for it is tyme to seeke the Lord, til he come & raine righteousness vpon you.

But you haue plowed wickednes: ye haue reaped iniquitie: you haue eaten the fruit of lyes: because thou didest trust in thine owne wayes; and in the multitude of thy strong men,

Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people & al thy munitions shall be destroyed, as Shalman destroyed Beth-arbel in the day of battel: the mother with y children was dashed in pieces.

So shall Beth-el do vnto you, because of your malicious wickednes: in a morning shall the King of Israel be destroyed.

uailed: he wept and prayed vnto him: he found him in Beth-el, and there he spake with vs.

5 Yea, the Lord God of hostes, the Lord himselfe his memorial.

6 Therefore turne thou to thy God: keepe mercie and iudgement, and hope still in thy God.

7 He is <sup>8</sup> Canaan: the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loucheth to oppresse.

8 And Ephraim said, Notwithstanding I am rich, I haue found me out riches in al my labours: they shall finde none iniquitie in me, that were wickednes.

9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the land of Egypt, yet will I make thee to dwell in the tabernacles, as in the dayes of the solemne feast.

10 I haue also spoken by the Prophets, and I haue multiplied visions, and vied similitudes by the ministerie of the Prophets.

11 Is there iniquitie in Gilead? surely they are vanitie: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilead, and their altars are as heapes in the furrowes of the field.

12 And Iacob fled into the country of Aram, and Israel serued for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheepe.

13 And by a Prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a Prophet was he reserued.

14 But Ephraim prouoked him with his places: therefore shall his blood be powred vpon him, and his reproche shall his Lord rewarde him.

the Prophet sayeth, that all their religion was but vanitie. I knowe of your richesse and nobilitie, ye seeme to reproche your father who was a poore fugitive and seruant. m Meaning, Moses, whereby appeareth that whatsoever they haue, it cometh of Gods free goodnes.

CHAP. XII.

The abomination of Israel, 9 And cause of their destruction.

1 When Ephraim spake, there was a trembling: he exalted himselfe in Israel, but hee hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And now they sinne more and more, and haue made them molten images of their siluer, & idoles according to their owne vnderstanding: they were al the worke of the craftesmen: they say one to another whiles they sacrifice a man, Let them kisse the calves.

3 Therefore they shall bee as the morning cloud, and as the morning dewe that passeth away, as the chaffe that is drie with a whirlewinde out of the floore, & as the smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt knowe no God but me: for there is no Saviour beside me.

5 I did knowe thee in the wilderness, in the land of drought.

6 As in their pastures, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore haue they forgotten me.

He admonisheth by Iacobis example to trust in God, and not in man.

1 Ephraim is fed with the winde, & followeth after the East wind: he increaseth dayly lyes and destruction, and they do make a couenant with Ashtur, & oil is caried into Egypt.

2 The Lord hath also a controuersie with Iudah, and will visite Iacob, according to his wayes: according to his workes, will he recompence him.

The Prophet Ioel firſt rebuketh them of Iudah, that being now puniſhed with a great plague of famine, remaine ſtil obſtinate. Secondly he threatneth greater plagues, becauſe they grewe daylie to a more hardnes of hearts, and rebellion againſt God notwithstanding his puniſhments. Thirdly he exhorteth them to repentance, ſhewing that is muſt be earneſt, and proceede from the heart becauſe they had grievouſly offended God. And ſo doing, he promiſeth that God wil be merciful, and not forget his covenants that he made with their fathers: but will ſend his Chriſt who ſhall gather the ſcattered ſheepe, and reſtore them to life, and libertie, though they ſeemed to be dead.

CHAP. I.

A prophete againſt the Iewes. 2. He exhorteth the people to prayer, and faſting for the miſerie that was at hand.

Signifying, the people, the Priests, and the powerfull. He calleth the Iewes to the conſideration of Gods iudgements, who had now plagued the fruites of the ground for the ſpace of foure yere, and to call them to repentance.

Of the iudgement of God against the enemies of his people.

among the people, Where is their God?

18 Then wil the Lord be <sup>in</sup> iudgement ouer his land and spare his people.

19 Yea, the Lord wil answere and say vnto his people, Beholde, I will send you corne, and wine, and oyle, & you shalbe satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproche among the heathen, 20 But I wil remoue farre off from you the Northren armie, and I will driue him into a land, barren and desolate with his face toward the East sea, and his ende to the ymost sea, and his stinke shall come vp, & his corruption shall ascend, because he hath exalted himselfe to do this.

21 Fear not, O land, but be glad, & reioyce: for the Lord wil do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beastes of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness are greene: for the tree beareth her fruit: the figtree and the vine do giue their force.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, & reioyce in the Lord your God: for he hath giuen you the raine of righteousnes, * & he wil cause to come downe for you the raine, even the first raine, and the latter raine in the first moneth.

24 And the barnes shalbe full of wheat, and the presses shal abounde with wine and oyle.

25 And I wil render you the yeres that the grasshopper hath eaten, the canker worme & the caterpillar and the palmer worme, my great hoste which I sent among you.

26 So you shall eate and be satisfied and prayse the Name of the Lord your God, that hath delt maruclously with you: and my people shall neuer be ashamed.

27 Ye shall also knowe, that I am in the mids of Israel, and that I am the Lorde, your God and none other, and my people shall neuer be ashamed.

28 And afterwarde wil I powre out my Spirit vpon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie: your olde men shall dreame * dreames, and your yong men shall see visions.

29 And also vpon the seruants, and vpon the maides in those dayes wil I powre my Spirit.

30 And I wil shewe wonders in the heauens and in the earth, blood and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The sunne shalbe turned into darkenes, & the moone into blood, before the great and terrible day of the Lord come.

32 But whosoever shall call * on the Name of the Lord, shalbe saued: for in mount Zion, and in Ierusalem shalbe deliuerance, as the Lord hath saide, and in the remnant, whom the Lord shall call.

1 For behold, in those dayes and in that time, when I shal bring againe the captiuitie of Iudah and Ierusalem,

2 I will also gather all nations, & will bring them downe into the valley of Iehoshaphat, and will pleade with them there for my people, and for mine heritage, Israel, whom they haue scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they haue cast lottes for my people, and haue giuen the childe for the harlot, & solde the girle for wine, that they might drinke.

4 Yea, and what haue you to do with me, O Tyrus and Zidon and all the coastes of Palestina? will ye render me a recompense? and if ye recompense me, twitely and speedily will I render your recompense vpon your head:

5 For ye haue taken my siluer & my golde, and haue caryed into your temples my goodly and pleasant things.

6 The children also of Iudah and the children of Ierusalem haue you solde vnto the Grecians, that ye might send them farre from their border.

7 Beholde, I wil raise them out of the place where ye haue solde them, and wil render your reward vpon your owne head.

8 And I will sell your sonnes and your daughters into the hand of the children of Iudah: and they shall sel them to the Sabeans, to a people that is farre off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Publish this among the Gentiles: prepare warre, wake vp the mightie men: let all the men of warre draw neere & come vp.

10 Breake your plowshares into swordes, and your sheeths into speares: let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all ye heathen and gather your selues together round about: there shall the Lorde cast downe thy mightie men.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come vp to the valley of Iehoshaphat: for there will I sit to iudge all the heathen round about.

13 Put in your sheeths, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you downe, for the winepresse is full: yea, the winepresses runne ouer, for their wickednes is great.

AMOS.

THE ARGUMENT.

Among many other Prophets that God raised up to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednes and idolatrie, he stirred up Amos, who was an heardman or shepheard of a poore towne, and gave him both knowledge and confidence to reprove all estates and degrees, and so denounce Gods horrible iudgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had lived as it were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their sinnes wil punish them, that they could looke for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lord by unfained repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godly with hope of the coming of the Messiah, by whome they should haue perfite deliuerance and saluation.

CHAP. I.

He words of Amos, who was among the heardmen<sup>a</sup> at Tecoah, which he saw vpon Israel, in the daies of Vzziah King of Iudah, & in the daies of<sup>b</sup> Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash King of Israel, two yere before the<sup>c</sup> earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord shall roare fro<sup>d</sup> Zion, and vtter his voyce from Ierusalem, & the dwelling places of the shepherds shall perish, and the top of<sup>e</sup> Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the Lord, For<sup>f</sup> three transgressions of Damascus, and for foure I wil not turne to it, because they haue<sup>g</sup> threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of yron.

4 Therefore wil I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the<sup>h</sup> palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will breake also the barres of Damascus, and cut of the inhabitant of Bithath-suen: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth-eden, & the people of Aram shall go into captiuitie vnto<sup>i</sup> Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Azzah, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they<sup>j</sup> caried away prisoners the whole captiuitie to shut the vp in Edom.

7 Therefore wil I send a fire vpon the walles of Azzah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I wil cut of the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter fro<sup>k</sup> Ashkelon, and turne mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.

9 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembered the<sup>l</sup> brotherly covenant.

10 Therefore wil I send a fire vpon the walles of Tyrus, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for foure I wil not turne to it, because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did<sup>m</sup> cast of al pittie, and his anger spoiled him euermore, and his wrath watched him<sup>n</sup> alway.

12 Therefore wil I send a fire vpon Teman, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I wil not turne to it, because they<sup>o</sup> haue ript vp the women with childe of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 Therefore wil I kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof, with shouting in the daye of battel, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlwinde.

15 And their King shall go into captiuitie, hee and his princes together, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Iudah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue cast away the Law of the Lord, and haue not kept his commandments, and their lies cauled them to erre after the which their fathers haue walked.

5 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Iudah, & it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Israel, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they folde the right oaths for siluer and the poore for shoes.

11 And I trailed vp of your sottes for Prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

12 But ye game the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commanded the Prophets, saying, Prophesie not.

13 Beholde, I am pressed vnder you as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaues.

14 Therefore the slight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force; neither shall the mightie saue his life.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

17 K You haue wearied me with your sinnes, Isai. 14. f None shall be deliuered by any meanes.

CHAP. III.

Here proueth the house of Israel of ingratitude. 11 For the which God wil punish them.

1 Here this worde that the Lorde pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, against the whole familie which I brought vp from the land of Egypt, saying, You onely haue I knowen of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together except they be agreed?

4 Wil a lion roare in the forest, when he hath no pray: or wil a lyon whelp crye out of his denne, if he haue taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a snare vpon the earth, where no fowler is: or wil he take vp the snare taken in the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Or shall a trumpet be blown in the citie, and the people be not afraid: or shall there be euil in a citie, and the Lorde hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he reuileth his secret vnto his seruants the Prophets.

8 The lyon hath roared: who wil not be afraid: the Lord God hath spoken: who can but prophesie?

9 Proclaime in the palaces at Ashdod, & in the palaces in the land of Egypt, & say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaines of Samaria: so beholde the great tumultes in the middes thereof, and the oppressed in the middes thereof.

10 For they know not to do right, saith the Lord: they despise my word, and despise my voice, they despise my voice, and despise my voice.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduersary shall come round about the country, and shall bring downe the strength from aboue, & they shall be spoiled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepard taketh out of the mouth of the lyon two legges, or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus, as in a couche.

13 Heare & refuse in the house of Iakob, saith the Lord God, the God of hostes.

14 Surely in the day that I shall visite the transgressions of Israel vpon him, I will also visite the altars of Beth-el, and the hornes of the altar shall be broken of, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of yorie shall perish, and the great houses shall be consumed, saith the Lord.

16 The fruite of their cruelty & theft appeareth by their great riches, which they haue in their houses. 2 The Lord God hath sworne by his holines, that lo, the daies shall come vpon you, that he will take you away with thornes, and your posteritie with fish hookes.

3 And ye shall go out at the breaches euerie howe forward: and ye shall cast your felues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

4 Come to Beth-el, and transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your rites after three yeres.

5 And offer a thanksgiving of leauen, publish and proclaime the free offerings: for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

6 And the fowles haue I giuen you cleines of teeth in al your cities, and scarcenes of bread in all your places, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

7 And also I haue withholden the raine from you, when there were yet three moneths to the harvest, & I caused it to raine vpon one cite, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another cite: one piece was rained vpon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandred vnto one cite to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

9 I haue smitten you with blasting, & mildewe: your great gardens and your vineyardes, and your figtrees, and your oliue trees and the palmer worne deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you, after the maner of Egypt: your young men haue I slaine with the sword, and haue taken away your horses: and I haue made the flinke of your tents to come vp euen into your nostrils: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

11 I haue overthrowen you, as God overthrowed Sodom and Gomorah: and ye were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

12 Therefore thus wil I do vnto thee, O Israel: and because I wil do this vnto thee, prepare to meete thy God, O Israel.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, & declareth vnto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkenes, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, the Lord God of hostes is his Name.

CHAP. V.

A lamentation for the captiuitie of Israel.

1 Heare ye this word, which I lift vp vpon you, euen a lamentation of y house of Israel.

2 The virgine Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise: she is left vp6 her land, & there is none to raise her vp.

3 For thus saith the Lord God, The cite which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundred: and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leaue ten to y house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and go not to Beer-sheba for Gilgal shall go into captiuitie, and Beth-el shall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lord, and ye shall liue, lest he breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph and deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, and leaue of righteousnes in the earth.

8 He maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: he calleth the waters of the sea, & pouerth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mightie: and the destroyer shall come against the fortresse.

10 They haue hated him, that rebuked in the gate: and they abhorred him that speake th vprightly.

11 Forasmuch then as your treading is vpon the poore, and ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye haue buyt houses of hewen stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyardes, but ye shall not drinke wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mightie finnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the prudent shall keepe silence in that time, for it is an euil time.

14 Seeke good and not euil, that ye maye liue: and the Lord God of hostes shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euil, & loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may bee that the Lord God of hostes wil be mercifull vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

16 Therefore the Lord God of hostes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streetes: and they shall say in all the hie wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, to mourning.

17 And in al the vines shall be lamentation: for I wil passe through thee, saith y Lord.

18 Wo vnto you, that desire the day of the Lord: what haue you to do with it? the day of the Lord is darkenes & not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lyon, and a beare met him, or went into the house, & leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkenes, and not light? euen darkenes and no light in it?

21 I hate and abhorre your feast dayes, and I wil not smell in your solemne assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offerings and meat offerings, I wil not accept them: neither in these places thei worshipped new idoles, which afore tyme serued the true hono of God: therefore he sayth that these shall not save them, d in steade of iudgement and equitie thei exercise cruelty & oppression. e He describeth the power of God, Job. 9.

Against the princes of Israel liuing in pleasures.

1 W O to them that are at ease in Zion and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nation: and the house of Israel came to them.

2 Go you vnto Calneh, and see: and from thence go you to Hamath the great: then go downe to Gath of the Philistims: be they better then these kingdomes? or the border of their land greater then your border.

3 Ye that put farre away the euil day, and approche to the seate of iniquitie?

4 They lye vpon beddes of yuorie, and stretch them selues vpon their beddes, & eat the lambes of the flocke, & the calves out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viole: they inuent to themselves instruments of musike like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and anoynt themselves with the cheefe ointments, but no man is sorry for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore now shall they go captiue with the first that go captiue, and the sorow of them that stretched them selues, is at hand.

8 The Lord God hath sworne by him self, sayth the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the excellencie of Iakob, & hate his palaces: therefore will I deliuer vp the citie with all that is therein.

9 And if there remayne ten men in one house, they shall dye.

10 And his vncle shall take him vp & burne him to cary out y bones out of the house, and shall say vnto him, that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shall say, None. Then shall he saye,

1 Thus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and behold, he formed grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the latter growth: & so, it was in the latter growth after the Kings mowing.

2 And when they had made an ende of eating the grasse of the lande, then I sayd, O Lord God, spare, I beseeche thee, who shall raise vp Iakob: for he is small.

3 So the Lord repented for this, it shal not be, sayth the Lord.

4 Thus also hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, & beholde, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, & it deuoured the great deepe, and did eat vp a part.

5 Then sayde I, O Lorde God, cease, I beseeche thee, who shall raise vp Iakob: for he is small.

6 So the Lorde repented for this. This shal not be, sayth the Lord God.

7 Thus againe he shewed me, & beholde, the Lord stood vpon a wall made by line with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A line. Then sayde the Lorde, Beholde, I will let a line in the middes of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the hye places of Ithak shall be desolate, and the temples of Israel shall be destroyed: and I will rise against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Ieroboam King of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middes of the house of Israel: the lande is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos sayth, Ieroboam shal dye by the sword, and Israel shal be led awaye captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amaziah layd vnto Amos, O thou Can was not able to compasse his purpose by the King, hee assayed by an other practise: that was, to feare the Prophet, that he might depart, and not reprove their idolatri there openly, and so hinder his profite.

And the Lord tooke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lord said vnto me, Go prophesie vnto my people Israel.

17 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Thy wife shalbe an harlot in the citie, & thy sonnes and thy daughters shal fall by the sword, and thy lande shalbe deuided by line: and thou shalt dye in a polluted land, and Israel shal surely go into captiuitie forth of his land.

And the songs of the Temple shalbe howling in that day, sayth the Lord God: many dead bodies shalbe in euery place: they shal cast them forth with violence.

Heare this, O ye that swallow vp the poore, that ye may make the needie of the land to faile.

The Lord hath sworne by his excellencie of Iacob, Surely I will not forget any of their works.

Shall not the land tremble for this, and euery one mourne, that dwelleth therein: and it shall reeue wholly as a flood, and it shall be swallowed out, as by the flood of Egypt.

And in that day, sayth the Lord God, I will euene cuth the sunne to goe downe at noone, and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

And I will turne your feastes into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all lomes, and baldnes vpon euery head: and I will make it as the mourning of an only sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

Beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lord God, that I will sende a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

And they shall wander from sea to sea, & from the North euen vnto the East, they runne to & fro to seeke the word of the Lord, and shall not finde it.

In that day shal the sayre virgines, & the yong men perish for thirst.

They that sweare by the sunne of Samaria, & that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, & the manner of Beer-sheba liueth, euen they shal fall, and neuer rife vp againe.

For the idlers did vie to weare by their idols: which here he calleth their idols, as the papists yet do by theirs. & That is, the common maner of worshipping, and the seruice or religion there vfed.

1 Threatnings against the Temple. 2 And against Israel.

1 I sawe the Lord standing vpon the wall of the Temple, and he sayd, Smite the liue, & the doore, that the post may shake: and cut them in peeces, euen the heads of them all, and I will lay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them shall not flee away: & he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

Though they dig into the earth, thence shall mine hand take them: though they clime vp to heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

And though they hyde them selves in the toppes of Carmel, I will searche & take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottomes of the sea, thence will I commaunde the serpent, and he shal bite them.

And though they goe into captivity before their enemies, wher they will, I will command the sword, and it shal slay them: and I will set mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

And the Lord God of Hostes, that touche the land, and it shall tremble, & all that dwell therein, shal inourne, and it shall reeue vp wholly like a flood, and shalbe drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

He buildeth his spheres in the heauen, & hath laid the foundation of his globe of elements in the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea; & powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

Are ye not as the Ethiopians vnto me, O children of Israel, sayth the Lord: haue not I brought vp Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and Aram from Kir?

Beholde, the eyes of the Lord God are vpon the sinfull kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth. Neuertheless I will not utterly destroy the house of Iacob, sayth the Lord.

THE ARGVMENT.

The Idumeans, which came of Esau, were mortal enemies alwaye to the Israelites, which came of Iacob, and therefore did not onely vex them continually with sundrie kindes of cruelties, but also stirred up others to fight against them. Therefore when they were in their greatest prosperitie, and did most triumphe against Israel, which was in great affliction and miserie, God raised up his Prophet to comfort the Israelites, forasmuch as God had nowe determined to destroye their aduersaries, which did so sore vex them, and to send them such as should deliuer them, and set vp the kingdom of Iudah, which he had promised.

THE vision of Obadiah. Thus sayeth the Lord God against Edom, We haue heard a rumor fro the Lord, & an ambassador is sent among the heathen: arise, and let vs rise vp against her to battel.

Beholde, I haue made thee small among the heathen: thou art viterly despised.

The pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee: thou that dwellest in the cleftes of the rockes, whose habitation is hye, that sayest in his heart, Who shall bring mee downe to the ground?

Though thou exalt thy selfe as the eagle, & make thy nest among the starres, thence will I bring thee downe, saith the Lord.

Came theeues to thee or robbers by night? howe wast thou brought to silence? would they not haue stolen, till they had yough? if the grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leaue some grapes?

How are the thinges of Esau sought vp, and his treasures searched?

All the men of thy confederacie haue drisen thee to the borders: the men that were at peace with thee, haue deceyued thee, and preuailed agaynst thee: they that ate thy bread, haue layd a wounde vnder thy feet, & thou hast helpe and friendship of them, shalbe thine enemies & destroy thee. Thus is, thy familiar friends & ghester haue by se-chee: there is none vnderstanding in him. Shall not I in that day, saith the Lord, euē destroye the wise men out of Edom, & vnderstanding from the mount of Esau?

And thy strong men, O Teman, shall be afraied, because euery one of the mount of Esau shall be cut of by slaughter.

For thy cruelty against thy brother Iacob, shame shall couer thee, and thou shalt be cut of for ever.

When thou stoodst on the other side, in the day that the strangers carryed away his substance, and strangers entered into his gates, & cast lottes vpon Ierusalem, euen thou wast as one of them.

But thou shouldst not haue beholden the daye of thy brother in the day that he was made a stranger, neyther shouldst thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Iudah, in the day of their destruction: thou shouldst not haue spoken proudly in the day of affliction.

Thou shouldst not haue entred into the gate of my people in the daye of their destruction, neyther shouldst thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their destruction, nor haue layd handes on their substance in the daye of their destruction.

Neyther shouldst thou haue stande in the crosse wayes to cut of them, that should escape: neither shouldst thou haue shut vp the remnant thereof in the day of affliction.

For the day, of the Lords is nowe vpon all the heathen: as thou hast done, so shall be done to thee: thy reward shall remaine vpon thine head.

He sheweth the cause why the Edomites were so sharply punished: to wit, because they were enemies to his Church, whom now he comforteth by punishing their enemies.

When Nebuchadnezzar came against Ierusalem, thou ioydest with him and haddest part of his spoyle, & so diddest reioyce when my people, that is, thy brother, were afflicted, whereas thou shouldst haue pitied and holpen thy brother. When Lord deprived them of their former dignitie & gaue them to be caried into captiui-

16 For as ye haue drunke vpon mine holy Mountaine, so shal all the heathen drinke continually: yea, they shal drinke and swallow vp, and they shal be as though they had not bene.
17 But vpon mount Zion shal be deliuerance, and it shalbe holy, and the house of Iacob shal possesse their possessions, 18 And the house of Iacob shalbe as a fire, and the house of Ioseph a flame, and the house of Esau as stubble, and they shal kinde in them & deuoure them: and there shal be no remnant of the house of Esau: for the Lord hath spoken it.
19 And they shal possesse the South side of the mount of Esau: and the plaine of the Philistines, & they shal possesse the fieldes of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Benjamin shal haue Gilcad.

20 And the captiuitie of this host of the children of Israel, which were among the Canaanites, shal possesse vnto Zarephath, & the captiuitie of Ierusalem, which is in Sepharad, shal possesse the cities of the South.
21 And they that shal saue, shal come vnto Mount Zion to iudge the mount of Esau, and the kingdome shalbe the Lords.

IONAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

When Ionah had long prophesied in Israel and had litle profited, God gave him expresse charge to go, and denounce his iudgements against Ninueh the chiefe cite of the Assyrians, because he had appointed, that they which were of the heathen, should conuert by the mightie power of his words, and that within three dayes preaching, that Israel might see howe horribly they had provoked Gods wrath, which for the space of so many yeeres, had not conuerted to the Lord for so many Prophets and so diligen preaching. He prophesied vnder Iosiah, and Ieroboam, 2. King. 14. 25.

CHAP. I.

3 Ionah had when he was sent to preach. 4 A tempest arising, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

He worde of the Lord came also vnto Ionah the sonne of Amittai, saying, Arise, and goe to Ninueh, that great cite, and cry against it: for their wickednes is come vp before me.

But Ionah rose vnto Rec into Tarshish from the presence of the Lord, and went downe to Iapho: and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he payed the fare thereof, and went downe into it, that he might go with them vnto Tarshish, from the presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent our a great winde into the sea, & there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were affrayed, & cried every man vnto his god, & cast the wares that were in the shippe, into the sea to lighten of them: but Ionah was gone downe into the fliter of the ship, and he lay downe, and was fast a sleepe.

6 Whereby he declared his wickednes, that would not promptly follow the Lordes calling: but gave place in his owne reason, which persuaded him that he should nothing suffer for there, seeing he had done so much good among his owne people. Chap. 4. 2.
7 Which was the haue, and porte to take shipping thither, called also toppe.
8 Reason: this vocation whereunto God had called him, and wherein he would haue listened by. As one that would haue cast of this care, and solicitude by seeking rest and quietnes.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and saide vnto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? Arise, call vpon thy God, if so be that God wil thinke vpon vs, that we perish not.
7 And they saide euery one to his fellowe, Come, and leues cast Iones, that we may knowe, for whose cause this euill is vpon vs. So they cast Iones, and the lord fel vpon Ionah.

8 Then saide they vnto him, Tel vs for whose cause this euill is vpon vs? what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? which is thy countrey? and of what people art thou?

9 And he answered them, I am an Ebrewe, & I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the dry land.

10 Then wete the men exceedingly affrayd, and saide vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew, that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had tolde them)

11 Then saide they vnto him, What shal we do vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? (for the sea wrought and was troublous)

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, & cast me into the sea: so shal the sea be calme vnto you: for I knowe that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Nevertheless, the men rowed to bring it to the land, but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was troublous, against them.

14 Wherefore they cried vnto the Lord, & I Thid declared, & said, We beseeche thee, O Lord, we beseeche thee, let vs not perish, for this flie vnto God for succour, and also that they are touched with a great feare to shed mans blood, whereas they knowe no manner of wickednes.

mans life, and laye not vpon vs innocent blood: for thou, O Lorde, hast done, as it pleased thee.

15 So theyooke vp Ionah, & cast him into the sea, & the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the Lorde exceedingly, & offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made vowes.

17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow vp Ionah: and Ionah was in the belly of the fish three dayes, and three nights.

And he was wonderfully deliuered: but this was done for feare & not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to Gods worde. Thus the Lorde would chastise his Prophete with a most terrible spectacle of his wrath, and hereby also confirmed him of his fauour & support in this charge which was imposed vpon him.

CHAP. II.

1 Then Ionah prayed vnto the Lorde his God out of the fishes belly.

2 And sayd, I cryed in mine affliction vnto the Lorde, and he heard mee: out of the belly of hell cryed I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 For thou haddest cast mee into the bottom in the middes of the sea, & the floods compassed me about all thy furies, and all thy waues passed ouer me.

4 Then I sayd, I am cast awaye out of thy sight: yet will I looke againe towards thine holy Temple.

5 The waters compassed mee about vnto the soule: the depth closed me rounde about, and the weedes were wrapt aboute mine head.

6 I went down to the bottom of the mountaines: the earth with her barres was about mee for euer, yet hast thou brought vp my life from the pit, O Lord my God.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembered the Lord: and my prayer came vnto thee, into thine holy Temple.

8 They that waite vpon lying vanities, forsake their owne mercie.

9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thanksgiving, and will saye that that I haue vowed: saluation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Ionah vpon the drye land.

CHAP. III.

1 And the worde of the Lord came vnto Ionah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go vnto Nineueh that great citie, and preach vnto it the preaching, which I bid thee.

3 So Ionah arose and went to Nineueh according to the word of the Lord: now Nineueh was a great and excellent citie of three dayes journey.

4 And Ionah began to enter into the citie

a dayes journey, & he cryed and said, Yet fourtie dayes, and Nineueh shalbe overthrown.

5 So the people of Nineueh beleueed God and proclaimed a fast, & put on sackcloth from the greatest of them euen to the least of them.

6 For worde came vnto the King of Nineueh, and he rose from his throne, and he layde his robe from him, and couered him with sackcloth, and sate in ashes.

7 And he proclaymed & sayd through Nineueh, (by the counse) of the King and his nobles, saying, Let neither man, nor beast, bullock nor sheep taste any thing, neither feede nor drinke water.

8 But let man and beast put on sackcloth, and cry mightilie vnto God: yea, let euery man turne from his euill way, & from the wickednes that is in their hands.

9 Who can tell, if God will turne, & repent & turne away from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?

10 And God sawe their woorkes that they turned from their euill wayes: and God repented of the euill that he had sayde, saying, that he would do vnto them, and he did it not.

And partly by the motion of his owne conscience he doubted whether God would shew them mercie. That is the fruites of their repentance, which did procede of faith which God had planted by the ministration of his Prophet. Reade Ierem. 18.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Therefore is displeased Ionah exceedingly, and he was angry.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and sayd, I pray thee, O Lorde, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? God, which he therefore presented it to thee vnto Tarshish: for I knewe that thou art a gracious God, and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the euill.

3 Therefore now O Lord, take I beseeche thee, my life from me: for it is better for me to dye then to liue.

4 Then sayd the Lorde, Doest thou well to be angry?

5 So Ionah went out of the citie & sate on the East side of the citie, and there made him a booth, and sate vnder it in the shadow: till he might see what shoulde be done in the citie.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come vp ouer Ionah, & that it might be a shadow ouer his head & deliuer him from his griefe. So Ionah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worme when the morning rose the next daye, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the sunne did arise, God prepared also a feruent East winde: and the sunne bet vpon the head of Ionah, that he fainted, and wished in his heart to dye.

9 Which was a further meane, to couer him from the heat of the sunne, as he remayned in his booth.

For partly by the threatening of the Prophet, and partly by the motion of his owne conscience he doubted whether God would shew them mercie.

By this Name by this forgiveness might be blasphemed as though he had his Prophets forth to denounce his iudgements in vaine.

Wilt thou be iudge when I do things for my glory, & when I do not?

For he doubted as yet whether God would shew them mercie or no, and therefore after fourty dayes he departed out of the citie, looking what yfue God would send.

their beddes: when the morning is light they practise it because their hand hath power.

And they couet fields, and take them by violence, and houses, & take them away: so they oppress a man & his house; even man and his heritage.

Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, against this family have I devised a plague, whereout ye shall not plucke your neckes, and ye shall not go so proudly, for this time is euill.

In that daye shall they take vp a parable against you, & lament with a dolefull lamentation, & say, We be vtterly wasted: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he taken it away to refore it vnto me: he hath diuided our fields.

Therefore thou shalt haue none that shall cast a corde by lot in the Congregation of the Lord.

They that prophesied, Prophesie ye not. They shall not prophesie to them: neither shall they take shame.

O thou that art named the house of Iaakob, is the Spirit of the Lord shortened: are these his workes? are not my wordes good vnto him that walketh uprightly?

But he that was yesterday my people, is risen vp on the other side, as against an enemy: they spoyle the beautifull garment from them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

The women of my people haue yee cast out from their pleasant houses, and from their children haue yee taken away my glory continually.

Arise & depart; for this is not your rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.

If a man walk in the Spirit, and would lye fallacy, saying, I will prophesie vnto thee of wine, and of strong drinke, he shall euen be the Prophet of this people.

I will surely gather thee wholy, O Iaakob: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel: I will put them together as the flocks of Bozrah, as the flocks in the midst of their foldes: the cities shall be full of haire of the men.

The breaker vp shall come vp before them: they shall breake out, and passe by the gate, and go our by it, and their King shall go before them, and the Lord shall be vpon their heades.

Against the tyrannie of princes and false Prophets. And I said, Hear, I pray you, O heades of Iaakob, and yee princes of the house of Israel: should not yee knowe Iudgement? But they hate the good, and loue the euill:

they plucke of their skinnets from them, & their flesh from their bones.

And they ease also the flesh of my people, & flay of their skinnne from them, and they breake their bones, & chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

Then shall they cry vnto the Lord, but he will not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

Thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, and bite them with their teeth, and cry peace, but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

Therefore night shall be vnto you for a vision, & darkenes shall be vnto you for a diuination, and the sunne shall go downe ouer the Prophets, & the day shall be darke ouer them.

Then shall the Seers be ashamed, and the southsayers confounded: yea, they shall auer their lippes, for they haue none answer of God.

Yet notwithstanding I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of iudgement, & of strength to declare vnto Iaakob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

Hearce this, I pray you, yee heades of the house of Iaakob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, & peruerual equitie.

They build yp Zion with blood, and Ierusalem with iniquitie.

The heads thereof iudge for rewards, & the Priests thereof teach for hire, & the Prophets thereof prophesie for money: yet will they leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among vs, no can come vpon vs?

Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, & Ierusalem shall be an heap, and the mountaine of the house, as the hie places of the forest.

The Prophet being stirred of his vocation by the Spirit of God, setteth himselfe alone against all the wicked, shewing how God both gaue him gifts, habilitie, and knowledge, to discern betwene good and euill, and also constancie to reprove the sinnes of the people, and not to flatter them.

They blinde them houses by bawdry, which he called blood and iniquitie. As they are the people of God, and abuse his Name as a pretence to cloke their hypocricie.

Of the kingdom of Christ, and felicity of his Church. In the last dayes it shall come to pass, when Christ shall passe through the mountaine of the house of the Lord, shall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and it shall be exalted aboue the hilles, and people shall flow vnto it.

He sheweth that the Church ought not to measure Gods iudgements by the bragges and threatenings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to liue vpon their heeles to God to call for deliuerance.

God giueth his Church this victorie for as he ouercometh their enemies: but the accomplishment hereof shall be in the last coming of Christ.

Isaakob, and he wil teache vs his wayes, and wee will walke in his pathes: for the Law shal go forth of Zion, and the worde of the Lord from Ierusalem.

And he shall iudge among many people, and rebuke mightie nations a farre of, and they shall breake their swordes into mattocks, and their speares into scythes: nation that not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.

But they shall sit euery man vnder his vine, and vnder his fig tree, & none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lorde of hostes hath spoken it.

For al people wil walke: euery one in the name of his god, and we will walke in the Name of the Lord our God, for euer and euer.

At the same day, saith the Lord, will I gather her that hath beene cast out, and her that I haue afflicted.

I will make her that hath beene a remnant, & her that was cast farre of, a mightie nation: & the Lorde shall reigne ouer them in Mount Zion, from hence forth euen for euer.

And thou, O towre of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter Zion, vnto thee shall it come, euen the first dominion, & kingdome shal come to the daughter Ierusalem.

Now why doest thou cry out with lamentation? there no king in thee: is thy counsell perished for Ierusalem hath taken thee, as a woman in travail.

Sorrow and mourne, O daughter Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou goe forth of the cite, and dwell in the felde, and shalt go into Babel, where shalt thou be deliuered: there the Lorde shall redeme thee from the hand of thine enemies.

Now also many nations are gathered against thee, saying, Zion shall be condemned and our eye shall looke vpon Zion.

But they know not the thoughts of the Lord: they vnderstand not his counsell, for hee shall gather them as the sheaues in the barne.

Arise, and thresh, O daughter Zion: for I will make thine home vpon, and I will make thine houes braile, and thou shalt breake in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their riches vnto the Lord, & their subiecte vnto the Lord of the whole world.

Now assemble thy garisons, O daughter of garisons: he hath layed siege against vs: they shall smite the iudge of Israel with a rod vpon the cheeke.

And thou Beth-le'e Ephrathah art little to be among the thousands of Iudah, yet out of thee shall he come forth vnto me, that shall be the ruler in Israel: whose goings forth haue bene from the beginning and from euerlasting.

Therefore will he giue them vp, vntill the time that the which shall beare, shall trauaile: then the remnant of their brethren shall returne vnto the children of Israel.

And he shall stand, & feed in the strength of the Lord, & in the maiestie of his Name of the Lord his God, and they shall dwell still: for now shall he be magnified vnto the ends of the world.

And he shall be our peace when Ashtur shall come into our land: when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seuen shepherdes, and eight principall men.

And they shall destroy Ashtur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their swordes: thus shall hee deliuer vs from Ashtur, when he cometh into our land, & when he shall tread within our borders.

And the remnant of Isaakob shall be among many people, as a dewe from the Lord, & as the showres vpon the grasse, that wyeth not for man, nor hopeth in the shadowes of Adam.

And the remnant of Isaakob shall be among the Gentiles in the middes of many people, as the lyo among the beasts of the forest, & as the Lyons whelp among the flockes of sheepe, who when hee goeth thorow, treadeth downe & teareth in pieces, and none can deliuer.

Thine hand shall be life vpon thine aduersaries, & al thine enemies shall be cut of.

And in that day, sayeth the Lorde, that I will cut of thine horres out of the middes of thee, & I will destroy thy charets.

And I will cut of the cities of thy land, and ouerthrow al thy strong holds.

And I will cut of thine enchanter out of thine hand, and thou shalt haue no more fourthayers.

Thine idoles also will I cut of, and thine images out of the middes of thee: & thou shalt no more worship the worke of thine hands.

And I will plucke vp thy groues out of the middes of thee: so wil I destroy thine enemies.

And I will execute a vengeance in my uerance of his Church shall destroye all the enemies thereof, which are ment here by the Assyrians and Babylonians which were the chiefe at that time. By these gouernours wil God deliuer vs when the enemies cometh into our land. This Remnant of Church which God shall deliuer shall onely depend on Gods power and defence, as doeth the grasse of the field, and not on the hope of man. I wil destroy al things which in this world possess thy confidence, as thy vaine confidence, and idolatrie, and so wil helpe thee.

His sweetnesse, with them of the danger that shall come, before they enjoy their comfort, therefore was accustomed with her garisons to trouble others, the Lord would not cause other garisons to venge her, and char her Rulers should be smitten on the face most contemptuously.

For so the Iewes desired their country, that for every thine land there was a chiefe captain, and because Beth-leem was not able to make a thousande, hee called it Iude, buyes God wil raise vp his captain and gouernour thereunto, this is not the least by reason of this benediction.

Mar. 2. 6. He sheweth that the coming of Christ, and his wayes were appointed of God from all euerlasting.

He compared the lawes to women with childe, who for a time should haue great sorrow, but at length they should haue a comfortable deliuerance.

Job 1. 21. That is, Christs kingdome shall be stable and euil lasting, and his people, alwell the Gentiles in the lawes shall dwell in felicity.

This Micha shall be a full of faith, and though the enemy made it for a time, yet shall God turne vnto many which shall be able to deliuer vs.

That is, when God shall come vnto the deliuerance of his Church.

Which were the chiefe at that time.

HEarken ye now what the Lord saith, Arise thou, and contende before the mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

Hear ye, O mountaines, the Lords querell, & ye mightie foundations of the earth:
for the Lorde hath a quarell against his people, and he wil plead with Israel.

O my people, what haue I done vnto thee?
or wherein haue I grieved thee? sacrifice against me.

Surely I brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of seruants, and I haue sent before thee, Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

O my people, remember now what Balak King of Moab had deuised, and what Balaam the sonne of Beor answered him, fro Shittim vnto Gilgal, that ye may knowe the righteousnes of the Lord.

Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bowe my self before the hie God? Shall I come before him with burnt offerings, & with calves of a yere old?

Will the Lord be pleased with thousands

NAHUM.

THE ARGUMENT.

A Scribe of Nineveh shewed himselfe prompt and ready to receive the words of God as Ionah preaching, and so turned to the Lord by repentance: so after a certaine time rather giuing them selves to worldly meanes to encrease their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had become, they cast off the care of religion, and so returned to their vniuersitie, and provoked Gods iudgements against them, in afflicting his people. Therefor their cite Nineveh was destroyed, and Merach-baladan king of Babel, or as some thinke Nebuchad-negar, enjoyed the empire of the Assyrians. But because God hath a continual care of his Church, he stirreth up his Prophet to comfort the godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies should be for their consolation. And as it seemeth he prophesied about the time of Herckiah, and was in the time of Manasse his sonne, as the Lxxxi write.

CHAP. II.

He describeth the victories of the Caldeans against the Assyrians.

The destroyer is come before thy face: he keepe the munition, looke to the waye make thy loines strong: increafe thy strength mightily.

For the Lord hath turned away the glory of Iakob, as the glorye of Israel: for the emperours haue emptied the vnr, & hewed their vine branches.

The shielde of his mighty men is made red: the valiant men are in scarlet: the charrets shalbe as in the fire and flames in the day of his preparation, and the fire trees shal tremble.

The charrets shal rage in the streets: they shal runne to & fro in the hie wayes: they shal seeme like lampes: they shal shodre like the lightning.

He shal remember his strong men: they shal stumble as they go: they shal make haste to the walles thereof, & the defence shal be prepared.

The gates of the riuers shal be opened, & the palaces shal melt.

And Huzab the Queenes shal be led away captive, and her maids shal leade her as with the voice of doves, smiting vpo their breasts.

But Nineueh is of olde like a poole of water: yet they shal flee awaye. Stande, stand, shal they crye: but none shal looke backe.

Spoyl ye the siluer, spoyl ye the golde: for there is none end of the store, & glorie of al the pleasant vessels.

Shee is emptie and void, and waste, & the heart melketh, & the knees smite together, and forowe is in all loines, and the heart can neuer perishe, and is as a fishpoole, whose waters they shal walke on the banks cannot touch, but they shal be scattered, & shal not looke backe though men would call them. faces of them al gather blackenes.

Where is the dwelling of the lyons, & the pasture of the lyons whelpes? where the lyon, & the lionesse walked, & the lyons whelpes, and none made them afraid.

The lyon did teare in pieces enough for his whelpes, and woryed for his lyonesse, and filled his holes with praye, and his denness with spoyl.

Behold I come vnto thee, saith the Lord of hostes, & I wil burne her charrets in the smoke, and the sworde shal deuoure thy yong lyons, & I wil cut of thy spoyl from the earth, & the voice of thy messengers shal no more be heard.

where with Nineueh was wont to bruite the bones of the poore.

CHAP. III.

Of the fall of Nineueh. No power can escape the hand of God.

Bloodie citie, it is all full of lies, and robbrie: the pray departeth not:

The noyse of a whippe, and the noyse of the moving of the wheelles, and the beating of the horses, and the leaping of the charrets.

The horseman listeth vp both the bright sworde, & the glittering speare, & a multitude of slaine, & the dead bodies are many: there is none end of their corpses: they stumble vpon their corpses.

Because of the multitude of the fornications of the harlot that is beautifull, and is a mistress of witchcraft, and selleth the people thow she her whoredome, and the nations throw her witchcrafts.

Beholde, I come vpon thee, saith the Lord of hostes, & wil discouer thy skirtes vpon thy face, and will shewe the nations thy filthines, and the kingdome thy shame.

And I will cast filth vpon thee, and make thee vile, and will let thee as a gasing stocke.

And it shal come to passe, that al they that looke vpon thee, shal flee from thee, and saye, Nineueh is destroyed, who will haue prtie vpon her? where shall I seeke comforters for thee?

Art thou better then No, which was full of people? that laye in the riuers, and had the waters round about it: whose ditche was the sea, & her wall was from the sea?

Ethiopia & Egypt were her strength, and there was none end: Put and Lubim were her helpers.

Yet was she caried awaye, and went into captiuitie: her yong children also were dashed in pieces at the head of al y streets: and they cast lottes for her noble men, & al her mighty me were bound in chaines.

Allo thou shalt be drunken: thou shalt hide thy self, & shalt seeke helpe because of the enemye.

Al thy strong cities shalbe like figtrees with the first ripe figs: for if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

HABAKKUK.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet complaineth vnto God, considering the great felicity of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godly, which indure al kinde of affliction and crueltie, and yet can see none ende. Therefore he had this reuelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans should come & take them away captiues, so that they could looke for none end of their troubles as yet, because of their stubbornnes and rebellion against the Lord. And lest the godly should despaire, seeing this horrible confusion, he comforteth them by this that God wil punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and crueltie shall be at height: wherefore he exhorteth the faithfull to patience by his owne example, and sheweth them a forme of prayer, wherevnto they should comfort themselves.

CHAP. I.

A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

1 He burden, which Habakkuk the Prophet did see. O Lord, how long shall I crye, & thou wilt not heare! even cry out vnto thee for violence, & thou wilt not helpe!

2 Why doest thou shew me iniquitie, and cause me to beholde sorow? for spoyling, and violence are before me: and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

3 Therefore the Law is dissolved, & iudgement doth neuer go forth: for the wicked doeth compassie about the righteous: therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

4 Behold among the heathen, and regarde, and wonder, & maruaile: for I wil worke a worke in your dayes: ye will not beleue it, though it be tolde you.

5 For lo, I raise vp the Caldeans, that bitter & furious nation, which shall go vpon the breadth of the land to possesse the dwelling places, that are not theirs.

6 They are terrible and feareful: their iudgement and their dignitie shall proceede of themselves.

7 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, & are more fierce than the wolues in the evening: & their horsemen are many: and their horsemen shall come from farre: they shall flee as the eagle hasting to meat.

8 They come al to spoile before their faces: they shall be as the Eastwinde, & they shall gather the captiuitie, as the sand.

9 And they shall mocke the Kings, and the princes shall be skorne vnto them: they shall deride euery strong holde: for they shall gather dust, and take it.

10 Then shall they take a courage, & transgresse and do wickedly, impruing this their power vnto their god.

11 Art not thou of olde, O Lord, my God mine holy one? we shall not dye: O Lord, thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.

12 Thou art of pure eyes, & canst not see euil: thou canst not beholde wickednes: wherefore dost thou looke vpon the transgressors, & holdest thy tongue when the wicked deuoureth the man, that is more righteous than he?

13 And makest men as the fishes of the sea, & as the creeping thinges, that haue no ruler ouer them.

14 They take vp all with the angle: they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarne, whereof they reioyce and are glad.

15 Therefore they sacrifice vnto their net, and burne incense vnto their yarne, because by them their portion is fat & their meat plenteous.

16 Shall they therefore stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

1. A vision. 5. Against pride, couetousnes, drunkennes, and idollatry.

- 1 Wil stande vpon my watche, and set me vpon the towge, and wil looke & see what he would say vnto me, & what I shal answere to him that rebuketh me.
- 2 And the Lorde answered me, and sayde, Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne that readeth it.
- 3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shal speake, and not lie: though it tarie, waite: for it shal surely come, and shal not stay.
- 4 Beholde, he that lifteth vp himselfe, his minde is not vp right in him, but the iust shal lye by his faith.
- 5 Yea, in deed the proud man is as he that transgresseth by wine: therefore shall he not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and can not be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.
- 6 Shal not al these take vp a parable against him, and a taunting prouerbe against him, & say, Ho, he that increaseth thus which is not his? howe long? and he that ladeth himselfe with thicke clay?
- 7 Shal they not rise vp suddenly, that shall bite thee? & awake, that shall stirre thee? and thou shalt be their pray?
- 8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, al the remnant of the people shall spoile thee, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cite, & vnto all that dwell therein.
- 9 Ho, he that couereth an euil couetousnes to his house, that he may set his nest on hie, to escape from the power of euil.
- 10 Thou hast consulted shame to thine owne house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.
- 11 For the stone shall crye out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber shal answere it.
- 12 Wo vnto him that buylderh a towne with blood, and erecteth a cite by iniquitie.
- 13 Beholde, is it not of the Lord of hostes that the people shal labour in the very fire? the people shal euen wearie themselves for verie vanitie.
- 14 For the earth shal bee filled with the knowledge of the glorie of the Lorde, as the waters couer the sea.
- 15 Wo vnto him that giueth his neigh-

- bour drink: thou ioyneest thine hate, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest see their priuities.
- 16 Thou art filled with shame for glorie: drinke thou also, and be made naked: the cup of the Lordes right hand shal be turned vnto thee, and shamefull spuing shal be for thy glorie.
- 17 For the crueltie of Lebanon shal couer thee: so shal the spoile of the beasts, which made them afraid, because of mes blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cite, and vnto al that dwell therein.
- 18 What profiteth the image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though hee that made it, trust therein, when hee maketh dumme idoles.
- 19 Wo vnto him that sayth to the wood, Awake, and to the dumme stone, Rise vp, it shal teach thee: beholde, it is layde ouer with golde and siluer, and there is no breath in it.

1 Kings children, and al such as are clothed with strange apparall.
2 In the same daye also will I visit all those that dance vpon the threshold so proudly, which fil their masters houses by crueltye and deceit.
3 And in that day, sayeth the Lorde, there shall be a noife, & a crye from the fishe gate, and an howlinge from the second gate, and a great destruction from the hilles.
4 Howle ye inhabitants of the low place: for the companie of the marchantes is destroyed: all they that beare siluer, are cut of.
5 And at that time will I search Ierusalem with lightes, and visite the men that are frozen in their dregges, and laye in their hearts, The Lord wil neither do good nor do euill.
6 Therefore their goods shall be spoyled, and their houses waste: they shall also build houses, but not inhabit them, & they shall plant vineyardes, but not drinke the wine thereof.
7 The great day of the Lord is neere: it is neere, and hasteth greatly, euen the voyce of the day of the Lorde: the strong man shall crye there bitterly.
8 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heauines, a day of destruction & desolation, a day of obsecure and darkenes, a day of cloudes and blacknes.
9 A daye of the trumpet and alarme against the strong cities, and against the high towres.
10 And I wil bring distresse vpon men, that they shall walke like blinde men, because they haue sinned against y Lord, & their blood shall be powred out as dust, & their flesh as the dongue.
11 Neither their siluer nor their gold shall be able to deliuer them in the daye of the Lords wrath, but the whole land shall be deuoured by the fire of his iudgement, for he shall make euen a speedie riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

12 Wo vnto the inhabitants of the sea coast: the nation of the Cherethims, the worde of the Lord is against you: O Canaan, the land of the Philistims, I will euen destroy thee without an inhabitant.
13 And the sea coast shall be dwellings & cottages for shepheards and shepefolds.
14 And that coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Iudah, to feed thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lodge toward night: for the Lord their God shall visite them, and turne away their captiuitie.
15 I haue heard the reproch of Moab, and the rebukes of the children of Ammon, whereby they vprayed my people, and magnified themselves against their borders.
16 Therefore, as I liue, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, surely Moab shall be as Sodom, & the children of Ammon as Gomorah, euen the breeding of nettles, and salt pittes, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my folke shall spoile them, & the remnant of my people shall possesse them.
17 This shall they haue for their pride, because they haue reproched & magnified themselves against the Lorde of hostes people.
18 The Lord will be terrible vnto them: for he wil consume al the gods of the earth, and euery man shall worship him from his place, euen al the yles of the heathen.
19 Ye Morians also shall be slain by my sword with them.
20 And he wil stretch out his hand against the North, & destroy Asshur, & wil make Nineueh desolate, & waste like a wilderness.
21 And flocks shall lie in the middes of her, and al the beastes of the nations, and the pellicane, and the owle shall abide in the vpper postes of it: the voice of byrdes shall sing in the windowes, and desolations shall be vpon the postes: for the cedars are vncouered.
22 This is the reioycing citie that dwelt carelesly, that sayd in her heart, I am, and there is none beside me: how is the made waste, and the lodging of the beasts: euen one that passeth by her, shall hille and wagge his hand.

That is, Galilee: by these nations he meaneth the people that dwell nere to the Iewes & in steade of friendship were their enemies: therefore he calleth them Canaanites whom the Lord appointed to be slaine. He sheweth why God would destroye their enemies, because their country might be a resting place for his Church. These nations presumed to take from the Iewes that country which the Lord had giuen them.
When he shall deliuer his people and destroy their enemies & idoles, his glory shall shine throughout all the world.

The iust Lord is in the middes thereof: he wil do none iniquitie: euery morning doeth he bring his iudgement to light, he sayleth not: but the wicked wil not learne to be ashamed.

I haue cut of the nations: their towres are desolate: I haue made their streetes waste, that none shal passe by: their cities are destroyed without man & without inhabitant.

I sayd, Surely thou wilt feare mee: thou wilt receiue instruction: so their dwelling should not be destroyed how soeuer I visited them, but they rose early and corrupted all their workes.

Therefore wayte ye vpon me, saith the Lorde, vntill the day that I rise vp to the pray: for I am determined to gather the nations, and that I will assemble the kingdoms to powre vpon them mine indignation, euen all my fierce wrath: for all the earth shalbe deuoured with the fire of my ielousie.

Surely then wil I turne to the people a pure language, that they may al call vpon the Name of the Lord, to serue him with one consent.

From beyond the riuers of Ethiopia, the daughter of my disperfed, praying vnto me, shal bring me an offering.

In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for al thy workes, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I wil take awaye out of the middes of thee the that reioice

The remnant of Israel shal do none iniquitie, nor speake lies: neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shalbe fed, and lie downe, and none shal make them afraide.

Reioyce, O daughter Zion: be ye ioyful, O Israel: be glad and reioice with al thine heart, O daughter Ierusalem.

The Lorde hath taken away thy iudgements: he hath cast out thine enemy: the King of Israel, euen the Lord is in the middes of thee: thou shalt see no more euil.

In that day it shalbe sayde to Ierusalem, Feare thou not, O Zion: let not thine hands be faint.

The Lorde thy God in the middes of thee is mighty: he wil saue, he wil reioyce ouer thee with ioye: hee wil quiet him selfe in his loue: he wil reioyce ouer thee with ioy.

After a certaine time wil I gather the afflicted that were of thee, and them that bare the reproch for it.

Beholde, at that time I wil bruiſe al that afflict thee, & I wil saue her that halteth, and gather her that was cast out, and I wil geue them praise and fame in al the lands of their shame.

At that time wil I bring you againe, and then wil I gather you: for I wil giue you a name and a praise among al people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes, sayth the Lord.

As among the Assyrians and Caldians which did mocke them in time past, shalbe taken from thee.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGUMENT.

When the time of the seuerie years captiuitie prophesied by Ieremiah was expired, God reioiced vpon Haggai, Zechariah, & Malachi to comfort the Iewes and to exhort them to the building of the Temple, which was a figure of the spiritual Temple and Church of God, whose perfection & excellencie stood in Christ. And because that al were given to their owne pleasures and commodities, he declareth that that plague of famine, which God sent then among them, was a iust reward of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour who had deliuered them. For he comforteth them, if they will returne to the Lord, with the promise of greater felicitie, inasmuch as the Lord will finish the workes that he hath begunne, and send Christ whom he had promised, and by whom they shoulde attaine to perfection and glorie.

CHAR. II. The time of the prophesie of Haggai, is an exhortation to build the Temple againe. In the seconde yeere of King Darius, in the sixth moneth, the first daye of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde (by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai) vnto Zerubbabel the sonne of Shaltiel, a prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, saying,

Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, This people saye, The time is not yet come to build the Temple.

God, or very colde in his cause?

come,

a Who was the sonne of Iehoshaphat, and the third King of the Persians, at some time.

That is, the remnant of the Iewes, as the Assyrians, Caldians, Egyptians, and other nations. To defende thee as by thy sinnes thou hast put him away & left thy selfe naked, as Esau, 11. 25. In signifying that God desired to be loue & great affection towards his Church. That is, those that were halied and ready for the Church and cause of their religion. I will deliver the Church which now is afflicted, as Esau, 11. 25.

come, that the Lordes House should be buylded.

Then came the woorde of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

Is it tyme for your selues, to dwell in your siled houses, and this House lie waste?

Nowe therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts,

Ye haue sowne much, and bring in hq: ye eat, but ye haue not ynough ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you, but ye be not warme: & he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts, Goe vp to the mountaine, and bring wood, and builde this House, and I will be fauourable in it, and I will be glorified, sayth the Lord.

Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to lide: and when ye brought it home, I did blowe vpon it. And why, sayth the Lord of hostes? Because of mine House that is waste, and ye runne euery man vnto his owne house.

Therefore the heauen ouer you stayed it selfe from dew, and the earth stayed her fruit.

And I called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines; and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, vpon all that the grounde bringeth forth: both vpon men and vpon cattel, & vpon all the labour of the hand.

When Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, & Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest with all the remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lord their God, and the wordes of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

Then spake Haggai the Lordes messenger in the Lordes message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, sayth the Lord.

And the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel a prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, & the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the worke in the House of the Lord of hostes their God.

CHAP. II.

Hehemoth that the glorie of the second Temple shall exceede the first.

In the foure and twentieth daye of the sixt moneth, in the second yere of King Darius.

In the seventh month, in the one & twentieth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

Speake now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, & to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest, & to the residue of the people, saying,

Who is left among you, that sawe this House in her first glorie, and how do you see it now? Is it not in your cies, in comparison of it as nothing?

Yet now be of good courage, O Zerubbabel, sayth the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Iehoshua, sonne of Iehozadak the hie Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, & do it: for I am with you, sayth the Lord of hostes.

According to the worde that I covenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: so my Spirit shall remaine among you, feare ye not.

For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Yet a litle while, and I will shake the heauens and the earth, and the sea, and the drye land:

And I will moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this House with glorie, sayth the Lord of hostes.

The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, sayth the Lord of hostes.

The glorie of this last House shall be greater then the first, sayth the Lord of hostes: & in this place will I giue peace, sayth the Lord of hostes.

In the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yere of Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Aske now the Priests concerning the Law, and say,

If one beare holys flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touche the bread, or the potage, or the wine, or oyle, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the Priests answered and said, No.

Then said Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be vnclane? And the priests answered, and said, It shalbe vnclane.

Then answered Haggai, and saide, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lord, and so are all the works of their hands, and that which they offer here, is vnclane.

And now, I pray you, consider in your mindes, from this day, and afore, euen afore a stone was laid vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

Before these things were, whe one came to an heape of swete measures, there were burthen: when one came to the wine presse for to drawe our fiftie vessels out of the presse, there were but twentie.

I more you with blasting, and with milde, and with haile, in all the labours of your hands: yet you turned not to me, sayth the Lord.

a For the people, according to Isa. 22. 11. and Ezech. 41. 1. had prophesied, thought this Temple should haue bene more excellent then Salomons Temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophetes ment the spiritual Temple, the Church of Christ. b That is, go forward in building the Temple. c He exhorteth them to patience though they see not as yet this Temple so glorious as the Prophetes had declared: for this should be accomplished in Christe by whom all things should be renewed. d Meaning, Christ whom all ought to looke for and desire: or by desire, he may signifie all precious things, as riches and such like. e Therefore whe his tyme cometh, here can make all the treasures of the world to serue his purpose: but the glorie of this seconde Temple doeth not stand in material things, neyther can be builde. f Meaning, all spirituall blessings and felicitie purchased by Christ Phil. 4. 7. g This is the felthe of the sacrifices: whereby he signifieth that that thing, which of it selfe is good, cannot make another thing so: and therefore they ought not to iustifie themselves by their sacrifices and ceremonies but contrarie he that is vnclane and not pure of heart, doeth corrupt those things and make them detestable vnto God which are good and goodly. h Consider how God did plague you with famine, more you began to build the Temple. i That is, before the buylding was begonne.

21 Then sayd I, What come these to do? And he answered, & sayd, These are the hornes, which haue scattered Iudah, so that a man come to fray them, & to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne

The restoring of Ierusalem and Iudah.

1 Lift vp mine eyes againe & looked, and behold, <sup>a</sup> a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then sayd I, Whither goest thou? And he said vnto mee, To measure Ierusalem, that I may see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with mee, went forth: and another Angel went out to meete him,

4 And sayd vnto him, Runne, speake to this <sup>a</sup> young man, and say, Ierusalem shall be in-scattered you into the foure <sup>a</sup> winds of the heauen, sayth the Lord.

7 <sup>a</sup> Saue thy self, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, After this <sup>a</sup> glorie hath he sent mee vnto the nations, which spoyled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the <sup>a</sup> apple of his eye.

9 For beholde, I will lift vp mine hande vpon them: and <sup>a</sup> they shall be a spoyle to those that serued them, and ye shall knowe, that the Lord of hostes hath <sup>a</sup> sent mee.

10 Reioyce, and be glad, O daughter Zion:
for I, I come, and wil dwell in the middes of thee, sayth the Lord.

11 And many nations shall be ioyned to the Lorde in that day, and shal be my people:
and I will dwell in the middes of thee, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

12 And the Lord shal inherite Iudah his portion in the holy land, and shall chuse Ieru-salem againe.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised vp out of his holy place.

you haue bene theirs. n This must necessarily be vnderstand of Christ, who being God equall with his Father, was sent as he was Mediator to dwell in his church, and to gouerne them.

CHAP. III.

A prophesie of Christ and of his kingdom.

1 And he shewed mee Iehoshua the hie Priest, <sup>a</sup> standing before the Angel of the Lorde, and <sup>a</sup> Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the <sup>a</sup> Lorde sayde vnto Satan, The Lorde reprove thee, O Satan: euen the Lorde that hath chosen Ierusalem, reprove thee. Is not this a <sup>a</sup> brand taken out of the fire?

3 Nowe Iehoshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake vnto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And vnto him he sayd, Beholde, I haue caused thine iniquitie to depart frō thee, & I wil clothe thee with change of rayment.

5 And I sayde, Let them <sup>a</sup> set a sayre diademe vpon his head. So they set a sayre diademe vpon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lord testified vnto Iehoshua, saying,

and trouble him when he was doing his office. c In respect of the glorious garments, and precious stones that the Priests did weare before captiuitie: and by this contemptible state the Prophete signifieth that these smal beginnings shuld be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his Church. f He sheweth of what apparell he speakech, which is when our filthy finnes are taken away and wee are clad with Gods mercies, which is ment of the spirital restitution.
g The Prophet prayeth that besides the rayment the Priest might also haue tyre for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignitie of the Priest hood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here al such are commendeth that can content themselves with any meane reformatio in religion, scyng the Prophet

CHAP. III.

The vision of the golden candlesticks, and the exposition thereof.

1 And the Angel that talked with mee, came againe and waked me, as a man that is rayised out of his sleepe.

2 And said vnto me, What seest thou? And I said, I haue looked, and beholde, a candlestick all of gold with a bowle vpon the top of it, & his seven lampes therein, and seuen pipes to the lampes, which were vpon the top thereof.

3 And two olive trees ouer it, one vpon the right side of the bowle, & the other vpon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered, & spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, answered and sayde vnto mee, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde, No, my Lord.

6 Then he answered and spake vnto mee, saying, This is the worde of the Lord vnto Zerubbabel, saying, Neither by an armie nor strength, but by my Spirit, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

7 Who art thou, O great mountaine, before Zerubbabel? thou shalt be a plaine, & he shall bring forth the head stone thereof, with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace, grace. This doctrine was directed to all the Church who are his bodie and members. d He sheweth that Gods power onely is sufficient to preserve his Church, though he vie not mans helpe thereunto. e He compareth the power of the aduersaries to a great mountaine, who though he the lewes nothing in respect of them, and would haue hindered Zerubbabel, who represented Christ whom the enemies daily labour to let, in the building of his spiritual Temple, but all in vayne.

f Though the enemies thinke to staye this building, yet Zerubbabel shall laye the highest stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godly shall reioyce, and pray vnto God that he would continue his grace and fauour toward the Temple.

8 Moreover, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel haue layed the foundation of this house: his hands shall also finish it, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you.

10 For who hath despised the dayes of the small things? but they shall reioyce, & shall see the stone of a time in the hands of Zerubbabel: these seuen are the eyes of the Lord, which behold the whole worlde.

11 Then answered I, & sayd vnto him, What are these two olive trees vpon the right & vpon the left side thereof?

12 And I spake moreover, and said vnto him, What be these two olive pipes, which throwe the two golden pipes emptye themselves into the golde?

13 And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

14 Then sayde he, These are the two olive branches, that stande with the ruler of the whole earth:

though the world be against him, and though his for a while be encouraged, because they see not things pleasant to his eye. That the God hath seuen eyes: meaning, a continual providence, so that Satan nor any power in the worlde can get about or bring any thing to passe to hinder his worke, Chap. 3. 9. I Which were two great trees of oyle, so that all they poured forth oyle into the lampes, signifying that God will continually maintaine and preserve his Church, and that it shall with abundance and perfection of graces.

CHAP. IV.

The vision of the flying bookes, signifying the curse of thinnes, & the such as abuse the Name of God. 4. By the vision of the measure is signified the bringing of Iudaea of Iudaea into Babylon.

1 Then I turned mee, and lifted vp mine eyes and looked, and beholde, a flying booke.

2 And he sayd vnto mee, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying booke: the length thereof was twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof ten cubites.

3 Then sayd he vnto mee, This is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for every one that sweareth, shall be cut of as well on this side, as on that: and every one that sweareth, shall be cut of as well on this side, as on that.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hostes, and it shall enter into the house of the thiefe, & into the house of him, that falsely sweareth by my Name: and it shall remaine in the middes of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with mee, went forth, and said vnto me, Lift vp now thyne eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an Ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is the sight of them through all the earth.

The threatening of the Gentiles. The coming of Christ.

The burden of the worde of the Lorde in the land of Hadrach: and Damascus shalbe his rest: when the eyes of mā, euen of all the tribes of Israel shalbe toward the Lord.

And Hamath also shall border thereby: Tyrus also and Zidon, though they be very wile.

For Tyrus did buyde her selfe a strong holde, and heaped vp silver as the dust, & golde as the myre of the streetes.

Behold, the Lord wil spoyle her, & he wil smite her power in the Sea, & shee shalbe deuoured with fire.

Ashkelon shall see it, & feare, and Azzah also shalbe very forowfull, and Ekron: for her countenance shalbe ashamed, and the King shall perish from Azzah, and Ashkelon that nor be inhabited:

And the stranger shal dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut of the pride of the Philistims.

And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from betweene his teeth: but he that remaineth, euen he shalbe for our God, and he shalbe as a prince in Iudah, but Ekron shalbe as a Iebusite.

And I will campe about mine House against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressor shall come vpon them any more: for nowe I haue I seene with mine eyes.

Reioyce greatly, O daughter Zion: shout for ioy, O daughter Ierusalem: behold, thy King commeth vnto thee. he is iust & saved himself, poore & riding vpon an asse, and vpon a colt the foale of an asse.

And I wil cut of the chariots from Ephraim, and the horse from Ierusalem: the bow of the battell shall be broken, and he shall speake peace vnto the heathen, & his dominion shalbe from sea vnto sea, and from the Riuer to the end of the land.

And I will beneficiall to shoulde Ekron and all the Philistims. k He sheweth that power onely shalbe sufficient to defende his Church against all enemies: be they neuer so cruel or assemble their power neuer so oft.

Thou also shalt be saved through the blood of thy euenant. I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pitte wherein is no water.

Twene you to the strong holde, ye prisoners of hope: euen to day do I declare, as that I wil render thee double vnto thee.

For Iudah haue I bent as a bow for me: Ephraim habde haue I filled, and I haue raysed vp thy sonnes, O Zion, against thy sonnes, O Grecia, and haue made thee as a gyants sword.

And the Lorde shalbe seene ouer them, and his arrowe shal go forth as the lightning: and the Lorde God shall blowe the trumpet, and shall come soorth with the whirlewindes of the South.

The Lord of hostes shall defende them, and they shal deuoute them, and subdue them with sling stones, & they shal drinke, and make a noyse as thorow wine, and they shalbe filled like bowles, and as the hornes of the altar.

And the Lorde their God shall deliuer them in that daye as the flocke of his people: for they shalbe as the stones of the crowne lifted vp vpon his land.

For how great is his goodness, and howe great is his beautie: come shall make the yong men cheerefully, and newe wine the maydes.

That is, double benefices, and prosperitie in respect of that which your fathers enioyed from Dauids time to the captiuitie. y I wil make Iudah and Ephraim; that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which he here meaneth by the Grecians. z He promisseth that the Iewes shall destroye their enemies and haue abundance, and excess of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to moue them to intemperancie, but to sobrietie, and a thankfull remembrance of Gods great liberalitie. a The faithfull shalbe preferred, and reuerenced of all, that the very enemies shall be compelled to effeme them: for Gods glorie shall shine in them, as Iosephus declareth of Alexander the great when he met Iadi the high Priest.

Aske you of the Lord raine in the time of the latter rayne: so shall the Lorde make white clouds, & giue you snowes of raine, and to euery one grasse in the field.

Surely the idoles haue spoken vanitie, and the soughlayers haue scene a lye, and the dreamers haue tolde a vayne thing: they comfort in vayne: therefore they gods iust iudgement: went away as sheepe: they were troubled, because there was no shepherd.

My wrath was kindled against the shepherds, and I did visite goats: but the Lord of hosts wil visite his flocke the house of Iudah, and wil make them as his beautifull horse in the battell.

Out of him shall the corner come forth: He calleth to remembrance Gods punishments in tymes past because they trusted not in him, but in their idoles and forcerers who euer deceyued them. c That is, the Iewes went into captiuitie. d Meaning, the cruell gouernours which did oppress the poore sheepe, Ezek. 34. 17. e He will be mercifull to his Church and cherishe them as a King or Prince doeth his best horse which shall be for his owne vse in the warre. f Out of Iudah shall the chief gouernour procede, who shalbe as a corner to vpholde the building & as a nail to fasten it together.

Meaning, Ierusalem or the Church, which is saved by the blood of Christ wherof the blood of the sacrifices was a figure, and is here called the couenant of the church, because God made it with his Church, and Iesuit with them for the ioye that he here vnto them. 6 And I will strengthen the house of Iudab, and I will preſerue the house of Ioseph, & I will bring them againe, for I pitie them: & they shall be as though I had not caſt them of: for I am the Lorde their God, and will heare them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be as a gyant, and their heart shall reioyce as thorow winges: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad: and their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will hisse for them, and gather them: for I haue redeemed them: and they shall encrease, as they haue encreased.

9 And I will sowe them among the people, and they shall remember mee in farre countreys: and they shall liue with their children and turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Affhur: and I will bring them into the land of Gilead, and Lebanon, and place shall not be found for them.

11 And he shall go into the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waues in the sea, and all the depthes of the riuer shall drye vp: and the pryde of Affhur shall be caſt downe, and the ſcepter of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walke in his Name, sayth the Lord.

13 Not that they should retorne into their country, but be gathered & ioyned in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospel. m He alludeth to the deliuerance of the people out of Egypt where as the Angel smote the floodes and riuers.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The cure of the faithfull is committed to Christ. 7 A grievous vision against Ierusalem and Iudab.

1 Open thy doores, O Lebanon, & the fire shall deuoure thy cedars.

2 Houle, fyrrre trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mightie are destroyed: houle ye, Ookes of Baſhan, for the defended foreſt is cut downe.

3 There is the voyce of the howling of the ſhepherdes: for their glorie is destroyed: the voyce of the roaring of Lyons whelps: for the pride of Iorden is destroyed.

4 Thus sayth the Lord my God, Feede the ſheepe of the ſlaughter.

5 They that poſſeſſe them, ſlaye them: and ſinne not: & they that ſell them, ſay, Bleſ-

a Because the Iewes thought themselves so strong by reason of this mountayne, that no enemy could come to hurt them, the Prophet sheweth when God ſendeth enemies, it shall shew it ſelfe ready to reſcue them. b Shewing that if the strong me were destroyed, the weaker were not able to reſiſt. c Seyng that Lebanon was destroyed, which was the ſtrongest munition, the weaker places coulde not thinke to hold out. d That is, the renowme of Iudab & Iſrael ſhould periſh. e Which bringyng now deſtinate to be ſlayne, were deliuered as out of the lions mouth. f Their gouernours destroy them without any remorse of conſcience, or yet thinking that they do euil. g He noteth the hypocrites, which euer haue the Name of God in their mouth, thogh in their life & doings they deny god, attributing theyr gaine to Gods bleſſing, which cometh of the ſpoyle of their brethren.

ſed be the Lorde: for I am riche, and their owne ſhepherds ſpare them not.

6 Surely I will no more ſpare thoſe that dwell in the land, ſayth the Lorde: but lo, I will deliuer the men euery one into his neighbours hand, & into the hande of his King: & they ſhall ſmite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

7 For I fed the ſheepe of ſlaughter, euen the poore of the flocke, and I tooke vnto me two ſtaues: the one I called Beautie, and the other I called Bandes, and I fed the ſheepe.

8 Three ſhepherdes alſo I cut of in one moneth, and my ſoule lothed them, and their ſoule abhorred me.

9 Then ſaid I, I will not feede you: that that dyeth, let it dye: and that that periſheth, let it periſh: and let the remnant eate, euery one the fleſhe of his neighbour.

10 And I tooke my ſtaffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might diſannul my covenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and ſo the poore of the ſheepe that waited vpon me, knew that it was the word of the Lorde.

12 And I ſayde vnto them, If yee thinke it good, giue me my wages: & if no, leaue of: ſo they weighed for my wages thirtie pieces of ſiluer.

13 And the Lorde ſayd vnto me, Caſt it vnto the potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie pieces of ſiluer, and caſt them to the potter in the houſe of the Lorde.

14 Then brake I mine other ſtaffe, euen the Bandes, that I might diſſolue the brotherhood betwene Iudab and Iſrael.

15 And the Lorde ſayd vnto mee, Take to thee yet the instruments of a fooliſhe ſhepherd.

16 For lo, I will rayſe vp a ſhepherde in the land, which ſhall not looke for the thing, that is loſt, nor ſeek the tender lambes, nor heale that that is hurt, nor ſeede that that ſtandeth vp: but he ſhall ear the fleſh of the fat, & tear the clawes in pieces.

Beholde, I will make Ierusalem a cuppe of poyson vnto all the people round about: and also with Iudah wil he be, in the siege agaynst Ierusalem.

And in that day wil I make Ierusalem an heauie stone for al people: al that lift it vp, shalbe torne, though all the people of the earth be gathered together agaynst it.

In that day, saith the Lord, I wil smite euerie horse with stonishment, & his rider with madnesse, and I wil open mine eyes vpon the house of Iudah, & wil smite euery horse of the people with blindnesse.

And the princes of Iudah shal say in their hearts, The inhabitants of Ierusalem shal be my strength in the Lord of hostes their God.

In that day wil I make the princes of Iudah like coles of fire among the wood, and like a fire brand in the sheafe, and they shal deuoure all the people round about on the right hand, and on the left: and Ierusalem shalbe inhabited againe in her owne place, euen in Ierusalem.

The Lord also shal preserve the tents of Iudah, as afore time: therefore the glorie of the house of Dauid shal not boast, nor the glorie of the inhabitants of Ierusalem agaynst Iudah.

In that day shal the Lord defend the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and he that is feeble among them, in that day shalbe as Dauid: and the house of Dauid shalbe as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Lord, before them.

And in that day wil I seeke to destroy all the nations that come agaynst Ierusalem.

And I wil powre vpon the house of Dauid, & vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem the Spirit of grace and of compassion, and they shal looke vpon me, whom they haue feared, and they shal lament for him, as one mourneth for his onely sonne, and be sorry for him as one is sorie for his first borne.

In that day shal there be a great mourning in Ierusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in y valley of Megiddon.

And the land shal bewaile euerie familie apart, the familie of the house of Dauid apart, and their wiues apart: the familie of the house of Nathan apart, and their wiues apart:

The familie of the house of Leui apart, and their wiues apart: the familie of Simeon apart, and their wiues apart:

All the families that remaine, euery familie apart, and their wiues apart.

They haue so grievously offended by their ingratitude. h They shall haue and repent exceedingly for their offences agaynst God.

Which was the name of a towne and place nere to Megiddon where Iudah was slayne, 2. Chro. 35. 23. k That is, in al places where the leues shall remayne.

Signifying that this mourning or repentance shoul not be a vayne ceremony: but euery one touched with his owne griefe shall lament. m Vnder these certayne families he conueneatly al the tribes, and sheweth that both the Kings and the Priests had by their sinnes perced Christ. n Called also Simeon.

To wit, which were elect by grace, and preferred from the common destruction.

In that day there shalbe a fountaine opened to the house of Dauid, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem; for sinne and for vncleannes.

And in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I wil cut of the names of the idoles out of the land: and they shall no more be remembered: and I wil cause the prophets, and the vncleane spirit to depart out of the land.

And when any shall yet prophesie, his father and his mother that begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue: for thou speakest lies in the Name of the Lord: and his father and his mother that begate him, shal thrust him through, while he prophesieth.

And in that day shal the Prophets be ashamed euery one of his vision, when he hath prophesied: neither shall they weare a rough garment to decieve.

But he shal say, I am no Prophet: I am an husband man: for man taught me to be an heardman from my youth vp.

And one shal say vnto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

Arise, O sworde, vpon my shepheard, and vpon the man, that is my fellowe, saith the Lord of hostes: smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shalbe scattered: and I will turne mine hand vpon the lile ones.

And in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shalbe cut of, & die: but the third shalbe left therein.

And I wil bring that third part thorow the fire, and will fine them as the siluer is fined, and will trie them as golde is tried: they shal call on my Name, and I wil heare them: I wil say, It is my people, and they shall say, The Lord is my God.

They shall confesse their former ignorance, and be content to labour for their liuing. h Hereby he sheweth that though their parents and friends delt more gently with them, and put them out to death, yet they would so punish their children, that became false prophets, that the markes and signes should remaine for euer. i The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort shoulde come vnder Christ, there shoulde be an horrible dissipation among the people: for their gouernours and pastors shoulde be destroyed, and the people shoulde bee as scattered sheepe: and the Euangelist applieth this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastours, Mat. 26. 31. k The greatest part shall haue no porcion of these blessings, and yet they that shall enioy them, shalbe tried with great afflictions, so that it shalbe known that onely Gods power and his mercies do preterue them.

Of the doctrine that shall proceede out of the Church, & of the restoration thereof.

Behold, the day of the Lord commeth, and thy spoyle shalbe deuided in the middes of thee.

For I wil gather all nations agaynst Ierusalem, before they enioyed this prosperous estate promised vnder Christ, that when these daungers shoulde come, they might know that they were warned of them afore.

He sheweth what shalbe the fruit of theyr repentance, to wit, remission of sinnes by the blood of Christ, which shalbe continual running fountaine, and purge them from al vncleannes.

He promiset that God wil also purge them from al superstition and that their religion shalbe pure.

Meaning, the false Prophets & teachers, who are the corrupters of all religion, whom the Prophet here calleth vncleane spirites.

That is, when they shal prophesie lies, & make God, who is the authour of truth, a cloke thereunto.

He sheweth what zeale the godly shal haue vnder the kingdom of Christ.

God shal make them ashamed of their errors and lies & bring them to repentance, and they shal no more weare Prophets apparel to make their doctrine seeme more holie.

They shall confesse their former ignorance, and be content to labour for their liuing.

Hereby he sheweth that though their parents and friends delt more gently with them, and put them out to death, yet they would so punish their children, that became false prophets, that the markes and signes should remaine for euer.

The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort shoulde come vnder Christ, there shoulde be an horrible dissipation among the people: for their gouernours and pastors shoulde be destroyed, and the people shoulde bee as scattered sheepe: and the Euangelist applieth this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastours, Mat. 26. 31.

12 And this shall be the plague, wherewith the Lord will smite all people, that have fought against Ierusalem: their flesh shall consume away, though they stand vpon their fecte, and their eyes shall consume in their holes, & their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13. But in that day <sup>m</sup> a great tumult of the Lord shall be among them, and euerie one shall take <sup>m</sup> the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise vp against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Iudah shall fight also against Ierusalem, and the arme of all the heathen shall be gathered round about, with gold and silver, and great abundance of apparel.

15 Yet this shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel and of the ass and of all the beasts that be in these tents as this plague.

16 But it shall come to passe that every one that is left of all the nations, which came against Ierusalem, shall go vp from yere to yere to worshippe the King the Lord of hostes, and to keepe the feast of Tabernacles:

17 And who so will not come vp of all the families of the earth vnto Ierusalem to worship the King the Lord of hostes, euen vpon them shall come no raine.

MALACHI.

THE MESSAGE.
THE ARGUMENT.

THis Prophet was one of the three, which God raised up for the comfort of his Church after the captivity, and after him there was no more until Iohn Baptist was sent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they should with more fervent desires looke for the coming of Messiah. He confirmeth the same doctrine, that the two former do, but chiefly he reproveth the Priests for their countenance, and for that they served God after their owne fantasies, & not according to the prescript of his word. He also noteth certaine peculiar sinnes which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and manie wives, murmuring against God, impaciencie, and such like. Notwithstanding, for the comfort of the godly, he declareth that God would not forget his promises made unto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whome the covenant should be accomplished, whose coming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and joye unto the godly.

CHAP. I.

A complaint against Israel and chiefly the Priests.

He burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by y minister of Malachi.

I have loved you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved vs? Was not Esau Iakobs brother, saith the Lord? yet I loved Iakob,

And I hated Esau, and made his mountaines waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons.

Though Edom say, We are impouerished, but we will returne and buyld the desolate places, yet saith the Lord of hostes, they shall builde, but I will destroy it, and they shall call them, The border of wickednes, and the people, with whome the Lord is angrie for euer.

And your eyes shal see it, and ye shal say, The Lord wilbe magnified vpon the border of Israel.

A sonne honoureth his father, and a seru-ant his master. If then I be a father, where is mine honour? & if I be a master, where is my feare, saith the Lord of hostes vnto you, O Priests, that despise my Name: and ye say, Wherein haue we despised thy Name?

Ye offer vncleane bread vpon mine altar, and you say, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye say the table of the Lord is not to be regarded.

And if ye offer the blinde for sacrifice, it is not euil: and if ye offer the lame and sicke, it is not euil: offer it now vnto thy prince: wil he be content with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hostes?

And now, I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs: this hath bene by your means: wil he regard your persons, saith the Lord of hostes?

Who is there euen among you, that would shut the doores? and kindle not fire on mine altar in vaine, I haue no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hostes, neither wil I accept an offering at your hand.

For from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my Name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shalbe offered vnto my Name, and a pure offering: for my Name is great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hostes.

But ye haue polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruite thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

Ye said also, Beholde, it is a wearinesse, and ye haue snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hostes, & ye offered that which was torne, and the lame & the sicke: thus ye offered an offering: should I accept this of your hand, saith the Lord?

But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flocke a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth vnto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the Lord of hostes, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

Law framed his words to the capacite of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice he meaneth the spiritual seruite of God, which should be vnder the Gospel, when an end should be made to all these legal ceremonies by Christs only sacrifice. n Both the Priests and the people were infected with this error, that they passed not what was offered: for they thought that God was as well content with the leane as with the fatte: but in the meane season they shewed not that obedience to God, which he required, & so comited both impietie, and also shewed their contempt of God, and countenances. o The Priests and people were both wearie with seruing God, & passed not what manner of sacrifice & seruite they gaue to God, for that which was left profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord. p That is, hath habilite to serue the Lord according to his word, & yet wil serue him according to his countous minde.

CHAP. II.

Threatnings against the Priests being seducers of the people.

And now, O ye Priests, this commandement is for you.

If ye will not heare it, nor consider it in your heart, to giue glorie vnto my people also. b To serue me according to my worde.

He denieth the Priests who had the people in hand, that they prayed for the people, and sheweth that they were the occasion that these euils came vpon the people.

Will God consider your office and state, saying you are so countous, and wicked?

I Because the Leuites who kept the doores, did not try whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Law, God witheth that they would rather shut the doores then to receive such as were not perfite.

m God sheweth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true seruite shalbe the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: & here the Prophet was vnder the the calling of the Gentiles. which was now accomplished in the place of the temple, but before that time it was not so.

APOCRYPHA.

THE ARGUMENT.

THese bookes that follow in order after the Prophets unto the Newe testamēt are called Apocrypha, that is, bookes which were not received by a common consent to be read or expounded publicly in the Church, neither yet served to prove any point of Christian religion, save in as much as they had the consent of the other Scriptures called Canonical to confirme the same, or rather whereon they were grounded: but as bookes proceeding from godly men, were received to be read for the advancement and furtherance of the knowledge of the historie, and for the instruction of godly maner: which bookes declare that at all times God had an especiall care of his Church, and left them not utterly destitute of teachers or means to confirme them in the hope of the promised Messiah, and also witnesseth that those calamities that God sent to his Church, were according to his providence, who had both so threatened by his Prophets, and so brought it to passe for the destruction of their enemies, and for the tryall of his children.

CHAP. I.

1 Iosias appointeth Priests, & keepeth the Pascheouer. 7 Offerings for the Priests and the people. 11 The order of the Leuites. 12 The upright life of Iosias. 13 His death and the occasion thereof, and the lamentation for him. 14 Ioachaz, appointed King. 15 The destruction of Ierusalem.

And Iosias kept the Pascheouer to his Lord in Ierusalem, and offered the Pascheouer in the fourthenth day of the first moneth,

2 And appointed the Priests according to their daily courses, being clothed with long garments in the Temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake to the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should sanctifie the felues to the Lorde, to set the holy Arke of the Lord in the House, which Salomon the sonne of King Dauid had built.

4 And said, Ye shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulders: nowe therefore setue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people of Israel, and prepare according to your families and tribes,

5 After the writing of Dauid King of Israel, & according to the maiestie of Salomon his sonne, and stand in the Temple (according to the order of the dignitie of your fathers the Leuites) which were appointed before your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer in order the Pascheouer, & make ready the sacrifices for your Brethren, & keepe the Pascheouer after the Lordes commandement given to Moyses.

7 And Iosias gaue to the people that was present, thirtie thousand lambes and kids with three thousand calues.

8 These were giuen of the Kings possessions according to the promises, to the people, and to the Priests, and to the Leuites. Then gaue Helkias and Zacharias and Syelus the gouernours of the Temple, to the Priests for the Pascheouer two thousand sheepe, and three hundred calues.

9 Furthermore, Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, & Sabias, & Chielus, and Iorani captaines gaue to the Leuites for the Pascheouer fixe thousand fixe hundred sheepe, and seven hundred calues.

10 And when these things were done, the Priests and the Leuites stode in order, hauing vnleavened bread according to the tribes,

11 And after the order of the dignitie of their fathers, before the people to offer to the Lord, as it is writen in the bookes of Moyses: and thus they did in the morning.

12 And they roasted the Pascheouer with fire as appertained, and they sod their offerings with perfumes in caldrons and pottes.

13 And set it before all them that were of the people, and afterward they prepared for the felues, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the sacrifice vnto the euenning, and the Leuites did make ready for the felues, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the holy fingers, the sonnes of Alaph, were in their orders, according to the appointed ordinances of Dauid, to wit, Alaph, & Azarias, and Eddinus, which was of the Kings appointment.

16 And the porters were at euery gate, so that it was not lawfull, that any should passe his ordinarie watche: for their brethren the Leuites made ready for them.

17 And in that day those things which appertained to the sacrifice of the Lord, were accomplished, that they might offer the Pascheouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of King Iosias.

19 So the children of Israel, which were present at that time, kept the Pascheouer, and the feast of vnleavened bread seven daies.

20 And there was not such a Pascheouer kept in Israel since the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 And all the Kings of Israel did not offer such a Pascheouer, as did Iosias, and the Priests, & the Leuites, and the Jewes, and all Israel, which were found to remaine in Ierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Iosias was this Pascheouer kept.

23 The workes of Iosias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godlines.

24 And concerning the things which came to passe in his time, they are written before, so that the wordes of the Lorde stode vp against Israel.

25 ¶ Now after all these actes of Iosias, it came to passe that when Pharaon King of Egypt came to moue warre at Carchamis vpon Euphrates, Iosias went out against him.

I. Efdras.

- 26 But the King of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, o King of Iudea?
- 27 I am not sent of the Lord God againſt thee:
but my warre is vpon Euphrates, and nowe
the Lord is with me, and the Lorde haſteneth me forward: depart from me, and be not againſt the Lord.
- 28 But Iofias would not turne back his chariot from him, but prepared him ſelfe to fight with him, not regarding the wordes of Ieremias the Prophet by the mouth of the Lord.
- 29 But he ſet him ſelfe in battell aray againſt him in the field of Megeado, and the princes came downe to King Iofias.
- 30 And the King ſaid to his ſeruants, Conuey me out of the battell, for I am very weake.
And by and by his ſeruants brought him out of the battell.
- 31 So he gate vp on his ſecond chariot, & being come againe to Ieruſalem he changed his life, and was buried in his fathers graue.
- 32 And in all Iudea was Iofias bewayled, yea, Ieremias the Prophet did lament for Iofias, and the gouernours and their wiues did lament him vnto this day: and this was ordeined in all the kindred of Iſrael, to be done continually.
- 33 But theſe things are written in the booke of the ſtorie of the Kings of Iudea, and euery one of the actes that Iofias did, and his glorie, and his knowledge in the Lawe of the Lord, and the things which he did before, and the things now rehearſed are regiſtred in the booke of the Kings of Iſrael & Iudea.
- 34 Then they of the nation tooke * Ioachaz the ſonne of Iofias, and made him King in ſtead of his father Iofias, when he was three and twentie yere olde.
- 35 And he reigned in Iudea and in Ieruſalem three moneths: for the King of Egypt depoſed him from reigning in Ieruſalem.
- 36 He taxed alſo the people of an hundreth talents of ſiluer, and one talent of gold.
- 37 And the King of Egypt made Ioachim his brother King of Iudea and Ieruſalem.
- 38 And he bound Ioachaz & his gouernours:
but when he had taken Zaraces his brother,
he led him away into Egypt.
- 39 Twentie & ſiue yere olde was Ioachim, when he reigned in Iudea and Ieruſalem, and he did euill in the ſight of the Lord.
- 40 Wherefore againſt him came vp Nabuchodonofor King of Babylon, who when he had bound him with a chaine of braſſe, lead him away into Babylon.
- 41 Then Nabuchodonofor tooke of the holie veſſels of the Lord, and caried them away, & ſet them in his temple at Babylon.
- 42 But all his actes, and his prophanation, and his reproche are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings.
- 43 And Ioachim his ſonne reigned for him: and when he was made King, he was eighteen yere olde.
- 44 And he reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Ieruſalem, and he did euill in the ſight of the Lorde.
- 45 ¶ So a yere after Nabuchodonofor ſent and brought him to Babylon with the holy veſſels of the Lord.
- 46 And he made Sedecias King of Iudea and Ieruſalem, when he was one and twenty yere olde, and he reigned eleuen yeres.
- 47 And he did euill in the ſight of the Lord, neither did he feare the wordes ſpoken * by Ieremias, the Prophet from the mouth of the Lord.
- 48 For after that hee was ſworne to Kyng Nabuchodonofor, he forſware him ſelfe by the Name of the Lorde and fell away, and hardened his necke and his hearte, and transgreſſed the Lawes of the Lorde God of Iſrael.
- 49 Alſo the gouernours of the people, and the Prieſts committed many things againſt the Lawes, and paſſed al the pollutions of al nations, and polluted the Temple of the Lord, which was ſanctified in Ieruſalem.
- 50 Neuertheleſſe the GOD of their fathers ſent his meſſenger to call them backe, becauſe he ſpared them and his owne Tabernacle.
- 51 But they derided his meſſengers, and in the day, that the Lord ſpake vnto them, they mocked his Prophets,
- 52 So that he, being moued to anger againſt his people for their great wickednes, commanded the Kings of the Chaldeans to inuade them.
- 53 Theſe killed their yong mē with the ſword round about their holie Temple, neither did they ſpare yong man, nor maiden, neither olde man, nor childe among them.
- 54 But he deliuered them all into their hands, and all the holy veſſels of the Lorde, both great and ſmall with the veſſels of the Arke of God: and they tooke, and caried away the Kings treasures into Babylon.
- 55 And they ſet fire in the Houſe of the Lord, and brake downe the wallſ of Ieruſalem, & burnt their towers with fire.
- 56 They conſumed alſo al the precious things thereof, and brought them to naught, and thoſe that were left by the ſword, he caried away into Babylon.
- 57 And they were ſeruants to him, and to his children till the Perſians reigned, to fulfill the worde of the Lord by the mouth of * Ieremias,
- 58 And that the lande might inioye her Sabbaths all the time, that it was deſolate, til ſeuentie yeres were accompliſhed.

CHAP. II.

1 Cyrus came leaue to the Iewes to returne. 10 He ſent the holie veſſels. 13 The names of them that returned. 16 Their aduerſaries did let their buildyng, and the Kings letters for the ſame.

- 1 IN * the firſt yere of the reigne of CYRUS King of the Perſians, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremias, 2 The Lord raiſed vp the ſpirit of Cyrus King of the Perſians, and he made proclamation throughout all his kingdome, euen by expreſſe letters,

18 Saying, Thus sayth Cyrus King of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, euen the most high Lord, hath made me King ouer the whole world, 19 And he hath comanded me to buylde him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudea.

20 If there be any therefore of you of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord be with him, and let him go vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudea, and buylde the House of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord which dwelleth in Ierusalem.

21 All they then that dwel in the places round about, those, I say, that are in his place, let the helpe him with golde and siluer,

22 With giftes, with horses and cattell, and other things, which shalbe brought, according to the vowes into the Temple of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem.

23 ¶ Then arose the chiefe of the families of Iudea, and of the tribe of Benjamin, and the Priests and Leuites, and al whose minde the Lord had moued to goe vp, and buylde an House to the Lord in Ierusalem.

24 And those that were about them, helped them in all things with siluer and golde, horses, and cattell, & with diuers vowes of many whose mindes were stirred vp.

25 Also King Cyrus brought out the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caryed out of Ierusalem, and had consecrated them in the Temple of his idoles.

26 Now when Cyrus King of the Persians had brought them out, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer, 27 By whom they were giuen to Abassar the gouernour of Iudea.

28 Whereof this was the number: a thousand golden cuppes, and a thousand siluer cuppes, basins of siluer for the sacrifices, nine and twentie, vials, of golde thirtie, and of siluer two thousand, foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

29 So all the vessels of golde and siluer, which they caryed away, were fise thousand, foure hundred, three score and nine.

30 They were brought by Sanabassar with the of the captiuitie of Babylon to Ierusalem.

31 ¶ But in the time of Artaxerxes King of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathumus, and Beelthumus, and Semellius the secretarie, and others which were ioyned to these, dwelling in Samaria and in other places, wrote vnto him this epistle here following against them, that dwelt in Iudea and Ierusalem, TO THE KING ARTAXERXES OVR LORD, 32 Thy seruants, Rathumus the writer of things that come to passe, and Semellius the secretarie, and the rest of their counsell, and the iudges which are in Coelosyria and Phenice.

33 Be it nowe therefore knowne to our lorde the King, that the Iewes which came vp fro you, are come to vs into Ierusalem, that rebellious and wicked citie, & buylde the market places, and make vp the walles thereof, and lay the foundations of the Temple.

34 Therefore if this citie be buylt, and the walles be finished, they will not onely not indure to paye tribute, but will also resist Kings.

35 And because the things, pertaining to the Temple, go forward, we thought it not meet to passe ouer such a thing.

36 But to declare it to our lorde the King, that if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought out in the bookes of thy fathers, 37 And thou shalt finde in the Chronicles the writings concerning these things, and shalt knowe that this citie did alwaies rebel, and did trouble both Kings and cities.

38 And that the Iewes are rebellious, raising alwaies warres therein: for the which cause also this citie was made desolate.

39 Now therefore, O lorde the King, we declare it, that if this citie be buylt and the walles thereof repaired, you shal haue no more passage into Coelosyria, nor Phenice.

40 ¶ Then the King wrote againe to Rathumus, that wrote the thinges that came to passe, and to Beelthumus, and to Semellius the secretarie, and to the rest of those that were ioyned with them; and to the dwellers of Samaria, Syria and Phenice, these things that followe.

41 I haue read the epistle, which ye sent to me: therefore I commanded, that it should be sought out, and it was found, that this citie hath alwaies practised against Kings.

42 And that the men thereof were giuen to rebellion and warres, and howe that mightie Kings and fierce haue reigned in Ierusalem, which tooke tribute of Coelosyria, and Phenice.

43 Now therefore I haue commanded to forbid these men to buylde vp the citie, and that it be taken heede that no more be done.

44 And that those wicked things, which should molest the King, goe not forward.

45 Then when Rathumus, and Semellius the secretarie and the rest, which were ioyned with them, had read the thinges, which King Artaxerxes had writen, they moued their tents with speede to Ierusalem with horses and men in aray, 46 And began to let them which buylt, so that the buylding of the Temple in Ierusalem ceased vnto the second yere of the reigne of Darius King of the Persians.

CHAP. III.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The three wise men. 1 Now when Darius reigned, he made a great feast to all his subiectes and to all those of his owne house, and to all the Princes of Media and Persia.

2 And to all the gouernours and captaines, and lieutenants that were with him, from India vnto Ethiopia of an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunke, and were satisfied, they departed, and King Darius went into his chamber, and slept, till he wakened againe.

4 ¶ In the meane time three yong men of Aaaa ij. the

Or, Sanabassar, or Sanabassar.

Or, Beelthumus.

Or, Semellius.

- the garde, keepers of the Kings body, sayd one to another.
- Let every one of vs speake a sentence, and he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall appeare wiser then the others, Darius the King shall giue him great giftes, & great things in token of victorie.
- As to wear purple, and to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of gold, an head tyre of fine linnen, and a chaine about his necke.
- And he shall sit next to Darius for his wisdom, and shall be called Darius cousin.
- Then euery man wrote his sentence, and sealed it, and put it vnder the pillowe of King Darius.
- And said, when the King rose, they would giue him the writing, and whose sentence the King and the three princes of Persia should iudge to be wisest, to him should the victorie be giuen, as it was appointed.
- One wrote, The wine is strongest.
- The other wrote, The King is strongest.
- The other wrote, Women are strongest, but trueth ouercommeth all things.
- ¶ And when the King rose, they tooke the writings, and gaue them to him, and hee read them,
- And sent and called all the noble men of Persia and of Media, and the gouernours and the capitaines, and lieutenants, and the counsellors.
- And sate him downe in the counsel, and the writing was read before them.
- Then he sayd, Call the yong men, that they may declare their owne sentences. So they called them, and they came in.
- Then he said vnto them, Declare vnto vs the writings. So the first began, which had spoken of the strength of wine.
- And said on this maner, O ye men, howe strong is wine! it deceiueth all men, that drinke it.
- It maketh the minde of the King and of the fatherles, both one, of the bonde man and of the free man, of the poore man and of the riche man.
- It turneth also euerie thought into ioye & gladnes, so that one remembreth no maner of sorowe, nor dette.
- It maketh euerie heart riche, so that one remembreth neither King nor gouernour, and causeth to speake all things by talents.
- When me haue drunke, they haue no mind to loue either friends or brethren, and a lile after they drawe out swordes.
- But when they are from the wine, they do not remember what they haue done.
- O ye men, is not wine strongest, which compelleth to doe such things? and he helde his peace when he had thus spoken.

C H A P. III.

Of the strength of a King. 13. Of the strength of women.
24. Of the strength of trueth, which sentence is approped,
47. And his periclon graunted.

- Then the second which had spoken of the strength of the King, began to say,
- O ye men, are not men strongest, which beare rule by land and by sea, and ouer all things which are in them?
- But the King is yet greater: for he ruleth all things, and is lord of them, so that they do all things which he commandeth them.
- If he bid them make warre one against another, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they goe and breake downe mountaines and walles and towers.
- They kill and are killed, & do not passe the commandment of the King: if they overcome, they bring all to the King, as well the spoyles as all other things.
- And those also which go not to warre and battel, but till the earth: for when they haue sowne it againe, they reape it, and bring it to the King, and compell one another to paye tribute to the King.
- Yet he is but one man: if he bid, Kill, they kill: if he say, Spare, they spare.
- If he bid, Smite, they smite: if he bid them, Make desolate, they make desolate: if he bid, Buylde, they buylde.
- If he bid, Cut of, they cut of: if he bid, Plāt, they plant.
- So all his people & all his armics obey one man: in the meane while he sitteth downe, he eateth, and drinketh and sleepeth.
- For these keepe him round about: neither can any one goe and do his owne busines, neither are they disobedient vnto him.
- O ye men, howe should not the King bee strongest, seeing he is thus obeyed! So he helde his tongue.
- ¶ Then the third which had spoken of women and of the trueth (this was Zorobabel) began to speake,
- O ye men, neither the mightie King, nor many men nor wine is strongest: who then ruleth them or hath dominion ouer them?
- are they not women?
- Women haue borne the King and all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.
- Euen of them were they borne, and they nourished them, which planted the vines, of which the wine is made.
- They also make mens garments, and make men honorable: neither can men be without women.
- And if they haue gathered together golde and siluer, or any goodly thing, do they not loue a faire and beautifull woman?
- Do they not leaue all those things and giue themselves wholly vnto her, and gaze, and gaze vpon her, and all men desire her more then golde, or siluer, or any precious thing?
- A man leaueh his own father which hath nourished him, and his owne countrey, and is ioyned with his wife.
- And for the woman he icopardeth his life, and neither remembreth father nor mother nor countrey.
- Therefore by this ye may knowe that the women beare rule ouer you: doe ye not labour and traueil, and giue and bring all to the women?
- Yea, a man taketh his sword and goeth forth forth to kill, and to steale, and to faile vpon

the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And he seeth a lion, and goeth in darknes, and when he hath stollen, ransomed and spoy-led, he bringeth it to his loue, 25 Wherefore a man loueth his owne wife more then father or mother, 26 Yes, many haue runne mad for women, and haue bene seruants for them, 27 Many also haue perished and haue erred & sinned for women, 28 Now therefore do you not beleue me? is not the King great in his power? doe not all regions feare so touch him?
29 Yea I saw him, and Apame, the Kings concubine, the daughter of the famous Battarcus, sitting on the right hand of the King, 30 And she tooke the crowne of the Kings head, and put it vpon her own, and strooke the King with her left hand, 31 Yet in the meane season the King gaped & gazed on her: and if she laughed at him, he laughed: and if she were angrie with him, he did flatter her that he might be reconcil-led with her, 32 Howe then, O ye men, are not women more strong, seeing they doe thus?
33 ¶ Then the King and the princes looked one vpon another, and he began to speake of the truth, 34 O ye men, are not women stronger? great is the earth, and the heauen is hig, and the sunne is swift in his course: for he runneth round about heauen in one day, and runneth again into his owne place, 35 Is not he great that maketh these things?
therefore the truth is greater and stronger
then all,
36 All the earth calleth for truth, & the heauen blesteth it: and all things are shaken and tremble, neither is there any vniust thing with it, 37 The wine is wicked, the King, & wicked women are wicked, and all the children of men are wicked, and all their wicked works are such, and there is no truth in them, and they perish in their iniquitie, 38 But truth doeth abide, and is strong for euer, and liueth and reigneth for euer and euer,
39 With her there is no receiuing of persons nor difference: but she doeth the things which are iust, and abstaineth from vniust & wicked things, and all men fauour her works, 40 Neither is there any vniust thing in her iudgement, and she is the strength and the kingdome and the power, and maistee of al ages. Blessed be the God of truth, 41 So he ceased to speake, and then all the people cried and said then, Truth is great and strongest,
42 Then the King said vnto him, Aske what thou wilt besides that which is appointed, & we will giue thee, because thou art found to be wise, and thou shalt haue libertie to sit by me, and shalt be called my cousin, 43 ¶ Then he said to the King, Remember the vowe that thou hast vowed to buyde Jerusalem, in the daye that thou tookest the kingdome, 44 And to sende againe all the vessels that were taken out of Ierusalem, which Cyrus separated when he made a vowe to cut off Babylon, and vowed to send them thither, 45 Thou also hast vowed to buyde the Temple, which the Idumeans burnt when Iudas was destroyed by the Chaldeans, 46 And now, O lord the King, this is that which I desire and require of thee, and this is the magnificence, which I require of thee:

I require therefore that thou wouldest accomplish the vowe which thou hast vowed with thine owne mouth to doe to the King of heauen, 47 Then King Darius sisting, reddid him, and he wrote him letters to all the gouernours and lieutenants, and capitaines, and gouernours, that they should bring on the way both him, and all that were with him, which went vp to buyde Ierusalem, 48 And he wrote letters to all the lieutenants in Coelosyria and Phenice, and to them that were in Libanus, that they should bring ce-der wood from Libanus to Ierusalem, and buyde the cite with him, 49 And he wrote for all the Iewes, which went out of his kingdome vnto Iudas, concerning their libertie, that the prince, nor lieutenant, nor gouernour, nor steward should enter into their doores, 50 And that all the reioys which they kept,
they should pay no tribute, and that the Idumeans should let goe the villages of the Iewes at which they held, 51 And that euery yere there should be given unto the building of the Temple twente celents vntill it were buyde, 52 And to mainteine the burnt offering vpon the altar euery day, (as they had a custom to offer seuen teuch, yether ten talents euery yere vnto the yeres,) 53 And that all they which went from Babylon to buyde the cite, should haue libertie, as well they as their posterie, and all the Priests that went away, and was cumm, 54 He wrote also touching the charges and the Priests garment, wherein they shoulde minister,
55 And he wrote that they shoulde giue the Leuites their charges vntill the house were finisshed, and Ierusalem buyde, 56 Also he wrote that they shoulde giue pensions and wages to them that kept the cite, 57 And he sent away all the vessels which Cyrus had set apart out of Babylon, and what Iudas had commanded to doe, he also commanded to doe it, and to sende to Ierusalem,
58 And when the young man was gone forth, he lift up his face to heauen towards Ieru-salem, and gaue thanks to the King of heauen, 59 Saying, Of thee is the victorie, and of thee is wisdom, and of thee is glorie, and I am worthy seruine,
60 Blessed be thou which hast given me wis-dome: for vnto thee I acknowledge it, O

the praise of truth. v. 38

a thanksgiving to God, for his mercies towards his people

33 The sonnes of the seruants of Salomon. The 34 sonnes of Asaphian, the sonnes of Pharira, 35 the sonnes of Ieceli, the sonnes of Lozon, the 36 sonnes of Ithael, the sonnes of Saphieuh.
 37 The sonnes of Agia, the sonnes of Phach-38 thethi, the sonnes of Sabie, the sonnes of 39 Sarothie, the sonnes of Masias, the sonnes 40 of Gar, the sonnes of Addus, the sonnes of 41 Subat, the sonnes of Apheria, the sonnes of 42 Barodis, the sonnes of Sabat, the sonnes of 43 Allomew. These were the sonnes of the seruants of Salomon.
 44 All the ministers of the Temple, and the 45 sonnes of the seruants of Salomon, were three 46 hundredth; seauentie and two.
 47 These came vp from. Thiermelech & The-48 rasas: Carathalas and Aalar leading them.
 49 Neither could they shew their families nor 50 their stocke how they were of Israel, the 51 sonnes of Ladan, the sonne of Barty, the sonnes 52 of Necodan, six hundredth fiftie and two.
 53 And of the Priests, those which exercised 54 the office of Priests, and were not found, the 55 sonnes of Obdia, the sonnes of Aens, the 56 sonnes of Addus, which had taken for wife
 57 Augia, one of the daughters of Berzelaius.
 58 And was called after his name; & when the 59 description of the kindred of these men had 60 bene sought in the register, & could not be 61 found, they were set apart from the office of 62 Priests.
 63 For Neemias and Autharias said to them, 64 that they should not be partakers of the holy 65 things, till there arose an hie Priest clothed 66 with doctrine and iustice.
 67 So all they of Israel fro them of iudaea ye 68 reld & little children were, foure thousand 69 besides men seruants and women seruants, 70 two thousand three hundredth and fiftie.
 71 Their seruants and handmaidens were seuen
 72 thousand, three hundredth, fourtie and seuen:
 73 the singing men and women two hundredth,
 74 fourtie and fise.
 75 Samela, foure hundredth, thirtie and fise:
 76 and horses, seuen hundredth, thirtie and six:
 77 mules, two hundredth, fourtie and fise: bea-78 stes that haue the yoke, fise thousand, fise
 79 hundredth, twentie and fise.
 80 And there were of the gouernours after their 81 families, which when they were come to the 82 Temple in Ierusalem, vowed to build a house
 83 in his owne place according to their power.
 84 And to giue in the treshure of the worke, a 85 thousand pound in golde, and fise thousand 86 pound in silver, and an hundredth priestlie 87 garments.
 88 And the Priests & the Leuites & the peo-89 ple dwelt in Ierusalem and in the countrey, 90 and the holy singers and the porters and all 91 Israel in their villages.
 92 But when the seventh moneth was nere, 93 and when the children of Israel were every 94 one at home, they were all gathered toge-95 ther with one accord in the open place of 96 the first gate, which is toward the East.
 97 Then Iesus the sonne of Iosedec and his 98 brethren the Priests, with Zorobabel the sonne
 99 of Salathiel and his brethren, rising vp made 100 ready the altar of the God of Israel.

101 To offer burnt offerings vpon it according as 102 it is written in the booke of Moyses the man 103 of God.
 104 Whither also there were gathered against 105 them of all nations of the land: but they 106 dressed the altar in his owne place, although 107 all the nations of the land were their ene-108 mies and vexed them; and they offered sacri-109 fices according to the season, and burnt of-110 frings to the Lord, morning and euening.
 111 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it
 112 was ordeined in the Law, and offered sacrifices 113 euery day, as was requisite.
 114 And afterward, the continuall oblations &
 115 offerings of the Sabbaths and of the new mo-116 neths and of all holy feasts.
 117 And all they which had made any vowe 118 to God, began to offer sacrifice vnto God in 119 the first day of the seventh moneth, although 120 the Temple of God was not yet build.
 121 They gaue also money to the masons & to 122 the workmen, & meat & drinke with glad-123 dyes, and charers to the Sidonians and to those 124 of Tyrus to bring cedar wood out of Liba-125 nus, which should be brought by flosse to the 126 haven of Ioppe according to the commande-127 ment giuen vnto this by Cyrus King of Persia.
 128 And in the second yeare & second moneth
 129 came into the Temple of God in Ierusalem, 130 Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus 131 the sonne of Iosedec, and their brethren, and 132 the Priests and Leuites, and all they that 133 came out of captiuitie in Ierusalem.
 134 And they layed the foundation of the house of 135 God in the first day of the second moneth of 136 the second yeare after their returne into Iu-137 dea and Ierusalem.
 138 And they appointed the Leuites fro yong 139 years golde ouer the workes of the Lord; and 140 Iesus and his sonnes, and his brethren, and 141 his brother Cadmiel, and the sonnes of Ma-142 diabon with the sonnes of Ioda, the sonne of 143 Heliadon, with their sonnes, and brethren,
 144 with all the Leuites with one accord did fol-145 lowe after the worke, calling vpon the works
 146 in the house of God: thus the workemen
 147 buylt the Temple of the Lord.
 148 And the Priests stood clothed with their 149 long garments with musickall instruments, and 150 trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of A-151 saph with cymbales.
 152 Singing and blessing the Lord, according to 153 the ordinance of Dauid King of Israel.
 154 And they sung in lowde voyce songs to the 155 praise of the Lord, because his mercie and 156 glory is for euer in all Israel.
 157 The whole people blew trumpets, and 158 cried with loude voyce, praising the Lord for 159 the raising vp of the house of the Lord.
 160 Also some of the Priests and Leuites, and 161 chief men, as were the Ancients, which had 162 seene the former House.
 163 Came to the building of this with weep-164 ing and great crying, and many with trum-165 pets and many with loude voyce.
 166 So that the people could not heare the 167 trumpets, because of the weeping of the peo-168 ple: yet there was a great multitude that blew 169 trumpets

4. <sup>29</sup> happens for that they were heard farre of.

5. <sup>30</sup> Wherefore when the enemies of the tribes of Iuda and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what noyse of trumpets it was.

6. <sup>31</sup> And they knew that they of the captiuitie buylt the Temple to the Lord God of Israel.

7. <sup>32</sup> Wherefore they coming to Zorobabel, & Iefus, and the chiefe of the families, said vnto them, Let vs buyld also with you.

8. <sup>33</sup> For we obey your Lord, as you do, and sacrifice vnto him since the dayes of Afbafareth King of the Assyrians, which brought vs hither.

9. <sup>34</sup> Then Zorobabel, and Iefus, and the chiefe of the families of Israel said to them, It doeth not apperteyne to vs, and to you to buyld an Houfe to the Lord our God.

10. <sup>35</sup> For we alone wil buyld it to the Lord God of Israel, as it becommeth vs, and as Cyrus the King of the Perfians bade vs.

11. <sup>36</sup> Howbeit the people of the land made them fluggish that were in Iudea, and letted them to buyld the worke, & by their ambushments and seditions and conspiracies hindered the finishing of the buylding.

12. <sup>37</sup> All the time of King Cyrus life: so that they were let from the buylding two yeeres, vntill the reigne of Darius.

CHAP. VI.

1. <sup>1</sup> In the second yeece of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Addo the Prophets propheticd to the Iewes, euen vnto them that were in Iudea & Ierusalem, in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, which they called vpon.

2. <sup>2</sup> Then Zorobabel sonne of Salathiel, & Iefus the sonne of Iofedee stood vpon, and began to buyld the Houfe of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem, the Prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them.

3. <sup>3</sup> In that time Sifimnes the gouernour of Syria, and Phenice, & Sathrabouzan with his companions came vnto them,

4. <sup>4</sup> And said vnto them, By whose commandement buyld you this Houfe & this buylding, & enterprife all those other things? and who are the buylders that enterprife such things?

5. <sup>5</sup> But the Ancients of the Iewes had grace of the Lord after that he had visited the captiuitie, that they were not letted to buyld, vntill it was signified vnto Darius of those matters, & an answer was receiued.

6. <sup>6</sup> The copie of the epistle, which he did write & send to Darius, is thus: I, Sifimnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, & Sathrabouzan, and their companions, presidents in Syria and Phenice, Salute King Darius.

7. <sup>7</sup> It may please the King our master plainly to vnderstand, that whil we came to the countrey of Iudea, & entered into the city of Ierusalem, we found in the city of Ierusalem the Ancients of the Iewes that were of the captiuitie.

8. <sup>8</sup> Building an Houfe to the Lord, great and new, of hewen stones, & of great price, & the timber all ready layde vpon the walles.

9. <sup>9</sup> And these worke are done with great speedd, yea, & the worke hath good successe in their hands, so that it will be finished with all glorie and diligence.

10. <sup>10</sup> Then we asked their Ancients, saying, By whose commandement buyld you this Houfe, and laye the foundation of these worke?

11. <sup>11</sup> We asked them these things to the intent to notific them to thee, & to write to thee the men that gouerned it: therefore we demaied the names of the gouernours in writing.

12. <sup>12</sup> But they answered, saying, We are the seruants of the Lord, which hath created the heauen and the earth.

13. <sup>13</sup> And this Houfe was buylt vp many yeeres ago by a King of Israel great and strong, and was finished.

14. <sup>14</sup> But when our fathers, prouoking God to wrath, sinned against the Lord of Israel, which is in heauen, he deliuered them into the hands of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon of the Chaldeans,

15. <sup>15</sup> Who brake downe the Houfe and burnt it, & caried the people captiue to Babylon.

16. <sup>16</sup> But in the first yeece of the reigne of Cyrus ouer the countrey of Babylon, King Cyrus wrote that this Houfe should be buylt vp.

17. <sup>17</sup> And the holy vessels of gold, and of silver, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the Houfe at Ierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne Temple, Cyrus the King took out of the Temple at Babylon, & they were given to Zorobabel, and to Sanabassar ruler.

18. <sup>18</sup> And a commandement was given vnto him, that he should carry away those vessels, and put them in the Temple at Ierusalem, & that this Temple of the Lord should be buylt in this place.

19. <sup>19</sup> Then the same Sanabassar, being come hither, layed the foundation of the Houfe of the Lord at Ierusalem, & during that time till now, it is in buylding, but is not finished.

20. <sup>20</sup> Now therefore if it please the King, let it be sought vp in the Kings libraries concerning Cyrus.

21. <sup>21</sup> And it shal be found, that the buylding of the Houfe of the Lord at Ierusalem had bene done by the consente of King Cyrus, and if it seeme good to the Lord our King, let him make what he will concerning these things.

22. <sup>22</sup> Then King Darius commanded to search in the Kings libraries, that were in Babylon, & there was found in Ecabane, which is a towne in the region of Media, a place where such things were layed vp for memorie.

23. <sup>23</sup> In the first yeece of the reigne of Cyrus, King Cyrus commanded the Houfe of the Lord at Ierusalem to be buylded, where they had sinned, which was continual fire.

24. <sup>24</sup> Of the which the height should be of three score cubits, the breadth of three score cubits, with three rowes of new stones, and one rowe of new wood of that countrey, and that the costs should be payed out of the house of King Cyrus.

25. <sup>25</sup> And that the holy vessels of the Houfe of the the Lord, as well those of golde as of silver, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the house in Ierusalem, and brought into Babylon, should be restored to the House, which is in Ierusalem, and set in the place where they were afore.

27 Also he commanded that Sisinnes, gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabouza, and their companions, & those which were constitute captaines in Syria and Phenice, should take heede to restraîne from that place, and to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lord, and gouernour of Iudea, and the Elders of the Iewes to buyld that House of the Lord in that place.

28 And I also haue commanded to buyld it cleane vp againe, & that they be diligent to helpe them of the captiuitie of the Iewes, till the House of the Lord be finished.

29 And that some part of the tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice should be diligently giuen to these men for sacrifice vnto the Lord, and to Zorobabel the gouernour, for bulles, rams and lambes:

30 Also corne, and salt, and wine, and oyle continually euery yere without faile, as the Priests, which are in Ierusalem shal testifie to be spent euery day.

31 That offerings maye be made to the high God for the King, and his children, and that they may pray for their liues.

32 Furthermore he commanded that whosoever should transgresse any thing afore, spoken or written, or derogate any thing therof, that a tree should be taken out of his possession, and he be hanged thereon, and that his goods should be the Kings.

33 And therefore let the Lord whose Name is there called vpon, destroy euery King and nation, which stretcheth out his hand to hinder or do euill to that House of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

34 *I Darius the King haue ordeined that it should be diligently executed according to these things.

CHAP. VII.

1 Esdra and his companions followe the Kings commandement, and helpe the Iewes to buyld the Temple. The reue that it was buyld. 12 They keepe the Passouer.

1 Then Sisinnes the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabouza, and their companions, obeying King Darius commandements, 2 Assisted diligently the holy workes, working with the Ancients and gouernours of the Sanctuarie.

3 And the holy workes prospered by Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophetes which prophesied.

4 So they finished all things by the commandement of the Lord God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes Kings of the Persians.

5 Thus the holy House was finished in the three & twentieth day of the moneth Adar in the sixt yere of Darius King of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, & the Priests and the Leuites, and the rest, which were of the captiuitie, and had any charge, did according to the things written in the booke of Moyses.

7 And they offered for the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, an hundred bulles, two hundred rams, foure hundred lambes,

8 And seuen goates for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 And the Priests, and the Leuites stood according to their kindreds, clothed with long robes in the workes of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moyses, and also the porters in euery gate.

10 And the children of Israel offered the Passouer together with them of the captiuitie in the fourteenth day of the first moneth, after that the Priests and Leuites were sanctified.

11 But all the children of the captiuitie were not sanctified together, but all the Leuites were sanctified together.

12 And they offered the Passouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

13 Then all the children of Israel, which were of the captiuitie did eate, & men all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feasts of vncleanned bread, seuen dayes, reioycing before the Lord.

15 Because he had turned the counsel of the King of the Assyrians towards them to strengthen their hands in the workes of the Lord God of Israel.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Esdra cometh from Babylon to Ierusalem. The copie of the commission giuen by Artaxerxes King of Persia to Esdra. The number of the heads of the people that came with him. The feast of the dedication.

1 And after these things when Artaxerxes King of the Persians reigned, Esdras the sonne of Saraia, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Helcias, the sonne of Salum, not to mention

2 The sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezias, the sonne of Memototh, the sonne of Saraia, the sonne of Saulas, the sonne of Bocas, the sonne of Abisum, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron was the hie Priest.

3 This Esdras went out of Babylon, and was a scribe well taught in the Law of Moyses, giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

4 Also the King gaue him great honour, and he founde grace in his sight in all his requestes.

5 With him also there departed some of the children of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites, and of the holy singers, and of the porters, and of the ministers of the Temple vnto Ierusalem.

6 In the seuenth yere of the reigne of Artaxerxes, and in the first moneth, this was the seuenth yere of the King, (for they went out of Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,

7 And came to Ierusalem according as the Lord gaue gave them speede in their journey)

8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge, so that he would let nothing passe that was in the Law of the Lord, and in the commandments, and he taught all Israel all the ordinances and iudgements.

9 So the commission written by King Artaxerxes was giuen Esdras the Priest and reader of the Law of the Lord: the copie thereof followeth.

10 King Artaxerxes to Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Law of the Lord, Salutation.

11 Forasmuch as I consider things with pittie, I haue commanded that they that wil and desire of the nation of the Iewes, & of the Priests and Leuites, which are in our kingdome, should go with thee vnto Israel.

12 Therefore as many as be willing, let them depart together, as it hath seemed good to me and my seuen friends the counsellors,

13 That they may visite the things that are in Iudea and Ierusalem diligently, as it is contained in the Law of the Lord,

14 And cary the giftes to the Lord of Israel in Ierusalem, which I and my friends haue vowed: also all the golde & siluer, which shalbe found in the countrey of Babylon apperteyning to the Lord in Ierusalem.

15 With that which is giuen of the people to the Temple of the Lord their God, that it might be brought to Ierusalem, as well siluer as golde, for bulles, and rams, and lambes, & things thereunto pertaining,

16 That they may offer sacrifices to the Lord vpon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Ierusalem.

17 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren wil do with the gold or siluer, accomplish it according to the will of thy God.

18 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are giuen thee for the vse of the Temple of thy God, which is in Ierusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Ierusalem.

19 And what other things soeuer thou shalt remember for the vse of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the Kings treasure.

20 And I also King Artaxerxes haue commanded the treasurers of Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras, the Priest and reader of the Law of the hiest God, shall send for, they should giue it him with all speede, euen to the somme of an hundred talents of siluer, 21 And likewise vnto an hundred cores of corne, and an hundred peeces of wine and other things in abundance.

22 Let all things be done to the hiest God according to the Law of God with diligence, that wrath come not vpon the Kingdome of the King and of his sonnes.

23 Also to you it is commanded, that of none of the Priests or Leuites, or holy singers, or porters or ministers of the Temple, or of the workemen of this Temple, no tribute nor taxe be taken, nor that any haue power to take them in any thing.

24 Thou also, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordeine iudges and gouernours, that they may iudge in all Syria and Phenice all those which are well instructed in the Law of thy God, and teach those, which are not instructed.

25 And let all those which shall transgresse the Law of God & the King, be diligently punished, either with death, or other punishment, either with penaltie of money, or banishment.

26 ¶ Then Esdras the scribe bled, Blessed be the onely Lord God of my fathers, which hath put this in the hearte of the King to glorifie his House which is in Ierusalem, 27 And hath honoured me before the King, and the counsellors, and all his friends and gouernours.

28 ¶ Therefore I was encouraged by the helpe of the Lord my God, and gathered men of Israel to go vp with me.

29 These are the guides after their families and order of dignities, which came vp with me out of Babylon in the reigne of Artaxerxes the King.

30 Of the sonnes of Phinees, Gersom, of the sonnes of Ithamar, Gamael, of the sonnes of Dauid, Lettus.

31 Of the sonnes of Sechenias, of the sonnes of Phares, Zacharias, and with him were counted an hundred and fiftie men.

32 Of the sonnes of Salomon, Abeliachias the sonne of Zacharias, and with him two hundred men.

33 Of the sonnes of Zathoe, Sechenias the sonne of Iezolus, and with him three hundred men: of the sonnes of Adin, Obeth sonne of Ionathas, and with him two hundred and fiftie men.

34 Of the sonnes of Elam, Iesias sonne of Getholias, and with him seuentie men.

35 Of the sonnes of Sapharias, Zarias sonne of Machael, and with him seuentie men.

36 Of the sonnes of Ioab, Badias sonne of Iezelus, and with him two hundred and twelue men.

37 Of the sonnes of Banid, Assalimoth sonne of Iosaphias, and with him an hundred and three score men.

38 Of the sonnes of Babi, Zacharias sonne of Bebai, and with him twentie and eight men.

39 Of the sonnes of Aftath, Iohannes sonne of Acatan, and with him an hundred and ten.

40 Of the sonnes of Adoniam: the last & these are the names of them, Eliphalar, Ieouel & Maia, and with them seuentie men: of the sonnes of Bagouthi sonne of Iscourus, and with him seuentie men.

41 ¶ And I gathered them together to the flood called Theras, and pitched our tents there three dayes, and nombred them.

42 But when I had found there none of the Priests nor Leuites, 43 I sent to Eleazar, and behold, there came Maasman, & Alnathan, & Samaian, & Tibbon, & Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, & Mossollamon the chief, and best learned.

44 And I bade the to go to Dadeus the captain, which was in the place of the treasure,

45 With charge to bidde Dadeus & his brethren, and the treasurers that were there, to send send to vs them, which should offer sacrifice in the house of our Lord.

46 And they brought vnto vs by the mightie hand of our Lord learned men of the sonnes of Moisi, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, so wis. Gisebran and his sonnes, and his brethren being eightene.

47 And Aschia, and Annon, and Osaian his brethren of the sonnes of Cananeus with their sonnes, twentie persons.

48 And of the ministers of the Temple, which David gaue, and those which were rulers ouer the worke of the Leuites, so wis. ministers of the Temple, two hundredth and twentie, of whome all the names were registred.

49 ¶ And there I proclaimed a fast for the yong men before the Lord to aske of him a good iourney both for vs, and for them that were with vs, for our children, and for our cattel.

50 For I was ashamed to aske the King footemen or horsemen, or conduct for safegard against our enemies, 51 Because we had said to the King, that the power of our Lord should be with the that sought him, to direct them in all things.

52 Wherefore we prayed our Lord againe, according to these things, whom we found favorable.

53 Then I chose from among the chief of the tribes, and of the Priests, twelue men, so wis. Eschias and Asanias, and with them tenne of their brethren.

54 And I weighed them the siluer & the gold, & the holy vessels of the House of our Lord, which the King and his counsellors, and his princes, and all Israel had giuen.

55 And I weighed them, six hundredth and fifty talents of siluer, and siluer vessels of an hundredth talents, & an hundredth talents of gold, 56 And twentie golden basins, and twelue vessels of brasse, of fine brasse shining like gold.

57 And I said to them, You are also holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the golde, and the siluer is a vow to the Lord of our fathers.

58 Watch and keepe them, till that you giue them to the heades of the families of the Priests, and Leuites, and captaines of the families of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the House of our God.

59 So the Priests and Leuites tooke the siluer and the golde, and the vessels, & caried them to Ierusalem to the Temple of the Lord.

60 And we departed from the flood Thera, in the twelue day of the first moneth, & came to Ierusalem, according to the mightie power of our Lord with vs: and the Lord deliuered vs from the beginning of our iourney from all enemies. So we came to Ierusalem.

61 And three dayes being past there, in the fourth day the siluer that was weighed, and the golde was deliuered in the House of our Lord to Marmoth the Priest, the sonne of Iouri,

62 And with him to Eleazar the sonne of Phinees: and there were with them, Iosabad the sonne of Iesus, and Moeth sonne of Sabbanus, Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

63 And all the weight of them was written that same houre.

64 Afterwardes those that were come out of the captiuitie, offered sacrifices to the Lord God of Israel, euen twelue bulles for all Israel, rams foure score and sixteene, 65 Lambs three score & twelue, twelue goates for saluation, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

66 And they presented the commandements of the King to the Kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelolyria and Phenice who honoured the people, and the Temple of God.

67 ¶ When these things were done, the gouernours came to me, saying, The people of Israel, the Princes and the Priests, & the Leuites haue not separated from them the strange people of the land, 68 Nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, so wis. of the Cananites, and Chetites, & Pheresites, and Iebusites, and Moabites, and Egyptians, and Idumeans.

69 For they haue dwelt with their daughters, both they and their sonnes, and the holie seede is mixed with the strange people of the land, and the gouernours & rulers haue bene partakers of this wickednes from the beginning of the thing.

70 And asone as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, & the holie garment, & I pulled the heare of mine head, & of my beard, and fate me downe sorrowfull, and verie sad.

71 Then also all they that were moued with the worde of the Lord God of Israel, came to me whiles I wept for the iniquitie, but I fate verie sad till the euening sacrifice.

72 Then I rose from the fast with my clothes torne, and the holie garment, and bowed my knees and stretched forth mine handes to the Lord, 73 And said, O Lord, I am ashamed, and confounded before thy face.

74 For our sinnes are increased about our heades, and our ignorances are lifted vp to heauen.

75 Yea, euen from the time of our fathers we are in great sinne vnto this day.

76 For our sinnes therefore, & our fathers we with our brethren, with our Kings & Priests haue bene giue vp to the Kings of the earth, to the sword and to captiuitie, and for a pray with all shame vnto this day.

77 And now how great hath thy mercie bene, O Lord, that there should be left vs a roote, and name in the place of thine holines!

78 And that thou shouldest reueale to vs a light in the House of the Lord our God, and giue vs meat in the time of our seruitude!

79 For when we were in bondage, we were not left of our God, but he gaue vs fauour before the Kings of the Persians, that they should giue vs meat, 80 And that they should honour the Temple of our Lord, and raise vp Sion that is desolate, and giue vs assurance in Iudea and Ierusalem.

81 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou hast given by the hands of thy servants the Prophets, saying,

82 Because the land, which ye go to inherit, is a land polluted by the pollution of the strangers of the land, which have filled it with their filthiness,

83 Therefore now, yes, shall not joyne their daughters with your sonnes, neither give your daughters to their sonnes, 84 Neither shall you desire to have peace with them for ever, that ye may be made strong, and eate the good things of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever.

85 Therefore all that is come to passe, was done for our wicked workes, & for our great finnes: yet, Lord, thou hast forborne our finnes, 86 And hast given vs such a roote: but we againe have turned backe to transgresse thy Law, and to mixe vs with the vncleannes of the people of the land.

87 Mightest thou not be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldst neither leaue vs toote nor seede nor name?

88 But, O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for there is a roote left, even vnto this day.

89 Beholde, we are now before thee with our iniquities, neither can we indure before thee for these things.

90 And as Eldras prayed, and confessed & wept, & laye vpon the ground before the Temple, a verie great multitude was gathered vnto him out of Ierusalem of men & women, & yong children: for there was great lamentation among the multitude.

91 Then Iechonias the sonne of Ieiel of the sonnes of Israel, crying out said, O Eldras, we have sinned against the Lord God: we haue taken in marriage strange women of the nations of the land.

92 And now all Israel is doubtfull: therefore let vs make an othe concerning this to the Lord to put away all our wiues, which are strangers with their children.

93 If it seeme good to thee, and to all them that obey the Law of the Lord, rise vp and put it in execution.

94 For to thee doeth it apperteyne, and we are with thee to make thee strong.

95 Then Eldras arose, and made all the chiefe of the families of the Priestes, and Leuites of all Israel to sweare, that they would do thus: and they swore.

96 After Eldras had read the lawe for the strange wiues, they promise to put them away.

97 Then Eldras rose from the court of the Temple, and went to the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliab.

98 And being lodged there, he did eate no bread nor drinke water, but mourned for the great iniquities of the multitude.

99 And there was a proclamation in all Iudea and Ierusalem, to all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should be gathered to Ierusalem,

100 And that all they which should not recte shore within two or three dayes, according to the ordinance of the Elders, which bare rule, should haue their cartel confiscate to the Temple, and he cast out from among them of the captiuitie.

101 Then all they which were of the tribe of Iuda & Benjamin, came together within three dayes into Ierusalem: this was the ninth moneth, and twentieth day of the moneth.

102 And all the multitude sate in the broad place of the Temple shaking, because of the extreme winter.

103 Then Eldras arose & said to them, Ye haue sinned: for ye haue married strange wiues, so that ye haue augmented the finnes of Israel.

104 Now therefore confesse and glorifie the Lord God of our fathers, 105 And do his will, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

106 Then all the multitude cryed out and said with a loude voyce, We will do so as thou hast said.

107 But because the multitude is great, and the time is winter, so that we can not stand without, and the worke is not of one daye nor of two, seeing that manie of vs haue sinned in this matter,

108 Let the chief men of the multitude, and all they which haue strange wiues of our families, tarie: vntill we haue appointed concerning these things, and Mofollam and Sabbateus did helpe them.

109 And they which were of the captiuitie, did after all these things.

110 Eldras the Priest also chose him certaine men, chiefe of their families, all by name: & they sate together in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine this matter.

111 And they made an ende of the things pertaining to them that had married strange wiues in the first day of the first moneth.

112 And there were found of the Priestes, which had married strange wiues, 113 Of the sonnes of Iesus, the sonne of Iosedec, and of his brethren, Mathelas, and Eleazar, and Ioribus, and Ionadab.

114 Who also gaue their hands to cast out their wiues, and offered a ram for their reconciliation in their purgation.

115 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Sameius, and Hiebreel, and Azarias, 116 And of the sonnes of Phaisu, Ellionas, Malas, Elmaelus, and Nathanael, and Ocidelus, and Tallas.

117 And of the Leuites, Iorabodus, and Semis, & Colirus, who was called Caliras, and Patheus, and Ooudas, and Ionas.

53 All the femurid strange wines, & put them
54 away with their children.
55 And the Priests and the Levites dwelt in 56 Jerusalem, and in the country, the first day 57 of the seventh moneth, and the children of 58 Israel in their owne houses.
59 Then all the multitude assembled to-60 gether with one consent into the broad 61 place before the gate of the Temple toward 62 the East.
63 And spake to Efdras the Priest, and re-
64 der, that he should bring the Law of Moyfes, 65 which had bene giuen by the Lord God of 66 Israel.
67 Then brought Efdras the chief Priest the 68 Law to all the multitude, both man and wo-69 man, and to all the Priests, that they might heare the Lawe the first day of the seventh moneth.

1 And he read in the first broad place of the gate of the Temple, from morning to midday, before the men and the women, and all the multitude, & hearken to the Law.
2 So Efdras the Priest, and reader of the Law, stood vpon a pulpit of wood that was prepared.
3 And there stood by him Magathas, Sa-
4 mus, Amenias, Azarias, Oanis, Ezeias, Ba-5 olafanus at his right hand.
6 And at his left hand Phalomas, and Sail,
7 Melchias, Aothaphus, Nabarias.
8 Then Efdras took the booke of the Law
9 before the multitude, for he sat honourably 10 before them all.
11 And they all stood vpright when he ex-12 pointed the Law, and Efdras blessed the 13 Lord the most hie God, the most mightie
14 God of holtes.
15 And the whole multitude cryed, Amen.
16 Then Iosus and Amas, and Sababias, and 17 Adianus, and Hieremias, Sababias, Amas, 18 Manias, and Calteas, Azarias, and Iozab-
19 dus, and Ananias, and Belsas the Levites lift 20 vp their hands, & fell down on the ground, 21 and worshipped the Lord.
22 And taught the Law of the Lord, & hee
23 also earnestly vpon the reading.
24 Then said Attichastus to Efdras the chief 25 Priest and reader, and to the Levites, that 26 taught the multitude in all things, This day 27 is holy vnto the Lord, and all haue wept in 28 hearing of the Law.
29 Go therefore and eate the fat meates, and 30 drinke the sweete drinks, and send presents 31 to them that haue not.
32 For this day is holy to the Lord, and be 33 forie: for the Lord God will glorifie you.
34 So the Levites commanded all these things 35 to the people, saying, This day is holie to the 36 Lord: be not sad.
37 Then they departed all to eate, and drinke,
38 and to reioyce, and to giue presents to them
39 that had not, and to make good chere.
40 For they were yet filled with the wordes 41 wherewith they were instructed, when they 42 were assembled together.

 winde doeth the stubble.
 35 Exod. 14. 29. Your children shall not haue generation:
 for they haue despised my commandement, and done the thing, that I hate, before me.
 36 Exod. 14. 29. Your houses will I giue vnto a people to come, who shall beleue me though they heare me not, and they vnto whome I neuer shewed miracle, shall do the things that I commande them.
 37 Exod. 14. 29. Though they see no Prophetes, yet shall they hate their iniquities.
 38 Exod. 14. 29. I will declare the grace that I will do for the people to come, whose children reioyce in gladnes, and though they haue not seene me with bodily eyes, yet in heart they beleue the things that I say.
 39 Exod. 14. 29. Now therefore brother, behold what great glorie, and see the people that come from the East.

 Isaac, Iacob, Ofeas, Amos, Micheas, Ioel, Ab-
 dias, Ionas,
 41 Exod. 14. 29. Naum, Habacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharias, and Malachias (which is called also

CHAP. II.

The Synagogue findeth fault with her owne children. 18 The Gentiles are called.

- 1 Malach. 1. 1. Thus saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage: I gaue them also my commandments by my seruants the Prophetes, whome they would not heare, but despised my counsels.
 2 Malach. 1. 1. The mother that bare them, saith vnto the,
 Go you away, o children: for I am a widdow and forsaken.
 3 Malach. 1. 1. I brought you vp with gladnes, but with so-row and heauines haue I lost you: for ye haue sinned against the Lord your God, and done the thing that displeaseth him.
 4 Malach. 1. 1. But what shall I now do vnto you? I am a widdowe and forsaken: go ye, o my children, and aske mercy of the Lord.
 5 Malach. 1. 1. And thee, o Father, I call for a witnes for the mother of these children, which would not keepe my couenant, 6 Malach. 1. 1. That thou bring them to confusion, & their mother to a spoyle, that their kinred be not continued.

7 Let their names be scattered among the heathen: let them be put out of the earth, for they haue despised my couenant.
 8 Wo vnto thee, Assur: for thou hidest the vnrighteous in thee: & wicked people, remember what I did vnto Sodom and Gomorraha, 9 Whose land is mixed with clouds of pitch and heapes of ashes: so will I do vnto them, that heare me not, saith the almightie Lord.
 10 Thus saith the Lord vnto Eldras, Tell my people, that I will giue them the kingdome of Ierusalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Israel.
 11 And I will get mee glory by them, and giue them the euertlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for those.
 12 They shall haue at will the tree of life, smelling of ointment: they shall neither labour nor be wearie.
 13 Go ye, and ye shall receiue it: pray that the time, which is long, may be shortened: the kingdome is already prepared for you: watche.
 14 Take heauen and earth to witness: for I haue abolished the euill, and created the good: for I haue, saith the Lord.
 15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them vp with gladnes: make their feet as fast as a pillar: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
 16 And those that be dead, will I raise vp from their places, & bring them out of the graues: for I haue known my Name in Israel.
 17 Feare not thou mother of the children: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
 18 I will send thee my seruants Esaus and Ieremie to helpe thee, by whose counsell I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees laden with diuers fruites.
 19 And as many fountaines, flowing with milke and hony, and seuen mighty mountaines, whereupon there growe roses & lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with ioye.
 20 Execute iustice for the widdowe: iudge the cause of the fatherlesse: giue to the poore: defend the fatherlesse: cloth the naked.
 21 Heale the wounded, and sicke: laugh not a lame man to scorne: defende the creeple, and let the blinde come into the light of my clerenesse.
 22 Keepe the olde and the yong that are within thy walles.
 23 Wherefoeuer thou findest the dead, take them and bury them, and I will giue thee the first place in my resurrection.
 24 Abide still, & my people, and rest: for thy quietnes shall come.
 25 Nourish thy children, & thou good nurse: establish their feet.
 26 None of the seruants that I haue giuen thee, shall perish: for I will seeke them from among thy number.
 27 Be not weary: for when the day of trouble and heauines commeth, other shall weepe and be forswoll, but thou shalt be merie and haue abundance.
 28 The heathen shall enuie thee, and shall do nothing against thee, saith the Lord.

 29 Mine hands shall couer thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.
 30 Be ioyfull, & thou mother, with thy childre: for I will deliuer thee, saith the Lord.
 31 Remember thy children that sleepe: for I will bring them out of the sides of the earth, and will shewe mercie vnto them: For I am mercifull, saith the Lord almightie.
 32 Embrace thy children, vntill I come and shewe mercie vnto them: for my fountaines runne ouer, and my grace shall not faile.
 33 I Eldras receiued a charge of the Lorde vpon the mount Horeb, that I should go vnto them of Israel, but when I came to them, they cast me of, and despised the commandement of the Lord.
 34 And therefore I say vnto you, & ye heathen, that heare and vnderstand, Wait for your shepherds, who shall giue you euertlasting rest: for he is neere at hand, that shall come in the end of the worlde.
 35 Be ready to the reward of the king: for the euertlasting light shall shine vpon you for euermore.
 36 Flee the shadowe of this worlde: receiue the ioy of your glorie: I testifie my Sauour openly.
 37 Receiue the gift that is giuen you, and be glad, giuing thanks vnto him, that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.
 38 Arise, and stand vp, and beholde the number of those, that are sealed for the feast of the Lord.
 39 Which are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.
 40 Take thy number, & Sion, and shut vp them that are clothed in white, which haue fulfilled the Law of the Lord.
 41 The number of thy children whom thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people which haue bene called from the beginning, may be sanctified.
 42 I Eldras saw vpon mount Sion a great people whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.
 43 And in the middes of them there was a yong man hier in stature then them all, and vpon every one of their heads, he set crownes, and was hier then the others, which I much marueiled at.
 44 So I asked the Angel, and said, Who are these, my Lord?
 45 Who answered, and said vnto me, These be they, that haue put of the mortall clothing, and haue put on the immortal, and haue confessed the Name of God: now are they crowned, and receiue the palmes.
 46 Then said I vnto the Angel, What yong man is it, that setteth crownes on them, and giueth them the palmes in their hands?
 47 And he answered, and said vnto me, It is the Sonne of God, whome they haue confessed in the worlde. Then began I greatly to commend them, that had stand so strongly for the Name of the Lord.
 48 Then the Angel said vnto me, Go thy way, and tell my people, what; & how great wonders of the Lord God thou hast seene.

CHAP. III.

4 The wonderful works, which God did for the people, are recited. 31 Efdas marvelleth that God suffereth the Babylonians to have rule over his people, which yet are sinners also.

IN the thirtieth yeere after the fall of the citie, as I was at Babylon, I lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughtes came vp to mine heart;

2 Because I saw the defolation of Sion; and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 So my spirit was fore moued; so that I began to speake fearefull wordes to the most High; and said;

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at the beginning when thou alone plantedst the earth; & gauest commandement vnto the people;

5 And a bodie vnto Adam, without soule, who was also the workmanship of thine hands, and hast breathed in him the breath of life, so that he liued before thee;

6 And leddest him into Paradise; which thy hand had planted, or euer the earth brought forth.

7 Euen then thou gauest him commandement to loue thy way: but he transgressed it; & immediately thou appointedst death to him and his generation, of whom came nations, tribes, people and kindes out of number.

8 And euerie people walked after their owne will, and did wonderfull things before thee, and despised thy commandements.

9 But at the time appointed thou broughtest the flood vpon those that dwell in the world, and destroyedst them.

10 So that by the flood, that came to euerie one of them, which came by death vnto Adam,

11 Yet thou leftest one, that is Noah, whose holde, of whom came all righteous men.

12 And when they that dwelt vpon the earth, began to multiply, and the number of the children, people and manye nations were increased, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

13 Now when they sined wickedly before thee, thou diddest choose thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

14 Whom thou loudest, & vnto whose onely thou shewedst thy will,

15 And madest an euerlasting euenant with him; promising him that thou wouldst neuer forsake his seede.

16 And when him thou gauest Isaac, vnto Isaac also thou gauest Jacob and Esau; and diddest choose Jacob, and east of Esau; and so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, thou broughtest the vp to mount Sina,

18 And enclinedst the heauens and bowedst downe the earth, & diddest moue y ground, and caule the depths to shewe, and diddest astonish the world.

19 And thy glorie went thorow foure gates of fyre, with earthquakes, waide and colde, that thou mightest giue the Lawe vnto the seede of Jacob, and that which the generation of Israel should diligently obserue.

20 Yet tookest thou not away from them the wicked heart, that thy Law might bring forth fruite in them.

21 For Adam first hauing a wicked heart, was overcome and vanquished, and all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weakenesse ioyned with the Lawe in the hearts of the people, with the wickednesse of the roote: so that the good departed away; and the euill abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeeres were brought to an end, till thou diddest raise thee vp a seruant called David,

24 Whom thou commaundest to build a cite vnto thy Name; to call vpon thee therein with incense and sacrifice.

25 When this was done many yeeres, the inhabitants forsooke thee;

26 Following the wayes of Adam & all his generation: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 Therefore thou gauest thy cite ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But doe they that dwell at Babylon any better, that they should haue the dominion of Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and saw their wicked deedes without number (for this is the thirtieth yeere that I see many trespassing) I was discouraged;

30 For I saw, how thou sufferedst them that sinne, and sparedest the wicked doers; where as thou hast destroyed thine owne people, and preserved thine enemies, and thou hast not shewed it.

31 I can not perceiue how this cometh to passe. Are the deedes of Babylon better then they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel? or what generation hath so beleueed thy testimonies, as Jacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there shewow out the heathen, and see them flourishing, and thinke not vpon thy commandements.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world, and no mention of thee shalbe founde but in Israel.

35 Or whene is it that they that dwell on y earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandements?

36 Thou shalt surely finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts, but not the heathen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The Angel reprooueth Efdas; because he seemed to enter into the ground indifferently of God.

AND the Angell that was sent vnto me, whose name was Vriel, answered;

2 And said, Thine heart hath taken to much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehend the wayes of the Highest.

3 Then said I, Yea, my Lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, & to set forth three similitudes before thee;

Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way, that thou desirest to see, and I will shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

And I said, Tell on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Go thy way: weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me againe the day that is past.

The answer I, & said, What man is borne, that can do that, which thou requirest me, concerning these things?

And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe swellings are in the middes of the sea, or howe great springs are in the beginning of the depth, or howe great springs are in the stretching out of the heauen, or which are the borders of Paradise, I shall not be able to answer thee.

Peraduenture thou wouldst say vnto me, I neuer went downe to the deepe, nor yet so y hell, neyther did I euer clime vp to heauen.

But now haue I asked thee bus of fyre and winde, & of yday, whereby thou hast passed, and from the which things thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me none answer to them.

He said moreover vnto me, Thine owne things, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not knowe?

How should thy vessel then be able to comprehend the wayes of the Hieft, and now outwardly in the corrupt world to vnderstand the corruption, that is euiden in my sight?

Then said I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should liue in wickednes, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefore.

And he answered me, and said, I came to a forest in the plaine where the trees held a counsel,

And said, Come, let vs go fight against the sea, that it may giue place to vs, and that we may make vs more woodes.

Likewise the floods of the sea took counsell and said, Come, let vs go vp and fight against the trees of the wood, that we may get an other countrey for vs.

But the purpose of the wood was vaine for the fyre came and consumed it.

Likewise also the purpose of the floods of the sea: for the sand flood vp and stopped them.

If thou were iudge betweene these two, whom wouldst thou iustifie? Nor from whom wouldst thou condemne?

I answered and said, Verely it is a foolish purpose, that they both haue devised for the ground is appointed for the wood, and the sea hath his place to beate his floods.

Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast giuen anight judgement: but why iudget thou not thy selfe also?

For like as the ground is appointed for the wood, and the sea for his floods, so they that dwell vpon earth, can vnderstand nothing, but that which is vpon earth: and they that are in the heauens, the things that are about the height of the heauens.

Then answered I, & said, I beseeche thee, O

Lord, let vnderstanding be giuen me.

For I did not purpose to inquire of thine hie things, but of such as we dayly meddle withall, namely, wherefore I haue been made a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people, whom thou hast loved, is giuen ouer to wicked nations: and why the Lawe of our fathers is abolished, and the wittes ceremonies are come to nought.

Why we are tossed to and fro through the world as the grasshoppers, and our life is a verie feare, and we are necessitous: whereby we to obteine mercie, haue sold our soules.

But what will he do to his Name, which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked the question: from to day I haue asked.

Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt mislike, for the worlde hasteth fast to passe away.

And canst thou comprehend the things, that are promised to y righteous in time to come: for this world is full of unrighteousnes and weakness.

But to declare thee these things, where thou askest, the euill is lowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

If the euill now that is lowen, be not turned upside downe, and if the place where the euill is lowen, passe not away, then can not the thing come, that is lowen with good.

For the corne of euill seede hath bene lowen in the heart of Adam, from the beginning, & how much vngodlinesse hath he brought vp vnto this time? and how much shall he bring forth vntil the haruest tyme.

Ponder with thy selfe, how much fruite of wickednes the corne of euill seede bringeth forth.

And when the stalkes shall be cut downe, which are so many, howe great an haruest must be prepared.

Then I answered, and said, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefore are our yeeres few and euill?

And he answered me, saying, Haue not to be aboute the most High: for thou hast set in vaine to be aboute him, though thou desirest neuer so much to see him.

Did not the fowles also of the righteous make question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I thus hope? and when commeth the spirit of my harne and our wages?

And vpon this Ieremiel the Archangel answered, and said, When the number of the perfectes is filled in you: for he hath weighed the worlde in the balles.

The measure of the times is measured: the ages are bound by number, and they shall not be housed or shaken, till the measure thereof be fulfilled.

Then answered I, and said, O Lord, I haue heard all, when full of sinne, and euill hath not.

And for our sake peraduenture the haruest of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinne of them that dwell vpon earth.

So he answered me, and said, Go, and aske a woman with child, whether she hath fulfilled her mind, and this is her womb may keep the virgins long with in her. For the king said, Ye have been right, and he said, I will, in the grace of places of souls like the womb of the king, and he said, For the king with child, he had the suspicion of the king of the family, to do these things, he had to do these things that are committed to him.

ag: That which thou desirest to see, shall be a shewd thee from the beginning: how grace in thy sight, and it be possible, and if

I know not: of that thou shalt know and I will expand thee this by example.

So I looked to behold, a hole burning open fluffed before me: and when the flame was gone by I looked, and behold the smoke had the upper hand.

49 After this there passed before me a warrie cloudy and low downe much rayne with a storme & when the storme came it was gale, the droppe came after. Shag. aswolzihu

 selfe, as thou thyselfe more then the wyppes, thee, O Lord, my God?

I do not know in what way thou art fore the borders of the world were set, before the windes blew one against another: 60 Before the noyse of thunders founded, before y bright lightening did shew forth, before the foundations of Paradise were laide, 61 Before the faire flowers did appeare, before the invisible power was finished, before the innumerable myriades of Angels were gathered, before the inhabitants of the hea-62 Before the highest of the syre were lifted vp, before the mountains of the hea-63 were named; before the chimnies in Sion were builded; before the children of Israel were born; before the people were taught, and before the affections of them that newe were created away, and they that haue laide vp the treasure of faith, were created.

64 And he said, I purpose these things; and they were made by me alone, and by none other: by me also they shal be ended, and by I, moreouer, I will shew thee the 65 The man answered, & said, What shal be the diuision of times, for when shal be the ende of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?
66 And he said vnto me, From Abraham vnto
Iacob, I will shew thee the borne of him,

1. Jacobs hand helde first the heele of Esau.
 2. For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob
 3. is the beginning of it that foloweth.
 4. The hand of man is betwixt the heele and
 5. the heele. Other thing, Esdras, aske thou not.
 6. I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if
 7. thou haue found favour in thy sight,
 8. I beseech thee, make an end to shewe thy
 9. seruant thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst
 10. me in the last night.
 11. So he answered me, and said, Stand vp vpon
 12. thy feete, & heare a mighty founding voyce.
 13. There shall come as an earthquake, but the
 14. place where thou standest, shall not be moued.
 15. And therefore when he speaketh, be not 16. afraid: for of the end shall be the worde, and
 17. of the foundation of the earth shall it be vn-
 18. derstand.
 19. Therefore while one speaketh of them, it
 20. trembleth and is moued: for it knoweth, that
 21. it must be changed at the end.
 22. And when I had heard it, I stode vp vpon
 23. my feete, and hearkened, and behold, there
 24. was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it
 25. was like the sound of many waters.
 26. And it said, Behold, the dayes come, that I
 27. will come and inquire of them that dwell vpon
 28. the earth.
 29. And when I begin to inquire of them, who
 30. by their vnrighteousnes haue hurt others; &
 31. when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled,
 32. And the world, that shall vanish away, shall
 33. be sealed, then will I shewe these signes: the
 34. bookes shall be opened before the heauen, &
 35. they shall see all it together.
 36. And the children of a yere old shall speake
 37. with their voyces: the women with childe
 38. shall bring forth timely children of three
 39. or foure moneths olde, and they shall lue
 40. that are raised vp.
 41. Then suddenly shall the sower places ap-
 42. pear, as the yflowers, and the full store hou-
 43. ses shall suddenly be found empirie.
 44. And the trumpet shall sound, and all they
 45. that heare it, shall be suddenly stayed.
 46. At that time shall friends fight with friends,
 47. as with enemies, & the earth shall feare with
 48. them: the springs of the welles shall stande
 49. still, and in three houres they shall not runne.
 50. Whosoever remaineth fro all these things
 51. that I haue told thee, shall be saved and see
 52. my saluation, and the end of your world.
 53. And the men that are receiued, shall see it:
 54. they that haue not tasted death from their
 55. birth, & the heart of the inhabitants shall be
 56. changed, and turned to another meaning.
 57. For I will shewe put out, and deere shall be
 58. quenched.
 59. But faith shall flourish: corruption shall be o-
 60. uercome, and the trieth which hath bene so
 61. long without fruit, shall come forth.
 62. And when he talked with me, behold, I
 63. looked vnder vnto him before whom I stode.
 64. And these wordes said he vnto me, I am
 65. come to shewe thee the time of his night to
 66. come.
 67. If thou wilt praye againe, I will shewe thee 68. dayes more, I will tell thee more things, and faith shall flourish

69. greater then these, which I haue heard in
 70. the day.
 71. For thy voyce is heard before the Highest:
 72. surely the mightie hath seene thy righteous
 73. dealing: hee hath seene also thy chastitie,
 74. which thou hast kept since thy youth.
 75. Therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all
 76. these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good
 77. comfort, and feare not.
 78. And haue not in the vaine consideration
 79. of the first times, nor make haste to the latter
 80. times.
 81. And after this I wept againe and fasted foue
 82. daies in like maner, that I might fulfill the
 83. three weekes, which he had appointed me.
 84. And in the eight night was mine heart
 85. vexed within me againe, & I began to speake
 86. before the most High.
 87. For my spirit was greatly set on fyre, and
 88. my soule was in distress.
 89. And I said, O Lord, thou spakest expressly in
 90. the first creation (euen the first day) and com-
 91. mandedst that the heauen and the earth
 92. should be made, and the worke followed thy
 93. worde.
 94. And then was there the spirit, & the dark-
 95. nes was on euery side with silence: there
 96. was no mans voyce as yet created of thee.
 97. Then commandedst thou a bright light to
 98. come forth out of thy treasures, that it might
 99. giue light to thy worke.
 100. Vpon the second day thou createdst the
 101. heauenly ayre, and commandedst it, that go-
 102. ing betwene, it should make a diuision be-
 103. twixt the waters, that the one parte might
 104. remaine aboue, and the other beneath.
 105. Vpon the third day thou commandedst, that 106. the waters should be gathered together in
 107. the seventh part of the earth: six partes did-
 108. dest thou drye, and keptst to the intent
 109. that of these there should be that shoulde
 110. serue thee, being sower of God and tilled.
 111. Allonest thy word went forth, the worke
 112. was incontinently made.
 113. For immediately great & innumerable fruite
 114. did spring vp, and many diuerse pleasures for
 115. the taste, and flowers of vnchangeable co-
 116. lour, and odours of a most wonderful smell, &
 117. these things were created the third day.
 118. Vpon the fourth day thou createdst the 119. light of the sunne, and of the moone, & the
 120. order of the starres.
 121. And gauest them a charge, to do foure
 122. euen vnto man that was for to be made.
 123. And vpon the fifth day thou diddest vnto the
 124. seventh pair, where the waters were gathe-
 125. red, that it should bring forth beasts of foules
 126. and fishes, and it was so.
 127. For ydome waters, & without life brought
 128. forth liuing things: as the commandment
 129. of God, that the nations might praye thy
 130. wondrous workes.
 131. The diddest thou prepare two liuing things:
 132. the one thou calledst Behemoth, and the o-
 133. ther thou calledst Leviathan.
 134. And diddest separate the one from the o-
 135. ther: for the seventh pair, where the water
 136. was gathered, could not holde them.

51 Vnto Behemoth thou gauest one parte, which was dryed vp the third daye, that he should dwell in the same place, wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuēth parte, that is wet, and hast prepared him to deuoure what thou wilt, & when thou wilt.

53 Vpon the sixt day thou gauest cōmandemēt vnto the earth, y before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattel and creeeping things.

54 And besides this Adam, whom thou madest lord ouer all y workes which thou hast created, of him come we all, and the people also, whom thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, o Lord, because y hast created y world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast declared that they are nothing before thee, but be like vnto spittle, and hast compared their riches vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, o Lord, behold, these heathen which haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begun to be lords ouer vs, & to deuoure vs.

58 And we thy people (whom thou hast called the first borne, the onely begotten, and thy seruēt louer) are giuen into their hands.

59 If the world then be created for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritance thereof in possession? or how long shall we suffer these things?

CHAP. VII.

1 Without tribulation, none can come to felicity. 2 God aduertise all in times. 3 The coming and death of Christ. 4 The resurrection and last iudgement. 5 After the which all corruption shall cease. 6 All fill in Adam. 7 The true life. 8 The mercies and goodness of God.

And when I had made an ende of these wordes, there was sent vnto me an Angel, which had bene sent downe to me the night before.

And he said vnto me, Vp, Eldras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

And I said, Speake on, my God. Then said he vnto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great.

But presuppose that the entrance thereof were narrow, and like the rivers.

Who could go into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went northrow the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

There is also another thing: a citie is builded, and set vpon a broad field, and is full of all good things.

The entrance thereof is narrow, and in a dangerous place for all, that there is fyre at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left.

And there is but one path betwixt them, even betwene the fyre and the water, so that there could but one man go there.

If this citie were giue vnto a man for an inheritance, if he neuer went thorow y peril before it, how could he receiue his inheritance?

And I saide, It is so, Lord. Then saide he, So is the portion of Israel.

Surely for their sakes haue I made y world, and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to passe.

Then were y entrance of the world made narrow, full of sorow & trouble: they are but fewe & euill, & full of perils, & very painefull.

For the entrances of the fore world were wide and sure, and brought immortal fruite.

If then they that are liuing, labour not to enter by these strait and brittle things, they cannot attaine to those things that are hid.

Why then disquietest thou thy selfe, seing thou art corruptible? and why art thou moued, seing thou art mortall?

And why best thou not considered in thy minde the things to come, rather then them that are present?

Then said I, O Lord, Lord, seing thou hast ordeined in thy Law, that y righteous should inherite these things, and that the vngodly should perishe.

Should the righteous suffer straitnes in hoping for large things? yet they that haue liued vngodly and suffered straitnes, shall not see the large things.

Then he said vnto me, There is no iudge more iust then God, and there is none more wise then the most High.

For many perishe in this life, because they despise the Law of God that is appointed.

For God hath diligently admonished such as came, so oft as they came, what they should do to haue life, & what they should obserue, to auoide punishment.

Neuertheles, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine things.

And deceiued themselves by their wicked deedes, and denied the power of the moste High, and regarded not his wayes.

But they despised his law, & refused his promises: they haue vnfaithfully broken his ordinances, & haue not performed his workes.

And therefore, Eldras, vnto the emptie are emptie things, and to the full, full things.

Beholde, the time shall come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, & she shall come forth, and be scene that now is vnder the earth.

And whosoever shall escape these euils, he shall see my wonders.

For my sonne Iesus shall appeare with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shall reioyce within foure hundred yeres.

After these same yeres shall my sonne Christ die, and all men that haue life.

And the world shall be turned into the olde silence for seven daies, as in the fore iudgements, so that no man shall remaine.

But after seven daies, the world that is yet a sleepe, shall be raised vp: and that shall die, that is corrupt.

Then the earth shall restore those that haue slept in her, & so shall y dust those that dwell therein in silence, & the secret places that deliuer y soules that were committed vnto the.

And the most High shall appeare vpon the seare of iudgement, & misteries shall vanishe away, and long suffering shall haue an end.

Iustice vnto all shall continue: the truth shall remaine, and faith shall be strong.

Rom. 5. 12.

33 The worke that folow, & the reward shalbe shewed: the good deedes shalbe of force, & vnrigheteousnes shall beare no more rule.
36 Then said I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and Moyses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness, 37 And they that came after him, for Israel in the time of Achaz, and Samuel, 38 And * David for the destruction, * & Salomon for them that came into y<sup>e</sup> Sanctuarie, 39 * And Elias for those that receiued raine, &
for the dead that he might liue, 40 And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers others for many.
41 Euen to now, seeing vice is increased, and wickednes aboundeth, & the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly, wherefore shall not the same effect followe also now?
42 Then he answered me, & said, This present life is not y<sup>e</sup> end: oft times honor is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for y<sup>e</sup> weake.
43 But y<sup>e</sup> day of iudgement shalbe y<sup>e</sup> end of this world, & the beginning of the immortalitie to come, wherein all corruption shal cease.
44 Intemperancie shall passe away: infidelitie shalbe cut off: righteousnes shal growe vp, & the veritie shall spring vp.
45 Then shall no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor oppresse him that hath gotten the victorie.
46 I answered then, and said, This is my first & last saying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam, or when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that he should not haue sinned.
47 For what profite is it for men in this present life to be in heauines, and after death to feare punishment?
48 O Adam, what hast thou done? * for in that thou hast sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but the fall also redoundeth vnto vs that come of thee.
49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there be y<sup>e</sup> promised an immortal life, when we doe the workes that bring death?
50 And that an euerlasting hope shoulde be promised vs, seeing that we betide our selues to deadly vanitie?
51 And y<sup>e</sup> there shoulde be appointed vs dwellings of health and safetie, if we haue liued wickedly?
52 And y<sup>e</sup> the glory of the most High shoulde be kept to defend the which haue lead a paciēt life, if we haue walked in the wicked wayes?
53 And that an eternal Paradise shoulde be the-wed, whose fruite remaineth incorruptible, wherein is safetie and health, if we will not enter into it?
54 (For we haue bene conuersant in vnplea-sant places)
55 And that the faces of them, which haue abstained, shoulde shine more then starres, if our faces be blacker then darkenes?
56 For while we liued, we did not remember when we did vnrigheteouslie, that we shoulde suffer after death.
57 Then answered he me, and said, This is the manner of the barrel, which man, that is borne in the earth, shall sigh, 58 That if he be ouercome, he should suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victorie, he should receiue the thing that I said.

59 For this is the life, whereof Moyses spake vnto y<sup>e</sup> people, while he liued, saying, * Chuse thee life that thou maist liue.
60 Neuertheles, they beleueed him not, neither y<sup>e</sup> Prophets after him, nor me also which haue said vnto them, 61 That heauines should not so be to their destruction, as ioy should come vnto them, to whom saluation is perswaded.
62 I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the most High is called mercifull, in that he hath mercie vpon them, which are not yet come to that world.
63 And y<sup>e</sup> he hath pitie on those that walke in his Lawe,
64 And that * he is paciēt: for he lōg suffreth those that haue sinned as his creatures, 65 And that he is liberrall: for he will giue as much as needeth,
66 And that he is of great mercie: for he ouer-commeth in mercie those that are present, & that are past, and them which are to come.
67 For if he were not abundant in his mercies, the world could not continue, nor they that haue the possession thereof.
68 He pardoneth also for if he gaue not of his goodnes y<sup>e</sup> they, which haue done euill, might be relieued frō their wickednes, y<sup>e</sup> ten thousand part of men shoulde not remaine aliue.
69 And if he, being iudge, forgauē not those that be healed with his word, & tooke away
the multitude of sinnes, 70 There shoulde peradventure be verie fewe left in an vnnumerable multitude.
71 And he answered me, saying, The most High made this world for many, but the world to come for fewe.
72 I wil tel thee a similitude, & Efdras. As when thou askest y<sup>e</sup> earth, if it shal say vnto thee, that it giueth much earthly matter to make pots, but litle dust that gold cometh of, so is it with the worke of this world.
73 Ther be many created, but few shalbe saued.
74 Then answered I, & said, This swallow vp the wir, O my soule, & deuoure vnderstanding.
75 For y<sup>e</sup> hast promised to heare, and thou wilt prophesie: for thou hast no longer space, but the life giuen thee.
76 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruāt, that we may entreat thee, that y<sup>e</sup> maist giue seede vnto our heart, and prepare our vnder-standing, that there may come fruite of it, whereby euery one which is corrupt, may liue, who can set him selfe for man?
77 For thou art alone, & we all are one workmanship of thine hands, as thou hast said.
78 For when the bodie is fashioned now in the wombe, and thou hast giuen it members, thy creature is presented by fire & water, & the world created by thee, doeth it suffer nine mo-neths.

THE NUMBER OF THE GODS IS SMALL. 6. THE WORKES OF GOD ARE EXCELLENT. 20. EFDRA'S PRAYERS FOR HIMSELF AND FOR HIS PEOPLE. 39. THE PROMISE OF SALVATION TO THE JUST. 53. THE DESTRUCTION OF THE UNJUST.

neths the creature, which is facioned in it.

9 But the thing that containeth, & that which is contained, thal both be preferued, & when time is come, the wombe, being preferued, deliuereth the things that grew in it.

10 For thou hast commanded the members, enē the breasts, to giue milke vnto the fruite appointed to the breasts, 11 That y thing, which is created, may be nourished for a time, til y disposest it to thy mercy.

12 Thou bringest it vp with thy righteousness, nurturest it in thy Lawe, & refoimest it with thy iudgement.

13 Thou slayest it as thy creature, and giuest it life as thy worke.

14 Seing then that thou destroiest him, which with so great labours is facioned, it is an easy thing to appoint by thy comandement, that the thing also which is made, might be preferued.

15 Nowe therefore, o Lord, I will speake, (as touching men in generall thou shalt rather prouide,) but concerning thy people, for whose sake I am sorie,

16 And for thine inheritance for whose cause I mourne: for Israel, for whom I am woful, and for Iacob, for whose sake I am grieved.

17 For them will I praye before thee, as wel for my selfe, as for them: for I see our fautes that dwell in the land.

18 ¶ But I haue heard the sudden coming of the iudge, which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderstand my wordes, which I will speake before thee. The beginning of the wordes of Esdras, before he was taken vp.

20 O Lord, that liuest for euer, which beholdest from aboue that which is aboue, and in the ayre,

21 Whose throne is inestimable, and his glorie incomprehensible, before whom the host of the Angels stande with trembling,

22 Whose keeping is turned in winde and fire, whose word is true, & sayings stedfast, whose comandement is strong, and gouernement terrible,

23 Whose looke drieth vp the depths, and wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away as the thing beareth witnes.

24 Heare the prayer of thy seruant, & receiue into thine eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answer.

26 Looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then thy faithfull seruants.

27 Haue not respect vnto the wicked deedes of men, rather then to them that haue thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee, but remember them that reuerence thy will.

29 Let it not be thy wil to destroy them, which haue liued like beasts, but looke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy Lawe.

30 Take not displeasure with them, which appeare worse then beasts, but loue the y alway put their trust in thy righteousness & glorie.

31 For we and our fathers haue all the same sickenes: but because of vs that are sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.

32 If therefore thou wilt haue mercie vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull towards vs which haue no workes of righteousness.

33 For the righteous, which haue laide vp many good works, let them receiue the reward of their owne deedes.

34 But what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is this mortal generation; that thou shouldst be so grieved towards it?

35 For verely there is no man among them that be borne, but hee hath done wickedly, nor any that doeth cōfesse thee, which hath not done amisse. 1. King. 3. 48. 2. Sam. 12. 36.

36 For in this, o Lord, thy righteousness & thy goodnes shall be prayed, if thou be mercifull vnto them, which haue not the substance of good workes.

37 ¶ Then answered he me; and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright; & according vnto thy wordes it shall be.

38 For I will not verely consider the workes of them, before the death, before the iudgement, before destruction:

39 But I wil reioyce in y wayes of the righteous, & I will remember the pilgrimage, sedition and the reward that they shall haue. Gen. 4. 14.

40 Like as I haue spoken how, so shall it come to passe.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seede vpon the ground, & planteth many trees; & yet alway y thing that is sown; cometh not vp in time, neither yet doeth al that is planted, take roote: so neither shall they all that are brought into the world be saued.

42 I answered then and said, If I haue founde grace, let me speake.

43 Like as the husbandmans seede perisheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not raine in due season, or if it be destroyed with too much raine:

44 So perisheth man, which is created with thine hands, & thou art called his father, because hee is created to thine image, for whose sake thou hast made all things, & likened him vnto the husbandmans seede.

45 Be not wroth with vs, o Lord, but spare thy people, & haue mercy vpo thine inheritance: for thou wilt be mercifull vnto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, and said, The things present are for the present, and the things to come for such as be to come.

47 For thou art farre off that thou shouldst loue my creature about me: but I haue oft times drawn here vnto thee and vnto it, but heuer to the vnrighteous.

48 In this also thou art maruolous before the Highest.

49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to boast thy selfe greatly among the righteous.

50 For many miseries and calamities remaine for them that shall liue in the latter time, because they shall walke in great pride.

51 But learne thou for thy selfe, and seeke out the the punishment of pride.

the glorie for such as be like thee.

51 For vnto you is paradise opened: the tree of life is platted: y<sup>e</sup> time to come is prepared, pleasures made ready: y<sup>e</sup> city is builded, & rest is prepared, perfite goodnes & absolute wild<sup>e</sup>.

52 The roote of euil is sealed vp from you: the weakenes and moth is destroyed from you, & into hell fieth corruption to be forgotten.

53 Sorowes are vanisshed away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

54 Therefore aske them no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

55 For when they had libertie, they contemned his Lawe & forsooke his wayes.

56 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his righteousnes.

57 Saying in their heart, that there was no God though they knew that they should die.

58 For as y<sup>e</sup> thing y<sup>e</sup> I haue spok<sup>e</sup> of is made ready for you: so is thirke & paine prepared for the: for God would not y<sup>e</sup> man should perish.

59 But they, after that they were created, haue defiled the Name of him y<sup>e</sup> made them, & are vnthankfull vnto him, which prepared life for them.

60 Therefore my iudgement is now at hande.

61 These things haue I not shewed vnto al me, but vnto thee, and to a fewe like thee: then I answered, and said, 62 Behold now, O Lord: thou hast shewed me the many wonders, which thou art determined to do in the last time, but in what time, thou hast not shewed me.

63 CHAP. IX.

64 All things in this world haue a beginning and an end, 10 10 Torments for the wicked after this life. 11 The number of the wicked which are taken off the good. 12 The lowest ingrat- itude. 13 Their foretelling perils. 14 The vision of a woman lamenting.

65 I answered me then, and said, Measure the time with it self, and when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,

66 Then shalt thou vnderstande, that it is the time wherein the most High will begin to visite the world which he made.

67 Therefore whe there shalbe seene an earthquake in y<sup>e</sup> world, & an uproare of y<sup>e</sup> people, 68 Then shalt thou vnderstande that the most High spake of those things, from the daies y<sup>e</sup> were before thee, euen from the beginning.

69 For as all that is made in the worlde, hath a beginning & an end, & the end is manifest, 70 So the times also of the most High haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, & end in effect and miracles.

71 And euery one that shall escape safe, and shalbe deliuered by his workes, and by the faith wherein ye haue beleueed, 72 Shalbe preferred from the said perils, and shall see my saluation in my land, and within my borders, for I haue kept mee holy from the world.

73 Then shall they haue pitie of them selues, which now haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast the out despitefully, shal dwell in paines.

74 For such as in their life haue receiued benefits, and haue not knowen me,

11 But haue abhorred my Lawe, while they were yet in libertie, and when they had yet leasure of amendement, and would not vnderstand but despised it,

12 They must be taught it after death by paine.

13 And therefore be thou no more carefull, to know how the vngodly shalbe punished, but inquire how the righteous shalbe saued, and whose the world is, & for whom it is, & whe.

14 Then answered I, and said, and said I,

15 I haue afore said that which I say now & will speake it hereafter, that there be many mo of the which perish, then of they shalbe saued.

16 As the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, as the field is, so is also the seede: as the flowers be, so are the colouts: also: such as the workman is, such is the worke: and as the husbandman is, so is his husbandrie: for it was the time of the worlde.

18 Surely when I prepared the worlde, which was not yet, made for them to dwell in: that now liue, no man spake against me.

19 For then euery one obeyed; but now the maners of the that are created in this world, that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seede, and by a Lawe, whereout they can not rid them selues.

20 So I considered the world, & behold, there was penill, because of the deuises; that were sprung vp into it.

21 Yet when I sawe it, I spared it greatly, and haue kepte me one grape of the cluster, and a plants out of a great people.

22 Let therefore the multitude perish, which are borne in vaine: & let my grape be kept, and my plante, which I haue dressed with great labour.

23 Neuertheles, if thou wilt cease seven dayes mo( but thou shalt not fast in them,

24 But shalt goe into a faire field, where no house is buylded, and shalt eate onely of the flowers of the field, and eate no fleshe, nor drinke wine, but the flowers onely.

25 And pray vnto the most High continually) then will I come, and talke with thee.

26 So I went my waye, as he had commanded me, into the field, which is called Ardath, & there I sate among the flowers, and did eate of the herbes of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.

27 And after seue daies, as I sate vpon y<sup>e</sup> grasse, & mine heart was vexed within me, as afore,

28 I opened my mouth, and began to talke before the most High, and to say,

29 O Lord, when thou wouldst shew thy self vnto vs, * thou declaredst thy self vnto our fathers in the wildernes, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt,

30 And expressly spakest vnto them, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my wordes, thou seede of Iacob.

31 For behold, I sowe my Lawe in you, that it may bring forth fruite in you; & that ye may be honored by it for euer.

32 But our fathers, which receiued the Lawe, kept it kept it not, neither obserued thine ordinances, neither did the fruite of the Law appeare, neither could it, for it was thine.

 33 For they that receiued it, perished because they kept not y<sup>e</sup> thing that was sown in the.
 34 And lo, it is a custome when the ground receiuech seede, or the sea a shippe, or a vessell meat & drinke, if that perish wherein a thing is sown, or wherein any thing is put.
 35 Likewise the thing that is sown, or is put therein, and the things that are receiued, must perish: so the things that are receiued, doe not remaine with vs: but in vs it commeth not so to passe.
 36 For we that haue receiued the Law, perish in sinne, & our heart also which receiued it.
 37 But the Law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.
 38 ¶ And when I spake these things in mine heart, I looked about me, & vpon the right side I sawe a woman, which mourned sore, and lamented with a loude voyce; and was grieved in heart, and rent her clothes; & she had ashes vpon her head.
 39 Then I left my thoughts, wherein I was occupied, and turned me vnto her.
 40 And said vnto her, Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so sory in minde?
 41 And she said vnto me, Syr, let me alone, that I may bewaile my selfe, and increase sorrowe for I am sore vexed in my minde, & brought very lowe.
 42 Then I said vnto her, What ayleth thee? tell me.
 43 And she said vnto me, I thy seruante haue bene barren, and haue had no childre, hauing an husband thirtie yeres.
 44 And euery houre, & euery day these thirtie yeres I pray to the most High day & night.
 45 And after thirtie yeres GOD heard me thine handmaide, & looked vpon my misery, considered my trouble, & gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of him: so was mine husband also, and all they of my country, & we gaue great honour vnto the Almighty.
 46 And I nourished him with great travail.
 47 So when he grew vp, and came to take a wife, I made a feast.

¶ Chap. X. And the woman that appeared vnto him, came together.

¶ But when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.
 2 Then we all ouerthrew the lightes, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: so I rested vntill the second daye at night.
 3 And whē they had all left of to comfort me, that I should be quiet, the I rose vp by night, and fled, & am come into this field as y<sup>e</sup> seest.
 4 And am now purposed to returne into the cite, but to remaine here, and neither to eat nor drinke, but continually to mourne and fast vntill I dye.
 5 Then left I my purpose wherein I was, and spake to her angrily, and said,
 6 Thou foolish woman aboute al other, seest y<sup>e</sup> not our heauines, & what commeth vnto vs?
 7 For Sion our mother is all wofull: & is fore afflicted, and mourneth extremely.

 8 Seeing we be all now in heauines, & make out moene (for we be all sorrowfull): art thou sory for one sonne?
 9 Demande the earth, and she shall tell thee that it is she which ought to mourne for the fall of so many that grow vpon her.
 10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other that come, and behold, they walke almost all into destruction, & the multitude of them shall be destroyed.
 11 Who should then rather mourne, she that hath left so great a multitude, or thou which art sory but for one sonne?
 12 But if thou wouldst say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth (for I haue losse the fruite of my wombe, which I brought forth with tearmes, and bare with sorowes).
 13 But the earth is according to the manner of the earth; and the present multitude returneth into her as it came.
 14 Then say I vnto thee, Art thou hath borne with travail, so the earth also from the beginning giueth her fruite vnto man; euen to him that laboured her.
 15 Nowe therefore withhold thy sorowe in thy selfe, and beare constantly that which commeth vnto thee.
 16 For if thou allowest Gods purpose, and receiuest his counsell in thine heart, thou shalt be comforted therein.
 17 Goe thy way then into alle cities to thine husband.
 18 ¶ Then she said vnto me, I will not, I will not go into the cite, but heere will I dye.
 19 So I continued to speake more with her, and said, 20 Do not so, but be comforted: for how many hath lost Sion? Be of good colour because of the sorowe of Ierusalem.
 21 For thou seest that our Sanctuary is layed waste; our altar is broken downe; our Temple is destroyed.
 22 Our pfallerion fainteth, and the song ceaseth, and our mirth is vanished away, and the light of our candlestick is quenched, and the Arke of our couenante is taken away, and our holy things are defiled; and the Name that is called vpon ouer vs is almost dishonored; & our children are put to shame, & our Priests are burnt, and our Leuites are caried into captiuitie, and our virgines are defiled, and our wiues rauished; and our rightours when spoiled, and our children destroyed, and our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weak.
 23 And, which is the greatest of all, Sion y<sup>e</sup> scale hath lost her worship: for she is deliuered into the hands of them that hate vs.
 24 And therefore shake of thy great heauines, and put away the multitude of sorowes, & the Almighty may be mercifull vnto thee, and that the most High may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour.
 25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined suddenly, and her countenance was bright; so that I was afayed of her and mused what it might be. 26 And behold immediately she cast out a great voyce, very feareful, so that the earth shooke at the noyse of the woman. 27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more; but there was a citie builded, & a place was shewed from the ground & foundation. Then was I afraid, and cryed with a lowde voyce, and sayd, 28 Where is Vriel the Angel, which came to me at the first? for hee hath caused me to come into many and deepe considerations, and mine ende is turned into corruption; & my prayer to rebuke. 29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me. 30 And lo, I lay as one dead, and mine vnderstanding was sloued, and he tooke me by the right hand and comforted me, and set me vpon my feet, and said vnto me, 31 What ayleth thee? & why is thine vnderstanding vexed? and the vnderstanding of thine heart? and wherefore art thou fery? 32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done according vnto thy words: I went into the field, and there haue I seene things, & feede as I am not able to expresse. 33 Then said he vnto me, and stand vp manly, and I will giue thee exhortation. 34 Then said I, Speake vnto me, my Lord, and forsake me not, lest I die through rashnes. 35 For I haue seene that I knew not, and heare that I do not know. 36 Or is mine vnderstanding deebened, or hath my minde, being haucie, erred? 37 Now therefore I beseeche thee that thou wilt shewe by seruante of this wonder. 38 Then he answered me, and said, Heare me, and I will informe thee, & tel thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the most High hath reuiled many secret things vnto thee. 39 He hath seene thy good purpose, that thou art sorie continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion. 40 This therefore is the vnderstanding of the vision, which appeared vnto thee a lile while ago. 41 Thou sawest a woman mourning; and thou beganest to comfort her. 42 But now seest thou the likenes of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded. 43 And where as she told thee of the death of her sonne, this is the solution. 44 This woman, which thou sawest, shee is Sion: and where as she told thee (even she which thou seest now as a citie builded) 45 And as touching that she said vnto thee; she was barren thirtie yeres, this was concerning that, there was eue thirtie yeres when there was no offering offred in her. 46 But after thirtie yeres, Salomon buylt the citie, and offred offerings: then bare the barren a sonne. 47 And where as she told thee, that she nourished him with labour, that was the inhabiting of Ierusalem. 48 But where as shee tolde thee that her sonne, as his chance was, dyed whe she came into her chamber, that is the sal that is come to Ierusalem. 49 And when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, thou begainest to comfort her: of these things which haue I shewed thee are to be opened vnto thee. 50 For now the most High seeth, that thou art sorie in thy minde, and because thou sufferest with all thine heart for her, he shewed thee the clearenes of her glorie, & the fairenes of her beautie. 51 And therefore I bade thee remaine in the field where no house was buylt. 52 For I knew that the most High would shewe these things vnto thee. 53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation nor building is. 54 For the worke of mans building can not stand in that place where the citie of the most High should be shewed. 55 And therefore feare not, neither let thine heart be afraid, but go in, & see the beautie and greatnes of the building as much as thou art able to see with thine eyes. 56 And after this shalt thou heare, as much as thine eares may comprehend. 57 For thou art blest above many, & art called with the most High among the few. 58 But to morowe at night thou shalt remaine here. 59 And the most High shall shewe thee visions of high things, which the most High will doe vnto them that dwell vpon earth, in the last dayes. So I slept the same night, and another, as he had commanded me.

CHAPTER XII.

The vision of an eagle coming forth of the sea, and of his feathers. 1 Then sawe I a dream, and behold; there came vp from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings and three heads. 2 And I sawe and beheld, the speed her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blow on her, and gathered them selfes. 3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers grew out other contrarie feathers, & they became lile feathers and small. 4 But her heads remained still, and the head in the middes was greater then the other heads, yet rested it with them. 5 Moreouer, I sawe that the eagle slewe with his feathers and reigned vpon earth, & ouer them that dwelt therein. 6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subie & vnto her, and no man spake against her, nor no one creature vpon earth. 7 I sawe also that the eagle stoode vp vpon her claws, and spake to her feathers, saying, 8 Watch not altogether; sleepe euery one in his owne place, and watch by course. 9 But let the heads be preferred for the last. 10 Neuertheles, I sawe that the voyce went out of her heads, but from the middes of her bodie. 11 Then I numbred her contrarie feathers, & behold, there were eight of them. 12 And I looked, and beheld vpon the right side side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And when it had reigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more. So the next stode vp, and reigned: it continued a long time.

14 And when it had reigned, y<sup>e</sup> end of it came also, & as the first, so it appeared no more.

15 Then there came a voyce vnto it, and said,

16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long: this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more,

17 There shall none after thee attein vnto thy time, neither to the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third & reigned as the other afore, and it appeared no more also.

19 So came it to all the others one after another, so that euery one reigned, and the appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, and behold in proceesse of time the feathers that folowed, stode vp on the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more.

21 For some of the were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked & behold, y<sup>e</sup> twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings.

23 And there was no more vpon the egles bodies, but two heads that rested, & fix wings.

24 Then sawe I also that two wings deuided them selues from the six, and remained vnder the head, that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, & behold y<sup>e</sup> vnderwings thought to set vp them selues, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And y<sup>e</sup> second were soner gone then y<sup>e</sup> first.

28 Then I beheld, and lo, the two that remained, thought also in them selues to reigne.

29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, which was in the middes: for that was greater then the two.

30 And then I sawe, that the two heads were ioyned therewith.

31 And behold, the head was turned with the, that were with it, and did eat vp the two vnderwings that would haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare and bare rule in it, ouer all those, that dwelt vpon earth with much labour, and it had the gouernance of the worlde, more then all the wings that had bene.

33 After this I looked, and behold, the head that was in the middes, suddenly appeared no more, as did the wings.

34 But the two heads remayned, which also ruled likewise vp<sup>o</sup> earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, & lo the head vpon the right side deuoured that was vpon the left side.

36 ¶ Then I heard a voyce which said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 So I sawe, and behold as it were a lyon that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: & I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the egle, and spake, and said,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the most High shall say vnto thee.

39 Art not thou that that of y<sup>e</sup> foure beasts remainest, who I made so reigne in my world, y<sup>e</sup> by them the end of times might come,

40 And the fourth is come, & hath ouercome all the beasts that were past, & hath power ouer the world with great fearfulness, & ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and that dwelleth so long time in all the world with deceit?

41 For thou hast not iudged y<sup>e</sup> earth wth truth.

42 Seeing thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable, & thou hast loued lyars, & destroyed the dwellings of the that brought forth fruit, and hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing come vp vnto the most High, and thy pride vnto the Mightie.

44 The most High also hath looked vpon the proude times, and behold, they are ended, & their abominations are fulfilled.

45 Therefore appeare no more, thou egle, nor thine horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, and thy wicked claws, nor all thy vaine body,

46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and come againe, as one deliuered from thy violence, and that the may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

The declaration of the former vision.

1 AND when the lyon spake these words to the egle, I sawe,

2 And behold, the head y<sup>e</sup> had the vpper had, appeared no more, neither did y<sup>e</sup> foure wings appeare any more, that came to it, and set vp them selues to reigne, whose kingdome was small and full of vproares.

3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the egle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare. Then I awaked out of the trouble and trance of my minde, and from the great feare, and said vnto my spirit,

4 Lo, this hast thou done vnto me in y<sup>e</sup> thou searchest out the wayes of the most High.

5 Lo, yet am I weary in my minde, and very weake in my spirit, and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.

6 Therefore nowe I will beseech y<sup>e</sup> most High that he will comfort me vnto the end.

7 And he said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, & if my prayer in deede be come vp before thy face,

8 Comfort me, & shew me thy seruant the interpretation & differēce of this horrible sight, that thou maist perfectly comfort my soule,

9 Seeing thou hast iudged mee worthy to shewe me the last times.

10 ¶ Then he said vnto me, This is the interpretation of this vision,

11 The egle, whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome which was seene

Cccc ij. in the

in the vision of thy brother Daniel.

12 But it was not expounded vnto him: therefore now I declare it vnto thee.

13 Behold, the dayes come, that there shal rise vp a kingdome vpon the earth, & it shalbe feared aboue all kingdomes that were before it.

14 In it shall twelue Kinges reigne one after another,

15 Whereof y<sup>e</sup> second shal beginne to reigne, and shall haue more time then the twelue.

16 And this do y<sup>e</sup> twelue wings signifie; which thou sawest.

17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not goe out from the heads, but from the middes of the bodie thereof, this is the interpretation,

18 That after the time of that kingdome there shall arise great strife, and it shalbe in danger to fall, but it shall not then fall, but shalbe restored againe to his beginning.

19 Concerning the eight vnderwings, which thou sawest hang vnto her wings, this is the interpretation, 20 In him shall arise eight Kinges, whose time shalbe but small, and their yerres swifte, and two of them shall perish.

21 But when the midde time commeth, there shalbe four kept a time, whiles his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended, but two shalbe kept vnto the end.

22 And where as thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation,

23 In his last daies shall the most High raise vp three kingdomes, and shall call againe many things into them, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth,

24 And of those that dwell therein, with much grieue, aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle.

25 For they shall accomplishe his wickednes, and shall finish his last end.

26 And where as thou sawest that y<sup>e</sup> great head appeared no more, it signifieth y<sup>e</sup> one of the shal die vpon his bed, and yet with paine.

27 For the two that remaine, the sworde shall deuoure them.

28 For the sworde of the one shal deuoure the other: but at the last shall he fall by the sword him selfe.

29 And where as y<sup>e</sup> sawest two vnderwings, that went of toward the head, which was on the right side, this is the interpretation,

30 These are they whom the most High hath preferred for their end, whose kingdome is litle, and full of trouble as thou sawest.

31 And the lyon whom thou sawest rising vp out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking vnto the eagle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteousnes with all the wordes that thou hast heard.

32 This is the winde which y<sup>e</sup> most High hath kept for them, and for their wickednes vnto the end, and he shall reprove them, and cast before them their spoyle.

33 For he shall set them aline in the iudgement, and shall rebuke them and correct them.

34 For he will deliuer the residue of my people by affliction, which are preferred vpon my borders, and he shall make them ioyfull, vntill the coming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely hast bene meete to knowe this secret of the most High.

37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seene, in a booke and hide them.

38 And teache them the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keepe these secrets.

39 But waite thou here yet seuen dayes mo, that it may bee shewed thee whateuer it pleaseth the most High to declare vnto thee: and with that he went his waye.

40 And when all the people perceiued, that y<sup>e</sup> seuen dayes were past, & I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them all together, from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and spake vnto me, saying,

41 What haue we offended thee? or what euil haue we done against thee, that thou forsakest vs; and sittest in this place?

42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs as a grape of the vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an haufen or ship preferred from the tempest.

43 Are not the euils which are come vnto vs, sufficient?

44 If thou then forsake vs; howe much better had it bene for vs, that we had bene burnt also as Sion was burnt?

45 For we are no better then they that died there: and they wept with a loud voice. The answered I them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heavy, thou house of Iacob.

47 For y<sup>e</sup> most High hath you in remembrance, and the Almighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you, but am come into this place to praye for the desolation of Sion, that I might seeke mercie for the lowe estate of your Sanctuare.

49 And howe go your way home euerie man, and after these daies will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, as I commanded them.

51 But I remained still in the field seuen dayes, as he had commanded me, and did eate only of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbes in those daies.

CHAP. XIII.

The vision of a winde coming forth of the sea, which became a man. His properties and power against his enemies. The declaration of this vision.

1 And after the seuen dayes I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And behold, there arose a winde from the sea, and it moued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, & behold, there was a mighty man with y<sup>e</sup> thowlands of heauen: & when he turned his countenance to looke, all y<sup>e</sup> things trembled.

trembled that were scene vnder him.
 4 And whē the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voyce; as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.
 5 After these things I sawe, and behold, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight against the man that came out from the sea.
 6 And I looked, and behold, he graued himself a great mountaine, and stewe vp vpon it.
 7 But I would haue seene y<sup>e</sup> countrey or place whereout the hil was grauen, & I could not.
 8 I sawe after these things, and behold, al they which came to fight against him, were sore afraid, and yet they durst fight.
 9 Neuertheles, when he sawe the fierceenes of the multitude that came, he lifted not vp his hand: for he helde no sworde nor any instrument of warre.
 10 But only, as I saw, he sent out of his mouth, as it had bene a blast of fire, & out of his lips
 the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.
 11 And they were all mixt together, & this blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great storme, and fell with violence vpon the multitude, which was prepared to fight; and burnt them vp all, so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing seene, but onely dust, and smell of smoke. When I sawe this, I was afraid.
 12 ¶ Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable multitude.
 13 And there came many vnto him, come with ioyfull countenance, & some with sad: some of them were bound, & some brought of the that were offered; and I was sicke through great feare, and awaked, and said, 14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy to receiue my prayer.
 15 Shewe me nowe therefore the interpretation of this dreame.
 16 For thus I consider in mine vnderstanding, we vnto them that shal be left in those daies, and much more we vnto them that are not left behinde.
 17 For they y<sup>e</sup> were not left, were in heauines.
 18 Now vnderstand I the things that are laide vp in the latter daies, which shall come both vnto them, & to those that are left behinde.
 19 Therefore are they come into great perils & many necessities, as these dreames declare.
 20 Yet is it easier, that hee that is in danger, should fall into these, and foresee the things to come hereafter, then to passe away as a cloude out of the world.
 21 ¶ Then answered he me, & said, The interpretation of y<sup>e</sup> vision will I shew thee, & I will open to thee the thing that y<sup>e</sup> hast required.
 22 Where as thou hast spokē of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation, 23 He that shall beare the danger in y<sup>e</sup> time, he shal keepe him selfe. They that be fallen into danger, are such as haue workes and faith toward the most Mightie.

24 Know therefore, that they which be left behind, are more blessed then they y<sup>e</sup> be dead.
 25 These are the meanings of y<sup>e</sup> vision, Where as thou sawest a man coming vp from the midde of the sea, 26 The same is he whome the most High hath kept a great season, who by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature, and he shall order them that are left behinde.
 27 ¶ And where as thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came a blast with fire and storme,
 28 And that he neither helde sword nor weapon, but that by his fierceenes he destroyed the whole multitude, that came to fight against him, this is the interpretation.
 29 Beholde, the dayes come, that the moste High will beginne to deliuer them that are vpon the earth.
 30 And he shall astonish the heartes of them that dwell vpon the earth.
 31 And one shal prepare to fight against another, citie against citie, & place against place, and nation against nation, and realme against realme. Mat. 24. 7.
 32 When this commeth to passe, then shal the tokens come, that I shewed vnto thee before, and then shal my Sonne be crucified, whom thou sawest goe vp as a man.
 33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shal in their owne land leaue the band that they haue on against another.
 34 And an innumerable multitude shal be gathered as one, as they y<sup>e</sup> be willing to come, and to fight against him.
 35 But he shal stand vpon y<sup>e</sup> top of mount Sion.
 36 And Sion shal come, & shal be shewed to al, being prepared & huylded, as thou sawest the hill grauen forth without any hands.
 37 And this my Sonne shal be like the wicked inuentions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest, 38 And into tormentes like to flame, whereby they shal be tormented: and without any labour will be destroyed them, euen by the Law, which is compared vnto the fyre.
 39 And where as thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him, 40 Those are the ten tribes which were caryed away captiues out of their owne land, in the time of Osee the King, whom Salmanasar y<sup>e</sup> King of the Assyrians tooke captiue, and caried them beyond the riuer, so were they brought into another land. 2. King. 17. 9.
 41 But they tooke this counsell to them selues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further countrey, where neuer mankind dwelt, 42 That they might there weep their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land.
 43 And they entred in at y<sup>e</sup> narrowe passages of the riuer Euphrates, 44 For the moste High then shewed them signes, and stayed the springes of the floud until they were passed ouer. Exod. 14. 21.
 45 For thorow the countrey there was a great journey, euen of a yere and a halfe, and the same region is called "Arsareth." Isaiah. 37. 36.
 "Or, Ararat."

46 Then dwell they there vntill the latter time:
 47 And when they come forth againe,
 48 The most High shall holde forth the springs
 49 of the river again, that they may go thorow:
 50 therfore sawest thou y multitude peacable.
 51 But they that be left behind of thy people,
 52 are those that be found within my borders.
 53 Now which he destroyeth the multitude of 54 the nations that are gathered together; he 55 shall defend the people that remaine;
 56 And then shall he shewe great wonders vnto
 57 them.

58 Then said I; O Lord, Lord, shewe me this, 59 wherefore haue I seene the man coming 60 vnto me from the middes of the sea?
 61 And he said vnto me; As thou canst neither 62 seeke out, nor knowe these things; that are 63 in the deepe of the sea; so can no man vpon 64 earth see my Sonne, or those that bee with 65 him; but in the time of that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame 54 which thou sawest, and whereby thou only 55 art lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne Lawe, 55 and applied thy diligence vnto mine; and 56 sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, &
 56 hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 Therefore haue I shewed thee the rewards
 57 with the most High; & after three other daies 58 I will speake other things vnto thee; and will 59 declare the great and wonderful things.

57 Then went I forth vnto the field glorifying
 58 and praising the most High for the wonders
 59 which he did in time.

58 Which he governeth; & such things as come 59 in their seasons; & there I sate three dayes.

CHAP. XIII.

Now God appeared to Moses in the bush. 19 All things decline to age. 17 The latter times worse then the former.
 20 The ingratitudes of Israel. 21 The resurrection and iudgement, was not only in the old lawe.

Vpon the third day I sate vnder an oke, & beheld; where came forth a voyce vnto me out of the bush; & said, Eldras.

2 And I said, Here am I, Lord; and stoode vp 3 vpon my feete.

3 Then said he vnto me; In the bush I reueiled my selfe; and spake vnto Moyses; when 4 my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him; and led my people out of 5 Egypt; and brought him vpon the mount
 6 Sinai; & I held him with me a long season.

5 And I told him many wonders; and shewed 6 him the secrets of the times and the end; and 7 commanded him; saying;

8 These wordes shalt thou declare; and these 9 shalt thou hide.

7 And now I say vnto thee; that thou lay vp in 8 thine heart the things that I haue shewed; & 9 the dreame that thou hast seene; and the in-10 terpretations which thou hast heard.

8 For thou shalt bee taken away from all,
 9 and thou shalt remaine henceforth with my 10 counsell; and with such as be likethee; vntill 11 the times be ended.

9 For the world hath lost his youth; and the 10 times be gonne to waxe olde.

10 For the world is deuided into twelue parts, 11 and ten partes of it are gone alreadie & half 12 of the tenth parte.

11 And there remaineth that which is after 12 the halfe of the tenth parte.

12 Therefore set thine house in order, and re-13 forme thy people; & comfort such of them as 14 be in trouble; & now renounce y corruption.

13 Let goe from thee mortall thoughts; cast 14 away from thee the burdens of men; and put 15 of now the weake nature;

14 And set aside thy most grieuous thought,
 15 and haste thee to departe from these times.

15 For greater euils the those, which thou hast 16 seene now, shall they commit.

16 For the weaker that the world is by reason 17 of age, the more shall the euils be increased 18 vpon them that dwell therein.

17 For the truth is fled farre away; and lies 18 are at hand: for nowe hasteth the vision to 19 come, that thou hast seene.

18 Then answered I, and said before thee,
 19 Behold, O Lord, I will goe as thou hast com-20 manded me; and reforme the people; which 21 are present; but they that shall be borne af-22 terward, who shall admonish them?

19 Thus the world is set in darkenes; and they 20 that dwell therein, are without light.

20 For thy Lawe is burnt; therefore no man 21 knoweth the things that are done of thee, or 22 the workes that shalbe done.

21 But if I haue found grace before thee, sende 22 the holy Ghost vnto me; & I will write all that 23 hath bene done in the world since the begin-24 ning; which was written in thy Law, that me 25 may finde the path; and that they which will 26 liue in the latter dayes, may liue.

22 And he answered me, saying, Go, & gather 23 the people; & say vnto them; that they seeke
 24 thee not for fourtie dayes.

23 But prepare thee many boxe tables; & take 24 with thee these five; Sares, Dabria, Selemia, 25 Ecanus, and Asiel; which are ready to write 26 swiftly.

24 And come hither, and I will light a candle 25 of vnderstanding in thine heart; which shall 26 not be put out till the things be performed 27 which thou shalt beginne to write.

25 And then shalt thou declare some things
 26 openly vnto the perfite men; & some things
 27 shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wise; to mo-28 row this houre shalt thou beginne to write.

26 Then went I forth, as he commanded me; &
 27 gathered all the people together; and said,

28 Heare these wordes, O Israel;

29 Our fathers at y beginning were strangers
 30 in Egypt; from whence they were deliuered;

30 And receiued the Law of life; which they 31 kept not; which ye also haue transgressed af-32 ter them.

31 Then was the land; euen the lande of Sion
 32 parted among you by lot: but your fathers
 33 and ye also haue done vnrighteously; & haue
 34 not kept the wayes; which the most High 35 commanded you;

36 And for so much as he is a righteous Iudge, 37 he tooke from you in time the thing that he 38 had giuen you.

Gm. 4. 4

Am. 3. 13

33 And now are ye here, and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore if so be that ye will subdue your owne vnderstanding, & reforme your heart, ye shalbe kept aliuē, and after death shall ye obtaine mercie.

35 For after death shall the iudgement come, when we shall liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngodlie shalbe declared.

36 Let no man therefore come how vnto me, nor seeke me these fourtie dayes.

37 So I tooke the five men, as he commanded me; and we went into the field; and remained there.

38 The next day beholde; a voyce called me, saying, Eldras, * open thy mouth, & drinke that I giue thee to drinke.

39 This opened I my mouth, & behold, he reached me a ful cuppe, which was ful as it were with water: but the colour of it was like fyre.

40 And I tooke it and dranke; and when I had drunke, mine heart had vnderstanding, and wisdom grewe in my breast: for my spirit was strengthened in memorie.

41 And my mouth was opened, & shut no more.

42 The most High gaue vnderstanding vnto the five men; that they wrote the hie things of the right, which they vnderstoode not.

43 But in y<sup>e</sup> night they did eat bread, but I spake by day, and helde not my tongue by night.

44 In fourtie dayes, they wrote two hundredeth and foure bookes.

45 And when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, the most High spake; saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthe and vnworthe may read it.

46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou maist giue them to the wife among thy people.

47 For in them is the veine of vnderstanding, and the fountaine of wisdom, and the riuer of knowledge: and I did so.

CHAP. XV.

1 The prophesie of Eldras is certaine. 2 The evils that shal come on this worlde. 3 The Lord will aduenge the innocent blood. 4 Egypte shall lament. 5 Sedition. 6 And punishment vpon the Kinges of the earth. 7 Cursed are they that sinne. 8 Troubles and warres vpon the whole earth. 9 God is the reuenger of his elect.

1 Beholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophesie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord:

2 And cause them to be written in a letter: for they are faithfull and true.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee: let not y<sup>e</sup> vnfaithfulnes of the speakers trouble thee, that spake against thee.

4 For euerie vnfaithfull shall dye in his vnfaithfulnes.

5 Behold, saith the Lord, I will bring plagues vpon all the worlde, y<sup>e</sup> sworde, famine, death and destruction:

6 Because that iniquitie hath fully polluted all the earth, & their wicked workes are fulfilled.

7 Therefore, saith the Lord, I will holde my tongue no more for their wickednes, (they do vngodlie) neither will I suffer them in the things, that they do wickedly.

8 Beholde, * the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the foules of the iust crye continually.

9 I will surely auenge them, saith the Lord, & receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Beholde, my people is led as a flocke to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypte.

11 But I will bring them out wth a mightie hand, & a stretched out arme, & smite it wth plagues as afore; & will destroye all the land thereof.

12 Egypte shall mourne, and the foundations thereof shalbe smitten with the plague & punishment, that God shall bring vpon it.

13 The plowmen that till the ground, shall mourne for their seedes shal faile through y<sup>e</sup> blasting and haile, and by an horrible starre.

14 Woe to the worlde, and to them that dwell therein.

15 For the sword, & their destruction draweth neere, & one people shall stand vp to fight against another with swordes in their hands.

16 For there shalbe sedition among men, and one shall insade another: they shall not regarde their King, and the princes shall measure their doings by their power.

17 A man shall desire to go into a citie, & shall not be able.

18 Because of their pride y<sup>e</sup> cities shalbe troubled, y<sup>e</sup> houses shalbe afraied, & me shal feare.

19 A mā shal haue no pitie v<sup>o</sup> his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with y<sup>e</sup> sworde, and their goods shalbe spoyled for lacke of bread, and because of greate trouble.

20 Behold, saith God, I call together all y<sup>e</sup> Kings of the earth to reuerce me, which are from the East, & from the South, from the East, & from Libanus, to turne vpon the, & to repay * the things that they haue done to thee.

21 As they do yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense them in their bosome: thus saith the Lord God.

22 My right hand shal not spare the sinners, neither shall the sworde cease from them, that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fyre is gone out from his wrath, & hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the strawe, that is kindled.

24 Woe to them that sinne, and keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.

25 I will not spare them: departe, & children, fro the power: defile not my Sanctuarie.

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shal remaine in them: for God wil not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.

28 Beholde, an horrible vision commeth from the East,

29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charrets, and the multitude of them shalbe caried as the winde vpon the earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.

30 Euen the Carmianias raging in wrath, shall go forth as the bores of the forest, and shal

Cccc.iiij. come

& 19. 3.

II. Eldras.

- come with great power, and stand against them in battel, and shall destroye a portion of the land of the Assyrians.
- 31 But after, this shall the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remember their nature, and shall turne about, and conspire to consume them with a great power.
- 32 Then these shall be troubled, and keepe silence by their power, and shall flee.
- 33 From the lande of the Assyrians shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their hoste, shall be feare and dread, and strife among their Kings.
- 34 Behold cloudes from the East, and from the North vnto the South, & they are verie horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme.
- 35 They shall smite one vpon another: & they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre, & the blood shall be fro the sword vnto the bellie,
- 36 And the dongue of man vnto the Camels litter.
- 37 And there shall be great fearefulness, & trembling vpon earth, & they shall see wrath, shall be afayed, & a trembling shall come vpon them.
- 38 And then there shall come great stormes from the South, and from the North, and parte from the West.
- 39 And from the East shall winds arise & shall open it with the cloude, which he raised vp in wrath, and the starre, raised, to feare the East and West winde, shall be destroyed.
- 40 And the great and mightie cloudes shall be lift vp, full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make, all the earth afayed, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powre out ouer euerie hie place, and lifted vp, an horrible constellation,
- 41 As fyre & hayle, and flying swordes, & many waters, that all fields may be full, & all riuers with the abundance of great waters.
- 42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, and mountaines, and hilles, and the trees of the wood, and the grasse of the meadowes, and their corne.
- 43 And they shall go with a streight course vnto Babylon, and make it afayed.
- 44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, & shall powre forth the constellation, & all the wrath against her: then shall the dust and smoke go vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall bewaile her.
- 45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall do seruice vnto them, that haue put her in feare.
- 46 And thou Asia, thou art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and the glorie of her persone.
- 47 Wo vnto thee, O wretch, because thou hast made thy self like vnto her, & hast deckt thy daughters in whoredome, that they might please & glorie in thy louers, which haue alway desired to comit whoredome with thee.
- 48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her workes, and in her inuentions: therefore saith God,
- 49 I will send plagues vpon thee, widowhed, pouertie, and famine, and the sword, and pestilence, to waste thine houses with destruction and death.
- 50 And the glorie of thy power shall be dried vp, as a flowre when the heat riseth, that is sent vpon thee.
- 51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and the louers shall not be able to receiue thee.
- 52 Would I thus hate thee, saith the Lord,
- 53 If thou haddest not alway staine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, & said ouer their death, when thou wast drunken,
- 54 Set forth the beautie of thy countenance?
- 55 The reward of thy whoredome shall be in thy bosom: therefore shalt thou receiue a reward,
- 56 As thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, so will God do vnto thee, and will deliuer thee vnto the plague.
- 57 And thy children shall dye of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword, and thy cities shall be broken downe, and all thy men shall fall by the sword in the field.
- 58 And they that be in the mountaines shall dye of hunger, and eat their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood for want of bread and thirst of water.
- 59 And thou, as vnhappy, shalt come therow on the sea, and receiue plagues againe.
- 60 In the passage they shall cast downe thy staine citie, & shall roote out one parte of thy land, and consume the portion of thy glorie, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.
- 61 When thou shalt be cast downe, thou shalt be to them as stubble, and they shall be to thee as fyre.
- 62 And they shall destroy thee, & thy cities, thy land, & thy mountaines: all thy woods, & all thy fruitefull trees shall they burne with fyre.
- 63 Thy children shall they carie away captiue, and shall spoyle thy substance, and marre the beautie of thy face.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Against Babylon, Asia, and Egypt and Syria. 17. Of the evils that shall come vpon the world, with admonition how to gouerne them selves in afflictions. 54. To acknowledge their sinnes, and to commit them selves to the Lord. 55. Whose mightie providence & iudgement is to be reuerenced.

- 1 WO to thee, Babylon and Asia: woe to thee, Egypt and Syria.
- 2 Girde your selues with sacke & heareclothe, and mourne your children, and be sure: for your destruction is at hand.
- 3 A sword is sent vnto you, and who will turne it backe? a fyre is sent among you, and who will quenche it?
- 4 Plagues are sent vnto you, & who can driue them away?
- 5 May any man driue away an hungrie lyon in the wood? or quenche the fyre in stubble when it hath once begonne to burne? may one turne againe the arrowe, that is shot of a strong archer?
- 6 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, & who can driue them away? the fyre is gone forth in his wrath, and who can quenche it?
- 7 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afayed?
- 8 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not vterly vterly be broken in pieces at his presence?

 the earth quake, and the foundation thereof:
 the sea ariseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues thereof are troubled, and the fishes thereof, before the Lord,
 and the glorie of his power.
 9 For strong is his right hand, that bendeth the bowe: his arrowes that he shooteth are sharpe, & shal not misse, when they beginne to be shot into the end of the world.
 10 Beholde, the plagues are sent, and shal not turne againe, till they come vpon earth.
 11 The fyre is kindled, and shal not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.
 12 As an arrowe which is shot of a mightie archer, returneth not backward, so the plages that shal be sent vpon earth, shal not turne againe.
 13 Wo is me, wo is me: who will deliuer me in those dayes?
 14 The beginning of sorowes, & great mourning: the beginning of famine, and great death: the beginning of warres, and the powers shal feare: the beginning of euils, and all shal tremble. What shal I do in these things, when the plagues come?
 15 Beholde, famine and plague, and trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendemēt.
 16 But for all these things they wil not turne from their wickednes, nor be alway mindfull of the scourges.
 17 Beholde, vitayles shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shal think them selues to be in good case: but then shal the euils bud forth vpon earth, euen the sworde, the famine and great confusion.
 18 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shal perish with famine, and the other that escape the famine, shal the sworde destroy.
 19 And the dead shalbe cast out as dungue, & there shalbe no man to comforte them: for the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.
 20 There shalbe no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it: the trees shal giue fruite, but who shal gather them?
 21 The grapes shalbe ripe, but who shal treade them? for all places shalbe desolate, so that one man shal desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.
 22 For of one cite there shalbe ten left, & two of y<sup>e</sup> field, which shal hide them selues in the thicke woods, and in the cleftes of rocks.
 23 As when there remaine three or foure oli-ues in the place where oliues growe, or among other trees,
 24 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorow the vineyard:
 25 So in those dayes there shalbe three or foure left by them that searche their houses with the sworde.
 26 And the earth shalbe left waste, & the fields thereof shal waxe olde, and her wayes and all her paths shal growe full of thornes, because no man shal traual therethrough.
 27 The virgins shal mourne, hauing no bride-gromes: and women shal make lamentation, hauing no husbands: their daughters shal mourne, hauing no helpers.

 28 In the warres shal their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbands shal perish with famine.
 29 But, ye seruantes of the Lord, heare these things, and marke them.
 30 Beholde the words of the Lord, receiue it beleeue, not the gods of whom the Lord speaketh: beholde the plagues drawe nere, and are not slacke.
 31 As a traveling womā which is y<sup>e</sup> ninth mo-neth bringeth forth her sente, when y<sup>e</sup> houre of birth is come, two or three houres afore y<sup>e</sup> paines come vpon her bodie, and when the child cometh to y<sup>e</sup> birth, they may not a while 32 So shal not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the world shal mourne, and sorowes shal come vpon it conuerty side.
 33 O my people, heare my worde: make you ready to the battel, & in the troubles be euen as strangers vpon earth.
 34 He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth his way: & he that byeth, as one that wil lose.
 35 Who so occupieth marchandise, as he that winneth not: and he that buildeth, as he that shal not dwell therein.
 36 He that soweth, as one that shal not reape:
 he that curteth the vine, as he that shal not gather the grapes.
 37 They that marry, as they that shal get no children: and they that marry not, so as the widowes.
 38 Therefore they that labour, labour in vaine.
 39 For strāgers shal reape their fruits, & spoyle their goods, and ouerthrowe their houses, & take their children captiue: for in captiuitie and famine shal they get their children.
 40 And they that occupie their marchandise with couetousnes, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, & their owne persones,
 41 So much more wil I be angrie against them for their sinnes, saith the Lord.
 42 As a whore enuieeth an honest and vertuous
 woman,
 43 So shal righteousness hate iniquitie, when she decketh her selfe, and shal accuse her openly, when he shal come that shal bridle the autor of all sinne vpon earth.
 44 And therefore be ye not like therunto, nor to the workes thereof for or euer it be long, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reigne among you.
 45 Let not the finner say, that he hath not sinned: for coles of fyre shal burne vpon his head, which saith, I haue not sinned before the Lord God and his glorie.
 46 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughts and their hearts.
 47 * For as soone as he said, Let the earth be made, it was made: let the heauen be made,
 and it was created.
 48 By his worde were the things established, and he knoweth the number of them.
 49 He searcheth the depth, and the treasures thereof:

Luk. 16. 15.

thercof: he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth:
50 He hath shut the sea in the middes of the waters, and with his worde hath he hanged
the earth vpon the waters.
51 He spreadeth out the heauen like a vawte:
vpon the waters hath he founded it.
52 In the desert hath he made springs of water, and pooles vpon the toppes of the moun-taines, to powre out floods from the hic rockes to water the earth.
53 He made man, and put his heart in the middes of the bodie, and gaue him breath, life and vnderstanding.
54 And the Spirit of the almightie God, which made all things, and hath searched all the hid things in the secrets of the earth, 55 He knoweth your inuentions, and what ye imagine in your heart when ye sinne and would hide your finnes.
56 Therefore hath the Lord searched & sought out al your works, & will put you al to shame.
57 And whē your finnes are brought forth before men, ye shalbe cōfounded, & your owne finnes shall stand as your accusers in that day.
58 What will ye do, or how will ye hide your finnes before God and his Angels?
59 Beholde, God him selfe is the iudge: feare him: cease from your finnes, and forget your iniquities, and meddle no more from hence forth with them: so shal God leade you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

60 For behold, the heate of a greaw multitude is kindled against you, and they shall take away certaine of you, and shall slaye you for meat to the idoles.
61 And they y consent vnto the, shalbe had in derisio & in reproche, & troden vnder foote.
62 For in euerie place & cities that are neere, there shalbe great insurrection against those that feare the Lord.
63 They shalbe like mad men: they shall spare none: they shall spoyle, and wast such as yet feare the Lord.
64 For they then shall waste and spoyle their goods, and cast them out of their houses.
65 Then shall the trial of my chosen appeare, as the golde is tried by the fyre.
66 Heare, o ye my beloued, saith the Lord: be-holde, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you frō them: be not ye affrayed:
doute not, for God is your captaine.
67 Who so keepeth my commandements and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your finnes weigh you downe, & let not your ini-quities lift them selues vp.
68 Woe vnto them that are bound with their finnes, and couered with their iniquities, as a field is hedged in with bushes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, whereby no man may traual: it is shut vp, and is appointed to be deuoured with fyre.

2. King. 12. 10.

HE booke of the words of Tobit sonne of Tobiel, the sonne of Ananeel, the ſone of Aduel, the ſonne of Gabael, of the ſeede of Aſael, & of the tribe of Nephthalim, 3 Who in the time of Enemeſſar King of the Aſſyrians was * ledded away captiue out of Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that cittie, which is called properly Nephthalim, in Galilee aboue Aſer.
4 I Tobit haue walked all my life long in the way of truth & iuſtice, & I did many things liberally to the brethren, which were of my nation, and came with me to Nineue into the land of the Aſſyrians.
5 And when I was in mine owne countrey in the land of Iſrael, being but yong, al the tribe of Nephthalim my father ſell frō the houſe of Ieruſalem, which was choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael, that al the tribes ſhould ſacrifice there, where the Temple of the tabernacle of the moſt High was conſecrated, and built vp for all ages.
6 Now al y tribes, which ſell from God, yea, and my father Nephthalims houſe offered to the heifer called Baal.
7 But I (as it was ordeined to all Iſrael by an euerlaſting decree) went alone often to Ie-ruſale, at the feaſts * bringing the firſt fruits, and the tenth of beaſts, with that which was firſt ſhorne, and offered them at the altar to the Priektes the children of Aaron.

8 The thirde tenth part I gaue to the Priektes the ſonnēs of Aaron, which miniſtred in Ieruſalem: the other tenth part I ſolde, & came and beſtowed it euery yere at Ieruſalem.
9 The thirde tenth part I gaue vnto them to whome it was meete, as Debora my fathers mother had commanded me: for my father leſte me as a pupil.
10 Furthermore when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine owne kin-red, and of her I begate Tobias.
11 But when I was ledded captiue to Nineue, all my brethren, & thoſe which were of my kinred, did eate of the * bread of the Gētiles.
12 But I kept my ſelf from eating, 13 Becauſe I remembred God with all mine heart.
14 Therefore the moſt High gaue me grace and fauour before Enemeſſar, ſo that I was his puruoier.
15 And I went into Media, and I deliuered ten talents of ſiluer to Gabael the brother of Gabrias in the land of Media.
16 But when Enemeſſar was dead, Sennacherib his ſonne reigned in his ſteade: whoſe ſtate becauſe it was troubled, I could not go into Media.

ny almes to my brethren, and gaue my bread

rie sorowfull; so that she thought to haue strangled her selfe. And she said, I am the only daughter of my father; and if I do this,
I shal slander him, and shal bring his age to the graue with sorow.

11 Then she prayed toward the windowe and said, Blessed art thou, o Lord my God, and thine holy and glorious Name is blessed, and honorable for euer: let all thy workes praise thee for euer.

12 And now, o Lord, I set mine eyes, and my face toward thee.

13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may heare no more any reproche.

14 Thou knowest, o Lord, that I am pure from all sinne with man;

15 And that I haue neuer polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captiuitie: I am the only daughter of my father, neither hath he any man child to be his heire, neither any neere kinsman or childe borne of him, to whom I may keepe my selfe for a wife: my seuen husbands are now dead, & why should I liue? But if it please not thee y
I should dye, commaund to looke on me, & to pitie me that I do no more heare reproche.

16 So the prayers of them both were heard before the maiestie of the great God.

17 And Raphael was sent to heale them both, to take away the whiteness of Tobits eyes, and to giue Sarra the daughter of Ra-guel for a wife, to Tobias the sonne of Tobit, and to binde Asmodeus the euil spirit, because he belonged to Tobias by right. The same time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, and Sarra the daughter of Raguel came downe from her chamber.

CHAP. XI.

In that day Tobit remembered the siluer, which he had deliuered to Gabael in Rages a cite of Media.

2 And said with him selfe, I haue wished for death: wherefore do I not call for my sonne Tobias that I may admonish him before I dye?

3 And when he had called him, he said, My sonne, after that I am dead, bury me, and despise not thy mother, but honor her all the dayes of thy life, & do that which shal please either, and anger her not.

4 Remember, my sonne, how many dangers the susteined when thou wast in her wombe,

5 And when she dyeth, bury her by me in the same graue.

6 My sonne, for our Lord God alwayes before thine eyes, & let not thy wil be set to sinne or to transgresse the commandements of God.
Doe rightfully all thy life long, & followe not thy wayes of vnrighthouse: for if thou deale untruely, thy doings shall prosperously succede to thee, and to all them which liue iustly.

7 Giue almes of thy substance: and when thou giuest almes, let no thine eye be en-uious, neither turne thy face from any poore, lest that God turne his face from thee.

8 Giue almes according to thy substance: if thou haue but a litle, be not afrayde to giue a litle almes.

9 For thou layest vp a good store for thy selfe against the day of necessitie,

10 Because y almes doeth deliuer fro death, and suffreth not to come into darkenes.

11 For almes is a good gift before the moste
High to all them which vse it.

12 Beware of all whoredome, my sonne, and chiefly take a wife of y seede of thy fathers, & take not a strange woman to wife which is not of thy fathers stocke: for we are the children of the Prophetes, Noe, Abraham, Isaac & Jacob are our fathers fro the beginning. Remember my sonne that they married wiues of their owne kined, and were blessed in their children & their seede shal inherite the land.

13 Now therefore, my sonne, loue thy brether, and despise not in thine heart thy brether, the sonnes and daughters of thy people in not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction, and much trouble, and in fierceness is scarcetie, & great pouertie: for fierceness is the mother of famine.

14 Let not the wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, tari with thee, but giue him it out of hand: for if thou serue God, he will also pay thee: be circumspect, my sonne, in all things that thou doest, and be well instructed in all thy conuersation.

15 Doe to me man which thou hatest: drinke not wine to make thee drunken, neither let drunkennes go with thee in thy iourney.

16 Giue of thy bragde to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked, & of all thine abundance giue almes, & let not thine eye be enuious, when thou giuest almes.

17 Powre out thy bread on the buriall of the iust, but giue nothing to the wicked.

18 Aske counsell alway of the wise, and despise not any counsell that is profitable.

19 Blesse thy Lord God alway, & desire of him that thy wayes may be made streight, & that all thy purposes, & counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsell: but the Lord giueth all good things, & he humbleth whom he wil, as he wil know therefore, my sonne, remember my commandements, neither let them at anie time be put out of thy minde.

20 Furthermore, I signifie this to thee, that I deliuered ten talents to Gabael the sonne of Gabrias at Rages in Media.

21 And feare not, my sonne, for as much as we are made poore: for thou hast many things, if thou feare God, and flee from all sinne, & do that thing which is acceptable vnto him.

CHAP. XII.

Tobias sent to Ragel, & he meteth with the Angel Ra-phael, which did conduct him.

1 Tobias then answered, and said, Father, I will do all things which thou hast commanded me.

2 But how can I receiue the siluer, seeing I know him not?

3 Then he gaue him the hand writing, & said vnto him, Seeke thee a man, which may go with thee, whiles I yet liue, & I will giue him wages, and go and receiue the money.

4 Therefore when he was gone to seeke a man, he found Raphael the Angel.

1 But he knew not; and said vnto him, May I goe with thee into the lande of Media? and knowest thou those places well?
2 To whom the Angel said, I wil go with thee:
for I haue remained w our brother Gabael.
3 Then Tobias said to him, Tarie for me, till
I tell my father.
4 Then he sayde vnto him, Go, and tarie not:
so he went in and said to his father, Beholde,
I haue founde one which will goe with mee.
Then he said, Call him vnto me, that I may knowe of what tribe he is, and whether he be faithfull to goe with thee.
5 So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another.
6 Then Tobit said vnto him, Brother, shewe me of what tribe and familie thou art.
7 To whom he said, Doeſt thou seeke a stocke or familie, or an hired man to goe with thy knowe? Then Tobit said vnto him, I woulde knowe, brother, thy kindred and thy name.
8 Then he said, I am of the kindred of Azarias and Ananias the great, & of thy brethren.
9 The Tobit said, Thou art welcome, brother:
be not now angrie w me, because I haue enquired to know thy kindred, & thy familie: for thou art my brother of an honest and good stocke: for I knewe Ananias and Ionathas sonnes of that great Samaias: for we went together to Ierusalem to worship, & offered the first borne, & the tenth of the fruits, & they were not deceiued with y error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stocke.
10 Buttel me, What wages shal I giue thee? wilt thou a groate a day and things necessarie, as to mine owne sonne?
11 Yea, moreover if ye returne safe, I will adde something to the wages.
12 So they agreed. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thy self for the iourney, & go you on Gods Name. And when his sonne had prepared all things for the iourney, his father said, Go thou with this man, and God which dwelleth in heauen, prosper your iourney, & the Angel of God keepe you companie. So they went forth both and departed, and the dogge of the yong man with them.
13 But Anna his mother wept, & said to To-bit, Why hast thou sent away our sonne? is he not the staffe of our hād to minister vnto vs?
14 Woulde to God we had not layed money vpon money, but that it had bene cast away in respect of our sonne.
15 For that which God hath giuen vs to liue with, doeth suffice vs.
16 Then said Tobit, Be not carefull, my sister:
he shal returne in safetie, and thine eyes shal see him.
17 For the good Angel doeth keepe him com-panie, and his iourney shal be prosperous, & he shal returne safe.
18 Then the made an ende of weeping.

CHAP. VI.

1 Tobias deliuered from the fish. 2 Raphael sheweth him certain medicines. 3 He conduſteth him toward Sarra.
4 And as they went on their iourney, they came at night to the flood Tygris, and there abode.

1 And when the yong man went to wash him selfe, a fish leaped out of the riuer, and woulde haue deuoured him.
2 Then the Angel said vnto him, Take the fish. And the yong man rooke the fish, and drew it to land.
3 To whome the Angel said, Cut the fish, and take the heart, and the liuer, and the gall, & put them vp surely.
4 So the yong man did as the Angel commanded him: and when they had roasted the fish, they ate it: then they both went on their way, till they came to Ecbatane.
5 Then the yong man said to the Angel, Brother Azarias, what suaueth the heart &
the liuer, and the gall of the fish?
6 And he said vnto him, Touching y heart & the liuer, if a deuill or an euill spirit trouble any, we must make a perfume of this before y man or y woman, & he shal be ad more cured.
7 As for the gall, euill is in man that hath whitenesse in his eyes, and he shal be healed.
8 And when they were come nere to Rages, 9 The Angel said to the yong man, Brother, to day we shall lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin; he also hath one only daughter named Sarra: I will speake for her that she may be giuen thee for a wife.
10 For to thee doeth the right of lighter piercing, seeing thou alone art the remanent of her kindred.
11 And the maide is faire & wise: now therefore heare me, and I will speake to her father, that we may make the marriage which we are returned from Rages: for I knowe Raguel can not marrie her to another score ding to the law of Moyses: for he should deserue death, because the right doeth rather appetaine to thee then to any other man.
12 Then the yong man answered the Angel, I haue heard, brother Azarias, that this maide hath bene giuen to Israhel men, who alldyed in the marriage chambers.
13 And I am the only begotten sonne of my father, & I am afraid, least I go into her, & dye as y other before: for a wicked spirit liueth her, which hurteth no bodie, but those which come nio her: wherefore I also feare least I dye, and bring my fathers and my mothers life because of me to the grave with for euer:
for they haue no other sonne to bury them.
14 Then the Angel said vnto him, Doeſt thou not remeber the precepts which thy father gaue thee, that thou shouldest marrie a wife of thine owne kindred? wherefore heare me, o my brother, for she shal be thy wife, neither be thou carefull of y euill spirit: for in some night shall she be giuen thee in marriage.
15 And when thou shalt go into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take of the hote roles for perfumes, and make a perfume of the heart, and of the liuer of the fish.
16 Which if the spirit do smell, he will flee away, & neuer come againe any more: but whe thou shalt come to her, rise vp both of you, & praye to God which is mercifull: who will haue pitie on you, and saue you: feare not, for she is appointed vnto thee from the be-

Tobias marrieth Sarra Raguels daughter.

Raphael & Tobias come to Raguel.

And when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel: and Sarra met them, & after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.

Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin?

And Raguel asked, Where are you, my brethren? To whom they said, that they were of the tribe of Nephthaliim, and of the captiues that dwelt at Ninoue.

Then he said to them, Do ye knowe Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We knowe him.

Then said he, Is he in good health?

And they said, He is both alive, & in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father.

Then Raguel leaped, & kissed him, & wept; and blessed him, and said vnto him, Thou art the sonne of an honest & good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blinde, he was sorrowfull and wept.

And likewise Edna his wife, and Sarra his daughter wept. Moreover they received the with a readie minde, and after that they had killed a ram of the flocke, they set much meat on the table: Then said Tobias to Raphael,

Tobias asketh Raguels daughter to wife.

Brother Azarias, put forth those thinges wherewith thou spakest in the way; that this busines may be dispatched.

So he communicated the matter with Raguel, & Raguel said to Tobias, Eat, & drinke and make merry.

For it is meete that thou shouldest marry my daughter: neuertheless, I will declare vnto thee the truth.

I haue giuen my daughter in marriage to seven men, who dyed that night which they came in vnto her: neuertheless, be thou of a good courage and merry. But Tobias said, I desire nothing here, vntill ye bring her hither, and betrothe her to me.

Raguel said then, Marrie her then according to the custome: for thou art her cousin, & she is thine. God which is mercifull, make this prosperous to you in all good thinges.

Raguel giueth his daughter Sarra to Tobias.

Numb. 36. 8.

Then he called his daughter Sarra, and she came to her father, and he tooke her by the hand, and gaue her for wife to Tobias, saying, Beholde, take her after the Lawe of Moyses, and leade her away to thy father: and he blessed them.

And called his wife Edna, and he tooke a booke and wrote a contract, and sealed it.

Then they began to eat.

After Raguel called his wife Edna, and said vnto her, Sisters, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

Which when he had done, as he had bidden her, he brought her thither: then Sarra wept, & her mother wiped away her daughters teares.

And said vnto her, Be of good comfort, my daughter: the Lord of Heauen and earth giue thee ioye for this thy sorow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

Tobias driueth away the euill spirit. He prayeth to God with his wife. Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in law. Raguel bleisseth the Lord.

And when they had supped, they brought Tobias in vnto her.

And as he went, he remembered the wordes of Raphael, and tooke coles for perfumes, & put the heart and liuer of the fish therupon, and made a perfume.

The which smell when the euill spiritke had smelled, he fled into the vtmost partes of Egypt, whom the Angel bound.

And after that they were both shut in, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise and let vs pray, that God would haue pnie on vs.

Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers; & blessed is thine holie and glorious Name for euer: let the heauens blesse thee, and all thy creatures.

Thou madest Adam, and gauest him his wife for an helpe, and stay: of them came mankind: thou hast said, It is not good, that a man should be alone: let vs make vnto him an ayde like vnto him selfe.

And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for fornication: but vprightly: therefore graunt me mercie, that we may become aged together.

And he said with him, Amen.

So they slept both that night, and Raguel arose, and went and made a graue.

Saying, Is not he dead also?

But when Raguel was come into his house, he said to his wife Edna, Send one of thy maides, & let the see whether he be alive: if not, that I may burie him, and none knowe it.

So the maid opened the doore, & went in, and found them both a sleepe,

And came forth, and told them that he was alive.

Then Raguel praised God, & said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure, & holie praise: therefore let thy Saints praise thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels and thine elect praise thee for euer.

Thou art to be praised, O Lord: for thou hast made me ioyfull, and that is not come to me which I suspected: but thou hast dealt with vs according to great mercie.

Thou art to be prayd because thou hast had mercy of two that were the only begotten children of their fathers: graunt them mercie, O Lord, and finish their life in health with ioye and mercie.

Then Raguel bade his seruants to flie graue.

And he kepte the wedding feast fourteene dayes.

For Raguel had said vnto him by an othe, that he should not depart before that fourteene dayes of the marriage were expired.

And the he should take y half of his goods and returne in safetie to his father, & should haue the rest, when he & his wife were dead.

CHAP. IX.

Raphael leadeth Gabael to Tobias marriage.

- 1 THEN Tobias called Raphael, and said vnto him,
- 2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a seruant and two camels, & go to Rages of the Medes to Gabael, and bring me the money & bring him to the wedding.
- 3 For Raguel hath sworne that I shall not departe.
- 4 But my father counteth the dayes: and if I tarie long, he will be very sorie.
- 5 So Raphael went out and came to Gabael, and gaue him the hand writing, who brought forth bagges which were sealed vp, and gaue them to him.
- 9 And in the morning they went forth, both together, and came to the wedding. And Tobias begate his wife with childe.

CHAP. X.

Tobit and his wife thinke long for their sonne, so Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sarra.

- 1 NOW Tobit his father counted euery day, & when the dayes of the iourney were expired, and they came not,
- 2 Tobit said, Are they not mocked? or is not Gabael dead, & there is no man to giue him the money?
- 3 Therefore he was very sorie.
- 4 The his wife said to him, My sonne is dead, seeing he tarrieth: and she beganne to bewaile him, and sayde,
- 5 Nowe * I care for nothing, my sonne, since I haue lost thee the light of mine eyes.
- 6 To whome Tobit said, Holde thy peace: be not carefull, for he is safe.
- 7 But she sayde, Holde thy peace, and deceiue me not: my sonne is dead: and she went out euerie day by the way, which they went, neither did she eate meate on the day time, and did consume whole nightes in bewailing her sonne Tobias vntill the fourtene dayes of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworne, that he should tary there. Then Tobias said to Raguel, Let me go: for my father and my mother looke no more to see me.
- 8 But his father in lawe said vnto him, Tarie with me, and I will send to thy father, & they shall declare him thine affaires.
- 9 But Tobias sayde, No, but let me go to my father.
- 10 Then Raguel arose, and gaue him Sarra his wife, and halfe his goods, as seruants, and cattel, and money,
- 11 And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heauen make you, my children, to prosper before I dye.
- 12 And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father, and thy mother in lawe which are now thy parentes, that I may heare good reporte of thee: and he kissed them. Edna also saide to Tobias, The Lord of heauen restore thee, my deare brother, and graunte that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarra, that I may reioyce before the Lord. Beholde now, I commit to thee, my daughter; as a pledge: do not entreat her euil.

CHAP. XI.

The returne of Tobias to his father. 9 How he was received. 10 His father hath his sight restored and praiseth the Lord.

- 1 AFTER these things Tobias went his way, praising God that he had giuen him a prosperous iourney, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way till he drewe neere to Nineue.
- 2 The Raphael said to Tobias, Thou knowest, brother, how thou diddest leaue thy father.
- 3 Let vs haste before thy wife, and prepare the house,
- 4 And take in thine hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dogge followed them.
- 5 Now Anna sate in the waye looking for her sonne,
- 6 Whome when she saw comming, she said to his father, Behold, thy sonne cometh, and the man that went with him.
- 7 Then said Raphael, I knowe, Tobias, that thy father shall receiue his sight.
- 8 Therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, & being pricked therewith, he shall rub & make the whitenes to fall away, and shall see thee.
- 9 Then Anna ranne forth, and fell on the necke of her sonne, & said vnto him, Seeing I haue seene thee, my sonne, from hence forth I am content to dye, and they wept both.
- 10 Tobias also went forth toward the doore, and stumbled, but his sonne ranne vnto him.
- 11 And tooke hold of his father and sprinkled of the gall on his fathers eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.
- 12 And when his eyes began to pricke, he rubbed them.
- 13 And the whitenes pilled away from the corners of his eyes, and when he sawe his sonne, he fell vpon his necke,
- 14 And he wept and said, Blessed art thou, o Lord, and blessed be thy Name for euer, and blessed be all thine holy Angels.
- 15 For thou hast scourged me, and hast had pitie on me: for beholde, I see my sonne Tobias: and his sonne, being glad went in, and tolde his father the great things, that had come to passe in Media.
- 16 Then Tobit was out to meete his daughter in lawe, reioycing and praying God to the gate of Nineue: & they which sawe him go, marvelled, because he had received his sight.
- 17 But Tobit testified before them al that God had had pitie on him, And when he came nere to Sarra his daughter in lawe, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter: God be blessed, which hath brought thee vnto vs, & blessed be thy father: & there was great ioye among all his brethren which were at Nineue.
- 18 And Achiacharus and Nasbas his brothers sonne came.
- 19 And Tobias marriage was kept seuen dayes with great ioye.

The Angels cost sel to Tobias.

A thanksgiving of Tobit, who exhorteth al to praise the Lord.

- for the man, which went with thee, and thou must giue him more.
- 2 And he said vnto him, O father, it shall not grieue me to giue him halfe of those things which I haue brought.
- 3 For he hath brought me againe to thee in safetie, and hath made whole my wife, & hath brought mee the money, and hath likewise healed thee.
- 4 Then the olde man said, It is due vnto him.
- 5 So he called the Angell, and said vnto him, Take halfe of all that ye haue brought, & goe away in safetie.
- 6 But he tooke them both apart, and said vnto them, Praise God, and confesse him, & giue him the glorie, and prayse him for the things which he hath done vnto you before al them that liue. It is good to prayse God, and to exalte his Name, and to shew forth his euident workes with honour: therefore be not weary to confesse him.
- 7 It is good to keepe close the secretes of a King, but it is honorable to reuicell the workes of God: do that which is good, and no euill shall touche you.
- 8 Prayer is good with fasting, and almes, and righteousnes. A lite wth righteousnes is better then much with vnrighteousnes: it is better to giue almes then to laye vp golde.
- 9 For almes doth deliuer from death, and doeth purge all sinne. Those which exercise almes and righteousnes, shalbe filled with life.
- 10 But they that sinne, are enemies to their owne life.
- 11 Surely I will keepe close nothing from you: neuertheles, I said it was good to keepe close the secretes of a King, but that it was honorable to reuicell the workes of God.
- 12 Nowe therefore when thou diddest praye, and Sarra thy daughter in law, I did bring to memorie your prayer before the Holie one: and when thou diddest burie the dead, I was with thee likewise.
- 13 And when thou wast not grieved to rise vp, and leaue thy dinner to burie the dead, thy good deede was not hid from mee: but I was with thee.
- 14 And now God hath sent me to heale thee, and Sarra thy daughter in law.
- 15 I am Raphael one of the seuen holy Angels, which present the prayers of the Saints, and which go forth before his holy maiestie.
- 16 Then they were both troubled, and set vpon their face: for they feared.
- 17 But he sayde vnto them, Feare not, for it shall goe wel with you: prayse God therefore.
- 18 For I came not of mine owne pleasure; but by the good will of your God: wherefore praise him in all ages.
- 19 * All these dayes I did appeare vnto you, but I did neither eate nor drinke, but you saw it in vision.
- 20 Now therefore giue God thanks: for I go vp to him that sent me: but write all things which are done, in a booke.
- 21 And whē they rose, they sawe him no more.
- 22 Then they confessed the great and wonderful workes of God, and how the Angel of

He that wilbe acceptable to God, must be proued with tentation.

Gen. 22. 1. & 19. 3.
and 23. 16.

- 1 Then Tobit wrote a prayer of reioicing, and said, Blessed be God that liueth for euer, and blessed be his kingdome.
- 2 * For he doeth scourge, and hath pitie: he leadeth to hell, and bringeth vp, neither is there any that can auoide his hande.
- 3 Confesse him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel: for he hath scattered you among them.
- 4 There declare his greatnes, and extoll him before all the liuing: for he is our Lord and our God and our Father for euer.
- 5 He hath scourged vs for our iniquities, and will haue mercie againe, & wil gather vs out of al nations, among whom we are scattered.
- 6 If you turne to him with your whole heart, and with your whole minde, and deale vp-rightly before him, then will he turne vnto you, and wil not hide his face from you, but ye shall see what he will do with you: therefore confesse him with your whole mouth, & praise the Lord of righteousnes, & extoll the euerlasting King. I will confesse him in the land of my captiuitie, and will declare his power, and greatnes to a sinfull nation. O ye sinners, turne and do iustice before him: who can tell if he will receiue you to mercie, and haue pitie on you?
- 7 I will extoll my God, and my soule shall praise the King of heauen, and shall reioyce in his greatnes.
- 8 Let all men speake, and let all praise him for his righteousnes.
- 9 O Ierusalem the holy citie, he will scourge thee for thy childrens workes, but he will haue pitie againe on the finnes of righteous men.
- 10 Giue praise to the Lord duely, and praise the euerlasting King: that his tabernacle may be buylded in thee againe with ioye: & let him make ioyefull there in thee those that are captiues, and sowe in thee for euer those that be miserable.
- 11 Many nations shal come fro faire to the Name of the Lord God, with gifts in their hands, euen gifts to the King of heauen: all generations shall praise thee, & giue signes of ioye.
- 12 Cursed are all they, which hate thee: but blessed are they for euer which loue thee.
- 13 Reioyce, and be glad for the children of the iust: for they shalbe gathered, and shal blesse the Lord of the iust.
- 14 Blessed are they wth loue thee: for they shall reioyce in thy peace. Blessed are they which haue bene sorowfull for all thy scourges: for they shall reioyce for thee, when they shall see all thy glorie, and shall reioyce for euer.
- 15 Let my soule blesse God the great King.
- 16 For Ierusalem shalbe buyt vp with sapphires, and emeraldes, and thy walles with precious stones; and thy towers, and the bulwarkes with pure golde.
- 17 And the streetes of Ierusalem shalbe paved with beryl, & carbuncle, and stones of Ophir.
- 18 And all her streetes shall say, Halleluiah, & they * Or, Sapphires.

Or, praise ye the Lord.

they shall praise him, saying, Blessed be God which hath extolled it for ever.

CHAP. XIII.

Lessons of Tobit to his sonne. 5 He prophesieth the destruction of Nineue, 7 Told the restoring of Ierusalem and the Temple. 13 The death of Tobit, and his wife 26 Tobits age and death.

SO Tobit made an end of praying God. And he was eight and fiftie yeece olde, when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight yeece, and he gave almes, and he continued to feare the Lord God, and to praise him.

And when he was very aged, he called his sonne, and sixe of his sonnes sonnes, and said to him, My sonne, take thy children (for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life).

Go into Media, my sonne: for I beleue that those things which Ionas the Prophet spake of Nineue, that it shall be destroyed, and for a time peace shall rather be in Media; and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from that good land; and Ierusalem shall be desolate, and the House of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time.

Yet againe God wil haue pitie on them, & bring them againe into the land where they shall build a Temple, but not like to the first, vntil the times of that age be fulfilled, which being finished, they shall returne from euery place out of captiuitie, and build vp Ierusalem gloriously, & the House of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building; as the Prophetes haue spoken thereof.

And all nations shall turne, & feare the Lord God truly, and shall burie their idoles.

So shall all nations prayse the Lord, and his people shall cōfesse God, & the Lord shall exalte his people, and all those which loue the Lord in trueth & iustice, shall reioyce, & those also which shewe mercie to our brethren.

And now, my sonne, depart out of Nineue, because that those things which the Prophet Ionas spake, shall surely come to passe.

But keepe thou the Law, and the commandments; and shewe thy selfe mercifull and iust: that it may go well with thee.

And blesse me honestly, and thy mother with me: but tary no longer at Nineue: Remember my sonne, how Aman handled Asithacharus that brought him vp, how our light he brought him into darkenes, & how he rewarded him againe: yet Asithacharus was faued, but the other had his rewarde: for he went downe into darkenes. Manasses gave almes, and escaped the snare of death, which they had set for him; but Aman fell into the snare and perished.

Wherefore now, my sonne, consider what almes doeth, and howe righteousness doeth deliuer. When he had said these things, he gaue vp the ghost in the bed, being an hundred and eight and fiftie yeece olde; and he buried him honorably.

And when Anna was dead, he buried her wth his father: but Tobias went wth his wife & children to Ecbatane to Raguel his father in lawe.

Where he became olde with honour; and he buried his father and mother in lawe honorably, and he inherited their substance & Tobits his father.

And he dyed at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundred and seuen & twentie yeece olde.

But before he dyed, he hearde of the destruction of Nineue, which was take by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus, & before his death he reioyced for Nineue.

* Or, his soule failed him in the bed.

IN DEETH.

CHAP. I.

The building of Ecbatane. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 13 He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

IN the twelfth yeece of the reigne of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineue the great citie (in the dayes of Arphaxad, which reigned ouer y<sup>e</sup> Medes in Ecbatane,

And buylt in Ecbatane the walles round about, of hewen stone, three cubites broad, and six cubites long; and made the height of the wall seuentie cubites, and the breadth thereof fiftie cubites,

And made the towres thereof in the gates of it of an hundred cubites, and the breadth thereof in the foundation three score cubites,

And made the gates thereof, euen gates that were lifted vp on hie, seuentie cubites, and the breadth of them fourtie cubites; for the going forth of his mightie armies, and for the setting in aray of his footemen.)

Euen in thole daies, King Nabuchodonosor made warre with King Arphaxad in y<sup>e</sup> great field, which is the field in y<sup>e</sup> coastes of Ragan.

Then came vnto him all they that dwelt in the mountaines, & all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tygris and Hydaspes, & the country of Arioch the King of the Elymeans, & very many nations assembled them selues to the battel of the sonnes of Chelod.

And Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians sent vnto all that dwelt in Persia; and to all that dwelt in the West, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt vpon the sea coast,

And to the people, that are in Carmel, and Galaad, and the hier Galilee; and the great field of Eldrelam,

And to all that were in Samaria, and the cities thereof, and beyond Iorden vnto Ierusalem, and Betane, and Chellus, and Cades, and the riuer of Egypt; and Taphnes, and Rameffe and all the land of Gesem,

Vnto one come to Tanis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt; and to one come to the mountaines of Ethiopia,

But all the inhabitants of this countrey did nor passe for the commandement of Nabuchodonosor: King of the Assyrians, neither would they come with him to the battell: for they did not feare him: yea, he was before them as one many therefore they sent away his ambassadours from them without effect, and with dishonour.

Therefore Nabuchodonosor was verie angry with all his countrey, & sware by his throne and kingdome, that he would surely be avenged vpon all those coastes of Cilicia and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the swerde all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Iudea, and all that were in Egypt, till one come to the borders of the twelue seas.

Then he marched in battell aray with his power against King Arphaxad in the seuen-teenth yere, & he preuailed in his battell: for he ouerthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots.

And he waene his cities, & came vnto Ecbatane, and tooke the towres, and spoyled the streets thereof, and turned the beautie thereof into shame.

He tooke also Arphaxad in the mountaines of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him vtterly that day.

So he returned afterward to Nineue, both he and all his companie with a verie great multitude of men of warre, and there he passed the time, and banketed, both he, and his armie an hundredth and twentie dayes.

CHAP. II. Nabuchodonosor commanded presumptionly that all people should be brought in subiection, & And to destroy those that disobeyed him. 15 The preparation of Olofernes army. 23 The conquest of his enemies.

And in the eighteenth yere, the two and twentieth day of the first moneth, there was talke in the house of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, that he should avenge himselfe on all the earth, as he had spoken.

So he called vnto him all his officers and all his nobles, & communicated with them his secret counsel, and set before them with his owne mouth all the malice of the earth.

Then they decreed to destroy all flesh, y had not obeyed the commandement of his mouth.

And when he had ended his counsell, Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians called Olofernes his chiefe captaine, & which was nexte vnto him, and said vnto him,

Thus saith the great King, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, & take with thee men that trust in their owne strength, of footemen, an hundredth and twentie thousand, & the number of horses with their riders, twelue thousand.

And thou shalt go against all the West countrey, because they disobeyed my commandement.

And thou shalt declare vnto them, that they prepare for me the land and the water: for I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will couer the whole face of the earth with the feete of mine armie, and I will giue them as a spoyle vnto them,

So that their wounded shall fill their valleys, and their riuers, & the flood shall ouerflowe, being filled with their dead.

And I wil bring their captiuitie to the vtmost partes of all the earth.

Thou therefore shalt depart hence, & take vp for me all their countrey: and if they yield vnto thee, thou shalt referue them for me vntill the daye that I rebuke them.

But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare them, but put them to death, and spoyle them whersoever thou goest.

For as I liue, and the power of my kingdom, whatsoever I haue spoken, that will I do by mine hand.

And take thou heede: that thou transgresse not any of the commandements of thy lord, but accomplish them fully, as I haue commanded thee, and deserre not to do them.

Then Olofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the gouernours, and captaines, and officers of the armie of Assur.

And he mustred the chosen men for the battell, as his lord had commanded him, vnto an hundredth & twentie thousand, & twelue thousand archers on horsebacke.

And he set them in aray according to the manner of setting a great armie in aray.

And he tooke camels & asses for their burdens, a very great nuber, & sheepe, & oxen, & goates without number for their prouision.

And vitall for euery man of y armie, & verie much gold & siluer out of y Kinges house.

Then he went forth and all his power, to go before in the viage of King Nabuchodonosor, & to couer all the face of the earth Westward, with their chariots, and horsemen, and chosen footemen.

A great multitude also of sundrie sortes came with them like grasshoppers, and like the grauel of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

And they wet forth of Nineue three dayes journey toward the countrey of Bechileth, & pitched from Bechileth neere the mountaine which is at the left hand of the vpper Cilicia.

Then he tooke all his armie, his footemen and horsemen, and chariots, and went from thence into the mountaines.

And he destroyed Phud and Lud, and spoyled all the children of Rasses, and the children of Ismael, which were toward the wilderness at the South of the Chelians.

Then he went ouer Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the chie cities that were vpon the riuier of Arbogai, vntill one come to the sea.

And he tooke the borders of Cilicia, & destroyed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Iapheth, which were toward the South and ouer against Arabia.

He compassed also all the children of Median, & burnt vp their tabernacles, and spoyled their lodges.

Then he went downe into the countrey of Damascus, in the time of wheat haruest and burnt vp all their fieldes, and destroyed their their flocks, & the herds: he robbed their wives, & spoiled their country, & smote all their young men with the edge of ſword.

Therefore feare and trembling fell upon all the inhabitants of the ſea coaſt, which were in Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwell in Sur and Coena, and all that dwell in Iem-naan: and they that dwell in Azotus, and Aſcalon feared him greatly.

CHAP. III. 1207

The people which the Chaldeans: & they destroyed their gods that Nabuchodonosor might only be worshipped.

SO they sent ambassadors to him with messages of peace, saying,

Behold, we are the seruants of Nabuchodonosor the great King: we lie downe before thee: yf vs as shalbe good in thy fight.

Behold, our houses and all our places, & all our fields of wheat, and our flocks, and our herds, & al our lodges & tabernacles lie before thy face: vsf thē as it pleaseth thee.

Behold, euen our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy seruants: come, and take the, as seemeth good to thee.

¶ So the men came to Olofernes, and declared vnto them after this maner:

Then came he downe toward the sea coast, both he and his armie, and set garisons in the hie cities, and tooke out of them chosen me for the warre.

So they and all the countrey round about receiued them, with crownes, with dances, and with timbrels.

Yet he brake downe all their borders, and cut downe their woodes: for it was ioynted him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worships Nabuchodonosor onely, and that all tongues and tribes should call vpon him as God.

Also he came against Esdraelon, nere vnto Iudea, ouer against the great strait of Iudea,

And he pitched betwene Geba, and a citie of y Scythiās, & there he taried a moneth, y
he might assemble al y baggage of his armie.

CHAP. III.

The Israelites were afraid and defended their country. 6 Joachim the Priest writeth to Bethulia, that they should forsake themselves. 9 They cryed to the Lord, and humbled themselves before him.

NOW the children of Israel that dwell in Iudea, heard all that Olofernes the chiefe captaine of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and howe he had spoyled all their temples, and brought them to naught.

Therefore they feared greatly his presence, and were troubled for Ierusalem, and for the Temple of the Lord their God.

For they were newly returned from the captivity, and of late all the people was assembled in Iudea, and the vessels and the altar of the House had bene sanctified because of the pollution.

Therefore they sent into all the coastes of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethoro, & Belmen, and Iericho, and to Choba, & Esora, and to the valley of Salem.

And tooke all the toppes of the hie mounraines, and walled the villages that were in them, and put in vitailles for the proution of warre, for their fieldes were of late reaped.

Allo Joacim the hie Priest which was in those dayes in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia and Beershebam, which is over against Esdraslon towards the open countrey nere to Bethaim.

Exhorting them to keep the passage of the mountaineers for my term there was an entrie into ludca, & it was caſie to let them that would come y<sup>e</sup> bloodie the paſſage was ſtreit for two men at the moſt

And the children of Israel did as Joacim the big Priest had commanded them with the Ancients of all the people of Israel, which dwell at Jerusalem.

Then cryed every man of Israel to, God with great fervencie, and their foules with great affection.

Both they, and their wives, and their children, and their cattle, and currie strangers & hireling, and their bought servants put sack-cloth upon their houses.

Thus curie men and woman and the children, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell before the Temple, and spinned as they went up to their heads, and spind out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the least.

And cried to the God of Israel, All with one consent most humbly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a spoyle; and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the Sanctuary to pollution, and reproche, and into derision to the heathen.

So God heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people fasted many days in all Juda and Jerusalem before the Sanctuary of the Lord Almighty:

And Ioachim the hie Priest, and all the Priests that stode before the Lord, and ministred vnto the Lord, had their loynes girt with sackcloth, and offered the continual burnt offering, with prayers and the sweete gifts of the people.

And had afresh on their altars, and tried vnto the Lord with all their power for grace, and that he would look vpon all the house of [Israel].

O'Hara Not Yet Back

Achieve the American dream declare it - O'Hara says the motto of the Israelites.

Then was it declared to Olofernes: the chief captain of the armie of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for warre, and had shut the passages of the mountains, and had walled all the toppes of the hills, and had laid impediments in the champion country.

Wherewith he was very angrie, & called all the princes of Moab, & the captaines of Ammon, & all the gouernours of the sea coast.

of the armie, and wherein is their strength and their power: and what King or captain is raised among them over their armie?

4 And why have they determined not to come to meete me, more then all the inhabitantes of the West?

5 Then *said Achior the captaine of all the sonnes of Ammon, Let my lord heare the word of the mouth of his seruant, and I will declare vnto thee the truth concerning this people, that dwell in these mountaines: here where thou remainest, and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy seruant.

6 This people cometh of stock of Chaldeas.
7 And they dwelt before in Mesopotamia, because they would not followe the gods of their fathers, which were in the lande of Chaldea.

8 But they were out of the way of their antesters & worshipped the God of heauen, the God whom they knew: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, & they fled into Mesopotamia, & sojourned there many dayes.

9 Then *their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, & to go into the land of Chanaan, where they dwelt, and were increased with golde and siluer, and with very much cattel.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went downe into Egypt, and dwelt there till they returned, and became there a great multitude: so that one could not number their lineage.

11 Therefore the King of Egypt rose vp against them, and vsed deceit against them, & brought them lowe with labouring in bricke, and made them slaues.

12 Then they cried vnto their God, & he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues:
so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.

13 And *God dried the red sea in their presence.

14 And *brought them into mount Sina, and Cadesbarne, and cast forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all the beast of Hebron, and passing ouer Iordan, they inherited all the mountaines.

16 And they cast forth before them the Cha-naanites, and the Phereites, and the Tebu-sites, and the of Sichem, & all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that countrey many dayes.

17 And whiles they sinned not before their God, they prospered: because the God that hated iniquitie, was with them.

18 But *when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battels after a wonderfull forte, and were led captiues into a land that was not theirs: and the Temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

19 But *nowe they are turned to their God, & are come vp fro the scattering wherein they were scattered, and haue possessed Ierusalem, where their Temple is, & dwell in the moun-taines which were desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and gouernour, if there be any fault in this people, so that they haue sinned against their God, let vs consider that this shalbe their ruine, and let vs go vp, and we shall ouercome them.

21 But if there be none iniquitie in this people, let my lord passe by, least their Lord defend them, & their God be for them, & we become a reproch before all the world.

22 And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people, standing round about the tent, murmured: and the chiefe men of Olofernes, & all that dwelt by the sea side and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.

23 For say they, we feare words meete the children of Israel: for lo, it is a people, & haue no strength nor power against a mighty armie.

24 Let vs therefore go vp, O lord Olofernes, & they shalbe meate for thy whole armie.

C H A P. VI.

*Olofernes blasphemeth God whom Achior confessed. 16
Achior is delivered into the hands of Iudith. 18
The Bethulians crye vnto the Lord.*

1 AND when the tumult of the men were about the couise, was ceased, Olofernes, the chief captaine of the armie of Assur, said
vnto Achior before all the people of strangers, and before all the children of Moab, & of them that were hired of Ephraim,

2 Because thou hast prophesied among vs to day, and hast said that the people of Ierusalem is able to fight, *because their God will defend them: and who is god but Nabuchodo-nosor?

3 He will send his power, & will destroy them from the face of the earth, & their God shall not deliuer them: but we his seruants will destroy thee as one man: for they are not able to susteine the power of our hostes.

4 For we will treade them vnder feete with them, and their mountaines shalbe drunken with their blood, and their fieldes shalbe filled with their dead bodies, and their foot-steppes shall not be able to stand before vs:
but they shall vterly perish.

5 The King Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth, hath said, euen he hath said, None of my wordes shalbe in vaine.

6 And thou Achior an hirling of Ammon, because thou hast spoken theie words in the day of thine iniquitie, thou shalt see my face no more from this day vntill I take vengeance of that people that is come out of Egypt.

7 And then shall the yron of mine armie, and the multitude of them that serue me, passe through thy sides, & thou shalt fall among their slaime, when I shall put them to flight.

8 And my seruants shall carie thee into the mountaines, and they shall leaue thee at one of the hie cities: but thou shalt not perish, ul thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou perswade thy self in thy minde, that they shall not be taken, let not thy coutenance fall: I haue spoken it, and none of my wordes shalbe in vaine.

10 Then commanded Olofernes them concerning Achior, that they should bring him to Bethulia, and deliuer him into the hands of the

of the children of Israel.

11 So his seruants tooke him, and brought him out of the campe into y<sup>e</sup> plaine: and they went out from the middes of the plaine into the mountaines, & came vnto the fountaines that were vnder Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the citie sawe them from the toppes of the mountaine, they tooke their armour, and went forth of the citie vnto the top of the mountaine, euen al y<sup>e</sup> throwers with slings, and kept them from comming vp, by casting stones against them.

13 But they went priuily vnder the hill, and bound Achior, and left him lying at the foote of the hill, and returned to their lord.

14 Then the Israelites came down from their citie, and stood about him, & loosed him & brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the gouernours of their citie,

15 Which were in those daies, Ozias y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charbis the sonne of Gethoniel, and Charmis the sonne of Melchiel.

16 And they called together all the Ancients of the citie, & al their youth ranne together, and their women to the assemblie: and they set Achior in the middes of al their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

17 And he answered and declared vnto them the wordes of the counsell of Olofernes, and all the wordes that hee had spoken in the middes of the princes of Assur, and whatfoeuer Olofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell downe and worshipped God, and cryed vnto God, saying,

19 O Lord God of heauē, behold their pride, and haue mercie on the basenes of our people, and beholde this day the face of those that are sanctified vnto thee.

20 Then they comforted Achior, and prayesd him greatly.

21 And Ozias tooke out of the assemblie into his house, and made a feast to the Elders, and they called on the God of Israel all that night for helpe.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Olofernes doth besiege Bethulia. 2 The counsell of the Idumeans: and other against the Israelites. 3 The Bethulians murmure against their gouernours for lacke of water.

1 THe next day, Olofernes commanded al his armie and all his people, which were come to take his parte, that they should remoue their campes against Bethulia, and that they should take all the streetes of the hill, and to make warre against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong mē remoued their capes in that daie, & the armie of the men of warre was an hundred thousand & seuentie footemen, and twelue thousand horsemen, beside the baggage and other men that were afoote among them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the playne neere vnto Bethulia, by y<sup>e</sup> fountaine, & they spread abroad toward Dothaim vnto Belbaim, & in length from Bethulia vnto Ciamon, which is ouer against Esdraelom.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they sawe the multitude, were greatly troubled, & said euery one to his neighbour, Nowe will they shut vp all the whole earth: for neither the hie mountaines nor the valles, nor the hilles are able to abide their burden.

5 Then euery one tooke his weapōs of warre, and burning fires in their towres, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day, Olofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of y<sup>e</sup> children of Israel, which were in Bethulia,

7 And vewed the passages vp to their citie, & came to the fountaines of their waters, and tooke them and set garisons of men of warre ouer them, & remoued rowarde his people.

8 Then came vnto him all the chief of y<sup>e</sup> children of Esau, and all the gouernours of the people of Moab, and all the captaynes of the sea coast, and said,

9 Let our captaine now heare a word, leaft an inconuenience come in thine armie.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their speares, but in the height of the mountaines, wherein they dwell, because it is not easie to come vp to y<sup>e</sup> toppes of their mountaines.

11 Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battell aray, and there shall nor so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remayne in thy campe, and keepe all the men of thine armie, and let thy men keepe stil the water of the countrey, that commeth forth at the foote of the mountaine.

13 For all the inhabitantes of Bethulia haue their water thereof: so shal thirst kil them, & they shal giue vp their citie: & we & our people will go vp to the toppes of y<sup>e</sup> mountaines that are neere, & will campe vpon them, and wathe that none go out of the citie.

14 So they and their wiues, and their children shal be consumed with famine, & before the sword come against them, they shal be ouerthrown in the streetes where they dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an euill reward, because they rebelled and obeyed not thy person peaceably.

16 And these wordes pleased Olofernes and all his souldiers, and he appointed to doe as they had spoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Ammon departed, and with them fise thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and tooke the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went vp with y<sup>e</sup> children of Ammon, & camped in the mountaines ouer against Dothaim, and they sent some of themselves toward the South, & toward the East, ouer against Rebel, which is neere vnto Chusi, that is vpon y<sup>e</sup> riuer Mochemur: and the rest of the armie of the Assyrians camped in the felde, and covered the whole land: for their tents & their baggage were pitched in a wonderful great place.

19 Then the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lorde their God, because their heart fayled:

sayled: for all their enemies had compassed them about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remayned about them, both their footemen, chariots & horsemen, foure and thirtie daies: so that euen all the places of their waters sayled all the inhabitantes of Bethulia.

21 And the cisternes were emptie, and they had not water ynough to drinke for one day: for they gaue them to drinke by measure.

22 Therefore their children swooned, & their wiues and yong men failed for thirst, & fell downe in the streates of the citie, and by the passages of the gates, & there was no strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, & to the chiefe of the citie, both yong men and women, and children, and cryed with a loud voyce, and said before all the Elders, 24 The Lord iudge betweene vs and you: for you haue done vs great iniurie, in y<sup>e</sup> haue not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we haue no helper: but God hath solde vs into their handes, that we should be throwen downe before them with thirst and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them together, and deliuer the whole citie for a spoyle to the people of Olofernes, and to all his armie.

27 For it is better for vs to be made a spoyle vnto the, then to dye for thirst: for we will be his seruants that we may liue, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wiues, nor our children to dye.

28 We take to wimes against you the heauen and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth vs, according to our finnes and the finnes of our fathers, that he lay not these things to our charge.

29 Then there was a great crye of all with one consent in the middes of the assemblie, and they cryed vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord God wth a loud voyce.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage: let vs wait yet fise daies, in y<sup>e</sup> which space the Lord our God may turne his mercie towards vs: for he will not forsake vs in the ende.

31 And if these dayes passe, & there come not help vnto vs, I wil do according to your word.

32 So he separated the people, euery one vnto their charge; and they went vnto the walles and towres of their citie, & sent their wiues and their children into their houses, & they were very low brought in the citie.

C H A P. VIII.

The parent age, life and conuersation of Iudeth. 11 She rebuketh the finnes of the gouernours. 12 She sheweth that they should not tempt God, but wait vpon him for succour. 13 Her enterprise against the enemies.

NOW at that time, Iudeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Ox, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Ozziel, the sonne of Elcia, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Acito, the sonne of Eliu, the sonne of Eliab, the sonne of Nathaniel, the sonne of Samael, the sonne of Saladai, the sonne of Israel.

2 And Manasses was her husband, of her stock and kinred, who dyed in the barely haruest.

3 For as he was diligent ouer the that bound sheaues in the field, the heat came vpon his head, and he fell vpon his bed, and dyed in the citie of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the fiele betweene Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Iudeth was in her house a widowe three yeres and foure moneths.

5 And she made her a tent vpon her house, and put on sackcloth on her loynes, and ware her widowes apparell.

6 And she fasted all the dayes of her widowhede, saue the day before the Sabbath and the Sabbaths, and the day before the newe moones, and in the feasts and solemne daies of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance and very beautiful to beholde: and her husband Manasses had left her gold & siluer, and men seruants, and maide seruants, and cattel, and possessions, where she remained.

8 And there was none that could bring an euil report of her: for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the euil words of y<sup>e</sup> people against the gouernour, because they fainted for lacke of waters (for Iudeth had heard all the words that Ozias had spokē vnto the, and that he had s<sup>w</sup>orne vnto the to deliuer the citie vnto y<sup>e</sup> Assyrians within fise dayes) (chap. 7. 21.)

10 Then she sent her maide, that had the gouernement of all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis the Ancientes of the citie.

11 And they came vnto her, and she said vnto them, Heare me, o ye gouernours of the inhabitantes of Bethulia: for your wordes that ye haue spoken before the people this day, are not right, touching this othe w<sup>ch</sup> ye made and pronounced betweene God and you, & haue promised to deliuer the citie to the enemies, vnles within these dayes the Lord turne to helpe you.

12 And now who are you that haue tempted God this day, and set your selues in the place of God among the children of men?

13 So now ye seeke the Lord almighty, but you shall neuer know any thing.

14 For you can not finde out the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceiue the things that he thinketh: then howe can you search out God, y<sup>e</sup> hath made al these things, and know his minde, or comprehēd his purpose? Nay my brethren, prouoke not y<sup>e</sup> Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not helpe vs within these fise daies, he hath power to defend vs when he will, euen euery day, or to destroy vs before our enemies.

16 Do not you therefore bind the counsels of y<sup>e</sup> Lord our God: for God is not as man that he may be threatned, neither as the sonne of man to be brought to iudgement.

17 Therefore let vs waite for saluation of him and call vpon him to helpe vs, and he will heare our voyce if it please him.

18 For there appeareth none in our age, neither

there is there any now in these daies, neither tribe, nor familie, nor people, nor cite among vs which worship the gods made with hands, as hath bene afore time.

19 For the which cause our fathers were giuen to the sword, and for a spoyle, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we knowe none other God: therefore we trust that he will not despise vs, nor any of our linage.

21 Neither when we shall be taken, shall Iudea be so famous; for our Sanctuarie shall be spoyled, and hee will requite the prophesie that was at our mouth.

22 And the feare of our brethren, and the captiuitie of the countrey, & the desolation of our inheritance will be turned vpon our heads among the Gentiles, wherefoeuer we shall be in bondage, and we shall be an offence and a reproche to all them that possess vs.

23 For our fruitfullnes shall not be directed by fauour, but the Lord our God shall giue it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, brethren, let vs shewe an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend vpon vs, and the Sanctuarie and the House, and the altar rest vpon vs.

25 Moreouer, let vs giue thanks to y<sup>e</sup> Lord our God, & sayeth vs as our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and all that he did to Jacob in Mesopotamia: of Syria when he kept the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For he hath not refused vs as he did the y<sup>e</sup> examination of their hearts, neither doeth he take vengeance on vs, y<sup>e</sup> Lord punisheth for instruction those that come nere to him.

28 Then said Ozias to her, All y<sup>e</sup> thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken in a good heart; & there is none that is able to resist thy words.

29 For it is not to day that thy wisdom is knowne, but from the beginning of thy life all the people haue knowne thy wisdom: for the desirer of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirsty, and compelled vs to do vnto them, as we haue spokē, and haue brought vs to an orbē which we may not transgresse.

31 Therefore now pray for vs, because thou art an holy woman, that the Lord may sende vs rayne to fill our cisternes, and that we may faile no more.

32 Then said Iudeth vnto them, Heare me, & I will do a thing, which shall be declared in all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with mine handmaid, & within the dayes that ye haue promised to deliuer the cite to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand.

34 But inquire not you of mine actes for I will not declare it vnto you, till the things be finished that I do.

35 Then said Ozias and the prince vnto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the sent, and went to their wardes.

Iudeth humbled her selfe before the Lord, and waketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people: & Against the pride of the Assyrians: for God is the helpe of the humble.

1 Then Iudeth fell vpon her face, and put ashes vpon her head, & put of the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed. And about y<sup>e</sup> time that the incense of that evening was offered in Ierusalem in the house of the Lord, Iudeth cryed with a loude voyce, and sayd,

2 O Lord God of my father Simeon, to who thou gauest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers which opened the wombe of the maide, and defiled her, and disconered the thigh with shame, and polluted the wombe to reproche (for thou haddest commanded that it should not so be,

Yet they did things for the which thou gauest their princes to the slaughter; for they were detreied and washed their beds with blood) and hast stricken the seruants with the garterbouts, and the gouernours vpon their thrones,

And hast giuen their wives for a pray and their daughters to be captiues, and all their spoiles for a bootie to their children that thou lovest, which were moued with thy zeale, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, & called vpon thee for aid, O God, O my God, heare me also a widow.

3 For thou hast wrought the things afore, & these, and the things that shall be after, and thou considerest the things that are present, and the things that are to come.

4 For the things which thou doest purpose, are present, and say, Behold, we are here: for all thy wayes are ready, and thy iudgements are foreknowne.

5 Behold, y<sup>e</sup> Assyrians are multiplied by their power: they haue exalted themselves with horses & horsemen: they glorie in y<sup>e</sup> strength of their footemen: they trust in shield, speare and bow, and sling, & do not know that thou art the Lord that breakest the barrels: the Lord is thy Name.

6 Breake thou their strenght by thy power, & breake their force by thy wrath: for they haue purposed to defile thy Sanctuarie, and to pollute the Tabernacle where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast downe with weapons the hornes of the Altar.

7 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath vpon their heads: giue into mine hand which am a widow, the strength that I haue cocited.

8 * Smite by y<sup>e</sup> deceit of my lippes the serpent with the prince, & the prince with the serpent: abate their height by the hand of a woman.

9 * For thy power standeth not in the multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou, O Lord, art the helpe of the humble and little ones, the defender of the weakē, & the protector of them that are forsaken, and the Saviour of them that are without hope.

10 Surely, surely thou art the God of my father, and the God of the inheritance of Israel, the Lord of heauen and earth, the creator of the waters, the King of all creatures: heare thou my prayer,

13 And grant me words & craft, and a wound, and a stroke against them that enterprise cruell things against thy covenant, & against thine holy Houfe, & against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 Shew evidently among all thy people, and all the tribes, that they may know that thou art the God of all power and strength, and that there is none other that defendeth the people of Israel, but thou.

C H A P. X.

1. Iudeth decketh her selfe and goeth forth to the camp. 2. She taketh of the watch of the Assyrians & brought to Olofernes.

1 Now after she had ceased to crye vnto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these wordes,

2 She rose where she had fallen downe; and called her maide, and went downe into the house, in the which she abode in the Sabbath daies and in the feast daies;

3 And putting away the sackcloth wherewith she was clad, and putting of the garments of her widowhede; she washed her body with water, and anointed it with much oylment, and dressed the haire of her head; & put a circlet vpon it, and put on her garments of gladnes; wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And she put slippers on her feet, and put on bracelets, and sleeues, & rings, & earrings, and all her ornaments, and she decked her selfe brauely: to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then she gaue her maide a botell of wine, and a pottle of oyle, and filled a scrippe with floures, and with drye figges, and with fine bread: so she lapped vp all these things together, and layd them vpon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the citie of Bethulia; and founde standing there Ozias, and the Ancients of the citie, Chabris and Charnis.

7 And when they sawe her that her face was changed, and that her garment was changed, they marueiled greatly at her wonderfull beautie, and said vnto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers giue thee fauour, and accomplishe thine enterprises to the glorie of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And she said vnto the, Command the gates of the citie to be opened vnto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things which you haue spoken to me. So they commanded the young men to open vnto her, as she had spokē.

10 And when they had done so, Iudeth went out, she & her maide with her, & the men of the citie looked after her, vntill she was gone downe the mountaine, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight forth in the valley, and the first watch of the Assyrians met her.

12 And tooke her, & asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? & whither goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, & am fled from them:

for they shal be giuen you to be consumed.

13 And I come before Olofernes, the chief captain of your armie, to declare him true things, and I will shew before him the way whereby he shal goe & winne all the mountaines, without loosing the bodie or life of any of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her wordes, and behelde her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beautie, and said vnto her,

15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hapned to come downe to the presence of our lords: nowe therefore come to his tent, and some of vs shall conduct thee vntill they haue deliuered thee into his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart; but shew vnto him according as thou hast to say, and bee willing to create thee well.

17 Then they chose one of them, an hundredth yme, & prepared a chariot for her & her maide, and brought her to the tent of Olofernes.

18 Then there was a running to & fro, throughout the campe, for her coming was feared among the tents; and they came and stood round about her: for she stood without the tent of Olofernes, vntill they had declared vnto him concerning her.

19 And they marueiled at her beautie, & wondered at the children of Israel because of her, and euery one said vnto his neighbour, Who would despise this people, & haue among the such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be let goe, for if they should remaine, they might deuide the whole earth.

20 Then Olofernes gaue wene out, and all his seruants, & they brought her into the tent.

21 Now Olofernes rested vpon his bed vnder a canopie, & was covered with purple & golde, and emeraudes, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, and hee came forth vnto the entrie of his tent; and they carried lampes of silver before him.

23 And when Iudeth was come before him & his seruants, they all marueiled at the beautie of her countenance; and she fell downe vpon her face, and did reuerence vnto him, and his seruants tooke her vp.

24 And she said vnto him, Olofernes, I haue brought thee wordes of her coming.

25 Then said Olofernes vnto her, Woman, be of good comfort: feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt any that would serue Nabuchodonosor the King of all the earth.

26 Now therefore if thy people that dwelleth in the mountaines, had not despised me, I would not haue lifted vp my speare against them: but they haue procured these things to them selues.

27 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, & art come vnto vs: for thou art come for safegarde: be of good comfort, thou shalt abide from this night, and hereafter.

28 For none shall hurt thee; but inter thee well, as they do the seruants of King Nabuchodonosor for my lord.

29 Then Iudeth said vnto him, Receive the wordes

wordes of thy seruant, and suffer thine handmaide to speake in thy presence, and I will declare no lye to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt followe the wordes of thine handmaide, God wil bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, and my lord shall not faile of his purpose.

7 As Nabuchodonosor King of all the earth liueth, and as his power is of force, who hath sent thee to reforme all persons, not only me shall be made subiect to him by thee, but also the beasts of the fieldes, & the cattell, & the foules of the heauen shall lue by thy power vnder Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we haue heard of thy wisdom & of thy prudent spirit, & it is declared through the whole earth, that thou only art excellent in all the kingdome, & of a wonderfull knowledge, and in feates of warre marueilous.

9 Now as concerning the matter which Achior did speake in thy counsell, wee haue heard his wordes: for the men of Bethulia did take him, and he declared vnto them all that he had spoken vnto thee.

10 Therefore, o lord and gouernour, reiect not his worde, but set it in thine heart, for it is true: for there is no punishment against our people, neither can y sword preuaile against them, except they sinne against their God.

11 Now therefore least my lord should be frustrated, and voyde of his purpose, & that death may fall vpon them, & that they may be taken in their sinne whyles they prouoke their God to anger, which is so oft times as they do that which is not becoming,

12 (For because their vitisles faile, and all their water is wasted, they haue determined to take their cattell, and haue purposed to consume all things that God had forbidden the to eate by his Lawes:

13 Yet they haue purposed to consume the first frutes of the wheat, & the tithes of the wine, and of the oile which they had reserued and sanctified for the Priests that serue in Ierusalem before the face of our God: the which things it is not lawfull for any of the people to touche with their hands.

14 Moreover they haue sent to Ierusalem, because they also that dwell there, haue done the like, such as should bring them licence from the Senate)

15 Nowe when they shall bring them worde, they will do it, and they shall be giuen thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmaide, knowing all this, am fled from their presence, and God hath sent me to worke a thing with thee, whereof all the earth shall wonder, and whosoever shall heare it.

17 For thy seruante feareth God, and worshippeth the God of heauen day and night, and now let me remaine with thee, my lord, and let thy seruante goe out in the night into the valley, and I will praye vnto God, that hee may reuile vnto me when they shall commit their sinnes,

18 And I will come and shewe it vnto thee: then thou shalt goe forth with all thine armie, and there shall be none of them that shall resiste thee.

19 And I will leade thee through the middes of Iudea, vntill thou come before Ierusalem, and I will set thy throne in the middes thereof, and thou shalt drue them as sheepe that haue no shepheard, & a dogge shall not barke with his mouth against thee: for these things haue bene spoken vnto me, and declared vnto me according to my foreknowledge, and I am sent to shewe thee.

20 ¶ Then her words pleased Olofernes, and all his seruantes, and they marueiled at her wisdom, and sayde, 21 There is not such a woman in all the worlde, both for beautes of face, & wisdom of words.

22 Likewise Olofernes sayde vnto her, God hath done this, to sende thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction vpon them that despise my lord.

23 And now thou art both beautes in thy countenawee, and wisie in thy wordes: surely if thou do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned throughout the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iudeth would not pollute her selfe with the meate of the Gentiles. 2 She maketh her request that she might go out by night to pray. 3 Olofernes consailth her to come to the banquet.

1 THEN he commaunded to bring her in where his treasures were layd, and bade that they should prepare for her of his owne meates, and that shee should drinke of his owne wine.

2 But Iudeth said, * I may not eate of the least there should be an offence, but I can suffice my selfe with the things that I haue brought.

3 Then Olofernes said vnto her, If the things that thou hast, should faile, howe should we giue thee the like? for there is none with vs of thy nation.

4 Then said Iudeth vnto him, As thy soule liueth, my lorde, thine handmaide shall not spend those things that I haue, before the Lord worke by mine hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the seruants of Olofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept vntill midnight, and rose at the morning watche,

6 And sent to Olofernes, saying, Let my lord command that thine handmaid may go forth vnto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commaunded his garde that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the campe three dayes, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and walshed her selfe in a fountaine, euen in the water by the campe.

8 And when she came out, she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that he would direct her way to the exaltation of the children of her people.

9 So she returned, and remained pure in the tent, vntill she ate her meate at euening.

10 ¶ And in the fourth day, Olofernes made a feast to his owne seruants onely, and called none of them to the banquet, that had the affaires in hand.

11 The said her to Bagoas y cunuche who had charge ouer all that he had, Go & perswade this Hebrew woman, which is with thee, y she come vnto vs & eat, and drinke with vs.

12 For it were a shame for vs, if we should let such a woman alone, & not talke with her, & if we do not allure her, she will mocke vs.

13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Olofernes, and came to her, and said, Let not this faire maide make difficultie to goe into my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drinke wine with vs ioyfully, & to be entreated as one of the daughters of the children of Assur, which remaine in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Iudeth vnto him, Who am I now, that I should gaine say my lord? Surely whatsoever pleaseth him, I will doe speedily, and it shalbe my ioy vnto the day of my death.

15 So shee arose and trimmed her with garments, and with all the ornaments of women, and her maide went, and spred forth her skinnies on the ground ouer against Olofernes, which she had receiued of Bagoas for her daily vse, that she might sit and eate vpon them.

16 Nowe when Iudeth came and sate downe, Olofernes heart was rauished with her, and his spirit was moued, and he desired greatly her company: for hee had waited for the time to deceiue her from the daye that he had seene her.

17 Then said Olofernes vnto her, Drinke now, and be mery with vs.

18 So Iudeth said, I drinke now, my lord, because my state is exalted this day more then euer it was since I was borne.

19 Then she tooke, & ate & dranke before him the things, that her maide had prepared.

20 And Olofernes reioyced because of her, & dranke much more wine then he had drunk at any time in one day since he was borne.

C H A P. XII.

Iudeth prayeth for strength. 2. She smiteth off Olofernes necke. 10. She returneth to Bethulia & reioyceth her people.

Now when the cueuing was come, his seruantes made haste to departe, and Bagoas shur his tent without, and dismissed those that were present, from the presence of his lord, and they went to their beddes: for they were all weary, because the feast had bene long.

2 And Iudeth was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes was stretched along vpo his bed: for he was filled with wine.

3 Now Iudeth had commanded her maide to stand without her chamber, and to waite for her coming forth as she did daily: for she said, she would go forth to her praiers, & the spake to Bagoas according to y same purpose.

4 So all went forth of her presence, and none was left in the chamber, neither litle nor great: then Iudeth standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, behold at this present y workes of mine hands for the exaltation of Ierusalem.

5 For nowe is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against vs.

6 Then shee came to the post of the bedde which was at Olofernes head, & tooke down his fauchin from thence,

7 And approached to the bed, and tooke hold of the beare of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel this day.

8 And she smote twise vpon his necke with all her might, and she tooke away his head from him,

9 And roled his bodie downe from the bed, and pulled downe the canopie from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gaue Olofernes head to her maide,

10 And she put it in her scrippe of meate: so they twaine wet together according to their custome vnto prayer, and preassing through the tentes, went about by that valley, & went vpo the mountaine of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 Then said Iudeth asure of to the watchmen at the gates, Open now the gate: God, euen our God is with vs to shewe his power yet in Ierusalem, & his force against his enemies, as he hath euen done this day.

12 Now when the men of her citie heard her voyce, they made haste to goe downe to the gate of their citie, and they called the Elders of the citie.

13 And they ran all together both small and great: for it was aboute their expectation, that she should come. So they opened the gate & receiued her, and made a fire for a light, and stood rounde about them twaine.

14 Then she said to them with a loude voyce, Praise God, praise God: for he hath not taken away his mercie from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So she tooke the head out of the scrippe & shewed it, and said vnto them, Beholde the head of Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, and beholde the canopie, wherein he did lie in his drunkeanes, and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord liueth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceiued him to his destruction, and he hath not committed sinne with me by any pollution or vilenie.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accorde, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to naught y enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most hie God aboue all the women of the earth, and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heauens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chiefe of our enemies.

19 Surely this thine hope shall neuer departe out of the heartes of men: for they shall remember member the power of God for euer.

- 20 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetuall praise, and visite thee with good things, because thou hast not spared thy life, because of the affliction of our nation, but thou hast holpe our ruine, walking a streight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

CHAP. XIII.

1. Iudeth causeth to hang vp the head of Olofernes. 20 Achior ioyneth him selfe to the people of God. 21 The Israelites got out against the Assyrians.

- 1 Then said Iudeth vnto the, Heare me also, my brethren, and * take this head, and hang it vpon the hieft place of your walles.

- 2 And so sone as the morning shall appeare and the sunne shall come sooth vpon the earth, take you euery one his weapons, and goe forth euerie valiant man out of the citie; and set you a captaine ouer them, as though you would go downe into the felde, toward the watche of the Assyrians, but goe not downe.

- 3 Then they shall take their armour, & shall go into their campe, and raise vp the captaines of the armie of Assur, and they shall runne to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him: then feare shall fall vpon them, & they shall flee before your face.

- 4 So you and all that inhabite the coastes of Israel, shal pursue them, and ouerthrowe the as they go.

- 5 But before you do these things, call me Achior of Ammonite, that he may see, & know him that despised the house of Israel, & that sent him to vs as to death.

- 6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias, and when he was come and sawe the head of Olofernes in a certeine mans hand in the assemblie of the people, he fell downe on his face, and his spirit failed.

- 7 But when they had taken him vp, he fell at Iudeths feete, and reuerenced her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Iuda, and in all nations, which, hearing thy name, shalbe astonished.

- 8 Now therefore tell me all the things, that thou hast done in these dayes. Then Iudeth declared vnto him in the middes of the people all that shee had done from the day that she went forth, vntill that houre she spake vnto them.

- 9 And when she had left of speaking, the people reioiced with a great voyce, and made a noyse of gladnes through their citie.

- 10 And Achior, seeing all things that God had done for Israel, beleued in God vnfeinedly, & circumcised his foreskin of his flesh, and was joynd vnto the house of Israel vnto this day.

- 11 As sone as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Olofernes out at the wall, and euery man tooke his weapons, and they went forth by bandes vnto the straytes of the mountaine.

- 12 But when the Assyrians sawe them, they sent to their captaines, which went to the gouernours & chief captaines, & to all their rulers.

- 13 So they came to Olofernes tent and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken our lorde: for the slaues haue bene bolde to come downe against vs to battell, that they may be destroyed for euer.

- 14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the doore of the tent: for he thought that he had slepte with Iudeth.

- 15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the chamber, and found him cast vpon the floore, and his head was taken from him.

- 16 Therefore hee cryed with a loude voyce, with weeping and mourning; and a mightie crye, and rent his garments.

- 17 After, he went into the tent of Iudeth where she vsed to remaine, and found her not: then he leaped out to the people and cryed,

- 18 These slaues haue committed wickednes: one woman of the Hebrewes hath brought shame vpon the House of King Nabuchodonosor: for beholde, Olofernes lieth vpon the ground without an head.

- 19 When the captaines of the Assyrians armie hearde these wordes, they rent their coates, and their heart was wonderfully troubled, and there was a crye and a very great noyse throughout the campe.

CHAP. XV.

1. The Assyrians are afraied and flee. 2. The Israelites pursue them. 3. Achior the his Priest commeth to Iudeth to see Iudeth and to prayse God for her.

- 1 And when they that were in the tentes, heard, they were astonished at the thing that was done.

- 2 And feare and trembling fell vpon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour: but altogether amazed, they fled by euery way of the plaine and of the mountaines.

- 3 They also that had camped in the mountaines round about Bethulia, were put to flight: then, the children of Israel, euery one that was a warrior among them, rushed out vpon them.

- 4 Then sent Ozias to Bethomasthem, and to Bebai, and Chobai, and Chola and to all the coastes of Israel, such as should declare vnto them the things that were done, and that all should rush forth vpon their enemies to destroye them.

- 5 Nowe when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell vpon them together vnto Chobai: likewise also they that came from Ierusalem and from all the mountaines: for men had tolde them what things were done in the campe of their enemies, and they that were in Galaad and in Gabbie chased them with a great slaughter vntill they came to Damascus and to the coastes thereof.

- 6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fell vpon the campe of Assur and spoyle them, and were greatly enriched.

- 7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had the rest: and the villages and the cities that were in the mountaines and in the plaine, had a great bootie: for the abundance was verie great.

8 Then Ioachim the hie Priest, & the Ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Ierusalem, came to confirme the benefites that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Iudeth, and to salute her.

9 And when they came vnto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said vnto her, Thou art the exaltation of Ierusalem: thou art the great glorie of Israel: thou art y great reioicing of our nation.

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed bee thou of the almightie Lord for euermore: & all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoyled the campe y space of thirtie dayes, and they gaue vnto Iudeth Olofernes tent, and all his siluer and beds, & basins, and all his stuffe, and she tooke it and laid it on her mules, & made ready her chargets, and laied them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel came together to see her, and blessed her, and made a daunce among them for her, and she tooke branches in her hand, and gaue also to the women that were with her.

13 They also crowned her with oliues, and her that was with her, and she went before the people in the daunce, leading al the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with crowies, and with songs in their mouthes.

CHAP. XVI.

Iudeth praiseth God with a song. 19 She offereth to the Lord Olofernes stuffe. 23 Her conuenance, life and death. 25 All Israel lamenteth her.

14 Then Iudeth began this confession in all Israel, and all the people sang this song with a loude voyce.

15 And Iudeth said, Beginne vnto my GOD with tymbrels: sing vnto my Lord with cymbals: tune vnto him a psalme: exalt his praise, and call vpon his Name.

16 For God breaketh the battels, and pitched his campe in the middes of the people, and deliuered me out of the hand of the persecuters.

17 Asur came from the mountaines forth of the North: he came with thousands in his armie. * Whose multitude hath shut vp the riuers and their horsemen haue covered the valles.

18 He said that he would burne vp my borders and kill my yong men with the worde, and dash the sucking childre against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins a spoyle.

19 But the almightie Lord hath brought them to naught by the hand of a woman.

20 For the mightie did not fall by y yong men, neither did the sonnes of Titan smite him, nor the hie giants inuade him, but Iudeth y daughter of Merari did discomfite him by the beautie of her countenance.

21 For she put the garment of her widowehood, for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, & anointed her face with ointment, and bound vp her heare in a coile, and tooke a linen garment to deceiue him.

22 Her slippers rauithed his eyes: her beautie tooke his minde prisoner, and the sauchin passed through his necke.

23 The Persians were astonished at her boldnes, and the Medes were troubled with her hardines.

24 But mine afflicted reioiced, and my feeble ones showed: then they feared, they lifted vp their voyce and turned backe.

25 The children of maidens perced them, and wounded the as they fled away like children: they perished by the battel of the Lord.

26 I will sing vnto the Lord a song and praise, O Lord, thou art great and glorious, maruiculous and inuincible in power.

27 Let all thy creatures serue thee: * for thou hast spoken and they were made: thou hast sent thy Spirit, and he made them vp: and there is none that can resist thy voyce.

28 For the mountaines leape vp from their foundations with the waters: the rockes melt at thy presence like waxe: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

29 For all sacrifice is to litle for a sweete savour, and all the fat is to litle for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord, is great at all times.

30 Wo to the nations that rise vp against my kinred: y Lord almightie will take vengeance of them in the day of iudgement, in sending fire and wormes vpon their fleshe, and they shall feele them and weepe for euer.

31 After, when they went vnto Ierusalem, they worshipped the Lord, & asone as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, & their gifts.

32 Iudeth also offered all the stuffe of Olofernes, which the people had given her, & gaue the canopie which she had taken of his bed, for an oblation to the Lord.

33 So the people reioiced in Ierusalem by the Sanctuarie, for the space of three moneths, and Iudeth remayned with them.

34 After this time, euerie one returned to his owne inheritance, and Iudeth went to Bethulia, and remained in her owne possession, and was for her time honourable in all the country.

35 And many desired her, but none had her companie all the dayes of her life after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

36 But she increased more and more in honour, & waxed olde in her husbands house, being an hundreth and fve yere olde, and made her maide free: so she dyed in Bethulia, and they buried her in the graue of her husband Manasses.

37 And * the house of Israel lamented her seven daies, and before she dyed, she did distribute her goods to all them that were nerest of kinred to Manasses her husband, & to the that were the nerest of her kinred.

38 And there was none that made the children of Israel anie more afraied in the daies of Iudeth, nor a long time after her death.

ESTHER.

Certain portions of the storie of Esther, which are found in some Greeke and Latin translations.

4 Hen Mardocheus said, God hath done these things.

5 For I remember a dreame, which I saw concerning these matters, and there was nothing thereof omitted.

6 A litle fountaine which became a flood, and was a light, and as the sunne, & as much water, this flood was Esther whom y King married, and made Queene.

7 And the two dragons are I and Aman.

8 And the people are they that are assembled to destroy the name of the Lewes.

9 And my people is Israel, & cryed to God, & are saued: for the Lord hath saued his people, & the Lord hath deliuered vs fro al these euils, & God hath wrought signes, & great wōders, which haue nor bene done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lottes, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lottes came before God for al nations, at the houre and time appointed, and in the day of iudgement.

12 So God remembered his owne people, and iustified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those daies shalbe vnto them in y moneth Adar y fourteenth, & fifteenth day of y same moneth, with an assemble & ioy, and with gladnes before God, according to the generations for euer among his people.

CHAP. XI.

1 In the fourth yere of the reigne of Ptolemeus and Cleopatra Dositheus, who said he was a Priest and Leuite, & Ptolemeus his sonne, y brought y former letters of Phurrai, which they said Lyfsmachus y sonne of Ptolemeus, which was at Ierusalem, interpreted.

2 In the second yere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first day of the moneth Nisan, Mardocheus the sonne of Iarus, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis of y tribe of Benjamin had a dreame,

3 A lewe dwelling in y cite of Susis, a noble man, that bare office in the Kings court.

4 He was also one of the captiuitie y Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon brought from Ierusalem with Iechonias.

5 And this was his dreame, Behold a noise of a tempest with rhunders, and earthquakes, and vproare in the lande.

6 Behold two great dragōs came forth ready to fight one against another.

7 Their crye was great, whereby all the heathen were ready to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darkenes and obscuritie, & trouble, & anguish: yea, aduersitie, & great affliction was vpon the earth.

9 For then the righteous fearing their afflictions, were amased, and being ready to dye, cryed vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litle well grewe into a great riuer, & flowed ouer with great waters.

11 The light & the sunne rose vp, & the lowlye were exalted, and deuoured the glorious.

12 Nowe when Mardocheus had scene this dreame, he awoke & rose vp & thought in his heart vntil the night, what God would do, & so he desired to know all the manner.

1 AT the same time dwelt Mardocheus in y Kings court with Bagathas, & Thara, the Kings eunuches and keepers of the palace.

2 But when he heard their purpose, & their imaginations, he perceiued that they went about to lay their hands vpon y King Artaxerxes, and so he certified the King thereof.

3 Then caused the King to examine the two eunuches with torments, and when they had confessed it, they were put to death.

4 This the King caused to be put in the Chronicles. Mardocheus also wrote y same thing.

5 So the King commanded that Mardocheus should remaine in the court, and for the aduertisement, he gave him a reward.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, which was in great honour and reputation with the King, went about to hurt Mardocheus & his people, because of the two eunuches of the King that were put to death.

CHAP. XIII.

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes.

The prayer of Mardocheus.

1 The copie of y letters was this, The great King Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes and gouernours that are vnder him from India vnto Ethiopia in an hundred and seuen and twentie provinces.

2 When I was made lord ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, I would not exalt my selfe by the reason of my power, but purposed with equitie alway and gentlenes to gouerne my subiectes, and wholly to set them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that me might safely go thorow on euery side, and to renewe peace againe, which all men desire.

3 Now when I asked my counsellors how these things might be brought to passe, one that was couerlant with vs, of excellent wisdom, and constant in good will, and shewed him selfe to be of sure fidelitie, which had the second place in the kingdome, euen Aman,

4 Declared vnto vs, that in all nations there was scattered abroad a rebellious people, that had lawes contrarie to all people, and haue alway despised the commandements of Kings, and so that this generall empire,

Eccc iij. that

that we haue begonne, can now be gouerned without offence.

5 Seeing now we perceiue, that this people alone are altogether contrarie vnto euery man, vsing strange & other maner of lawes, and hauing an euill opinion of our doings, and goe about to stablishe wicked matters, that our kingdom should not come to good estate,

6 Therefore haue we commanded, that all they that are appointed in writing vnto you by Aman (which is ordeined ouer y<sup>e</sup> affaires, and is as our second father) shall all with their wiues and children be destroyed and rooted out with the sworde of their enemies without all mercie, and that none be spared the fourteenth daye of the twelfth moneth Adar of this yere,

7 That they which of olde, and nowe also haue euer bene rebellious, may in one daye with violence be thrust downe into the hell, so the intent that after this time our affaires may be without troubles, and well gouerned in all pointes.

8 Then Mardocheus thought vpon all the workes and of the Lord, and made his prayer vnto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the King almightie (for all things are in thy power) and if thou hast appointed to saue Israel, there is no mā that can withstande thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and all the wonderous things vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, & thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither of malice, nor presumption, nor for any desire of glorie, y<sup>e</sup> I did this, and not bowe downe to proude Aman.

13 For I would haue bene content with good will for the saluation of Israel, to haue kist the sole of his fete.

14 But I did it, because I would not preferre y<sup>e</sup> honour of a man aboue the glorie of God, & would not worship any but onely thee, my Lord, and this haue I not done of pride.

15 And therefore, O Lord God and King, haue mercie vpon thy people: for they imagine how they may bring vs to naught, yea, they would destroy the inheritance, that hath bene thine from the beginning.

16 Despise not the portio, which thou hast deliuered out of Egypt for thine owne self.

17 Heare my prayer, & be mercifull vnto thy portio: turne our sorowe into ioy, that we may liue, O Lord, and praise thy Name: shut not the mouthes of them that praise thee.

18 All Israel in like maner cryed most earnestly vnto the Lord, because that death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIII.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her, & her people.

1 Queene Esther also, being in danger of death, resorted vnto the Lord,

2 And laid away her glorious apparell, and put on the garments of sighing, & mourning. In the steade of precious ointment, the scattered ashes, and dongue vpon her head: and the humbled her bodie greatly with fasting, and all the places of her ioye filled she with the heare that she pluckte of.

3 And she prayed vnto y<sup>e</sup> Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou onely art our King: helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee.

4 For my daunger is at hand.

5 From my youth vp I haue heard in y<sup>e</sup> kinred of my father, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from their predeceffours for a perpetuall inheritance, and thou hast performed that which thou diddest promise them.

6 Nowe Lord, we haue sinned before thee: therefore hast thou giuen vs into the hands of our enemies.

7 Because we worshipped their gods, O Lord, thou art righteous.

8 Neuertheles, it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captiuitie, but they haue stricken hands with their idoles.

9 That they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordeined, and destroy thine inheritance, to shut vp the mouth of them that praise thee, and to queneche the glorie of thy temple, and of thine altar.

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praise the power of the idoles, and to magnifie a fleshly King for euer.

11 O Lord, giue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our miserie: but turne their deuise vpon the felues, and make him an example, that hath begonne the same against vs.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and strengthen me, O King of gods, and Lord of all power.

13 Giue me an eloquent speech in my mouth before the Lyon: turne his heart to hate our enemy, to destroye him, and all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thine hand, and helpe me that am solitarie, which haue no defence but onely thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lord: y<sup>e</sup> knowest, that I hate the glorie of the vnrighteous, and that I abhorre the bedde of the vncircumcised, and of all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie: for I hate this token of my preeminence, which I beare vpon mine head, what time as I must shewe my selfe, and that I abhorre it as a menstruous cloth, and that I weare it not when I am alone by my selfe.

17 And that I thine hadmaide haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure in the Kings feast, nor drunke the wine of the drinke offerings.

18 And that I thine handmaide haue no ioye since the daye that I was brought hither, vntill this daye, but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare the voyce of them, that haue none other hope, & deliuer vs out of the hand of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

CHAP. XV.

Mardocheus moneth Esther to go in to the King & make intercession for her people. 9 And she performeth his request.

- 1 Mardocheus also bade Esther to go in vnto the King, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.
- 2 Remember, saith he, the dayes of thy lowe estate, how thou wast nourished vnder mine hand for Aman which is next vnto the King, hath giuen sentence of death against vs.
- 3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, & speake for vs vnto the King, & deliuer vs from death.
- 4 And vpon the third day whē she had ended her prayer, she layd away the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel,
- 5 And deckte her selfe goodly, after that she had called vpon God, which is the beholder and sauour of all things, & tooke two hand-maides with her.
- 6 Vpon the one she leaned her selfe, as one that was tender.
- 7 And the other folowed her, and bare the traine of her vesture.
- 8 The shine of her beautie made her face rose coloured: and her face was chearefull and amiable, but her heart was sorowfull for great feare.
- 9 Then she went in thorowe all the doores, & stode before the King, & the King sate vpon his royal throne, & was clothed in his goodlie arraye, all glittering with golde and precious stones, and he was very terrible.
- 10 Then he lift vp his face, that shone with maiestie, and looked fiercely vpon her: therefore the Queene fell downe, and was pale & faint and leaned her selfe vpon the head of the maide, that went with her.
- 11 Neuertheles, God turned the Kings minde that he was gentle, who being careful, leaped out of his throne, & tooke her in his armes, till she came to her selfe againe: and comforted her with louing wordes, and said,
- 12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare,
- 13 Thou shalt not dye: for our commandement toucheth the commons, and not thee. Come neere.
- 14 And so he held vp his golden scepter, and laid it vpon her necke,
- 15 And kissed her, and said, Talke with me.
- 16 Then said she, I sawe thee, o lord, as an Angel of God, and mine heart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie.
- 17 For wonderfull art thou, o lord, and thy face is full of grace.
- 18 And as she was thus speaking vnto him, she fell downe againe for faintnes.
- 19 Then the King was troubled, and all his seruants comforted her.

CHAP. XVI.

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he remoueth those which he first sent forth.

- 1 The great King Artaxerxes, which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces, sendeth vnto the princes & rulers that haue the charge of our affaires, Salutation.
- 2 There be many that through the goodnes of Princes and honour giuen vnto them, become verie proude,

- 3 And indeuour not onely to hurte our subiectes, but not content to liue in wealth, do also imagine destruction agaynst those that do them good,
- 4 And take not onely all thankfulness away from men, but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindfull of benefites, they thinke to escape the vengeance of God, that seeth all things, and is contrarie to euill.
- 5 And oft times many, which be set in office, and vnto whom their friends causes are committed, by vaine entisements do wrappe them in calamities, that can not be remedied: for they make the partakers of innocent blood,
- 6 And deceitfully abuse the simplicitie, and gentlenes of Princes with lying tales.
- 7 This may be proued not only by olde histories, but also by those things that are before our eyes, and are wickedly comitted of such pestilences as are not worthie to beare rule.
- 8 Therefore we must take heed hereafter, that we maye make the kingdome peaceable for all men, what change so euer shal come,
- 9 And discerne the things that are before our eyes, to withstand them with gentlenes.
- 10 For Aman, a Macedonian, the sonne of Amadathus, being in dede a stranger from the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnes, was receyued of vs,
- 11 And hath proued the friendship that we beare toward all nations, so that he was called our father, and was honoured of euerie man, as the next person vnto the King.
- 12 But he coulde not vse him selfe soberlie in this great dignitie, but went about to deprive vs of the kingdome, and of our life.
- 13 With manifolde deceite also hath he desired to destroye Mardocheus our preseruer, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Esther y partaker of our kingdome, with all her nation.
- 14 For his mind was (whē he had taken them out of the waye) to laye waite for vs, and by this meanes to traslate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia.
- 15 But we finde that the Lewes (which were accused of this moste wicked man that they might be destroyed) are no euill doers, but vse moste iust Lawes,
- 16 And that they be the children of the moste high & almighty & euerliuing God, by whom the kingdome hath bene preserued vnto vs, and our progenitours in verie good order.
- 17 Wherefore ye shal do well, if ye do not put in execution those letters, that Aman the sonne of Amadathus did write vnto you.
- 18 For he that inuented them, hangeath at Sus before the gates with all his familie, and God (w̄ hath all things in his power) hath speedily rewarded him after his deserting.
- 19 Therefore ye shal publish the copie of this letter in all places, that the Lewes may freely liue after their owne Lawes.
- 20 And ye shal aide them, that vpon the thirtieth daye of the twelfth moneth Adar they may be auēged of them, which in the time of

Wisdome of Salomon.

- their trouble woulde haue oppressed them.
- 21 For almightie God hath turned to ioye the day, wherein the chosē people should haue perished.
- 22 Moreouer, among other solemne dayes ye shal keepe this day with all gladnes;
- 23 That both now and in time to come this day may be a remembrance of deliuerance for vs and all such as loue the prosperitie of the Persians, but a remembrance of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 Therefore all cities and countries that do not this, shall horrible be destroyed with sworde and fire, and shall not onely not be inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beastes and foules for euer.

THE WISDOME OF SALOMON.

How we ought to searche and enquire after God. 1 VVho be those that finde him. 2 The holy Ghost. 3. 11 VVho ought to flee from backbiting and murmuring. 12 VVherof death commeth. 13 Righteousnes and vnrighteousnes.

Deut. 4. 23.

and 33. 11.*

- LOVE * righteousnes, yee ye be Iudges of the earth:
thinke reuerently of the Lorde, and seeke him in simplicitie of heart.
- * For he wil be found of the that tempte him not,
and appeareth vnto such as be not vnfaithfull vnto him.
- 3 For wicked thoughts separate from God: & his power whe it is tried, reprocueth y vnwise.
- 4 Because wisdom can not enter into a wicked heart, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.
- 5 For the holy * Spirit of discipline fleeth from deceit, & withdraweth himself from the thoughts that are without vnderstanding, & is rebuked when wickednes commeth.
- 6 For the Spirit of wisdom * is louing, and will not absolue him; that blasphemeth with his lippes: for God is a witness of his reines, and a true beholder of his heart, & an hearer of the tongue.
- 7 For the Spirit of the Lord filleth all the worlde: and the same that mainteineth all things, hath knowledge of the voyce.
- 8 Therefore he that speaketh vnrighteous things, can not be hid: neither shall the iud-gement of reproche let him escape.
- 9 For inquisition shal be made for y thoughts of the vngodly, and the sound of his wordes shall come vnto God for the correction of his iniquities.
- 10 For the eare of ielousie heareth all things, &
the noyse of the grudgings shal not be hid.
- 11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which profreth nothing, and reframe your tongue from slander: for there is no word so secrete, that shal goe for nought, and the mouth that speaketh lies, slayeth the soule.
- 12 Seeke not death in the error of your life:
destroy not your selues thorowe the works of your owne hands.
- 13 * For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in y destruction of y liuing.
- 14 For he created all things, that they might haue their being: & the generations of the worlde are preferred, and there is no poyson of destruction in them, and the kingdome of hell is not vpon earth.

- 15 For righteousnes is immortall, but vnrighteousnes bringeth death.
- 16 And the vngodly call it vnto them both with hands & wordes: and while they thinke to haue a friend of it, they come to naught for they are confederate with it: therefore are they worthy to be partakers thereof.

CHAP. II.

The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsel against the faithful.

- FOR the vngodly say, as they falsly imagine with them selues, * Our life is short and tedious: and in the dearch of a man there is no recouerie, neither was any knowne that hath returned from the graue.
- 2 For we are borne at all adventure, & we shal be hereafter as though we had neuer bene:
for the breath is a smoke in our nostrils, and the wordes as a sparke raised out of our heart.
- 3 Which being extinguished, the body is turned into ashes, and the spirit vanisheth as the soft aire.
- 4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloude, & come to naught as the miste that is driven away with the beames of the sunne, & cast downe with the heat thereof. Our name also shalbe forgotten in time, & no man shal haue our workes in remembrance.
- 5 * For our time is as a shadowe that passeth away, & after our end there is no returning:
for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth
again.
- 6 Come therefore, and let vs enioye the pleasures, that are present, and let vs cheere-fully vse the creatures as in youth.
- 7 Let vs fil our selues with costly wine & ointments, & let nor the floure of life passe by vs.
- 8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose budde
s afore they be withered.
- 9 Let vs all be partakers of our wantonnes: let vs leane some token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portio, & this is our ioye.
- 10 Let vs oppress the poore, that is righteous:
let vs not spare the widowe, nor reuerence the white heares of the aged, that haue liued many yeeres.
- 11 Let our strength be the law of vnrighteousnes: for the thing that is feeble, is reprobued as vnprofitable.
- 12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous:
for he is not for our profit, and he is contra-rie to our doings: he checketh vs for offending against the Lawe, and blameth vs as transgressours of discipline.
- 13 He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God: and he calleth him self the sonne of the Lord.

- 14 He is made * to reprove our thoughts.
- 15 It grieueth vs also to looke * vpon him: for his life is not like other mens: his wayes are of another fashion.
- 16 He counteth vs as bastards, & he withdraweth him selfe from our wayes as frō filthines: he comendeth greatly the latter end of the iust, and boasteth that God is his Father.
- 17 Let vs see then if his wordes be true: let vs proue what ende he shall haue.
- 18 For if the righteous man be the * sonne of God, he wil helpe him, and deliuer him from the handes of his enemies.
- 19 Let vs * examine him with rebukes & tormentes, that we may knowe his meekenes, and proue his patience.
- 20 Let vs condēne him vnto a shameful death: for he shal be preferred as he him self sayth.
- 21 Such thinges do they imagine, & go astray: for their owne wickednes hath blinded the.
- 22 And they do not vnderstand the mysteries of God, neither hope for the reward of righteousness, nor can discern the honour of the soules that are faueteles.
- 23 For God created man without corruptiō, & made him after y * image of his own likenes.
- 24 * Neuertheles, thorowe enuie of the deuil came death into the worlde: and they that holde of his side, proue it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The resurrection and asurance of the righteous. 7 The reward of the faithfull, as y * he are miserable.

- 1 BVt the * soules of the righteous are in y head of God, & no torment shal touch the.
- 2 * In the sight of the vnwise they appeared to dye, and their end was thought grieuous.
- 3 And their departing from vs, destruction, but they are in peace.
- 4 And though they suffer paine before men, yet is * their hope full of immortalitie.
- 5 They are punished, but in fewe things, yet in many things shall they be well rewarded: * for God proueth them, and findeth them meete for him selfe.
- 6 He trieth them as the golde in the fornaçe, & receiue them as a perfect fruite offering.
- 7 And in the time of their vision they shall shine, and runne thorow as the sparkes among the stubble.
- 8 They * shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people, and their Lord shall reigne for ever.
- 9 They that trust in him, shall vnderstand the truth, and the faithfull shall remaine with him in loue: for grace and mercy is among his Saints, and he regardeth his elect.
- 10 * But the vngodly shalbe punished according to their imaginatiōs: for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.
- 11 Who so despiseth wisdom & discipline, is miserable, & their hope is vaine, & their labours are foolish, & their works vnprofitable.
- 12 Their wiues are vndiscrete, and their children wicked: their offering is cursed.
- 13 Therefore the barren is blessed which is vndefiled, & knoweth not the sinful bed: * the

- shal haue frute in the visitation of the soules,
- 14 And y eunuche, which with his hands hath not wrought iniquitie, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shal be giuen the speciall gift of faith, and an acceptable portion in the Temple of the Lord.
- 15 For glorious is the frute of good labours, & the roote of wisdom shall neuer fade away.
- 16 But the children of adulterers shall not be partakers of the holy things, and the seede of the wicked bed shalbe rooted out.
- 17 And though they liue long, yet shal they be nothing regarded, and their last age shal be without honour.
- 18 If they dye hastily, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.
- 19 For horrible is the end of the wicked generation.

CHAP. IIII.

Of vertue and the commoditie thereof, 10 The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

- 1 Better is barrennes with vertue: for the memorial thereof is immortal: for it is known with God and with men.
- 2 Whe it is present, men take exāple thereat, and if it go away, yet they desire it: it is alway crowned and triumpheth, and winneth the battell and the vndefiled rewardes.
- 3 But the multitude of the vngodlie which abounde in children, is vnprofitable: and the bastarde plantes shall take no deepe roote, nor lay any fast foundation.
- 4 For though they budde forth in y branches for a time, * yet they shall be shaken with the winde: for they stand not fast, & through the vehēcie of y wind they shalbe rooted out.
- 5 For the vnperfect branches shalbe broken, & their fruite shalbe vnprofitable and sower to eat, and meete for nothing.
- 6 For all the children that are borne of y wicked bed, shalbe witness of the wickednes against their parents when they be asked.
- 7 But though the righteous be persecuted with death, yet shal he be in rest.
- 8 For the honorable is not that which is of long time, * but that which is measured by the number of yeres.
- 9 But wisdom is a treasure, and an vndefiled life is a price that shall neuer faile.
- 10 * He pleased God, and was beloued of him, so that where as he liued among sinners, he translated him.
- 11 He was taken away, lest wickednes should alter his vnderstanding, or deceit beguile his minde.
- 12 For wickednes by bewitching obscureth the things that are good, & the vnstedfastnes of concupiscence peruertereth the simple minde.
- 13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he much time.
- 14 For his soule pleased God: therefore hastned he to take him away from wickednes.
- 15 Yet the people see and vnderstand it not, & consider no such things in their hearts, how that grace and mercy is vpon his Saints, and his prouidence ouer the elect.
- 16 Thus y righteous that is dead, condemneth the vngodlie w are liuing: & the youth that the gift of faith.

is soone brought to an end, the long life of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the end of the wise, but they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for him, and wherefore the Lord hath preferred him in safetie.

18 They see him and despise him, but the Lord will laugh them to scorne,

19 So that they shall fall hereafter without honour, & shall haue a shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shall he burst them and cast them downe, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shall be vtterly wasted, & they shall be in forowe, and their memorial shall perish.

20 So they being affrayed, shall remember their sinnes, and their owne wickednes shall come before them to conuince them.

CHAP. V.

The constancies of the righteous before their persecuters.
14 The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15 The blessednes of the saints and godlie.

1 Then shall the righteous stand in great boldenes before the face of such as haue tormented him, and taken away his labours.

2 When they see him, they shall be vexed with horrible feare, and shall be amased for his wonderfull deliuerance,

3 And shall change their mindes, and sigh for griefe of minde, and say within them selues, This is he whome we sometime had in derision, and in a parable of reproche.

4 We foolles thought his life madnes, and his ende without honour.

5 How is he counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the saints!

6 Therefore we haue erred from the waye of truth, and the light of righteousness hath not shined vnto vs, and the funne of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 We haue wearied our selues in the waye of wickednes and destruction, & we haue gone through dangerous wayes: but we haue not known the way of the Lord.

8 What hath pride profited vs? or what profite hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

9 All those things are passed away like a shadowe, and as a poste that passeth by:

10 As a shippe that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be founde, neither the path of it in the floods:

11 Or as a bird that fleeth thorow in the aire, & no man can see any token of her passage, but onely heare the noyse of her wings, beating the light wind, parting the aire thorow the vehemensie of her going, and fleeth on shaking her wings, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be founde:

12 Or as when an arrowe is shot at a marke, it parteth the aire, which immediatly cometh together againe, so that a man can not know where it went thorowe.

13 Euen so we dissolue as we were borne, we began to awe to our end, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednes.

14 For the hope of the vngodly is like y dust that is blown away with the winde, & like a thinne some that is scattered abroade with the storme, & as the smoke, which is dispersed with the winde, and as the remembrance of him passeth, that tarieth but for a day.

15 But the righteous shall liue for euer: their rewarde also is with the Lorde, and the most High hath care of them.

16 Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kingdom, and a beautifull crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hande shall he couer them, & with his arme shall he defend them.

17 He shall take his ielousie for armour, and shall arme the creatures to be reuenged of the enemies.

18 He shall put on righteousness for a breastplate, and take true iudgement in steade of an helmet.

19 He will take holines for an inuincible shield.

20 He will sharpen his fierce wrath for a sword, and the worlde shall fight with him against the vnwife.

21 Then shall the thunder boltes go streight out of the lightnings, & shall flee to the marke as out of the bent bow of the cloudes, & out of his anger that throweth stones, shall thicke haile be cast, and the water of the sea shall be wroth against them, and the floods shall mightily ouerflowe.

22 And a mightie winde shall stande vp against them, and like a storme shall scatter them abroad. Thus iniquitie shall bring all the earth to a wilderness, & wickednes shall overthrow the thrones of the mightie.

CHAP. VI.

The calling of Kings, princes and iudges, which are also authorized to search wisdom.

1 Heare therefore, O ye Kings, and vnderstand: learne, ye that be iudges of the ends of the earth.

2 Giue eare, ye that rule the multitudes and glorie in the multitude of people.

3 For the rule is giuen you of the Lord, and power by the most High, which will trye your workes, and search out your imaginations.

4 Because that ye being officers of his kingdom haue not iudged aright, nor kept the Law, nor walked after the will of God,

5 Horribly and suddenly wil he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement shall they haue that beare rule.

6 For he that is most lowe, is worthy mercie, but the mightie shall be mightily tormented.

7 For he y is Lord ouer all, wil spare no person, neither shall he feare any greatnes: for he hath mad y final & great & careth for alike.

8 But for the mightie abideth the forer trial.

9 Vnto you therefore, O tyrants, do I speake, that ye may learne wisdom, & not go amisse.

10 For they that keepe holines holily, shall be holy, and they that are learned there, shall finde a defence.

11 Wherefore set your delyte vpon my wordes and desire them, and ye shall be instructed.

12 Wisdome shineth and neuer fadeth away, and is easely scene of them that loue her, & sounde of such as seeke her,

13 She preueneth them that desire her, that she she may first shew her selfe vnto them.

14. Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shall haue no great trauaile: for he shall finde her sitting at his doores.
  15. To thinke vpon her then is perfite vnderstanding: & who so watcheth for her, shall be soone without care.
  16. For she goeth about, seeking such as are meete for her, and sheweth her selfe cherefully vnto them in the wayes, and meeteth them in euery thought.
  17. For the most true desire of discipline is her beginning: and the care of discipline is loue.
  18. And loue is the keeping of her lawes: and the keeping of the lawes is the assurance of immortallitie.
  19. And immortallitie maketh vs nere vnto God.
  20. Therefore the desire of wisdom leadeth to the kingdom.
  21. If your delite be thm in thrones, & scepters, & Kings of the people, honour wisdom; that ye may reigne for euer.
  22. Now I wil tel you what wisdom is, & wher she commeth, and will not hide the mysteries from you, but will seeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, & bring the knowledge of her into light; and will not keepe backe the trueth.
  23. Neither will I haue to do with consuming enuie: for such a man shall not be partaker of wisdom.
  24. But the multitude of the wise is the preferuation of the worlde; and a wise King is the stay of the people.
  25. Be therefore instructed by my wordes, and ye shall haue profite.
- C H A P. VIII.
- The effects of wisdom.
1. My selfe am also mortall and a man like all other; and am come of him that was first made of the earth.
2. And in my mother's wombe was I facioned to be flesh in ten moneths: I was brought together into blood of the seede of man, and by the pleasure that commeth with sleepe.
3. And when I was borne, I receiued the common aire, and fell vpon the earth, which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the first as all other do.
4. I was nourished in swaddling clothes; and with cares.
5. For there is no King that had any other beginning of birth.
6. All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and a like going out.
7. Wherefore I prayed, & vnderstanding was giuen me: I called, & the Spirit of wisdom came vnto me.
8. I preferred her to scepters and thrones, and counted riches nothing in comparision of her.
9. Neither did I compare precious stones vnto her: for all gold is but a litle grauell in respect of her, and siluer shall be counted but clay before her.
10. I loued her above health and beautie, and purposed to take her for my light: for her light can not be quenched.
11. All good things therefore came to me together with her, & innumerable riches thorrowed her hands.

12. So I was glad in all: for wisdom was the author thereof, and I knewe not that she was the mother of these things.
13. And I learned vnfaignedly, and communicated without enuie, and I do not hide her riches.
14. For she is an infinite treasure vnto men, & who so vs, become partakers of the loue of God, & are accepted for y gifts of knowledge.
15. God hath graunted me to speake according to my minde, and to iudge worthily of the things, that are giue me: for he is the leader vnto wisdom, and the director of the wife.
16. For in his hand are both we and our wordes, & all wisdom, & the knowledge of y workes.
17. For he hath giuen me the true knowledge of the things that are, so that I knowe how the worlde was made, and the powers of the elements.
18. The beginning and the end, & the middes of the times: how the times alter, and the change of the seasons.
19. The course of the yere, the situation of the starres.
20. The nature of liuing things, and the ferociousnes of beasts; the power of the windes, and the imaginations of men, the diuersities of plants, and the vertues of rootes.
21. And all things both secret and knowen do I knowe: for wisdom the worker of all things, hath taught me it.
22. For in her is the spirit of vnderstanding, & is holy, the onely begotten, manifolde, subtil, moueable, cleare, vndefiled, tender, not hurtfull, louing the good, shapely, which can not be letted, doing good.
23. Courteous, stable, sure, without care, hauing all power, circumspect in all things, & passing through all intellectuall, pure & subtil spirits.
24. For wisdom is nimble then all nimble things: she goeth thorow, and attaineth to all things, because of her purenes.
25. For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence that floweth from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing come vnto her.
26. For she is the brightness of the euermore light, the vndefiled mirrow of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnes.
27. And being one, she can do all things, and remaining in her selfe, reneweth all; and according to the ages she entreteth into the holy soules, and maketh them the friends of God and Prophetes.
28. For God leueth none, if he dwell not with wisdom.
29. For she is more beautifull then the sunne, & is aboute all the order of the starres, & the light is not to be compared vnto her.
30. For night commeth vpon it, but wickednes can not ouercome wisdom.

C H A P. VIII.

The effects of wisdom.

1. She also reacheth from one end to another mightily, and comely doeth the order all things.
2. I haue loued her, and sought her from my youth:

the definition and praise of wisdom.

Wisdom of Salomon.

youth: I desired to marry her, such loue had I vnto her beautie.
 3 In that she is conuersant with God, it com-mendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lord of all things loueth her.
 4 For she is y<sup>e</sup> scholemastres of the knowledge of God, and the chooser out of his workes.
 5 If riches be a possession to be desired in this life, what is richer then wisdom, that work-keth all things?
 6 For if prudence worketh, what is it among all things, that worketh better then she?
 7 If a man loue righteousness, her labours are vertuous: for she teacheth sobernes & pruden-cie, righteousness and strength, which are the most profitable things that men can haue in this life.
 8 If a man desire great experience, she can tell the things that are past, and discern things to come: she knoweth y<sup>e</sup> subtilties of wordes, and the solutions of darke sentences: she foreseeth y<sup>e</sup> signes & wonders, or euer they come to passe, & the successe of seasons and times.
 9 Therefore I purposed to take her vnto my copanie, knowing that she would counsel me good things, & comfort me in cares & griefs.
 10 For her sake shall I haue glorie among the multitude, and honour among the Elders though I be yong.
 11 I shal be found of sharp iudgement, so that I shalbe marueilous in the sight of great men.
 12 When I hold my tongue, they shal abide my lesaure: when I speake, they shal heare diligently, and if I take much, they shal lay their hands vpon their mouth.
 13 Morison, by her I shall obtaine immortali-tie, & leaue an euermourning memorial among them that come after me.
 14 I shall gouerne the people, and the nations shall be subdued vnto me.
 15 Horrible tyrants shalbe afraide when they heare me among y<sup>e</sup> multitude I shal be counted good, and mightie in battell.
 16 When I come home, I shal rest with her: for her copanie hath no bitternes, & her felow-ship hath no tediousnes, but myrth and ioye.
 17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, & pondered them in mine heart, how y<sup>e</sup> to be ioyned vnto wisdom is immortalitie, 18 And great pleasure is in her friendship, and that in the workes of her handes are infinite riches, & that in the exercise of talking with her is prudence, and glorie by communing with her, I went about, seeking how I might take her vnto me.
 19 For I was a wittie childe, and was of a good spirite.
 20 Yea, rather being good, I came to an vnde-filed bodie.
 21 Neuertheless, when I perceiued that I could not enioy her, except God gaue her (& that was a point of wisdom also, to knowe whose gift it was) I went vnto the Lord, & besought him, and with my whole heart I said,

1 And ordeined man through thy wisdom, that he should haue * dominion ouer y<sup>e</sup> creatures which thou hast made, 3 And gouerne the world according to equi-tie and righteousness, and execute iudgement with an vpright heart.
 4 Giue * me that wisdom, which sitteth by thy throne, and put me not out from among thy children.
 5 For I thy * seruant, & sonne of thine hand-maid, am a feeble person, and of a short time, and yet lesse in the vnderstanding of iudge-ment and the lawes.
 6 And though a man be neuer so perfit among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him, he shalbe nothing regarded.
 7 * Thou hast chosen mee to be a King of thy people, & y<sup>e</sup> iudge of thy sonnes & daughters.
 8 Thou hast commanded me to buyld a temple vpon thine holy Mount, & an altar in the city, wherein thou dwellest, a likeness of thine holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning.
 9 And thy * wisdom with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was when thou madest the worlde, and which knowe what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandments.
 10 Send her out of thine holy heauens, & send her from the throne of thy maiestie that she may be with me, and labour, that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.
 11 For she knoweth & vnderstandeth all things, and she shall leade me soberly in my workes,
 and preferre me by her glorie.
 12 So shall my workes be acceptable, and then shall I gouerne thy people righteously, and be meete for my fathers throne.
 13 For what man is he that can knowe the counsell of God? or who can thinke what the will of God is?
 14 For the thoughtes of mortal men are fearefull, and our forecastes are vncertaine.
 15 Because a corruptible bodie is heauy vnto the soule, and the earthly manflesh keepeth downe the minde that is full of cares.
 16 And hardly can we discern the things that are vpon earth, and with great labour finde we out y<sup>e</sup> things which are before vs: who can then seeke out the things that are in heauen?
 17 Who can knowe thy counsell? except thou giue him wisdom, and send thine holie Spi-rite from aboue?
 18 For so the wayes of them which are vpon earth, are reformed, and men are taught the things that are pleasant vnto thee, and are preferred through wisdom.

CHAP. X.

The deliverance of the righteous and destruction of the enemies cometh through wisdom.

1 SHe preferred the first father of the world, that was formed, and kept him when he was created alone, and brought him out of his offence,
 2 And * gaue him power to rule all things,
 3 But the vniuersall in his wrath departed from her, and perished by killing his brother in his furie.

CHAP. IX.

A prayer of Salomon to obtaine wisdom.

1 O God of Fathers, and Lord of mercie, w<sup>h</sup> hast made all things with thy worde,

- 4 For whose cause the * earth was ouerflowed, but wisdom preferred it againe, gouerning the iust man by a litle wood.
- 5 Moreouer, * when the nations were ioynd in their malicious confederacies, she knewe the righteous, & preferred him fauorably vnto God, & kept him sure, because she loued him tenderly as a sonne.
- 6 She preferred the righteous, * when the vngodly perished, when he fled from the fire that fell downe vpon the five cities.
- 7 Of whose wickednes y waste lād y smoketh, yet giueth testimonie, & the trees that beare fruit that neuer commeth to ripenes; and for a remembrance of the vnfaithfull soule, there standeth a pillar of salte.
- 8 For all such as regarded not wisdom, had not onely this hurt, that they knewe not the things which were good, but also left behind them vnto men a memorial of their foolishnes, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they can not lie hid.
- 9 But wisdom deliuered the, that serued her.
- 10 * When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, she led him the right way, shewed him the kingdom of God, gaue him knowledge of holy things, made him riche in his labours, and made his paines profitable.
- 11 Against y couetousnes of such as defrauded him, she stode by him and made him riche.
- 12 She saued him from the enemies, and defended him from them, that laye in waite, & she gaue him the price in a mightie battell, that he might knowe that the feare of God is stronger then all things.
- 13 * When y righteous was solde, she forooke him not, but deliuered him from sinne: she went downe with him into the dungeon,
- 14 And failed him not in the bands, til she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that oppressed him, and them that had accused him, she declared to be liars, and gaue him perpetuall glorie.
- 15 She deliuered y righteous people & faultlesseed from the nations y oppressed them.
- 16 She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, and stode * by him in wonders & signes against the terrible Kings.
- 17 She gaue the Saints the reward of their labours, and led them forth a marueilous way: on the day time she was a shadowe vnto the, and a light of starres in the night.
- 18 * She brought them thorow the red sea, and caried them through the great water:
- 19 But she drowned their enemies, & brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.
- 20 So the righteous rooke the spoiles of the vngodlie, * and praised thine holy Name, o Lord, and magnified thy victorious hande with one accord.
- 21 For wisdom openeth y mouth of y dōme, and maketh the tongues of babes eloquent.

CHAP. XI.

The miracles done for Israel. 12 The vengeance of sinners.
13 The great power and mercie of God.

- 1 She prospered their workes in the handes of thine holy Prophet.
- 2 * They went through the wildernes that was not inhabited, and pitched their tents in places where there lay no way.

- 3 * They stode against their enemies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.
- 4 * When they were thirstie, they called vpon thee, and water was giuen them out of the hie rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of the harde stone.
- 5 For by the things whereby their enemies were punished, by the same were the Israelites helped in their neede.
- 6 For in steade of a fountaine of running water, the enemies were troubled at the corrupt blood, which was to rebuke the commandment of the killing of the children, but thou gauest vnto thine owne abundance of water vnloued for,
- 7 Declaring by the thirst that was at y time * how y haddest punished thine aduersaries.
- 8 For when they were tried & chastised with mercie, they knewe howe the vngodlie were iudged and punished in wrath.
- 9 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, & proued them: but thou hast condemned the other as a righteous King, when thou diddest examine them.
- 10 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike: for their grieue was double with mourning, & the remembrance of things past.
- 11 For whē they perceived that through their tormentes good came vnto them, they felt the Lord.
- 12 And seeing the things that came to passe, at the last they wōdered at him, whom afore they had cast out, denyed and derided: for they had another thirst then the last.
- 13 Because of the foolish deuices of their wickednes wherewith they were decayed, and worshipped * serpentes, that had not the vse of reason, and vile beastes, thou sendidst a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vpo them for a vengeance, that they might know, that wherewith a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.
- 14 * For vnto thine almightie hand, that made the worlde of naught, it was not vnpossible to sende among them a multitude of beares, or fierce Lyons,
- 15 Or furious beastes newly created, and vnknown, which shoulde breathe out blastes of fyre, and cast out smoke as a tempest, or shoote horrible sparkes like lighteninges out of their eyes.
- 16 Which might not only destroy them w hurting, but also kil them w their horrible fight.
- 17 Yea, without these might they haue bene cast downe with one wind, being persecuted by thy vègeāce, & scattered abroad through the power of thy Spirite: but thou hast ordered all things in measure, number & weight.
- 18 For thou hast euer had great strength and might, and who can withstande the power of thine arme!
- 19 For as the small thing that the balance weigheth, so is the world before thee, and as a droppe of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the earth.

Gods Mercy

Repentance is the gift of God. c. 12. v. 15.

- 20 But thou hast mercie vpon all: for thou hast power of all things, and makest as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they should amend.
- 21 For thou louest all things that are, & haarest none of them whome thou hast made: for thou wouldest haue created nothing that thou haddest hated.
- 22 And how might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or how could any thing be preserved, except it were called of thee?
- 23 But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, which are the louer of soules.

CHAP. XII.

1. The mercie of God toward sinners. 14. The workes of God are unreprouable. 19. God giueth lesure to repent.

- 1 For thine incorruptible spirite is in all things.
- 2 Therefore thou chastenest them measurably that go wrong, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance of the things wherein they haue offended, that leauing wickednes, they may beleue in thee, O Lord.

Deut. 9. 27, 28.
and 18. 9.

- 3 * As for those olde inhabitants of the holy land, thou diddest hate them.
- 4 For they committed abominable workes, as forceries and wicked sacrifices,
- 5 And slaying of their owne children without mercie, & eating of the bowels of mans flesh in banking, where the raging Priests shed abominable blood.
- 6 And the fathers were the chief murderers of the soules, destitute of all helpe, whom y wouldst destroy by the hands of our fathers,
- 7 That the lande which thou louest aboue all other, might be a meete dwelling for the children of God.
- 8 * Neuertheles, y sparedst the also, as men, & sendest the forerunners of thine hoste, euen hornets to destroy them by lile & lile,
- 9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodlie vnto the righteous in battell, or with cruel beastes, or with one rough worde to destroy them together.
- 10 But in punishing them by lile and lile, thou gauest them space to repent, knowing well, that it was an varighteous nation and wicked of nature, & that their thought could neuer be altered.

Exo. 33. 2. deut. 32. 23.

Gods patience.

Rom. 9. 22.

1. Pet. 3. 7.

Iob. 10. 3.

- 11 For it was a cursed seede from the beginning: yet hast thou not spared them when they sinned, because thou fearedst any man.
- 12 For who dare say, * What hast thou done? or who dare stande against thy iudgement? or who dare accuse thee for the nations that perish, whome thou hast made? or who dare stand against thee to reuenge y wicked men?
- 13 For there is none other God but thou, y carest for all things, that thou mayst declare how that thy iudgement is not vnight.
- 14 There dare neither King nor tyrant in thy sight require accounts of them whome thou hast punished.
- 15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy self, y ordrest al things righteously, * thinking it not agreeable to thy power to condemne him, that hath not deserved to be punished.
- 16 For thy power is the beginning of righte-ousnes, & because thou art Lord of al things, it causeth thee to spare all things.

- 17 When men thinke thee not to be of a perfitt power, thou declarest thy power, and reprocuet the boldenes of the wise.
- 18 But thou ruling the power, iudgeth with equitie, & gouernest vs with great fauour: for thou maist shew thy power when thou wilt.
- 19 By such workes now hast thou taught thy people, that a man shoulde be iust & louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope: for thou giuest repentance to sinners.
- 20 For if thou hast punished the enemies of thy children that had deserved death with so great consideration, and requesting vnto them, giving them time and place that they might change from their wickednes,
- 21 With howe great circumspection wilt thou punish thine owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne and made couenants of good promises?
- 22 So when thou dost chasten vs, thou punishest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that when we iudge, we should diligently consider thy goodness, and when we are iudged, we shoulde hope for merie.
- 23 Wherefore thou hast tormented the wicked that haue liued a dissolute life by their owne imaginations.
- 24 * For they went astray very farre, in y wayes of error, and esteemed the beastes, which their enemies despised, for gods, being abused after the manner of children, that haue none vnderstanding.
- 25 Therefore hast thou sent this punishment that they shoulde be in derision as children without reason.
- 26 But they that will not be reformed by those scornful rebukes, shall feele the worthe punishment of God.
- 27 For in those things when they suffred, they disdeined: but in these whom they counted godly, when they sawe themselves punished by them, they al acknowledged the true God whom afore they had denied to knowe: therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

Chap. 12.

CHAP. XIII.

1. All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God. 10. Idolaters and idoles are mocked.

- 1 Surely all men are vaine by nature, and are signorant of God, * & could not know him that is, by y good things that are seene, neither consider by the workes, y worke master.
- 2 * But they thought the fire, or the winde or the swift aire, or the course of the starres, or the raging water, or the lights of heauen to be gouernours of the worlde, and gods.
- 3 Though they had such pleasure in their beautie y they thought the gods, yet should they haue known, how much more excellent he is that made them: for the first auctor of beautie hath created these things.
- 4 Or if they maruelled at the power, & operation of them, yet should they haue perceived thereby, how much he that made these things, is mightier.
- 5 For by the greatnes of their beautie, and of the creatures, y Creator being copared with them,

Rom. 1. 20.

them, may be considered.

6 But yet the blame is lesse in these, that seeke God & would finde him, and yet peradventure do erre.

7 For * they go about by his workes to seeke him, and are perwaded by the sight, because the things are beautifull that are seene.

8 Howbeit they are not to be excused.

9 For if they can knowe so much, that they can discerne the worlde, why do they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, and among the dead is their hope, that call them gods, which are the workes of mens hands, gold, and filuer, & the thing that is inuented by arte, and the similitude of beastes, or any vaine stone that hath bene made by the hand of antiquitie.

11 * Or as when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the worke, & pareth of all the barke thereof cunningly, and by arte maketh a vessel profitable for the vse of life.

12 And the things that are cut of fro his work, he bestoweth to dresse his meat to fill himself, And that which is left of these things, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a eroked piece of wood & full of knobbes) he carueth it diligently at his leasure, & according as he is expert in cuning, he giueth it a proportion, & fashioneth it after the similitude of a man.

14 Or maketh it like some vile beast, & straketh it ouer with red, and painteth it, & couereth euerie spotte that is in it.

15 And when he hath made a conuenient tabernacle for it, he stretch it in a wall, & maketh it fast with iron.

16 Prouiding so for it, least it fall: for he knoweth that it can not helpe it selfe, because it is an image, which hath neede of helpe.

17 Then he prayeth for his goods, and for his marriage and for children: he is not ashamed to speake vnto it, that hath no life.

18 He calleth on him that is weake for health: he prayeth vnto him that is dead for life: he requieth him of helpe that hath no experience at all.

19 And for his journey, him that is not able to go, and for gaines, and worke, and successe of his affaires he requieth furtherance of him, that hath no manner of power.

CHAP. XIII.

The detestation and abomination of images, & a curse them, and of him that maketh them. Ex. xx. 18. & xxv. 18.

1 A Gain, another man purposing to saile, & intending to passe thorow the raging waues, called vnto a stocke more rotten then the shippe that carrieth him.

2 For as for it, covetousnes of money hath found it out, and the craftsman made it by cunning.

3 But thy providence, O Father, governeth it: for thou hast made a way, euen in the sea, & a sure path among the waues.

4 Declaring thereby, that thou hast power to helpe in all things, yea, though a man went to the sea without meanes.

5 Neuertheles thou wouldest not, that the workes of thy wisdom should be vaine, and therefore do men commit their liues to a final piece of wood, & passe ouer the stormie sea in a shippe, and are saued.

6 * For in the olde time also when the proud giants perished, the hope of the world went into a ship w was gouerned by thine hand, & so left seede of generation vnto the worlde.

7 For blessed is the tree whereby righteousnes commeth.

8 But that is cursed that is made with hands, * both it, and he that made it: he because he made it, and it being a corruptible thing, because it was called god.

9 * For the vngodlie, and his vngodlines are both like hated of God: so truly the worke & he that made it, shalbe punished together.

10 Therefore shall there be a visitation for the idoles of the nations: for of the creatures of God they are become abominatio, & stumbling blockes vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

11 For the inuenting of idoles was the beginning of whoredome, and the finding of them is the corruption of life.

12 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

13 The vaine glory of men brought them into the worlde: therefore shall they come shortly to an ende.

14 When a father mourned grievously for his sonne that was taken away suddenly, he made an image for him that was once dead, whom now he worshippeth as a god, and ordained to his seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

15 Thus by proces of time, this wicked custome preuailed, & was kept as a law, & idoles were worshipped by the comendement of tyrants.

16 As for those that were so farre of that men might not worshipping them presently, they did counterfet the visage that was faire of, & made a gorgeous image of a King, whom they would honour, that they might by all meanes flatter him, & was absent, as though he had bene present.

17 Againe, ambition of the craftsman thrust forward ignorant to increase his superstition.

18 For he peradventure willing to please a notable man, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

19 And so thorowe the beautie of the worke the multitude was allured, and so tooke him to be for a god, which a litle afore was but honoured as a man.

20 And this was the deceiuing of mans life, when men, being in seruitude, through calumnie and tyrannie ascribed vnto stones and becks the name, which ought not to be communicate vnto any.

21 Moreouer, this was not ynough for the that they erred in knowledge of God: but where as they liued in great warres of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.

22 For either they slew their owne children in sacrifice, or vsed secret ceremonies, or raging dissolutenes by strange rites.

23 And so kept neither life nor marriage cleane: but either one slew another by treason, or els vexed him by adulterie.

- 24 So were all mixt together, blood & slaughter, theft and deceit, corruption, vnfaithfulness, tumultes, periurie,
- 25 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulness, defiling of soules, chāging of birth, disorder in mariage, adulterie and vncleannes.
- 26 For the worshipping of idoles that ought not to be named, is the beginning and the cause and the end of all euill.
- 27 For eyther they be mad when they be merie, or prophecies lyes, or liue vngodly, or els lightly forweare themselves.
- 28 For in so much as their trust is in the idoles, which haue no life, though they sweare falselie, yet they thinke to haue no hurt.
- 29 Therefore for two causes shall they iustlie be punished, because they haue an euill opinion of God, adding theselues vnto idols, and because they sweare vniuently to deceiue, and despise holines.
- 30 For it is not the power of them by whome they sweare, but the vengeance of them that sinne, which punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodlie.

CHAP. XV.

The voice of the faithful, praising the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

- 1 BUt thou, o our God, art gracious and true, long suffering, & gouernest all things by mercie.
- 2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine: for we knowe thy power: but we sinne not, knowing that we are counted thine.
- 3 For to knowe thee, is perfite righteousnes, and to knowe thy power is the roote of immortallitie.
- 4 For neither haue the wicked inuention of men deceiued vs, nor the vnprofitable labour of the painters, nor an image spotted with diuers colours.
- 5 Whose sight stirreth vp the desire of the ignorant, so that he couereth the forme that hath no life, of a dead image.
- 6 They that loue such wicked things, are worthy to haue such things to trust to, and they that make them, and they that desire them, and they that worship them.
- 7 The potter also tempereth soft earth, and facioneth euerie vessel with labour to our vse: but of the same clay he maketh both the vessels, that serue to cleane vses, and the contrarie likewise: but where to euerie vessel serueth, the potter is the iudge.
- 8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vaine god of the same claye: euen he, which a litle before was made of earth himself, and within a litle while after, goeth thither againe whence he was taken, when he shall make account for the lone of his life.
- 9 Notwithstanding he careth not for y labour he taketh, nor that his life is shorte, but he striueth w the goldsmithes, & siluer smithes, & counterfeiteth the copper smithes, & taketh it for an honour to make deceiuable things.
- 10 His heart is ashes, and his hope is more vile then earth, and his life is lesse worthy of honour then clay.
- 11 For he knoweth not his owne maker, that - gave him his soule, that had power and breathed in him the breath of life.

- 12 But they cost our life to be but a pastetime, & our conuersation as a market, where there is gaine: for they say we ought to be getting on euerie side, though it be by euil meanes.
- 13 Now he that of earth maketh fraile vessels and images, knoweth him selfe to offende aboue all other.
- 14 All the enemies of thy people, that holde them in subiection, are moſte vnwise, & more miserable then the very fooles.
- 15 For they iudge: all y idoles of the naciōs to be gods, w neither haue eye sight to see, nor noses to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers of hāds to grope, & their feete are slow to go.
- 16 For man made them, & he that hath but a borrowed spirit, facioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.
- 17 For seing he is but mortall him selfe, it is but mortall that he maketh w vnrighteous hāds: he himself is better then they whom he worshippeth: for he liued, but they neuer liued.
- 18 Yea, they worshipped beasts also, which are their most enemies, & which are the worst, if they be copared vnto others, because they haue none vnderstanding.
- 19 Neither haue they any beautie to be desired in respect of other beasts: for they are destitute of Gods praise, and of his blessing.

The punishment of idolatry: The benefite done vnto the faithful.

- 1 Therefore by such things they are worthily punished and tormented by the multitude of beasts.
- 2 In stead of the which punishment thou hast bene fauorable to thy people, and to satisfie their appetite, hast prepared a meate of a strange taste, euen quails.
- 3 To the intent that they shal desired meate, by the things which were sent wed & sent among them, might wſe away their necessarie desire, and that they, which had suffred penurie for a space, should also feele a new taste.
- 4 For it was requisite, that they which vsed tyrannie, should fall into extreme penurie, and that to these onely it should be shewed, how their enemies were tormented.
- 5 For when the cruel sercenes of the beasts came vpon them, & they were hurt with the stings of cruel serpents.
- 6 Thy wrath indured not perpetually, but they were troubled for a litle season, y they might be reformed hauing a signe of saluation, to remember y commandēt of thy law.
- 7 For he that turned toward it, was not healed by the thing that he lawe, but by thee, o Saviour of all.
- 8 So in this thou shewest our enemies, that it is thou, which deliuerest from all euil.
- 9 For the byting of grasshoppers and flies killed them, & there was no remedie found for their life: for they were worthy to be punished by such.
- 10 But y teeth of the venomous dragons, could not ouercome thy children: for thy mercie came to helpe them, and healed them.

21 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy words, & were speedily healed, least they should fall into so deepe forgetfulness, y they could not be called backe by thy benefite.

11 For neither herbe nor plaister healed them, but thy worde, o Lord, w healeth all things.

13 For thou hast the power of life and death, and ledest downe vnto the gates of hell, and bringest vp againe.

14 A man in deede by his wickednes may slaye another: but when the spirite is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither can he call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thine hand.

16 For the vngodly that would not know thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme, with strange raine and with haile, and were pursued with tempest, that they could not auoide, and were consumed with fire.

17 For it was a woderous thing that fyre might do more then water, which quencheth all things: but the worlde is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometime was the fire so tame, that the beasts, which were sent against the vngodlie, burnt not: and that, because they should see and know, that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt fyre in the middes of the water aboue the power of fire, y it might destroye the generation of the vniust land.

20 In the stead whereof thou hast fed thine owne people with Angels food, and sent them bread readie fro heauen without their labour, which had abundance of all pleasures in it and was meete for all tastes.

21 For thy sustenance declared thy sweetnes vnto thy children, which serued to the appetite of him, that rooke it, & was meete to that that euery man would.

22 Moreouer the snowe & yce abode the fire & melted not, that they might know, that the fire burning in the haile, & sparkeling in the raine, destroyed the fruite of the enemies.

23 Again it forgate his owne strength, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous: but it is easie to do good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore was it changed at the same time vnto all facios to serue thy grace, which nourisheth all things, according to the desire of them that had neede thereof,

26 That thy childre, whom thou lovest, o Lord, might knowe, that it is not the increase of frutes that feedeth men, but that it is thy worde, w preserueth them that trust in thee.

27 For that which could not be destroyed with the fire, being onely warmed a litle with the sunne beames, melted, 28 That it might be known y we ought to preuent y sunne rising to giue thanks vnto thee, and to salute thee before the day spring.

29 For the hope of the vnthankfull shall melt as the winter yce, and flowe away as vnprofitable waters.

1 For thy iudgements are great, and can not be expressed: therefore men do erre, that will not be reformed.

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thine holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bandes of darkenes, & long night, and being shut vp vnder the rooffe, did lie there to escape the euerlasting prouidēce.

3 And while they thought to be hid in their darke sinnes, they were scattered abroad in the darke couering of forgetfulness, fearing horribly and troubled with visions.

4 For the denne that hid them, kept them not from feare: but the foundes that were about them, troubled them, and terrible visions and sorowfull sights did appeare.

5 No power of the fire might giue light, neither might the cleare flames of the staries lighten the horrible night.

6 For there appeared vnto them only a suddē fire, verie dreadfull: so y being afraid of this visio, which they could not see, they thought the things, which they sawe, to be worse.

7 And the illusions of the magical artes were brought downe, and it was a most shamefull reproche for y boasting of their knowledge.

8 For they that promised to driue away feare and trouble from the sicke person, were sicke for feare, and worthy to be laughed at.

9 And though no fearefull thing did feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beasts which passed by them, and at the hyssing of the serpents: so that they dyed for feare, and said they sawe not the aire, which by no meanes can be auoied.

10 For it is a fearefull thing, when malice is condemned by her owne testimonie: and a conscience that is touched, doeth euer forecast cruel things.

11 For feare is nothing els, but a betraying of the succours, which reason offreth.

12 And the lesse that the hope is within, the more doeth he esteeme the ignorance of the thing, that tormenteth him, great.

13 But they that did endure the night that was intolerable, & y came out of the dungeon of hel, w is insupportable, slept the same sleepe, 14 And sometimes were troubled w monstrous visions, & sometime they swooned, as though their owne soule should betraye them: for a sudden feare not looked for, came vpon the.

15 And thus, whosoever fel down, he was kept and shut in prison, but without chaines.

16 For whether he was an husband man, or a shepheard, or one that was set to work alone, if he were taken, he must suffer this necessitie, that he could not auoide:

17 (For with one chaine of darkenesse were they all bound) whether it were an hyssing winde, or a sweete song of the birds among the thicke branches of the trees, or the hemencie of hastie running water,

18 Or a great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the running of skipping beastes, that could not be seene, or the noyse of cruel beastes, that roared, or the sounde that answered.

- 19 For all the worlde shined with cleare light, and no man was hindred in his labour.
20 Onely vpo them there fell an heauy night, an image of that darkenes that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto themselues more greivous then darkenes.

2 And because they did not hurt them, which did hurt them afore, they thanked them, & asked pardon for their enimitie,

- 3 * Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to leade them in the vknown way, and madest the sunne that it hurted not them in their honourable iourney.

- 4 But they were worthy to be depriued of the light, and to be kept in darkenes, w had kept thy children shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt light of y Law should be giuen to the world.

Exod. 1. 16.

- 5 * Where as they thought to slay y babes of the Saintes, by one child that was cast out, & preserued to prouee them, thou hast taken away the multitude of their children & destroyed the all together in y mightie water.

- 6 Or y night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credit, might be of good chere.

Exod. 14. 24.

- 7 Thus thy * people receiued y health of the righteous, but the enemies were destroyed.

- 8 For as thou hast punished the enemies, so hast thou glorified vs whom thou hast called.

- 9 For the righteous childre of the good men offred secretly, & made a Lawe of righteoufnes by one consent, that the Saintes shoulde receiue good and euill in like maner, and that the fathers should first sing praises.

- 10 But a disagreeing price was heard of the enemies, and there was a lamentable noyse for the children that were bewailed.

Exod. 11. 5.

- 11 For the * master and the seruant were punished with like punishment, and the common people suffred alike with the King.

- 12 So they all together had innumerable that died with one kind of death: neither were the liuing sufficient to bury them: for in the twinkling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

- 13 So they that could beleue nothing, because of the enchantements; confessed this people to be the children of God, in the destruction of the first borne:

- 14 For while all things were in quiet silence, &
y night was in y middes of her swift course,

- 15 Thine almighty worde leapt downe from heauen out of thy royal throne, as a fierce man of warre in the middes of the land that was destroyed,

- 16 And brought thine vnfaigned comandemēt as a sharpe sword, and stode vp, & filled all things with death, and being come downe to the earth, it reached vnto the heauens.

- 17 Then the fight of the fearefull dreames vexed them suddenly, and fearefulnes came vpon them vnawares.

- 18 Then laye there one here, another there halfe dead, & shewed the cause of his death.

- 19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed them these things afore: so that they were not ignorant, wherefore they perished.

- 20 Now tentation of death touched the righteous also, and * among the multitude in the wilderness there was a plague, but the wrath indured not long.

- 21 For the blameles man made haste, and defended them, and tooke the weapons of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation by the perfume, & set himself against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an end, declaring that he was thy seruant.

- 22 For he ouercame not the multitude with bodily power, nor with force of weapons, but with the worde he subdued him that punished, alleading the othes and couenant made vnto the fathers.

- 23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stode in the middes, and cut of the wrath, and parted it from comming to the liuing.

Exod. 14. 21.

- 24 * For in the long garment was all the ornament, & in the foure rowes of the stones was the glorie of the fathers grauen with thy maiestie in the diademe of his head.

- 25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, & was afraid of them: for it was sufficient, that they had casted the wrath.

CHAP. XIX.

*The death of the Egyptians, & the great ioye of the Hebrewes.
11 The meat that was giuen at the desire of the people.
17 All the elements serue to the will of God.*

- 1 AS for the yngodlie, the wrath came vpon them without mercie vnto the ende: for he knew what should come vnto them,

- 2 That they (when they had consented to let them go, & had sent them out with diligēce) would repent, and pursue them.

- 3 For while yet forow was before them, and they lamēted by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolshnes, so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whome they had cast out afore with prayer.

- 4 For y destenie, whereof they were worthy, brought them to this ende, and caused them to forget the things that had come to passe, that they might accomplish the punishment,
which remained by tormentes,

- 5 Both that thy people might trie a marueilous passage, and that these might finde a strange death.

- 6 For euery creature in his kind was facio-ned of newe, & serued in their owne offices injoynd them, that thy children might be kept without hurt.

- 7 For the cloude ouershadowed their tentes, and the drye earth appeared, where afore was water: so that in the red sea there was a waye without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene fildes.

- 8 Through the which al the people went that were defended with thine hand, seeing thy wonderous maruiles.
- 9 For they neyed like hofes, and leaped like lambes, praying thee, O Lord, which haddest deliuered them.
- 10 For they were yet mindeful of those things which were done in the lande where they dwelt, howe the ground brought forth fleyes in steade of cattell, and how the riuer scruled with the multitude of frogges in steade of filhes.
- 11 * But at the last they sawe a newe generation of birdes, when they were intiled with lust, and desired delicate meates.
- 12 * For the quails came forth of the sea vnto them for comfort, but punishments came vpon the sinners not without signes that were giuen by great thundrings: for they suffred worthily according to their wickednes, because they shewed a cruell hatred toward strangers.
- 13 For the one sort would not receiue them when they were present, because they knewe them not: the other sort brought the strangers into bondage that had done the good.
- 14 Beside all these things some would not suffer, that any regard should be had of them: for they handeled the strangers despisefully.
- 15 Others that had receiued them with great banketing, and admitted them to be partakers of the same lawes, did afflict them with great labours.
- 16 Therefore they were stricke with blindnes, as in olde time certeine were at the dootes of the * righteous, so that euery one being compassed with darkenes, sought the entrance of his doore.
- 17 Thus the elements agreed among them selues in this change, as when one tune is changed vpon an instrument of musike, and the melodie stil remaineth, which may easely be perceiued by the sight of the things that are come to passe.
- 18 For the things of the earth were changed into things of the water, and the thing that did swimme, went vpon the ground.
- 19 The fire had power in the water contrarie vnto his owne vertue, and the water forgate his owne kinde to quench.
- 20 Againe, the flames did not hurt the flesh of the corruptible beastes, that walked therein, neither melted they that which seemed to be yce, and was of a nature that would melt, and yet was an immortall meate.
- 21 For in all things, O Lord, thou hast magnified and glorified thy people, & hast not despised to assist them in euery time & place.

God assisteth bin at all times and in all places.

THE WISDOME OF

Iesus the sonne of Sirach, called Ecclesiasticus.

This argument was founde in a certaine Greeke copie.

THis Iesus was the sonne of Sirach, and Sirachs father was also called Iesus, and he liued in the latter times, after the people had bene led away captiue, and brought home againe, and almost after all the Prophets. Nowe his grandfather, as he himselfe witnesseth, was a man of great diligence, and wisdom among the Hebrewes, who did not onely gather the grane sentences of wise men, that had bene before him, but he himselfe also spake many full of great knowledge and wisdom. So this first Iesus dyed, and left this which he had gathered, and Sirach afterward left it to Iesus his sonne, who tooke it and put it in order in a booke, and called it WISDOME, intituling it both by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers: thinking by this title of Wisdom to allure the reader to read this booke with more great desire, and to consider it more diligently. Therefore this booke containeth wise sayings, and darke sentences, and similitudes with certeine diuine histories which are notable and ancient, even of men that were approved of God, by certeine prayers, and songs of the authour him self: moreover, what benefites the Lord had bestowed vpon his people, and what plagues he had heaped vpon their enemies. This Iesus did imitate Salomon, and was no lesse famous in wisdom and doctrine, who was therefore called a man of great knowledge, as he was in deeds.

The prologue of the wisdom of Iesus the Sonne of Sirach.

WHere as many, and great things haue bene giuen vs by the Law, & the Prophets, and by others that haue followed them, (for the which thinges Israel ought to be commended by the reason of doctrine and wisdom, whereby the readers ought not onely to become learned themselves, but also may be able by the diligent studie thereof to be profitable vnto strangers both by speaking and writing) after that my grandfather Iesus had giuen him selfe to the reading of the Lawe, and the Prophets, and other bookes of our fathers, and had gotten therein sufficient iudgement, he purposed also to write some thing pertaining to learning and wisdom, to the intent that they which were desirous to learne, and would giue them selues to these things, might profite much more in liuing according to the Lawe. Wherefore, I exhorte you to receiue it louingly, and to reade it with diligence, & to take it in good worth, though we seeme to some in some things not able to attaine to the interpretation of such wordes as are hard to be expressed: for the things that are spoken in the Hebrew tongue, haue another force in theselues then when they are translated into another tongue, and not onely these thinges, but other things also, as the Lawe it selfe, and the Prophets, and other bookes haue no small difference when they are spoken in their owne language. Therefore in the eight and thirtieth yere, when I came into Egypt vnder King Euergetes, and continued there, I found a copie full of great learning, and I thought it necessarie, to bestowe my diligence, and traucile to interpret this booke. So for a certaine time with great watching and studie I gaue my self to the finishing of this booke, that it might be published, that they which remaine in banishment, and are desirous to learne, might applie the felues vnto good maners, and liue according to the Lawe.

F fff iiii. bookes

9. He is the Lord, that hath created her [ thorowe the holy Ghost: ] he hath seene her, numbred her, [ and measured her. ]

10. He hath powred her out vpon al his works, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift, & giueth her abundantly vnto them y loue him.

11. The feare of the Lord is glorie, & gladnes, and reioycing, and a ioyfull crowne.

12. The feare of the Lord maketh a mery heart, and giueth gladnes, and ioy and long life.

v. 28.

13. Who so feareth the Lord, it shal go wel with him at the last, and he shall finde fauour in the day of his death.

14. [ The loue of God is honourable wisdomme, and vnto whom it appeareth in a vision, they loue it for the vision, and for the knowledge of the great workes thereof. ]

15. * The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisdomme, and was made with the faithfull in the wombe: [ the goeth with the chosen women, and is knowen with the righteous and faithfull. ]

16. The feare of y Lord is an holy knowledge.

17. Holines shall preserue, & iustifie the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnes.

18. Who so feareth the Lord, shall prosper, and in the day of his end, he shalbe blessed.

19. She hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, & is giuen to be with their seede.

20. To feare God is the fulnes of wisdomme, and filleth men with her fruites.

21. She filleth their whole house w [ all ] things desireable, and the garners with the things, that she bringeth forth, and both twaine are gifts of God.

22. The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisdomme, and giueth peace and perfit health: she hath seene her and numbred her.

23. * She rayneth down knowledge, and vnderstanding of wisdomme, and hath brought vnto honour, them that possessed her.

Or, wisdomme

24. The feare of the Lord is y roote of wisdomme, and her branches are long life.

25. [ In the treasures of wisdomme is vnderstanding, and holy knowledge, but wisdomme is abhorred of sinners. ]

26. The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne: & when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27. * For wicked anger can not be iustified for his rashnes in his anger shalbe his destruction.

29. He will hide his wordes for a time, & many mens lippes shall speake of his wisdomme.

30. In the treasures of wisdomme are the secrets of knowledge, but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31. If thou desire wisdomme, keepe the commandements, and the Lord shall giue her vnto thee, [ and will fill her treasures. ]

32. For y feare of the Lord is wisdomme & discipline: he hath pleasure in faith & meekenes.

33. Be not disobedient to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34. * Be not an hypocrite that men shoulde speake of thee, but take heede what thou speakest.

35. Exalt not thy selfe, least thou fall and bring thy soule to dishonour, and so God discouer thy secretes, and cast thee down in y middes of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the true feare of God, and thine heart is full of deceite.

CHAP. II.

1. He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousness, loue, vnderstanding, and patience. 11. To trust in the Lord. 19. A curse vpon them that are faine hearted and impatient.

1. My sonne, if thou wilt come into the seruice of God, [ stand fast in righteousness and feare, & ] prepare thy soule to tentation.

2. Settle thine heart, and be patient: [ bowe downe thine eare, and receiue the wordes of vnderstanding, ] and shrinke not awaye, when thou art assailed, [ but waite vpon God patiently. ]

7 Ye that feare the Lord, waite for his mercy:
 ſhrinke not away from him that ye fall not.

8 Ye that feare the Lord, beleeue him, & your reward ſhall not faile.

9 O ye ſeare the Lord, truſt in good things;
 and in the euerlaſting ioye and mercie.

10 [ Ye that feare the Lord, loue him, & your hearts ſhalbe lightned.]

11 Conſider the old generations [ of men, ye children, ] and marke them wel: * was there euer any cōfounded, that put his truſt in the Lord? or who hath continued in his feare, and was forſaken? or whom did he euer deſpiſe, that called vpon him?

12 For God is gracious and mercifull, and for-giueth finnes, and ſaueth in the time of trouble, [ and is a defender for al them that ſeeke him in the trueth.]

13 Wo vnto them, that haue a fearfull heart,
 [ and to the wicked lippes ] and to the faint hands, and to the ſinner that goeth two* manner of waies.

14 Wo vnto him y is faint hearted, for he bele-ueth not: therefore ſhal he not be defended.

15 Wo vnto you that haue loſt pacience, [ and haue forſaken the right wayes, and are turned backe into frowarde wayes: ] for what will ye do when the Lord ſhall viſit you?

16 They that feare the Lord, will not diſobey his word: and they that loue him, will keepe his waies.

17 They that feare the Lord, will ſeeke out the things that are pleaſant vnto him: and they that loue him, ſhall be fulfilled with his Law.

18 They that feare the Lord, will prepare their hearts, and humble their ſoules in his ſight.

19 [ They that feare y Lord, keepe his cōmandements, & will be patient till he ſee them, the hands of the Lorde, and not into the hands of men.

21 Yet as his greatneſſe is, ſo is his mercie.

CHAP. III.

To our father and mother, ought we to giue double honour, 10
 Of the bleſſing and curſe of the father and mother, 22
 No man ought ouer curioſly to ſearch out the ſecrets of God.

1 [ The children of wiſdome are the Church of the righteous, and their offspring is obedience and loue.]

2 Heare your fathers iudgement, o children, and do thereafter, that ye may be ſafe.

3 For the Lord wil haue the father honoured of the children, and hath confirmed the au-thoritie of the mother ouer the children.

4 Who ſo honoureth his father, his finnes ſhal be forgiven him, [ and he ſhall abſtaine from them, and ſhall haue his daily deſires.]

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treaſure.

6 Who ſo honoureth his father, ſhal haue ſoy of his owne children, and when he maketh his prayer, he ſhalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, ſhal haue a long life, and he that is obedient vnto the Lord, ſhall comfort his mother.

8 He that ſeareth the Lorde, honoureth his parents, and doeth ſeruice vnto his parents;
 as vnto lords:

9 * Honour thy father and mother in deede and in worde [ and in all pacience, ] that thou maiſt haue Gods bleſſing, [ and that his bleſſing may abide with thee in the end.]

10 For the bleſſing of the father eſtabliſheth the houſes of the children, and the mothers curſe rooteth out the foundations.

11 Reioyce not at the diſhonour of thy father:
 for it is not honour vnto thee, but ſhame.

12 Seeing that mans glorie commeth by his fathers honour, and the reproche of the mother is diſhonour to the children,

13 My ſonne, helpe thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderſtanding faile, haue pa-cience with him, and deſpiſe him not when thou art in thy full ſtrength;

15 For y good intreatie of thy father ſhall not be forgottē, but it ſhalbe a ſortreſſe for thee againſt finnes, [ & for thy mothers offence y ſhalt be recompensed with good, and it ſhall be founded for thee in righteouſnes.]

16 And in the day of trouble thou ſhalt be remembered: thy finnes alſo ſhall melt away as the yce in the faire weather.

17 He that forſaketh his father, ſhall come to ſhame, and he that angreth his mother, is curſed of God.

18 ¶ My ſonne, perſorme thy doings with meekeneſſe, ſo ſhalt thou be beloued of them that are approued.

19 The greater thou art, the more humble thy ſelfe [ in all things, ] and thou ſhalt finde fauour before the Lord.

20 Many are excellent and of renoume; but the ſecretes are reuiled vnto the meeke.

21 For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly,

22 * Seeke not out the things that are to hard for thee, neither ſearch the things raſhly which are to mightie for thee.

23 [ But ] what [ God ] hath commanded thee, thinke vpon that with reuerence, [ and be not curious in many of his workes: ] for it is not needefull for thee to ſee with thine eyes the things that are ſecret.

24 Be not curious in ſuperfluous things: for many things are ſhewed vnto thee aboue the capacite of men.

25 The meddling with ſuch hath beguiled manie, and an euill opinion hath deceived their iudgement.

26 Thou canſt not ſee without eyes: profeſſe not the knowledge therfore y thou haſt not.

27 A ſtubberne heart ſhal ſare euil at y laſt: &
 he that loweth danger, ſhall periſh therein.

28 An heart y goeth two wayes, ſhall not proſ-per: and he that is frowarde of heart, ſhall ſtumble therein.

29 An obſtinate heart ſhall be laden with ſo-rowes: and the wicked man ſhal heape ſinne vpon ſinne.

 remedie,

- 32 [An heart that is wise and vnderstanding, will abstaine from sinne, and shall prosper in the workes of righteousness.]

CHAP. IIII.

Almes must be done with gentleness. 12 The studie of wisdom and her fruits. 20 An exhortation to eschewe euill, and to doe good.

- 1 MY sonne, defraude not the poore of his liuing, and make not the needy eyes to waite long.
- 2 Make not an hungrie soule forowfull, neither vex a man in his necessitie.
- 3 Trouble not the heart that is grieved, and deferre not the gift of the needie.
- 4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble: turne not away thy face from y<sup>e</sup> poore.
- 5 Turne not thine eyes aside [in anger] from the poore, and giue him none occasion to speake euill of thee.
- 6 For if he cutte thee in the bitterness of his soule, his prayer shall be heard of him that made him.
- 7 Be courteous vnto the companie of poore, and humble thy soule vnto the Elder, & bowe downe thine head to a man of worship.
- 8 Let it not grieue thee to bowe downe thine care vnto the poore, but pay thy dette, and giue him a friendly answer.
- 9 Deliuier him that suffreth wrong, from the hand of the oppressour, & be not saynt hearted * when thou iudgest.

\ Or, so defend him.*

- 10 Be as a father vnto the fatherles, and as an husband vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as the sonne of the moste High: and he shall loue thee more then thy mother doeth.
- 11 Wisdom exalteth her children, and receiuet them that seeke her, [and will go before them in the waye of righteousness.]
- 12 He that loueth her, loueth life, & they that seeke life in y<sup>e</sup> morning, shall haue great ioye.
- 13 He that keepeth her, shall inherit glorie: for vnto whom she stretcheth him, y<sup>e</sup> Lord will blesse.
- 14 They that honour her, shall be the seruantes of the Holie one, & them that loue her, the Lord doeth loue.
- 15 Who so giueth care vnto her, shall iudge the nations, and he that goeth vnto her, shall dwell safelye.
- 16 He that is faithful vnto her, shall haue her in possession, & his generatiō shall possesse her.
- 17 For first she wil walke with him by crooked wayes, and bring him vnto feare, and dread, and torment him with her discipline vntill she haue tryed his soule, and haue proued him by her iudgements.
- 18 Then wil she returne the streight way vnto him, and comfort him, & shew him her secrets,

[and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousness.]

- 19 But if he go wrong, she will forsake him, and giue him ouer into y<sup>e</sup> hands of his destructiō.
- 20 [¶ My sonne,] * make much of time, and eschew the thing that is euill.
- 21 And be not ashamed [to say y<sup>e</sup> trueth] for thy life: for there is a shame y<sup>e</sup> bringeth sinne, & a shame that bringeth worship and fauour.
- 22 Accept no person against thine owne conscience, that thou be not cōfounded to thine owne decay, [and forbear not thy neighbour in his faute.]
- 23 And keepe not backe counsell when it may doe good, neither hide thy wisdom when it may be famous.
- 24 For by the talke is wisdom knowne, and learning by the words of the tongue, [and counsell, wisdom & learning by the talking of the wise, and stedfastnes in the workes of righteousness.]
- 25 In no wise speake against y<sup>e</sup> word of trueth, but be ashamed of the lies of thine owne ignorance.
- 26 Be not ashamed to confesse thy finnes, and resist not the counsell of the riuer.
- 27 Submit not thy self vnto a foolish man, neither accept the person of the mightie.
- 28 Strive for the trueth vnto death, [and defend iustice for thy life,] and the Lord God shall fight for thee [against thine enemies].
- 29 Be not hasty in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.
- 30 Be not as a lyon in thine owne house, neither beate thy seruants for thy fantasie, [nor oppresse them that are vnder thee.]
- 31 Let not thine hande be stretched out to receiue, and shew when thou shouldst giue.

CHAP. V.

In riches may we not put any confidence. 2 The vengeance of God ought to be feared, & repentance may not be deferred.

- 1 TRUST not vnto thy riches, and say not, I haue ynough for my life: [for thou shalt not helpe in y<sup>e</sup> time of vengeance & indignatiō.]
- 2 Follow not thine own minde & thy strength to walke in the waies of thine heart:
- 3 Neither say thou, [How haue I had strength?] or who will bring me vnder for my workes? for God the auenger will reuenge the wrong done by thee.
- 4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euill hath come vnto me for the Almighty is a patient rewarder, but he will not leaue thee unpunished.
- 5 Because thy sinne is forgiven, be not without feare, to heape sinne vpon sinne.
- 6 And say not, The mercie of God is great he will forgive my manifold finnes: for mercie and wrath come from him, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners.
- 7 Make no taryng to turne vnto the Lord, & put not of from day to day: for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord breake forth, & in thy securitie thou shalt be destroyed, and thou shalt perish in time of vengeance.
- 8 Trust not in wicked riches: for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment [ & vengeance.]

- 9 Be not caryed about with euery winde, and go not into euery waye: for so doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.
- 10 Stand fast in thy sure vnderstanding [and in the waye and knowledge of the Lord] and haue but one manner of worde, [and followe the worde of peace and righteousnes.
- 11 Be humble to heare the worde of God, that thou mayst vnderstand it, and make a true answer with wisdom.]
- 12 Be swift to heare good things, and let thy life be pure, and giue a pacient answer.
- 13 If thou hast vnderstanding, answer thy neighbour: if not, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth, [least thou be trapped in an vndiscere worde, and so be blamed.]
- 14 Honour and shame is in the talke, and the tongue of a man causeth him to fall.
- 15 Be not counted a talebearer, and lie not in waite with thy tongue: for shame [and repentance] followe the thiefe, and an euill condemnation is ouer him that is double tongued: [but he that is a backbiter, shall be hated, enuied and confounded.]
- 16 Do not rashly, neither in small things nor in great.

CHAP. VI.

It is the propertie of a sinner to be euill tongue. 6 Offend. ship. 23. Desire to be taught.

- 1 BE not of a friend [thy neighbours] enemy: for such shall haue an euill name, shame & reproche: & he shal be in infamie as the wicked that hath a double tongue.
- 2 Be not proude in the deuce of thine owne minde, least thy soule rent thee as a bull.
- 3 And eate vp thy leaues, and destroye thy fruite, and so thou be left as a drie tree [in the wilderness.]
- 4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, and maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enemies, [and bringeth him to y<sup>e</sup> portion of the vngodlie.]
- 5 A sweete talke multiplieth the friends [and pacieth them y<sup>e</sup> be at variance,] and a sweete tongue increaseth much good talke.
- 6 Holde friendship with many, neuertheles haue but one counseler of a thousand.
- 7 If thou gettest a friend, proue him first, and be not hastie to credit him.
- 8 For some man is a friend for his own occasion, & will not abide in y<sup>e</sup> day of thy trouble.
- 9 And there is some friende that turneth to enemie, and taketh part against thee, and in contention he will declare thy shame.
- 10 Again some friend is but a companion at the table, and in the day of thine affliction he continueth not.
- 11 But in thy prosperitie he wilbe as thou thy selfe, and will vse libertie ouer thy seruants.
- 12 If thou be brought lowe, he will be against thee, and will hide him selfe from thy face.
- 13 Depart from thine enemies, and beware of thy friends.
- 14 A faithfull friend is a strong defence, and he that findeth such one, findeth a treasure.
- 15 A faithfull friend ought not to be changed for any thing, and the weight [of golde and silver] is not to be compared to the goodnesse [of his faith.]

- 16 A faithfull friend is the medicine of life [ & immortalitie, ] & they that feare the Lorde, shall finde him.
- 17 Who so feareth the Lorde, shall direct his friendship aright, and as his owne selfe, so shall his friend be.
- 18 ¶ My sonne, receiue doctrine fro thy youth vp: so shalt thou finde wisdom [ which shall indure ] till thine olde age.
- 19 Go to her as one that ploweth, and soweth, and waite for her good fruits: for thou shalt haue but litle labour in her worke: but thou shalt eate of her fruites right soone.
- 20 How exceeding sharpe is she to the vnlearned: he that is without iudgement, will not remaine with her.
- 21 Vnto such one she is as a fine touchestone, and he casteth her from him without delay.
- 22 For they haue the name of wisdom, but there be but fewe that haue the knowledge of her.
- 23 [ For with them that know her, she abideth vnto the appearing of God. ]
- 24 Giue care, my sonne: receiue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell,
- 25 And put thy feete into her linkes, and thy necke into her chaine.
- 26 Bow downe thy shoulder vnto her, & beare her, and be not wearie of her bandes.
- 27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power,
- 28 Seeke after her, and search her, and she shal be shewed thee: and when thou hast gotten her, forsake her not.
- 29 For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, & that shalbe turned to thy ioye.
- 30 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, [ and a sure foundation ] and her chaines a glorious raiment.
- 31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bandes are the laces of purple colour,
- 32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her vpon thee, as a crowne of ioye.
- 33 My sonne, if thou wilt, thou shalt be taught, and if thou wilt applie thy minde, thou shalt be wittie.
- 34 If thou loue to heare, thou shalt receiue [ doctrine, ] and if thou delight in hearing, thou shalt be wise.
- 35 Stand with the multitude of the elders, & are wise, and ioine with him that is wise.
- 36 * Desire to heare all godly talke, & let not y<sup>e</sup> graue sentences of knowledge escape thee.
- 37 And if thou seekest a man of vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto him, and let thy foote weare the steppes of his doores.
- 38 Let thy minde be vpon the ordinances of the Lorde, and be continually occupied in his commandements: so shall hee stablish the thine heart, and giue thee wisdom at thine owne desire.

CHAP. VII.

- 2 Depart from the thing that is wicked, and sinne shall turne away from thee.
- 3 My sonne, sowe not vpon the forowes of vn-righteousnes, least that thou reape them seuen fold.
- 4 Aske not of the Lord preeminence, neither of the King the seate of honour.
- 5 * Iustifie not thy selfe before the Lord: [for he knoweth thine heart,] and boast not thy wisdom in the presence of the King.
- 6 Seeke not to be made a iudge, least thou be notable to take away iniquitie, & least thou, fearing the person of the mightie, shouldest commit an offence against thine vprightnes.
- 7 Offend not against the multitude of a citie, and cast not thy selfe among the people.
- 8 * Binde not two sinnes together: for in one sinne shalt thou not be vnpunished.
- 9 Say not, God will looke vpon the multitude of mine oblations, and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept it.
- 10 Be not saint hearted, when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.
- 11 Laugh no man to scorne in the heauines of his soule: for [God which seeth all things] is he * that can bring down, & set vp againe.
- 12 Sow not a lie against thy brother, neither do the same against thy friend.
- 13 Vie not to make any manner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.
- 14 Make not many wordes when thou art among the Elders, neither repeate a thing in thy prayer.
- 15 Hate not laborious worke, neither the husbandrie, which the most High hath created.
- 16 Number not thy selfe in the multitude of the wicked, but remember that vengeance wil not slacke.
- 17 Humble thy minde greatly: for the vengeance of the wicked is fire and wormes.
- 18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy true brother for the golde of Ophir.
- 19 Depart not from a wife and good woman, [that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in y<sup>e</sup> feare of y<sup>e</sup> Lord:] for her grace is aboue gold.
- 20 * Where as thy seruant worketh truly, intreate him not euill, nor the hierling that bestowed himselfe wholly for thee.
- 21 Let thy soule loue a good seruant, and defraude him not of libertie, [neither leaue him a poore man.]
- 22 * If thou haue cattell, looke well to them, & if they be for thy profite, keepe the wth thee.
- 23 If thou haue sonnes, instruct them, & holde their necke from their youth.
- 24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their bodie, and shew not thy face cheerefull toward the.
- 25 Marrie thy daughter, and so shalt thou per-forme a weightie matter: but giue her to a man of understanding.
- 26 If thou haue a wife after thy minde, forsake her not, comit not thy selfe to the hateful.
- 27 * Honour thy father from thy whole heart, and forget not the forowes of thy mother.
- 28 Remember that thou wast borne of them, and how canst thou recompence them the things that they haue done for thee?
- 29 * Feare the Lorde with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

- 30 Loue him that made thee, with all thy strength, * and forsake not his seruants.
- 31 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour the Priests, * & giue the their portion, as it is commanded thee, the first frutes, [ & purifications] and sacrifices for sinne, & the of-frings of y<sup>e</sup> shoulders, & the sacrifices of sancti-fication, & the first frutes of y<sup>e</sup> holy things.
- 32 Stretch thine hand vnto the poore that thy blessing, [and reconciliation] may be ac-complished.
- 33 Liberalitie pleaseth all men living, & * from the dead restraine in nor.
- 34 * Lernot them that weepe, be without [co-fort:] but moune with such as mourne.
- 35 * Be not slow to visite the sicke: for that shal make thee to be beloued.
- 36 Whatsoener thou takest in hand, remember the Lord, and thou shalt neuer do amiss.

CHAP. VIII.

- 1 STriue not with a mightie man, least thou fall into his hands.
- 2 * Make not variance with a rich man; least he on the other side weigh down thy weight: * for golde [and siluer] hath destroyed many and hath subuerted the hearts of Kings.
- 3 Striue not with a man that is full of words, and lay no stickes vpon his fire.
- 4 Playe not with a man that is vntaught, least thy kindred be dishonoured.
- 5 * Despise not a man: that turneth himselfe away from sinne, nor cast him not in y<sup>e</sup> teeth withall, but remember that we are all worthy blame.
- 6 * Dishonour not a man in his olde age: for they were as we which are not olde.
- 7 Be not glad of the death of thine enemy, but remember that we must die all; [and so enter into ioye.]
- 8 * Despise not y<sup>e</sup> exhortation of the [Elders] that be wise, but acquaint thy selfe with their wise sentences: for of them thou shalt learne wisdom, [and the doctrine of vnderstand-ing,] and how to serue great men [without complaint.]
- 9 Go not from the doctrine of the Elders: for they haue leaured it of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, and to make answer in the time of neede.
- 10 Kindle not the coles of sinners, [when thou rebukest them,] least thou be burnt in the syrie flames [of their sinnes.]
- 11 Rise not vp against him that doeth wrong, that he lay not waite as a spie for thy mouth.
- 12 * Lend not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: for if thou lendest him, count it burdost.
- 13 Be not suretie about thy power: for if thou be suretie, thinke to paye it.
- 14 Go not to lawe with the Iudge: for they will giue sentence according to his own honour.
- 15 * Trauaile not by the way with him that is rash, least he do thee iniurie: for he followeth his owne wilfulnes, and so shalt thou perishe through his folie.

Of ialousie. 18 An old friend is to be preferred before a new. 19 Righteous men should be bolden in thy table.

1 BE not ielous ouer thy wife of thy bosome, neither teache her by thy means an euil lesson.

2 Giue not thy life vnto a woman, least shee ouertome thy strength, [and so thou be confounded.]

3 Meete not an harlot, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Vfe not the companie of a woman that is a singer, [& a dancer, neither heare her,] least thou be taken by her craftines.

5 Gaze not on a * maide, that thou fall not by that that is precious in her.

6 Cast not thy minde vpon harlots [in any manner of thing,] least thou destroy [both thy selfe and] thine heritage.

7 Go not about gazing in the streetes of the cite, neither wander thou in the secrete places thereof.

8 * Turne away thine eye fro a beautiful woman, and looke not vpon others beautie: for many * haue perished by the beautie of women: for through it loue is kindled as a fyre.

9 [Euerie woman that is an harlot, shall be troden vnder foote as dongue, of euerie one that goeth by the way.]

10 Manie wōdering at the beautie of a strange woman, haue bene cast downe for her wordes burne as a fyre.

11 Sit not at all with another mans wife, [neither lie with her vpo the bed,] nor banquet w her, lest thine heart incline vnto her, and so through thy desire fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde friend: for the newe shal not be like him: a newe friend is as new wine: when it is olde, thou shalt drinke it with pleasure.

13 * Desire not the honour [& riches] of a sinner: for y knowest not what shal be his end.

14 Delite not in the thing that the vngōdlike haue pleasure in, but remēber that they shall not be founde iust vnto their graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slaye: so shalt thou not doubt the feare of death: and if thou come vnto him, make no fauor, lest he take away thy life: remēber that thou goest in the middes of snaires, and that thou walkest vpon the rowes of the cite.

16 Trye thy neighbour as thou canst, * and aske counsell of the wise.

17 Let thy talke be with the wise, & al thy communication in the Lawe of the most High.

18 Let iust men eate & drinke with thee, & let thy reioying be in the feare of the Lord.

19 In the hands of the craftsmen shall the workes be commended, and the wise prince of the people by his word, and the word by the wisdom of the Elders.

20 A man full of words is dangerous in his cite, and he y is rash in his talking shal be hated.

CHAP. X.

Of Kings and iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnes are to be abhorred. 21 Labour is praised. 22 The beginning of pride.

1 A Wise iudge wil instructe his people with discretion: the gouernance of a prudent man is well ordered.

2 As the iudge of the people is himselfe, so are his officers, and what manner of man the ruler of the cite is, such are al they that dwell therein.

3 * An vnwise King destroyeth his people, but where they that be in authoritie, are men of vnderstanding, there the cite prospereth.

4 The gouernemet of the earth is in y hand of the Lord, [and all iniquitie of the nation is to be abhorred,] and when time is, he will set vp a profitable ruler ouer it.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of mā, and vpon the scribes will he laye his honour.

6 * Be not angrie for any wise, w thy neighbour, and do nothing by inuious praefises.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, and by both doeth one commit iniquitie.

8 * Because of vnrighteous dealing & wrongs and riches gotten by deceipt, the kingdome is translatred from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a couetous man: [why art thou proude, & earth & ashes? there is not a more wicked thing,] then to loue money: for such one would euensel his soule, and for his life euery one is compelled to pull out his owne bowels.

10 [All tyrannie is of small indurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, is grievous to the physition.]

11 The physition cutteth of the fore disease, & he that is to day a King, to morowe is dead.

12 Why is earth and ashes proude, seeing that when a man dyeth, he is yne of serpents, beastes and wormes?

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fal away from God, and to turne away his heart from his maker.

14 For pride is the original of sinne, & he that hath it, shal powre out abomination, til at last he be ouerthrowen: therefore the Lord bringeth the perswasions [of y wicked] to dishonour, and destroyeth them in the end.

15 The Lord hath cast downe the thrones of the [proude] princes, and set vp the meeke in their steade.

16 The Lord plucketh vp the rootes of the [proude] nations, and planteth the lowlie with glorie among them.

17 The Lord ouerthroweth the lands of y heathen, & destroyeth them vnto the foundations of the earth: he causeth the to wither away, and destroyeth them, and maketh their memoriall to cease out of the earth.

18 [God destroyeth the memoriall of the proude, and leaueth the remembrance of the humble.]

the beginning of pride.

- 19 Pride was not created in men, neither wrath in the generation of women.
- 20 There is a seede of man, which is an honorable seede: the honorable seede are they that feare the Lord: there is a seede of man, which is without honour: the seede without honour, are they that transgresse the commandements of the Lorde: it is a seede that remaineth which feareth the Lorde, and a faire plant, y<sup>e</sup> loue him: but they are a seede without honour, that despise the Lawe, and a decciueable seede that breake the commandements.
- 21 He that is the chiefe among brethren, is honourable: so are they that feare the Lord in his sight.
- 22 The feare of the Lord causeth that y<sup>e</sup> kingdome faileth not, but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pride.
- 23 The feare of the Lord is the glorie a wel of the riche and the noble, as of the poore.
- 24 It is not meete to despise the poore man y<sup>e</sup> hath vnderstanding, neither is it conuenient to magnifie the rich that is a wicked man.
- 25 The great man & the iudge and the man of authoritie, are honourable, yet is there none of them greater, the he that feareth y<sup>e</sup> Lord.
- 26 Vnto the seruant that is wise, that they that are free, do seruite: be y<sup>e</sup> hath knowledge, will not grudge when he is reformed, [and the ignorant shall not come to honour.]
- 27 Seeke not excuses when thou shouldest do thy worke, neither bee ashamed thereof through pride in the time of aduersitie.
- 28 Better is he that laboureth and hath plentifulles of all things, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread.
- 29 My sonne, get thy selfe praye by meekenes, and esteeme thy selfe as thou deseruest.
- 30 Who wil count him iust that sinneth against himselfe? or honour him, that dishonoureth his owne soule?
- 31 The poore is honoured for his knowledge [and his feare,] but the riche is had in reputation because of his goods.
- 32 He that is honourable in pouertie, howe much more shall he be when he is rich? and he that is vaine glorie being riche, howe much more will he be so when he is in pouertie?

The praise of Humilitie. After the inward appearance oughte we to iudge. Of vaine iudgement. All things come of God. All men are not so be brought into their heale.

- 1 Wisdomme lifteth vp the head of him that is lowe, and maketh him to sit among great men.
- 2 Commend not a man for his beautie, neither despise a man in his vtter appearance.
- 3 The Bee is but small among the fowles, yet doeth her fruite passe in sweetenes.
- 4 Be not proude of clothing and raiment, and exalt not thy selfe in the daye of honour: for the workes of y<sup>e</sup> Lord are wonderful, [and glorious,] secrete, [and vnknown] are his workes among men.
- 5 Many tyrants haue sit down vpon the earth, and the vnlike hath worne the crowne.

- 6 Many mightie men haue bene brought to dishonour, and the honourable haue bene deliuered into other mens handes.
- 7 * Blame [no man] before thou haue inquired the matter: vnderstand first, and then reforme [righteously].
- 8 * Giue no sentence, before thou hast heard the cause, neither interrupt me in y<sup>e</sup> middes of their tales.
- 9 Striue not for a matter that thou hast not to do with, & sit not in the iudgement of sinners.
- 10 My sonne, meddle not with many matters: * for if thou gaine much, thou shalt not be blameles, and if thou follow after it, yet shalt thou not attaine it, neither shalt thou escape, though thou flie from it.
- 11 * There is some man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the more he hasteth, the more he wanteth.
- 12 Again there is some that is slouthfull, and hath neede of help: for he watech strenght, and hath great pouertie, yet the eye of the Lord looketh vpon him to good, and setteth him vp from his lowe estate.
- 13 And he lifteth vp his head: so that many men maruile at him, [and giue honour vnto God].
- 14 * Prosperitie and aduersitie, life and death, pouertie and riches come of the Lord.
- 15 Wisdome and knowledge, and vnderstanding of the Lawe are of the Lord: loue and good workes come of him.
- 16 Error and darkenes are appointed for sinners, and they that exalt them selues in euill, waxe olde in euill.
- 17 The gift of the Lorde remaineth for the godlie, and his good will giueth prosperitie for euer.
- 18 * Some man is riche by his care & nigardship, and this is the portion of his wages.
- 19 In that he saith, * I haue gotten rest, and now will I eate continually of my goods, yet he considereth not, that the time draweth nere, that he must leaue all these things vnto other men, and dye himselfe.
- 20 Stand thou in thy state, and exercise thy selfe therein, and remaine in thy worke vnto thine age.
- 21 Marueile not at the workes of sinners, but trust in the Lord, & abide in thy labour: for it is an easie thing in the sight of the Lorde, suddenly to make a poore man riche.
- 22 The blessing of the Lord is in the wages of the godlie, and hee maketh his prosperitie soone to flourish.
- 23 * Say not, What profite and pleasure shall I haue? and what good things shall I haue hereafter?
- 24 Again say not, I haue ynough, and possesse many things, * and what euill can come to me hereafter?
- 25 In thy good state remember aduersitie, and in aduersitie forget not prosperitie.
- 26 For it is an easie thing vnto the Lord in the day of death to rewarde a man according to his wayes.
- 27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget pleasure: and in a mans ende, his workes

- 28 Iudge none blessed before his death: for a man shalbe known by his children.
- 29 Bring not euery man into thine house: for y deceitfull haue many traines, [ and are like stomackes that belche stinkingly.]
- 30 As a partriche is taken vnder a basket, [and the hinde is taken in y snare,] so is the heart of the proude man, which like a spie watcheth for thy fall.
- 31 For he lieth in waite and turneth good vnto euill, and in things worthy prayle he will finde some faute.
- 32 Of one litle sparke is made a great fire, [ & of one deceitfull man is bloud increased: ] for a sinfull man layeth waite for bloud.
- 33 Beware of a wicked man: for he imagineth wicked things to bring thee into a perpetual shame.
- 34 Lodge a stranger, & he will destroy thee w vnquietnes, and driue thee from thine own.

CHAP. XII.

1 Vnto whom we ought to do good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

- 1 WHen thou wilt do good, knowe to whom thou doest it, so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefites.
- 2 Do good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde great rewarde, though not of him, yet of the most High.
- 3 He can not haue good that continueth in euill, and giueth no almes: for the moste High hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that repent.]
- 4 Giue vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.
- 5 Do wel vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodlie: hold backe thy bread, and giue it not vnto him, least he ouercome thee thereby: else thou shalt receiue twise as much euill for all the good that thou doest vnto him.
- 6 For the most High hateth the wicked, & will repay vengeance vnto the vngodlie, & keepeth the against y day of horrible vengeance.
- 7 Giue vnto the good, & receiue not y sinner.
- 8 A friend can not be knownen in prosperitie, neither can an enemy be vknownen in aduersitie.
- 9 When a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies, but in heauines and trouble a mans verie friend will depart from him.
- 10 Trust neuer thine enemy: for like as an yron rusteth, so doeth his wickednes.
- 11 And though he make much crouching and kneeling, yet aduise thy selfe, and beware of him, and thou shalt be to him, as he that wipe a glasse, and thou shalt knowe that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.
- 12 Set him not by thee, least he destroy thee, and stand in thy place.
- 13 Neither set him at thy right hand, least he seeke thy rowme, & thou at the last remeber my wordes, and be pricked with my sayings.
- 14 Bind not two sinnes together: for there shal not one be vnpunished.
- 15 Who will haue pittie of the charmer, that is stinged of the serpent, or of all such as come neere the beastes? so is it with him that keepeth companie with a wicked mā, and wrapeth him selfe in his sinnes.

- 16 For a season will he bide with thee: but if thou stumble, he tarieth not.
- 17 * An enemy is sweete in his lippes: he can make many good wordes, and speake many good things: yea, he can weepe w his eyes, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into the pit: and if he may find opportunitie, he will not be satisfied with bloud.
- 18 If aduersitie come vpo thee, thou shalt finde him there first, & though he pretend to help thee, yet shall he vndermine thee: he will shake his head, & clap his hands, & wil make many words, and disguise his countenance.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The companies of the proude and of the riche are to be eschewed. 15 The lene of God. 17 Like doe companie with their like.

- 1 HE that toucheth pitche, shalbe defiled with it: and he that is familiar with the proude, shal be like vnto him.
- 2 Burthen not thy selfe about thy power, whilest thou luest, & companie not with one that is mightier, & richer then thy selfe: for how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.
- 3 The riche dealeth vnrighteously, & threateneth withall: but the poore being oppressed must intreate: if the riche haue done wrong, he must yet be intreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shall straight waies be threatened.
- 4 If thou be for his profite, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he will forsake thee.
- 5 If thou haue anie thing, he will liue with thee: yea, he will make thee a bare man, and will not care for it.
- 6 If he haue neede of thee, he will defraude thee, and put laugh at thee, and put thee in hope, and giue thee al good wordes, and say, What wantest thou?
- 7 Thus will he shame thee in his meat, vntill he haue suct thee cleane vp twise or thrise, and at the last he will laugh the to scorne: afterward, when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.
- 8 [ Submit thy selfe vnto God, and waite vpo his hand.]
- 9 Beware that thou be not deceiued in thine owne conceit and brought down by thy sim-plesnes: [ be not to humble in thy wisdom.]
- 10 ¶ If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe: so shall he call thee the more oft.
- 11 Praise not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out, but go not thou farre of, least hee forget thee.
- 12 Withdrowe not thy self from his speech, but beleue not his manie wordes: for with much communication will hee tempt thee, and laughingly will hee groke thee.
- 13 He is vnmercifull, & keepeth not promise: he will not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.
- 14 Beware, & take good heed: for thou walkest in perill of thine ouerthrowing: when

- 15 Loue the Lorde all thy life, and call vpon him for thy saluation.
- 16 ¶ Euerie beaſt loueth his like, and euerie man loueth his neighbour.
- 17 All fleſh will reſort to their like, and euerie man will keepe companie with ſuch as he is himſelfe.
- 18 How can y wolfe agree with the lambe? no more can the vngodly with the righteous.
- 19 What felowſhip hath hyena with a dogge? and what peace is betweene the rich and the poore?
- 20 As the wilde aſſe is the Lyons pray in y wildernes, ſo are poore men y meate of y riche.
- 21 As the proude hate humilitie, ſo do y riche abhorre the poore.
- 22 If a riche man fall, his friends ſet him vp againe: but whē the poore falleth, his friends drie him away.
- 23 If a riche man offende, he hath many helpers: he ſpeaketh proude wordes, & yet men iuſtifie him: but if a poore man faile, they rebuke him, and though he ſpeake wiſely, yet can it haue no place.
- 24 When the riche man ſpeaketh, euerie man holdeth his tongue: and looke what he ſaith, they prayſe it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man ſpeake, they ſaye, What ſelowe is this? & if he do amiſſe, they wil deſtroy him.
- 25 Riches are good vnto him y hath no ſinne [in his conſcience,] and pouertie is euill in the mouth of the vngodly.
- 26 The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euill.
- 27 A chearefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for it is an hard thing to knowe the ſecrets of the thought.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The offences of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vaine thing. 21 Happie is he that continueth in wiſdome.

- 1 Bleſſed is the man * that hath not fallen by [the word of] his mouth, and is not tormented with the ſorow of ſinne.
- 2 Bleſſed is he that is not condemned in his conſcience, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lorde.
- 3 Riches are comely for a nigard, and what ſhould an enuiouſ man do with money?
- 4 He that gathereth together from his owne ſoule, heapeth together for others, that will make good cheare with his goods.
- 5 He that is wicked vnto him ſelfe, to whom will he be good? for ſuch one can haue no pleaſure of his goods.
- 6 There is nothing worſe, then when one enuieth him ſelfe: and this is a rewarde of his wickednes.
- 7 And if he doe any good, he doeth it, not knowing thereof, and againſt his will, and at the laſt he declareth his wickednes.
- 8 The enuiouſ man hath a wicked looke: he turneth away his face, and deſpiſeth men.
- 9 A couetous mans eye hath neuer ynough of a portion, and his wicked malice waſhereth his owne ſoule.
- 10 A * wicked eye enuieth the bread, & there is ſcarcenelle vpon his table.

- 11 My ſonne, do good to thy ſelfe of that thou haſt, and giue the Lorde his due offerings.
- 12 Remember that death tarieth not, and that the couenant of the graue is not ſhewed vnto thee.
- 13 * Do good vnto thy friend before thou dye, and according to thine habilitie ſtretch out thine hand, and giue him.
- 14 Deſraude not thy ſelfe of the good daye, and let not the portion of the good deſires ouerpaffe thee.
- 15 Shaſt thou not leaue thy traueiles vnto an other, and thy labours for the deuiding of y heritage?
- 16 Giue and take & ſanctifie thy ſoule: [worke thou righteousnes before thy death:] for in the hell there is no meate to finde.
- 17 ¶ All fleſh waxeth olde, as a garment, and this is the condition of all times, Thou ſhaſt dye the death.
- 18 As the greene leaues on a thicke tree, ſome fall, and ſome growe, ſo is the generation of fleſh and bloud: one cometh to an ende, & another is borne.
- 19 All corruptible things ſhall faile, and the worker thereof ſhall go withall.
- 20 [Euerie excellent worke ſhalbe iuſtified, and he that worketh it, ſhall haue honour thereby.]
- 21 * Bleſſed is the man that doeth meditate honeſt things by wiſdome, [and exerciſeth him ſelfe in iuſtice,] and he that reaſoneth of holie things by his vnderſtanding,
- 22 Which conſidereth in his heart her waies, and vnderſtandeth her ſecretes.
- 23 Go thou after her as one that ſeeketh her out, and lie in waite in her waies.
- 24 He ſhall looke in at her windowes, & hearken at her doores.

7 But foolish men will not take holde vpon embrace her:] the sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is farre from pride [and deceipt] & men that lie, can not remember her: [but] the of truthe shall haue her, and shall prosper
euen vnto the beholding of God.
9 Praise is not seemely in the mouth of the sinner: for that is nouent of the Lord.
10 But if praise come of wisdom, [and be plereous in a faithfull mouth] then the Lord will prosper it.
11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I am backe: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.
12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to erre: for he hath no neede of the full man.
13 The Lord hateth all abomination [of er-rour:] and they that feare God, loue it not.
14 He made man from the beginning, & left him in the hand of his counsell, and gaue him his commandments, and precepts.
15 If thou wilt, thou shalt obserue the comma-dements, and shalt say: thy good will.
16 He hath set water & fire before thee: stretch out thine hand vpon which thou wilt.
17 Before man is life and death, [I good and ill:] what him lieth shall be giuen him.
18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mightie in power, and beholdeth all things continually.
19 And the eyes [of the Lord] are vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth al the works of man.
20 He hath commanded no man to do vngod-lie, neither hath he giuen any man licence to sine: [for he desireth not a multitude of sinners, and vnprofitable children.]

9 He had no pittie vpon the people that were destroyed, and pushed vp in their sinnes.
10 And he preferred [for his] such as thousand footemen, that were gathered in the hardnes of their heart in affliction, and pitying them, in smiting them and healing them, with mercie, and with chastisement.
11 Therefore if there be one sinner among the people, it is maruile if he scape vnpunished: for mercie and wrath are with him: he is mighty to forgie, & to powere out displeasure.
12 As his mercie is great, so is his punishment.
13 Hee iudgeth a man according to his works.
14 The vngodly shall not scape: in his voyce, and the patience of the godly shall not be delayed.
15 He will giue place to all good deedes, and every one shall finde according to his works, [and after the vnderstanding of his pilgrimage].
16 The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he should not know him, and that his works should be known vpon the earth vnder the heauen.
17 His mercie is known to all creatures: he hath separate his light from the darkenes with an adament.
18 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from the Lord, for who will thinke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be known in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among such an infinite number of creatures?
19 Beholde, the heauen, and the [heaven of] heauen, which are for God, the depth of the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moved when he shall visite.
20 All the world which is created and made by his will, the mountines also, and the foudations of the earth shall quake for feare, when the Lord looketh vpon them.
21 These things doeth no heart vnderstand war-thily, [but he vnderstandeth euery heart].
22 And who vnderstandeth his wayes, and the storie that no man can see? for the most part of his works are hid.
23 Who can declare the wordes of his tighteousnes? or who can abide them? for his ordinance is farre of, and the trying out of all things faileth.
24 He that is humble of heart, will consider these things: but an vnwise and erronious man rasteth his minde vpon foolish things.
25 My sonne, hearken vnto me, and leaue knowledge, and marke my wordes with thine heart.
26 I will declare thee weightie doctrine, and I will instruct thee exactly in knowledge.
27 The Lord hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other when hee first made them.
28 He hath garnished his workes for euery and their beginnings so long as they shall dure, they are not hungrie nor wearied in their labour, nor cease from their offices.
29 None of them hindreth another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.
30 After this the Lord looked vpon the earth
and

and filled it with his good things.
30 With all manner of liuing beastes hath he covered the face thereof, and they returne into it againe.

CHAP. XVII.

THe Lord hath created vs of the earth, and turned him vnto it againe.

2 He gaue him the number of dayes and certaine times, & gaue him power of the things, that are vpon earth.

3 He clothed them with strength, as they had neede, & made the according to his image.

4 He made all these to feare him, so y he had the dominion ouer the beastes, and foules.

5 [ * He created out of him an helper like vnto him selfe, ] and gaue them discretion and tongue, and eyes, eares, and an heart to vnderstand, and sixtly he gaue them a spirit, & seuenthly he gaue them speache to declare his workes.

6 And he filled them with knowledge of vnderstanding, and shewed the good and euill.

7 He set his eye vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his noble workes.

8 And gaue them occasion to reioyce perpetually in his miracles, that they should prudently declare his workes, and that the elect should praise his holy Name together.

9 Beside this, he gaue the knowledge, & gaue the the Law of life for an heritage, that they might now knowe that they were mortall.

10 He made an euertlasting couenant with the, and shewed them his iudgements.

11 Their eyes saw the maiestie of his glorie, & their eares heard his glorious voyce.

12 And he said vnto the, Beware of all vnrighteous things. * He gaue euery man also a commandement concerning his neighbour.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 Euery man fro his youth is giuen to euill, & their stonie hearts can not become flesh.

15 He appointed a ruler vpo euery people, wher he deuided the nations of the whole earth.

16 * And he did chuse Israel, as a peculiar people to him selfe, whom he nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and giueth him most louing light, and doeth not forsake him.

17 All their workes are as the sunne before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

18 None of their vnrighteousnes is hid from him, but all their finnes are before the Lord.

19 And as he is mercifull, and knoweth his workes, he doeth not leaue them nor forsake them, but spareth them.

20 * The almes of a man, is as a thing sealed vp before him, & he keepeth good deedes of man as the apple of the eye, and giueth repentance to their sonnes, and daughters.

21 * At the last shal he arise, & reward them, & shal repay their reward vpon their heads.

22 * But vnto them that will repent, he giueth them grace to returne, and exhorteth such as faile, with patience, [ and sendeth them the portion of the vertue. ]

23 * Returne then vnto the Lord, and forsake thy finnes: make thy prayer before his face, and take away the offence.

24 Turne againe vnto the most High: for hee will bring thee from darkenes to wholsome light: forsake thine vnrighteousnes, and hate greatly all abominations.

25 [ Know the righteousness & iudgements of God: stande in the portion that is set forth for thee, and in the prayer of the most high God, and in the partes of the holy world with such as be liuing and confesse God. ]

26 * Who can praise the most High in the hel, as do all they that liue and confesse him?

27 [ Abide not thou in the error of the vngodly, but prayse the Lord before death. ]

28 Thankfulness perisheth from the dead, as though he were not: but the liuing, and he that is sound of heare, playeth the Lord, [ & reioyeth in his mercie. ]

29 How great is y losing kindness of the Lord our God, and his compassion vnto such as turne vnto him in holines.

30 For all things can not be in men, because sonne of ma is not immortal, and they take pleasure in the vanitie of wickednes.

31 What is more cleare then the sunne, yet shall it faile.

32 So flesh and bloud that thinketh euill, shall be reprocured. ]

33 He seeth the power of the high heauen, & all men are but earth and ashes.

CHAP. XVIII.

THe that liueth for euer, made all things together: the Lord who onely is full, & there is none other but hee, [ and he remaineth a victorious King for euer. ]

2 He ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he gouerneth all things by his power, and deuiceth the holy things from the prophesie.

3 To whom hath he giuen power to expresse his workes? who will seeke out the grounde of his noble actes?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatness? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercie?

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither can any thing be put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he must beginne againe, and when hee thinketh to come to an ende, he must go againe to his labour.

7 What is man? whereto serueth he? what good or euill can he do?

8 * If the number of a mans dayes be an hundred yere, it is much: and no ma hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 As droppes of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauell stone is in comparison of the sand, so are a thousand yeres to the dayes euertlasting.

10 Therefore is [God] patient with them, and powreth out his mercie vpon them.
 11 He saw & perceiued, that [the arrogancie of their heart, and their ruine was euil: therefore heaped he vp his mercie vpon them; & shewed them the way of righteousness.]
 12 The mercie that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercie of the Lord is vpon all flesh: he chasteneth, and mureth, and teacheth, and bringeth backe, as a shepheard his flocke, 13 He hath mercie of them that receiue discipline, and that diligently seeke after his iudgements.
 14 My sonne, when thou doest good, reprove not; and whatsoever thou giuest, vnto no discomfortable wordes.
 15 Shall not the dewe swage the heart? so is a word: better then a gift.
 16 Lo, is not a word better then a good gift? but a gracious man giueth them both.
 17 A foole will reprove charitably, and a gift of the enuious putteth out the eyes.
 18 [Get thee righteousness before thou come to iudgement:] learne before thou speake, and vnto thy physick: or euert thou be sicke.
 19 * Examine thy selfe, before thou be iudged, and in the day of the visitation thou shalt finde mercie.
 20 Humble thy selfe before thou be sicke, and whiles thou mayest yet sinne, shewe thy confession.
 21 Let nothing let thee to paye thy vowe in time, and deferre not vnto death to be reformed: [for y reward of God endureth for ever.]
 22 Before thou prayest, prepare thy selfe, and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.
 23 Thinke vpon the * wrath, that shall be at the end, and the houre of vengeance, when he shall turne away his face.
 24 When thou hast ynough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art riche, thinke vpon pouertie and neede.
 25 From the morning vntill the euening the time is changed, & all such things are soone done before the Lord.
 26 A wise man feareth in all things, and in the dayes of transgression he keepeth him selfe from sinne: but the foole doeth not obserue the time.
 27 * Euerie wise man knoweth wisdom, and knowledge, & praiseth him that findeth her.
 28 They that haue vnderstanding, deale wisely in wordes: [they vnderstand the truth and righteousness,] and powre out with modestie graue sentences for mans life.
 29 The chiefe autoric of speaking is of the Lord alone: for a mortall man hath but a dead heart.
 30 * Follow not thy lustes, but turne thee from thine owne appetites.
 31 For if thou giuest thy soule her desires, it shall make thine enemies that enuye thee, to laugh thee to scorn.
 32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes, and intangle not thy selfe with such companie.
 33 Become not a begger by making bankets of that that thou hast borrowed, and so leaue nothing in thy purse: els thou shouldest slanderously lie in waite for thine owne life.

CHAP. XIX.

VVine & whoredome bring men to pouerty. 6 In thy words vsf discretion. 22 The difference of the wisdom of God and man. 27 whereby thou mayst know what is in man.

1 A Labouring man that is giuen to drunkennes, shall not be rich: & he that con- temneth small things, shall fall by little & little.

2 Wine and women leade wise men out of the way, [and put men of vnderstanding to reproofe.]

3 And he that copanieth adulterers, shall become impudent: & tennes and wormes shall haue him to heritage, & he y into bolde, shall be taken away, & be made a publicke ex- ample.

4 He that is hastie to giue credit, is light minded, and he that erreth, sinneth against his owne soule.

5 Who so reioyceth in wickednes, shall be punished of he that hateth to be reformed, his life shall be shortened, and he that abhorreth babbling of wordes, quencheth wickednes: but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule.

6 He that restraineth his tongue, may liue with a troublesome man, and he that hateth bab- bling, shall haue lesse euil.

7 Rehearse not to another, that which is sold vnto thee: so thou shalt not be hindered.

8 Declare not other mens maners, neither to friend nor foe: and if the sinne apperteyne not vnto thee, reuile it not.

9 For he will hearken vnto thee, and marke thee, and when he findeth opportunitie, he will hate thee.

10 * If thou hast heard a word [against thy neighbour,] let it dye with thee, & be sure, it will not burst thee.

11 A foole trauaileth when he hath heard a thing, as a woman that is about to bring forth a childe.

12 As an arrow that sticketh in ones thigh, so is a word in a fooles heart.

13 * Reproue a friend lest he do euil, and if he haue done it, that he do it no more.

14 Reproue a friend that he may keepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.

15 Tell thy friende his faule: for oft times a slander is raised, and giue no credence to e- uerie word.

16 A man falleth with his tongue, but not with his will: * and who is he, that hath not of- fended in his tongue?

17 Reproue thy neighbour before thou threat- en him, and being without anger, giue place vnto the Law of the most High.

18 The feare of the Lord is the first degree, to be receiued of him, and wisdom obtaineth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commandements of the Lord is the doctrine of life, and they that obey him shall receiue the fruite of immor- talitie.

knowledg and obedience

- and the knowledge of his almighty power.
- 21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I wil not do as it pleaseth thee, though afterwarde he do it, he shal displease him that nourisheth him.
- 22 The knowledge of wickednes is not wisdom, neither is there prudence whereas the counsel of sinners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is voyde of wisdom.
- 23 He that hath small vnderstanding, and feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the Lawe of the most High.
- 24 There is a certaine subtiltie that is fine, but it is vnrighteous: and there is that wresteth the open and manifest Law: yet there is that is wise and judgeth righteously.
- 25 There is shame that being among wicked purposes, do bow downe them selues; & are sad, whose inward partes burne altogether with deceipt: he looketh downe with his face, and faineth himselfe deafe: yet before thou perceiue, he will be vpon thee to hurt thee.
- 26 And though he be so weak that he can do thee no harme; yet when he may finde opportunitye, he will do euill.
- 27 ¶ A man may be known by his looke, and one that hath vnderstanding, may be perceiued by the marking of his countenance.
- 28 * A mans garment, & his excessive laughter, and going declare what person he is.
- 29 ¶ Here is some rebuke that is not comely: againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.
- 30 ¶ It is much better to reprove, then to beare with a sinner: and he that acknowledgeth his faute, shal be preferred from his sinne.
- 31 ¶ When a gilded man through lust would defile a maide, so is he that vseth violence in judgement.
- 32 ¶ How good a thing is it, when thou art reprov'd, to shew repentance: for so shalt thou escape withall sinne.
- 33 ¶ Some man keepeth silence, and is founde wise, and some by much babling becommeth hatefull.
- 34 ¶ Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not to answer: and some keepeth silence, waiting a convenient time.
- 35 ¶ A wife man will holde his tongue till he see opportunitye: but a trifier and a foole will regarde no time.
- 36 He that vseth manie wordes, shal be abhorred, and he that taketh autoritie to him selfe, shal be hated.
- 37 ¶ Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things; and some time a thing that is founde, bringeth losse.
- 38 ¶ There is some gifte that is not profitable for thee, and there is some gift, whose reward is double.
- 39 ¶ Some man humbleth him selfe for glories sake, & some by humblenes listeth vp his head.
- 40 ¶ Some man buyeth much for a litle price: for the which he payeth seven times more.
- 13 * A wife man with his wordes maketh him self to be loued, but the merie tales of fooles shal be powred out.
- 14 The gifte receiued of a foole, shal do thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for he looketh to receiue many things for one: he giueth litle, and he vnbraideth much: he openeth his mouth like a towne crier: to day he lendeth, to morrow asketh he againe, and such one is to be hated of God and man.
- 15 The foole saith, I have no friend: I have no thanks for all my good deedes: & they that eat my bread, speake euill of me.
- 16 How oft, & of how manie shal he be laugh'd to scorne: for he comprehendeth not by sight judgement that which he hath: and in all one as though he had no wit.
- 17 The fall on a payement is verie sudden: so shal the fall of the wicked come hastily.
- 18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale: it is oft tolde by the mouth of the ignorant.
- 19 A wife sentence loseth grace when it cometh out of a foolish mouth: for he speaketh not in due season.
- 20 Some man sinneth not because of potencie, but yet is not giued when he is alone.
- 21 ¶ Some man there is, that destroyeth his owne soule, because he is ashamed, and for the regard of person loseth it.
- 22 ¶ Some man promisseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an enemy of him for nought.
- 23 ¶ A lie is a wicked thing in a man: yee is it oft in the mouth of the vnwise.
- 24 ¶ A thiefe is better, then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they both shal haue destruction to heritage.
- 25 ¶ These conditions of liars are vn honest, & their shame is euer with them.
- 26 ¶ A wife man shal bring him selfe to honour with his wordes, and he that hath vnderstanding, shal please great men.
- 27 ¶ He that tilleth his land, shal increase his fruit: but he that worketh righteousness shal be exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shal haue pardon of his iniquitie.
- 28 ¶ Rewardes and giftes blinde the eyes of the wise, and make them domme, that they can not reprove fautes.
- 29 ¶ Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded vp, what profite is in them both?
- 30 ¶ Better is he that keepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisdom.
- 31 ¶ The necessarie patience of him, that followeth the Lord, is better then he that goeth in his life without the Lord.

CHAP. XXI.

- ¶ My sonne, hast thou sinned? do so no more: but pray for the fore sinners [that they may be forgiven thee].
- ¶ Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou comest to neere it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a Lyon, to slay the soules of men.

- 4 Strife & iniuries waste riches: so the house of the proude shalbe desolate.
- 5 * The prayer of the poore going out of the mouth, commeth vnto the eares of the Lord, and iustice is done him incontinently.
- 6 Who so hareth to bee reformed, is in the way of sinners: but he that seareth the Lord, conuertereth in heart.
- 7 An eloquent talker is knowen as farre of: but he that is wise, perceiueh when he falleth.
- 8 Who so buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.
- 9 * The congregation of the wicked is like towne wrapped together: their end is a flame of fyre to destroy them.
- 10 The way of sinners is made plaine with stones, but at the end thereof is hell, [darkenes and paines.]
- 11 He that keepeth the Law of the Lord, & ruleth his owne affectiōs thereby: & y increase of wisdom is the end of the feare of God.
- 12 He that is not wise, will not suffer him selfe to be taught: but there is some wit that increaseth bitterness.
- 13 The knowledge of the wise shal abound like water that runneth ouer, and his counsel is like a pure fountaine of life.
- 14 * The inner parts of a foole are like a broken vessel: he cā keepe no knowledge whiles he liueth.
- 15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wife worde, he wil commend it, and increase it: but if an ignorant man heare it, he wil disallowe it, and cast it behind his backe.
- 16 The talking of a foole is like a burden in the way, but there is comelines in the talke of a wise man.
- 17 They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, & they shall ponder his wordes in their heart.
- 18 As is an house that is destroyed, so is wisdom vnto a foole, & the knowledge of the vnwise is as wordes without order.
- 19 Doctrīne vnto fooles is as fetters on y feete, and like manicles vpon the right hand.
- 20 * A foole listeth vp his voyce with laughter, but a wise man doeth scarce smile secretly.

- 22 A foolish mans foote is soone in [his neighbours] house: but a man of experience is ashamed to looke in.
- 23 A foole will peepe in at the doore into the house: but he that is well nurtured, wil stand without.
- 24 It is the poynt of a foolish man to hearken at the doore: for he that is wise, wil be grieved with such dishonour.
- 25 The lippes of talkers will be telling such thinges as pertaine not vnto them, but the wordes of iuch as haue vnderstanding, are weighed in the balance.
- 26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience seareth not.

- 1 A Slouthful mā is like a filthie stone, which euerie man mocketh at for his shame.
- 2 A slouthfull man is to bee compared to the dongue of oxen, and euery one that taketh it vp, wil shake it out of his hand.
- 3 An euil nurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: and the daughter is least to bee esteemed.
- 4 A wife daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but she that liueth dishonestly, is her fathers heauines.
- 5 She that is bolde, dishonoreth both her father and her husband, [ & is not inferior to the vngodly, ] but they both shal despise her.
- 6 A tale out of time is as musike in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.
- 7 Who so teacheth a foole, is as one that gleweth a postheard together, & as he that waketh one that sleepe, from a sound sleepe.
- 8 If childre liue honestly, & haue wherewith they shal put away the shame of their parēts.
- 9 But if children bee proude, with hautesse and foolishnes they defyle the nobilitie of their kindred.
- 10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdom, is as a man, which speaketh to one that is a sleeper: when he hath tolde his tale, he saith, What is the matter?
- 11 * Weepe for the dead, for he hath lost the light: so weepe for the foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding: make small weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of y foole is worse then the death.
- 12 Seuen dayes do men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for the foole, & vngodly [should endure] al y dayes of their life.
- 13 Talke not much with a foole, and go not to him that hath no vnderstāding: * beware of him, lest it turne thee to payne, and lest thou be defiled when he shaketh himself. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not receiue sorowe by his foolishnes.
- 14 What is heauier then lead? and what other name should a foole haue?
- 15 * Sand and saltē, and a lump of yron is easier to beare, then an vnwise, [foolish and vngodly man.]
- 16 As a frame of wood ioyned together in a building can not be loosed with shaking, so the heart that is stablished by aduised counsell, shall feare at no time.
- 17 The heart that is cōfirmed by discrete wisdom, is as a faire plaistering on a plaine wall.
- 18 As reedes that are set vp on hie, can not abide the winde, so the fearefull heart with foolish imagination can indure no feare.

- 22 If thou haue opened thy mouth against thy friend, feare not: for there may be a reconciliation, so y vprayingd or pride or disclosing of secretes or a trayterous wound do not let: for by these things euery friend wil depart.
- 23 Be faithful vnto thy friende in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce in his prosperitie. Abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heire with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the rich that is foolish, to be had in admiration.
- 24 As the vapour, and smoke of the chimney goeth before the fyre, so euil words, rebukes and threatnings ] goe before bloodheading.

1 A prayer of the autor. 12 Of the blasphemie, and vnwise communication. 16 Of three kindes of finnes. 23 Many finnes procede of adulterie. 27 Of the feare of God.

- 1 O Lord, father and gouernour of all my whole life, leaue me not to their counsel, and let me not fall by them.
- 2 Who will correcte my thought, and put the doctrine of wisdom in mine heart, that they may not spare me in mine ignorance, neither let their fautes passe?
- 3 Lest mine ignorances increase, & my finnes abound to my destruction, & lest I fall before mine aduersarie, and mine enemies reioyce ouer me, whose hope is farre fro thy mercie.
- 4 O Lord, Father and God of my life, [leaue me not in their imagination] neither giue me a proude looke, but turne away from thy seruants a stouthe minde.
- 5 Take from me vaine hope, & concupiscence, and reteine him in obedience, that desireth continually to serue thee.
- 6 Let not the griedines of the bellie, nor lust of the flesh holde me, and giue not me thy seruant ouer into an impudent minde.
- 7 Heare, o ye children, the instruction of a mouth that shall speake trueth: who so keepeth it, shall not perish through his lips, [nor be hurt by wicked workes.]
- 8 The sinner shall be taken by his owne lippes: for the euil speaker and the proud do offend by them.
- 9 Accustome not thy mouth to swearing: [for in it there are many falles, neither take vp for a custome the naming of the Holie one:] for thou shalt not be vn Timer for such things.
- 10 For as a seruant w is oft punished, cannot be without some skarre, so he that sweareth, and

- nameth God continually, shall not be fauleles.
- 11 A man that vieth much [swearing, shall be filled with wickednes, and the plague shall neuer go from his house: when he shall offend, his faute shall be vpon him, & if he knowledgeth not his sinne, he maketh a double offence: & if he sweare in vaine, he shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of plagues.
- 12 There is a worde which is clothed with death: God graunt that it be not found in the heritage of Iacob: but they that feare God, eschew all such, & are not wrapped in sinne.
- 13 Vile not thy mouth to ignorant rashnes: for therein is the occasion of sinne.
- 14 Remember thy father & thy mother when thou art set among great men, lest thou be forgotten in their sight, and so through thy custome become a foole, and with that thou haddest not bene borne, and curle the day of thy naturie.
- 15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious wordes, will neuer be reformed all the dayes of his life.
- 16 There are two sortes [of men] that abouin sinne, and the third bringeth wrath [and destruction:] a minde hote as fire, that can not be quenched till it be consumed: an adulterous man that giueth his bodie no rest, till he haue kindled a fire.
- 17 [All bread is sweete to a whoremonger: he will not leaue it till he perish.]
- 18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and thinketh thus in his heart, *Who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkenesse: the wales couer me: no body seeth me: whome neede I to feare? the most High will not remember my finnes.
- 19 Such a man onely feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter then the sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, [and the ground of the deepe,] and considereth the most secret partes.
- 20 He knewe all things or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also he looketh vpon them all.
- 21 The same man shall be punished in the streates of the citie, [and shall be chased like a yong horsefoale,] and when he thinketh not vpon it, he shall be taken: [thus shall he be put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstande the feare of the Lord.]
- 22 And thus shall it go also with euerie wife, y leaueth her husband, & getteth inheritance by another.
- 23 For first she hath disobeyed the Law of the most High, and secondly, she hath trespassed against her owne husbande, and thirdly, she hath played the whore in adulterie, and gotten her children by another man.
- 24 She shall be brought out into the congregation, and examination shall be made of her children.
- 25 Her children shall not take roote, and her branches shall bring forth no fruite.

CHAP. XXIIII.

A praise of wisdom proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Other workes and place where she raiseth. 20 She is giuen to the children of God.

Wisdome shal praise her selfe, [and be honoured in God,] and reioyce in the middes of her people.

In the congregation of the most High shall she open her mouth, and triumphe before his power.

In the middes of her people shal she be exalted, and wondered at in the holy assemblie.

In the multitude of the chosen she shall be commended, and among such as be blessed, she shall be prayled, and shall say,

I am come out of the mouth of the moste High, first borne before all creatures.

I caused the light that sayleth not, to arise in the heaue, & couered the earth as a cloude.

My dwelling is aboue in the height, and my throne is in the pillar of the cloude.

I alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and haue walked in the bottomes of the depth.

I possessed the waues of the sea, and all the earth, and all people, and nacion, [and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all, both high and low.]

In all these things I fought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.

So the creator of all things gaue me a commandement, & he that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, & said, Let thy dwelling be in Iacob, and take thine inheritance in Irael, and roote thy selfe among my chosen.

* He created me from the beginning, & before the world, and I shall neuer faile: * In the holie habitation haue I serued before him, & so was I stablished in Sion.

* In the welbeloued citie gaue he me rest, and in Ierusalem was my power.

I tooke roote in an honorable people, euen in the portion of the Lords inheritance.

I am set vp on hie like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypres tree vpon the mountaines of Hermon.

I am exalted like a palme tree about the banks, and as a rose plant in Iericho, as a faire oliue tree in a pleasant field, and am exalted as a plane tree by the water.

I smelled as the cinnamon, and as a bagge of spices: I gaue a sweete odour as the best myrrhe, as galbanum, and onix, and sweete storax, and perfume of incense in an house.

As the terebinth, haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

* As the vine haue I brought forth [fruite] of sweete saour, & my flowers are the fruite of honour and riches.

I am the mother of beautifull loue, and of feare, and of knowledge, and of holy hope:

I giue eternall things to all my children to whom God hath commanded.

[In me is all grace of life and truethe: in me is all hope of life and vertue.]

Come vnto me all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your selues with my fruites.

* For the remembrance of me is sweeter then honie, and mine inheritance [sweeter] then the honie combe: [the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.]

They eate me, shal haue the more huger, & they that drinke me, shal thirst the more.

Who so hearkeneth vnto me, shal not come to confusion, and they that worke by me, shal not offend: [they that make me to be knowe, shal haue euermore life.]

All these things are the booke [of life,] and the couenant of the most high God, [and the knowledge of the truethe,] and the Law that Moyses [in y precepts of righteousnes] commanded for an heritage vnto the house of Iacob, [and the promises pertaining vnto Irael.]

Be not wearie to behaue your selues valiantlie with the Lord, that he may also confirme you: cleaue vnto him: for the Lord almightie is but one God, & besides him there is none other Sauour.

[Out of Dauid his seruante he ordeined to raise vp a most mightie King that should sit in the throne of honour for euermore.]

He filleth all things with his wisdom, as Physon, and as Tygris, in the time of the newe fruites.

He maketh the vnderstanding to aboue like * Euphrates, and as forden in the time of the haruest.

He maketh the doctrine of knowledge to appeare as the light, and overfloweth as Geon in the time of the vintage.

The first man hath not knowen her perselly: no more shall the last seeke her out.

For her considerations are more abundant then the sea, and her counsell is profounder then the great deepe.

I wisdome [haue cast out floodes:] I am as an arme of the riuier: I runne into Paradise as a water conduite.

I said, I wil water my faire garden, and wil water my pleasant ground: and lo, my ditch became a flood, and my flood became a sea.

For I make doctrine to shine as the light of the morning, and I lighten it for euer.

[I wil pearce thorow all the lower parts of y earth: I wil looke vp all such as be a sleepe, and lighten all them that trust in the Lord.]

I wil yet powre out doctrine, as prophesie, and leaue it vnto all ages for euer.

* Behold y I haue not laboured for my selfe onely, but for all them that seeke wisdom.

CHAP. XXV.

Of three things which please God, and of three which he hateth. 7 Of nine things that be not to be suspected. 15 Of the malice of a woman.

Three things reioyce me, & by them am I beautified before God and men: the vnic of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and wife that agree together.

Three sortes of men my soule hateth, and I viterly

1 utterly abhorre the life of them: a poore man that is proud: a riche man that is a liar, and an olde adulterer that doeth
3 ¶ If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what canst thou finde in thine age?
4 ¶ Oh, how pleasant a thing is it when graye headed men minister iudgement, and when the elders can giue good counsel!
5 ¶ Oh, howe comely a thing is wisdom vnto aged men, and vnderstanding and prudence to men of honour!
6 The crowne of olde men is to haue much experiēce, & the feare of God is their glorie.
7 ¶ There be nine things, which I haue iudged in mine heart to be happie, & the tenth will I pronounce with my tongue: a man that while he liueth, hath ioye of his childre, and feeth the fall of his enemies.
8 ¶ Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of vnderstanding, & that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not serued such as are vnworthie of him.
9 Well is him that findeth prudence, and he that can not speake in the eares of them that will heare.
10 ¶ Oh, howe great is hee that findeth wis-dome! yet is there none aboue him, that feareth the Lord.
11 The feare of the Lord passeth all things in cleareness.
12 [Blessed is the man, vnto whom it is graun-ted to haue the feare of God.] Vnto whome shal he be likened that hath attained it?
13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his loue, and faith is the beginning to be ioyned vnto him.
14 ¶ The greatest heauines is the heauines of the heart, and the greatest malice is the malice of a woman.
15 Giue me any plague, saue onely the plague of the heart, and any malice, saue the malice of a woman.
16 Or any assault, saue the assault of them that hate, or any vengeance, saue the vengeance of the enemy.
17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of an enemy.
18 ¶ I had rather dwell with a lion and dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked wife.
19 The wickednes of a womā chāgeth her face,
& maketh her countenance blacke as a sacke.
20 Her husband is sitting among his neighbours:
because of her he sigheth sore or he beware.
21 All wickednes is but litle to the wickednes of a woman: let the portion of the sinner fall vpon her.
22 As the climbing vp of a sandie way is to the feete of the aged, so is a wife full of wordes to a quiet man.
23 ¶ Stumble not at the beautie of a woman, & desire her not for thy pleasure.
24 If a woman nourish her husband, she is an-grie and impudent and full of reprochie.
25 A wicked wife maketh a sorie heart, an heauie countenance, & a wounded minde, weak hands and feeble knees, and can not comfort her husband in heauines.

26 Of the * woman came the beginning of sinne, and through her we all dye.
27 Giue the water no passage, [no nor a hilde,] neither giue a wicked womā liberty to go out.
28 If she walke not in thine obedience, [the shal cōfound thee in the sight of thine enemies.]
Cut her of then from thy flesh: * Giue her, and forsake her.

CHAP. XXVI.

The praise of a good woman. 5 Of the feare of three things, and of the fourth. 8 Of the ielous and drunken woman.
11 Of such things that cause sorrow, and of the third which moueth wrath.

1 Blessed is the man that hath a virtuous wife: for the number of his yerres shall be double.
2 An honest woman reioyceeth her husband,
& she shall fill the yerres of his life with peace.
3 A virtuous womā is a good portion which shall be giuen for a gifte vnto such as feare
the Lord.
4 Whether a man be rich or poore, he hath a good heart toward the Lord, and they shall at all times haue a cheerefull countenance.
5 ¶ There be three things that mine heart feareth, & my face is afraid of: y<sup>e</sup> fourth I treason in a citie: the assemble of the people; & false accusatiō: al these are heauier the death.
6 ¶ But the sorrow & grief of the heart is a wo-

- 20 My loane, keepe the strength of thine age stable, & giue not thy strength to strangers.
- 21 When thou hast gotten a fruitful possession through all the fields, sow it with thine owne seede, trusting in thy nobilitie.
- 22 So thy stocke that shall liue after thee, shall grow, trusting in the great liberalitie of their nobilitie.
- 23 An harlot is compared to a sowe; but the wife that is married, is counted as a towre against death to her husband.
- 24 A wicked woman is giuen as a rewarde to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.
- 25 A shameles woman contemneth shame: but a shamefast woman wil reuerence her husband.
- 26 A shameles woman is compared to a dogge: but the that is shamefast, reuerenceth y<sup>e</sup> Lord.
- 27 A woman that honoureth her husband, shall be iudged wife of all: but shee that despiseth him, shall be blased for her pride.
- 28 A lowde crying woman & a babbler let her be sought out to driue away the enemies: the minde of euerie man that liueth with such, shall be couerlant among y<sup>e</sup> troubles of warre.
- 29 There bee two things that grieue mine heart, & the third maketh me angrie: a man of warre that suffreth pouertie: and men of vnderstanding that are not let by: and when one departeth from righteousness vnto sinne: the Lord appointeth such to the sword.
- 30 There be two things, which me thinke to be hard & perilous. A marchant cannot lightly keepe him from wrong, and a vitailer is not without sinne.

CHAP. XXVII.

3 Of the poore that would be riche. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God. 12 The vncertainnes of a foole. 16 The secrets of friends are not to be vttered. 26 The wicked imagineth euil which turneth vpon him selfe.

- 1 BEcause of pouertie haue many sinned: and * he that seeketh to be riche, turneth his eyes aside.
- 2 As a nayle in the wall sticketh fast betweene the ioynts of the stones, so doeth sinne stick betweene the felling and the bying.
- 3 If he holde him not diligentlie in y<sup>e</sup> feare of the Lord, his house shal sone be ouerthrowe.
- 4 As when one sifteth, the filthines remaineth in the sieue, so the filth of man remaineth in his thought.
- 5 The fornace pouereth the potters vessel: * so doeth [tentation] trie mens thoughts.
- 6 The fruite declareth if the tree haue bene trimmed: so the word [declareth] what man hath in his heart.
- 7 Praise no man except thou haue heard his talke: for this is the tryall of men.
- 8 ¶ If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt get her, and put her on as a fayre garment, [and shalt dwell with her, and she shal defend thee for euer: and in the daye of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnes.]
- 9 The birdes resort vnto their like: so doeth the trueth turne vnto them, that are practised in her.
- 10 As the lyon waiteth for the beast, so doeth sinne vpon them that do euil.

- 11 The talking of him that feareth God, is all wisdom: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.
- 12 If thou be among the vndifcrete, obserue the time, but haunt not the assemble of them that are wise.
- 13 The talking of fooles is grievous: and their sport is in the pleasure of sinne.
- 14 * The talke of him that is wretched much, maketh the heare to stand vp: and to strue with such, stoppereth the eares.
- 15 The strife of the proude is blood shedding, and thei seculdings are gricuous to heare.
- 16 * Who so discouereth secrets, loseth his credit, and findeth no friend after his will.
- 17 Loue thy friend, and be faithfull vnto him: but if thou bewrayest his secrets, thou shalt not get him againe.
- 18 For as a man destroyeth his enemy, so doeth thou destroye y<sup>e</sup> friendship of thy neighbour.
- 19 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so if thou giue ouer thy friend, thou canst not get him againe.
- 20 Follow after him no more, for he is to farr of: he is as a roe escaped out of the snare: [for his soule is wounded.]
- 21 As for woundes, they may be bounde vp againe, and an euil word: may be reconciled: but who so bewrayeth the secrets of a friend, hath lost all his credit.
- 22 * He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth euil: & he y<sup>e</sup> knoweth him, wil let him alone.
- 23 When y<sup>e</sup> art present, he wil speake sweetely, and prayse thy wordes: but at the last he wil turne his tale, and slander thy saying.
- 24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euil as such one: for the Lorde also hateth him.
- 25 Who so casteth a stone on hie, casteth it vpon his owne head: and he that smiteth with guile, maketh a great wounde.
- 26 Who so * diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, [ & he that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shal stumble thereon, ] and he that layeth a snare for another, shal be taken in it himselfe.
- 27 He that worketh euill, shall be wrapped in euils, and shall not knowe from whence they come vnto him.
- 28 Mockerie and reproche follow the proude, and vengeance lurketh for them as a lyon.
- 29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, shal be taken in the snare, and anguish shal consume them before they dye.
- 30 Despise and anger are abominable things, and the sinful man is subiect to them both.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 VV a ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgive the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the danger thereof.

- 1 HE * that seeketh vengeance, shall finde vengeance of the Lord, and he wil surely keepe his finnes.

like him selfe: and will he aske forgiveness of his owne finnes?

7 If he that is but flesh, nourish hatred, [and aske pardon of God,] who wil intreat for his finnes?

8 Remember the ende, and let enmitie passe: imagine not death and destruction to another through anger, but perseuere in the commandements.

9 Remember the commandementes: so shalt thou not be rigorous against thy neighbour: [consider diligently] the covenat of the most High, and forgie his ignorance.

10 Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy finnes fewer: for an angry man kindleth strife.

11 And the sinful man disquieteth friends, and bringeth in false accusations among them that be at peace.

12 As the matter of the fyre is, so it burneth, and mans anger is according to his power: and according to his riches his anger increaseth, and the more vehement the anger is, the more is he inflamed.

13 An hasty brawling kindleth a fyre, and an hasty fighting sheddeth blood: [a tongue that beareth false witness, bringeth death.]

14 If thou blowe the sparke, it shal burne: if thou spit vpon it, it shal be quenched, & both these come out of the mouth.

15 Abhorre the slanderer and double-tongued: for such haue destroyed many that were at peace.

16 The double tongue hath disquieted manie, & driuen them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it broken downe, & ouerthrowen the houses of great men: [the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and bene the decaye of mightie nations.]

17 The double tongue hath cast out many vertuous womē, & robbed the of their labours.

18 Who so hearkeneth vnto it, shal neuer finde rest, and neuer dwel quietly.

19 The stroke of the rodde maketh markes in the flesh, but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

20 There be many that haue perished by the edge of the sworde, but not so many as haue fallen by the tongue.

21 Wel is him that is kept from an euil tongue, & commeth not in the anger thereof, which hath not drawn in that yoke, neither hath bene bounde in the bandes thereof.

22 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of yron, and the bandes of it are bandes of brass.

23 The death thereof is an euil death: hell were better then such one.

24 It shal not haue rule ouer them that feare God, neither shall they be burnt with the flame thereof.

25 Such as forsake the Lord, shall fall therein: and it shal burne them, and no man shal be able to quench it: it shal fall vpon them as a lyon, and deuoure them as a leopard.

26 Hedge thy possession with thornes, and make doores and barres for thy mouth.

27 Binde vp thy flouer and gold, and weigh thy wordes in a balance, and make a doore and a barre, [and a sure bridle] for thy mouth.

28 Beware that thou slide not by it, and so fall before him that lieth in wayte, [and thy fall be incurable, euen vnto death.]

CHAP. XXIX.

Do lend money, and do almes. 15 Of a faithfull man answering for his friend. 24 The poore mans life.

1 HE that will shew mercie, || lendeth to his neighbour: and he that hath power ouer him selfe, keepeth the commandementes.

2 Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.

3 Keepe thy worde, and deale faithfully with him, and thou shalt alway find the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 Many when a thing was lent them, reckened it to be found, & grieved them that had helped them.

5 Till they receiue, they kisse his hands, and for their neighbours good they humble their voyce: but when they should pay againe, they prolong the terme, and giue a careles answer, & make excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, & reckoneth the other as a thing found: els he deceiueth him of his money, and maketh him an enemy without a cause: he paieth him with cursing & rebuke, & giueth him euill words for his good deed.

7 There be many which refuse to lend because of this incontinencie, fearing to be defrauded without cause.

8 Yet haue thou patience with him that humbleth himself, & deferre not mercy fro him.

9 Helpe the poore for 7 commandementes sake, & turn him not away, because of his povertie.

10 Lose thy money for thy brothers & neighbours sake, & let it not rust vnder a stone to thy destruction.

11 Bestowe the treasure after the commandement of the most High, and it shal bring thee more profite then golde.

12 Lay vp thine almes in thy secret chambers, & it shal keepe thee from all affliction.

13 [A mans almes is as a purse with him, & shal keepe a mans fauour as the apple of the eye, and afterwarde shall it arise, and paye every man his reward vpon his head.]

14 It shal fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a strong man, or speare of the mightie.

15 An honest man is || surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent, forsaketh him.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy surety: for he hath layed his life for thee.

17 The wicked despiseth the good deed of his surety.

18 The wicked will not become surety: & he that is of an vnthankfull minde, forsaketh him that deliuered him.

19 [Some man promisseth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he will forsake him.]

20 Suretieshippe hath destroyed many a rich man, and remoued them as the waues of the sea: mightie men hath it driuen away from their houses, and caused them to wander among strange nations.

Health.

- 21 A wicked man, transgressing the cōmandements of y<sup>e</sup> Lord, shall fall into suretieshippe; and he that medleth much with other mens busines, is intangled in controuerfies.
- 22 Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not.
- 23 * The chiefe thing of life is water, & bread, and clothing, & lodging to couer thy shame.
- 24 ¶ The poore mans life in his owne lodge is better then delicate fare in another mans.
- 25 Be it litle or much, holde thee contented, that the house speake not euill of thee.
- 26 For it is a miserable life to go from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou darrest not open thy mouth.
- 27 Thou shalt lodge and feede vnthankfull men, and after shalt haue bitter wordes for the same, saying.
- 28 Come, thou stranger, & prepare the table, and feede me of that thou hast readie.
- 29 Giue place, thou stranger, to an honorable man: my brother cometh to be lodged, & I haue neede of mine house.
- 30 These things are heauie to a man that hath vnderstanding, the vpbraiding of the house, and the reproche of the lender.

CHAP. XXX.

Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commodities of health. 17 Death is better then a sorrowfull life. 22 Of the ioye and sorow of the heart.

- 1 HE that loueth his sonne, * causeth him oft to feele the rodde, that he may haue ioye of him in the end.
- 2 He that chastiseth his sonne, shal haue ioye in him, and shal reioyce of him among his acquaintance.
- 3 He that * teacheth his sonne, griueth theemie, and before his friends he shall reioyce of him.
- 4 Though his father dye, yet is he as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behinde him that is like him.
- 5 In his life he sawe him, and had ioye in him, and was not sorie in his death, [ neither was he ashamed before his enemies.]
- 6 He left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, and one that shoulde shew fauour vnto his friends.
- 7 He that flattereth his sonne, bindeth vp his woundes, & his heart is griued at euerie crie.
- 8 An vntamed horse will be stubburne, and a wanton childe will be wilfull.
- 9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shal make thee afraide: and if thou playe with him, he shal bring thee to heauines.
- 10 Laugh not with him, lest thou be sorie with him, & lest thou gnash thy teeth in the end.
- 11 * Giue him no libertie in his youth, & winkle not at his folie.
- 12 Bowe downe his necke while he is yong, & beate him on the sides, while he is a childe, lest he waxe stubburne, and be disobedient vnto thee, & so bring sorowe to thine heart.
- 13 Chastise thy childe, and be diligent therein, lest his shame griue thee.
- 14 ¶ Better is the poore, being whole & strōg, then a rich man that is afflicted in his bodie.
- 15 Health and strength is about all golde, & a - whole bodie about infinite treasure.

- 16 There is no riches about a sound bodie, & no ioye about the ioye of the heart.
- 17 Death is better then a bitter life, [and long rest,] then continual sicknes.
- 18 The good things y<sup>e</sup> are powred on a mouth shut vp, are as melses of meat set vpō a graue.
- 19 What good doeth the offering vnto an idole? for he can neither ear, nor smel: so is he that is persecuted of the Lord, [ & beareth the reward of iniquitie.]
- 20 He seeth with his eyes, & groneth like * a gelled man, that lieth with a virgin & sigheth.
- 21 * Giue not ouer thy minde to heauines, and vex not thy selfe in thine owne counsel.
- 22 The ioye of the heart is the life of man, & a mans gladnes is the prolonging of his dayes.
- 23 Loue thine own soule, & cōfort thine heart: driue sorowe farre from thee: for sorow hath slayne many, and there is no profite therein.
- 24 Enuie and wrath shorten the life, and carefulesnes bringeth age before the time.
- 25 A noble and good heart will haue consideration of his meat and diet.

CHAP. XXXI.

Of countenances. 3 Of them that take paine to gather riches. 8 The praise of a rich man without a fault. 12 VV<sup>e</sup> ought to flee drunkennes and follow sobernes.

- 1 WAking || after riches pineth away the bodie, and the care thereof driueth away sleepe.
- 2 This waking care breaketh the sleepe, as a great sicknes breaketh the sleepe.
- 3 The riche hath great labour in gathering riches together, & in his rest he is filled with pleasures.
- 4 The poore laboureth in liuing poorely, and when he leaueth of, he is still poore.
- 5 He that loueth golde, shall not be iustified, and he that followeth corruption, shall haue ynough thereof.
- 6 * Many are destroyed by y<sup>e</sup> reason of golde, & haue found their destruction before them.
- 7 It is as a stumbling blocke vnto them that sacrifice vnto it, and euerie foole is taken therewith.
- 8 Blessed is the * riche which is found without blemish, and hath not gone after golde, [ nor hoped in money and treasures.]
- 9 Who is he, and we wil commend him? for wonderfull things hath he done among his people.
- 10 Who hath bene tryed thereby, and founde perfit: let him be an example of glorie, who might offend, and hath not offended, or do euil, and hath not done it.
- 11 Therefore shall his goods be stablished, and the congregation shall declare his almes.
- 12 If thou sit at a costlie table, || open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and saye not, Beholde much meat.
- 13 Remember that an euil eye is a shrewd: and what thing created is worse then a wicked eye? for it weepeth for euerie cause.
- 14 Stretch not thine hand wheresoeuer it looke, and thrust it not with it into the dishe.

- 1 ¶ Here shall no euill come vnto him that feareth the Lord: but when hee is in temptation, he will deliuer him againe.
- 2 A wise man hateth not the Lawe: but hee that is an hypocrite therein, is as a shippe in a storme.

- 4 As the question is made, prepare the answer, and so shalt thou be heard: be sure of the matter, and so answer.
- 5 The heart of the * foolish is like a cartewheele: and his thoughts are like a rolling axeltree.

 10 And all men are of the * ground; & Adam my wine presse, like a grape gatherer.

 16 * Beholde, how I haue not laboured only for my self, but for all them that seeke knowledge.
 17 Heare me, o ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, ye rulers of the congregation.
 18 Giue northy sonne and wife, thy brother & friend, power ouer thee while thou liuest, and giue not away thy substance to another, lest it repent thee, and thou intreat for the same againe.
 19 As long as thou liuest, and hast breath, giue not thy selfe ouer to any person.
 20 For better it is that thy children should pray vnto thee, then that thou shouldest looke vp to the handes of thy children.
 21 In all thy workes be excellent, that thine honour be neuer stayned.
 22 At the time when thou shalt end thy dayes, & finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.
 23 ¶ The fodder, the whippe and the burden belong vnto the asse: and meat, correction and worke vnto thy seruant.
 24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shal seeke libertie.
 25 The yoke and the whippe bow downe the hard necke: so tame thine euill seruant with the whippes and correction.
 26 Send him to labour, that he go not idle: for idleness bringeth much euill.
 27 See him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him: if he be not obedient, put on more heauie fetters.

28 But be not excessiue towarde any, and withour discretion do nothing.
 29 * If thou haue a faithfull seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: for in blood hast thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruant, intreat him as thy brother: for y hast neede of him, as of thy selfe. If thou intreat him euill, and he runne away, wilt thou seeke him?

CHAP. XXXIIII.

Of dreames. 13 The praise of them that feare God. 18 The of-frings of the wicked. 22 The bread of the needie. 27 God doeth not alowe the workes of an vnfaithfull man.

1 The hope of a foolish man is vaine & false, & dreames make fooles to haue wings.
 2 Who so regardeth dreames, is like him that will take holde of a shadowe, and follow after the winde.
 3 Euen so is it with y appearings of dreames, as y likenes of a face is before another face.
 4 Who can be clesed by the vnclene? or what trueth can be spoken of a liar?
 5 Southsayings, witchcraft, & dreaming is but vanitie, & a minde that is occupied with fantasies, is as a woman that trauaileth.
 6 Where as such visions come not of the most High to trie thee, set not thine heart vp to the.
 7 For dreames haue deceiued many, & they haue failed that put their trust therein.
 8 The Law shalbe fulfilled without lies, & wis-dome is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath hee that is not tried?
 9 A man that is instructed, vnderstandeth much, and he that hath good experience, can talke of wisdom.
 10 He that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreth is full of craft.
 11 When I wandered to and fro, I saw manye things, and mine vnderstanding is greater then I can expresse.
 12 I was oft times in danger of death, yet I was deliuered by these things.
 13 ¶ The spirit of those that feare the Lord, shal liue: for their hope is in him that can helpe them.
 14 Who so feareth the Lord, feareth no man, neither is afraid: for he is his hope.
 15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lord: in whom putteth he his trust? who is his strength?
 16 * For the eyes of y Lord haue respect vnto them, y loue him: he is their * mightie protection, & strong ground, a defence from the heat, and a shadow for the noone day, a succour from stumbling, & an helpe fro falling.
 17 He setteth vp the soule, and lighteneth the eyes: he giueth health, life and blessing.
 18 ¶ He y giueth an offering of vnrighteous goods, offreth a mocking sacrifice, and the giftes of the vnrighteous, please not him.
 19 [But the Lord is theirs onely, that patiently abide him in the way of trueth and righ-teousnes.]
 20 The most High doeth not alowe the of-frings of the wicked, * neither is he pacified for sinne by the multitude of sacrifice.
 21 Who so bringeth an offering of the goods of the poore, doeth as one that sacrificeth the sonne before the fathers eyes.

24 ¶ When one buyldeth, and another breaketh downe, what profit haue they then but labour?

26 * He that watheth himself because of a dead bodie, and toucheth it againe, what auaileth his washing?

27 * So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and committeth them againe: who wil heare his prayer? or what doeth his fasting helpe him?

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Of true sacrifices. 14 The prayer of the fatherles, and of the widow, and him that humbleth him selfe.

1 WHo so keepeth the Lawe, * bringeth offerings ynough: he that holdeth fast the commandements, || offreth an offering of saluation.

2 He that is thankfull to them that haue wel deserued, offreth fine flowre: * and he that giueth almes, sacrificeth praise.

3 To depart from euil is a thankfull thing to the Lord, and to forsake vnrighteousnes, is a reconciling vnto him.

4 Thou shalt not appeare emptie before the Lord.

5 For all these things are done because of the commandement.

6 * The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the smell thereof is sweete before the most High.

7 The sacrifice of the righteous is acceptable, and the remembrance thereof shal neuer be forgotten.

8 Giue the Lord his honour with a good and liberall eye, and diminish not the first frutes of thine hands.

9 * In all thy giftes shew a ioyful countenance, and dedicate thy tithes with gladnes.

10 Giue vnto the most High according as he hath enriched thee, * and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a chearefull eye.

11 For the Lord recompenseth, and will giue thee seuen times as much.

12 * Diminish nothing of thine offering: for he wil not receiue it, and abstaine from wrongfull sacrifices: for the Lord is the iudge, and regardeth no * mans persone.

13 He accepteth not the person of the poore, but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

14 He despiseth not the desire of the fatherles, nor the widowe, when shee powreth out her prayer.

15 Doeth not the teares runne downe the widowes cheekes? and her crie is against him that caused them: [ for from her cheekes do they go vp vnto heauen, and the Lord which heareth them, doeth accept them.]

16 He that serueth the Lord, shalbe accepted with fauour, and his prayer shal reache vnto the cloudes.

17 The prayer of him that humbleth himselfe, goeth thorow the cloudes, & ceaseth not till it come neere, & will not depart till the most High haue respect thereunto to iudge righteously, and to execute iudgement.

18 And the Lord wil not be slacke, nor the Almighty wil tarie long from them, till he hath smitten in sunder the loynes of the vnmercifull, and auenged himselfe of the heathen, till he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the scepter of the vnrighteous, till he giue euery man after his works, and rewarde them after their deuises, till he haue iudged the cause of his people, & comforted them with his mercie.

19 Oh, how faire a thing is mercie in the time of anguish and trouble! It is like a cloude of raine, that cometh in the time of a drought.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 A prayer to God in the person of all faithfull men, against shafts that persecute his Church. 22 The praise of a good woman.

1 HAue mercie vpon vs, O Lord God of all things, & beholde vs, and [ shew vs the light of thy mercies, ]

2 And send thy feare || among the nations, w<sup>ch</sup> Against the seeke not after thee, [ that they may know that there is no God but thou, and that they maye shewe thy wonderous workes. ]

3 Lift vp thine * had vpon the strange nations, that they may see thy power.

4 As thou art sanctified in vs before them, so be thou magnified among them before vs,

5 That they maye knowe thee, as we knowe thee: for there is none other God but only thou, O Lord.

6 Renew the signes, & chage the w<sup>ch</sup> shew the glory of thine hand, & thy right arme, y<sup>et</sup> they maye shewe forth thy wonderous actes.

7 Raise vp thine indignation, and powre our wrath: take away the aduersarie, and smite the enemye.

8 Make the time short: remeber thine othe, that thy wonderous workes may be praised.

9 Let the wrath of the fire consume them that escape, and let them perish that oppresse the people.

10 Smite in sunder the heades of the princes that be our enemies, and say, There is none other but we.

11 || Gather all the tribes of Iacob together, [ y<sup>et</sup> Against the they may know that there is none other God but onely thou, and that they may shew thy wonderous workes, ] & inherit thou them as from the beginning.

12 O Lord, haue mercie vpon the people, that is called by thy Name, & vpon Israel, * whom thou hast likened to a first borne sonne.

13 Oh, be mercifull vnto Ierusalem the cite of thy Sanctuarie, the cite of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion, that it may magnifie thine oracles, and fill thy people with thy glory.

15 Giue witness vnto those that y<sup>et</sup> hast possessed from the beginning, & raise vp the prophetes that haue bene shewed in thy Name.

16 Reward them that wait for thee, that thy Prophets may be found faithfull.

17 O Lord, heare the prayer of thy seruants accor-according to the blessing of Aaron over thy people, [and guide] shovels in ways of righteousness: that all they which dwell vpon the earth may knowe that thou art the Lord the eternall God.

18 ¶ The bellie deuoureth almeates, yet is one meate better then an other.

19 As the throte taketh venison, so doeth a wise minde discerne false wordes.

20 A forward heart bringeth griefe, but a man of experience will resist it.

21 A woman is apt to receiue euill: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 The beautie of a woman chereth the face, and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there be in her tongue gentleness, meekenes, and wholesome talke, then is nox her husband like other men.

24 He that hath gotten a [vergius] woman, hath begun to get a possession: she is an help like vnto himselfe, and a pillar to rest vpon.

25 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled: and he that hath no wife, wandereth to and fro mourning.

26 Who will trust a thiefe that is alway ready and wandereth from towne to towne, and likewise him, that hath no rest, and lodgeth, wherefoeuer the night taketh him?

CHAP. XXXVII.

Howe a man should knowe friends and counsellors. 18 To keepe his companie that feareth God.

1 Verie friend faith, || I am a friend vnto him also: but there is some friend, which is onely a friend in name.

2 Remaineth there not heauines vnto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?

3 O wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to couer the earth with deceit?

4 There is some companie which in prosperitie reioycesth with his friend: but in the time of trouble he is against him.

5 There is some companie that helpeth his friend for the bellies sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemy.

6 Forget not thy friend in thy minde, & thinke vpon him in thy ryches.

7 Seeke || no counsell at him of whom thou art suspected, and disclose not thy counsell vnto such as hate thee.

8 ¶ Euery counseler prayeth his owne counsell: but there is some that counsleth for him selfe.

9 Beware of the counseler, and be aduised afore whereto thou wilt vse him: for he will counsell for him selfe, least hee cast the lot vpon thee.

10 And say vnto thee, Thy way is good, and afterward he stand against thee, and looke what shall become of thee.

11 [Aske no counsell for religion of him, that is without religion, nor of iustice, of him that hath no iustice, nor of a woma touching her of who the is ielous, nor of a coward in matters of warre, nor of a marchant concerning exchange, nor of a bier for the sale, nor of an enuious man touching thankfulness, nor of the ymmercifull touching kindness, nor of an rebovsh of honestie, nor of the flouthfull for any labour, nor of an idler for the finishing of a worke, nor of an idler for the much busines: hearken vnto these in any matter of counsell.]

12 But be continuall with a goodly man, whose thou knowest to keepe the commaundments of the Lord, whose minde is according to thy minde, and is sorie for thee when thou stumblest.

13 Take counsell of thine own heart for thee: is no man more faithfull vnto thee, then it.

14 For a mans minde is sometime more accustomed to these more then seven watchmen that sit aboue in an high towre.

15 And aboue all this way to the most High, that he will direct thy way in truth.

16 Let reason go before euery enterprise, and counsell before euery action.

17 ¶ The [changing] of the countenance is a signe of the changing of the heart: foure things appeare, good and euill, life & death; but the tongue hath euen more the gouernement ouer them.

18 ¶ Some man is witty, and hath instructed many, and yet is vnprofitable vnto himselfe.

19 Some man will be wise in wordes, and is hated, yea, he is destitute of all fooode.

20 Because grace is not giue him of the Lord: for he is destitute of all wisdom.

21 An other is wyle for him selfe, and the fruites of vnderstanding are faithfull in his mouth.

22 A wise man instructeth his people, and the fruites of his wisdom faile not.

23 A wise man shall bee plenteously blessed, and all they that see him, shall thinke him blessed.

24 The life of man standeth in the number of dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wise man shall obtaine credite among his people, and his name shalbe perpetual.

26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy life, and see what is euil for it, & permit it not to do it.

27 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.

28 Be not || grieved in all delites, and be not to hasty vpon all meates.

29 ¶ For excess of meates bringeth sickness, and gluttony commeth into cholerike diseases.

30 By surfer haue manie perished: but he that dieteth him selfe, prolongeth his life.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

A Physicion is commendable. 18 To bury the dead, 24 The wisdom of him that is learned.

1 Honour the || Physicion with that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessity: for the Lord hath created him.

2 For of the most High commeth healing, & he shall receiue gifts of the King.

3 The knowledge of the Physicion lifteth vp his head, and in the sight of great men he shalbe in admiration.

2. With such doeth he heal men, and taketh dead, and beginne to mourne; as if thou haddest suffred great harme thy self; & then couer his body according to his appointmet, and neglect not his buriall.

12. Make a grievous lamentation; and be earnest in mourning, and vie lamentation as he is worthe, and that a daie or two, least thou be euill spoken of, and then comfort thy selfe for thine heauines.
13. For of heauines commeth death, and the heauines of the heart breaketh y strength.
14. Of the affection of the heart commeth so-row, and the life of him that is afflicted, is according to his heart.
15. Take no heauines to heart: driue it away and remember the last end.
16. Forget it not; for there is no turning againe: thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.
17. Remember his iudgement: thine also shall be likewise, vnto me yester daie, and vnto thee to day.
18. * Seeing the dead is at rest, let him remember rest, & comfort thy selfe againe for him, when his spirit is departed from him.
19. ¶ The wisdom of a learned man commeth by vsing well his vacant time: and hee that ceaseth from his owne matters and labour, may come by wisdom.
20. How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, and hee that hath pleasure in the goade, and in driving oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and talketh but of the breed of bullockes?
21. He giueth his minde to make forowes, and is diligent to giue the kine fodder.
22. So is it of euerie carpenter, and workemaster that laboureth night and day: and they showe out, and graue scales, and make sonde diuinities; and giue them selues to counteraunce, & watch to performe y worke.

23. The smith in like manner abideth by his anuill, and doeth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fyre drieth his flesh, and he must fight with the heat of the for-ness: the noyse of the hammer is euer in his eares, & his eyes looke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he seetheth his mind to make vp his workes: therefore he watcheth to polish perfectly.
24. So doeth the potter sit by his worke: he turneth y wheele about with his feet: he is carefull alwaye at his worke, and maketh his worke by number.
25. He fashioneth the clay with his arme, & with his feete he tempereth the hardnes thereof:
his heart imagineth howe to couer it w lead,
and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.
26. All these hope in their hands, and euerie one bestoweth his wisdom in his worke.
27. Withouthese can not the cities be mainteined, nor inhabited, nor occupied.
28. And yet they are not asked their iudge-ment in the counsell of the people; neither are they he in the congregation; neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates, nor vnder-stand the order of iustice: they can not declare matters according to the forme of the Lawe, and they are not meete for harde matters.
29. But they mainteine the state of the worlde, and their desire is concerning their worke & occupation.
CHAP. XXXIX.
1. A wise man, 16 The workes of God, 24 Vnto the good,

2. HE onely that applieth his minde to the so shal he meditate in his secretes.

depart away: but his name shall continue from generation to generation.

- 10 * The congregation shall declare his wisdom, and shewe it.
- 11 Though he be dead, he shall leaue a greater fame then a thousand: and if he liue still, he shall get the same.
- 12 Yet wil I speake of mo things: for I am full as the moone.
- 13 Harken vnto me, ye holy children, and bring forth fruit, as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the field,
- 14 And giue ye a sweete smell as "incense, and bring forth flowres as the lillie: giue a smell and sing a song of praise: blesse the Lord in all his workes.
- 15 Giue honour vnto his Name, and shewe forth his praise with the songs of your lippes, and with harpes, and ye shall saye after this maner,
- 16 * All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commandements are done in due season.
- 17 And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time conuenient they shall all be sought out: at his comādemēt the water stode as an heape, and at the word of his mouth the waters gathered them felues.
- 18 His whole fauour appeared by his commandement, and none can diminish that which he will saue.
- 19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.
- 20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, & there is nothing wonderfull vnto him.
- 21 A mā neede not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their owne vse.
- 22 His blessing shal runne ouer as the streame, and moysen the earth like a flood.
- 23 As he hath turned the waters into saltnes, so shall the heathen feelee his wrath.
- 24 As his wayes are plaine and right vnto the iust, so are they stumbling blockes to the wicked.
- 25 ¶ For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the sinners.
- 26 * The principall things for the whole vse of mans life is water, fyre, and yron, and salt, & meale, wheat and hony, & milke, the bloud of the grape, and oyle, and clothing.
- 27 All these thinges are for good to the godlie: but to the sinners they are turned vnto euill.
- 28 There be spirites that are created for vengeance, which in their rigour laye on sure strokes: in the time of destruction they shew forth their power, and accomplish the wrath of him that made them.
- 29 Fyre, and hayle, and famine, and death: all these are created for vengeance.
- 30 The teeth of wilde beastes, and the scorpions, and the serpentes, and the sworde execute vengeance for the destruction of the wicked.
- 31 They shalbe glad to do his commandemēts: and when neede is, they shalbe ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commandement.

- 32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage. vnto me from the beginning, & haue thought on these things, & haue put them in writing.
- 33 * All the workes of the Lord are good, and he giueth euery one in due season, and when neede is:
- 34 So that a man neede not to saye, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all worthy praise.
- 35 And therefore praise the Lord with whole heart and mouth, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

Many miseries in mans life. 14. Of the blessing of the righteous and prerogative of the feare of God.

- 1 Great ¶ trauail is created for all men, and ¶ The miseries of mans life.
- 2 Can heaue yoke vpo the sonnes of Adam from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, till the day that they retorne to the mother of all things,
- 3 Namely their thoughts, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of the things they waite for, and the day of death,
- 4 From him that sitteth vpon the glorious throne, vnto him that is beneath in y<sup>e</sup> earth and ashes:
- 5 From him that is clothed in blewes filke, & weareth a crowne, euen vnto him that is clothed in simple linnen.
- 6 Wrath and enuie, trouble, and vnquietnes, and feare of death, and rigour, and strife, and in the time of rest the sleepe in the night vpon his bed, change his knowledge.
- 7 A litle or nothing is his rest, and afterward in sleeping he is as in a watchtowre in y<sup>e</sup> day: he is troubled with the visions of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battel.
- 8 And when all is safe, he awaketh, and maruileth that the feare was nothing.
- 9 Such things come vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but seuē folde to the vngodly:
- 10 Moreouer, * death and bloud, and strife, & sworde, oppression, famine, destruction, and punishment.
- 11 These things are all created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the * flood also.
- 12 * All things that are of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: and they that are of the waters, shall retorne into the sea.
- 13 ¶ All bribes and vnrighteousnes shalbe put away: but ¶ faithfulness shal endure for euer. ¶ Faithfulness.
- 14 The substance of the vngodly shalbe dried vp like a riuer, and they shall make a founde like a great thunder in the raine.
- 15 Whē he openeth his hād, he reioyceth: but all the transgressours shall come to naught.
- 16 The children of the vngodly shall not obtaine manie branches: for y<sup>e</sup> vnclane roores are as vpon the high rockes.
- 17 Their tender stalke by what water soeuer it be or water banke, it shalbe pulled vp before all other herbes.
- 18 ¶ Friendlines is as a most plentiful garden of pleasure, and mercie endureth for euer.
- 19 * To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweete life: but he that fin-

- 19 Children, and the buylding of the cite maketh a perpetuall name: but an honest woman is counted about them both.
- 20 Wine and musike reioyce the heart: but the loue of wisdom is about them both.
- 21 The pipe and the psalterion make a sweete noyse: but a pleasant tongue is about them both.
- 22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beautie: but a greene seede time, rather then them both.
- 23 A friend, and companion come together at opportunitie: but about them both is a wife with her husband.
- 24 Friends & helpe are good in y<sup>e</sup> time of trouble, but almes shall deliuer more then them both.
- 25 Golde and siluer fasten the feete: but counsell is esteemed about them both.
- 26 Riches and strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lorde is about them both: there is no want in the feare of the Lord, & it needeth no helpe.
- 27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and there is nothing so beautifull as it is.
- 28 My sonne, leade not a beggars life: for better it were to die then to begge.
- 29 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for he tormenteth him selfe after other mens meate: but a wife mā and wel nourtured, wil beware thereof.
- 30 Begging is sweete in the mouth of the vnshamefast, & in his belly there burneth a fire.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 2 Death is not to be feared. 3 A curse vpon them that forsake the Lawe of God. 4 Good name and fame. 5 An exhortation to giue heede vnto wisdom. 6 Of what things a man ought to be ashamed.

¶ Of death.

- 1 O Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a mā that liueth at rest in his possessions, vnto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that yet is able to receiue meate!
- 2 O death, how acceptable is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, & vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in the last age, and is vexed with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience!
- 3 Feare not the iudgement of death: remember them that haue bene before thee, & that come after: this is the ordinance of the Lord ouer all flesh.
- 4 And why woudest thou be against y<sup>e</sup> pleasure of the most High? whether it be ten or an hundred, or a thousand yeres, there is no defense for life against the graue.
- 5 The children of the vngodlie are abominable children, and so are they that keepe companie with the vngodlie.
- 6 The inheritance of vngodlie children shall perish, and their posteritie shall haue a perpetuall shame.
- 7 The children complaine of an vngodlie father, because they are reproched for his sake.
- 8 Wo be vnto you, o y<sup>e</sup> vngodlie, which haue foraken the Lawe of the most high God: for though you increase, yet shall you perish. If ye be borne, ye shall be borne to cursing: if ye dye, the curse shall be your portion.

10 All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: so the vngodlie go from the curse to destruction.

11 Though men mourne for their bodie, yet y<sup>e</sup> wicked name of the vngodlie shall be put out.

12 Haue regarde to thy name: for that shall continue with thee about a thousand treasures of golde.

13 A good life hath the dayes numbered: but a good name endureth euer.

14 My children, keepe wisdom in peace: for wisdom that is hid, & a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnes, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore beare reuerence vnto my words: for it is not good in all things to be ashamed: neither are all things allowed as faithfull in all men.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father & mother: be ashamed of lies before y<sup>e</sup> prince and men of authoritie.

18 Of sinne before the iudge and ruler: of offence before the congregation and people: of vnrighteousnes before a companion and friend.

19 And of theft before the place where thou dwellest, and before the trueth of God & his couenant, and to leane with thine elbows vpon the bread, or to be reproued for giuing or taking,

20 And of silence vnto them that salute thee, and to looke vpon an harlot,

21 And to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take away a portion or a gift, or to be euil minded toward another mans wife.

22 Or to sollicite any mans maide, or to stand by her bed, or to reproche thy friendes with wordes, 23 Or to vpbraide when thou giuest any thing, or to report a matter that thou hast heard, or to reuile secret wordes.

24 Thus maiest thou well be shamefast, & shalt finde fauour with men.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The Lawe of God must be taught. 2 A daughter. 3 A woman. 4 God knoweth all things, yea, men the secrets of thine heart.

1 Of these things be not thou ashamed, neither haue regarde to offend for any person:

2 Of the Lawe of the most High and his couenant, & of iudgement to iustifie the godlie: Of the cause of thy companion, & of strangers, or of distributing the heritage among friends:

4 To be diligent to keepe true balance, and weight, whether thou haue much or litle: To sell marchandise at an indifferent price, and to correct thy children diligently, and to beate an euill seruant to the bloud:

6 To set a good locke where an euill wife is, & to locke where many hands are:

7 If y<sup>e</sup> giue anie thing by number, & weight, to put all the children of the vngodlie.

- put all in wricing, both that that is given out,
and that that is receiued againe:
- 8 To teach the vnlearned, and the vnwise, &
the aged, that consende against the yong;
thus shal thou be well instructed, and approued of all men liuing.
- 9 ¶ The daughter maketh y father to watch secretly, and the carefulnes that he hath for her, taketh away his sleepe in the youth, least she should passe the flower of her age: and when she hath an husband, least she should be hated:
- 10 In her virginie, least shee should be defiled, or gotten with childe in her fathers house, & when she is with her husband, least she misbehaue her selfe: & when she is married, least she continue vnfruitfull.
- 11 ¶ If thy daughter be vnthamefast, keepe her straitly, least shee cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scorne, and make thee a common talke in the cite, and disfaime thee, among the people, and bring thee to publike shame.
- 12 ¶ Behold not euerie bodie beautie, & com-panie not among women.
- 13 For as the moth commeth out of garments:
so doeth wickednes of the woman.
- 14 The wickednes of a man is better then the good intreacie of a woman, to wit, of a womā that is in shame, and reproche.
- 15 ¶ I will remember the workes of the Lord, and declare the thing that I haue scene: by the worde of the Lord are his workes.
- 16 The sunne that shineth, looketh vpon all things, and all the worke thereof is full of the glorie of the Lord.
- 17 Hath not the Lord appointed y his Saints
all his wonderous workes, which the almightie Lord hath stablished to doe all things by in his maiestie?
- 18 He seeketh out the depth, and the heart, &
he knoweth their practises: for the Lorde knoweth all science, and he beholdeth the signes of the world.
- 19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, & discloseth the paths of things that are secret.
- 20 ¶ No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.
- 21 He hath garnished the excellent workes of his wisdom, and he is from euerlasting to euerlasting, and for euer: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can he be minished:
he hath no neede of any counseler.
- 22 Oh, how delectable are all his workes, & to be considered euen vnto the sparkes of fyre!
- 23 They liue all, & endure for euer: & whensoeuer neede is, they are all obedient.
- 24 They are all double, one against another: he hath made nothing that hath any faute.
- 25 The one commendeth the goodnes of the other, and who can be satisfied with beholding Gods glorie?
- 26 The sunne also, a maruileous instrument when it appeareth, declareth, at his going out, the worke of the most High.
- 27 At noone it burneth the country, and who may abide for the heate thereof?
- 28 The sunne burneth the mountaines three times more then he that keepeth a fornicie with continual heat: it casteth out the fire vapours, and with the shining beames blindeth the eyes.
- 29 Great is the Lord that made it, & by his co-mandement he causeth it to runne hastily.
- 30 ¶ The moone also hath he made to appeare according to her season, that it should be a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world.
- 31 The feasts are appointed by the moone: y light thereof diminisheth vnto the end.
- 32 The moneth is called after y name thereof, and groweth wonderfully in her changing.
- 33 It is a campe pitched on high, shining in the firmament of heauen: the beautie of Heauen are the glorious staries, and the ornament that shineth in the high places of the Lorde.
- 34 By the commandement of the Holie one they continue in their order, and faile not in their watche.
- 35 ¶ Looke vpon the raine bowe, and praise him that made it: verie beautifull is it in the brightnes thereof.
- 36 ¶ It compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, and the handes of the moste High haue bended it.
- 37 ¶ Through his commandement he maketh the snowe to haste, and sendeth swiftly the lightning of his iudgement.
- 38 Therefore he openeth his treasures, and the cloudes flie forth as the foules.
- 39 In his power hath he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the haile stones.
- 40 The mountaines leape at the sight of him:
the Southwinde bloweth according to his will.
- 41 The sound of his thunder beareth y earth:
so doth the storme of the North: the whirle-winde also, as birdes that flie, scattereth the snowe, and the falling downe thereof is as the grasshoppers that light downe.
- 42 The eye maruileth at the beautie of the whitenes thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raine of it.
- 43 He also powreth out the frost vpo the earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it sticketh on the toppes of pales.
- 44 When the colde North winde bloweth, an yce is frozen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, & clotheth the waters as with a breastplate.
- 45 It deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wilderness, and destroyeth that that is greene, like fyre.
- 46 The remedie of all these is when a clowde
commeth hastily, and when a dewe cometh vpon the heat, it refresheth it.
- 47 [By his word he stilleth the winde:] by his counsel he appeaseth the deepe, and plant-eth ylands therein.

CHAP. XLIII.

The sunne of the creation of the workes of God.

1 This high ornament || the cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauen so glorious to beholde,

- 24 They that saile ouer the sea, tel of the perils thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we maruile thereat.
- 25 For there be strange, & wonderous works, diuers manner of beastes, and the creation of whales.
- 26 Through him are all thinges directed to a good end, & are stablished by his word.
- 27 And when we haue spoken much, we can not attaine vnto them: but this is the summe of all, that he is all.
- 28 What power haue we to praise him: for he is aboue all his workes?
- 29 The Lord is terrible, and verie great, * and maruillous is his power.
- 30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye can, yet doeth he farre exceede: exalt him with all your power; and be not wearie, yet can ye not attaine vnto it.
- 31 * Who hath seene him, that he might tell vs? and who can magnifie him as he is?
- 32 For there are hid yet greater thinges then these be, and we haue seene but a fewe of his workes.
- 33 For the Lord hath made all thinges, and giue wisdom to such as feare God.

CHAP. XLIII.

The praise of certain holie men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

- 1 L Erys now commend the famous men, & our fathers, of whom we are begotten.
- 2 The Lord hath gottē great glorie by them, and that through his great power from the beginning.
- 3 They haue borne rule in their kingdomes, and were renowned for their power; and were wise in counsel, & declared prophecies.
- 4 They gouerned the people by counsel; & by the knowledge of learning meete for the people, in whose doctrine were wise sentences.
- 5 They inuented the melodie of musike, and expounded the verses that were written.
- 6 They were richē and mighty in power, and liued quietly at home.
- 7 All these were honourable men in their generations, and were wel reported of in their times.
- 8 There are of them that haue left a name behinde them; so that their praise shall be spoken of.
- 9 There are some also which haue no memorial, * and are perished, as though they had neuer bene, and are become as though they had neuer bene borne, and their children after them.
- 10 But the former were mercifull men, whose righteousness hath not bene forgotten.
- 11 For whose posteritie a good inheritance is reserved, and their seede is contained in the covenant.
- 12 Their stocke is contained in the covenant, and their posteritie after them.
- 13 Their seede shal remaine for euer, and their praise shall neuer be taken away.
- 14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.
- 15 * The people speake of their wisdom, and the congregation talke of their praise.

- 16 Enoch pleased the Lord God: therefore was he translated for an example of repentance to the generations.
- 17 Noe was found perfite, and in the time of wrath he had a reward: therefore was he left as a remnant vnto the earth, when the flood came.
- 18 An euerlasting covenant was made with him; that all flesh should perish no more by the flood.
- 19 Abraham was a * great father of many people: in glorie was there none like vnto him.
- 20 He kept the Law of the most High, and was in covenant with him, and he set the covenant in his flesh; and in temptation hee was found faithfull.
- 21 Therefore he assured him by an * othe, that he would blesse the nations in his seede, and that he would multiplie him as the dust of earth, & exalt his seede as the starres, & caule them to inherite from sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the end of the world.
- 22 * With Isaac did he confirme likewise for Abraham his fathers sake, the blessing of all men, and the covenant.
- 23 And caused it to rest vpon the head of Jacob, and * made him felt known by his blessing, and gaue him an heritage and deuided his portions, * and parted them among the twelue tribes.
- 24 And he brought out of him a * mercifull man, which found sauour in the sight of all flesh.

CHAP. XLV.

The praise of Moses, Aaron, and Phinees.

- 1 AND Moyse, the * beloved of God and men, brought he forth, whose remembrance is blessed.
- 2 He made him like to the Lord, and magnified him by the fear of him.
- 3 By his wordes hee caused the people to cease, and he made him * glorious in the sight of Kings, and gaue him commandements for his people, and shewed him his glorie.
- 4 * He sanctified him with faithfulness, and meekenes, and chose him out of all men.
- 5 Hee caused him to heare his voyce, and brought him into the darke cloude, * & there he gaue him the comandements before his face, euen the Lawe of life and knowledge, that he might teach Jacob the covenant, & Israel his iudgements.
- 6 He exalted Aaron an holie man like vnto him, euen his * brother of the tribe of Leui.
- 7 An euerlasting covenant made he with him, and gaue him the priesthode among the people, & made him blessed through his comely ornament, and clothed him with the garment of honour.
- 8 He put perfite ioye vpon him, and girded him with ornaments of strength, as with breeches, and a tunicle, and an ephod.
- 9 He compassed him about with belles of gold, and with many belles round about, * that when he went in, the sound might be heard, and might make a noyse in the Sanctuarie, for a remembrance to the children of Israel his people,
- 10 And with an holie garment, with gold also, and and blue filke, and purple, and diuers kindes of workes, and with a breastplate of iudgement, and with the signes of trueth, 11 And with the worke of skarlet cunningly wrought, and wth precious stones grauen like scales, & set in golde by goldefinishes worke for a memoriall, with a writing grauen after the number of the tribes of Israel.

12 And with a crowne of gold vpon the mitre, bearing the forme and marke of holines, an ornament of honour, a noble worke garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there no such faire ornaments: there might no stranger put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices were wholly consumed euery daie twice continually.

15 * Moyses filled his hands, & anointed him with holie oyle: this was appointed vnto him by an euerlasting covenant, and to his seede, so long as the heauens should remaine, that he should minister before him, and also to execute the office of the priesthode, & blesse his people in his name.

16 Before all men liuing the Lord chose him that he should present offerings before him, and a sweete sauour for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.

17 * He gaue him also his commandementes & authoritie according to 5 Lawes appointed, that he should teach Iacob the testimonies, and giue light vnto Israel by his Lawe.

18 * Strangers stood vpon against him, & enuied him in the wilderness, euen the men y<sup>e</sup> tooke Dathans and Abirams part, and the companie of Core in furie and rage.

19 The Lord sawe, and it displeased him, his wrathful indignation were they kindled: he did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fire flame.

20 * But he made Aaron more honourable, & gaue him an heritage, & parted y<sup>e</sup> first fruites of the first borne vnto him: vnto him specially he appointed bread in abundance.

21 For the Priesthe did eate of the sacrifices of y<sup>e</sup> Lord, w<sup>ch</sup> he gaue vnto him and to his seede.

22 * Els had he none heritage in the land of his people, neither had he any part among the people: for the Lord is the portion of his inheritance.

23 The third in glorie is * Phineas the sonne of Eleazar, because he had zeale in the feare of the Lord, and stood vpon with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chiefe of the Sanctuary and of his people, and that he & his posteritie should haue the dignitie of the Priesthode for euer.

25 And according to the cōuenant made with Dauid, that the inheritance of the kingdome should remaine to his sonne of the tribe of Iuda: so the heritage of Aaron should be to the onely sonne of his sonne, & to his seede. God giue vs wisdom in our hearts to iudge his people in righteousness, that the good thinges that they haue, bee not abolished, and that their glorie maye endure for their posteritie.

CHAP. XLVI.

The praise of Iosue, Caleb, and Samuel.

1 Iesus || * the sonne of Naue was valiant in the warres, and was the successeur of Moyses in propheties, who according vnto his name, was a great sauour of y<sup>e</sup> elect of God, to take vengeance of the enemies that rose vp against them, and to set Israel in their inheritance.

2 * What glorie gate he, when he liſt vp his hand, & drew out his sword against y<sup>e</sup> cities? Who was there before him, like to him? for he fought the battels of the Lord.

3 * Stoode not the sunne still by his meanes, and one day was as long as two?

4 He called vnto the most high Gouverneur when y<sup>e</sup> enemies pressed vp<sup>on</sup> him on euerie side, & the mightie Lord heard him with the haile stones, and with mightie power.

5 He rushed in vpon the nations in battell, & in the going down of Bethoron he destroyed the aduersaries, that they might knowe his weapons, and that he fought in the fight of the Lord: for he followed the Almightye.

6 * In the time of Moyses also he did a good worke: he and Caleb the sonne of Iephurie stood against the enemy, and withheld the people from sinne, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

7 * And of six hundred thousand people of foote, they two were preferred to bring the into the heritage, euen into the land y<sup>e</sup> floweth with milke and hony.

8 * The Lord gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his old age, so that hee went vp into the high places of the lande and his seede obtained it for an heritage.

9 That all the children of Israel might see, that it is good to followe the Lord.

10 Concerning the Iudges, euen one by name, whose heart went not a whirling, nor departed from the Lord, their memorie be blessed.

11 Let their bones flourish out of their place, and their names by succession remaine to them that are most famous of their childre.

12 * Samuel the Prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, * ordeined Kings, & anointed the princes ouer his people.

13 By the Lawe of the Lord hee iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Iacob.

14 This Prophet was approued for his faithfulness, and he was knowne faithfull in his wordes and visions.

15 * He called vpon the Lord Almightye, when his enemies pressed vp<sup>on</sup> him on euery side, when he offered the sucking lambe.

16 And the Lord thundered from heauen, and made his voyce to bee heard with a great noyse.

17 So hee discasted the princes of the Tyrims, and all the rulers of the Philistims.

18 * And before his long sleepe he made pro-

5 For he called vpon the most high Lorde, which gaue him strenght in his right hand, to slay that mightie warriour, & that he might set vp the horne of his people againe.

6 * So he gaue him the praise of ten thousand and honoured him with * great prayles, and gaue him a crowne of glorie.

1 Chron. 16. 4.

7 || For he destroyed the enemies on every side, and rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder vnto this day.

8 In all his workes he prayesd the Holy one, and the most High with honorable wordes, and with his whole heart he sung songs, and loued him that made him.

9 * He set singers also before the altar, & according to their tune he made sweete songs, that they might prayse God daily with their songes.

10 He ordeined to keepe the feast daies comely, and appointed the times perfectly, that they might prayse the holy Name of God, and make the Temple to sound in the morning.

1 Sam. 17. 17.

11 * The Lord tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the royaume of the kingdome, and the throne of glorie in Israel.

12 After him rose vp a wise sonne, who by him dwelt in a large possession.

|| Salomon.
1 King. 4. 31.

13 || * Salomon reigned in a peaceable time, & was glorious: for God made all quiet round about, that he might builde an house in his Name, and prepare the Sanctuarie for euer.

1 King. 4. 39.

14 * How wise wast thou in thy youth, and wast filled with vnderstanding as with a flood!

1 King. 4. 31.

15 Thy mind couered the whole earth, & hath filled it with graue and darke sentences.

16 Thy Name went abroade in the yles, and for thy peace thou wast beloued.

1 King. 10. 27.

17 * The countreis marueiled at thee for thy songes, and prouerbes, and similitudes, and interpretations.

18 By the Name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou hast * gathered golde as tinne, and hast had as much siluer as lead.

19 * Thou diddest bowe thy loines to women, and wast ouercome by thy bodie.

20 Thou diddest staine thine honour, and hast defiled thy posteritie, & hast brought wrath vpon thy children, and hast felt sorowe for thy folie.

21 * So the kingdome was deuided, and Ephraim began to be a rebellious kingdome.

22 * Neuertheles the Lord left not of his mercie, neither was he destroyed for his workes, neither did he abolishe the posteritie of his elect, nor tooke away the seede of him that loued him, but he left a remnant vnto Iacob, and a roote of him vnto Dauid.

23 Thus rested Salomon with his fathers, and of his seede he left behinde him || Roboam, euen the foolishnes of the people, and one that had no vnderstanding, * who turned away the people through his counsell, and || Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, * which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of sinne.

24 So that their sinnes were so much increased, that they were driuen out of the land.

25 For they fought out * wickednes, till the vengeance came vpon them.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The praise of Elias, Elisens, Ezekias and Ieris.

1 Then stode vp || Elias the Prophet as || Elias a fire, and his woide burnt like a lampe.

2 He brought a famine vpon them, and by his zeale he diminished them, for they might not away with the commandements of the Lorde.

3 By the word of the Lorde he shut the heauen, * and three times brought he the fire from heauen.

4 O Elias, how honorable art y by thy wonderful deedes! who may make his name to be like thee!

5 * Which hast raised vp the dead fro death, and by the word of the most High out of the graue:

6 Which hast brought Kings vnto destruction, and the honorable from their seate:

7 Which hast heard the rebuke of the Lorde in Sina, * and in Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:

8 * Which diddest anoint Kings that they might || recompense, and Prophets to be thy successours:

9 * Which wast taken vp in a whirle winde of syre, and in a charret of syrie horses:

10 Which wast appointed * to reprove in due season, and to pacifie the wrath of the Lords iudgement before it kindled, & to turne the heartes of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the tribes of Iacob.

11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and slept in loure: for * we shall liue.

12 * When Elias was couered with the storme, || Elisens was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was not moued for any prince, neither could any bring him into subiection.

13 Nothing could ouercome him, * and after his death his bodie prophesied.

14 He did wonders in his life, & in death were his workes maruiculous.

15 For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their finnes: * till they were caried away prisoners out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth, so that there remained but a verie few people with the prince vnto the house of Dauid.

16 Howbeit some of them did right, and some heaped vp finnes.

17 * Ezekias made his citie strong, and conueied water into the walles thereof: he digged thorow the rocke wnder the city, and made fountaines for water.

18 * In his time came Sennacherib vp, and sent Rabšaces, and lift vp his hand against Sion, and boasted proudly.

19 Then trembled their hearts & handes, so that they forweld like a woman in trauell.

20 But they called vpon y Lord, which is mercifull, & lift vp their hands vnto him, & immediately the Holy one heard the out of heauē.

21 [He thought no more vpon their finnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies, but deliuered them by the hand of Esai.]

22 * He smote the kinge of the Assyrians, and his Angel destroyed them.

23 For Ezekias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and remained stedfastly in the wayes of Dauid his father, as [Esai the great Prophet, and faithfull in his vision had commanded him.]

24 * In his time the sunne went backward, and he lengthened the Kings life.

25 He sawe by an excellent Spirit what should come to passe at the last, and he comforted them that were sorrowfull in Sion.

26 He shewed what should come to passe for euer, and secret things, or euer they came to passe.

CHAP. XLIX.

Of Iosias, Hezekiah, Dauid, Ieremias, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Iesus, Nehemias, Enoch, Ioseph, Sem and Seth.

1 The remembrance of [Iosias] is like the compositiō of the perfume that is made by the arte of the apothecarie: it is sweete as honie in all mouthes, and as musike at a banquet of wine.

2 He behaued himselfe vprightly in the reformation of the people, and tooke away all abominations of iniquitie.

3 He * directed his heart vnto the Lord, & in the time of y vngodly he established religiō.

4 All, except Dauid and Ezekias, and Iosias, committed wickednes: for euen the Kings of Iuda forsooke the Lawe of the most High, and failed.

5 Therefore he gaue their horne vnto other, and their honour to a strange nation.

6 He burnt the elect citie of the Sanctuarie, * and destroyed the streetes thereof according to the prophesie of [Jeremias].

7 For they * intreated him euil, which neuertheles was a Prophet, * sanctified from his mothers wombe, that he might roote out, & afflicte, and destroye, and that he might also buylde vp, and plant.

8 [Ezechiel] saw y glorious vision, w was shewed him vpon the charēt of the Cherubims.

9 * For he made mention of the enemies vnder the figure of the raine, and directed them that went right.

10 * And let the bones of the twelue Prophets flourish out of their place, and let their memorie bee blessed: for they comforted Iacob, and deliuered them by assured hope.

11 * How shall we praise [Zorobabel], which was as a ring on the right hand!

12 So was [Iesus] also the sonne of Iosedec: these men in their time builded the house, & set vp the Sanctuarie of the Lord againe, w was prepared for an euclasting worship.

13 * And among the elect was [Nehemias] whose renoume is great, which set vp for vs the walles that were fallen, and set vp the gates and the barres, and laied the foundations of our houses.

14 But vpon y earth was no man created like [Enoch]: for he was taken vp from y earth.

15 Neither was there a like man vnto [Ioseph] the gouernour of his brethren, & the vpholder of his people, whose bones were kept.

16 [Sem] and [Seth] were in great honour among men: and so was [Adam] about euerie liuing thing in the creation.

CHAP. L.

Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praise the Lord. 27 The anthem of this booke.

1 [Simon] the sonne of Onias the hie Priest, which in his life set vp y house againe, & in his daies established the Temple,

2 Vnder him was the foundation of the double height layed, and the hie walles that compasseth the Temple.

3 In his daies the places to receiue water, y were decayed, were restored, & the brasie was about in measure as the sea.

4 Hee tooke care for his people, that they should not fall, and fortified the citie against the siege.

5 How honourable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vaile!

6 He was as y morning starre in the middes of a cloude, and as the moone whē it is full,

7 And as the sunne shining vpon the Temple of the most High, and as the rainebowe that is bright in the faire cloudes,

8 And as the flowre of the roses in the spring of the yere, and as lilies by the springs of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense tree in the time of sommer,

9 As a fyre and incense in the censer, and as a vessell of massey golde, set with all maner of precious stones,

10 And as a faire oliue tree that is fruitfull, and as a cypresse tree, which groweth vp to the cloudes.

11 When he put on the garment of honour & was clothed with all beautie, he went vp to the holie altar, and made the garment of holines honourable.

12 When hee tooke the portions out of the Priestes handes, he him selfe stode by the herth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as the branches doe the cedar tree in Libanus, and they compassed

- 13 So were all  $\bar{y}$  sonnes of Aaron in their glorie, & the oblations of  $\bar{y}$  Lord in their hands before all the congregation of Israel.
- 14 And that he might accomplish his ministrie vpon the altar, and garnishe the offering of the most High, and almightie,
- 15 He stretched out his hand to the drinke offering, and powred of the blood of the grape, and he powred at the foote of  $\bar{y}$  altar a perfume of good sauour vnto the most high King of all.
- 16 Then shewted the sonnes of Aar $\bar{o}$ , & blowed with brazen trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most High.
- 17 Then all the people together hastened, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces to worship their Lord God almightie, and most high.
- 18 The fingers also sang with their voyces, so that  $\bar{y}$  sound was great, & the melodie sweete.
- 19 And the people prayed vnto the Lord most high with prayer before him that is merciful, till the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had accomplished his seruice.
- 20 Then went he down, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole congregation of the children of Israel, that they shoulde giue prayse with their lippes vnto the Lord, and reioyce in his Name.
- 21 He began againe to worship, that he might receiue the blessing of the most High.
- 22 Now therefore giue prayse all ye vnto God, that worketh great thinges euerie where, which hath increased our dayes from the wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercie,
- 23 That he would giue vs ioyfulness of heart, & peace in our daies in Israel, as in olde time,
- 24 That he would confirme his mercy with vs, and deliuer vs at his time.
- 25 ¶ There be two maner of people, that mine heart abhorreth, and the third is no people:
- 26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistims, & the foolish people that dwell in  $\bar{y}$  Sicinus.
- 27 ¶ Iesus the sonne of Sirach, the sonne of Eleazarus, of Ierusalem, hath writte the doctrine of vnderstanding and knowledge in this booke, and hath powred out the wisdom of his heart.
- 28 Blessed is he that exerciseth himself therein: and he that layeth vp these in his heart, shall be wise.
- 29 For if he do these things, he shalbe strong in all things: for he setteth his steppes in the light of the Lord, which giueth wisdom to the godlie. The Lord be praised for euermore: So be it, so be it.

CHAP. II.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

- 1 I Will confesse thee,  $\bar{o}$  Lord and King, and prayse thee,  $\bar{o}$  God my Sauour: I giue thanks vnto thy Name.
- 2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preferred my body from destruction, & from  $\bar{y}$  snare of  $\bar{y}$  slanderous tongue, & from the lippes that are occupied with lies: thou

- hast holpen me against mine aduersaries,
- 3 And hast deliuered me according to the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy Names sake, from the roaring of them that were ready to deuoure me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life; & from the manifold afflictions, which I had,
- 4 And from the fire that choked me round about, and from the middes of the fire that I burned not,
- 5 And from the bottome of the bellie of hel, from an vnclene tongue, from lying words, from false accusation to the King, and from the slander of an vnrighteous tongue,
- 6 [My soule shal praise the Lord vnto death:] for my soule drewe neere vnto death: my life was nere to the hell beneath.
- 7 They compassed me on euerie side, & there was no man to helpe me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.
- 8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie,  $\bar{o}$  Lord, & vpon thine actes of olde, howe thou deliuerest such as waite for thee, and sauest them out of the handes of the enemies.
- 9 Then lifted I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.
- 10 I called vpon the Lorde the Father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proude without helpe.
- 11 I will praye thy Name continually, and will sing praye with thanksgiuing: & my prayer was heard.
- 12 Thou saudest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the euill time: therefore wil I giue thanks, and prayse thee, and blesse the Name of the Lord.
- 13 When I was yet yong, or euer I wet abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer,
- 14 I prayed for her before the Temple, and sought after her vnto farre countries, & there was as a grape  $\bar{y}$  waxeth ripe out of  $\bar{y}$  flower.
- 15 Mine heart reioyced in her: my foote walked in the right waye, and from my youth vp sought I after her.
- 16 I bowed somewhat downe mine eare, & receiued her, and gate me much wisdom:
- 17 And I profited by her: therefore will I ascribe the glorie vnto him, that giueth me wisdom.
- 18 For I am aduised to do thereafter: I will be ielous of that that is good: so shall I not be confounded.
- 19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue examined my workes: I lifted vp mine handes on hie, and considered the ignorances thereof.
- 20 I directed my soule vnto her, and I founde her in purenes: I haue had mine hearte ioyned with her from the beginning: therefore shall I not be forsaken.
- 21 My bowelles are troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possession,
- 22 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my rewarde, wherewith I wil prayse him.
- 23 Drawe neere vnto mee, ye vnlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.
- 24 Wherefore are ye slowe? and what say you of of these things, seeing your soules are verie thirstie?

- 25 I opened my mouth, and sayd, * Bye her for you without money.
26 Bow down your necke vnder the yoke, and your soule shall receiue instruction: she is readie that ye may finde her.
27 Behold with your eyes, * howe that I haue had but litle labour, and haue gotten vnto me much rest.

- 28 Get learning w a great summe of money:
for by her ye shall possesse much golde.
29 Let your soule reioyce in the mercy of the Lord, and be not ashamed of his praise.
30 Do your dutie betimes, and he will giue
you a reward at his time.

BARUCH.

C H A P. I.

Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonias and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

AND these are the wordes of the booke, which Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedecias, y sonne of Asadias, the sonne of Helcias wrote in at Babylon,

- 2 In the fift yere, and in the seuenth day of y
moneth, what time as the Chaldeans tooke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fire.
3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Ioachim King of Iuda might heare, and all the people that were come to heare the booke, 4 And in the audience of the gouernour, and of the Kings sonnes, and before the Elders, & before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the hiest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon by the riuer * Sudi.
5 Which when they heard, wept, fasted and made prayers before the Lord.
6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power, 7 And sent it to Ierusalem vnto Ioachim the sonne of Helcias the sonne of Salom priest, and vnto the other priests, and to al the people which were with him at Ierusalem, 8 When he had receiued the vessels of the Temple of the Lord, that were taken awaye out of the Temple, to bring the againe into y land of Iuda, the tenth day of the moneth * Siuan, to wit, siluer vessels, which Sedecias the sonne of Iosias King of Iuda had made, 9 After that Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon had led away Iechonias from Ierusalem, and his princes, and his nobles, prisoners, &
the people, and caryed them to Babylon.
10 And they said, Behold, we haue sent you money, wherewith ye shal bye burnt offerings for sinne, and incense, and prepare a meate offring, and offer vpon the altar of the Lord
our God,
11 And praye for the life of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his sonne, that their daies may be vpo earth,
as the dayes of heauen, 12 And that God would giue vs strength and lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the shadowe of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and vnder the shadowe of Baltasar his sonne, that we may long do them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

- 13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God (for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, & vnto this day the furie of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from vs.) 14 And reade this booke (which we haue sent to you to be rehearsed in the Temple of the Lord) vpon the feast dayes, and at time conuenient.
15 Thus shall ye say, * To the Lord our God belongeth righteoulnes, but vnto vs the confession of our faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto the of Iuda, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, 16 And to our Kings, and to our princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers,
17 Because we haue * sinned before the Lorde
our God,
18 And haue not obeyed him, neither hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.
19 From the daye that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, euen vnto this day, we haue bene disobedient vnto the Lord our God, and we haue bene negligent to heare his voyce.
20 * Wherefore these plagues are come vpon vs, and the curse which the Lorde appointed by Moyses his seruant at the time that hee brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a lande that floweth with milke &
honic, as it appeareth this daye.
21 Neuertheles, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, according to all the wordes of the Prophetes, whom he sent vnto vs.
22 But euery one of vs followed the wicked imagination of his own heart, to serue strange gods, and to do euill in the sight of the Lord
our God.
C H A P. II.
The Iewes confesse that they suffer iustly for their sinnes. The true confession of the Christians. 11 The Iewes desire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. 12 He promitteth that he will call against the people from captiuitie, and giue them a new and everlasting Testament.
1 Therefore the Lord our God hath performed his worde, which he pronounced against vs, and against our iudges that gouerned I Israel, & against our Kings, & against our princes, & against the men of Israel & Iuda, 2 To bring vpon vs great plagues, such as neuer came to passe vnder the whole heauen, as they that were done in Ierusalem, according

ding to thinges, that were * written in the Lawe of Moyses,

3 That some among vs should eate the flesh of his owne sonne, and some the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreover, he hath deliuered them to be in subiection to all the kingdomes, y are round about vs, to be as a reproche and desolation among all the people round about where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus they are brought beneath and not aboue, because we haue sinned against y Lord our God, and haue not heard his voyce.

6 To the Lord our God appearemeth righteousness, but vnto vs and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

7 For all the plague are come vpon vs, w the Lord hath pronounced against vs.

8 Yet haue we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turne euery one from the imaginations of his owne wicked heart.

9 So the Lord hath watched ouer y plagues, and the Lord hath brought them vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in all his workes, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voyce, to walke in the commandements of the Lord that he hath giuen vnto vs.

11 * And now, o Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and an hie arme, and with signes, and with wonders, & with great power, and hast gotten thy selfe a Name, as appeareth this day.

12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned; we haue done wickedly: we haue offended in al thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a fewe lew among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, o Lord, and our petitions, and deliuer vs for thine owne sake, and giue vs sauour in the sight of them, which haue led vs away.

15 That all the earth may knowe that thou art the Lord our God, and that thy Name is called vpon Israel and vpon their posteritie.

16 Therefore looke downe from thine holy Temple, and thinke vpon vs: encline thine care, o Lord, and heare vs.

17 * Open thine eyes, & behold; for the dead that are in the graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, * giue vnto the Lorde neither praise, nor righteousness.

18 But the soule that is vexed for the greatness of sinne, and he that goeth crookedly, & weake, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry soule wil giue thee praise and righteousness, o Lord.

19 For we do not require mercy in thy sight, o Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, or of our Kings.

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath & indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken by thy seruantes the Prophets, saying,

21 * Thus saith the Lorde, Bowe downe your shoulders, and serue the King of Babylon: so shall ye remaine in the land, that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if ye wil not heare y voyce of the Lord, to serue the King of Babylon, 23 I will cause to cease in the cities of Iuda, & in Ierusalem, I will cause to cease the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of ioye, & the voyce of the bridegrome, & the voyce of the bride, and the land shalbe desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to serue the King of Babylon: therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruantes the Prophetes: namely, that the bones of our Kings, and the bones of our fathers should be caryed out of their places.

25 And lo, they are cast out to the heate of the day, and to the colde of the night, and are dead in great miserie with famine, and with the sword, and in banishment.

26 And the Temple wherein thy Name was called vpon, thou hast brought to the state, as appeareth this day, for the wickednes of y house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs according to equitie, and according to all thy great mercie.

28 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moyses, in the day when thou diddest command him to write thy Lawe before the children of Israel, saying,

29 * If ye wil not obey my voyce, then shall this great swarme and multitude be turned into a verie fewe among the nations where I will scatter them.

30 For I know that they wil not heare me: for it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shall remember them selues, 31 And know that I am the Lorde their God: then wil I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares.

32 And they shall heare, and prayse me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shal they turne them from their hard backs, and from their euill workes: for they shall remember the waye of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them againe into the land, which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob; and they shalbe lords of it: and I will increase them, & they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an euerlasting couenant with them, that I wil be their God, and they shalbe my people: and I wil no more driue my people of Israel out of the lande that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

The people continueth in their prayer begun for their deliuerance. He praiseth wisdom vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising thereof. Only God was the finder of wisdom. Of the incarnation of Christ.

Heare, o Lord, & haue mercie: for thou art mercifull, and haue pitie vpon vs, because we haue haue sinned before thee.

 3 For thou endurest for euer, and we vterly perishe.
 4 O Lord almightie, the God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee their God, wherefore these plagues hang vpon vs.
 5 Remember not y wicketednes of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy power, and thy Name at this time.
 6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, o Lord, will we praise.
 7 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our heates, that we should call vpon thy Name, and praise thee in our captiuitie: for we haue considered in our mindes all the wickednes of our fathers, y sinned before thee.
 8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou hast scattered vs, to be a reproch and a curse, and subiect to payments, according to all y iniquities of our fathers, which are departed from the Lord their God.
 9 O Israel, heare the commendements of life: hearken vnto them, that thou maiest learne wisdom.
 10 What is the cause, o Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art waxen olde in a strange country?
 11 And art defiled with y dead? & art counted with them, that go downe to the graues?
 12 Thou hast forsaken y fountaine of wisdom.
 13 For if thou hadest walked in y way of God, thou shouldest haue remained safe for euer.
 14 Learne where is wisdom, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, that thou maiest know also from whence cometh long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes, and peace is.
 15 Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?
 16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth?
 17 They that had their pastime with the foules of the heauen, that hoarded vp siluer, and golde, wherein men trust, and made none ende of their gathering?
 18 For they that coyned siluer, & were so careful of their worke, and whose inuention had none end, 19 Are come to naught, & gone down to hell, and other men are come vp in their steads.
 20 When they were yong, they sawe the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstoode not the way of knowledge, 21 Neither perceived the paths thereof, neither haue their children receiued it: but they were farre off from that way.
 22 It hath not bene heard of in the lad of Chanaan, neither hath it bene seene in Theman, 23 Nor y Agarinés that sought after wisdom vpon the earth, nor the marchants of Nerran, and of Theman, nor the expounders of fables, nor the searchers out of wisdom haue known the way of wisdom, neither do they thinke vpon the paths thereof.
 24 O Israel, howe great is the House of God! &

how large is the place of his possession!
 25 It is great, and hath none end: it is hie, and vnmeasurable.
 26 There were the gyants, famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.
 27 Those did not the Lord chosse, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.
 28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, & perished through their owne foolishnes.
 29 Who hath gone vp into heauen, to take her, and brought her downe from the cloudes?
 30 Who hath gone ouer the sea, to finde her, & hath brought her, rather then sine golde?
 31 No man knoweth her wayes, neither considereth her paths.
 32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath found her out with his vnderstanding: this same is he which hath prepared the earth for euere more, and hath filled it with foure footed beasts.
 33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: & when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.
 34 And the starres shine in their watch, & reioyce. When he calleth them, they say, Here wee be: and so with cheerefulness they shew light vnto him that made them.
 35 This is our God, and there shal none other be compared vnto him.
 36 He hath found out all y way of knowledge, and hath giuen it vnto Iacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.
 37 Afterward he was seene vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

CHAP. IIII.

The reward of them that keepe the Law, and the punishment of them that despise it. 12 A comforting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaint of Ierusalem and vnder the figure thereof the Church: 25 A consolation and comforting of the same.

THis is the booke of the commendements of God, and the Law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it, shal come to life: but such as forsake it, shal dye.
 2 Turne thee, o Iacob, and take holde of it: walke by this brightnesse before the light thereof.
 3 Giue not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee; to a strange nation.
 4 O Israel, we are blessed: for the things y are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.
 5 Be of good comfort, o my people, which art the memorial of Israel.
 6 Ye are sold to the nations, not for your destruction: but because ye prouoked God to wrath, ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.
 7 For ye haue displeased him that made you, offering vnto deuils and not to God.
 8 Ye haue forgotten him that created you, euen the euermolde God, and ye haue giued Ierusalem, that nourished you:
 9 When she sawe the wrath comming vpon you from God, she said, Hearken ye that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought me into great heauines.

Christ

in obedience to Gods commandments

in obedience to Gods commandments

10 I see the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, which y<sup>e</sup> Euerlasting wil bring vpō the.
 11 With ioy did I nourish the, but I must leaue them with weeping and mourning.
 12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widowe, and forsaken of many, which for the finnes of my children am desolate, because they departed from the Law of God.
 13 They would not know his righteousness, nor walke in the wayes of his commandments: neither did they enter into the pathes of discipline, through his righteousness.
 14 Come, ye that dwell about Sion, and call to remembrance the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, w<sup>ch</sup> the Euerlasting hath brought vpon them.
 15 For he hath brought vpon them a nation from farre, an impudent natiō, & of a strange language, 16 Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pitie the yong: these haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone, and desirous of my daughters.
 17 But what can I helpe you?
 18 Surely he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the handes of your enemies.
 19 Go your way, o children, go your way: for I am left desolate.
 20 I haue put of the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, & so long as I liue, I wil call vpon the Euerlasting.
 21 Be of good comfort, o children: crye vnto God, and he wil deliuer you from the power, and hande of the enemies.
 22 For I haue hope of your saluation through the Euerlasting, & ioy is come vpon me from the Holy one; because of the mercie, which shal quickly come vnto you from our euerlasting Sauour.
 23 For I sent you away with weeping, & mourning: but with ioy & perpetuall gladnes will God bring you againe vnto me.
 24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shal they also see shortly your saluation frō God, which shal come vnto you with grēate glorie, and brightnes from the Euerlasting.
 25 My children, suffer patiently y<sup>e</sup> wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.
 26 My darlings haue gone by rough wayes, & were led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.
 27 Be of good comfort, my children, and crye vnto God: for he that led you away, hath you in remembrance.
 28 And as it came into your minde to go astray from your God, so endeavour your selues ten times more, to turne againe & to seeke him.
 29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, will bring you euerlasting ioy again, with your saluation.
 30 Take a good heaite, o Ierusalem: for he which gaue thee y<sup>e</sup> name, will comfort thee.
 31 They are miserable that afflict thee, & such as reioyce at thy fall.

 32 The cities are miserable whome thy children serue: miserable is she that hath taken thy sonnes.
 33 For as she reioycied at thy decay, and was glad of thy fall, so shal she be fory for her own desolation.
 34 For I will take away the reioicing of her great multitude, and her ioy shalbe turned into mourning.
 35 For a fire shall come vpon her from the Euerlasting, long to endure, and she shalbe inhabited of deuils for a great season.
 36 O Ierusalem, looke toward the East, and beholde the ioye that commeth vnto thee from thy God.
 37 Lo, thy sonnes (whom y<sup>e</sup> hast let goe) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioicing in the word of the Holy one vnto the honour of God.

CHAPTER V.

Ierusalem is moued vnto gladnes for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof the Church.

1 PVt of thy mourning clothes, o Ierusalem, & thine affliction, & decke thee with the worship & honour, that commeth vnto thee from God, for euermore.
 2 Put on the garment of righteousness, that commeth from God, and let a crowne vpon thine head of the glory of the Euerlasting.
 3 For God wil declare thy brightnes to euery countrey vnder the heauen.
 4 And God will name thee by this name for euer, The Peace of righteousness, & the glorie of the worship of God.
 5 Arise, o Ierusalem, and stand vp on hie, and looke about thee toward the East, & behold thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the worde of the Holy one, reioicing in the remembrance of God.
 6 For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glory, as children of the kingdom.
 7 For God hath determined to bring downe euery high mountaine, and the long enduring rockes, and to fill the valleys, to make y<sup>e</sup> ground plaine, that Israel may walke safelie vnto the honour of God.
 8 The woodes and all sweete smelling trees shall overshadowe Israel at the commandment of God.
 9 For God shall bring Israel with ioy in the light of his maiestie, with the mercy & righteousness that commeth of him.

CHAPTER VI.

A COPIE OF THE EPISTLES that Ieremias sent vnto them y<sup>e</sup> were led away captiues into Babylon by the King of the Babylonians, to certify them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

1 BEcause of the finnes, that ye haue committed against God, ye shalbe led away captiues vnto Babylō, by Nabuchodonosor, King of the Babylonians.
 2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeres, & a long season, euen seven generations, and after that will I bring to suffer patiently.

bring you away peaceable from thence.

3 Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of golde, and of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare.

4 * Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like the strangers, neither be ye afraide of them, when ye see the multitude before the and behinde them worshipping them,

5 But saye ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee.

6 For mine Angel shalbe with you, and shall care for your soules.

7 As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they themselues are gilded, & laid ouer with silver: yet are they but lyes, & cannot speake.

8 And as they take golde for a maide that lo- ueth to be decke,

9 So make they crownes for y heads of their gods: sometimes also the Priests themselues conuey away the golde, and silver from their gods, and bestowe it vpon themselues.

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto the harlots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of silver, and gods of golde, & of wood with garments like men,

11 Yet can not they be preferred from rust & wormes,

12 Though they haue couered them with clo- thing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much vpon them.

13 One holdeth a scepter, as though he were a certeine iudge of the cuntry: yet can he not slay such as offende him.

14 Another hath a dagger or an axe in his right hād: yet is he not able to defende him selfe from battel, nor from thecues: so then it is euident, that they be no gods.

15 Therefore feare them not: for as a vessel that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken,

16 Such are their gods: when they be set vp in their temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the feete of those that come in:

17 And as the gates are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the King: or as one that shoulde be ledd to be put to death, so the Priests keepe their temples with doores, and with lockes, and with barres, lest their gods should be spoyled by robbers.

18 They light vp candles before them: yea, more then for themselues, whereof they can not see one: for they are but as one of the postes of the temple.

19 They confesse, that euen their heartes are gnawen vpon: but when the things, that creepe out of the earth, eate them and their clothes, they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swaloves and birdes flie vpon their bodies, and vpon their heades, yea, and the cates also.

22 By this ye may be sure, that they are not gods: therefore feare them not.

23 Notwithstanding the golde, that is about them to make them beautiful, except one wipe of the rust, they can not shine: neither when they were molten, did they feele it.

24 The things wherin is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

25 * They are borne vpon mens shoulders, be- cause they haue no feete, whereby they de- clare vnto me, that they be nothing worthe yea, & they that worship them, are shamed.

26 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they can not rise vp againe of themselues, neither if one set them vp right, can they moue of theselues, neither if they be bowed down, can they make theselues straight: but they set gifts before the, as vnto dead men.

27 As for the things that are offered vnto the, their Priests sell them, & abuse the: likewise also the women laye vp of the same, but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

28 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things ye may knowe that they are no gods: feare them not.

29 From whence cometh it then, that they are called gods? because the women bring gifts to the gods of silver, & golde, & wood.

30 And the Priests sit in their temples, haping their clothes rent, whole heades & beards are shauen, and being bare headed,

31 They roare, & cry before their gods, as men do at the feast of one that is dead.

32 The priests also take away of their garments, and clothe their wives and children.

33 Whether it be euill, that one doeth vnto them, or good, they are not able to recom- pence it: they can neither set vp a King nor put him downe.

34 In like manner they can neither giue riches, nor money: though a man make a vowe un- to them and keepe it not, they will not re- quire it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They can not restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe anie man at his neede.

37 They can shewe no mercie to the widowe, nor do good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, golde and silver, are as stones, that be hewen out of the moun- taine, and they that worshippe them, shal be confounded.

39 How shoulde a man then thinke or saye that they are gods?

40 Moreouer the Chaldeas themselues disho- nour them: for whē they see a domme man, that can not speake, they present him to Bel, 41 And desire that hee woulde make him to speake, as though hee had any feeling: yet they that vnderstand these thinges, can not leaue them: for they also haue no sense.

42 Furthermore the women, girded w coards, sit in the streetes, and burne strawe.

43 And if one of them be drawen away, & lie with any such as come by, shee casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because she was not so worthily reputed, nor her coarde broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done among them, is lies: how may it then be thought or said, y they are gods?

Isa. 46. 7.

since it may be gathered that it is God only that putteth the King & putteth him downe; and not the Pope.

* Or, by name.

The song of the three children.

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them, neither be they any other thing, but euen
what the workeman will make them.
46 Yea, they that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the thinges that are made of them, be gods?
47 Therefore they leaue lyes, and shame for their posteritie.
48 For when there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, the Priestes imagine w themselues, where they may hide themselues
with them.
49 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither defend themselues from warre, nor from plagues?
50 For * seeing they be but of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, men shall knowe hereafter that they are but lyes, and it shal be manifest to all nations & Kinges, that they be no gods, but the works of mens hands, and that there is no worke of God in them.
51 Whereby it may be knownen, that they are no gods.
52 They can set vp no King in the lande, nor giue rayne vnto men.
53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preserue from iniurie: they haue no power, but are as crows betwene the heauen and the earth.
54 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood, and of siluer, & of golde, the Priestes wil escape and saue themselues,
but they burne as the balkes therein.
55 They cannot withstand any King or ene-mie: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?
56 Moreover these gods of wood, of golde, & of siluer can neither defend themselues from theeues nor robbers.
57 For they that are strongest, take away their golde and siluer, & apparell, wherewith they be clothed: and when they haue it, they get them away: yet can they not help theselues.
58 Therefore it is better to be a King, and so to shew his power, or els a profitable vellsell in an house, whereby he that oweth it, might haue profite, then such false gods: or to be a doore in an house, to keepe such things safe as be therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false gods.

59 For the sunne, & the moone, & the starres that shine, when they are sent downe for necessary vses, obey.
60 Likewise also the lightning whe it shineth, it is euident: and the winde bloweth in eu-ery countrey.
61 And when God commandeth the cloudes to go about the whole world, they do as they are bidden.
62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue to destroy hilles and woods, it doeth that which is commanded: but these are not like any of these thinges, neither in forme, nor power.
63 Wherefore men should not thinke, nor say that they be goddes, seeing they can neither giue sentece in iudgement, nor do men good.
64 For so much now as ye are sure, that they be no gods, feare them not.
65 For they ca neither curse, nor blesse Kinges:
66 Neither can they shew signes in the heauē among y heathē, neither shine as the moone.
67 The beasts are better thē they: for they can get thē vnder a couert, & do thēselues good.
68 So ye maye be certified y by no maner of meanes, they are gods: therefore feare them not.
69 For as a skarcrowe in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing, so are their goddes of woode, and of siluer, and of golde:
70 And likewise their gods of wood, and golde and siluer are like to a white thorne in an orchard, that euerie byrde sitteth vpon, and as a dead bodie that is cast in the darke.
71 By the purple also and brighmes, w fadeth vpon them, ye may vnderstand, that they be no gods: yea, they themselues shalbe consumed at the last, & they shalbe a shame to the countrey.
72 Better therefore is the iust man, that hath none idoles: for he shalbe farre fro reproof.

THE SONG OF THE THREE

holy children, which followeth in the third chapter of Daniel after this place, They fell downe bound in the middes of the hore firrie fornace.

CHAP. I.

39 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The crueltye of the King. 48
The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the furnace. 51 The three children praise the Lord and prouoke all creatures to the same.

24 And they walked in y middes of the flame, praising God, & magnified the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stood vp, & praised on this manner, & opening his mouth in y middes of the fire, said,

26 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers:
thy Name is worthy to be praised & honoured for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in al the thinges, that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy works are true, and thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements certeine.

28 In all the thinges that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon Ierusalem, the holy cite of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgements:
for by right and equitie hast thou brought all these thinges vpon vs, because of our sinnes.

29 For we haue sinned and done wickedly, departing from thee: in al thinges haue we trespassed,

30 And not obeyed thy commandements, nor kept them, neither done as thou haddest commanded vs, that we might prosper.

31 Wherefore in all that thou hast brought vpon on vs, & in euerie thing that thou hast done to vs, y<sup>e</sup> hast done them in true iudgement: 31 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our wicked enemies, & most hatefull traitours, and to an vnrighteous King, and the most wicked in all the worlde.

32 And now we may not open our mouthes: we are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruants, and to them that worship thee.
33 Yet for thy Names sake, we beseeche thee, giue vs not vp for euer, neither breake thy covenant, 34 Neither take away thy mercie from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, & for thy seruant Isaacs sake, & for thine holy Israels sake, 35 To whome thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiplie their seede as the starres of heauen, and as the sande, that is vpon the sea shore.
36 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, and be kept vnder this day in all the worlde, because of our sinnes:
37 So that now we haue neither prince, nor Prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offering, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first fruites before thee, that we might finde mercie.
38 Neuertheles in a contrite hearte, and an humble spirit, let vs be receiued, 39 As in the burnt offering of rams and bul-locks, and as in ten thousand of fat lambes, so let our offering be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.
40 And now we followe thee with all our heart, and feare thee, and seeke thy face.
41 Put vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnes, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.
42 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, and giue thy Name the glorie, O Lord, 43 That all they which do thy seruants euil, may be confounded: euen let them be confounded by thy great force and power, and let their strength be broken, 44 That they may knowe, that thou onelie art the Lord God, and glorious ouer the whole worlde.
45 Now the Kings seruants that had cast them in, ceased not to make the oven hote with naphtha, and with pitch, and with towe, and with fagots, 46 So that the flame went out of the furnace fourtie and nine cubites.
47 And it brake forth, and burnt those Chal-deans, that it found by the furnace.
48 But the Angel of the Lord went downe into the furnace with them that were with Azarias, and smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace,
49 And made in the middes of the furnace like a moyst hissing winde, so that the fire touched them not at all, neyther grieved, nor troubled them.
50 Then these three (as our of one mouth) praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying,
51 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and prayed, and exalted about all thinges for euer, and blessed be thy glorious and ho-lie Name, and prayed about all thinges, and magnified for euer.

52 Blessed be thou in the Temple of thine ho-lie glorie, and prayed about all thinges, and exalted for euer.
53 Blessed be thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest vpon the Cherubims, and prayed about all thinges, and exalted for euer.
54 Blessed be thou in the glorious Throne of thy kingdome, and prayed about all thinges, and exalted for euer.

THE HISTORIE OF 'SV' Or, Susanna

fanna, which ſome ioine to the end of Daniel, and make it the thirteenth chapter.

The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Susanna. 29 They take her alone in the garden. 30 They ſollicit her to pricknes. 31 She choſeth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 She is accuſed. 45 Daniel doeth deliuer her. 46 The gouernours are put to death.

- 1 Here dwelt a man in Babylon called Ioachim.
- 2 And he tooke a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helcias, a vertic faire woman, and one that feared God.
- 3 Her father & her mother also were godly people, & taught their daughter according to the Law of Moyses.
- 4 Nowe Ioachim was a great riche man, and had a faire garden ioyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the Iewes, because he was more honorable then all others.
- 5 The same yere were appoynted two of the ancients of the people to be iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of, that the miſquity came from Babylon, and from the ancient iudges, which seemed to rule the people.
- 6 These hanted Ioachims house, and all such as had anything to do in the Law, came thither vnto them.
- 7 Now when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbands garden to walke.
- 8 And the two elders saw her that she went in daily and walked, so that their lust was inflamed toward her.
- 9 Therefore they turned away their mind, & cast down their eyes, that they should not see heauen, nor remember iust iudgements.
- 10 And albeit they both were wounded with her loue, yet durst not one shew another his griefe.
- 11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, yet they desired to haue to do with her.
- 12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

- 13 And the one said to the other, Let vs go now home, for it is dinner time.
- 14 So they went their way, and departed, one from another: yet they returned againe, and came into the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together when they might finde her alone.
- 15 Now when they had spied out a convenient time, that she went in, as her maner was, with two maydes only, and thought to wash herself in the garden (for it was an hote season)
- 16 And there was no body there, save the two Elders that had hid themselves, and watched for her:
- 17 She sayde to her maydes, Bring me oyle and ſope, and shut the garden doores, that I may wash me.
- 18 And they did as shee bade them, and shut the garden doores, and went out themselves at a backe doore, to set the thing that she had commaunded them: but they sawe not the Elders, because they were hid.
- 19 Now when the maidens were gone forth, the two Elders rose vp & ranne vnto her, saying,
- 20 Beholde, the garden doores are shut, that no man can see vs, and we burne in loue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, & lye with vs.
- 21 If thou wilt not, we will beare witness against thee, yet a yong man was with thee, & therefore thou diddest send away thy maidens from thee.
- 22 Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am in trouble on euery side: for if I do this thing, it is death vnto me: and if I do it not, I can not escape your handes.
- 23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, & not do it, than to sinne in the sight of the Lord.
- 24 With that Susanna cryed with a lowde voyce, and the two Elders cryed out agaynst her.
- 25 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden doore.

a To wit, from God.

- 26 ¶ So when the seruants of the house heard the crye in the garden, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what was done vnto her.
- 27 But when y<sup>e</sup> Elders had declared their matter, the seruantes were greatly ashamed; for there was neuer such a reporte made of Sufanna.
- 28 On the morowe after, came the people to ioachim her husband, & the two Elders came also, full of mischieuous imagination agaynst Sufanna, to put her to death,
- 29 And said before the people, Sende for Sufanna the daughter of Helcias ioachims wife. And immediately they sent.
- 30 So she came with her father and mother, her children and all her kinred.
- 31 Nowe Sufanna was verie tender, and sayre of face.
- 32 And these wicked men commanded to vncouer her face (for shee was couered) that they might so be satisfied with her beautie.
- 33 Therefore they that were about her, and all they that knewe her, wepte.
- 34 Then the two Elders stode vp in y<sup>e</sup> middes of the people, and layed their handes vpon her head,
- 35 Which wept and looked vp toward heauē: for her heart trusted in the Lord.
- 36 And the Elders saide, As we walked in the garden alone, she came in with two maides, whome she sent away from her, and shut the garden doores.
- 37 Then a yong man, which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.
- 38 Then we which stode in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednes, ranne vnto them, and we sawe them as they were together,
- 39 But we could not holde him: for he was stronger then we, and opened the doore, & leaped out.
- 40 Now when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong man this was, but she would not tell vs: of these things are we witness.
- 41 Thē the assemblie beleueed them, as those that were the Elders and iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.
- 42 Thē Sufanna cried out with a lowde voyce, and said, O euerlasting God, that knowest the secrets, & knowest all things afore they come to passe,
- 43 Thou knowest, that they haue borne false witness against mee, and beholde, I must die, whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously inuented against me.
- 44 And the Lord heard her voyce.
- 45 ¶ Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised vp the holy spirit of a yong childe, whose name was Daniel.
- 46 Who cried with a lowde voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.
- 47 Then all the people turned them toward him, & said, What meane these wordes, that thou hast spoken?
- 48 Then Daniel stood in the middes of them, and saide, Are ye such fooles, O Israelites, that without examination, or knowledge of the trueth, ye haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne againe to iudgement: for they haue borne false witness against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste, and the Elders said vnto him, Come, sit downe among vs, and shew it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the office of an Elder.

51 Then said Daniel vnto them, Put these two aside, one farre from another, and I wil examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder, one from another, he called one of them and said vnto him, O thou that art olde in a wicked life, nowe thy sinnes which thou hast committed aforetime, are come to light.

53 For thou hast pronouced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guiltie goe free, albeit the Lord saith, * The innocent & righteous shalt thou not slaye.

Exod. 23.7.

54 Nowe then, if thou hast seene her, tell me, vnder what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a lentiske tree.

55 Then said Daniel, Verely thou hast lyed against thine owne head: for so, the Angel of God hath receiued the sentence of God, to cut thee in two.

* Or, life.

56 So put he him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said vnto him, O thou seede of Chanaan, and not of Iuda, beautie hath deceived thee, and lust hath subuerted thine heart.

57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare companied with you: but the daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednes.

58 Now therefore tell me, vnder what tree diddest thou take them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a prime tree.

* Or, marle tree.

59 Thē said Daniel vnto him, Verely thou hast also lyed against thine head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the sworde to cut thee in two, and so to destroy you both.

60 ¶ With that all the whole assemblie cried with a lowde voyce, and praised God, which sauech them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had conuict them of false witness by their owne mouth)

62 * And according to the Law of Moyses they dealt with them, as they dealt wickedly against their neighbour, & put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same daye.

63 Therefore Helcias, and his wife praised God for their daughter Sufanna, with ioachim her husband, and all the kinred, that there was no dishonestie found in her.

and of the dragon, which is the fourteenth chapter of Daniel after the Latin.

Owe when King Astyages was laid with his fathers, Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom.

And Daniel did eate at the Kings table, and was honoured aboue all his friends.

Nowe the Babylonians had an idole, called Bel, & there were spent vpon him euery day, twelue great measures of fine flowre, and fourtie sheepe, and fixe great pots of wine.

And the King worshipped it, and went daylie to honour it: But Daniel worshipped his owne God. And y King said vnto him, Why doest not thou worshippinge Bel?

Who answered, and said, Because I may not worshippinge idoles made with handes, but the liuing God, which hath created the heauen and the earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

Thē said the King vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a liuing God? seest thou not how much he eateth & drinketh euery day?

Then Daniel smiled & said, O King, be not deceived: for this is but claye within, and brasse withour, and did neuer eate any thing.

So the King was wroth, and called for his Priests, and said vnto them, If ye tel me not, who this is that eateth vp these expences, ye shall dye:

But if ye can certifie me that Bel eateth thē, then Daniel shal dye: for he hath spokē blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the King, Let it be according to thy word.

(Nowe the Priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wiues and children:) and the King went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

So Bels Priestes said, Beholde, we will go out, and set thou the meat there, o King, & let the wine be filled: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:

And to morow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we will suffer death, or els Daniel that hath lyed vpon vs.

Now they thought thēselues sure ynough: for vnder the table they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euery, and tooke away the things.

So when they were gone forth, the King set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his seruants to bring ashes, & these they strowed throughout all the temple, in the presence of the King alone: then went they out, and shut the doore, and sealed it with the Kings signet, and so departed.

Now in the night came the Priests, with their wiues & children, (as they were wont to do) and did eate and drinke vp all.

In the morning betimes, the King arose & Daniel with him.

And the King said, Daniel, are the scales whole? Who answered, Yea, o King, they be whole.

And as sone as he had opened the doore, the King looked vpon the table, and cried with a loude voyce, Great art thou, o Bel, & with thee is no deceite.

Then laughed Daniel, and helde the King that he should not go in, and said, Beholde now the pauement, and marke well whose footestepes are these.

And the King saide, I see the footestepes of men, women, and children: therefore the King was angrie,

And tooke the Priests, with their wiues, and children, and they shewed him the priuie doores, where they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table.

Therefore the King flew them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

Moreover in that same place there was a great dragon, which the Babylonians worshipped.

And the King said vnto Daniel, Saiest thou, that this is of brasse also? lo, he liueth & eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say, y he is no liuing god: therefore worship him.

Then said Daniel vnto the King, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the liuing God.

But giue me leaue, o King, & I will slay this dragon without sword or staffe. And the King said, I giue thee leaue.

Then Daniel tooke pitch, & fatte, & heare, and did feede them together, & made lumps thereof: this he put in y dragons mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel said, Beholde, whom ye worship.

When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderfull wroth, and gathered them together against the King, saying, The King is become a Iewe: for he hath destroyed Bel, & hath slaine the dragon, & put the Priests to death.

So they came to the King, and said, Deliuere vs Daniel, or els we will destroy thee and thine house.

Now when the King saw, that they pressed sore vpon him, and that necessitie constrained him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

Who cast him into the Lyons denne, where he was fixe dayes.

In the denne there were seuen Lyons, & they had giuen them euery day two bodies & two sheepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

Now there was in Iewrie a Prophet called Abbacuc, which had made portage, and broken bread into a bowle, and was going into the field for to bring it to the reapers.

But y Angel of y Lord said vnto Abbacuc, Go, carie the meate that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in y Lyons denne.

35 And

a Called Artaba, whereof euery one coteined somewhat more then nine galons, which make in all an hundredth & eight gallons at the least.

b Called Metreta, and euery one of these measures coteined about ten gallons, which in al make three score.

- 35 And Abbacuc said, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, neyther do I knowe where the denne is.
 36 Then the Angel tooke him by the crowne of the head, and bare him by the heare of the head, & through a mighty winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.
 37 And Abbacuc cryed, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.
 38 Then said Daniel, O God, y haſt thought vpon me, and thou neuer ſayleſt them that ſeeke thee and loue thee.
 39 So Daniel aroſe, and did eate, & the Angel of the Lord ſet Abbacuc in his owne place againe immediatelie.

 40 Vpon the ſeuenth day, the King went to bewaile Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel ſate in the middes of the Lyons.
 41 Then cryed the King with a lowde voyce, ſaying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other beſides thee.
 42 And he drew him out of the denne, and caſt them that were the cauſe of his deſtruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

CHAP. I.

- 1 The death of Alexander the King of Macedonia. 21 Antiochus taketh the kingdom. 32 Many of the children of Iſrael make couenant with the Gentiles. 41 Antiochus ſubdueth Egypt and Ieruſalem vnto his dominion. 50 Antiochus ſitteth vpon ſiſdele.

FTER that Alexander the Macedonian, the ſonne of Philippe, went forth of the land of Chettim, and ſlewe Darius King of the Perſians and Medes, and reigned for him, as he had before in Grecia,

- 2 He tooke great warres in hand, and wanne ſtrong holdes, & ſlew the Kings of the earth.
 3 So went he thorowe to the endes of the worlde, and tooke ſpoyles of manie nations, in ſo much that the worlde ſtoode in awe of him: therefore his heart was puffed vp and was hawtie.
 4 Now whē he had gathered a mighty ſtrong hoſte,
 5 And had reigned ouer regions, nations and kingdomes, they became tributaries vnto him.
 6 After theſe things he fell ſicke, and knewe that he ſhould dye.
 7 Then he called for the chief of his ſeruāts, which had bene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet aliue.
 8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeeres when he died.
 9 And his ſeruants reigned euerie one in his rounge.
 10 And they al cauſed themſelues to be crowned after his death, and ſo did their children after them manie yeres, and much wickednes increaſed in the worlde.
 11 For out of theſe came the wicked roote, enē Antiochus Epiphaneſ, y ſonne of King Antiochus, w had bene an hoſtage at Rome, & he reigned in the hundredth & ſeuē and thirtieth yere of the kingdom of the Greekes.
 12 In thoſe dayes went there out of Iſrael wicked men, which entiled many, ſaying, Let vs go, and make a couenant with the heathen, that are round about vs: for ſince we departed from them, we haue had much ſorowe.
 13 So this deuice pleaſed them well.
 14 And certaine of the people were ready, & went to the King which gaue them licence to do after the ordinances of the heathen.

- 15 Then ſet they vp a place of exerciſe at Ieruſale, according to the factions of y heathē.
 16 And made themſelues vncircumciſed, and forſooke the holie Coueniant, and ioyned themſelues to the heathen, and were ſolde to do miſchiefe.
 17 So whē Antiochus kingdom was ſet in order, he wēt about to reigne ouer Egypt, that he might haue the dominion of two Realmes:
 18 Therefore he entred into Egypt with a mightie cōpanie, with charcets, & elephants, and with horſemen, and with a great nauiē, 19 And moued warre againſt Ptolemeus King of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was aſtrayd of him, & fled, and many were wounded to death.
 20 Thus Antiochus wanne many ſtrong cities in the lād of Egypt, & tooke away the ſpoyles of the land of Egypt.
 21 And after that Antiochus had ſmitten Egypt, he turned againe in y hundredth, fourtie and three yere, 22 And went vp toward Iſrael and Ieruſalem with a mightie people.
 23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuarie, & tooke away the golden altar, and the candleſticke for the light, and all the inſtruments thereof, and the table of the ſhewbread, and the powring veſſels, and the bowles, and the golden baſins, and the vaile, & the crowne, and the golden apparel, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.
 24 He tooke alſo the ſiluer and golde, and the precious iewel, & he tooke the ſecret treaſures that he founde, and when he had taken away all, he departed into his owne land, 25 After he had murdered many men, & ſpoken very proudly.
 26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euery place of Iſrael.
 27 For the princes and the Elders mourned: the yong women, and the yong men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women was changed.
 28 Euerie bridegrome tooke him to mourning, and ſhe that ſate in the marriage chamber, was in heauines.

covered with confusion.

30 After two yeres y King sent his chiefe taxemaster into the cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalem with a great multitude.

31 Who spake peaceable wordes vnto them in deceit, and they gaue credit vnto him.

32 Then he fel suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, and destroyed much people of Irael.

33 And when he had spoyled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away the cattel.

35 Then fortified they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towres, and made it a strong holde for them.

36 Moreouer they set wicked people there, & vngodly persons, and fortified themselves therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons and vi-tailes, and gathered the spoyle of Ierusalem, and layed it vp there.

38 Thus became they a fore snare, and were in ambushment for the Sanctuarie, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Irael.

39 For they shed innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuarie, & defiled the Sanctuarie, 40 In so much that the citizens of Ierusalem fled away because of them, and it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whom she had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.

41 Her Sanctuarie was left waste as a wilderness: her holie dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproche, & her honour brought to naught.

42 As her glory had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorow.

43 Also the King wrote vnto all his kingdome, that al the people should be as one, and that euerie man should leaue his lawes.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the King.

45 Yea, many of the Iraelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the King sent letters by the messengers vnto Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iuda, that they shoulde followe the strange lawes of the countrey.

47 And that they should forbid the burnt offrings and sacrifices, and the " offerings in the Sanctuarie,

48 And that they shoulde defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,

49 And pollute the Sanctuarie and the holy men,

50 And to set vp altars, and groues, and chapels of idoles, and offer vp swines flesh, and vnclane beastes,

51 And that they should leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their soules with vnclannes, & pollute themselves, that they might forget the Lawe, and change all the ordinances,

52 And that whosoever woulde not do according to the comandement of the King, should suffer death.

53 In like maner wrote he throughout all his kingdomes, & set ouerseers ouer all the people, for so compell them so do these things.

54 And he commanded the cities of Iuda to do sacrifice, citie by citie.

55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forsooke the Law, and so they committed euill in the land.

56 And they droue the Iraelites into secret places, euen wheresoeuer they coulde flye for succour.

57 The fiftenth day of Casleu, in the hundreth and fise and fourtieth yere, they set vp the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, and they builded altars throughout the cities of Iuda on euery side.

58 And before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes they burnt incense.

59 And the bookes of the Lawe, which they found, they burnt in the fire, & cut in pieces.

60 Whosoever had a booke of the Testament found by him, or whosoever consented vnto the Lawe, the Kings commandement was, that they shoulde put him to death by their autoritie.

61 And they executed these things euerie month vpon the people of Irael that were found in their cities.

62 And in the fise & twentie day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the steade of the altar of sacrifices.

63 And according to the comandement, they put certeine women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised, 64 And they hanged vp the children at their neckes, and they spoyled their houses, and slewe the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there manie in Irael, which were of courage, and determined in themselves, that they would not eate vnclane things, 66 But chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with those meates: so because they woulde not breake the holy couenant, they were put to death.

67 And this " tyrannie was very sore vpon the people of Irael.

CHAP. II.

The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie. 19 They refuse to doe sacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Lawe of God. 33 They are slayne and will not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying comandeth his sonnes to flie by the word of God, after the example of the fathers.

IN those dayes stoode vp Mattathias the Priest, the sonne of Ioannes, the sonne of Simeon, of the sonnes of Ioarib of Ierusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And hee had fise sonnes, Ioanan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thaffi,

4 Iudas which was called Maccabeus,

5 Eleazar called " Abaron, and Jonathan, whose name was Apphus.

6 Now he sawe the blasphemies, which were committed in Iuda and Ierusalem:

7 And he said, Wo is me: wherefore was I borne,

Or, Apphus

- borne, to see this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holie citie, and thus to sit still it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies,
- 8 And the Sanctuarie is in the hands of strangers: her Temple is as a man that hath no renoume.
- 9 Her glorious vessels are caried away into captiuitie: her infants are slayne in the streetes, and her young men are fallen by the sword of the enemies.
- 10 What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kingdome, or hath not gotten of her spoiles?
- 11 All her glorie is taken away: of a free woman, she is become an handmaid.
- 12 Behold, our Sanctuarie and our beautie, and honour is desolate, and the Gentiles haue defiled it.
- 13 What helpe is vs then, to liue any longer?
- 14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he, and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very fore.
- 15 ¶ Then came men from the King to the citie of Modin to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice.
- 16 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together.
- 17 Then spake the commissioners of the King, & said vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chiete and an honorable man, and great in this citie, and hast many children and brethren.
- 18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the Kings commandement, as all the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Ierusalem: so shalt thou and thy familie be in the Kings fauour, and thou and thy children shalbe enriched with siluer and golde, and with many rewards.
- 19 Then Mattathias answered and said with a loude voyce, Though all nations that are vnder the Kings dominion, obey him, and fall away euery man from the religion of their fathers, & consent to his commandements,
- 20 Yet will I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the covenant of our fathers.
- 21 God be mercifull vnto vs, that wee forsake not the Law and the ordinances.
- 22 We will not hearken vnto the Kings words to transgresse our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.
- 23 And when he had left of speaking these wordes, there came one of the Iewes, in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the Kings commandement.
- 24 Now when Mattathias saw it, he was so inflamed with zeale, that his raynes shooke, & his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance of the Law: therefore he ranne vnto him, and killed him by the altar.
- 25 And at y same time he slew the Kings commissioner, that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.
- 26 Thus bare he a zeale to the Law of God, <sup>doing, as Phinees did vnto Zābri the sonne of Salom.</sup>
- 27 ¶ Then cried Mattathias with a loude voyce in the citie, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the Lawe, and will stande by the covenant, let him come forth after me.
- 28 So he, and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that they had in the citie.
- 29 Then many that fought after iustice and iudgement, <sup>Or, that lived iustly & vprightly.</sup>
- 30 Went downe into the wildernes to dwell there, both they, and their children, & their wiues, and their cattell: for the afflictions increased sore vpon them.
- 31 ¶ Nowe when it was tolde vnto the Kings seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the citie of David, that men had broken the Kings commandement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wildernes,
- 32 Then many pursued after them: and hauing overtaken them, they camped against them, and set the battell in array against them on the Sabbath day.
- 33 And said vnto them, Let this now be sufficient: come forth and do according to the commandement of the King, & ye shal liue.
- 34 But they answered, We will not go forth, neither will we do the Kings commandement, to defile the Sabbath day.
- 35 Then they gaue them the battel.
- 36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, nor stopped the priue places,
- 37 But said, We will die all in our innocencie: the heauen and earth shal testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs wrongfully.
- 38 Thus they gaue them the battel vpon the Sabbath, & slewe both men and cattel, their wiues and their children to the number of a thousand people.
- 39 ¶ When Mattathias & his friends vnderstoode this, they mourned for them greatly,
- 40 And said one to another, If we all do as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, & for our Lawes, then shall they incontinently destroy vs out of the earth.
- 41 Therefore they cōcluded at the same time, saying, Whosoever shall come to make battel with vs vpon the Sabbath day, we will fight against him, y we die not al, as our brethren y were murdered in the secret places.
- 42 Then came vnto them the assembly of the Asideans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were wel minded toward the Law.
- 43 And al they that were fled for persecution, ioyned themselues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.
- 44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, and the vngodly in their anger: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.
- 45 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars,
- 46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coastes of Israel,
- 47 And they pursued after the proud men: &

this acte prospered in their hands.
48 So they recovered the Lawe out of the hand of the Gentiles, & out of the hande of Kings, and gave not place to the wicked.
49 Now when the time drew neere, that Mattathias shoulde dye, he saide vnto his sonnes, Now is pride & persecution increased, and the time of destruction, & the wrath of indignation.
50 Nowe therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Law, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.
51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shall ye receiue great honour and an euermore name.
52 Was not Abraham found faithfull in tentation; & it was imputed vnto him for righ-teousnes?
53 Ioseph in the time of his trouble kept the commandement, & was made lord of Egypt.
54 Phinees our father, because he was zealous and feruent, obtained the covenent of the euermore Priesthoode.
55 Iesus for fulfilling the wordes, was made the gouernour of Israel.
56 Caleb, because he bare witnes before the congregation, receiued the heritage of the land.
57 Dauid, because of his mercie obtained the throne of the kingdom for euermore.
58 Elias, because he was zealous & serueth in the Law, was taken vp euen vnto heauen.
59 Ananias, Azarias and Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame.
60 Daniel, because of his innocencie, was deliuered from the mouth of the lions.
61 And thus ye may consider throughout all ages, that whosoever put their trust in him, shall not want strength.
62 Feare not ye then the wordes of a sinfull man: for his glorie is but dōge & wormes.
63 To day is he set vp, and to morow he shall not be found: for he is turned into his dust, and his purpose perisheth.
64 Wherefore, my sonnes, take good hearts, and shewe your selues men for the Law: for by it shall you obtaine glorie.
65 And beholde, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsell: giue care vnto him alway: he shal be a father vnto you.
66 And Iudas Maccabeus hath bene mightie and strong, euen from his youth vp: let him be your capitaine, and fight you the battel for the people.
67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that obserue the Law, and shall auenge the iniu-ries of your people.
68 Recompence fully the heathen, & giue your selues to the commandement of the Law.
69 So he blessed them, and was layed with his fathers,
70 And died in the hundreth, fourtie and sixe yere, & his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, & all Israel made great lamentation for him.

Iudas is made ruler over the Lewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidence of

Then Iudas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose vp in his place.
20 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that helde with his father, and fought with courage the battel of Israel.
3 So he gave his people great honour, he put on a breastplate as a gyant, and armed himselfe, and for the battel in array, and defended the campe with the sword.
4 In his actes he was like a lyon, and as a lyons whelps roaring after the pray.
5 For he pursued the wicked, & sought them out, & burnt vp those that vexed his people, 6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, & all the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.
7 And he grieved diuers Kings, but Iacob reioyced by his actes, & his memoriall is blest-ed for euer.
8 He went also thorow the cities of Iuda, & destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.
9 So was he renowned vnto the ends of the earth, and he assembled together those that were ready to perish.
10 But Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, & a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.
11 Which whē Iudas perceiued, he went forth to meet him, and smote him, & slewe him, so that many fell downe slaine, & the rest fled.
12 So Iudas tooke their spoiles, & tooke also Apollonius sword, and fought with it all his life long.
13 Nowe when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard that Iudas had gathered vnto him the congregation, and Church of the faithfull, and went forth to the warre, 14 He said, I will get me a name, & will be glorious in the Realme: for I will go fight with Iudas, & them that are with him, which haue despised the Kings commandement.
15 So he made him ready to go vp, & there went with him a mightie host of the vngod-ly to helpe him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.
16 And when he came neere to the going vp of Bethhoron, Iudas went forth to meete him with a small companie.
17 But when they saw the armie comming against them, they said to Iudas, How are we able, being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, & so strong, seeing we be so wearie, and haue fasted all this day?
18 The said Iudas, It is an easie thing for many to be shut vp in y<sup>e</sup> hāds of fewe, & there is no differēce before the God of heauē, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie.
19 For the victorie of the battel standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.
20 They come against vs with a cruel & proud multitude, to destroy vs, and our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs.
21 But we do fyght for our liues, and for our Lawes,

23 And God him selfe will destroy the before our face: therefore be not ye afraid of them.
24 And when he had left of speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seren and his host destroyed before him.
25 And they pursued them from the going downe of Bethoron vnto the plaine: where there were haire eight hundred men of them; and the residue fled into the lande of the Philistims.
26 Then the feare, and terrout of Iudas, and his brethren fell vpon the nations rounde about.
27 So that his fame came vnto the King: for al
the Gentiles could tell of the wages of Iudas.
28 But when King Antiochus heard these things, he was angrie in his minde: wherefore he sent forth, and gathered all the power of his realme a verie strong armie.
29 And opened his treasure, & gaue his hoste a yeres wages in hand, commanding them to be readie for a yere for all occasions.
30 Neuertheless when he sawe that the money of his treasure fayled, and that the tributes in the countrey were small, because of the dissension, and plagues that he had brought vpon the lande, in taking awaye the lawes which had bene of olde time, 31 He feared least he should not haue nowe at the second time, as at the first, for the charges and giftes that he had giuen with a liberal hand afore: for in liberalitie he farre passed the other Kings that were before him.
32 Wherefore he was heauie in his minde, and thought to go into Persia, for to take tributes of the countreis, and to gather much money.
33 So he left Lyfias a noble man and of the Kings blood to ouersee the Kings busines, fro the riuier of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt.
34 And to bring vp his sonne Antiochus, till he came againe.
35 Moreouer, he gaue him halfe of his host & elephants, and gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done.
36 And concerning those which dwelt in Iuda and Ierusalem, that he should sende an armie against them, to destroy & roote out the power of Israel & the remnant of Ierusalem, & to put out their memorial from that place, 37 And to set strangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and parte their land among them.
38 And the King tooke the halfe of the hoste that remayned, & departed from Antiochia his royal citie, in the yere an hundredth four-tie and seuen, and passed the riuier Euphrates, and went thorow the hie countreis.
39 Then Lyfias chose Ptolemus the sonne of Dorimnus, and Nicanor, & Gorgias, mighty men, and the Kings friends, 40 And sent with them fourtie thousand footmen, and seuen thousande horsemen, to go into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, as the King commanded.
41 So they went forth with all their power, & came and pitched by Emmaus in the plaine countrey.

Emmaus.

41 Now when the marchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke verie much siluer and golde, & seruants, and came into the campe to bye the children of Israel for slaues, and the strength of Syria and of strange nations ioyned with them.
42 ¶ Now when Iudas & his brethren saw that trouble increased, & that the host drew nere vnto their borders, considering the Kings wordes, whereby he had commanded to destroy the people, & utterly abolish them; 43 They sayd one to another, Let vs redresse the decaye of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuarie.
44 Then the congregation was, some readie gathered to fight, and to praye, and to desire mercie and compassion.
45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wildernes. There w<sup>as</sup> none that was borne in it, or out at it, and the Sanctuarie was troden downe, and the strangers kept the fortresse, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Iacob was take awaye
the pipe and the harp.
46 So they gathered them selues together, & came to Maspha before Ierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.
47 And they fasted that day, and put sackcloth vpon them, and cast ashes vpon their heads, and rent their clothes.
48 And opened the booke of the Law, wherein the heathen sought to put the likenes of their Idoles.
49 And brought the Priests garments, and the first frutes, & the tithes, & set there the Na-zarites, which accomplished their dayes.
50 And they cryed with a loud voyce, toward heauen, saying, What shall we do with these?
and whither shal we carie them away?
51 For thy Sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, and thy Priests are in chains, and brought downe.
52 And behold, the heathen are come against vs to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.
53 How can we stand before the, except thou helpe vs?
54 Then they blewe the trumpets, and cryed with a lowde voyce.
55 And after this Iudas ordeined captaines ou-er y<sup>e</sup> people, euen captaines ouer thousandes, and captaines ouer hundredes, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer ten.
56 And they commanded them that buylded houses, or married wiues, or planted vine-yardes, or were feareful, that they should returne euerie one to his owne house, according to the Lawe.
57 So the hoste removed, and pitched vpon
the Southside of Emmaus.
58 And Iudas said, Arme your selues, & be valiant men, & be readie against y<sup>e</sup> morning to fight wth these nations, w<sup>h</sup> are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs & our Sanctuarie.

to see the calamities of our people and of our Sanctuarie.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iudas goeth against Gorgias which lieth in wait. 24 He put-teth Gorgias and his host to flight. 28 Lyfias innueth Ludas, 29 But Iudas drineth him out: 33 Iudas purifieth the Temple and dedicateth it anew.

*Ioseph. lib. 12. cha.
10.*

2 Then tooke Gorgias five thousand foote men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, & departed out of the campe by night, 3 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, and to slay them suddenly: and the men of the forteresse were his guides.

4 Now when Iudas heard it, he remoued, and they that were valliant men to smite y<sup>e</sup> Kings armie which was at Emmaus,

5 Whiles yet the armie was disperfed from the campe.

6 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Iudas campe: and when he found no man there, he sought the in the mountaines:
for said he, They flie from vs.

7 But sloodne as it was daye, Iudas shewed himselfe in the fildes with three thousand men, which had neither harnesse nor swords to their mindes.

8 And they sawe that the armies of the heathen were strong and well armed, and their horsemen about them, and that these were expert men of warre.

9 Then said Iudas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, neither be afayed of their assault.

10 Remember, how our fathers were deliue-red in the red Sea, when Pharao pursued them with an armie.

11 Therefore now let vs crye vnto heauen, & the Lord will haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the covenant of our fathers, & will destroy this hoste before our face this daye:

12 So shall all the heathen knowe, that there is one, which deliuereth and saueth Israel.

13 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, and saw them comming against them,

14 And they went out of their tents into the battel, and they that were with Iudas, blew the trumpets.

15 So they ioyned together, and the heathen were discomfited and fled by the plaine.

16 But the hinmost of them fel by the sworde, and they pursued them vnto Gazeron, and into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, & of Iamnia, so that there were slaine of them about three thousand men.

17 So Iudas turned againe with his host from pursuing them,

18 And said vnto the people, Be not griedie of the spoyle: for there is a battell before vs.

19 And Gorgias and the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand ye now fast against your enemies, & ouercome them: then may ye safely take the spoyle.

20 As Iudas was speaking these wordes, there appeared one parte which looked from the mountaines.

21 But when Gorgias sawe that his were fled, & that Iudas souldiers burnt the tents: (for the smoke y<sup>e</sup> was seene, declared what was done.)

22 When they saw these things, they were sore afayed, and when they saw also that Iudas & his hoste were in the field ready to let them selues in aray,

23 They fled euery one into y<sup>e</sup> land of strangers.

24 So Iudas turned againe to spoyle the tents, where he gate much golde & siluer, & precious stones, & purple of y<sup>e</sup> sea, & great riches.

25 Thus they went home, and sung psalmes, & praised towarde the heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

26 And so Israel had a great victorie in y<sup>e</sup> daye.
27 ¶ Now all the strangers that escaped, came,
& tolde Lyfias al the things that were done.

28 Who when he heard these things, was fore afayed, & discouraged, because such things came not vpon Israel as he woulde, neither such things as the King had comanded him, came to passe.

29 Therefore the next yere following, gathered Lyfias threescore thousand chosen foote men, and five thousand horsemen to fight against Ierusalem.

30 So they came into Idumea, and pitched their tents at Beth-sura, where Iudas came against them with ten thousand men.

31 And when he saw y<sup>e</sup> mightie armie, he praised & said, Blessed be thou, o Sauour of Israel, which diddest destroy the assault of the mightie man by the hand of thy seruant Da-uid, & gauest the host of the strangers into the hand of Ionathan, the sonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer:

32 Shut vp this armie in the hand of thy people of Israel, & let them be confounded with their power, and with their horsemen.

33 Make them afayed, & consume their boldnes and strength, y<sup>e</sup> they may be astonished at their destruction.

34 Cast them downe by the sworde of them that loue thee: then shall all they that know thy Name, praise thee with songs.

35 So they ioyned together, and there were slaine of Lyfias host, five thousand men, and they fell before them.

36 Then Lyfias, seeing his armie put to flight, and the manlines of Iudas souldiers, & that they were ready, either to liue or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, & gathered strangers, and when he had furnished his armie, he thought againe (being prepared) to come against Iudea.

37 Then said Iudas & his brethren, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let vs now goe vp to cleanse, and to reparaire the Sanctuarie.

38 So all the host gathered them together, & went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

39 Now when they saw the Sanctuarie layed waste, and the altar defiled, and the doores burnt vp, and the shrubbes growing in the courtes, as in a forest, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priestes chambers were broken downe,

40 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, & cast ashes vpon their heades,

40 Then Iudas commanded certaine of the men to fight against those which were in the castell, till he had cleansed the Sanctuarie.
 41 So he chose Priestes that were vndeified, such as delited in the Law, 42 And they cleansed y<sup>e</sup> Sanctuarie, & bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place, 43 And consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offerings, which was polluted.
 44 So they thought it was best to destroye it, least it should be a reproche vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar,
 45 And laied vp the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a conuenient place, till there should come a Prophet, to shewe what should be done with them.
 46 So they tooke whole stones according to y<sup>e</sup> Law, and buylded a new altar according to the former,
 47 And made vp the Sanctuarie, & the things that were within the Temple, & the courts, and all things.
 48 They made also newe holy vessels, and brought into the Temple the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings, and of incense, and the table.
 49 And they burnt incense vpon the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon y<sup>e</sup> candlestick, y<sup>e</sup> they might burne in the Temple.
 50 They set also the shewbread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vailles, & finished all the workes that they had begonne to make.
 51 And vpon the five and twentieth day of y<sup>e</sup> ninth moneth, which is called y<sup>e</sup> moneth of Chassu, in the hundreth & eight & fourtieth yere they rose vp betimes in the morning, 52 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the newe altar of burnt offerings, that they had made.
 53 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day was it made new with songs, & harpes, and lutes, and cymbales.
 54 And al the people fel vpon their faces, worshipping and praying toward y<sup>e</sup> heauen him that had giuen them good successe.
 55 So they kept the dedication of y<sup>e</sup> altar eight dayes, offering burnt offerings with gladnes, & offered sacrifices of deliuerance and prayse, 56 And dede the forefront of the Temple wth crownes of golde and shieldes, and dedicated the gates and chambers, and hanged doores vpon them.
 57 Thus there was very great gladnes among the people, and the reproche of the heathen was put away.
 58 So Iudas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordeined that y<sup>e</sup> dayes of dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from yere to yere, by the space of eight daies, from the five and twentie day of y<sup>e</sup> moneth Chasseu, with mirth & gladnes.
 59 And at the same time buylded they vp mount Sion with hie walles & strong towres rounde about, least the Gentiles shoulde come, and treade it down, as they had done afore.

61 Therefore they set a garison there to keepe it, & fortified Beth-sura to keepe it, y<sup>e</sup> the people might haue a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

Iudas vanquished the heathen that go about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Jonathan. 50 He ouerthroweth the citie of Ephraim, because they denied him passage thurrowe it.

1 N Owe when the nations rounde about heard, that the altar was buylded, and the Sanctuarie renued, as afore, they were sore grieved.

2 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Iacob that was among them, and began to slay and destroy the people.

3 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arrabathene, because they besieged the Israelites, and he smote them with a great plague, and droue them to straites, and tooke their spoyle.

Or, Arabathene.

4 He thought also vpon the malice of the children of Ben, which had bene a snare & an hinderance vnto the people, when they lay in wayte for them in the hie way.

5 Wherefore he shut them vp in towres, and besieged them, and destroyed them vterly, and burnt their towres with fire, with all that were in them.

6 Afterward, went he against the children of Ammon, where he found a mightie power, and a great multitude with Timotheus their captaine.

7 So he had manie battels with the, but they were destroyed before him, and so he discomfited them,

8 And tooke Gazer with the towres thereof, and so turned againe into Iudea.

9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against y<sup>e</sup> Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castell of Datheman,

10 And sent letters to Iudas, & to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs,

11 And they make them ready for to come, & to take the fortresse, wherunto we are fled, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.

12 Come now therefore, and deliuer vs out of their handes: for manie of vs are slaine:

13 And al our brethren that were at Tubin, are slaine, & they haue taken away their wiues, and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers fro Galile with their clothes rent, which tolde the same tidings, 15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and of Sidon, & of al Galile of y<sup>e</sup> Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy the.

16 When Iudas, and the people heard these wordes, a great Congregation came together, to consulte what they might do for their brethren, that were in trouble, and whom they besieged.

17 Then said Iudas to Simo his brother, Chuse thee out men, & go and deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I and my brother Jonathan, will will go into the countrey of Galaad.

18 ¶ So he left Iosephus y sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, & to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Iudea, 19 And comanded the, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, & make no warre against the heathen, vntill we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon were giue three thousand men to go into Galile, & to Iudas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathē were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued the vnto the gates of Ptolemis: and there were slaine of the heathē almost three thousand men: so hee tooke their spoyle.

23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile and in Arbatis with their wiues, & their children, and al that they had, and brought them into Iudea with great ioye.

24 ¶ Iudas Maccabeus also, and his brother Ionathan went ouer Iorden, & traueyled three dayes iourney in the wildernes,

25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, & tolde them euery thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad,

26 And howe that many of them were besieged in Bosorra, and Bosor, in Aleimis, Chasbon, Maged and Carnaim (all these cities are strong, and great)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morow they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these fortes, & to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 So Iudas and his hoste turned in all haste by the waye of the wildernes toward Bosorra, & wanne the citie, and slewe all the males with the edge of the sworde, and tooke all their spoyle, and set fire vpon the citie.

29 And in the night he remoued from thence, and went toward the fortresse.

30 And betimes in the morning whē they looked vp, behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the forte, & had assaulted the.

31 When Iudas sawe that the battell was begun, and that the crye of the citie went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great founde, 32 Then he sayd vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behinde them with three companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cryed with prayer.

34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knewe, that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from him, & he smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day, almost eight thousand men.

35 ¶ Then departed Iudas vnto Maspha, and layd siege vnto it, & wane it, and slew all the males thereof, and spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Chasbon, Maged, and Bosor, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another hoste; & he camped before Raphon beyond the floud.

38 Now Iudas had sent to espie the hoste, and they brought him worde againe, saying, Al y heathen that bee round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is verie great,

39 And he hath hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tentes beyond the floud, & are readie to come & fight against thee. So Iudas went to meete them.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captaines of his hoste, When Iudas and his hoste come neere the floud, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shall not be able to withstande him: for he will be to strong for vs.

41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyond the floud, we will go ouer vnto him, & shall preuaile against him.

42 Now when Iudas came neere to the floud, he caused y gouernours of the people to remaine by the floud; and commanded them, saying, Suffer none to pitche a tente, but let euerie man come to the battell.

43 So he went first ouer toward them, and all the people after him: & all the heathen were discomfited before him, and cast away their weapons, and fled into the Temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which citie Iudas wanne, and burnt the temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Iudas.

45 ¶ Then Iudas gathered al the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, & led the least vnto the most, with their wiues & their children, and their baggage, a verie great hoste, to come into the land of Iuda.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great citie by the way, and strongly defended: they could not passe, neither at the right had nor at the left, but must go thorowe it.

47 But they that were in the citie, shut them selues in, and stopped vp the gates w stones: and Iudas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying,

48 Let vs passe thorow your land, that we may go into our owne countrey, and none shall hurt you: we will but onely goe thorowe on foote: but they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Iudas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoste, that euerie man should assault it according to his standing.

50 So the valiant men set vpō it, and assaulted the citie all that daye, and all that night, and the citie was giuen ouer into his hands:

51 Who slewe all the males with the edge of the sworde, and destroyed it, and tooke the spoyle thereof, and went thorowe the citie ouer them that were slaine.

52 Then went they ouer Iorden into the great plaine before Bethsan.

53 And Iudas gathered together those that were behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the waye thorowe, til they were come into the land of Iuda.

54 Thus they went vp with ioye, and gladnes vnto mount Sion, where they offered burnt offings, because there were none of them slayne, slayne, but came home againe in safetie.

55 ¶ Now whiles Iudas and Ionathan were in the land of Galaad, & Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais, 56 Ioseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias the captaines, hearing of the valiant actes, & battels which they had atchieued, sayd, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, & go fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoste a commandement and went towarde Iamnia.

59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the citie to fight against them.

60 And Ioseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued vnto the borders of Iudca: and there were slayne that daye of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great ouerthrowe among the people of Israel.

61 Because they were not obedient vnto Iudas, and his brethré, but thought to do some valiant thing.

62 Also they came not of the stocke of these men, by whose handes deliuerance was giue to Israel.

63 But the man Iudas, and his brethren were greatly commended in the fight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, wherefoeuer their name was heard of.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 Afterward went Iudas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the South, where he wanne Hebron, and the towne thereof, and he destroyed the castell thereof, and burnt the towres thereof round about.

66 Then remoued he to go into the lande of the strangers, and went thorow Samaria.

67 At the same time were the Priests of the cities slaine in the battell, which would shewe their valiantnes, & went forth to battell without counsell: and when Iudas came to Azotus in y<sup>e</sup> strangers land, he brake downe their altars, & burnt with fire the images of their gods, and tooke away the spoiles of the cities, & came againe into the land of Iuda.

CHAP. VI.

1 Antiochus, willing to take the citie of Elimaïs, is driven away of the citizens. 2 He falleth into sickness, and dyeth. 3 He sonne Antiochus is made King. 4 The manner to provoke elephants to fight. 5 Eleazar and valiant acts. 6 The siege of Ios.

1 N Owe when King Antiochus traueyled thorow the high countreys, he heard y<sup>e</sup> Elimaïs in the countrey of Persia was a citie greatly renowned for riches, siluer & golde, And that there was in it a verie riche temple, whereas were couerings of gold, cote armours, & harness, which Alexander King of Macedonia the sonne of Philippe (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of the matter,

4 And rose vp against him in battell, and he fled and departed thence with great heauines, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Persia, that the armies that went against the land of Iuda, were driuen away,

6 And that Lyfias, which went forth first with a great power, was driuen away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoiles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed,

7 And that they had pulled downe the abomination, which he had set vp vpon the altar at Ierusalem, and fenced the Sanctuarie with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth-sura his citie.

8 So when the King had heard these wordes, he was astonished, and sore moued: therefore he laid him downe vpon his bed, & fell sicke for verie sorowe, because it was not come to passe, as he had thought.

9 And there continued he many dayes: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he sawe he must needs die.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friends, & said vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thinke with my selfe, Into what aduersitie am I come? and into what flouds of miserie am I fallen now, where as aforetime I was in prosperitie, & greatly set by, by reason of my power?

12 And nowe do I remember the euils that I haue done at Ierusalem: for I tooke all the vessels of golde and of siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitantes of Iuda without cause.

13 I knowe that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and beholde, I must dye with great sorowe in a strange land.

14 He called he for Philippe, one of his friends, whom he made ruler of all his realme,

15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, & the ring, that he should instruct his sonne Antiochus, and bring him vp, till he might reigne himselfe.

16 So King Antiochus died there in the hundredeth, and fourtie and ninth yere.

17 ¶ When Lyfias knewe, that the King was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne (who he had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers steade, and called him Eupator.

18 Now they that were in the castell at Ierusalem, kept in the Israelites rounde about the Sanctuarie, and sought alwayes their hurt, & the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Therefore Iudas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, & besieged the in the hundredeth & fiftie yere, and made instruments to shoote and other engins of warre.

21 But certaine of them that were besieged, gate forth, (vnto whom some vngodly me of Israel ioyned themselves)

22 And they went vnto the King, saying, How long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue bene readie to serue thy father, & to go forward in those things, y<sup>e</sup> he appointed,

- ted, and to obey his commandements.
- 24 Therefore they of our nations fell from vs for this cause, and wherfoeuer they founde any of vs, they slewe them, and spoyled our inheritance.
- 25 And they haue not onely layed hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.
- 26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castell at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuarie, and Beth-sura.
- 27 And if thou doest not preuent the quickly, they will do greater thinges then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.
- 28 When the King heard this, he was very angrie, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his armie, and his horsemen,
- 29 And bands that were hired, came vnto him from the Kings, that were confederate, and from the yles of the sea.
- 30 So the number of his armie was an hundred thousand footemen, and twentie thousand horsemen, and two and thirtie elephants exercised in battell.
- 31 These came through Idumea & drew neere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season, & made engins of warre: but they came out, & burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.
- 32 Then departed Iudas from the castell, and remoued the hoste toward Beth-zacarias ouer against the Kings campe.
- 33 So the King arose verie carely, and brought the armie and his power toward the waye of Beth-zacarias, where y armie set them selues in array to the battell, & blew the trumpets.
- 34 And to prouoke the elephants for to fight, they shewed them the bloud of grapes and mulberies,
- 35 And they set the beastes according to the ranges: so y by euery elephant there stode a thousand men armed with coates of maille and helmets of brasse vpon their heads, and vnto euery beast were ordeined fise hundred horsemen of the best,
- 36 Which were readie at all times wherfoeuer the beast was: & whitherfoeuer the beast went, they wet also, & departed not fro him.
- 37 And vpon them were strong towers of wood that couered euery beast, which were fastened thereon with instruments, & vpon euery one was two and thirtie men, that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.
- 38 They set also the remnant of the horsemen vpon both the sides in two wings of the hoste to stirre them vp, and to keepe them in the valleyes.
- 39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golde shieldes, the mountaines glistered therewith, and gaue light as lampes of fire.
- 40 Thus part of the Kings armie was spread vpon the hie mountaines, and parte beneath: so they marched forward warily and in order.
- 41 And all they that heard the noyse of their multitude, and the marching of the companie, and the ratteling of the harnessse, were astonished: for the armie was verie great and mightie.
- 42 Then Iudas and his hoste entred into the battell, and they slewe fixe hundred men of the Kings armie.
- 43 ¶ Now when Eleazar, the sonne of Abaron, sawe one of the elephants armed with royal harnessse, and was more excellent then all the other beastes, he thought y the King should be vpon him.
- 44 Wherefore he ioparded him selfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name,
- 45 And ranne boldly vnto him through the middes of the hoste, slaying on the right hand, and on the left, so that they departed away on both sides.
- 46 So went he to the elephants feete, & gate him vnder him, and slewe him: then fel the elephant down vpon him, & there he dyed.
- 47 But the other, seeing the power of the King and the fiercenes of his armie, departed fro them.
- 48 ¶ And the Kings armie went vp to meete them toward Ierusalem, & the King pitched his tentes in Iudea toward mount Sion.
- 49 Moreover, the King tooke truce w them y were in Beth-sura: but whe they came out of the citie, because they had no vitails there, & were shut vp therein, & the land had rested,
- 50 The King tooke Beth-sura, and set there a garison to keepe it,
- 51 And besieged the Sanctuarie many dayes, and made instruments to shoote, & other engins of warre, & instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast dartes and slings.
- 52 ¶ They also made engins against their engins, and fought a long season.
- 53 But in the garners there were no vitails: for it was the seuenth yere, & then they that were in Iudea, & were deliuered from y Gētiles, had eaten vp the residue of the store,
- 54 So that in the Sanctuarie were few me left for the famine came so vpon them, that they were scattered euery man to his owne place.
- 55 ¶ Now whe Lysias heard y Philippe (whom Antiochus the King, whyles he liued, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be King)
- 56 Was come againe out of Persia, & Media, and the Kings hoste with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of thinges,
- 57 He and his hasted, and were stirred forward by them in the castell to go and tel the King, and the captaines of the host, and to others, saying, We decrease daily, & our vitails are but smal: and the place that we lay siege vnto, is strong, and the affaires of the realme depende vpon vs.
- 58 Nowe therefore let vs agree with these men, and take truce with them, and with all their nation,
- 59 And graunt them to liue after their Lawe, as they did afore: for they be grieued, and doe all these thinges, because we haue broken their Lawes.
- 60 So the King and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, and they receiued it.
- 61 When the King & the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpon this out of the fortresse.

60 And the King went vp to mount Sion; but when he sawe that the place was well defended, he brake his othe that he had made, & commanded to breake down the wal round about.

61 Then departed he in all haste, and returned vnto Antiochia where he found Philippe hauing dominion of the citie: so he sought against him, and tooke the citie by force.

CHAP. VII.

Demetrius reigned, after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias. He troubled the children of Israel through the counsel of certain wicked persons. The prayer of the Priests against Nicanor. As Judas killed Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.

1 In the hundredth and one and fiftieth yere, I departed Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came vp with a few men vnto a citie of the sea coaste, and reigned there.

2 And when he came into the possession of his fathers kingdome, his souldiers tooke Antiochus and Lysias, and brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was told him, he said, Shew me not their faces.

4 So they put the to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome,

5 There came vnto him all the wicked & vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene the hie Priest.

6 These men accused the people vnto the King, saying, Iudas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friendes, and driuen vs out of our owne lande.

7 Wherefore send nowe some man, whome thou trustest, that he may go and see all the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, & to the Kings lande, and let him punish them with all their partakers.

8 Then the King choose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the realme, & ruled beyond the floud, and was faythful vnto the king, and sent him,

9 And that wicked Alcimus, whom he made hie Priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great hoste into the land of Iuda, and sent messengers to Iudas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable wordes.

11 But they beleued not their saying: for they sawe that they were come with a great hoste.

12 Then a companie of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreat of reasonable pointes.

13 And the Asideans were first that required peace among the children of Israel.

14 For sayd they, He that is a Priest of the seede of Aaron, is come with this armie: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, and swore vnto them, and sayd, We will do you no harme, neither your friends:

16 And they beleued him: but he rooke of the threescore men, and slew them in one day according to the wordes that were writen.

17 They haue cast the bodies of thy Saintes, and their bloud round about Ierusalem, and there was no man that would burye them.

18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they sayd, There is neither truth nor righteoulnes in them: for they haue broken the appointment and othe that they made.

19 Then Bacchides removed from Ierusalem, and pitched his tent at Beth-zecha, where he sent forth & tooke many of the men who had forsaken him, & certaine of the people whom he slew and cast into the great pit.

Or, Bethsachar, Bethsach.

20 Then committed he the countrey vnto Alcimus, & left men of warre with him to helpe him: so Bacchides went vnto the King.

21 Thus Alcimus stroue for the Priesthode.

22 And all such as troubled the people reformed vnto him: in so much, that they obtained the land of Iuda, & did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Iudas sawe all the mischief, that Alcimus and his companie had done among the Israelites more then the heathen,

24 He went forth round about all the borders of Iuda, and punished those, that were fallen away, so that they came no more abroad in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus sawe that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, & knewe he was not able to abide the, he went againe to the King, & accused the of wicked things.

26 Then the King sent Nicanor one of his chiefe princes, which hated Israel deadely, & commanded him, that he should destroye the people.

Iosaph. Antiq. 12. chap. 4. 8.

27 So Nicanor came to Ierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendly wordes, saying,

28 Let there be no warre betweene me, and you: I will come with fewe men, to see howe ye do, friendly.

29 So he came vnto Iudas, & they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.

30 Neuertheles, it was tolde Iudas, that he came vnto him vnder deceit: therefore he feared him, and would not see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsell was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Iudas, beside Carphasalama.

Or, Carphasalama.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste about fise thousand men: so they fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, & some of the Priests with the Elders of the people went forth of the Sanctuarie to salure him peaceably, & to shew him burnt offering that was offered for the King.

34 But he laughed at them, & mocked them, and counted the prophane, & spake proudly, and had rage.

35 And swore in his wrath, saying, If Iudas and his hoste be not deliuered nowe into mine handes, if euer I come againe in safetie, I will burne vp this house. With that, went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the Priests came in, & stode before the altar in the Temple, weeping, & saying,

37 For so much as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this House, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it shoulde be an house of wickedly against thy Sanctuarie; and punish him according to his malice.

 43 So the armies ioyned together in battell, the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and hee himselfe was first slaine in the battell.
 44 Nowe when his armie sawe that Nicanor was slaine, they cast awaye their weapons and fled.
 45 But they pursued after them a dayes iour-ney from Adasa vnto Gadera, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.
 46 So they came forth of all the townes of Iu-dea round about, and rushed vpon them, & threwe them from one to another, so that they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left.
 47 Then they tooke the spoyle, and the pray and smote of Nicanors head, and his right hand, which he helde vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged them vp afore Ierusalem.
 48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnes.
 49 And they ordeined, to keepe yerey that day on y thirteenth day of the moneth Adar.
 50 Thus y land of Iuda was in rest a litle while.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Iudas considering the power and pollicie of the Romans, ma-keth peace with them. 23 The conditions of amittall friendship sent to the Iewes.
 1 ¶ Iudas heard also the fame of the Romans, that they were mightie, and valiant, and agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace with all that came
 vnto them,
 20 And that they were men of great power, & they tolde him of their battels; and their worthie actes, which they did among the "Galatians whom they had conquered, and made to pay tribute, 30 And what they had done in the country of Spaine: how that they had wonne there the mines of silver and golde, 40 And that by their counsell, and gentle behaviour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had discomfited, & giuen great ouerthrowes to the Kings y came against the,
 from the vttermost part of the earth, & that noother gaue them tribute euery yere, 50 How they had also discomfited by battell

Philippe and Perſes Kings of the "Macedonians; and others, that arose against them, and how they ouercame them, 60 And how great Antiochus King of Asia that came against them in battell, hauing an hundredth and twentie elephantes, with horsemen, and chaicets, and a very great armie, was discomfited by them.
 7 And howe they tooke him aliue, and orde-ned him, with such as shoulde reigne after him, to pay a great tribute, and to giue hostages, and a separate porcion.
 8 Euen the country of Lydia, and Media, & Lydia, and of his best countreys, which they tooke of him & gaue the to King Eumenes.
 9 Again: when it was tolde them that the Grecians were comming to destroy them, 10 They sent against them a capitaine, which gaue them battell, and slew many of them, and tooke many prisoners with their wiues, and children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bond-men vnto this day.
 11 Moreouer, how they destroyed, & brought into subiection other kingdomes and plees, whoſeuer had wished to deſtroy them.
 12 But that they kept amitie with their owne friends, and those that stayed vpon them finally, y they conquered kingdomes, both farre and neere, in so much that whoſeuer heard of their renoume, was affraid of them.
 13 For whom they would helpe to their kin-domes, those reigned, & whom they would, they put downe: thus wrote they in most high authoritie.
 14 Yet for all this that none of them wore a crowne, neither was clothed in purple, robe magnified thereby, yea, they were in this 15 But that they had ordeyned themselves a counsell, wherein three hundredth & twentie men couſulted daily, and prouided for the comon affaires, to gouerne them well.
 16 And that they committed their gouerne-ment to one man euery yere, who did rule ouer all their country, to whom euery man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuie among them.
 17 ¶ Then Iudas choſt Euphlemus the ſonng of Iohn, the ſonne of Aetius, & Iason, the ſonng of Eleazar, and ſent them vnto Rome to make friendship, and mutual ſellowſhip with them, 18 That they might take from them the yoke (for they ſawe that the kingdom of the Gre-cians would keepe Iſrael in bondage).
 19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a verie great iourney, and came into the "Senate" where they ſpake and ſaid, 20 Iudas Maccabeus with his brethren, & the people of the Iewes hath ſent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendſhip, and peace with you, and ye to regiſter vs as your partakers and friendes.
 21 And the matter pleaſed them.
 22 And this is the copie of the epiſtle that they wrote in tables of braſſe & ſent to Ierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the peace, and mutual ſellowſhip.

- 23 Good successe be to the Romaines, & to the people of y<sup>e</sup> Lewes, by sea, & by land for ever, and the sword, and enemie be from them.
- 24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romaines, or any of their friends throughout all their dominion,
- 25 The people of y<sup>e</sup> Lewes shall helpe them, as the time shalbe appointed, wth all their heart,
- 26 Also "they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight for them, nor serue them with wheat nor weapons, nor money, nor shippes, as it pleaseth the Romaines, but "they shall keepe their couenantes without taking any thing of them.
- 27 Likewise also if warre come first against the nation of the Lewes, the Romains shal helpe them with a good will, according as the time shalbe appointed them.
- 28 Neither shall wheat be giuen vnto them, y<sup>e</sup> take their part, nor weapons, nor money, nor shippes, as it pleaseth the Romaines, who will keepe these couenants without deceit.
- 29 According to these articles the Romaines made the bonde with the people of y<sup>e</sup> Lewes.
- 30 If after these points the one partie, or the other will adde or diminishe, they may do it, at their pleasures, and whatsoeuer they shall adde, or take away, shalbe ratified.
- 31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Lewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thine heavy yoke vpon our friends, and confederates the Lewes?
- 32 If therefore they complayne any more against thee, we will do them iustice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

C H A P. IX.

After the death of Nicanor Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slayne. 31 Jonathan is put in the head of his brother. 47 The battell betwene Jonathan, & Bacchides. 55 Alcimus is smitten with the palsey, and dyeth. 68 He commeth vpon Jonathan by the counsell of certaine wicked persons, and is ouercome. 70 The truce of Jonathan with Bacchides.

- 1 IN the meane season when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor, and his hoste had giuen the battell, he sent Bacchides, and Alcimus againe into Iudaea; and his "chiefe strength with them.
- 2 So they went forth by the waye that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Mesaloth which is in Arbelis, & wanne it, and slewe much people.
- 3 And in the first moneth of the hundreth, fiftie and two yere, they layed their siege against Ierusalem.
- 4 But they rayed their campe, and came to Berea, with twentie thousand foote men and two thousand horsemen.
- 5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him.
- 6 And when they sawe, that the multitude of the armie was great, they were sore afraide, and many conueied themselves out of the hoste, so that there abode no mo of them, but eight hundreth men.
- 7 When Iudas sawe that his hoste sayled him, and y<sup>e</sup> he must needs fight, he was sore troubled in minde that he had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.

8 Neuertheles, he said vnto them that remained, Let vs rise, and go vp against our enemies, if peraduenture we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stayed him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather saue our liues: turne backe nowe, seeing our brethren are departed: for shal we fight against them, that are so few?

10 Then Iudas said, God forbid, that we should do this thing, to flie from them: if our time be come, let vs dye manfully for our brethre, and let vs not staine our honour.

11 Then the hoste remoued out of the tentes, and stode against them, who had deuided their horseme into two troupes, & they that threwe with slinges, and the archers marched in the forewarde, and they that fought in the forewarde, were all valiant men.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing. So the armie drewe neere on both sides, and blewe the trumpets.

13 They of Iudas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the armies, and the battell continued from morning to night.

14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides & the strength of his armie was on the right side, he tooke with him all the hardie men,

15 And brake the right wing, & followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16 Nowe when they which were of the left wing, sawe that the right wing was discomfired, they followed Iudas behinde, and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine of both the parties.

18 Iudas also himselfe was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 So Jonathan and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the cite of Modin.

20 And all the Israelites wept for him, & mourned greatly for him, and lamented many daies, saying,

21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!

22 Concerning the other things of Iudas, both the battels and the valiant actes that he did, and of his worthines, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, and there arose al such as gaue themselves to iniquitie. Iosaph. Antiq. 19. chap. 1. & 3.

24 In those daies was there a very great famine in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer themselves with them.

25 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out, and made searche for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them, & mocked them.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was scene among them.

28 Then came all Iudas friends together, and said

said vnto Ionathan,

29 Seing thy brother Iudas is dead, and there is none like him to go forth against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are enemies vnto vs,

Or, against the enemies of our nation.

30 Therefore, this day we chuse thee that thou maiest be our prince & capitaine in his place to order our battell.

31 So Ionathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in steade of his brother Iudas.

32 But when Bacchides knewe it, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Ionathan and Simo his brother, perceiving that, fled into the wildernes of Thecua with all their companie, & pitched their tentes by the water poole of Alfar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstoode, hee came ouer Iorden with al his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.

35 (Nowe had Ionathan sent his brother Iohn, a capitaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they would keepe their baggage which was much.

Or, Iambri.

36 But the childre of Ambri came out of Medaba, and tooke Iohn, and all that he had, & when they had taken it, went their way.

Or, Medabash.

37 After this came worde vnto Ionathan, and to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, and brought the bride from Medaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Canaan.

38 Therefore they remembred Iohn their brother, and went vp, and hid themselues vnder the couert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and beholde, there was a great noyse, and much preparation: then y bridegrome came forth, and his friendes and his brethren met them with tymbrels, and instruments of musike, & many weapons.

40 Then Ionathans men that lay in ambush, rose vp against them, and slewe many of the, and the remnant fled into the mountaines, so that they tooke all their spoiles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the bloud of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iorden.

43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Iorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)

44 Then Ionathan saide vnto his companie, Let vs rise nowe, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Behold, the battell is before vs, and behind vs, and the water of Iorden on this side and that side, and the marise, and forest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

the meanes to be deliuered from the power of enemies is prayer.

46 Wherefore erie nowe vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they ioyned battell.

47 Then Ionathan stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him and reculed.

48 Then Ionathan, and they that were with him, leapt into Iorden, and swimmmed ouer vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe through Iorden after them.

49 So in that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Ierusalem, and buylt vp the strong cities in Iuda, as y castell of Iericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, Pharathon, and Tephon, with high walles, with gates, and with barres, 51 And set garisons in them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the citie Beth-sura, and Gazara, and the castell, & set a garison in the with prouision of vitailles.

53 He tooke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the country for hostages, and put them in the castell at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 ¶ Afterward in the hundreth, fiftie & three yere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuarie should be destroyed, and he pulled downe the monuments of the Prophets, and began to destroye them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterprises were hindred, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palsie, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides sawe, that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the King, and so the land of Iuda was in rest two yeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Ionathan and his companie dwell at ease, and without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, & he will take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose and came with a great hoste, & sent letters priuily to his adherentes, which were in Iudea, to take Ionathan and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them.

61 And they tooke fiftie men of the country, which were the chiefe workers of this wickednes, and slew them.

62 ¶ Then Ionathan and Simon with their companie departed vnto Beth-basin which is in the wildernes, & repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent worde to them that were of Iudea.

64 Then came he and laid siege to Beth-basin, and fought against it a long season, & made instruments of warre.

65 But Ionathan had left his brother Simon in the citie, and went forth into the country, and came with a certaine number,

66 And slew Odomeras and his brethren and the children of Phasiron in their tentes: so he began to slaye, and increased in power.

67 Simon also & his companie went out of the citie, and burnt vp the instruments of warre,

68 And

- 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him, & vexed him sore, so that his counsell and journey was in vaine.
- 69 Wherefore he was verie wroth at the wicked men, that gaue him counsel to come into the countrey, & slewe many of them, & purposed to returne into his owne countrey.
- 70 Whereof when Ionathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to intreate of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be deliuered.
- 71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his desire, and made an othe, that he would neuer do him harme all the dayes of his life.
- 72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the lande of Iuda, and so returned and went into his own lande, neither did hee come any more into their borders.
- 73 Thus the sworde ceased from Israel, and Ionathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathan. 18 Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 28 Alexander maketh warre against Ptolemius. 30 Demetrius is slayne. 31 The friendship of Ptolemius and Alexander.

- 1 IN the hundreth and three score yere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and tooke Ptolemis, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.
- 2 Now when Demetrius the King heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.
- 3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Ionathan, with louing words, as though he would preferre him.
- 4 For he said, We wil first make peace wth him, before he ioyne with Alexander against vs.
- 5 Els he will remember all the euill that we haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.
- 6 And so he gaue Ionathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castell, to be deliuered vnto him.
- 7 ¶ Then came Ionathā to Ierusalem, & read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castell.
- 8 Therefore they were fore afraied, because they heard that the King had giuen him licence to gather an armie.
- 9 So they that were of the castell, deliuered the hostages vnto Ionathan, who restored them to their parentes.
- 10 Ionathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to buyld, and repaire the citie.
- 11 And he commaunded the workemen to buyld the walles, and the mount Sion round about with hewen stone, to fortifie it: and so they did.
- 12 Then the strangers that were in the castles which Bacchides had made, fled,
- 13 So that euery man left his place, and went into his owne countrey.

- 14 Onely at Beth-sura remained certaine w<sup>ch</sup> had forsaken the Lawe and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

- 15 ¶ Now when King Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Ionathan: and when it was tolde him of the battels and noble actes, which he & his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had indured,

- 16 He said, Might we finde such a man? nowe therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

- 17 Vpon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these wordes, saying,

- 18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Ionathan sendeth salutation.

- 19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthy to be our friend,

- 20 Wherefore this day we ordaine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nation, and to be called the Kings friende: (and he sent him a purple robe, and a crowne of gold,) that thou mayst consider what is for our profite, and keepe friendship toward vs.

Or, misse.

Or, sake our part.

- 21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundreth and three score yere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Ionathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

- 22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, he was marueilous fory, and said,

Josephus Antig. 13. chap. 3.

- 23 What haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

- 24 Yet will I write and exhorthe them, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may helpe me.

- 25 Whereup<sup>on</sup> he wrote vnto the these wordes, KING DEMETRIUS vnto the nations of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

- 26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, & continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

- 27 Now therefore remaine still, and keepe fidelitie toward vs, & we will recompence you for y<sup>e</sup> good things that ye haue done for vs,

- 28 And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewardes.

- 29 And nowe I discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, and free you from the customes of salt, and the crowne taxes, and from the thirde part of the seede.

- 30 And from the halfe of the fruite of the trees which is mine owne duetie, I so release them that from this daye forth, none shall take any thing of the lande of Iuda, or of the three gouernements which are added thereunto, as of Samaria and of Galilee, from this daye forth for euermore.

- 31 Ierusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shalbe holy and free from the tenths and tributes.

- 32 Also I release the power of the castell which is at Ierusalem, & giue it vnto the hie Priest, that he may set in it such men, as hee shall chuse to keepe it.

- 33 Moreouer I freely deliuer euery one of the

L III. iij. Iewes

I. Maccabees.

Jewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda throughout all my realme, and euery one of them shall be free from tributes, yea, euen their cattell,

34 And all the feastes, and Sabbaths, & newe moones, & the daies appointed & the three daies before the feast, and the three dayes after the feast, shall be dayes of freedome and libertie for all the Jewes in my realme,

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to vex any of them in any manner of cause.

36 Also thirtie thousand of the Jewes shall be written vp in the Kings hoste, and haue their wages payed them as appertaineth to all the that are of the Kings armie: and of them shall be ordeined certaine to keepe the Kings strong holdes.

37 And some of them shall be set ouer the Kings most secret affaires, and their gouernours & their princes shall be of themselves, and they shall liue after their owne lawes, as the King hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three gouernements that are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria, shall be ioyned vnto Iudea, and they shall be as vnder one, & obey none other power, but the hie Priest.

39 And I giue Ptolemais & the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuarie at Ierusalem, for the necessarie expenses of the holy things.

40 Moreover, I will giue euery yere fiftene thousand sicles of siluer of the Kings reuenues out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payed for the things due, as they did in the former yeres, from henceforth they shall giue it towarde the workes of the Temple.

42 And besides this, the fise thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yerely of the account appointed for the interteinement of the Sanctuarie, these yeres passed, eue these things shall be released because they appertene to the Priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoever they be that flee vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, and are indented to the King for any manner of thing, they shall be pardoned, and all that they haue in my realme.

44 For the buylding also and repairing of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expenses shall be payed out of the Kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Ierusalem, & fortifying it round about, the holdes in Iudea may be buylt vp, shall also the costs be giuen out of the Kings reuenues.

46 But when Iouathan & the people heard these wordes, they gaue no credit vnto the, neither receiued them: for they remembered the great wickednes that he had done in Israel, and how sore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the first that had intreated of true peace with them, and so were confederate with him alway.

48 Then gathered King Alexander a great host, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 So the two Kings ioyned battell, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander pursued him, and preuayled against them.

50 So that sore battell continued till the sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 ¶ Then Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolemais the King of Egypt with these wordes, saying,

52 For so much as I am come againe to my realme, & am set in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue destroyed Demetrius, and enioy my countrey,

53 Seeing that I haue euen giue him the battell, and he and his armie is discomfited by me, and I sit in the throne of his kingdome, 54 Let vs nowe make friendship together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shall I be thy sonne in lawe, & giue thee rewards, & vnto her things according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemais the King gaue answer, saying, Happy be the day, wherein thou art come againe vnto the land of thy fathers, & sittest in the throne of thy kingdome.

56 Nowe therefore will I fulfil thy writing: but meete me at Ptolemais that we may see one another, and that I may make thee my sonne in law, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemais went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundredth threescore & two yere, 58 Where King Alexander met him, and hee gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married the at Ptolemais with great glorie, as the manner of Kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote King Alexander vnto Iouathan, that he should come and meete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolemais, & there he met the two Kings, and gaue them great presents of siluer and gold, and to their friends, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there assembled certaine pestilent fellows of Israel, & wicked men to accuse him: but the King would not heare them.

62 And the King commanded that they should take of the garments of Iouathan, and clothe him in purple: and so they did: and the King appointed him to sit by him,

63 And said vnto his princes, Go with him into the middes of the citie, and make a proclamation; that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 So when his accusers sawe his honour according as it was proclaimed, & that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 And the King preferred him to honour, & wrote him among his chiefe friends, & made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Iouathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnes.

67 ¶ In the hundredth, threescore and fise yere came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta into his fathers land.

68 Whereof when King Alexander heard, he was verie sorie, & returned vnto Antiochia.

69 The Demetrius appointed Apollonius the gouernour of Coelosyria, who gathered a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, and sent vnto Iouathan

Jonathan the hie Priest, saying,

70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs? and I am laughed at, and reproched, because of thee: now therefore why dost thou vaunt thy selfe against vs in the mountaines?

71 Nowe then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Aske and learne who I am, and they shall take my part: and they shall tell thee that your tooke is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twise chased in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen and footemen in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his mind: wherefore he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Ierusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And he pitched his tents at Ioppe: but they shut him out of the citie: for Apollonius garison was in Ioppe.

76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the citie, for verie feare let him in: so Jonathan wanne Ioppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen with a great host of foote men, and went toward Azotus, as though he would go forward, & came immediately into the plaine felde, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathan followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere bande.

79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen behind them in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him, and though they had compassed in his host, and shot darts at the people from the morning to the euening,

81 Yet the people stode still, as Jonathan had comanded the, till their horses were wearie.

82 Then brougher Simon forth his host, & set them against the bande: but the horses were wearie, & he discomfited them, & they fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the field.

83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue themselves.

84 But Jonathan set fire vpon Azotus and all the cities round about it, & tooke their spoyle, and burnt with fire the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathan remooued the hoste from thence, and camped by Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Jonathan and his hoste againe to Ierusalem with great spoyle.

88 And when King Alexander heard these things, he began to do Ionthan more honour, 89 And sent him a colar of golde, as the vse is to be giuen vnto such as are of the Kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

1 The dissension betwene Ptolemus and Alexander his sonne in Law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after the death of Ptolemus. 22 Simon is besieged of Ionthan. 23 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his armie againe. 34 Trypho moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

AND the King of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many shippes, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne Realme.

2 Vpon this he went into Syria with friendly wordes, and was let into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for King Alexander had commanded them to meete him, because he was his father in law.

3 Now whē he entred into the citie of Ptolemais, he left bands & garisons in euery citie.

4 And when he came neere to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battell: for they had made heapes of them by the way where he should passe.

5 And they tolde the King what Ionthan had done, to the intent they might get him euil wil: but the King helde his peace.

6 And Jonathan met the King with great honour at Ioppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

7 So when Jonathan had gone with the King vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Ierusalem.

8 So King Ptolemus gave the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast; imagining wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 And sent Ambassadors vnto King Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betwene vs, & I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, & thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.

11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that should desite his Realme.

12 And he tooke his daughter from him, & gaue her vnto Demetrius, & forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowne.

13 Then Ptolemus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him.

15 But when Alexander heard it, he came to warre against him, and Ptolemus brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mightie power; and put him to flight.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemus was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote of A-

Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemeus.

18 But the third day after, King Ptolemeus dyed: & they that were in the holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundreth, three score and seuenth yere.

20 ¶ At the same time gathered Ionathan the that were in Iudea, to lay siege vnto y castle, which was at Ierusalem, & they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then wēt there certaine vngodlie persons (which hated their owne people) vnto King Demetrius, and tolde him that Ionathan besieged the castel.

22 So when he heard it, he was angrie, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, & wrote vnto Ionathan, y he should laye no more siege vnto it, but that he should meete him and speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.

23 Neuertheles when Ionathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it: he chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put himselfe in daunger, 24 And tooke with him siluer and golde, & apparel, & diuers presents, & wēt to Ptolemais vnto the King, and found fauour in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made cōplaintes vpo him, 26 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessers had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends.

27 And confirmed him in the hie Priestthoode with all the honorable things, that he had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Ionathan also desired the King, y he would make Iudea free with y three gouernemēts, and the countrey of Samaria, & Ionathan promised him three hundreth talents.

29 Whereunto the King consented, and gaue Ionathan writing of the same, containing these wordes, 30 KING DEMETRIUS vnto his brother Ionathan, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

31 We send you here a copie of the letter, w we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye should see it.

32 King Demetrius vnto Lasthenes his father sendeth greeting.

33 For the faithfulness that our friends the nation of the Iewes keepe vnto vs, & for their good will towards vs, we are determined to do them good.

34 Wherefore we assigne to them the coastes of Iudea with the three gouernemēts Aphrema, and Lydda, and Ramathie (which are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem: both concerning the payementes which the King tooke yere-ly aforetime, both for y frutes of the earth, and for the frutes of the trees.

35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenths & tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of sale, & crowne taxes, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from hence forth.

36 And nothing hereof shalbe reuoked from this time forth and for euer.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these things, & deliuer it vnto Ionathan, y it may be set vp vpon y holy moūt in an ope place.

38 After this when Demetrius the King sawe that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his hoste, euerie man to his owne place, except certaine bands of strangers, whome he brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphō, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, which when he saw that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he wēt to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus y sonne of Alexander,

40 And laye sore vpon him, to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers steade: he tolde him also what great euil Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.

41 Also Ionathan sent vnto King Demetrius to driue them out which were in the castel at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Ionathan, saying, I will not onely do these things for thee and thy nation, but if opportunitie serue, I will honour thee and thy nation.

43 Now therfore thou shalt do me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe me: for all mine armie is gone from me.

44 So Ionathan sent him three thousand strōg men vnto Antiochia, & they came vnto the King: wherefore the King was verie glad at their comming.

45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, euen an hundreth, & twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the middes of the citie, and would haue slaine the King.

46 But the King fled into the palace, and the citizens kepte the streetes of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the King called to y Iewes for helpe, which came to him all together, and went abroad through the citie,

48 And slew y same day an hūdrēth thousand, and set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoyles in that day, and deliuered the King.

49 So when the citizens sawe that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hand of the citie, and that they themselues were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the King, saying,

50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from vexing vs and the citie.

51 So they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the Iewes were greatly honoured before the King, and before all that were in his Realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.

52 Then King Demetrius sat in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheles he dissembled in all that euer he spake, & withdrewe himselfe from Ionathan, neither did he rewarde him according to the benefits which he had done for him, but but troubled him verie sore.

54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon with the yong childe Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the beastes, and wanne Antiochia.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathan, saying, I appoynt thee to be the chiefe Priest, and make thee ruler ouer the foure gouernments, that thou maiest be a friend of the Kings.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, and to weare purple, and to haue a collar of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon also capitaine from the coastes of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honorablie.

61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore he laid siege vnto it, & burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoyled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Jonathan, and he made peace with them, and tooke of the sonnes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went thorow the country vnto Damascus.

63 And when Jonathan heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoste, purposing to driue him out of the country, 64 He came against them, and leste Simon his brother in the country.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which he graunted them, and afterward put them out from thence, and tooke the citie, & set a garison in it.

67 Then Jonathan with his hoste came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.

68 And beholde the hostes of the strangers met him in the plaine, & had layed ambushments for him in the mountaines.

69 So that when they came against them, the ambushments rose out of their places and skirmished.

70 So that all that were of Jonathans side, fled: and there was not one of them left, except Metathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Iudas the sonne of Calphi the captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and prayed,

72 And turned againe to them to fight, & put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Nowe when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe after all vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slayne of the strangers the same day about three thousand men, and Jonathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

Jonathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome, & And to the people of Sparta, to renew their covenant of friendship.

Jonathan putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius.

Tryphon taketh Jonathan by deceit.

Jonathan now seeing that the time was meet for him, chose certeine men, & sent them vnto Rome, to establish and renew the friendship with them.

2 He sent letters also vnto the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Jonathan the hie Priest & the nation of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for to renewe friendship with you, and the bonde of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romanes gaue them free passports, that men should leade them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 ¶ A N D T H I S is the copie of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathan the hie Priest with the Elders of the nation, and the Priests, and the rest of the people of the Iewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Onias the hie Priest, from Arius, which then reigned among you, that ye would be our brethren, as the copie here vnder written specifieth.

8 And Onias intreated the ambassadour honorably, and receiued the letters: wherein there was mention made of the bonde of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings: for we haue the holy bookes in our handes for comfort.

10 Neuertheles we thought it good to sende vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhode & friendship, least we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at all seasons continually, and in the feastes & other dayes appoynted, whē we offer sacrifices and prayers, as it is meete and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And wee reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though wee haue beene enuironed with great troubles and warres, so that the Kinges round about vs haue fought against vs, 14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our confederates and friends in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, and we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

 16 Yet haue we chosen Numenius the same of Antiochus, and Antipater the same of Iason, and sent them vnto the Romaines, for to renewe y former friendship w them, & league.
 17 We commanded them also to go vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhoode.
 18 And now ye shall do vs a pleasure to giue vs an answere of these things.
 19 ¶ And this was the copie of the letters, w Arius the King of Sparta sent vnto Onias.
 20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the hie Priest sendeth greeting.
 21 It is found in writing, that the Spartians, & Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.
 22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well, to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.
 23 As for vs, we haue written vnto you, that your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue we commanded to be shewed vnto you.
 24 ¶ Now when Jonathan heard, that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.
 26 And he sent spies vnto their tents, w came againe, and tolde him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.
 27 Wherefore, when y sunne was gone down, Jonathan commanded his men to watche, & to be in armes readie to fight all the night, and sent watchmen round about the hoste.
 28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathan was ready with his men to the battel, they feared, & trembled in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tentes, and fled away.
 29 Neuertheles Jonathan and his companye knew it not till the morning: for they saw the fires burning.
 30 Then Jonathan followed vpon them, but he could not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.
 31 So Jonathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, and slewe them, and tooke their spoyle.
 32 He proceeded further also, & came vnto Damascus, and went thorowe all the countrey.
 33 But Simon his brother went forth, & came to Ascalon and to the next holdes, departing vnto Ioppe, and wanne it.
 34 For he heard that they would deliuer the holde to them that rooke Demetrius parte: wherefore he set a garison there to keepe it.
 35 ¶ After this came Jonathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to build vp the strong holdes in Iudea, 36 And to make the walles of Ierusalem hier, & to make a great mount betwixt the castel and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, & that men should neither bye, nor sel in it.

 37 So they came together to build vp the citie: for part of the wall vpon the brooke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Caphenatha.
 38 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.
 39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and to be crowned when he had slaine the King Antiochus.
 40 But he was afraied that Jonathan would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he wet about to take Jonathan, & to kill him: so he departed, & came vnto Bethsan.
 41 Then went Jonathan forth against him to the battel with fourtie thousand chosen me, and came vnto Bethsan.
 42 But whe Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great an hoste, he durst not lay hand vpon him, 43 But receiued him honorably, & commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewardes, and commad his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him as to himselfe.
 44 And saide vnto Jonathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betwene vs?
 45 Therefore send them now home againe, & chuse certaine men to waite vpon thee, and come y with me to Ptolemais: for I wil giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, & the other garisons, and all them that haue the charge of y comon affaires: so wil I returne, & depart: for this is the cause of my coming.
 46 Jonathan beleueed him, and did as he said, and sent away his hoste, which went into the land of Iuda, 47 And retaine but three thousand with him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galile, and one thousand went with himselfe.
 48 Now as sone as Jonathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, & rooke him, & slewe all them with the sword, that came in with him.
 49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen, and horsemen into Galile, & into the great plaine, to destroy all Ionathans companie.
 50 But when they knew that Jonathan was taken, & slaine, and those that were with him, they encouraged one another, & came forth against them readie to the battel.
 51 But when they which folowed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.
 52 By this meanes all they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathan, & them that were with him, & feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.
 53 For all the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them.
 54 For they said, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them: therefore let vs now fight against them, & roote out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

After Jonathan was taken, Simo is chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon, taking his children, and money for the redemption of Jonathan, killeth him & his childre. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus.

Antiochus, & possesseth the realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 He possesseth the towne of Sion. 53 He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

NOW when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it,

And sawe that the people was in great troubling and feare, he came vp to Ierusalem, & gathered the people together,

And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye know what great things I, and my brethren, & my fathers house haue done for the Law, and the Sanctuarie, & the battels, and troubles that we haue seene.

By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

Nowe therefore God forbid, that I should spare mine owne life in any time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

But I will avenge my nation, and the Sanctuarie, and our wives, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

In hearing these wordes the hearts of the people were kindled,

So that they cried with a lowde voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Iudas and Ionathan thy brethren.

Fight thou our battels, & whatsoever thou commandest vs, we will do it.

So he gathered all the men of warre, making hast to finish the walles of Ierusalem, & fortified it round about.

Then sent he Ionathan the sonne of Abshalom with a great hoste vnto Ioppe, which droue them out that were therein, and remained there himselfe.

Tryphon also remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the land of Iuda, and Ionathan was with him as prisoner.

And Simon pitched his tents at Addidis vpon the open plaine.

But when Tryphon knew that Simon stood vp in stead of his brother Ionathan, and that he would fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

Where as we haue kept Ionathan thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the Kings account concerning the busines that he had in hand.

Wherefore send now an hundred talents of siluer, & his two sonnes for hostages, that when he is letten forth, he wil not turne fro vs, and we will fend him againe.

Neuertheles Simon knew that he dissembled in his wordes, yet commanded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, least he should be in greater hatred of the people of Israel.

Who might haue said, Because he sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Ionathan dead.

So he sent the children and an hundred talents: but he dissembled, and would not let Ionathan go.

Afterward came Tryphon into the land to destroye it, and went round about by the way, y leadeth vnto Adora: but where soeuer they went, thither went Simon & his hoste.

Nowe they that were in the castell, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wilderness, and to send them vitailles.

So Tryphon made readie all his horsemen: but the same night fell a very great snowe, so that he came not, because of y snowe: but he remoued & wet into the countrey of Galad.

And when he came nere to Balsama, he slewe Ionathan, and he was buried there.

So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

Then sent Simon to take the bones of Ionathan his brother, and they buried him in Modin his fathers sepulchre.

And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building high to looke vnto, of hewen stone behind & before.

And set vpon seuen pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, & seuen brethren.

And set great pillars rounde about the same, and set iannes vpon the pillars for a perpetual memorie, and set vpon the pillars the names, that they might be seene of men sayling in the sea.

This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

Now as Tryphon was forth with theyng King Antiochus, he slewe him traiterously.

And reigned in his stead, and crowned him selfe King of Asia, & brought a great plague vpon the land.

Simon also buyld up the citie of Iudaea, & compassed them about with high wawes, & great walles, euen w towers, & gates, & battels, & layed vp vitailles in the strong holdes.

Moreover Simon chose certaine men, and sent them to King Demetrius, that he would discharge the lande: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

Whereupon Demetrius the King answered him, and wrote vnto him after this manner.

DEMETRIUS the King vnto Simon the high Priest, and the friends of Kings, and to the Elders and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

The golden crowne, & "precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are readie to make a stedfast peace with you, & to write vnto the officers, to release you of the things wherein we made you free.

So the things that we haue graunted you, shalbe stable: the strong holdes which ye haue buylded, shalbe your owne.

Also we forgiue the ouersights, and fautes committed vnto this day, & the crowne taxe ye ought vs: and where as was any other tribute in Ierusalem, it shalbe nowe no tribute.

And they that are meeke among you to be writen with our men, let them be writen vp, that there may be peace betwene vs.

Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundredth & seuentie yere.

And the people of Israel began to write in their their letters, and publike instruments, IN THE FIRST yere of Simon, the high and chief Priest, gouernour & prince of Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon cāped againſt Gaza, and beſieged it round about, where he ſet vp an engine of warre; and approched nere the citie, and bet a towre, and tooke it.
44 So they that were in the engine, leapt into the citie, & there was a great trouble in the citie, 45 In ſo much that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and climed vp vpon the walles with their wives, and children, and cried with a lowde voyce, beſeeching Simon to graunt them peace, ſaying, 46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednes, but according to thy mercie.
47 Then Simon pitied them, and would fight no more againſt them; but put them out of the citie, and clenſed the houſes; wherein the idoles were, and ſo entred thereunto with psalmes and thankſgiuing.
48 So when he had caſt all the filthines out, he ſet ſuch men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and buylded there a dwelling place for him ſelfe.
49 Now, when they in the caſtel at Ieruſalem were kepte, that they could not come forth nor go into the cōuntry, neither bye nor fel, they were very hungrie, and many of them were famliſhed to death, 50 In ſo much that they beſought Simon to make peace with them: which he graunted them, and put them out from thence, and clenſed the caſtel from filthines.
51 And vpon the three and twentie day of the ſecond moneth, in the hundreth ſeuentie & one yere, they entred into it with thankſgiuing, and branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, and with vials, and with psalmes, and ſongs, becauſe the great enemy of Iſrael was ouercome.
52 And he ordeined that the ſame day ſhould be kepte euery yere with gladnes.
53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple that was beſide the caſtel where he dwelt him ſelfe with his companie.
54 Simon alſo ſeeing that Iohn his ſonne was now a man, he made him captaine of all the hoſtes, & cauſed him to dwell in Gazaris.

CHAP. XIII.

Demetrius is ouercome of Arſaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietneſſe in Iſrael. 12 The couenant of friendſhip with the Romans, and with the people of Sparta is renewed.

IN the hundreth, ſeuentie & two yere gathered King Demetrius his hoſte, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight againſt Tryphon.
1 But when Arſaces the King of Perſia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he ſent one of his princes to take him aliue.
3 So he went, & ouercame the armie of Demetrius, and tooke him, and brought him to Arſaces, which kept him in warde.
4 Thus all the land of Iuda was in reſt ſo long as Simo liued: for he fought the welk of his nation: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worſhip alway.

5 Simon alſo wanne the citie of Ioppe to his great honour to bee an hauen towne, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the ſea.
6 He enlarged alſo the borders of his people, and conquered the countreies.
7 He gathered vp many of their people that were priſoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth-ſura, & the caſtel, which he clenſed from filthines, and there was no man that reſiſted him.
8 So that euery man tilled his grounde in peace, and the lande gaue her fruites, and the trees gaue their fruit.
9 The Elders ſate in the open places, and conſulted all together for the cōmon welk, and the yong men were honorably clothed and armed.
10 He prouided vitales for the cities, and all kind of munition, ſo that his glorious fame was renowned vnto the ende of the world.
11 He made peace throughout the land, and Iſrael had perfit mirth and ioye.
12 For euery man ſate vnder his vine, and the fig trees, & there was no man to fray them.
13 There was none in the land to fight againſt them: for then the Kings were ouercome.
14 He helped all thoſe that were in aduerſitie among his people: he was diligent to ſee the Lawe kepte, and he tooke away the vngodly, and wicked.
15 He beautified the Sanctuarie, and increaſed the veſſels of the Temple.
16 When the Romans heard, and the Spar-tians had knowledge, that Iohnathan was dead, they were very ſorie.
17 But when they heard, that Simon his brother was made high Prielt in his ſtead, & how he had wonne the land againe in the cities in it, 18 They wrote vnto him in tables of braſſe, to renewe the friendſhip, and bonde of loue, which they had made with Iudas and Ionathan his brethren.
19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Ieruſalem, and this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians ſent.
20 THE SENATORS and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Prielt, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the reſidue of the people of the Iewes their brethren ſend greeting.
21 When your ambaffadours that were ſent vnto our people, certified vs of your glory & honour, we were glad of their coming, 22 And haue regiſtred their ambaffage in the publike records in this maner, NUMENIUS the ſonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the ſonne of Iſaon the Iewes ambaffadours came vnto vs, to renewe amitie with vs.
23 And it pleaſed the people, that the men ſhould be honorably intreated, & that the copie of their ambaffage ſhould be regiſtred in the publike recordes, that it might be for a memorial vnto the people of Sparta: & a copie of the ſame was ſent to Simon the chief Prielt.
24 After this Simon ſent Numenius to Rome, with a great ſhield of gold of a thouſand pound weight, to confirme the friendſhip with them.
25 Which

thankſgiuing

- 25 Which when the people vnderstoode, they said, What thanks shall we recompense againe vnto Simon and his children?
- 26 For he & his brethren, and the house of his father haue stablished Israel, and ouercome their enemies, & haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, & set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.
- 27 The copie of the writing is this, In the eight and twentie day of the moneth || Elul in the hundredth, seuentie and two yere, in the third yere of Simon the high Priest.
- 28 In Saramel in the great cōgregation of the Priests, & of the people, & of the gouernours of the nation, and of the Elders of the countrey, we would signifie vnto you, that manie battels haue bene fought in our countrey.
- 29 Wherein Simon the sonne of Mattathias (come of the children of Iarib) and his brethren put themselves in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuary, and Law might be maintained, & did their nation great honour.
- 30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their high Priest, and is laid with his people.
- 31 After that would their enemies haue inuaded their countrey, & destroyed their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuary.
- 32 Then Simon resisted them, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his owne substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.
- 33 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, & Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Iudea (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) & set there a garison of y<sup>e</sup> Lewes.
- 34 And he fortified Ioppe, which lieth vpon the sea, & Gazara that bordereth vpon Azotus (where y<sup>e</sup> enemies dwelt afore) & there he placed Lewes, and furnished them with things necessarie for the reparation thereof.
- 35 Now whē the people saw the faithfulness of Simon, & to what glory he thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, & y<sup>e</sup> chiefe Priest, because he had done all these things, & for the vprightnes, & fidelitie that he had kept to his nation, & that fought by all meanes to exalte his people.
- 36 For in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, & they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Ierusalem, where they had made them a castel, out of the which they wē, & defiled all things that were about the Sanctuary, and did great hurt vnto religion.
- 37 And he set Lewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land, and citie, and raised vp the walles of Ierusalem.
- 38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his high Priesthode for these causes,
- 39 And made him one of his friends, & gaue him great honour.
- 40 For it was reported that the Romains called the Lewes their friends, & confederates, and that they honorably receiued Simons ambassadours,
- 41 And that the Lewes, and Priests consented,

- that Simon should be their prince, and high Priest perpetually, til God raised vp the true Prophet,
- 42 And that he should be their capitaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, and so set men ouer the workes, and ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapōs, and ouer the forteresses, and that should make prouision for the holy things,
- 43 And y<sup>e</sup> he should be obeyed of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey should be made in his name, & y<sup>e</sup> he should be clothed in purple, and weare golde,
- 44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people or Priests to breake any of these things, or to withstād his words, or to cal any cōgregation in the countrey wout him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a colar of golde:
- 45 And if any did contrary to these things or breake any of them, he should be punished.
- 46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it shoulde be done to Simon according vnto these wordes.
- 47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high Priest, and the capitaine, and the prince of the Lewes, and of the Priests, and to be the chiefe of all.
- 48 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of brasse, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuarie in an open place,
- 49 And that a copie of the same should be layed vp in the treasure, that Simon and his sonnes might haue it.

Antiochus maketh a covenant of friendship with Simon. 11 Tryphon is persued. 15 The Remains write letters vnto Kings and nations in the defence of the Lewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his covenant.

- 1 Moreouer King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the sea vnto Simon the Priest, and prince of the Lewes, and to all the nation,
- 2 Cōteining these words, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the nation of the Lewes sendeth greeting.
- 3 For so much as certeine pestilēt men haue vsurped the kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to challenge the Realme againe, & to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and prepared shippes of warre,
- 4 That I may go thorowe the countrey, & be auēged of them, w<sup>h</sup> haue destroyed our countrey, and wasted manie cities in the Realme.
- 5 Now therefore I do confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the Kings my progenitours haue discharged thee, and all the payments, whereof they haue released thee.
- 6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne stampe within thy countrey,
- 7 And that Ierusalem, and the Sanctuarie be free, & that all the weapons, that thou hast prepared, & the forteresses, w<sup>h</sup> thou hast builded, & keepest in thine hands, shalbe thine.
- 8 And all that is due vnto the King, & all that shalbe due vnto the King, I forgieue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.

9 And whē we haue obtained our kingdom, we will giue thee, and thy nation and the Temple great honour, so that your honour shalbe known throughout the worlde.

10 ¶ In the hundreth, seuentie and foure yere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the bandes came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So y King Antiochus pursued him, but he fled & came to Dora, w<sup>h</sup> lyeth by the sea side.

12 For he saw that troubles were toward him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora with an hundreth and twentie thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So he compassed the citie about, and the shippes came by the sea. Thus they pressed the citie by land, and by sea, in so much that they suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and his companie from Rome, hauing letters written vnto the Kings & countreis, wherein were contained these wordes, 16 LVCIVS the Consul of Rome vnto King Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.

17 The ambassadours of y<sup>e</sup> Iewes are come vnto vs as our friends & confederates frō Simon the hie Priest, & frō the people of the Iewes to renew friendship, and the bond of loue, 18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weighing a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore wee thought it good to write vnto the Kings & countreis, that they should not go about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to mainteine their enemies against them.

20 And wee were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent felowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hie Priest, that he may punish them according to their owne Law.

22 The same things were writte to Demetrius the King, and to Attalus, and to Arathes and to Arsaces,

**Or, Sampfame.*

23 And to all countreis, as<sup>s</sup> Sampsfames, and to them of Sparta, and to Delus, and to Mindus and to Sicion, and to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnassus, and to Rhodus, and to Phaselis, and to Cos, & to Siden, and to Cortyna, and to Gnidon, and to Cyprus, & to Cyrene.

24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the hie Priest.

25 ¶ So Antiochus the King camped against Dora the second time euer readie to take it, & made diuers engins of warre, & kept Tryphon in, that he could neither go in nor out.

26 Then Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to helpe him with siluer and golde, and much furniture.

27 Neuertheles, he would not receiue the, but brake all the couenant, w<sup>h</sup> he had made with him afore, & withdrew him selfe from him,

28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to cōmune with him, saying, Ye withholde Ioppe, & Gazara with the castel that is at Ierusalem, the citie of my Realme, 29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed & done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernment of many places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore now deliuer the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places, that ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Iudea,

31 Or els giue me for them fūe hundreth talents of siluer, & for the harme that ye haue done, & for the tributes of the places other fūe hundreth talents: if not, we will come, and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the Kings friend came to Ierusalem, and when he sawe the honour of Simon, and the cupbord of golde and siluer plate, and so great preparation, he was astonished, and tolde him the Kings message.

33 Then answered Simō, & said vnto him, We haue neither taken other mens lands, nor withholden that w<sup>h</sup> apperteineth to others: but our fathers heritage, w<sup>h</sup> our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certeine time.

34 But when we had occasion, we recouered the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou requirest Ioppe & Gazara, they did great harme to our people, & thorow our countrey, yet will we giue an hundreth talents for them. But Athenobius answered him nor one worde,

36 But turned againe angrie vnto the King, & tolde him all these wordes, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had scene: and the King was very angrie.

37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphō by shippe vnto Orthofias.

38 Then the King made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, & gaue him bands of foote-men and horsemen,

39 And commanded him to remoue the hoste toward Iudea, and to buyld vp Cedron, & to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the King pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Iamnia, & began to vex the people, & to inuade Iudea, & to take the people prisoners, and to slay them.

41 And he buylte vp Cedron, where he set horsemen & garisons, that they might make outrodes by the wayes of Iudea, as the King had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus heft is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. 11 Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon and his two sonnes at a banquet. 25 Iohn killeth them that he in waite for his life.

1 Then came Iohn vp from Gazara, and Ioseph. Antiquit. chap. 11. told Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and said vnto them, I, & my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, and the matters haue had good successe vnder our handes, and we haue deliuered Israel often times.

3 But I am now old, & ye by Gods mercy are of a sufficiēt age: be ye therefore in stead of me, & my

4 bring & my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation, & the helpe of heauen be with you.
5 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.
6 In the morning they arose, & went into the plaine field: & behold, a mightie great hoste came against the both of footemen, & horsemen: but there was a river betwixt them.
7 And John ranged his armie ouer against him, and when he saw that the people was stayed to go ouer the river, he went ouer first him selfe, & the men seeing him, passed through after him.
8 Then he deuised his men, & set the horsemen in the middes of the footemen.
9 For their enemies horsemen were verie many: but when they blew the trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his host, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the forteresse.
10 Then was Iudas Johns brother wounded: but John followed after them, till he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had buyt.
11 Also they fled vnto the towers, that were in the fields of Azoriz, & those did John burne with fyre: thus were there slaine two thousand men of them: so he returned peaceably into the land of Iuda.
12 ¶ Now in the field of Iericho was Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made capitaine, and he had abundance of siluer and golde.
13 (For he had married the daughter of the hie Priest.)
14 Therefore he waxed proude in his minde, and thought to rule the land, and thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.
15 Now as Simon went about thorow the cities of the countrey, and studied carefully for them, he came downe to Iericho, with Matathias, & Iudas his sonnes in the hundreth, seuentie & seuen yere, in the eleventh moneth, which is the moneth Seltan.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus receiued them by treason into a hide holde, called Doebus, w<sup>h</sup> he had buyt, where he made them a great banquet, and had hid men there.
16 So when Simon and his sonnes had made good chere, Ptolemeus stood vp w<sup>h</sup> his men, & tooke their weapons, & entred in to Simo in the banquet house, & slawe him with his two sonnes, and certeine of his seruantes.
17 Whereby he committed a great vilenie, & recompensed euill for good.
18 Then wrote Ptolemeus these things and sent to the King, that he might send him an host to helpe him, and so would deliuer him the countrey with the cities.
19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take Iohn, and sent letters vnto the captaines to come to him, & he would giue them siluer, and golde and rewards.
20 And to Ierusalem he sent rather to take it, and the mountaine of the Temple.
21 But one ranne before, & told Iohn in Gazara, that his father, and his brethren were slaine, & that Ptolemeus had sente to slay him.
22 Whē he heard this, he was fore astonished, and laid handes of them that were come to him, and slew them: for he knewe that they went about to kill him.
23 Concerning other things of Iohn, both of his warres, and of his noble actes (wherein he behaued himselfe manfully) of the building of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 Behold, they are written in the chronicles of his Priesthoode, from the time, that he was made high Priest after his father.

CHAP. I.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Ierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus. 29 Of the fire that was hid in the pitts. 24 The prayer of Nicanor.

1 payr. His brethren the Iewes, which be at Ierusalem, and they that are in the countrey of Iudea, vnto the brethren the Iewes, that are throughout Egypt, send salutation, and prosperitie.
2 God be gracious vnto you and remember his couenant made with Abraham, & Isaac, and Iacob his faithfull seruants,
3 And giue you all an heart, to worship him, and to do his will with a whole heart & with a willing minde,
4 And open your hearts in his Law, & commandements, and send you peace,
5 And heare your prayers, and be reconciled with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we praye here for you.
7 Whē Demetrius reigned, in the hundreth, threescore and ninth yere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble, and violence that came vnto vs in those yeres, after that Iason, and his companie departed out of the holy land and kingdome,
8 And burnt y porch, & shed innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto y Lord, & were heard: we offred sacrifices & fine flowre, & lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.
9 Now therefore keepe ye y dayes of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Chasleu.
10 ¶ In the hundreth, fourescore and eight yere, the people that was at Ierusalem, and in Iudea, and the counsel and Iudas, vnto Aristobulus King Ptolemeus master, which is of the stocke of the anointed Priests, and to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.
11 In so much as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thake him highly, as though we had ouercome the King:

II. Maccabees.

- 12 For he brought the into Persia by heapes, that fought against the holy elie.
- 13 For albeit the captaine, and the armie, that was with him, seemed launcheable, yet they were slaine in the Temple of Nanea, by the deceit of Naneas Priests.
- 14 For Antiochus, as though he would dwell with her, came thither, he, & his filles with him, to receive money vnder the title of a dowry.
- 15 But whipsie the Priests of Nanea had layd it forth, and he was entred with a small companie within the Temple, they shut the Temple, when Antiochus was come in.
- 16 And by opening a priue doore of y vaulte, they cast stones, as it were thunder, vpon the captaine and his, & hauing bruised them in pieces, they cut of their heads and threw them to those that were without.
- 17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered up the wicked.
- 18 Whereas we are now purposed to kepe the purification of the Temple, vpon the five & twelue day of y moneth Challeu, we thought it necessarie to certifie you thercof, that ye also might kepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was giuen vs when Neeimias offered sacrifice, after that he had buyt the Temple, and the altar.
- 19 For when as our fathers were led away vnto Persia, the Priests, w sought the honour of God, tooke the * fire of the altar priuily, & hid it in an hollow pit, which was drye in the bottome, & therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknewen vnto euery man.
- 20 Now after manie yeres whē it pleased God that Neeimias should be sent from y King of Persia, he sent of y posterity of those Priests, which had hid it to fetch the fire, & as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.
- 21 Then commāded he them to draw it vp, & to bring it: & when the things appertaining to the sacrifices were brought, Neeimias commāded the Priests to sprinkle the wood, & the things laid thereupon with water.
- 22 When this was done, & the time came that the sunne shone, which a fore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, so that euery man maruelled.
- 23 Now the Priests, and all prayed, while the sacrifice was consuming: Ionathan began, & the other answered thereunto.
- 24 And y prayer of Neeimias was after this manner, O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, & mercifull, & the onely and gracious King,
- 25 Only liberal, onely iust & almighty & euermāsting, y that deliuerest Israel fro al trouble, & hast chosen the fathers, & sanctified the,
- 26 Receiue the sacrifice for thy whole people of Israel, and preserue thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.
- 27 Gather those together, y are scattered from vs: deliuer them y serue amōg the heathen: looke vpō them y are despised, & abhorred, y the heathen may know that y art our God.
- 28 Punish them that oppresse vs, & with pride doe vs wrong.
- 29 Plant thy people againe in thine holie place * as Moyses hath spoken.
- 30 And the Priests sang Psalmes therunto.
- 31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neeimias commāded the great stones to be sprinkled with the residue of the water.
- 32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by y light, that shined from the altar.
- 33 So when this matter was knowne, it was told the King of Persia, that in y place where y Priests, which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared which; wherevnto Neeimias & his companie had purified the sacrifices.
- 34 The King tried out the things, and closed the place about, and made it holie.
- 35 And to them that the King fauoured, he gaue and bestowed many gifts.
- 36 And Neeimias called y same place Ephthar, which is to say, purification: but many men call it Nephthar.

 13 And so Iudas also gathered all things that came to passe by the warres that were among vs, which things we haue.
 14 Wherefore if ye haue neede thereof, send some to fetch them vnto you.
 15 Where as we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you, & ye shall do well, if ye keepe the same dayes.
 16 We hope also that the God, which deliuered all his people, and gaue an heritage to them all and the kingdome, and the Priesthode, and the Sanctuarie, 17 As he promised in the Lawe, will shortly haue mercie vpon vs, & gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holie place: for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.
 18 As concerning Iudas Maccabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the altar,
 19 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his sonne, 20 And y<sup>e</sup> manifest signes, that came fro heaue vnto those, which manfully stode for the Lewes religion: (for though they were but fewe, yet they ranne through whole countreys, and pursued the barbarous armies, 21 And repaired the Temple that was renowned throughout all the world, and deliuered the citie, & established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was mercifull vnto them with all lenitie)
 22 We will assaye to abridge in one volume those things, that Iason the Cyrenean hath declared in fise booke.
 23 For considering the wonderfull number, & the difficultie that they haue that would be occupied in the rehearfall of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters,
 24 We haue inducoured, that they that would reade, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easely keepe them in memorie, & that whosoeuer reade them, might haue profit.
 25 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hande this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abbridgement, but required both sweat, and watching.
 26 Like as he that maketh a feast, and seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so we also for many mens sakes are very wel cōtent to vndertake this great labour.
 27 Leaving to the author the exact diligence of euery particular, we will labour to go forward according to the prescript order of an abbridgement.
 28 For as he that wil buyld a newe house, must prouide for the whole building, but he that setteth out the plat or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but only what is comlie for the decking thereof.
 29 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it appertaineth to the first writer of a storie to enter deeply into it, and to make mention of all things, & to be curious in euery part.
 30 But it is permitted to him that wil shorten it, to vse fewe wordes, and to auoyde those things that are curious therein.

 31 Here then wil we beginne the storie, adding thus much to our former wordes, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in wordes before the storie, & to be short in the storie.

CHAP. III.

Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles. & Simon uttereth what treasures in the Temple. & Heliodorus is sent to take them away. He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

1 What time as the holy citie was inhabited with all peace, and when the Lawes were very well kepte, because of the godlines of Onias the hie Priest, and hatred of wickednes,

2 It came to passe that euen the Kings did honour the place, and garnished the Temple with great giftes.

3 In so much that Seleucus King of Asia of his owne rents, bare all the costs belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the hie Priest concerning the iniquitie committed in the citie.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius y<sup>e</sup> sonne of Thraseas, which then was gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice,

6 And tolde him that the treasure in Ierusalem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these things might come into the Kings hands.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the King, & had shewed him of the money, as it was told him, y<sup>e</sup> King chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement, to bring him the foresaid money.

8 Immediately Heliodorus tooke his iourney as though he would visite the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but in effect to fulfil the Kings purpose.

9 So when he came to Ierusalem, and was courteously receiued of the hie Priest into the citie, he declared what was determined concerning the money, & shewed the cause of his coming, and asked if these things were so in deede.

10 Then the hie Priest tolde him that there were such things laid vp by the widowes and fatherles,

11 And y<sup>e</sup> certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, & not as that wicked Simon had reported, & that in all there were but foure hundred talents of siluer, and two hundred of golde,

12 And that it were altogether vnpossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holines of the place & Temple, which is honoured thorow the whole world for holines and integritie.

13 But Heliodorus because of the Kings commandement giuen him, said that in any wise it must be brought into the Kings treasure.

14 So he appointed a day, and went in to take order for these things: then there was no smal grieve throughout the whole citie.

15 For the Priests fel downe before the altar in the Priests gamets; & called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a liawe concerning things giue to be kept, that they should be safely preferred for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, & the changing of his colour declared the sorow of his minde.

17 The man was so wrapped in feare & trembling of the bodie, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the comon prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And the women, girt with sackloth vnder their breasts, filled the streetes, and the virgins that were kepte in, ranne some to the gates and some to the walles, & others looked out of the windowes.

20 And all helde vp their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sortes, and the expectation of the high Priest being in such anguish.

22 Therefore they called vpon the almighty Lord, that he woulde keepe safe and sure the things, which were layed vp for those that had deliuered them.

23 Neuertheles, y thing that Heliodorus was determined to do, that did he performe.

24 And as he & his souldiers were nowe there present by the treasury, he that is the Lord of the spirits, & of all power, shewed a great vision, so y all they which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fel into feare, and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto them, an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly barbed, and he ranne fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his fore fetle, and it seemed that he that sat vpon the horse, had harnesse of golde.

26 Moreover, there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellent in beautie, & comely in apparel, which stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, & gaue him many fore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, and was couered with great darkenes: but they that were with him, tooke him vp, and put him in a litter.

28 Thus he that came with so great companye, and many souldiers into the said treasury, was borne out: for he could not helpe himselfe with his weapons.

29 So they did know the power of God manifestly, but he was donne by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope & health.

30 And they prayed the Lord that had honoured his owne place: for the Tēple which a lile afore was full of feare and trouble, when the almighty Lord appeared, was filled with ioye and gladnes.

31 Then streight wayes certaine of Heliodo-rus friends prayed Onias, that he would call vpon the most High, to graunt him his life, which lay ready to giue vp the ghost.

32 So the hie Priest, considering that the King might suspect that the lewes had done Heliodorus some euil, he offered a sacrifice for the healk of the man.

33 Now when the hie Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same cloathing appeared, and stood beside Heliodorus, laying, Gue Onias the hie Priest great thanks: for, for his sake hath the Lord graunted thee thy life.

34 And seeing that thou hast bene scourged sit 6 heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered, vnto the Lord sacrifice, and made great vowes vnto him, which had graunted him his life, & thanked Onias, & went againe with his hoste to the King.

36 Then testified he vnto euery man of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the King asked Heliodorus, who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemie or traitor, send him thither, & thou shalt receiue him wel scourged, if he escape with his life: for in y place, no doubt, there is a speciall power of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauē, hath his eye on that place, & defendeth it, & he beaeth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury.

C H A P. III.

Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7. Jason obtaineth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the King. 27. And was by Menelaus defrauded by like bribing. 32. Onias is borne traitorously by Andronicus.

1 THis Simon nowe, of whome we spake afore, being a bewrayer of the money and of his owne natural countrye, reported euil of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the inuenter of the euil.

2 Thus was he bold to cal him a traitour that was so beneficial to the citie, & a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But whē his malice increased so farre, that through one that belonged to Simon, murders were committed.

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as he that was the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice.

5 He went to the King not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common welth both priuately & publicly.

6 For he saw it was not possible except the King tooke order to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue of his folie.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured by vnlawfull meanes to be hie Priest.

8 For he came vnto the King, and promised him praise and thanksgiving.

him three hundredth & threescore talents of silver, & of another rent, foure score talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundredth and fiftie, if he might haue licence to set vp a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they would name them of Ierusalem Antiochians.

10 The which thing when the King had granted, and he had gotten the superiority, hee began immediately to draw his kinsme to the customes of the Gentiles.

11 And abolished the friendly priuileges of the Kings, that the Iewes had set vp by Iohn, the father of Eupolemus, which was sent ambassador vnto Rome, to become friends & confederates: he put downe their lawes and policies, and brought vp new statutes, and contrarie to the Lawe.

12 For he presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the castel, and brought the chief young men vnder his subiection, and made them weare <sup>hates</sup>.

13 So there began a great desire to followe y<sup>e</sup> manners of the Gentiles, and they tooke vp the factions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednes of Iason, nor the hie Priest, but the vngodly person,

14 So that the Priestes were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made halt to be partakers of the wicked expenses at the playe after the casting of the stone.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glorie of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to be their enemies and punishers, whose custome they followed so earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time following shall declare these things.

18 ¶ Now when the games that were vsed euerie five yere, were played at Tyrus, the King being present,

19 This wicked Iason sent from Ierusalem men to looke vpo them, as though they had bene Antiochians, which brought three hundredth drachmes of silver for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that caried them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice (because it was not comely) but to be bestowed for other expenses.

20 So he that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were giuen to the making of gallicies.

21 ¶ Nowe Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of King Ptolemeus Philometor: but when Antiochus perceiued that he was euill affectioned towards his affaires, hee sought his owne assurance, and departed from thence to Ioppe, and so came to Ierusalem,

22 Where he was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great showings, and so he went with his hoste vnto Phenice.

23 Three yere afterwarde Iason sent Menelaus, the foresaid Simons brother, to beare y<sup>e</sup> money vnto the King, and to bring to passe certeine necessarie affaires, whereof he had giuen him a memoriall.

24 But he, being commended to the King, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthode vnto him selfe: for he gaue three hundredth talents of silver more then Iason.

25 So he gaue the Kings letters patents, albeit he had nothing in him selfe worthe of the hie Priesthode, but bare the stomache of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Iason, which had deceived his owne brother, being deceived by another, was compelled to flie into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gaue the dominion: but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the King, he tooke none order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castel, required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the King.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lyfmachus in his steade in the priesthode, and Sostratus left Crates which was gouernour of the Cyprians.

30 ¶ Whiles these things were in doing, the Tharsians and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the Kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the King in all haste, to appeale the busines, leauing Andronicus a ma of authoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a conuenient time, stole certeine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue certeine of them to Andronicus: and some he sold at Tyrus and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a suretie, he reproued him, and withdrew him selfe into a Sanctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus aparte, prayed him to slaye Onias: so when he came to Onias, he equised him craftily, giuing him his right hand wth an othe: (howbeit he suspect him, and perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuarie) so he slewe him incontinently without any regarde of righteouines.

35 For the which cause not onely the Iewes, but many other nations also were grieved, and tooke it heauily for the vnrighteous death of this man.

36 ¶ And when the King was come againe fro the places about Cilicia, the Iewes that were in the citie, and certeine of the Greekes that abhorred the facte also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorie in his minde, and he had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled wth anger, he tooke away away Andronicus garment of purple, & rent his clothes, and commanded him to be led throughout the citie, and in the same place where he had committed the wickednes against Onias, he was slaine as a murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punisher, as he had deferved.

39 ¶ Now when Lyfimachus had done many wicked deedes in the citie through the counsell of Menelaus, and the brute was spread abroad, the multitude gathered them together against Lyfimachus: for he had caryed out nowe much vessell of golde.

40 And when the people arose, & were full of anger, Lyfimachus armed about three thousand, and began to vse vnlawful power, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit then in age.

41 But when they vnderstoode the purpose of Lyfimachus, some gate stones, some great clubbes, and some cast handfulls of dust, which lay by, vpon Lyfimachus men, and those that inuaded them.

42 Whereby many of the were wounded, some were slaine, & all the other chased away: but the wicked Churchrobber him self, they killed besides the treasure.

43 For these causes an accusation was layde against Menelaus.

44 And when the King came to Tyrus, three men sent from the Senate pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus, being nowe conuined, promised to Ptolemus the sonne of Dorimenes much money, if he would perswade the King.

46 So Ptolemus went to the King into a court, where as he was to coole him selfe, and turned the Kings minde.

47 In so much that hee discharged Menelaus fro the accusations (notwithstanding he was the cause of all mischief) & condemned those poore men to death, which if they had tolde their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue bene heard as innocent.

48 Thus were they soone punished vniustly, which folowed vpon the matter for the citie, and for the people, and for the holie vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyrus hated that wickednes, and ministred all things liberally for their buryall.

50 And so through the couetousnes of them y were in power, Menelaus remained in authoritie, increasing in malice, and declared him selfe a great traitour to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

3. Of the signes and tokens sene in Ierusalem. 6. Of the ende and wickednes of Iason. 11. The persuite of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15. The spoiling of the Temple. 27. Maccabeus fasheth out the wilderness.

1 About the same time Antiochus vnder-tooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there scene throughout all the citie of Ierusalem, fourtie daies lög, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of gold, and as bandes of speare men,

3 And as troups of horsemen set in array, in-countering & coursing one against another with shaking of shields & multitude of darts and drawing of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour scene, and harness of all forces.

4 Therefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iason tooke at the least a thousand men, and came suddenly vpon the citie, and they that were vpon the walles, being put back and the citie at length taken.

6 Menelaus fled into the castell, but Iason slewe his owne citizens without mercie, not considering that to haue y aduantage against his kinsmen is greatest disadvantage, but thought that he had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7 Yet he gate not the superioritie, but at the last receiued shame for the rewarde of his treason, and went againe like a vagabound into the country of the Ammonites.

8 Finally he had this end of his wicked conuersation, y he was accused before Areta, King of the Arabians, & fled from citie to citie, being pursued of euery man, & hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, & was in abomination, as an enemy of his country and citizens, and was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had chased many out of their owne country, perished as a banished man, after that hee was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kined.

10 And he that had cast manie out vnburyed, was throwen out him self, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue, neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 ¶ Now when these things that were done, were declared to the King, he thought that Iudea would haue fallen from him: wherefore he came with a furious mind out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He comanded his men of warre also, they should kill, and not spare such as they met, & to slay such as went into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of yongmen, & olde men, and a destruction of men and women and children, and virgins, and infants were murdered.

14 So y within three dayes were slayne foure score thousand, and fourtie thousand taken prisoners, and there were as many folde as were slaine.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst go into the most holy Temple of all y world, hauing Menelaus that traitour to y Lawes, & to his owne country, to be his guide,

16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holie vessels, which other Kings had giuen for the garnishing, glorie and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So haucie in his minde was Antiochus, that he considered not, that God was not a litle wrothe for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in many sinnes, he, as soone as he had come, had suddenly not only bene punished, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whome Seleucus the King sent to viewe the treasure.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nation sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples wrongs, but afterward shall it be partaker of the blessings of the Lord, as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, but when the great Lord shall be reconciled, it shall be kept in great worship againe.

21 So when Antiochus had taken eightene hundred talents out of the Temple, he gave him to Antiochia his wife, thinking in his pride to make men his upon the altar, and to walk upon the sea such as he himselfe had he.

22 But his left depreded to vex the people: At Jerusalem Philippe of Phrygian by birth, a man more cruel then he that fer him there:

23 And at Garizin Andronicus, and with the Menelaus, which was more grievous to the citizens then the other, and was despitfull against the Jewes his citizens.

24 He sent also Apollonius a cruel prince, with an armie of two and twenty thousand, whom he commanded to slay those that were to ward man's age, and to sell the women, and the younger sorte.

25 So when he came to Jerusalem, hee fained peace, and kept him still vntill the holy daye of Sabbath: and then finding the Jewes keeping the feast, he commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so he slew all them that were gone forth to the shewe, and running through the cite with his men armed, hee murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Maccabeus, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wilderness, & liued there in the mountaines with his companie among the beastes, and dwelling there, and eating grasse, least they should be partakers of the hikhines.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Jewes are compelled to leaue the Lawe of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 10 The women cruelly punished. 18 The grievous paine of Eleazar.

1 Not long after this, sent the King an old man of Athens, for to copel the Jewes, to transgresse the Lawes of the fathers, and not to be governed by the Lawe of God.

2 And to defile the Temple that was at Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olympius, and that of Garizin, according as they did that dwell at that place; Iupiter, that keepeth hospitalitie.

3 This wicked gouernemet was fore and grievous vnto the people.

4 For the Temple was full of dissolution, and gluttonie of the Gentiles, which dallyed with harlots, & had to do with women within the circuit of the holie places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable & forbidden by the Lawe.

6 Neither was it lawfull to keepe the Sabbaths, nor to obserue their ancient feastes, nor plainly to confesse himselfe to be a Jewe.

7 In the day of Kings birth they were grievously compelled perforce euerie moneth to banquet, when feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to goe in the procession of Bacchus with garlands of yuie.

8 Moreover through the counsell of Ptolemus, there went out a commandement vnto the next cities of the heathen against the Jewes, that the like custom, and banquetting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conforme the felices to the manners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue scene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought forth, that had circumcised their kiddes, whom when they had led round about the cite (the babes hanging at their breasts) they cast the downe head along ouer the walles.

11 Some that were runne together into denses to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discovered vnto Philippe, and were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of the honourable daye they were afraid to helpe them selves.

12 Nowe I beseeche those which reade this booke, that they be not discouraged for these calamities; but they iudge these afflictions, not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnes not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straight waies to punish them.

14 For the Lord doeth not long waite for vs, as for other nations, whom he punisheth while they are come to the fulnes of their finnes.

15 But thus he dealeth with vs, that our finnes should not be heaped vp to the full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore he neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs: & though he punish w adulterie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this be spoken nowe for a warning vnto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in fewe wordes.

18 Eleazar then one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a well fauoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, & to eate swines flesh.

19 But he desiring rather to dye gloriously then to liue with hatred, offered him selfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out.

20 As they ought to go to death which suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawfull to taste of for the desire to liue.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banquet, for that olde friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, & prayed him, that he would take such flesh, as was lawfull for him to vie, and as he would prepare for him selfe, and dissemble as though he had eaten of the things appointed by the King, and the flesh of the sacrifice.

22 That in so doing he might be deliuered from death, and that for the olde friendship he was among them, he would receive this fauour.

23 But he began to consider discretely, and as became afflictions, for correction not for destruction.

became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeres, and the honour of his graye heares, wherunto he was come, & his most honest conuersation from his childhode, but chiefly the holie Lawe made, and giuen by God: therefore he answered consequently, & willed them straight wayes so, sende him to the graue.

24 For it becometh not our age, said he, to dissemble, whereby manie yong persons might thinke, that Eleazar being foure score yere old & ten were now gone to another religiō, Or, to another manner of life.

25 And so through mine hypocrisie (for a little time of a transitorie life) they might be deceived by me, and I should procure malediction, and reproche to mine olde age.

26 For though I were now deliuered fro y<sup>e</sup> torments of men, yet could I not escape y<sup>e</sup> hand of the Almightye, neither aliuie nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will now change this life manfully, and will shewe my selfe such as mine age requirith.

28 And so will leaue a notable example for such as be yong, to dye willingly & courageously for the honourable and holy Lawes. And when he had said these wordes, immediately he went to torment.

29 Now they that led him, changed the loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the wordes that he had spoken: for they thought it had bene a rage.

30 And as he was readie to giue the ghost because of the strokes, he sighed and said, The Lord that hath y<sup>e</sup> holie knowledge, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might haue bene deliuered from death, I am scourged & suffer these sore paines of my bodie: but in my minde I suffer them gladly for his religion.

31 Eue now after this maner ended he his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, & a memorial of vertue, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all his nacion.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the seven brethren & of their mother.
1 I came to passe also that seven brethren, with their mother, were taken to be compelled by the King against the Lawe, to taste swines flesh, and were tormented wth scourges and whippes.

2 But one of them, which spake first, said thus, What seekest thou? and what wouldest thou knowe of vs? we are readie to dye, rather thē to transgresse the Lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the King angrie, and commanded to heate pangies and cauldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

4 And he, commanded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, and to slay him & to cut of the ymoost parts of his body in y<sup>e</sup> sight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now when he was thus mangled in all his members, he commanded him to be brought aliuie to the fire & to fry him in the panne: & while the smoke for a long time smoked out of the panne, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted one another to dye courageously, saying in this maner,

The Lord God doeth regard vs, & in deede taketh pleasure in vs, as Moyses<sup>4</sup> declared in the song wherein he testified openly, saying, That God will take pleasure in his seruants.

6 So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stocks: & when they had pulled y<sup>e</sup> skynne with the beere ouer his head, they asked him, if he would eate, or he were punished in all the members of the bodie.

7 But he answered in his owne language, and said, No. Wherefore he was tormeted forth with like the first.

8 And when he was at the last breath, he said, Thou murderer takest this present life from vs, but the King of the world will raise vs vp, which dye for his Lawes, in the resurrection of cuerlasting life.

9 After him was the third had in derision, and when they demaded his tongue, he put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his hands boldly.

10 And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but nowe for the Lawe of God, I despise them, and trust that I shall receiue the of him againe.

11 In so much that y<sup>e</sup> King & they which were with him, maruelled at y<sup>e</sup> yong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

12 Now when he was dead also, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like maner.

13 And when he was nowe readie to dye, hee said thus, It is better that we should change this which we might hope for of men, and wait for our hope from God, that we may be raised vp againe, by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

14 Afterward they brought the fifte also and tormented him,

15 Who looked vpon the King, and said, Thou hast power among men, and though thou be a mortall man, thou doest what thou wilt: but thinke not, that God hath forsake our natiō.

16 But abide a while, & thou shalt see his great power, how he will tormet thee & thy seede.

17 After him also they brought the sixte, who being at the point of death, said, Deceiue not thy selfe foolishly: for we suffer these things, which are worthy to be wondred at for our own sakes, because we haue offended our God.

18 But thinke not thou, wth vnderstandest to fight against God, that thou shalt be vnpunished.

19 But the mother was marueilous aboue all other, and worthis of honourable memorie: for when she sawe her seven sonnes slayne within the space of one daye, she suffred it with a good will, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

20 Yea, she exhorted euerie one of the in her owne language, & being full of courage and wisdom, stirred vp her womanly affections with a manly stomacke, and said vnto them,

21 I can not tel how ye came into my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I y<sup>e</sup> set in order y<sup>e</sup> members of your bodie,

22 But doules the Creator of the world, which formed the birth of man, and founde out the beginning of all things, will also of his owne mercie giue you breath and life againe, as ye now constancy in Gods service, though it suffer paine, shall be crowned wth glory.

ye now regard not your owne felices, for his Lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking him self despised, and considering the iniurious words, while y<sup>e</sup> yongest was yet aliue, he did exhort him not onely with wordes, but swore also vnto him by an othe that he would make him riue & welkhe, if he would forsake the Lawes of his fathers, & that he would take him as a friend, and giue him offices.

25 But when the yong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted that she would counsell the yong man to saue his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with manie wordes, the promised him that she would counsell her sonne.

27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scorn, and spake in her own language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gaue thee sucke three yeres, and nourished thee, and tooke care for thee vnto this age, and brought thee vp.

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon y<sup>e</sup> heauen & the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankind made likewise.

29 Feare not this hangman, but shewe thy self worthy such brethren by suffering death, that I may receiue thee in mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these wordes, y<sup>e</sup> yong man said, Whom waite ye for? I wil not obey the Kings commandement; but I will obey the commandement of the Lawe that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyses.

31 And thou that imaginest all mischief a gainst the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32 For we suffer these things, because of our sinnes,

33 But though the liuing Lord be angrie with vs a litle while for our chastening and correction, yet wil hee be reconciled with his owne seruants.

34 But thou, o man without religion and most wicked of al me, list not thy selfe vp in vaine, which art puffed vp with vncertaine hope, and listest thine handes against the seruants of God.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgemēt of almightie God, which seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffred a litle paine, are now vnder the diuine couenant of euermlasting life: but thou through the iudgement of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my bodie and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the onely God.

38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the King being kindled with anger, ragged more cruelly against him then the others; and tooke it grieuously, that he was mocked.

40 So he also dyed holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42 Let this now be enough spoken concerning the banquet, and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

Judas gathereth together his hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against Judas. 16 Judas exhorteth his soldiers to constancie. 26 Nicanor is ouercome. 47 The Iewes gather together, after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding part of the spoyle vnto the fatherles and vnto the widowes. 50 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 51 Nicanor sheweth vnto Antiochus.

Then Judas Maccabeus, & they that were with him, went priuily into the towries, and called their kinsfolkes & friends together, and tooke vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religion, and assembled six thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, y<sup>e</sup> he would haue an eye vnto his people, which was vexed of euery man, and haue pitie vpon the people that was defiled by wicked men.

3 And that he would haue compassion vpon the citie y<sup>e</sup> was destroyed, & almost brought to the ground, and that he would heare the voyce of the bloud that cryed vnto him.

4 And that he would remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, and the blasphemies committed against his Name, and that he would shewe this hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he could not be withstanding by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercie.

6 Therefore he came at vnwares; and burnt vp the townes and cities: yet he tooke the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies.

7 But specially he vsed the nightes to make such assaults, insomuch that the brute of his manlinesse was spred euery where.

8 ¶ So when Philippe sawe that this man increased by litle & litle, & that things prospered with him for the most part, he wrote vnto Ptolemeus y<sup>e</sup> gouernour of Coelosyria & Phenice, to helpe him in the Kings busines.

9 Then sent he speedily Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a special friend of his, & gaue him of all nations of the heathen no lesse then twentie thousand men, to roote out y<sup>e</sup> whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Gorgias a capitaine, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for y<sup>e</sup> King of two thousand talents, which the Romans should haue, to be taken of the Iewes y<sup>e</sup> were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediatly he sent to the cities on the seacoast, prouoking the to bye Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sell fourescore and ten for one talent; but he considered not the vengeance of almightie God, that should come vpon him.

12 When

II. Maccabees.

12. When Iudas then knewe of Nicanors coming, he tolde them that were with him, of the coming of the armie.
13. Now were there some of them fearefull, & trusted not vnto <sup>his</sup> righteousness of God, but fled away, and abode not in that place.
14. But the other fold all that they had left, and besought the Lord together, to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them, or euer he came neere them.
15. And though hee woulde not do it for their sakes, yet for the couenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.
16. And so Maccabeus called his me together, about fixe thousand, exhorting the not to be afraide of their enemies, neither to feare the great multitude of <sup>the</sup> Gentiles, which came against the vnrighteouslie, but to fight manly,
17. Setting before their eyes the iniurie that they had vnjustly done to the holy place, & the crueltie done to the citie by derision, & the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.
18. For they, said he, trust in their weapons & boldnes: but our confidence is in the almightie God, which at a becke can both destroye them that come against vs, & all the worlde.
19. Moreover he admonished them of <sup>his</sup> helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when they perished an hundred & fourescore, and fye thousand vnder <sup>the</sup> Sennacherib,
20. And of the battell <sup>the</sup> they had in Babylon against the Galatians, how they came in all to the battell eight thousand, with foure thousand Macedonians: & when the Macedonians were astonished, the eight thousand slew an hundred & twentie thousand through the helpe <sup>the</sup> <sup>was</sup> giuen them from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefices.
21. Thus when he had made them bolde with these words, and readie to dye for the Lawes and the countrey, he deuided his armie into foure partes.
22. And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the armie, <sup>so was</sup> Simon, & Ioseph & Ionathan, giuing eche one fiftene hundred me.
23. And when Eleazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which led the forewarde, ioyned with Nicanor,
24. And because the Almightye helped them, they slewe aboue nine thousand men, and wounded and maimed the most parte of Nicanors hoste, and so put all to flight,
25. And tooke the money fro those that came to bye them, & pursued them farre: but lacking time they returned.
26. For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue the.
27. So they tooke their weapons, & spoiled the enemies, & kept the Sabbath, giuing thanks and praising the Lord wonderfully, which had deliuered them that day, & powred vpō them the beginning of his mercie.
28. And after the Sabbath, <sup>the</sup> they distributed the spoyle to the sicke, and to the fatherles, and to the widowes, and deuided the residue among themselves and their children.

29. When this was done, and they al had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lord to be reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30. Afterward with one consent they fell vpon Timotheus & Bacchides, & slew aboue twentie thousand, & wanne hie & strong holds, & deuided great spoyle, & gaue an equal portion vnto the sicke, and to the fatherles, and to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31. Moreover they gathered their weapons together, and layed them vp diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoyle to Ierusalem.

32. They slewe also Philarches a most wicked person, which was with Timotheus, and had vexed the Iewes many wayes.

33. And when they kept the feast of victorie in their countrey, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fire vpon the holie gates, which was fledde into a litle house: so he receiued a rewarde meete for his wickednes.

34. And that most wicked Nicanor, which had brought a thousand marchants to bye the Iewes,

35. He was through <sup>his</sup> helpe of <sup>the</sup> Lord brought downe of the whom he thought as nothing, in so much that he put of his glorious raiment, and fledde ouerthwart the countrey like a fugitiue seruant, & came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his hoste.

36. Thus he that promised to pay tribute to the Romaines, by meanes of the prisoners of Ierusalem, brought newes, that the Iewes had a defender, and for this cause none coulde hurt the Iewes, because they followed the Lawes appointed by him.

1. AT the same time, came Antiochus again with dishonour out of the countrey of Persia.

2. For when he came to Persopolis, and went about to robbe the Temple, & to subdue the citie, the people ranne in a rage to defende themselves with their weapons, and put the to flight, & Antiochus was put to flight by <sup>his</sup> inhabitantes, and returned with shame.

3. Now when he came to Ecbarane, he vnderstoode the things that had come vnto Nicanor, and Timotheus.

4. And then being chafed in his fume, hee thought to impute to the Iewes their fault, & had put him to flight, & therefore comanded his charet man to driue continually, & to dispatch the iourney: for Gods iudgement compelled him: for he had said thus in his pride, I will make Ierusalem a comon burying place of the Iewes, when I come thither.

5. But the Lord almightye and God of Israel smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague: for assoone as he had spoken these wordes, a paine of the bowelles, that was remediless, came vpon him, and foretorments of the of the inner parts, in his heart

 6 And that most iustly: for he had tormented other mens bowels with diuers, and strange tormentes.
 7 Howbeit he would in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Iewes, & commanded to haste the iourney:
 but it came to passe that he fell downe from the chaire that ranne swiftly, so that all the members of his bodie were bruised with the great fall.
 8 And thus he that a litle afore thought he might commande the floudes of the sea (so proude was he beyond the condition of mā) and to weigh the hie mountaines in the balance, was now cast on the grounde, and caried in an horselitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God;
 9 So that the wormes came out of the bodie of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was aliue, his flesh fell off for paine and torment, and al his armie was grieved at his smell.
 10 Thus no man could beare because of his stinke, him y a litle afore thought he might reach to the starres of heauen.
 11 Then he began to leaue of his great pride, and selfewil, when he was plagued and came to the knowledge of him self by the scourge of God, and by his paine which increased e-uerie moment.
 12 And when he him selfe might not abide his owne stinke, he said these wordes, It is meete to be subiect vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, should not thinke him selfe equall vnto God through pride.
 13 This wicked perion prayed also vnto y Lord, who would now haue no mercie on him, 14 And said thus that he would set at libertie the holy citie vnto the which he made haste to destroye it, and to make it a burying place.
 15 And as touching the Iewes whom hee had iudged not worthe to be buried, but would haue cast them out with their children to be deuoured of the foules and wilde beastes, he would make them all like the citizens of Athènes.
 16 And whereas he had spoyled the holy Temple afore, hee would garnishe it with great giftes, and increase the holie vessels, and of his owne rentes beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.
 17 Yea, and that he would also become a Iewe himselfe, and go thorow all the world y was inhabited, and preach the power of God.
 18 But for al this his paines would not cease:
 for the iust iudgement of God was come vpō him: therefore despairing of his health, hee wrote vnto the Iewes this letter vnder written, containing the forme of a supplication.
 19 ¶ THE KING and prince Antiochus vnto the Iewes his louing citizeis wisheth much ioye and health and prosperitie.
 20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things go after your minde, I giue great thāks vnto God hauing hope in the heauen.
 21 Though I lye sicke, yer I am mindefull of your honour, and good will for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the countrey of Persia, and fel into a sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common safetie of all, 22 Nor distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sickness.

 23 Therefore considering that when my father led an host against the hie countreis, he appointed who should succede him; 24 That if any controuersie happened contrary to his expectatiō, or if that any tidings were brought that were grievous, they in the lande might knowe to whome the affaires were committed, that they should not bee troubled.
 25 Againe, when I ponder howe that the gouernours, y are borderers, & neighbours vnto my kingdome, waite for all occasions, and looke but for opportunitie, I haue ordeined y my sonne Antiochus shalbe King, whom I oft commended & committed to many of you, when I went into the hie prouinces, & haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.
 26 Therefore, I praye you, and require you to remeber the benefits that I haue done vnto you generally, & particularly, and that euerie man wil be faithful vnto me and my sonne.
 27 For I trust that he wil be gentle, and louing vnto you according to my intente.
 28 ¶ Thus the murtherer and blasphemor suffered most grievously, and as he had increased other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a strange countrey amonge the moistaines.
 29 And Philippe y was brought vp with him, caryed away his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemeus Philometor.

- mountaines and dennes like beasts.
- 7 And for the same cause they bare greene boughes, and faire branches & palmes, and sang psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in clesning his place.
- 8 They ordeined also by a common statute, & decree that euery yere those dayes shoulde be kept of the whole nation of the Iewes.
- 9 And this was the end of Antiochus called Epiphanes.
- 10 ¶ Now will we declare the actes of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres, that followed.
- 11 For when he had taken the kingdome, he made one Lyfias, which had bene captaine of the hoste in Phenice, and Coslofyrta, ruler over the affaires of the realme.
- 12 For Ptolemus that was called Macron, purposed to do iustice vnto the Iewes for the wrong, that had bene done vnto the, & went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.
- 13 For the which cause he was accused of his friends before Eupator, & was called oft times traitour, because he had left Cyprus the Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seeing that he was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and poysoned himselfe, and dyed.
- 14 ¶ But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he interteined strangers, and made warre oft times against the Iewes.
- 15 Moreover the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, which were meete for their purpose, troubled the Iewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen from Ierusalem, tooke in hande to continue warre.
- 16 The they that were with Maccabeus made prayers, and besought God that he would be their helper, and so they fel vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans,
- 17 And assailed them fore, that they wanne the places, & slewe all that fought against them on the wall, & killed all that they met with, and slewe no lesse then twentie thousand.
- 18 And because certeine (which were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castels, hauing all maner of things conuenient to susteine the siege,
- 19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Ioseph, & Zachheus also, & those that were with them, & were ynowe to besiege them, & departed to those places which were more necessarie.
- 20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnes, were intreated for money (through certaine of those that were in the castel) and tooke seuentie thousand drachmes, and let some of them escape.
- 21 But when it was tolde Maccabeus what was done, he called the gouernours of the people together, & accused those men, that they had solde their brethren for money, and let their enemies go.
- 22 So he slewe them when they were couict of treason, & immediately wane the two castels:
- 23 And hauing good successe, as in all the warres that he tooke in hande, he slewe in the two castels mo then twentie thousand.
- 24 Now Timotheus whom the Iewes had overcome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sorts, & brought a great troupe of horseme out of Asia to winne Iewrie by strength.
- 25 But when he drew neere, Maccabeus, and they that were with him, turned to praye vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their brads, and girded their reines with sackcloth,
- 26 And fell downe at the foote of the altar, and besought the Lord to be mercifull to the, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and to be an aduersarie to their aduersaries, as Exod. 17. 16. the Lawe declareth. Dent. 20. 4.
- 27 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the cite, and when they came neere to the enemies, they tooke heede to themselves.
- 28 And when the morning appeared, they both ioyned together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, & noble victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.
- 29 But when the battel waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen Iue comely me vpon horses with bridles of gold, and two of them led the Iewes,
- 30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on euerie side with their weapons, and kepte him safe, but shot darts, and lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindness, and beaten downe and full of trouble.
- 31 There were slaine of foore me twentie thousande and fixe hundred, and fixe hundred horsemen.
- 32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fled vnto Gazara, which was called a verie strong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.
- 33 But Maccabeus & his companie laide siege agaynst the fortresses with courage for foure dayes.
- 34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible wordes.
- 35 Neuertheles vpon the fifth day in the morning, twentie yong men of Maccabeus companie, whose heartes were inflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, and w bolde stomaks smote downe those they met.
- 36 Others also that climed vpon the engines of warre against them that were within, set fire vpon the towres, and burnt those blasphemers quicke in the fires that they had made, and others brake vpon the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and tooke the cite.
- 37 And hauing founde Timotheus, that was crepte into a caue, they killed him, and Chereas his brother with Apolophanes.
- 38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalmes, and thankesgiuing, which had done so great things for Israel, & giuen them the victorie.

CHAP. XI.

Lyfias goeth about to overcome the Iewes. 8 Succour sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lyfias vnto the Iewes. 20 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lyfias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romans to the Iewes.

1 Verie

Verie thortelic after this, Lyfias y Kings Stuarde, & a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, tooke fore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when hee had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all y horsmen he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple would he haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathē: for he would sel the Priests office euery yere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footemen, and thousands of horsmen, and in his fourescore elephants,

5 He came into Iudea, and drewe neere to Beth-sura, which was a castel of defence, fūe furlonges from Ierusalem, and laide sore siege vnto it.

6 But when Maccabeus, and his companie knewe that he besieged the holdes, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, and teares before the Lorde, that he would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus himselfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other y they would ieorpade themselves together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a courageous minde.

8 And as they were there besides Ierusalem, there appeared before them vpō horseback a man in white clothing, shaking his harnessse of golde.

9 Then they prayd the mercifull God all together, and tooke heart, in so much that they were readie, not only to fight with mē, but with the most cruell beastes, & to breake downe wallles of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in arsy, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lorde was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpō their enemies like lions, they slew cleuen thousand footemen, and sixtene hundred horsmen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lyfias himselfe fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who as hee was a man of vnderstanding, considering what losse he had had, & knowing, that the Hebrewes could not be overcome because the almightie God helped them, sent vnto them,

14 And promised, that he would consent to all things which were reasonable, and perswade the King to be their friend.

15 Maccabeus agreed to Lyfias requestes, hauing respect in althings to y cōmonwealth, & whatsoeuer Maccabeus wrote vnto Lyfias concerning the Iewes, the King granted it.

16 For there were letters writtē vnto the Iewes from Lyfias containing these wordes, LYSIAS vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

17 Iohn and Abesalom, which were sent from you, deliuered me the things y you demāde by writing, and required me to fulfill y things that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were meete to be reported to y King himselfe, I haue declared them, & he grātē y that was possible.

19 Therefore if yee behaue your selues as friendes toward his affaires, hereafter also I will indeuour my self to do you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen commandement to these men, and to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare ye well, the hundredth and eight and fourtie yere, the foure and twentieth daye of the moneth Dioscorinthius.

22 ¶ Now the Kings letter contained these wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lyfias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is trāslated vnto the gods, our wilis, that they which are in our realme, liue quietly, that euerie man may apply his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also that the Iewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but would keepe their owne maner of liuing: for the w cause they require of vs, that we would suffer them to liue after their owne Lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is that this nation shalbe in rest, & haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may be gouerned according to y custome of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt do well therefore to sende vnto them, and graunt them peace, that whē they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and cherefully go about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, & to the rest of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

28 If ye fare well, we haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs that your desire was to returne home, and to apply your own busines.

30 Wherefore, those that will depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirtie day of the moneth of Panthicus.

31 That the Iewes may vfe their owne maner of liuing and Lawes, like as afore, and none of thē by any maner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus to comfort you.

33 Fare ye well: the hundredth and eight and fourtie yere, the fiftēth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 ¶ The Romaines also sent a letter containing these wordes, QVINTVS MEMMIVS and TITVS MANILIUS ambassadours of the Romaines, vnto the people of the Iewes sende greeting.

35 The things that Lyfias the Kings kinsman hath granted you, we grant the same also.

36 But concerning that which he shall report vnto y King, send hither some w speede, whē ye haue considered the matter diligently, y we may consult thereupon as shalbe best for you: for we must go vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haste and sende some men,

38 Fare well: this hundreth and eight, and fourtie yere, the fiftenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 9 The wicked deede of this of Ioppe against the Iewes. 6 Iudas is avenged of them. 9 He setteth fire in the haven of Lammia. 10 The pursuite of the Iewes against Timotheus. 24 Timotheus is taken & let go unhurt. 32 Iudas pursueth Gorgias.

1 When these covenantes were made, Lyfias went vnto the King, and the Iewes tilled their ground.

2 But the gouernours of the places, as Timotheus & Apollonius the sonne of Genneus, and Ieronimus, & also Demophon, & besides them Nicanor y gouernour of Cyprus, would not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 ¶ They of Ioppe also did such a vile acte: they prayed the Iewes y dwelt among them, to go with their wiues and children into the shippes, which they had prepared as though they had ought them none euill will.

4 And so by the common aduise of the citie, they obeyed them, and suspect nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundreth of them.

5 Now whē Iudas knew of this crueltie shewed against his nation, he commanded those men that were w him, to make them readie.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, he went forth against the murderers of his brethren, and set fire in the haven by night, and burnt the shippes, and those that fled thence, he slewe.

7 And when the citie was shut vp, he departed as though he would come againe, and roote out all them of the citie of Ioppe.

8 ¶ But when he perceived that the Iammites were minded to do in like maner vnto the Iewes, which dwelt among them,

9 He came vpon the Iammites by night, & set fire in the haven with the nauie, so that the light of the fire was seene at Ierusalem, vpon a two hundreth and fourtie furlonges.

10 Nowe when they were gone from thence nine furlonges, in their iourney toward Timotheus, about fife thousand men of foote & fife hundreth horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.

11 So the battell was sharpe, but it prospered with Iudas through the helpe of God: the Nomades of Arabia, being ouercome, because Iudas sought to make peace with them, and promised to giue him certaine cattell, and to helpe him in other things.

12 And Iudas thinking y they should in deede be profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shooke hands, and so they departed to their tentes.

13 ¶ Iudas also assaulted a citie called Caspis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, and fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in store of vitales, that they were y slacke in their doings, scoulding them that were with Iudas, & reproching them: yea, they blasphemed and spake such words as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus souldiers, calling vpon the great Prince of y world (which without any instruments, or engins of warre, did cast downe the walles of Iericho, in the time of Iesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles,

16 And tooke the citie by the will of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, in so much y a lake of two furlonges broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flowe with blood.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, seuen hundreth & fiftie furlonges, & came to Characa vnto the Iewes, that are called Tubieni.

18 But they founde not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left a garison in a verie strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaiues with Maccabeus, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in y fortress more then ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared, & ranged his armie by bandes, & went courageously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundreth and twentie thousand men of foote, and two thousand and fife hundreth horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas coming, he sent the women, and children, and the other baggage afore vnto a fortress called Carnion (for it was hard to besiege, and vncasie to come vnto because of the straites on all sides.)

22 But when Iudas first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, & a trembling was among them through the presence of him that seeth al things, in so much y they fleeing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, & wounded with the points of their owne swordes.

23 But Iudas was verie earnest in pursuing, and slewe those wicked men: yea, he slew thirtie thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himself fell into the hands of Dositheus, & Sosipater, whom he besought with much crafte to let him go with his life, because he had manie of the Iewes parents and the brethren of some of them, which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when hee had assured them with many wordes, and promised that he would restore them without hurt, they let him go for the health of their brethren.

26 ¶ Then went Maccabeus toward Carnio, & Atargation, and slew fife and twentie thousand persons.

27 And after that he had chased away & slaine them, Iudas remoued y host toward Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Lyfias and a great multitude of all nations, and the strong yong men kept the walles defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engins of waire, and dattes.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lord, with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies: they wane the citie, and slew fife & twentie thousand of them that were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which which lieth sixe hundreth furlongs from Ierusalem.

30 But when the Iewes which dwelt there, testified, y the Scythopolitans dealt louingly with them, and intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 31 They gaue them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them, and so they came to Ierusalem, as the feast of the weekes approached.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea:

33 Who came out with three thousand men of foote and foure hundreth horsemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a fewe of the Iewes were slaine,

35 And Dositheus one of the Baccenors, which was on horsebacke and a mightie man, tooke Gorgias, and laide holde of his garment, and drewe him by force, because he would haue taken the wicked man aliue: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote of his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into Marisa.

36 And when they that were with Elerin, had foughten long, and were wearie, Iudas called vpon the Lord, that he would shewe himselfe to be their helper, and capitaine of the felde.

37 And then he began in his owne language, and sung Psalmes with a lowde voyce, in so much that straight wayes he made the that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 ¶ So Iudas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seventh day came, they censled themselves (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Iudas and his companie came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to burie them with their kinsmen in their fathers graues.

40 Now vnder the coates of euerie one, that was slaine, they found iewels that had bene consecrate to the idoles of the Iammites, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Lawe. Then euerie man sawe, that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

41 And so euerie man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And they gaue themselves to praye, and besought him, that they shoulde not vnterly be destroyed for the fautes committed. Besides that, noble Iudas exhorted the people to keepe themselves from sinne, for so much as they sawe before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slaine, 43 And hauing made a gathering through the company, sent to Ierusalem about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offering, doing very well, and honestly that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if he had not hoped, that they which were slaine, should rise againe, it had bene superfluous, & vaine, to praye for the dead. a Fro this vers. to the end of this chapter, Greke text is corrupt, so that no good sense, much lesse certeine doctrine can be gathered thereby: also it is euident that this place was not written by the holy Ghost, both because it dissemeth from the rest of the holy Scriptures, & also the autor of this booke acknowledging his owne infirmitie, desireth pardon, if he haue not attained to that he should. And it seemeth, that this Iason the Cyrenean, out of whome he tooke this abridgement, is Ioseph Ben Gorion, who hath written in Ebrew five bookes of these matters, and intreating this place, maketh no mention of this prayer for the dead, lib. 3. chap. 19. for it is contrarie to the custome of the Iewes, euen to this day, to praye for the dead. And though Iudas had so done, yet this particulare example is not sufficient to establish a doctrine, no more then Zipporahs wasto proue that women might minister the Sacramentes, Exod. 4. 25. or the example of Razis that one might kill himselfe, whom this autor so much commendeth. 2. CHAP. XIII.

The coming of Eupator into Iudea. 2 The death of Menelaus. 10 Menelaus going to fight against Eupator, murder his soldiers vnto prayer. 19 He killeth fourteene thousand men in the tentes of Antiochus. 21 Rhodanus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

1 IN the hundreth, fourtie and nine yere it was tolde Iudas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lysias the stewart and ruler of his affaires with him, hauing both in their armie an hundreth and ten thousande men of foote of the Grecians, and five thousande horsemen, and two & twentie elephants, and three hundreth charrets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, and with great deceite encouraged Antiochus, not for the safegard of the countrey, but because he thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of Kings moued Antiochus minde against this wicked man, and Lysias informed the King, that this man was the cause of all mischiete, so that the King commanded to bring him to Berea to put him vnto death as the maner was in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a towre of fiftie cubites high, full of ashes, & it had an instrument that turned rounde, & on euerie side it rowled downe into the ashes.

6 And there whosoever was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other grievous crime, was cast of all men to the death.

7 And so it came to passe y this wicked man should dye such a death, & it was a most iust thing that Menelaus should want buriall.

8 For because he had committed manie sinnes by the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy: he himselfe also dyed in the ashes.

9 ¶ Now the King raged in his minde, and came to shewe him selfe more cruell vnto the Iewes then his father.

10 Which things when Iudas perceived, he commanded the people to call vpon the Lord night and daye, that if euer he had holpen them, he would now helpe them, when they shoulde be put from their Lawe, from their countrey and from the holy Temple.

11 And that he would not suffer the people, which a litle afore began to recouer, to be subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.

II. Maccabees.

fasting

- 12 So when they had done this all together, and besought the Lord for mercy with weeping, & fasting, & falling downe three daies together, Iudas exhorted the to make them selues readie.
- 13 And he being apart w the Elders, toke counsell to goe forth, afore the King brought his host into Iudea, and should take the citie, & commit the matter to the helpe of y Lord.
- 14 So committing the charge to the Lord of y world, he exhorted his soldiers to fight manfully, euen vnto death for y Lawes, the Temple, the citie, their countrey, and the common wealth, and camped by Modin.
- 15 And so giuing his souldiers for a watche word, The victorie of God, he piked out the manliest yong men, and went by night into the Kings campe, & slew of the hoste foure teene thousand men, and the greatest elephant with all that sate vpon him.
- 16 Thus when they had brought a great feare, & trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.
- 17 This was done in the breake of the day, because y protectio of the Lord did helpe the.
- 18 ¶ Now when the King had tasted the manlines of the Iewes, he went about to take the holdes by policie,
- 19 And marched toward Beth-sura, which was a strong holde of the Iewes: but he was chased away, hurt and lost of his men.
- 20 For Iudas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.
- 21 But Rhodocus w was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secrets to the enemies: therefore he was fought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.
- 22 After this did the King cōmune with them that were in Beth-sura, & " tooke trace with them, departed, and ioyned battel with Iudas, who ouercame him.
- 23 But when he vnderstoode, that Philippe (whom he had left to be ouerseer of his busines at Antiochia) did rebell against him, he was astonished, so that he yelded himselfe to the Iewes, and made them an othe to do all things that were right, and was appeased toward them, and offered sacrifice and adorned the Temple, and shewed great gentleness to the place.
- 24 And embraced Maccabeus, and made him capitaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerreneans.
- 25 Neuertheles, when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with this agrement: & because they were grieved, they would y he should breake the couenants.
- 26 Then went Lysias vp into the iudgement seate, & excused the fact as well as he could, and perswaded them, and pacified them, and made them well affectioned, & came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the Kings iourney, and his returne.

C H A P. XIII.

- Demetrius moued by Alcimus sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes.
- 1 Nicanor maketh a compass with the Iewes, which he yet breaketh through the motion of the King.
- 2 Nicanor commandeth Razis to be taken, who slayeth himselfe.
- 3 After three yeres was Iudas enformed that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and name by the haue of Tripolis,
- 4 Whe he had wonne the countrey, & slaine Antiochus and his lieutenant Lysias.
- 5 Nowe Alcimus, which had bene the high Priest, and wilfullie defiled himselfe in the time that all things were cōfounded, seeing that by no meanes he could saue himself, nor haue any more entrance to the holie altar,
- 6 He came to King Demetrius in the hundredth, fiftie & one yere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, and a palme, and of the boughes, which were vsed solemnely in the Temple, and that day he helde his tongue.
- 7 But when he had gotten opportunitie, and occasion for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, and asked him what deuises or counsels the Iewes leane vnto.
- 8 To the which he answered, the Iewes y be called Asideas whose capitaine is Iudas Maccabeus, mainteine warres, and make insurrections, & wil not let the Realme be in peace.
- 9 Therefore I, being deuiued of my fathers honour (I meane the high Priesthode) am now come hither,
- 10 Partly because I was wel affectioned vnto y Kings affaires, & secretly because I fought y profit of mine own citizes: for al our people, thorow their rashnes, are not a litle troubled.
- 11 Wherefore, o King, seeing y knowest all these things, make prouisiō for the countrey, & our nation which is abused, according to thine own humanitie, that is ready to help all men.
- 12 For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not possible that the matter should be well.
- 13 When he had spoken these wordes, other friends also hauing euil will at Iudas, set Demetrius on fire.
- 14 Who immediately called for Nicanor, the ruler of the elephants, and made him capitaine ouer Iudea,
- 15 And sent him forth, cōmanding him to slay Iudas, & to scatter them y were w him, & to make Alcimus high Priest of y great Temple.
- 16 Then the heathen which fled out of Iudea from Iudas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.
- 17 Now when y Iewes heard of Nicanors cōming, & the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinkled themselves with earth, and prayed vnto him which had appointed himselfe a people for euer, and did alwayes defend his owne portion w euident tokens.
- 18 So at the commandement of the capitaine, they remoued straight wayes from thence, and came to the towne of Dessan.
- 19 Where Simon Iudas brother had ioyned battel w Nicanor, and was somewhat astonished through y sudden silence of y enemies.
- 20 Neuertheles Nicanor hearing the manlines of them that were w Iudas, & the bolde stomackes that they had for their countrey, durst not proue y matter w bloodshedding.
- 21 Wherefore, he sent Pofidonius, Theodocius, and Mattias before, to make peace.

*"Or, game & took 20 So when they had taken long aduilement thereupon, and the capitaine shewed it vnto y<sup>e</sup> multitude, they were agreed in one mind, and consented to the covenants.

21 And they appointed a day whē they should particularly come together: so when the day was come, they set for euery man his stooke.

22 Neuertheles Iudas comāded certein men of armes to waite in conuenient places, least there should suddēly arise any euil through the enemies: & so they comūed together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Ierusalem, did none hurt, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Iudas, and fauoured him in his heart.

25 He praied him also to take a wife, & to beget childre: so he married, & they liued together.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betwene them, & vnderstanding the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, & tolde him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and ordeined Iudas a traitour to the Realme, to be his succellour.

27 Then the King was displeased, and by the reportes of this wicked man, he wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was verie angry for the covenants, commanding him that he should send Maccabeus in all haste prisoner vnto Antiochia.

28 Whē these things came to Nicanor, he was astonished and sore grieved, that he should breake the things wherein they had agreed, seing y<sup>e</sup> that mā had comitted no wickednes.

29 But because it was not commodious to him to withstande the King, he sought craftily to accomplish it.

30 Notwithstanding when Maccabeus perceiued y<sup>e</sup> Nicanor began to be rough vnto him, & y<sup>e</sup> he intreated him more rudely then he was wot, he perceiued that such rigour came not of good, & therefore he gathered a few of his men, & withdrew himselfe frō Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by Maccabeus worthy policie, came into the great & holy Temple, & commanded the Priests, which were offering their vsual sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tell where the man was, whom he sought,

33 He stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an othe in this maner, If ye will not deliuer me Iudas as a prisoner, I will make this Temple of God a plaine field, and will breake downe the altar, & will erect a notable Temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wordes he departed: then the Priests lift vp their hands toward heauen, & besought him that was euer the defender of their nation, saying in this maner, 35 Thou, o Lord of al things, which hast neede of nothing, wouldest that the Tēple of thine habitation should be among vs.

36 Therefore now, o most holy Lord, keepe this house euer vndeiled, & lately was clesed, & stoppe al the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, Razis one of the Elders of Ierusalem a loue of the cite, & a mā of very good reporte, which for his long was called a father of the Iewes.

38 For this mā aforesometimes when y<sup>e</sup> Iewes were minded; to keepe themselves vndeiled and pure, being accused to be of y<sup>e</sup> religion of the Iewes, did offer to spende his bodie and life wth all constancie for the religion of the Iewes.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Iewes, sent about fūe hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him to doe the Iewes much hurt.

41 But when this companie would haue taken his castel, & woulde haue broken the gates by violence, & commanded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that he was ready to be taken on euery side, he fell on his sword,

42 Willing rather to dye manfully, then to giue himselfe into the hands of wicked men, and to suffer reproche vnworthy for his noble steeke.

43 Notwithstanding what time as he missed of his steeke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwene the doores, he ran boldly to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the multitude.

44 Which conueyed themselves lightly away, and gaue place, so that he fel vpon his bellicie.

45 Neuertheles while there was yet breath in him, being kindled in his minde, he rose vp, and though his blood gushed out like a fontaine, and he was verie sore wounded, yet he ranne thorow the middes of the people,

46 And gate him to the topp of an hierocke: so when his blood was vicerly gone, he took out his owne bowelles with both his handes, and threwe them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life & spirit, that he would restore the againe vnto him, & thus he dyed.

CHAP. XV.

Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabbath day. The blasphemie of Nicanor. 14 Maccabeus expounding vnto the Iewes the visio, & encourageth them wth the prayer of Maccabeus. 30 Maccabeus commendeth Nicanors head and handes to be cut of, and his tongue to be giuen vnto the foules. 39 The author excuseth himselfe.

1 N Owe when Nicanor knewe that Iudas and his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all assurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheles the Iewes that were compelled to go with him, said, O kill not so cruellie and barbarouslie, but honour & sanctifie the daye, that is appoynted by him that seeth all things.

3 But this most wicked persone demanded, Is there a Lord in heauen, that commanded the Sabbath day to be kepte?

4 And whē they said, There is a liuing Lord, which ruleth in the heauen, who commāded the seuenth day to be kepte,

5 Then he said, And I am mightie vpon earth to comānd them for to arme theselues, & to performe y<sup>e</sup> Kings busines. Notwithstanding, he could not accōplish his wicked enterprife.

6 For Nicanor lifted vp with great pride, purposed to set vp a memoriall of the victorie obtained

As this priuate example ought not to be followed of the godlie, because it is contrary to y<sup>e</sup> word of God, although the author seeme here to approve it: so that place as touching prayer, Chap. 12. 44, though Iudas had appointed it, yet were it not sufficient to proue a doctrine, because it is onely a particular example.

II. Maccabees.

10 obtained of all them that were with Iudas.
 11 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence &
 12 a perfite hope y the Lord would helpe him, 13 And exhorted his people not to be afraid at 14 the coming of the heathen, but alway to re-
 15 member the helpe y had bene shewed vnto 16 them from heaue, & to trust now also y they 17 should haue the victorie by the Almightye.
 18 Thus he encouraged them by the Law and 19 Prophetes, putting them in remembrance of 20 the battels that they had wonne asere, & so 21 made them more willing.
 22 And stirred vp their hearts, and shewed
 23 in them also the deceitfulness of the heathen, 24 and how they had broken their othes.
 25 Thus he armed euery one of them, not w 26 the assurance of shieldes & speares, but with 27 wholesome wordes & exhortations, & shew-28 ed them a dreame worthie to be believed, & 29 reioyced them greatly.
 30 And this was his vision. He thought that he 31 sawe Onias (w had bene the high Priest, a 32 vertuous & a good man, reuerent in beha-33 iour, and of sober conuersation, wel spo-34 ken, & one y had bene exercised in all points 35 of godlines from a childe) holding vp his 36 handes toward heauen, & praying for the 37 whole people of the Iewes.
 38 After this there appeared vnto him ano-39 ther mā which was aged, honourable, & of a 40 wonderful dignitie, & excellencie aboue him.
 41 And Onias spake, and said, This is a Iouer 42 of the brethren, who prayeth much for the 43 people, and for the holy citie, to w<sup>s</sup> Jeremias 44 the Prophet of God.
 45 He thought also that Jeremias helde out his 46 right hand, and gaue vnto Iudas a sworde of 47 golde: and as he gaue it, he spake thus.
 48 Take this holy sworde a gift fro God, where-49 with thou shalt wounde the aduersaries.
 50 And so being comforted by the words of Iu-51 das, w were very sweet & able to stirre them
 52 vp to valiantnes & to encourage the hearts
 53 of the yong men, they determined to pitch
 54 no campe, but courageously to set vpon them, 55 and manfullie to assaile them, & to trie the 56 matter had to hand, because the citie & the 57 Sanctuarye and the Temple were in danger.
 58 As for their wiues, and children, and bre-59 thren and kinsfolkes, they set lesse by their 60 danger: but their greatest & principal feare
 61 was for the holy Temple.
 62 Againe they that were in the citie, were 63 careful for the armie that was abroad.
 64 Now whiles they all waited for the tryal of 65 the matter, and the enemies now met with 66 them, & the hoste was set in aray, and the 67 beasts were separated into couenient places,
 68 and the horsemen were placed in the wings, 69 Maccabeus considering the coming of the 70 multitude & the diuers preparatiōs of wea-71 pons, & y fiercenes of the beasts, held vp his 72 hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord
 73 that doeth wonders, & y looked vpon them, 74 knowing y the victorie commeth not by the 75 weapons, but y he giueth the victorie to the 76 that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

Or, Elephants.

prayer.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this 23 manner, O Lord, thou y diddest send thine
 24 Angel in the time of Ezeias King of Iudea, 25 who in the hoste of Sennacherib slewe an 26 hundredth, fourscore and six thousand.
 27 Send now also thy good Angel before vs,
 28 O Lord of heauens, for a feare and dread vn-29 to them,
 30 And let them be discomfited by the strength
 31 of thine armie, which come against thine 32 holie people to blasphemie. Thus with these 33 wordes he made an ende.
 34 Then Nicanor & they y were w him, drew 35 neere with trumpets and shoutings for ioye.
 36 But Iudas & his companie praying & calling 37 vpon God, encountered with the enemies, 38 So that with their hands they fought, but 39 with their hearts they prayed vnto God, &
 40 slew no lesse then fye and thirtie thousand 41 men: for through the presence of God they 42 were wondrously comforted.
 43 Now when they left of, & were turning a-44 gainie with ioye, they vnderstoode that Ni-45 canor himselfe was slaine for all his ambition.
 46 The they made a great shoute & a cry, prai-
 47 sing the Almightye in their owne language.
 48 Therefore Iudas, which was euer the chief 49 defender of his citizens both in bodie and 50 mind, and w bare euer good affectiō toward 51 them of his nation, commanded to smite of 52 Nicanors head, with his hand and shoulder, 53 and to bring it to Ierusalem.
 54 And whē he came there, he called all them
 55 of his nation, and let the Priestes by the altar, 56 and sent for them of the castel.
 57 And shewed them wicked Nicanors head, 58 and the hand of that blasphemour which he 59 had holden vp against the holy Temple of 60 the Almightye with proude bragges.
 61 He cauled the tongue also of wicked Nica-
 62 nor to be cut in litle pieces, & to be cast vnto
 63 the foules, & that the rewards of his madnes
 64 shoulde be hanged vp before the Temple.
 65 So euery man praised toward the heauen 66 the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he, that 67 hath kept his place vndefiled.
 68 He hanged also Nicanors head vpon the 69 hie castel, for an euident and plaine token 70 vnto all of the helpe of God.
 71 And so they establist it all together by a 72 common decree that they would in no case
 73 suffer this day without keeping it holie.
 74 And that the feast shoulde be the thirteenth
 75 day of the twelfth moneth, which is called 76 Adar in the Syrians language, the day be-77 fore Mardocheus day.
 78 Thus farre as concerning Nicanors matters, 79 & from y time the Hebrewes had the city in 80 possession. And here wil I also make an end.
 81 If I haue done wel, & as y storie required,
 82 it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue 83 spoken slenderly & barely, it is that I could.
 84 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, &
 85 then againe water: & as wine repered w wa-86 ter is pleasant & deliteh the tast, so y setting
 87 out of the matter deliteh the eares of the y
 88 reade the storie. And here shal be the end.

THE HOLIE GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST, ACCORDING TO MATTHEWE

THE ARGVMENT.

In this historie written by Matthewe, Marke, Luke, and Iohn, the Spirit of God so governed their hearts, that although they were foure in number yet in effect and purpose they so consent, as though the whole had bene composed by any one of them. And albeit in style and manner of writing they be diuers, and sometime one writeth more largely than which the other doth abridge: neuertheless in manner and argument they all tend to one ende: which is to publish to the world the fauour of God toward mankind through Christ Iesus, whom the Father hath giuen as a pledge of his mercie and love. And for this cause they insinuate their storie, Gospel, which signififieth good tidings, forasmuch as God hath performed in deede that which the fathers hoped for. So that hereby we are admonished to forsake the world, and the vanities thereof, & with most affectioned hearts embrace this incomparable treasure freely offered vnto vs: for there is no lye nor consolation, no peace nor quietnesse, no felicitie nor saluation, but in Iesus Christ, who is the verie substance of this Gospel, and in whom all the promises are Yea, and Amen. And therefore vnder this word is concealed the whole New testament: but commonly we use this name for the historie, which the foure Euangelists write, concerning Christes coming in the flesh, his death and resurrection, which is the perfect summe of our saluation. Matthewe, Marke, and Luke are more copious in describing his life and death: but Iohn more labourereth to set forth his doctrine, wherein both Christes office, and also the vertue of his death & resurrection more fully appears: for without this, we know that Christ was borne, dead & risen againe, should nothing profite vs. The which thing notwithstanding that the three first touch partly, as he also sometime intermedleth the historickall narration, yet Iohn chiefly is occupied herein. And therefore as a most learned interpreter writeth, they describe, as it were, the body, and Iohn setteth before our eyes the soule. Wherefore the same epity termineth the Gospel written by Iohn, the key which openeth the doore to the understanding of the others: for whosoever hath know the office, vertue & power of Christ, shall reade that which is written of the Sonnes of God come to be the redeemer of the world, with most profite. Now as concerning the writers of this historie, it is euident that Matthewe was a Publicane or custome gatherer, and was thence chosen of Christ to be an Apostle. Marke is thought to haue bene Peters disciple, and so haue planned the first Church at Alexandria, where he dyed the eight yere of the reigne of Nero. Luke was a physician of Antiochia and became Pauls disciple, and followed in all his travels: he liued foure score and foure yeres, and was buried at Constantinople. Iohn was that Apostle whom the Lord loved, the Sonne of Zebedeus, and brother of James: he liued threescore yeres after Christ, and was buried nere to the cisie of Ephesus.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourtene generations. And from David vntill they were caried away into Babylon, fourtene generations: and after they were caried away into Babylon vntill Christ, fourtene generations.

18 Now the birth of Iesus Christ was thus. Whe as his mother Marie was betrothed to Ioseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Ioseph her husband being a iust man, and not willing to make her a publicke example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But whiles he thought these things, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph the sonne of Dauid, feare not to take Marie for thy wyfe: for that which is conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 And she shal bring forth a sonne, & thou shalt call his name IESVS: for he shall saue his people from their sinnes.

22 And all this was done that it might bee fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

23 Beholde, a Virgine shalbe with childe, and shall beare a sonne, and they shal call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.

24 Then Ioseph, being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lorde had inioyned him, and tooke his wife.

25 But he knew her not, till she had brought forth her first borne sonne, and he called his name IESVS.

CHAP. II.

The time and place of Christes birth. 11 The wisemen offer their presents. 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt. 16 The young children are slaine. 18 Ioseph turneth into Galile.

1 When Iesus then was borne at Beth-lehem in Iudea, in the daies of Herode the King, behold, there came wise men from the East to Ierusalem, saying, Where is the King of the Iewes that is borne? for we haue seene his starre in the East, & are come to worship him.

2 Then was that fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet Ieremias, saying, In Rama was a voice heard, mourning, & weeping, & great lamentation: Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.

3 And when Herode was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt,

4 Saying, Arise, and take the babe and his

3 When King Herode heard this, he was troubled, and all Ierusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the chiefe Priests, & Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said vnto him, At Beth-lehem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 And thou Beth-lehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the Rinces of Iuda: for out of thee shall come the gouernour that shall feede my people Israel.

7 Then Herode priuily called the Wisemen, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,

8 And sent them to Beth-lehem, saying, Go, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye haue found him, bring me worde againe, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 So when they had heard the King, they departed: and lo, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came, and stode ouer the place where the babe was.

10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioiced with an exceeding great ioye,

11 And went into the house, and found the babe with Marie his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him giftes, euen golde, and incense, and myrrhe.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should not go againe to Herode, they returned into their country, they returned into their country.

13 After their departure, behold the Angel of the Lorde appeareth to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there till I bring thee worde: For Herode will seeke the babe, to destroy him.

14 So he arose and tooke the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt.

15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, Out of Egypt haue I called my Sonne.

16 The Herode, seeing that he was mocked of the wisemen, was exceding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Beth-lehem, & in all the coasts thereof, from two yere olde & vnder, according to the time which he had diligently searched out of the wise men.

17 Then was that fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet Ieremias, saying,

18 In Rama was a voice heard, mourning, & weeping, & great lamentation: Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.

19 And when Herode was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt,

1 The office, doctrine, and life of Iohn. 7 The Pharisees are reproved. 8 The fruites of repentance. 13 Christ baptized in Iordan, 17 And authorized by God his Father.

And "in those dayes, Iohn the Baptist came and preached in the wilderness of Iudea,

2 And said, Repent: for the 'kingdome of heauen is at hand.

For this is he of whom it is spoken by the Prophet Esaias, saying, * The voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness, is, Prepare ye the waye of the Lorde: make his pathes straight.

3 * And this Iohn had his "garment of camels heare, and a girdle of a skin about his loynes: his meate was also " locustes and wilde honie.

4 * Then went out to him Ierusalem and all Iudea, and all the region round about Iordan.

5 And they were baptized of him in Iordan, " confessing their sinnes.

6 Nowe when he sawe many of the Pharisees and of the Sadduces come to his baptisme, he sayde vnto them, * O "generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to fye from the anger to come?

7 Bring forth therefore " fruite wortheie amendment of life,

8 And thinke not to saye with your selues, * We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raiſe vp children vnto Abraham.

9 And now also is the "axe put to the roote of the trees: * therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth the good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

15 Then Iesus answering, said to him, Let be now, for thus it becommeth vs to " fulfill all righteousness. So he suffered him.

16 And Iesus when he was baptized, came straight out of the water, And lo, the heauens were opened vnto him, & Iohn sawe the Spirit of God descending like a "dowe, and lighting vpon him.

Then * was Iesus led aside " of the Spirit into the wilderness, to be "tempted of the deuill.

2 And when he had fasted fourtie dayes, & fourtie nights, he was afterward hungrie.

3 Then came to him the tempter, and said, If thou be the sonne of God, * command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answering, said, It is written, * Man shall not liue by bread onely, but by euery " worde that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the deuill tooke him vp into the "holie Citie, and set him on a "pinacle of the temple,

6 And said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy self down: for it is written, * that he wil giue his Angels charge ouer thee, and with their hands they shall "lift thee vp, lest at any time thou shouldest dash thy foote against a stone.

7 Iesus said vnto him, It is written againe, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

9 And said to him, All these wil I giue thee, if thou wilt fall downe, and worship me.

10 Then said Iesus vnto him, Auoide Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worshippe the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serue.

1 And when he sawe the multitude, hee went vp into a mountaine: and when he was set, his disciples came to him.

2. And hee opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

* Blessed are the poore in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heauen.

3. That they may onely seeke it in Christ.

* Blessed are they that mourne: for they shall be comforted.

4. Which feele their owne miserie, and seeke their comfort in God.

* Blessed are the mecke: for they shall inherite the earth.

Blessed are they which hunger and thirst for righteousness: for they shall be filled.

Blessed are the mercifull: for they shall obtaine mercie.

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

Blessed are they which suffer persecutio for righteousnes sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heauen.

* Blessed are ye when men reuile you, & persecute you, and say all manner of euill against you for my sake, falsely.

Reioyce and be glad, for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

* Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt haue lost his sauour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden vnder foote of men.

Ye are the light of the worlde. A citie that is set on an hill, can not be hid.

* Neither do men light a candle, and put it vnder a bushell, but on a candellsticke, and it giuech light vnto all that are in the house.

* Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good workes, and glorifie your Father which is in heauen.

17 Think not that I am come to destroye the Law, or the Prophets. I am not come to destroye them, but to fulfill them.

* For truly I saye vnto you, Till heauen, and earth perishe, one iote, or one tittle of the Lawe shall not scape, till all things be fulfilled.

* Whosoever therefore shall breake one of these least commandments, & teache men so, hee shall be called the least in the kingdom of heauen: but whosoever shall obserue and teache them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heauen.

20 For I say vnto you, except your righteousness exceede the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharises, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heauen.

21 Ye haue heard that it was sayde vnto them of the olde time, * Thou shalt not kill: for whosoever killeth, shall be culpable of iudgement.

22 But I saye vnto you, whosoever is angrie with his brother, * madly, shall be culpable of iudgement. And whosoever saith vnto his brother, * Raca, shall be worthy to be punished by the Counsell.

And whosoever shall saye, Foole, shall be worthy to be punished with hell fire.

28 But I ſay vnto you, that whoſoever looketh on a woman to luſt after her, hath committed <sup>a</sup> adulterie with her already in his heart.

29 * Wherefore if thy right eye cauſe thee to offend, plucke it out, and caſt it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members periſh, then that thy whole body ſhould be caſt into hel.

30 Alſo if thy right hand make thee to offend, cut it of, and caſt it from thee: for better it is for thee that one of thy members periſh, then that thy whole body ſhould be caſt into hel.

31 It hath bene ſaid alſo, * Whoſoever ſhall put away his wife, let him giue her a teſtimoniall of diuorcement.

32 But I ſay vnto you, whoſoever ſhall put away his wife (except it be for fornication) cauſeth her to commit adulterie: & whoſoever ſhall marry her that is diuorced, committeth adulterie.

33 Againē, ye haue heard that it was ſaid to the of olde time, * Thou ſhalt not forſweare thy ſelfe, but ſhalt performe thine othes to the Lord.

34 But I ſay vnto you, * Swear not at all, neither by heauen, for it is the throne of God:

36 Neither ſhalt thou ſwear by thine head, becauſe thou canſt not make one haire white or blacke.

37 * But let your communication be, * Yea, yea: Nay, nay. For whatſoever is more then theſe, commeth of euill.

38 ¶ Ye haue heard that it hath bene ſaid, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I ſay vnto you, * Reſiſt not euil: but whoſoever ſhall ſmite thee on thy right cheeke, turne to him the other alſo.

40 And if any man wil ſue thee at the lawe, and take away thy coate, let him haue thy cloke alſo.

41 And whoſoever will compell thee to go a mile, go with him twaine.

42 * Giue to him that asketh, and from him that would borow of thee, turne not away.

43 Ye haue heard that it hath bene ſaide, * Thou ſhalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.

44 But I ſay vnto you, * Loue your enemies: bleſſe them that curſe you: doe good to them that hate you, * and praye for them which hurt you, and perſecute you,

45 * That ye may be the children of your Father that is in heauen: for he maketh his ſunne to ariſe on the euill, and the good, and ſendeth raine on the iuſt, and vniuſt.

26 Behold the fowles of the heauen: for they sowe not, neither reape, nor carie into the barnes: yet your heauenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?

27 Which of you by taking care, is able to add one cubite vnto his stature?

28 And why care ye for raiment? Learne, how the lilies of the field do growe: they labour not, neither spinne:

29 Yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the graspe of the fildes which is to day, and to morowe is cast into the ouen, shall he not do much more vnto you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eate? or what shall we drinke? or wherewith shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things seeke the Gentiles: for your heauenly Father knoweth that ye haue neede of all these things.)

33 But seeke ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousnes, and all these things shall be ministred vnto you.

34 Care not then for the morowe: for the morowe shal care for it: selfe: the day hath ynough with his owne griefe.

35 God wil provide for every day that that shalbe necessary, though we do not encrease the present griefe by the carefulnes how to liue in time to come.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ forbiddeth rash iudgement. 2 Not to cast holines to dogges. 3 To aske, seeke, or knocke. 4 The scope of the Scriptures. 5 The straight and wide gate. 6 Of false prophets. 7 The good tree and euill. 8 False miracles. 9 The house on the rocke, or vpon the sand.

1 Iudge not, that ye be not iudged.

2 For with what iudgement ye iudge, ye shalbe iudged, and with what measure ye mete, it shalbe measured to you againe.

3 And why seekest thou the mote, that is in thy brothers eye, and perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

4 * Or howe sayest thou to thy brother, Suffer me to cast out the mote out of thine eye, and behold a beame is in thine owne eye?

5 Hypocrite, first cast out the beame out of thine owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 * Giue yee not that which is holie, to dogges, neither cast ye your pearles before swyne, leaste they treade them vnder their feete, and turning againe, all to rent you.

7 * Aske, and it shalbe giuen you: seeke, and ye shal finde: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

8 For whosoener asketh, receiuethe: and he that seeketh, findeth: & to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

9 For what man is there among you, which if his sonne aske him bread, woulde giue him a stone?

10 Or if he aske a fish, will he giue him a serpent?

11 If ye then, which are euill, can giue to your children good, giftes, howe much more shall your Father which is in heauen, giue good thinges to them that aske him?

12 * Therefore whatsoever ye would that men should doe to you, euen so doe ye to them: for this is the Lawe and the Prophets.

13 * Enter in at the strait gate: for it is the wide gate, and broad way that lea- deth to destruction: and many there bee which go in therat.

14 Because the gate is strait, and the waye narrow will.

25 Then his disciples came, and awoke him, saying, Master, saue vs: we perishe.

26 And he said vnto the, Why are ye feareful, O ye of litle faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the windes & the sea: & so there was a great calme.

27 And the men marueiled, saying, What man is this that both the windes and the sea obey him!

Mar. 3. 1. Luk. 9. 26.

¶ And when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, which came out of the graues very fierce, so that no man might go by that way.

29 And beholde, they cryed out, saying, Iesus the Sonne of God, what haue we to do with thee? Art thou come hither to torment vs before the time?

30 Now there was a farrre off from the, a great heard of swine feeding.

31 And the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to goe into the heard of swyne.

32 And he sayde vnto the, Go. so they went out, and departed into the heard of swine: and beholde, the whole hearde of swine was caried with violence from a steepe downe place into the sea, and died in the water.

33 Then the heardmen fled: and when they were come into the citie, they tolde all thinges, & what was become of them that were possessed with the devils.

34 And beholde, all the citie came out, to meete Iesus: and when they sawe him, they besought him to depart out of their coastes.

CHAP. IX.

¶ He healeth the palsey, & forgiveth sinnes. ¶ He calleth and visiteth Matthewe. ¶ He saith vnto the Pharisees and Iohannis disciples. ¶ Of the rapt cloth and new wine. ¶ He healeth the woman of the bleeding issue. ¶ He raiseth Iairus daughter. ¶ He maketh a damme man to speake. ¶ Preacheth and healeth in divers places. ¶ And exhorteth to preys for the advancement of the Gospell.

Then he entred into a ship, & passed ouer, and came into his owne cite.

¶ And loe, they brought to him a man sicke of the palsey, lying on a bed. And Iesus seeing their faith, said to the sicke of the palsey, Sonne, be of good comfort: thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

¶ And beholde, certaine of the Scribes said with themselves, This man blasphemeth.

¶ But when Iesus sawe their thoughtes, he said, Wherefore thinke ye evil thinges in your heartes?

¶ For whether is it easier to saye, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to saye, Arise, & walke?

¶ Christ speaketh according to their capacite: for they more esteemed outward miracles, then the vertue and power of Iesus Christ, whereby their sinnes might be forgiven.

And that ye may knowe that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgive sinnes, (then said he vnto the sicke of the palsey,) Arise, take vp thy bed, and goe to thine house.

¶ And he arose, and departed to his owne house.

¶ So when the multitude saw it, they marueyled, and glorified God, which had giuen such authoritie to men.

¶ And as Iesus passed forth from thence, he sawe a man sitting at the receite of custome named Matthewe, and saide to him, Followe me. And hee arose, and followed him.

¶ And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at meat in his house, behold, many Publicanes and sinners; that came thither, sate down at the table with Iesus and his disciples.

¶ And when the Pharisees sawe that, they saide to his disciples, Why eateth your master with Publicanes and sinners?

¶ Now when Iesus heard it, he said vnto them, The whole neede not a physician, but they that are sicke.

¶ But go ye and learne what this is, I will haue mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to cal the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

¶ Then came the disciples of Iohn to him, saying, Why doe we and the Pharisees fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

¶ And Iesus said vnto them, Can the children of the mariage chamber mourne as long as the bridegrome is with them? But the dayes wil come when the bridegome shalbe takē from them; and then shal they fast.

¶ Moreover no man pieceth an old garment with a peece of newe cloth: for that that shoulde fill it vp, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

¶ Neither do they put new wine into old vessels: for then the vessels would breake, and the wine would be spilt, and the vessels should perish: but they put new wine into new vessels, and so are both preserved.

¶ While he thus spake vnto them, behold there came a certaine ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is now deceased, but come and lay thine hand on her, and she shal lue.

¶ And Iesus arose and followed him with his disciples.

¶ And behold a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeres, came behind him, & touched the hemme of his garment.

¶ For she said in herself, If I may touche but his garment onely, I shalbe whole.

¶ Then Iesus turned him about, and seeing her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that houre.

¶ Now when Iesus came into the rulers house, and sawe the minstrels and the multitude making noise,

¶ He said vnto them, Get you hence: for the 27 And as Iesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, O sonne of David, haue mercie vpon vs.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blinde came to him, and Iesus said vnto them, " Belceue ye that I am able to do this? And they said vnto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Iesus charged them, saying, See that no man knowe it.

31 But when they were departed, they spred abroad his fame throughout al that land.

32 ¶ And as they went out, beholde, they brought to him a dōme man possessed with a deuill.

33 And when the deuill was cast out, the domme spake: then the multitude marvelled, saying, The like was neuer scene in Israel.

34 But the Pharises said, * He * casteth out deuils, through the prince of deuils.

CHAP. XII.

Christ excoth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne. 10 He healeth the dried hand, 22 Helpeh the peffsed that was blinde and domme. 31 Blasphemie.
32 The Generation of snipers. 33 Of good wordes. 36
Of idle wordes. 38 He rebuketh the vnfaulfull that would needs haue tokens. 49 And sheweth who is his brother, sister and mother.

AT that time Iesus went on a Sabbath day through the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and began to plucke the eares of corne and to eate.

And when the Pharises saw it, they saide vnto him, Beholde, thy disciples doe that which is not lawfull to doe vpon the Sabbath.

3 But he said vnto them, * Haue yee not read what Dauid did when he was an hū-gred, and they that were with him?

How he entred into the house of God, & ate the shew bread, which was not law-full for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but onely for the * Priests?

Or haue yee not read in the law how that on the Sabbath dayes the Priestes in the Temple * breake the Sabbath, and are blameles?

6 But I say vnto you, that here is one greater then the Temple.

7 Wherefore if ye knew what this is, * I will haue mercie, & not sacrifice, ye would not haue condemned the innocents.

8 For the Sonne of man is * Lorde, euen of the Sabbath.

9 And he departed thence, and went into their Synagogue;

10 And behold, there was a man which had his hand dried vp. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawfull to heale vpon a Sabbath day: that they might accuse him.

11 And he said vnto them, What man shall there bee among you, that shall haue a sheepe, and if it fall on a Sabbath day into a pit, will not he take it, and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better then a sheepe? therefore, it is lawfull to do we Hon a Sabbath day.

13 Then said he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth, and it was made whole as the other.

14 Then the Pharises went out, and considered against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knewe it, he departed thence, and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowne,

17 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying,

18 * Beholde my seruant, whome I haue chofen, my beloued, in whome my soule delighteth: I will put my spirit on him, and he shall shew iudgement to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not strue, nor crie, neither shall any man heare his voyce in the streetes.

20 A bruised reede shall he not breake, and smoking flaxe shall he not quenche, till he bring forth iudgement vnto victo-rie.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 * Then was brought to him one, possessed with a deuill, both blinde, & domme, and he healed him, so that hee which was blinde and domme, both spake and sawe.

23 And all the people were amased, & said,
Is not this the sonne of Dauid?

24 But when the Pharises heard it, they said,
* This man casteth the deuils no otherwise out, but through Beelzebub the prince of deuils.

25 But Iesus knewe their thoughtes, and said to them, Euery kingdome deuied against it selfe, shalbe brought to nought:
and euery citie or house, deuied against it selfe, shall not stand.

26 So if Satan cast out Satan, he is deuied against him selfe: how shall then his kingdome endure?

27 Also if I through Beelzebub cast out deu-ils, by whome doe your children cast them out? Therefore they shalbe your iudges.

28 But if I cast out deuils by the Spirit of God, then is the kingdome of God come vnto you.

29 Els how can a man enter into a strong mans house and spoile his goods, except he first binde the strong man, and then spoyle his house?

30 He that is not with me, is against me:
and he that gathereth net with me, scat-tereth.

31 * Wherefore I say vnto you, euery sinne & blasphemie shalbe forgiven vnto men:
but the blasphemie against the holy Ghost shall not be forgiven vnto men.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: or els make the tree euill, and his fruit euill: for the tree is known by the fruit.

34 O generations of vipers, how can you speake good things, when ye are euill: For of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth good things: and an euill man out of an euill treasure, bringeth forth euill things.

36 But I saye vnto you, that of euery idle

a count thereof at the day of iudgement.

37 For by thy wordes thou shalt be iustifi-

38 ¶ Then answered certein of the Scribes and of the Pharises, saying, Master, we would see a signe of thee.

39 But he answered, and said to them, An euill and adulterous generation seeketh a signe, but no signe shalbe giuen vnto it, saue the signe of the Prophet Ionas.

40 ¶ For as Ionas was three dayes, and three nights in the whales bellie: so shall the Sonne of man be three dayes and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Nineue shall rise in iudge-ment with this generation, & condemne it:
for they repented at the preaching of Jonas: and behold, a greater then Ionas is here.

42 ¶ The Queene of the South shall rise in iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for she came from the vt-

43 ¶ Now when the vncleane spirit is gone

44 Then he saith, I will returne into mine is come, he findeth it emptie, swept and garnished.

45 ¶ Then he goeth, and taketh vnto him seuen other spirits worse then him selfe, and they enter in, and dwell there: * and the end of that man is worse then the beginning. Euen so shall it be with this wicked

46 ¶ While he yet spake to the multitude, beholde, his mother, and his brethren stood without, desiring to speake w him.

47 Then one said vnto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speake with thee.

48 But hee answered, and said to him that tolde him, Who is my mother? and who ther and my brethren.

CHAP. XIII.

The state of the kingdoms of God set forth by the parable of the seeds. 24 Of the tares. 31 Of the mustard seeds. 33 Of the leaven. 44 Of the treasure hid in the field. 45 Of the pearles, 47 And of the net. 57 The Prophet is contemned in his owne country.

1 The same daye went Iesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

2 And great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, and sate downe: and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, a sower went forth to sow.

4 And as he sowed, some fell by the wayes side, and the fowles came and deuoured them vp.

5 And some fell vpon stony ground, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprong vp, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sunne rose vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting, withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.

8 Some againe fell in good grounde, and brought forth fruit, one came an hundred fold, some sixtie folde, & another thirtie folde.

9 He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and saide to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 And he answered and saide vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you, to knowe the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

12 ¶ For whosoever hath, to him shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shalbe taken away, euen that he hath.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see: and hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

14 So in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Esaia, which prophesie saith, * By hearing, ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, & by seeing, ye shall see, and shall not perceiue.

15 ¶ For this peoples heart is waxed fatte, and their eares are dull of hearing, & with their eyes they haue winked, lest they should see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and shoulde vnderstand with their heartes, and should returne, that I might heale them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see:
and your eares, for they heare.

17 ¶ For verely I say vnto you, that many Prophets, and righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, and the seede sown.

haue not seen the, & to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

18 ¶ Heare ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 Whensoever a man heareth the worde of the kingdom, and vnderstandeth it not, the euil one commeth, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: and this is he which hath receiued the seede by the way side.

20 And he that receiued seede in the stonie ground, is he which heareth the word, & incontinently with ioy receiueith it.

21 Yet hath he no roote in him selfe, & dureth but a season: for as sone as tribulation or persecution commeth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 And he that receiueith the seede among thornes, is he that heareth the word: but the care of this worlde, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the worde, and he is made vnfruitfull.

23 But he that receiueith the seede in the good ground, is he that heareth the word and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some sixtie fold, and some thirtie fold.

24 ¶ An other parable put hee forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seede in his field.

25 ¶ But while men slept, there came his enemy, and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprong vp, and brought forth fruite, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the seruantes of the householder, and said vnto him, Master, sowedst not thou good seede in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said to them, The eniuous man hath done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them vp?

29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, ye plucke vp also with them the wheate.

30 ¶ Let both growe together vntil the haruest, and in time of haruest I will saye to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and bind them in sheaves to burne them: but gather the wheate into my barn.

31 ¶ An other parable he put forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seede, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

32 Which in deede is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tree, so that the birdes of heauen come and build in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another parable spake he to them, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman taketh and hideth in three pecks of meale, til all be leauened.

34 ¶ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not to them,

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, * I will open my mouth in <sup>m</sup> parables, and will vter the things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, and wet into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

37 Then answered he, and said to them, He that soweth the good seede, is the Sonne of man,

38 And the field is the world, and the good seede, they are <sup>y</sup> childre of the kingdom, & the tares are the childre of the wicked,

39 And the enemy that soweth them, is the deuill, * and the haruest is the end of the world, and the reapers be the Angels.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this worlde.

41 The Sonne of man shall sende forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that <sup>o</sup> offend, and them which do iniquitie, 42 And shal cast them into a furnace of fire. There shalbe wayling and gnashing of teeth.

43 ¶ Then shall the iust men shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their Father. He <sup>y</sup> hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 ¶ Again the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which while a man hath found, he hideth it, & for ioy thereof departeth and selleth all that he hath, and bieth that field.

45 ¶ Again the kingdom of heauen is like to a merchantman that seeketh good pearles, 46 Who hauing founde a pearle of greate price, went and solde all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶ Again the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a drawe net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kindes of <sup>f</sup>ishings.

48 Which, when it is full, men draw to land, and sit & gather the good into vessels, and cast the <sup>b</sup>ad away.

49 So shall it be at the ende of the worlde. The Angels shall go forth, and seuer the bad from among the iust,

50 And shal cast them into a furnace of fire: there shalbe wayling, and gnashing of teeth.

51 ¶ Iesus said vnto them, Vnderstand ye all these things? They saide vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he vnto them, Therefore euerie scribe which is taught vnto the kingdom of heauen, is like vnto an housholder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both new and olde:

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these parables, hee departed thence,

54 ¶ And came into his owne countrey, & taught them in their Synagogue, so that they

1 AT* that time Herode the Tetrarche heard of the fame of Iesus,

2 And said vnto his seruants, This is Iohn Baptist: * he is risen again from the dead, and therefore great workes are wrought by him.

3 * For Herode had taken Iohn, & bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For Iohn said vnto him, It is not * lawfull for thee to haue her.

5 And whē he would haue put him to death he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a * Prophet.

6 But when Herodes birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herode.

14 And Iesus went forth and sawe a great multitude, and was moued with compassion toward them, and he healed their sicke.

15 ¶ And when euen was come, * his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, & the houre is already past: let the multitude depart, that they may go into the townes, and bye them vitalles.

16 But Iesus sayde to them, They haue no neede to go away: giue ye them to eat.

17 Then said they vnto him, We haue here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, and tooke the five loaves and the two fishes, & looked vp to heauen and * blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eate, and were sufficed, and they rooke vp of the fragmentes that remained, twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about fife thousand men, beside women and litle children.

22 ¶ And straight way Iesus * compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to go ouer before him, whyle he sent the multitude away.

23 And as sone as he had sent the multitude away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: * and whē the euening was come, he was there alone.

24 And the ship was now in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrarie wynde.

28 Then Peter answered him, and said, Master, if it be thou, * byd me come vnto thee on the water.

30 But when he sawe a mighty winde, hee was afraid: and as he * began to sinke, he cryed, saying, Master, saue me.

31 So immediatly Iesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, & said to him, * thou of litle faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?

C H A P. XV.

Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes, and Pharisees, for transgressing Gods commandment by their own traditions. 13 The plant that shall be rooted out. 18 What things defile a man. 21 He delivereth the woman of Canaan's daughter. 26 The bread of the children. 30 He healeth the sick, 36 And feedeth foure thousand men, beside women and children.

1 Then came to Iesus the Scribes and Pharisees, which were of Ierusalem, saying,

2 Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the Elders? for they wash not their handes when they eate bread.

3 But he answered and said vnto the, Why do ye also transgresse the commandement of God by your tradition?

4 For God hath commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and he that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye saye, whosoever shall say to father or mother, By the gift that is offered by me, thou mayest haue profite,

6 Though he honour not his father, or his mother, shall be free: thus haue ye made the commandement of God of no authoritie by your tradition.

7 O hypocrites, Esaias prophesied well of you, saying,

8 This people draweth nere vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with the lippes, but their heart is farre off from me.

9 But in vaine they worship me, teaching for doctrines, manes precepts.

10 The he called the multitude vnto him, and said to them, Heare and vnderstand.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, but that which cometh out of the mouth, that defileth the man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said vnto him, Perceiuest thou not, that the Pharisees are offended in hearing this saying?

13 But he answered & said, Every plant which mine heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted vp.

14 Let them alone: they be the blinde leaders of the blinde: and if the blinde leade the blinde, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 Then answered Peter, & said to him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Then said Iesus, Are ye yet without vnderstanding?

17 Perceiue ye not yet, that whatsoever entreth into the mouth, goeth into the bellie, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which procede out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the hearre come euill thoughtes, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, flanders.

20 These are the things, which defile the man: but to eat with vnwashed hands, defileth not the man.

21 And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coastes of Tyrus and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman a Cananite came out of the same coastes, and cryed, saying vnto him, Haue mercy on me, O Lord, the Sonne of Dauid: my daughter is miserable vexed with a deuill.

23 But he answered her not a worde. Then came to him his disciples, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she cyeeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent, but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

25 Yet she came, & worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

26 And he answered, and said, It is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to whelpes.

27 But she said, Trueth, Lord: yet in deepe the whelpes eate of the crommes, which fall from the masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that houre.

29 So Iesus went away from thence, and came nere vnto the sea of Galilee, & went vp into a mountaine and sat downe there.

30 And great multitudes came vnto him, hauing with them, halt, blinde, domme, maymed, and many other, and cast them down at Iesus feete, and he healed them,

31 In so much that the multitude wondred, to see the domme speake, the maymed whole, the halt to go, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 The Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and said, I haue compassion on this multitude, because they haue continued with me already three dayes, & haue nothing to eate: and I will not let them depart fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples said vnto him, Whence should we get so much bread in the wilderness, as should suffice so great a multitude?

34 And Iesus said vnto them, Howe many loaves haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a fewe litle fishes.

35 Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grounde,

36 And tooke the seuen loaves, and the fishes, and gaue thanks, and brake them, & gaue to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eate, & were sufficed: & they tooke vp of the fragmets that remained, seuen baskets full.

38 And they that had eaten, were foure thousand men, beside women and litle children.

39 Then Iesus sent away the multitude, and tooke ship, and came into the partes of Magdala.

1 Then came the Pharises and Sadduces, and did tempt him, desiring him to shewe them a signe from heauen.
2 But hee answered, and sayde vnto them, When it is euening, ye say, Faire wether: for the skye is red.
And in the morning ye say, To day shalbe a tempest: for the skie is red and lowring. O hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the skie, & can ye not discern the signes of the times?
3 The wicked generatio, and adulterous seeketh a signe, and there shal no signe be giuen it, but the signe of the Prophet Ionas: so he left them, and departed.
4 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread with them.
5 Then Iesus said vnto them, Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharises and Sadduces.
6 And they thought in the selues, saying, It is because we haue brought no bread.
7 But Iesus knowing it, said vnto them, O ye of little faith, why thinke you thus in your selues, because ye haue brought no bread?
8 Do ye not yet perceiue, neither remember the siue loaves, when there were siue thousand men, and howe many baskets tooke ye vp?
9 Neither the seuen loaves when there were foure thousand men, and how many baskets tooke ye vp?
10 Why perceiue ye not, that I said not vnto you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leauen of the Pharises and Sadduces?
11 Then vnderstoode they that he had not said, that they should beware of the leaue of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharises, and Sadduces.
12 Now when Iesus came into the coastes of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I, the Sone of man am?
13 And they said, Some say, Iohn Baptist: & some, Elias: & others, Ieremias, or one of the Prophetes.
14 He saide vnto them, But whome saye ye that I am?
15 Then Simon Peter answered, and said, Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.
16 And Iesus answered, and saide to him, Blessed art thou, Simon, the sonne of Ionas: for flesh & blood hath not reuieled it vnto thee, but my Father which is in heaue.
17 And I saye also vnto thee, that thou art Peter, and vpon this rocke I will builde my Church: and the gates of hell shal not ouercome it.

18 And I wil giue vnto thee the keyes of the kingdome of heauen, and whatsoever thou shalt binde vpon earth, shalbe bound in heauen: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shalbe loosed in heauen.
19 Then he charged his disciples, that they should tel no man that he was Iesus the Christ.
20 From that time forth Iesus began to shewe vnto his disciples, that he must go vnto Ierusalem, and suffer many things of the Elders, & of y<sup>e</sup> hie Priests, & Scribes, and bee slayne, and rise againe the third daye.
21 Then Peter tooke him aside, & began to rebuke him, saying, Master, pittie thy selfe: this shal not be vnto thee.
22 Then he turned backe, and said vnto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence vnto me, because thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.
23 Iesus then said to his disciples, If any man will followe me, let him forsake him selfe, and take vp his crosse, and followe me.
24 For whosoever will saue his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, shall finde it.
25 For what shall it profite a man, though he should winne the whole worlde, if hee lose his owne soule? or what shall a man giue for recompence of his soule?
26 For the Sonne of man shall come in the glorie of his Father with his Angels, and then shall he giue to euerie man according to his deedes.
27 Verely I say vnto you, there bee some of them that stande here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the Sonne of man come in his kingdome.

Plalm. 62. 12. rom. 8. 3. Mar. 9. 1. Iosias. 6. 9. q This was fulfilled in his resurrection which was an entrie into his kingdome, & was also confirmed by sending the holy Ghost, whereby he wrought so great and sundrie miracles.

3 And beholde, there appeared vnto the Moses, and Elias, talking with him.

¶ Why he yet spake, beholde, a bright cloude shadowed them: and behold, there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying,

* This is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased: * heare him.

¶ And when the disciples heard that, they fel on their faces, and were fore afiaied.

¶ Then Iesus came and rouched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraied.

¶ And when they lifted vp their eies, they saw no man, saue Iesus onely.

¶ And as they came downe fro the mountaine, Iesus charged them, saying, Shewe the vision to no man, vntill the Sonne of man rise againe from the dead.

¶ And his disciples, asked him, saying, Why the say the Scribes that * Elias must first come?

¶ And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Certainly Elias must first come, & restore all things.

¶ But I saye vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they woulde: likewise shal also the Sonne of man suffer of them.

¶ Then the disciples perceiued that hee spake vnto them of Iohn Baptift.

¶ * And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certaine man, and kneeled downe to him,

¶ And said, Master, haue pitie on my sonne: for he is lunaticke, and is fore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fyre, & oft times into the water.

¶ And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heale him.

¶ Then Iesus answered, & said, O generation faithles, and crooked, how long nowe shall I be with you? how long nowe shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

¶ And Iesus rebuked the deuill, and he wet out of him: and the childe was healed at that houre.

¶ Then came the disciples to Iesus apart, & said, Why could not we cast him out?

¶ And Iesus said vnto the, Because of your vnbeliefe: for * verely I say vnto you, if ye haue Faith as much as is a graine of mustard seede, ye shall saye vnto this mountaine, Remoue hence to yonder place, & it shall remoue: and nothing shall be vnpossible vnto you.

¶ Howbeit this kinde goeth not out, but by * prayer and fasting.

¶ And as they * abode in Galile, Iesus said vnto them, The Sonne of man shal be deliuered into the hands of men,

¶ And they shall kill him, but the third day shall he rise againe: and they were very fory.

¶ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued polle money, came to Peter, and sayd, Doeth not your Master pay tribute?

¶ He said, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Iesus preuented him, saying, What thinkest thou Simon? Of whome do the Kings of the earth take tribute, or polle money? of theiyr chyl dren, or of strangers?

¶ Peter said vnto him, Of strangers. Then said Iesus vnto him; Then are the childe free.

¶ Neuertheles, lest wee should * offende them, go to the sea, and cast in an angle, and take the first fishe that commeth vp, and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a * peece of twenty pence: that take, and giue it vnto them for mee and thee.

¶ And if thine eye cause thee to offende, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.

13 ¶ Then were brought to him litle children, that hee shoulde put his handes on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Iesus said, Suffer the litle children, and forbid them not to come to me: for of such is the kingdome of heauen.

15 And when he had put his hands on the, he departed thence.

16 ¶ And behold one came, and said vnto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may haue eternall life?

17 And he said vnto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, euen God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keepe the commandements.

18 He said to him, Which? And Iesus saide, These, Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witnesse.

19 Honour thy father and mother: and thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

20 ¶ The young man saide vnto him, I haue obserued al these things from my youth: what lacke I yet?

21 Iesus said vnto him, If thou wilt bee perfect, go, sel that thou hast, and giue it to the poore, & thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and follow me.

22 And when the yongman heard that saying, he went away forrowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 Then Iesus saide vnto his disciples, Verely I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I saye vnto you, It is easier for a camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 And when his disciples hearde it, they were exceedingly amased, saying, Who then can be saued?

26 And Iesus beheld them, and said vnto them, With men this is vnpossible, but with God * all things are possible.

27 ¶ Then answered Peter, and saide to him, Behold, we haue forsaken all, & followed thee: what shall we haue?

28 And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I saye to you, that when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his maiestie, yee which followed me in the regeneration, shall sit also vpon twelue thrones, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

29 And whosoever shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Names sake, he shall receiue an hundredfold more, and shall inherite euerlasting life.

1 For the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine hougholder, which went out at the dawning of the day to hire labourers into his vineyarde.

2 And he agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, & sent the into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third houre, and saw other standing idle in the market place,

4 And said vnto them, Go ye also into my vineyarde, and whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you: and they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, and did likewise.

6 And he went about the eleuenth houre, and found other standing idle, and sayd vnto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They said vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He said to them, Go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.

8 ¶ And when euen was come, the Master of the vineyarde said vnto his steward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

9 And they which were hired about the eleuenth houre, came and receiued euery man a penny.

10 Now when the first came, they supposed that they should receiue more, but they likewise receiued euery man a penny.

11 And whe they had receiued it, they murmured against the master of the house,

12 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equall vnto vs, which haue borne the burden, & heate of the day.

13 And he answered one of them, saying, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didest thou not agree with me for a pennie?

14 Take that which is thine owne, and goe thy way: I wil giue vnto this last, as much as to thee.

15 Is it not lawfull for mee to doe as I will with mine owne? Is thine eye euill because I am good?

16 ¶ So the last shalbe first, and the firste last: for many are called, but few chose.

17 ¶ And Iesus went vp to Ierusalem, and tooke the twelue disciples aparte in the way, and said vnto them,

30 And benolde, two blinde men, sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, cryed saying, O Lorde, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on vs.

31 And the multitude rebuked the, because they should holde their peace: but they cryed the more, saying, O Lord, the Sone of Dauid, haue mercy on vs.

32 Then Iesus stoode still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do to you?

33 They said to him, Lorde, that our eyes

34 And Iesus moued with compassion touched their eyes, & immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

9 Christ rideth into Ierusalem on an ass. 13 The buyers & sellers are chased out of the Temple. 15 The children with prophesie vnto Christ. 17 The figgetree withereth. 21 Faith requisite in prayer. 25 Iohn baptisme. 28 The two sonnes. 33 The parable of the husbandmen. 42 The corner stone reiected. 43 The Iewes reiected and the Gentiles received.

ANd * when they drew nere to Ieru-salem, & were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of the Oliues, then sent Iesus two disciples, 2 Saying to them, Go into the towne that is ouer against you, and anon ye shal find an asse bound, and a colte with her: loose them, and bring them vnto me.

3 And if any man say ought vnto you, say ye, that the Lorde hath neede of them,& straight way he will let them go.

4 All this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoke by the Prophet, saying,

5 ¶ * Telye the <sup>b</sup>daughter of Siō, Behold, thy King commeth vnto thee, meeke and sitting vpon an asse, and a <sup>c</sup>colt, the sole of an asse vied to the yoke.

6 So the disciples went, and did as Iesus had commanded them,

7 And brought the asse and the colt, & put on them their clothes, & set him thereon, 8 And a great multitude spread their garments in the way: and other cut downe branches from the trees, & strawed them in the way.

9 Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that followed, cryed, saying,
"Hosanna the Sonne of Dauid: blessed

10 * And when he was come into Ierusalé, all the citie was moued, saying, Who is this?

11 And the people said, This is Iesus the Prophet of Nazaret in Galile.

12 ¶ And Iesus went into the Tēple of God, and cast out al them that solde & bought in the Temple, and cuerthrewe the tables of the money changērs, & the seates of them that solde doves,

13 And said to them, It is written, * Myne house shall be called the house of prayer:
but * ye haue made it a den of theeues.

14 Then *the blind, & the halt came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.

But when the chief Priests and Scribes saw the marueils that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, & saying, Hosanna the Sone of David, they disdeined, 16 And saide vnto him, Hearst thou what these say? And Iesus said vnto them, Yea: read ye neuer, * By the<sup>i</sup> mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast<sup>k</sup> made perfir the praise?

17 ¶ So he left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethania, and lodged there.

18 And*in the morning as he returned into the citie, he was hungrie,

19 And seeing a fig tree in the way, he came to it, & found nothing thereon, but leaues onely, and sayd to it, Neuer fruite growe on thee hence forwardes. And anon the figge tree withered.

20 And when his disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, Howe soone is the fig tree withered!

* Verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith, & doubt not, ye shall not onely do that, which

I have done to the fig tree, but also if ye say vnto this mountaine, Take thy self away, I & cast thy self into the sea, it shalbe done.

23 ¶ And when hee was come into the Temple, the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people came vnto him, as he was teaching, & said, By what authoritie doest thou these things? & who gaue thee this authoritie.

24 Then Iesus answered and said vnto the, I also will aske of you a certaine thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authoritie I do these things.

25 The baptisme of Iohn whence was it? fro heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among them selues, saying, If we shal say from heauen, he wil say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleue him?

26 And if we say, Of men, wee feare the people: for all hold Iohn as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 ¶ But what thinke ye? A certain man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, & said, Sonne, goe and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 But he answered, and said, I wil not: yet afterwarde he repented him selfe, and went.

30 Then came he to the second, & said likewise. And he answered, & said, I will, syr: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of the father? They said vnto him, The first. Iesus said vnto them, Verely I saye vnto you, that the Publicanes & the harlots shall goe before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For Iohn came vnto you in the way of righteousnes, & ye beleueed him not: but the Publicanes, and the harlots beleueed him, & ye, though ye saw it, were not moued with repentance afterward, that ye might beleue him.

33 ¶ Heare another parable, There was a certaine houlholder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and made a winepresse therein, & built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, & went into a strange country.

34 And when the time of the fruite drewe nere, he sent his seruants to the husband men to receiue the frutes thereof.

35 And the husbandmen tooke his seruants and beat one, and killed another, & stoned another.

36 Again he sent other seruants, mo then the first: and they did the like vnto them.

37 But last of al he sent vnto them his own sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38 But when the husband men sawe the sonne, they said amog them selues, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and let vs take his inheritance.

39 So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When therefore the Lorde of the vineyard shal come, what wil he do to those husbandmen?

41 They said vnto him, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall deliuer him the frutes in their seasons.

42 Iesus said vnto them, Read ye neuer in the Scriptures, The stone which builders refused, the same is made the head of the corner? This was the Lords doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdome of God shalbe taken from you, and shalbe giuen to a nation, which shal bring forth the frutes thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone, he shalbe broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief Priestes & Pharises had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.

46 And they seeking to lay handes on him, feared the people, because they toke him as a Prophet.

CHAP. XXII.

The parable of the marriage. 9 The vocation of the Gentiles. 11 The marriage garments. 17 Of paying of tribute. 25 Of the resurrection. 26 The Scribes question. 44 Christs dominion.

Then Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

1 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine King which married his sonne,

2 And sent forth his seruants, to cal them that were bid to the wedding, but they would not come.

3 Again he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen & my fatlings are killed, and al thinges are readie: come vnto the marriage.

4 But they made light of it, and went their waies, one to his ferme, & another about his marchandise.

5 And the remnant tooke his seruants, & intreated them sharply, and slew them.

6 But when the King heard it, he was wroth, and sent forth his warriers, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their cite.

7 Then said he to his seruants, Truly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

8 Goe ye therefore out into the hie waies, and as many as ye finde, bid them to the marriage.

9 So those seruants went out into the hie wayes and gathered together al that euer they found, both good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

10 Then the king came in, to see the ghestes, and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

11 And he said vnto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, & hast not on a wedding

14 * Fo: many are called, but fewe chosen.
15 ¶ Then went the Pharises & toke couell how they might tangle him in talke.
16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the <sup>b</sup> Herodians, saying, Master, wee know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truly, neither carest for any man: for thou considerest not the <sup>c</sup> person of men.

17 Tell vs therefore, howe thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

18 But Iesus perceiued their wickednes, & said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? 19 Shew me the <sup>d</sup> tribute money. And they brought him a <sup>e</sup> peny.

20 And he said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?
21 They said vnto him, Cefars. Then said he vnto them, * Giue therefore to Cesar, the <sup>f</sup> things which are Cefars, & giue vnto God, those <sup>g</sup> things which are Gods.

22 And when they heard it, they maruelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ The same day the Sadduces came to him (which say that there is no resurrection) and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, * Moses saide, If a man die, hauing no <sup>h</sup> children, let his brother <sup>i</sup> marrie his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Now there were with vs seuen brethren, and the first married a wife, and deceased: and hauing no yssue, left his wife vnto his brother.

26 Likewise also the second, and the third, vnto the seueneth.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shal she be of the seuen? for all had her.

29 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto the, Ye are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrectiō they neither marry wiues, nor wiues are bestowed in marriage, but are as the <sup>j</sup> Angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spokē vnto you of God, saying,

32 * I am the God of Abraham, & the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of <sup>k</sup> liuing.

33 And whē the people heard it, they were astonied at his doctrine.

34 ¶ But when the Pharises had heard, that he had put the Sadduces to silence, they assembled together.

35 And one of them, which was an expounder of the Lawe, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandement in the Law?

37 Iesus said to him, * Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with al thine heart, with al thy soule, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and the great commandement.

39 And the seconde is like vnto this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

40 On these two commandements hangeth the whole Law, and the Prophets.

41 ¶ While the Pharises were gathered together, Iesus asked them,

42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ? whose sonne is he? They said vnto him, Dauids.

43 He said vnto them, Howe then doeth David in <sup>l</sup> spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 * The Lord said to my Lord, Sitte at my right hande, till I make thine enemies thy footestool?

45 If then David call him <sup>m</sup> Lord, how is he his sonne?

46 And none could answer him a worde, neither durst any from that day forth ask him any more questions.

making him his lieutenant and gouernour over his Church. Not that his kingdom shal then end: but the office of his humane life cease, and he with the Father & holy Ghost shall rege for ever as one God all in all. ¶ Christ is Dauids sonne touching his manhood, and his Lord, concerning his Godhead.

2 Saying, The <sup>n</sup> Scribes and the Pharises <sup>o</sup> sit in Moses seat.

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that <sup>p</sup> obserue and doe: but after their workes do not: for they say, and doe not.

4 * For they bind heauy burdens, & grievous to be borne, and lay them on mens shoulders, but they them selues will not moue them with <sup>q</sup> one of their fingers.

the Sonne of man in heauen: & then shall al the kindreds of the earth mourne, and they shall see the Sonne of man come in the cloudes of heauen with power and great glory.

31 * And he shall sende his Angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect, from the foure windes, and from the one end of the heauen vnto the other.

32 Now learne the parable of the fig tree: whē her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaues, ye knowe that sommer is nere.

33 So likewise ye, whē ye see al these things, know that the kingdome of God is nere, euen at the dores.

34 Verely I say vnto you, this generation shall not passe, til al these things be done.

35 * Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my wordes shall not passe away.

36 But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no not the Angels of heauen, but my Father onely.

37 But as the dayes of Noe were, so likewise shall the coming of the Sonne of mā be.

38 * For as in the daies before the flood, they dyd eate and drinke, marry, and giue in marriage, vnto the day that Noe entred into the Arke, 39 And knewe nothing, till the flood came, and tooke them all away: so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man.

40 * ¶ Then two men shall be in the felde, the one shall be receiued, & the other shall be refused.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be receiued, & the other shall be refused.

42 * Wake therefore: for ye know not what houre your master wil come.

43 Of * this be sure, that if the good man of the house knewe at what watch the thief would come, he would surely watch, and not suffer his house to be digged through.

44 Therefore be ye also readie: for in the houre that ye thinke not, will the Sonne of man come.

45 * Who then is a faithfull seruant and wife, whome his master hath made ruler ouer his householde, to giue them meate in season?

46 Blessed is that seruant whom his master, when he commeth, shall find so doing.

47 Verely I say vnto you, he shall make him ruler ouer all his goods.

48 But if that euill seruant shall saye in his heart, My master doeth deferre his coming,

49 And begin to smite his felowes, and to eat, and to drinke with the drunken,

50 That seruants master wil come in a day, when he looketh not for him, and in an houre that he is not ware of,

51 * And wil cut him off, & giue him his portion with hypocrites: * there shall be weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

CHAP. XXV.

By the similitude of the virgins Iesus teacheth every man to watch. 14 And by the talents to be diligent. 21 The last iudgement. 32 The sheepe and the goates. 33 The workers of the faithfull.

This similitude teacheth us that it is not sufficient to have once given our selves to follow Christ, but that we must continue.

Manie seeke for which they have entered, but in to late.

I will open to you because you have failed in the mid way.

This similitude teacheth how we ought to continue in knowledge of God, and do good with those graces that God hath given vs.

Every talent commodly made three score pound, ready made.

When the master receiveth him in to his house to part him part of his goods and commodities.

1 Then the <sup>a</sup>kingdome of heauen shalbe likened vnto ten virgins, which tooke their lampes, and went to <sup>b</sup>meete the bridegrome.

2 And fise of them were wise, and fise foolish.

3 The foolish tooke their lampes, but tooke none oyle with them.

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 Now while the bridegrome taried long, all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a crie made, behold, the bridegrome commeth: go out to meete him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lampes.

8 And the foolish sayd to the wise, <sup>c</sup>Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are <sup>d</sup>out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, <sup>e</sup>We feare lest there will not be ynough for vs and you: but <sup>f</sup>go ye rather to them that sell, & bue for your selues.

10 And while they went to bue, the bridegrome came: and they that were readie, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwards came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I saye vnto you, <sup>g</sup>I knowe you not.

13 <sup>h</sup>Watche therefore: for ye know neither the day, nor the houre, when the Sonne of man will come.

14 <sup>i</sup>For the <sup>j</sup>kingdome of heauen is as a man that going into a strange country, called his seruants, and deliuered to them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue fise <sup>k</sup>talentes, and to another two, and to another one, to every man after his owne habilitie, and straight way went from home.

16 Then he that had receiued the fise talentes, went and occupied with them, and <sup>l</sup>gained other fise talentes.

17 Likewise also, he that receiued two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged it in the earth, & hid his masters money.

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruants came, and reckened with them.

20 Then came hee that had receiued fise talentes, and brought other fise talentes, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me fise talentes: beholde, I haue gained with them other fise talentes.

21 Then his master said vnto him, It is well done good seruant & faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: <sup>m</sup>enter in into thy masters ioye.

22 Also he that had receiued two talentes, came and said, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes: beholde, I haue gained two other talentes with them.

23 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and said, Master, I knewe that thou wast an harde man, which respect where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou strawedst not:

24 I was therefore afayed, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast thine owne.

25 And his master answered, and said vnto him, Thou euil seruant and <sup>n</sup>stothful, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I strawed not.

26 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming shoulde I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.

27 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talentes.

28 <sup>o</sup>For vnto every man that hath, it shalbe giuen, and he shall haue abundance, and <sup>p</sup>from him that hath not, euen that hee hath, shalbe taken away.

29 Cast therefore that vnprofitable seruant into vter <sup>q</sup>darkenes: there shalbe weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

30 And when the Sonne of man cometh in his glorie, and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glorie.

31 And before him shalbe gathered all nations, and he shal separate them one from another, as a shepherde separateth the sheepe from the goates.

32 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goates on the left.

33 Then shall the King saye to them on his right hand, Come ye <sup>r</sup>blessed of my Father: inherit ye the kingdom prepared for you from the <sup>s</sup>fundations of the worlde.

34 <sup>t</sup>For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I thirsted, & ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye lodged me: I was naked, and ye clothed me: I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

35 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

36 And when sawe we thee a stranger, and lodged thee? or naked, and clothed thee?

37 Or when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

38 And the King shall answer & saye vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

39 Then shall he saye vnto them on the left hand, <sup>u</sup>Depart from me ye cursed, into C cccc j. euer

22 Also he that had receiued two talentes, came and said, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes: beholde, I haue gained two other talentes with them.

23 His master said vnto him, It is wel done good seruant, and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters ioye.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and said, Master, I knewe that thou wast an harde man, which respect where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou strawedst not:

25 I was therefore afayed, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his master answered, and said vnto him, Thou euil seruant and <sup>Or, stingern.</sup>stothful, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I strawed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming shoulde I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talentes.

CHAP. XXVI.

Conſpiracie of the Priests againſt Chriſt. 10 He excuſeth Magdalen. 26 The viſitation of the Lords ſupper. 31 The diſciples weaken. 48 The treaſon of Iudas. 63 The ſworde. 64 Becauſe Chriſt calleth him ſelfe the Sonne of God, he is iudged worthe to die. 65 Peter denieth, and repenteth.

- 1 And * it came to paſſe, when Ieſus had finiſhed al theſe ſayings, he ſaid vnto his diſciples,

- 2 Ye knowe that within two dayes is the Paſſeouer, and the Sonne of man ſhal be deliuered to be crucified.

- 3 * Then aſſembled together the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people into the hall of the hie Priest, called Caiaphas,

- 4 And conſulted how they might take Ieſus by ſubtiltie, and kil him.

- 5 But they ſaid, Nor on the feaſt daye, leſt any vproare be among the people.

- 6 * And when Ieſus was in Bethania, in the houſe of Simon the leper,

- 7 There came vnto him a woman, which had a boxe of very coſtly oyntment, and powred it on his head, as he ſate at the table.

- 8 And when his diſciples ſawe it, they had indignation, ſaying, What needed this waſte?

- 9 For this ointment might haue bene ſold for much, and bene giuen to the poore.

- 10 And Ieſus knowing it, ſaide vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for ſhe hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

- 11 * For ye haue the poore alwayes with you, but me ſhal ye not haue alwayes.

- 12 For in that he powred this oyntment on my bodie, ſhe did it to burie me.

- 13 Verely I ſay vnto you, Whereſoeuer this Goſpel ſhal be preached throughout all the world, there ſhal alſo this that ſhe hath done, be ſpoken of for a memorial of her.

- 14 * Then one of the twelue, called Iudas Iſcariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests,

- 15 And ſaid, What wilt thou giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? and they appointed vnto him thirtie * pices of ſiluer.

- 16 And from that time, he ſought opportunitie to betray him.

- 17 * Now on the firſt day of the feaſt of vntleauened bread the diſciples came to Ieſus, ſaying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the Paſſeouer?

- 18 And he ſaid, Go into the citie to ſuch a man, and ſaye to him, The maſter ſaith, My time is at hand: I will kepe the Paſſeouer at thine houſe with my diſciples.

- 19 And the diſciples did as Ieſus had giuen them charge, and made readie the Paſſeouer.

- 20 * So when the euen was come, he ſate downe with the twelue.

- 21 And as they did eat, he ſaid, Verely I ſaye vnto you, that one of you ſhal betray me.

- 22 And they were exceding ſorowfull, and began euery one of them to ſay vnto him, Is it I, Maſter?

- 23 And he anſwered and ſayde, * He that ſippeth his hand with the in the diſh, he ſhal betray me.

- 24 Surely the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but wo be to that man, by whome the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if al this waſe he had neuer bene borne.

- 25 Then Iudas which betrayed him, anſwered, and ſayd, Is it I, Maſter? He ſaid vnto him, Thou haſt ſaid it.

- 26 * And as they did eate, Ieſus tooke the bread: and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue it to the diſciples, and ſayd, Take, eat: this is my body.

- 27 Alſo he tooke the cup, and when he had giuen thanks, hee gaue it them, ſaying, Drinke ye al of it.

- 28 For this is my bloud of the New teſtament, that is ſhed for many, for the remiſſion of ſinnes.

- 29 I ſaye vnto you, that I will not drinke hence forth of this fruite of the vine vntil that day, when I ſhall drinke it newe with you in my Fathers kingdome.

- 30 And when they had ſung a Pſalme, they went out into the mount of Oliues.

- 31 * Then ſaid Ieſus vnto them, A lye ſhal be * offended by this night: for it is written, I will ſmite the ſhepherd, & the ſheepe of the flocke ſhal be ſcattered.

- 32 But * after I am riſen againe, I will go before you into Galile.

- 33 But Peter anſwered, and ſaid vnto him, Though that al men ſhould be offended by thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

- 34 * Ieſus ſaid vnto him, Verely I ſaye vnto thee, that this night, before the cocke crowe, thou ſhalt denie me thrife.

- 35 Peter ſaid vnto him, Though I ſhould die with thee, yet will I not denie thee. Likewiſe al ſaid al the diſciples.

- 36 * Then went Ieſus with the into a place which is called Gethſemane, & ſaid vnto his diſciples, Sit ye here, while I go and praye yonder.

- 37 And he tooke Peter, & the two ſonnes of Zebedees, & began to waxe ſorowfull, & grievouſly troubled.

- 38 Then ſaid Ieſus vnto them, My ſoule is very heauie, euen vnto the death: tarry ye here, and wathe with me.

4 Saying, I haue sinned betraying the innocent blood. But they said, What is that to vs? <sup>d</sup> see thou to it.
5 And when he had cast downe the siluer pieces in the Temple, he departed, & went, and hanged him selfe.
6 And the chiefe Priests tooke the siluer pieces, and said, It is not lawful for vs to put them into the treasure, because it is the price of blood.
7 And they tooke counsell, and bought with them a potters field, for the burial of strangers.
8 Wherefore that field is called, the field of blood, vntill this day.
9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremias the Prophet, saying, And they tooke thirtie siluer pieces, the price of him that was valued, whome they of the children of Israel valued.

13 Then said Pilate vnto him, Heardest thou not how many things they lay against thee?
14 But he answered him not to one worde, in so much that the gouernour marueiled greatly.
15 Nowe at the feast, the gouernour was wont to deliuer vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.
16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas, 17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whether will ye that I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ?
18 (For he knewe well, that for enuie they had deliuered him.)
19 Also when hee was set downe vpon the iudgement seat, his wife sent to him, saying, Haue thou nothing to do with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame by reason of him.)
20 But the chiefe Priests and the Elders had perswaded the people, that they should aske Barabbas, and should destroy Iesus.
21 Then the gouernour answered, and said vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I let loose vnto you? And they said, Barabbas.
22 Pilate said vnto the, What shal I do then with Iesus which is called Christ? They all said to him, Let him be crucified.
23 Then said the gouernour, But what euill hath he done. Then they cried the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate sawe that hee auailed nothing, but that more tumult was made, he tooke water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust man: looke you to it.
25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on vs, and on our children.
26 Thus let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deliuered him to be crucified.
27 ¶ Then the souldiers of the gouernour tooke Iesus into the common hall, and gathered about him the whole bande.
28 And they stripped him, & put vpon him a skarlet robe,
29 And platted a crowne of thornes, & put it vpon his head, and a reede in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him, saying, God saue thee a King of the Iewes,
30 And spitte vpon him, & tooke a reede, and smote him on the head.
31 Thus when they had mocked him, they tooke the robe from him, & put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.
32 ¶ And as they came out, they founde a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to beare his Crosse.
33 ¶ And when they came vnto the place called Golgotha, (that is to say, the place of dead mens skulles)
34 They gaue him vinegar to drinke, mingled with gal: & when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.
35 ¶ And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, They deuised my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did cast lottes.
36 And they sat, and watched him there.
37 ¶ They set vp also ouer his head his cause written, THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE IEVVES.
38 ¶ And there were two thieues crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.
39 And they that passed by, reuiled him, wagging their heads,
40 And saying, Thou that destroyest the Temple, & buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: if thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the crosse.
41 Likewise also the chiefe Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, & Elders, & Pharises, said, 42 He saued others, but he cannot saue him selfe: if he be the King of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, and we will beleuee him.
43 ¶ He trusted in God, let him deliuer him now, if he will haue him: for he said, I am the Sonne of God.
44 That same also the thieues which were crucified with him, cast in his teeth.

46 And about the ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, * Eli, Eli, lama- sabachthani? that is, * My god, my god, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 And some of the that stood there, when they heard it, said, This mā calleth * Elias.

48 And straight way one of them ran, and tooke * a sponge, & filled it with vineger, & put it on * a reede, & gaue him to drinke.

50 Then Iesus cryed agayne with a loude voyce, and yelded vp the * ghost.

51 And beholde, * the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome, and the earth did quake, and the stones were clouen,

52 And the graues did open the selues, & many bodies of the Saints which slept, arose, 53 And came out of the graues after his resurrection, and went into the * holy Citie, and appeared vnto many.

54 When the Centurion, and they that were with him watching Iesus, sawe the earthquake, & the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly * this was the Sonne of God.

55 ¶ And many women were there, beholding him afare of, which had followed Iesus from Galile, ministring vnto him.

56 Among whome was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Iames and Ioses, and the mother of Zebedee sonnes.

57 ¶ And when the euen was come, there came a * riche man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who had also him selfe bene Iesus disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be deliuered.

59 So Ioseph tooke the body, & wrapped it in a cleane linen cloth, 60 And put it in his new * tombe, which he had hewen out in a rocke, and rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie sitting ouer against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Nowe the next daye that followed the * Preparatio of the Sabbath, the hie Priests and Pharises assembled to Pilate, 63 And said, Syr, we remember that that deceiuer said, while he was yet aliue, within three dayes I will rise.

64 Command therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the third day, least his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: so shal the last * error be worse then the first.

65 Then Pilate said vnto them, Ye haue * a watchgo, and make it sure as ye know.

66 And they went, and made the sepulchre * sure with the watch, & sealed the stone.

6 The resurrection of Christ. 10 The brethren of Christ. 12 The hie Priests bribe the souldiers. 17 Christ appeareth to his disciples, and sendeth them forth to preach, and to baptize. 20 Promising to them continuall assistance.

1 Nowe * in the "ende of the * Sabbath, when the first day of the weeke began to dawne, Mary Magdalene, and the other Marie came to see the sepulchre.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake: for the * Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, & came & rolled backe the stone from the doore, & sat vpon it, And his countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snowe.

3 And for feare of him, the keepers were astonied, and became as dead men.

4 But the Angel answered, and said to the women, Feare ye not: for I knowe that ye seeke Iesus which was crucified:

5 He is not here, for he is risen, as he said: come, see the place where the Lord was laid,

6 And go quickly, and tel his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and behold, he goeth before you into Galile: there ye shall see him: * lo, I haue tolde you.

7 So they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great * ioy, & did runne to bring his disciples word.

8 And as they went to tel his disciples, beholde, Iesus also met them, saying, God saue you. And they came, and tooke him by the feete, and worshipped him.

9 The said Iesus vnto them, Be not afraid. Go, & tel my brethren, that they go into Galile, and there shal they see me.

10 ¶ Nowe when they were gone, beholde, some of the watch came into the citie, & shewed vnto the hie Priests all the things that were done.

11 And they gathered them together with the Elders, & tooke counsell, & gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 12 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night and stole him away while we slept.

13 And if the gouernour heare of this, we will persuaue him, and saue you harmeles.

14 So they tooke the money, & did as they were taught: and this * saying is noyed among the Iewes vnto this day.

15 ¶ Then the eleuen disciples went into Galile, into a mountaine, where Iesus had appointed them.

16 And when they sawe him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

17 And Iesus came, & spake vnto them, saying, * All power is giuen vnto me in heauen and in earth.

18 ¶ Go therefore, & teach al nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, & the Sonne, and the holy Ghost, 19 Teaching the to obserue al things, what soeuer I haue commanded you: and lo, * I am with you alway, vntill the * end of the world, Amen.

He beginning of the gospel of Iesus Christ, the Sonne of God:

As it is written in the Prophetes,

"Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shal prepare thy way before thee.

* The voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness is, * Prepare the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

* Iohn did baptize in the wilderness, and preache the baptisme of amendement of life, for remission of sinnes.

And al the country of Iudea, & they of Ierusalem went out vnto him, and were al baptized of him in the riuer Iordan, confessing their sinnes.

* Nowe Iohn was clothed with camels haires, and with a girdel of a skinned about his loynes: and he did cate *

* locusts and wilde hony,

* And preached, saying, A stronger then I, cometh after me, whose shoes I latche I am not worthy to stoupe down, and vnloose.

Trueth it is, I haue * baptized you with water: but he will baptize you with the holie Ghost.

* And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazaret a citie of Galile, & was baptized of Iohn in Iordan.

And straightway as he was come out of the water, Iohn sawe the heauens clouen in twaine, and the holie Ghost descending vpon him like a doue.

Then there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

* And immediately the Spirit driueh him into the wilderness.

And he was there in the wilderness fourtie dayes, and was * tempted of Satan: he was also with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

* Now after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preaching the Gospel of the kingdome of God,

And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent and beleue the Gospel.

* And as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he sawe Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, (for they were fishers.)

Then Iesus said vnto them, Followe me, & I will make you to be * fishers of men.

And straight waye they forsooke their nettes, and followed him.

And when hee had gone a litle further thence, he sawe Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nettes.

And anon he called the: & they left their father Zebedeus in the ship with his hired seruants, and went their way after him.

* So they entred into Capernaum, and straight way on the Sabbath daye he entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

* And there was in their Synagogue a man, which had an vncleane spirit, & he cryed, saying, Ah, what haue wee to do with thee, O Iesus of Nazaret? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that holy one of God.

And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him.

And the vncleane spirit tare him, & cryed with a loud voyce, & came out of him.

And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he commandeth the foule spirits with authoritie, and they obey him.

And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

* And assone as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into I house of Simon & Andrew, with Iames & Iohn.

And Simons wifes mother laye sicke of a feuer, and anon they told him of her.

And he came & tooke her by the hand, and list her vp, and the feuer forsooke her by and by, and the ministred vnto them.

And when euen was come, & the sunne was downe, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuils.

And the whole citie was gathered together at the doore.

And he healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases: and he cast out many deuils, & suffred not the deuils to say that they knew him.

And in the morning very early, before day, Iesus arose & went out into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

And Simon, & they that were with him, followed after him.

And when they had found him, they said vnto him, Al men seeke for thee.

Then

CHAP. II.

- 1 He healeth the man of the palse. 5 He forgiveth sinners. 14 He calleth Levi the customer. 16 He eateth with sinners. 18 He excoiseth his disciples, as touching fasting, and keeping the Sabbath day.
- 1 After * a few dayes, he entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noyed that he was in the * house.
- 2 And anon, many gathered together, in so much that the places about the doore could not receiue any more: & he preached the word vnto them.
- 3 And there came vnto him, that brought one sicke of the palse, borne of foure me.
- 4 And because they could not come nere vnto him for the multitude, they vncouered the roofof the house where he was: and when they had broken it open, they let downe the bed, wherein the sicke of the palse lay.
- 5 Now when Iesus saw their faith, he said to the sicke of the palse, Sonne, thy * finnes are forgiven thee.
- 6 And there were certaine of the Scribes, sitting there, & reasoning in their hearts,
- 7 Why doeth this man speake such blasphemies? * who can forgie finnes, but God onely?
- 8 And immediatly when Iesus perceiued in his spirit, that thus they thought with themselves, he said vnto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?
- ¶ Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palse, Thy finnes are forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and walke?
- ¶ And that ye may knowe, that the Sonne of ma hath authoritie in earth to forgie finnes, (he said vnto the sicke of the palse)

3 Hearken: Beholde, there went out a sower to sowe.

4 And it came to passe as hee sowed, that some fell by the way side, and the fowles of the heauen came and deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stonie ground, where it had not much earth, & by & by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth.

6 But as sone as the sunne was vp, it caught heat, and because it had not roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grewe vp and choked it, so that it gaue no fruite.

8 Some againe fel in good grounde, and did yeld fruite that sprong vp, & grewe, & it brought forth, some thirtie folde, some sixtie folde, and some an hundreth folde.

9 Then he said vnto them, Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelue, asked him of the parable.

11 And he said vnto them, To you it is giue to knowe the myserie of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, all things be done in parables,

12 * That they seeing, may see, and not discern: and they hearing, may heare, and not vnderstande, least at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should bee forgiven them.

13 Again he said vnto them, Perceiue ye not this parable? how then should ye vnderstand all other parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they that receive the feede by the wayes side, in whome the worde is sowne: but when they haue heard it, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sowne in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue the feede in stonie grounde, are they, which when they haue heard the word, straight waies receiue it with gladnes.

17 Yet haue they no roote in them selues, and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediately they be offended.

18 Also they that receiue the feede among the thornes, are such as heare the word:

19 But the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is vnfruitefull.

20 But they that haue receiued feede in good grounde, are they that heare the word, & receiue it, and bring forth fruite, one cometh thirtie, another sixtie, and some an hundreth.

21 ¶ Also he said vnto them, * Is e the candle lighted to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table, and not to bee put on a candlestick?

22 * For there is nothing hid, that shal not be opened: neither is there a secret, but that it shall come to light.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he said vnto them, Take heed what ye heare. * With what measure ye mete, it shal bee measured vnto you: and vnto you that heare, shall more be giuen.

25 * For vnto him that hath, shal it be giue, and from him that hath not, shalbe taken away, euen that he hath.

26 ¶ Also he said, So is the kingdome of God, as if a man should cast seed in the ground, 27 And should sleepe, and rise vp night and day, and the feede should spring & grow vp, he not knowing how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruite of her selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that, full corne in the eares.

29 And as sone as the fruite sheweth it selfe, anon he putteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

30 ¶ * He said moreouer, Whereunto shall wee liken the kingdome of God? or with what comparison shal we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of mustard seed, which when it is sowne in the earth, is the least of all feedes that be in the earth:

32 But after that it is sowne, it groweth vp, and is greatest of all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the fowles of heauen may build vnder the shadow of it.

33 And with many such parables he preached the word vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 And without parables spake hee nothing vnto them: but he expounded all things to his disciples aparte.

35 ¶ * Now the same day when euen was come, he said vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the multitude, and tooke him as he was in the ship: and there were ward also with him other ships.

37 And there arose a great storme of wind, & the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the sterne a sleepe on a pillow: and they awoke him, and said to him, Master, carest thou not that wee perish?

39 And hee rose vp, & rebuked the winde, and said vnto the sea, Peace, and be still. So the winde ceaused, and it was a great calme.

40 Then he said vnto them, Why are yee so fearefull? how is it that yee haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and saide one to another, Who is this, that both the winde and the sea obey him?

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? and he answered, saying, My name is <sup>d</sup>Legion: for we are many.

10 And hee prayed him instantly, that hee would not sende them awaye out of the country.

11 Now there was there in the mountaines a great heard of swyne, feeding.

12 And al the deuils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And incōtently Iesus gaue the leaue. Then the vnclane spirits went out, & entred into the swine, and the hearde <sup>e</sup>ran headlong from the hight banke into the sea, (and there were about two thousand swine) and they were drowned in the <sup>f</sup>sea.

14 And the swineheards fled, and told it in the cite, and in the cōtrei, & they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Iesus, and sawe him that had bene possessed with the deuill, & had the legion, sit both clothed, & in his right minde: and they were afraid.

16 And they that sawe it, tolde them, what was done to him that was possessed with the deuill, and concerning the swine.

17 Then <sup>g</sup>they began to pray him, that hee would <sup>h</sup>depart from their coastes.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had bene possessed with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Iesus would not suffer him, but said vnto him, Goe thy waye home to thy friends, & <sup>i</sup>shew them what great things the Lorde hath done vnto thee, and <sup>j</sup>howe he hath had compassion on thee.

20 So he departed, and began to publish in <sup>k</sup>Decapolis, what great things Iesus had done vnto him: & all men did marueile.

21 ¶ And when Iesus was come ouer again by ship vnto the other side, a great multitude gathered to him, and hee was nere vnto the sea.

22 * And behold, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Iairus: and when hee sawe him, hee fell

26 And had suffred many thinges of many physiciōs, and had spent al that she had, and it auailed her nothing, but thee became much worfe.

30 And immediady when Iesus did knowe in him selfe the vertue that went out of him, hee turned him round about in the prease, and said, Who hath touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples saide vnto him, Thou seeest the multitude throng thee, & sayest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for she knew what was done in her, and she came and fell downe before him, and told him the whole truethe.

34 And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be whole of thy <sup>q</sup>plague.)

35 While he yet spake, there came from the <sup>r</sup>same ruler of the Synagogues house <sup>s</sup>certaine which said, Thy daughter is dead: why distealest thou <sup>t</sup>my master any further?

36 Asone as Iesus heard that word spokē, he said vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not affraide: onely belecue.

37 And he suffred no man to followe him, saue Peter and James, and Iohn the brother of James.

38 So he came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and sawe the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And hee went in, and said vnto them, Why make ye this trouble, & weepe? the child is not <sup>u</sup>dead, but sleepeeth.

40 And they <sup>v</sup>laught him to scorne: but he put them all out, and tooke the father, & the mother of the childe, and <sup>w</sup>them that were with him, and entred in where the child lay,

41 And tooke the childe by the hand, and said vnto her, Talitha cumi, <sup>x</sup>which is by interpretation, Maide, I say vnto thee, arise.

1 Afterwarde *he departed thence, and came into his owne country, and his disciples followed him.

2 And when the Sabbath was come, he began to teach in the Synagogue, & many that heard him, were astonished, and saide, *From whence hath he these things? and what wisdom is this that is giuen vnto him, that euen such great workes are done by his hands!

3 Is not this the carpenter Maries sonne, the brother of Iames & Ioses, & of Iuda and Simon? and are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended in him.

Then Iesus said vnto them, A * Prophet is not without honour, but in his owne country, and among his owne kinred, & in his owne house.

5 And *hee coulede there *doe no great workes, saue that he laied his hands vpon a few sicke folke, and healed them.

6 And hee marvelled at their vnbeliefe, *and went about by the townes on euery side, teaching.

7 ¶ And he called the twelue, and began to sende them two & two, and gaue them power ouer vnclene spirits,

8 And commaunded them, that they should take nothing for their journey, saue a staffe onely: neither scrip, neither bread, neither money in their girdles,

9 But that they should be shod with * sandals, & that they should not put on two coates.

10 And he said vnto them, Where soeuer ye shall enter into an house, there abide till ye departe thence.

12 ¶ And they went out, and preached that men should amend their liues, 13 And they cast out many deuils: and they *anointed many that were sicke, with oile and healed them.

17 For Herode himselfe had sent forthe, & had taken Iohn, and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.

18 For Iohn saide vnto Herode, * It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had a quarell against him, and woulde haue killed him, but she could not:

20 For Herode feared Iohn, knowing that he was a iust man, and an holy, and reuerenced him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and * heard him gladly.

21 But the time being conuenient, when Herode on his birth day made a banquet to his princes and capitaines, & chiefe states of Galile:

23 And hee sware vnto her, What soeuer thou shalt aske of mee, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome.

24 ¶ So she went forth, and said to her mother, What shall I aske? And she said, Iohn Baptists head.

25 Then she came in straight way with hast vnto the King, and asked, saying, Ewouldest thou shouldest giue the euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was verely forye: yet for his othes sake, and for their sakes which fate at table with him, he would not refuse her.

27 And immediatly the King sent the hangman, & gaue charge that his head should be brought. So hee went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the maide, & the maide gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard it, they came and tooke vp his bodie, and put it in a tombe.

5 Then asked him the Pharises and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eate meate with vnwalshen hands?

6 Then he answered and said vnto them, Surely Esai hath prophesied wel of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lippes, but their heart is farre away from me.

7 But they worship me in yaine, teaching for doctrines the commandementes of men.

8 For ye lay the commandement of God aparte, and obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pottes and of cuppes, & many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said vnto them, Well ye reiect the commandement of God, that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

are they which defile the man.

16 If any haue cares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when he came into an house away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And hee sayd vnto them, What? are ye without vnderstanding also? Do ye not knowe that whatsoeuer thing from without entred into a mā, can not defile him, 19 Because it entred not into his heart, but into the bellie, and goeth out into the draught which is the purging of all meats?

20 Then he said, That which cometh out of man, that defileth man.

21 * For from within, euen out of the heart of men, procede euil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, Theites, couetousnes, wickednes, deceit, vncleannes, a wicked eye, backebiting, pride, foolishnes.

22 All these euil things come from within, and defile a man.

23 * And from thence he rose, and went into the borders of Tyrus and Sidon, and entred into an house, and would that no man should haue knowen: but hee could not be hid.

25 (And the woman was a Greeke, a Syrophenician by nacion) and she besought him that he would cast out the deuill out of her daughter.

26 But Iesus said vnto her, Let the children first be fed: for it is not good to take the childrens bread, & to cast it vnto whelpes.

27 Then she answered, and said vnto him, Truth, Lord: yet in deed the whelpes eat vnder the table of the childrens crōmes.

28 Then he said vnto her, For this saying go thy way: the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

29 And when shee was come home to her house, she founde the deuill departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

30 And hee departed againe from the coastes of Tyrus and Sidon, and came vnto the sea of Galilee, through the middes of the coastes of Decapolis.

31 And they brought vnto him one that was deafe, and stambred in his speache, and prayed him to put his hād vpon him.

32 Then he tooke him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers in his eares, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

33 And looking vp to heauen, he sighed, and saide vnto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

34 And straight way his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plaine.

35 And hee commanded them, that they should tell no man: but how much foueuer he forbade them, the more a great deale they published it,

36 And were beyond measure astonied, saying, * He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deafe to heare, and the domme to speake.

The miracle of the seuen loaves. 11 The Pharises aske now declareth a signe. 15 The leauen of the Pharises. 22 The blinde that whatsoeuer receiveth his sight. 29 Hee was knowen of his disciples. he doth, is verily well.

1 In those dayes, when there was a very great multitude, and had nothing to eate, Iesus called his disciples to him, and said vnto them,

2 I haue compassion on the multitude, because they haue now continued with me three dayes, and haue nothing to eate.

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they would faint by the way: for some of them came from farre.

4 Then his disciples answered him, How can a man satisfie these with bread here in the wilderness?

5 And he asked them, Howe many loaves haue ye? And they said, Seuen.

6 Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground: and hee tooke the seuen loaves, and gaue thanks, brake them, and gaue to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

7 They had also a fewe smal fishes: & when he had giuen thanks, he comāded them also to be set before them.

8 So they did eate, and were sufficed, and they tooke vp of the brokē meate that was left, seuen baskets full,

9 (And they that had eaten, were about foure thousand) so he sent them away.

10 * And anon he entred into a ship with his disciples, and came into the partes of Dalmanutha.

11 * And the Pharises came forth, and began to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, and tempting him.

12 Then he sighed deeply in his spirit, & said, Why doeth this generation seeke a signe? Verely I say vnto you, a signe shal not be giuen vnto this generation.

13 So he left them, and went into the ship againe, and departed to the other side.

14 * And they had forgotte to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them, but one loafe.

15 And he charged the, saying, Take heede, and beware of the leaue of the Pharises, and of the leauen of Herode.

16 And they thought among them selues, saying, It is, because we haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knew it, he said vnto the, Why reason you thus because ye haue no bread? perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? haue ye your hearts yet hardened?

22 And hee came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touche him.

23 Then he tooke the blinde by the hande, and led him out of the towne, and spit in his eyes, and put his handes vpon him, & asked him, if he sawe ought.

24 And he looked vp, and said, I see men: for I see them walking like trees.

25 After that, he put his hands againe vpon his eyes, and made him looke againe. And hee was restored to his sight, and sawe euery man as farre of clerely.

26 And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither go into the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

27 ¶ And Iesus went out, and his disciples into the townes of Cesarea Philippi. And by the way he asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some, Elias: and some, one of the Prophets.

29 And he said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Then Peter answered and said vnto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 And he sharply charged them that concerning him they should tell no man.

31 Then he began to teache them that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, & should be reprobud of the Elders, and of the hie Priests, and of the Scribes, and be slaine, and within three dayes rise againe.

32 And he spake that thing plainly. Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33 Then he turned backe, and looked on his disciples, and rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

34 ¶ And he called the people vnto him with his disciples, and sayde vnto them, * Whosoever will followe me, let him forsake him selfe, and take vp his crosse, and followe me.

35 For whosoever will saue his life, shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the Gospels, hee shall saue it.

36 For what shal it profite a man, though he should winne the whole worlde, if he lose his soule?

37 Or what shall a man giue for recompence of his soule?

38 * For whosoever shalbe ashamed of me, and of my wordes among this adukerous and sinfull generation, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed also; when he commeth in the glorie of his Father with the holy Angels.

2 * And six dayes after, Iesus tooke Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, & brought them vp into an hie mountaine out of y way alone, and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment did shine, and was very white, as snowe, so white as no fuller can make vpon the earth.

4 And there appeared vnto the Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Iesus.

5 Then Peter answered, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs make also three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 ¶ Yet he knew not what he said: for they were afraide.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them, and a voyce came out of the cloude, saying, * This is my beloued Sonne: d heare him.

8 And suddenly they looked round about, and sawe no more any man saue Iesus only with them.

9 * And as they came downe from the mountaine, he charged them, that they should tell no man what they had seene, saue when the Sonne of man were risen from the dead againe.

10 So they kept that matter to them selues, and demanded one of another, what the rising fro the dead againe should meane?

11 Also they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, that * Elias * must first come?

12 And he answered, and sayde vnto them, Elias verely shal first come: and restore all things: and * as it is written of the Sonne of man, he must suffer many things, & be set at naught.

13 But I saye vnto you, that * Elias is come, (and they haue done vnto him whatsoever they would) as it is written of him.

14 ¶ And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straight way all the people, when they behelde him, were amased, and ran to him, and saluted him.

16 Then he asked the Scribes, What dispute you among your selues?

19 Then he answered him, and saide, <sup>1</sup> O faichles generation, how long now shall I be with you! how long nowe shall I suffer you! Bring him vnto me.

20 So they brought him vnto him: and as-soone as the spirit sawe him, he tare him, and he fell downe on the ground, wallowing and foming.

21 Then he asked his father, Howe long time is it since he hath bene thus? And he said, Of a childe.

22 And oft times hee casteth him into the fire, and into the water to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, helpe vs, and haue compassion vpon vs.

23 And Iesus said vnto him, If <sup>1</sup> thou canst beleuee it, all things are <sup>1</sup> possible to him that beleueeth.

24 And straight way the father of the childe crying with teares, said, Lorde, I beleuee: helpe my <sup>m</sup> vnbeliefe.

25 When Iesus sawe that the people came rining together, he rebuked the vnclane spirit, saying vnto him, Thou domme and deafe spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 Then the spirit cryed, and rent him sore, and came out, and <sup>a</sup> he was as one dead, in so much that many said, He is dead.

29 And he said vnto them, This kinde can by no other meanes come forth, but by <sup>o</sup> prayer, and fasting.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and went through Galile, & he would not that any should haue knowen it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said vnto them, The Sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men, and they shall kill him, but after that he is killed, he shall rise againe the third day.

32 But they vnderstoode not that saying, and were afraied to aske him.

33 ¶ After hee came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among you by the way?

34 And they helde their peace: for by the way they reasoned among them selues, who should be the chiefe.

35 And he sat down, and called the twelue, and said to them, If any man desire to be first, the same shalbe last of all, and seruant vnto all.

36 And he tooke a litle childe, and set him in the middes of them, and tooke him in his armes, and said vnto them,

37 Whosoever shall receyue ong of such litle children in my Name, receiue me: and whosoever receiue me, receiue me not <sup>me</sup>, but him that sent me.

38 ¶ Then Iohn answered him, saying, Master, we sawe one casting out deuils by thy Name, which followeth not vs, and we forbade him, because he followeth vs not.

39 ¶ But Iesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man that can do a <sup>a</sup> miracie by my Name, that can lightly speake euill of me.

40 For whosoever is not <sup>a</sup> against vs, is on our patte.

41 ¶ And whosoever shall giue you a cup of water to drinke for my Names sake, because ye belong to Christ, verely I say vnto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 ¶ And whosoever shall offende one of these litle ones, that beleue in me, it were better for him rather, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into the sea.

43 ¶ Wherefore if thine hand cause thee to offend, cut it of: it is better for thee to enter into life, maimed, then hauing two handes, to go into hell, into the fire that neuer shalbe quenched,

44 ¶ Where their worme dyeth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

45 Likewise, if thy foote cause thee to offende, cut it of: it is better for thee to go halt into life, then hauing two feete to be cast into hell, into the fire that neuer shalbe quenched,

17 * And when hee was gone out on the way, there came one * running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do, that I may possesse eternall life?

18 Iesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none * good but one, <sup>euen</sup> God.

19 Thou knowest the commaundements, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witnes. Thou shalt hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, all these things I haue obserued from my youth.

21 And Iesus behelde him, and <sup>d</sup> loued him, and saide vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Go <sup>and</sup> sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, folow me, and take vp the crosse.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked round about, and said vnto his disciples, Howe hardly do they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God!

24 And his disciples were astonied at his wordes. But Iesus answered againe, and said vnto them, Children, howe hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, then for a <sup>b</sup> riche man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were much more astonied, saying with them selues, Who then can be saued?

27 But Iesus looked vpon them, and sayde, With me <sup>it is</sup> impossible, but not with god: for with God <sup>i</sup> all things are possible.

28 * Then Peter began to saye vnto him, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or landes for my sake and the Gospels,

30 But hee shall receiue an hundred fold nowe at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands with <sup>persecutions</sup>, and in the world to come, eternall life.

31 * But many <sup>that are</sup> first, shall be last, and the last, first.

32 * And they were in the way going vp to Ierusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, & <sup>as they</sup> folowed, they were afraide, and Iesus tooke the twelue againe, & began to tell them what things should come vnto him,

33 <sup>Saying</sup>, Behold, we go vp to Ierusalem, & the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the hie Priests, and to the Scribes, & they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shall mocke him, and scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kill him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

35 * Then Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst doe for vs that <sup>that</sup> we desire.

36 And he said vnto them, What would ye I should doe for you?

37 And they saide to him, Graunt vnto vs, that wee may sit one at thy right hande, and the other at thy left hande in thy glorie.

38 But Iesus said vnto them, Ye knowe not what ye aske. Can ye <sup>drinke</sup> of the cup that I shall drinke of, and bee baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with?

39 And they said vnto him, We can. But Iesus said vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deed of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme wherewith I shall be baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hande and at my left, is not <sup>mine</sup> to giue, but <sup>it shall be giuen</sup> to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdaine at Iames and Iohn.

47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazaret, he began to crye and to saye, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

48 And manie rebuked him, because hee shoulde holde his peace: but hee cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

49 Then Iesus stoode still, and commanded him to be called: & they called the blind, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he threwe away his cloke, and rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blinde said vnto him, Lord, that I may receiue sight.

52 Then Iesus said vnto him, Go thy way: thy faith hath saued thee. And by and by, he receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

11 Christ rideth to Ierusalem. 12 The figge tree dryeth vp. 13 The builders and fillers are cast out of the temple. 14 He declareth the verue of faith, and how we should pray. 15 The Phariseis question with Christ.

1 And when they came nere to Ierusalem, to Bethphage & Bethania vnto the mount of Oliues, he sent forth two of his disciples,

2 And said vnto them, Go your wayes into that towne that is ouer against you, and assoone as ye shall enter into it, ye shall finde a colte bound, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why do ye this? Saye that the Lorde hath neede of him, and straight way hee will sende him hither.

4 And they went their way, and founde a colte tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met, and they loosed him.

5 Then certaine of them that stood there, said vnto them, What do ye loosing the colte?

6 And they saide vnto them, as Iesus had commanded them. So they let them go.

7 ¶ And they brought the colte to Iesus, and cast their garmentes on him, and hee sate vpon him.

8 And many spred their garmentes in the waye: other cut downe branches of the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, & they that followed, cryed, saying, Hosanna: blessed be he that commeth in the Name of the Lorde.

10 Blessed be the kingdome that commeth in the Name of the Lorde of our father Dauid: Hosanna, O thou which art in the hiest heauens.

11 ¶ So Iesus entred into Ierusalem, and into the Temple: and when he had looked about on all things, and now it was euenning, he went forth vnto Bethania with the twelue.

12 ¶ And on the morowe when they were come out from Bethania, hee was hungry.

13 And seeing a figge tree a farre of, that had leaues, he went to see if he might finde any thing thereon: but when he came vnto it, he found nothing but leaues: for the time of figges was not yet.

14 Then Iesus answered, and said to it, Neuer man eat fruit of thee hereafter while the worlde standeth: and his disciples heard it.

15 ¶ And they came to Ierusalem, and Iesus went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde dooues.

16 Neither woulde he suffer that any man should carie a vessel through the Temple.

17 And he taught, saying vnto them, As it is not written, Myne house shalbe called the House of prayer vnto all nations? but you haue made it a denne of theecues.

18 And the Scribes & hie Priestes heard it, and sought how to destroy him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was astonied at his doctrine.

19 But when euen was come, Iesus went out of the cite.

20 ¶ And in the morning as they passed by, they sawe the figge tree dried vp from the rootes.

21 Then Peter remembered, and saide vnto him, Master, behold, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Haue faith in God.

23 For verely I say vnto you, that whosoever shall saye vnto this mounaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, and shall not wauer in his heart, but shall beleue that those things which he saith, shall come to passe, whatsoeuer he sayeth, shalbe done to him.

24 ¶ Therefore I say vnto you, whatsoeuer ye desire when ye pray, beleue that ye shall haue it, and it shalbe done vnto you.

25 ¶ But when ye shall stand, and praye, forgive, if ye haue any thing against any man, that your Father also which is in heauen, may forgieue you your trespasses.

26 For if you will not forgieue, your Father which is in heauen, will not pardon you your trespasses.

27 ¶ Then they came againe to Ierusalem: and as hee walked in the Temple, there came to him the hie Priestes, and the Scribes, and the Elders,

CHAP. XII.

The vineyard is let out. 14 Obedience and tribute due to Princes. 15 The resurrection of the dead. 21 The summe of the Lawe. 23 Christ the sonne of Dauid. 38 Hypocrites must be eschewed. 42 The offering of the poore widowe.

1 And he began to speake vnto them in parables. * A certaine man planted a vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the winepresse, and built a towre in it, & let it out to husband-men, and went into a strange countrey.

2 And at a tyme, hee sent to the husband-men a seruant, that he might receiue of the husbandme of the fruite of the vineyard.

3 But they tooke him, and beat him, and sent him away emptic.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them an other seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe he sent an other, and him they slewe, and many other, beating some,
and killing some.

6 Yet had he one sonne, his dere beloued:
him also he sent the last vnto the, saying,
They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen said among themselves, This is the beire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shalbe ours.

8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall then the Lorde of the vineyard doe? He will come and destroye these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

10 Haue ye not read so much as this Scripture? * The stone which the builders did refuse, is made the head of the corner?

11 This was done of the Lorde, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

12 Then they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceiued that he spake that parable against them:
therefore they left him, and went their way.

13 * And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians that they might take him in his talke.

14 And when they came, they sayde vnto him, Master, we knowe that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou confide-rest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly, is it lawful to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Should we giue it, or should we not giue it? But he knew their hypocrisie, and said vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penie, that I may see it.

16 So they brought it, and hee sayde vnto them, Whose is this image & superscrip-tion? and they said vnto him, Cesars.

17 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto the, * Giue to Cesar the things that are Ces-ars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they marueiled at him.

18 * Then came the Sadduces vnto him, Mat. 22.9.
(which say, there is no resurrection) and Luk. 20.27.
they asked him, saying,

19 Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother dye, and leaue his wife, and leaue no childre, that his brother should take his wife, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.

20 There were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no issue.

21 Then the second tooke her, and he died, neither did he yet leaue yssue, & the third likewise.

22 So seuen had her, & left no yssue: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she be of the?

24 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto the,
Are ye not therefore deceived, because ye knowe not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, neyther men marry, nor wyues are married, but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise againe, haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, howe in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I am the God of Abra-hraham, and the God of Isaac, & the God of Iacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the liuing. Ye are therefore greatly deceiued.

28 * Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, and perceyuing that hee had answered them well, he asked him, Which is the first commandement of all?

29 Iesus answered him, The first of all the comandements is, * Heare, Israel, The Lord our God is the onely Lord.

30 Thou shalt therefore loue the Lorde thy God with all thine heart, & wth al thy soule, and with all thy minde, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandement.

31 And the second is like, that is, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self. There is none other commaundement greater then these.

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as him selfe, is more then all burnt offerings and sacrifices.
34 Then, when Iesus sawe that hee answered discretely, hee said vnto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.
35 ¶ And Iesus answered and said teaching in the Temple, How saye the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid?
36 For Dauid him selfe said by the holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstoole.
37 Then Dauid him selfe calleth him Lord: by what meanes is he then his sonne? and much people heard him gladly.

42 And there came a certaine poore widow, and the threwe in two mites, which make a quadrin.
43 Then hee called vnto him his disciples, and said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that this poore, widowe hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasure.
44 For they all did cast in of their superfluitie: but shee of her povertie did cast in all that she had, euen all her liuing.

¶ The destruction of Ierusalem. 10 The Gospell shall be preached to all. 22 The persecutions and false Prophets which shall be before the coming of Christ, whose tyme is vncertaine. 33 He exhorteth euery one to watch.
1 And as hee went out of the Temple, one of his disciples saide vnto him, Master, see what stones & what buildings are here.
2 ¶ Then Iesus answered & said vnto him, Seekest thou these great buildings? there shall not bee left one stone vpon a stone, that shall not be throwen downe.
3 And as hee sate on the mount of Oliues, ouer against the Temple, Peter, & James, and Iohn, & Andrew asked him secretly, 4 Tell vs, when shall these thinges be? and what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?
5 And Iesus answered them, and began to say, ¶ Take heede least any man deceiue you.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.
7 Furthermore when yee shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres, bee ye not troubled: for such thinges must needs bee: but the end shall not be yet.
8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be earthquakes in diuers quarters, & there shall be famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.
9 But take yee heede to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to the Councels, and to the Synagogues: ye shall be beaten, and brought before rulers and Kinges for my sake, for a testimoniall vnto them.
10 And the Gospell must first be published among all nations.
11 ¶ But when they leade you, and deliuer you vp, take ye no thought afore, neither premeditate what ye shall say: but whatsoever is giuen you at the same time, that speake: for it is not ye that speake, but the holy Ghost.
12 Yea, and the brother shall deliuer the brother to death, and the father the sonne, & the children shall rise against their parentes, and shall cause them to die.
13 And yee shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: but whosoever shall endure vnto the end, hee shall be saued.
14 ¶ Moreouer when yee shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet) standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth, consider it) then let them that be in Iudea, flee into the mountaines, 15 And let him that is vpon the house, not come downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.
16 And let him that is in the field, nor turne backe againe vnto the thinges which hee left behind him, to take his clothes.
17 Then woe shall be to them that are with childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.
18 ¶ Pray therefore that your flight be not in the winter.
19 For there shall be in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this time, neither shall be.
20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saued: but for the electes sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.
21 ¶ Then if any man say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or loe, he is there, beleuee it not.
22 For false Christes shall rise, and false Prophets, and shall shew signes and wonders, to deceiue if it were possible, the verie elect.
23 But take ye heede: behold, I haue shewed you all things before.

written, * I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shalbe scattered.
 28 But after that I am risen, I will goe into * Galile before you.
 29 And Peter said vnto him, Although all men should be offended, yet would not I.
 30 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I saye vnto thee, this day, even in this night, before the cocke crowe twice, thou shalt denie me thrise.
 31 But he said more earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not denie thee: likewise also said they all.
 32 ¶ After they came into a place named Gethsemane: the he said to his disciples, Sit ye hcre, till I haue prayed.
 33 And he tooke with him Peter, & James, and Iohn, and he began to be afraid, & in great heauines, 34 And saide vnto them. My soule is verie heauie, even vnto the death: tarie here & watch.
 35 So he went forward a litle, and fell down on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.
 36 And he said, Abba, Father, all thinges are possible vnto thee: take away this cup from me: neuertheless, not y I will, but that thou wilt, be done.
 37 Then he came & found them sleeping, and saide to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one houre?
 38 ¶ Watch ye, and pray, that yee enter not into tentation: the spirit in deede is ready, but the flesh is weake.
 39 And againe he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.
 40 And hee returned, and found them a sleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie: neither knew they what they should answer him.
 41 And he came the third time, & said vnto them, * Sleepe hence forth, and take your rest: it is ynough: the houre is come: behold, the Sonne of man is deliuered into the hands of sinners.
 42 Rise vp: let vs go: he that betrayeth me, is at hand.
 43 ¶ And immediatly while he yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, & with him a great multitude with swordes & stauies from the hie Priestes, & Scribes, and Elders.
 44 And hee that betrayed him, had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shal kisse, he it is: take him & leade him away safely.
 45 And as sone as he was come, hee went straight way to him, and said, Master, Master, and kissed him.
 46 Then they laid their hands on him, and tooke him.
 47 And y one of them that stood by, drewe out a sword, and smote a seruant of the hie Priest, and cut of his eare.
 48 And Iesus answered and said vnto the, Yee bee come out as vnto a thiefe with swordes and with stauies to take me.

 49 I was daylye with you reaching in the Temple, and yee tooke me not: but this is done that the Scriptures shoulde be fulfilled.
 50 Then they all forsooke him, and fled.
 51 And there followed him a certaine yong man, clothed in linnen vpo his bare bodie, and the yong men caught him.
 52 But he left his linnen cloth, and fled fro them naked.
 53 ¶ So they led Iesus away to the hie Priest, and to him came all the hie Priestes, and the Elders, and the Scribes.
 54 And Peter followed him, afarte of, euen into the hall of the hie Priest, & sate with the seruantes, and warmed him selfe at the fire.
 55 And the hie Priestes, and all the Counsell sought for witness against Iesus, to put him to death, but found none.
 56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.
 57 Then there arose certaine, & bare false witness against him, saying,
 58 We heard him say, * I will destroye this Temple made with handes, and within three dayes I will builde another, made without handes.
 59 But their witness yet agreed not together.
 60 Then the hie Priest stood vp amongs them, and asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is the matter that these beare witness against thee?
 61 But hee helde his peace, and answered nothing. Again y hie Priest asked him, and said vnto him, Art thou Christe the Sonne of the Blessed?
 62 And Iesus said, I am he, * and ye shall see the * Sone of man sit at the right hand of the power of God, & come in the cloudes of heauen.
 63 Then the hie Priest rent his clothes and said, What haue wee any more neede of witnesses?
 64 Yee haue heard the blasphemie: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.
 65 And some began to spit at him, and to couer his face, & to beate him with fistes, and to say vnto him, Prophesie. And the sergeantes smote him with their rods.
 66 ¶ And as Peter was beneath in the hall, there came one of the maides of the hie Priest.
 67 And when she saw Peter warming him selfe, shee looked on him, and said, Thou wast also with Iesus of Nazaret.
 68 But he denied it, saying, I knowe him not, neither wor I what thou sayest. Then he went out into the porche, and the cocke crewe.
 69 ¶ Then a maid saw him againe, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.
 70 But he denied it againe: and anon after, they that stood by, said againe to Peter, Surely

CHAP. XV.

1 Iesus is led to Pilate. 25 He is condemned, reviled and put to death. 46 And is buried by Ioseph.

1 And * anon in the dawning, the high Priests helde <sup>a</sup> a counsell with the Elders, and the Scribes, & the whole Counsell, and bound Iesus, and led him away, & deliuered him to Pilate.

Mat. 27. 1.

Luke. 22. 66.

Iohn. 18. 19.

a For the Romans gaue them no authoritie to put any man to death.

2 The Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answered, and said vnto him, Thou saiest it.

3 And the hie Priests accused him of many things.

Mat. 27. 19.

Luke. 23. 3.

Iohn. 18. 31.

4 * Wherefore Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? beholde howe many things they witnes against thee.

b He would not defend his cause but prefeted him self willingly to be condemned.

5 But Iesus answered <sup>b</sup> no more at all, so that Pilate marueiled.

6 Now at the feast Pilate did deliuer a prisoner vnto the, whomsoever they would desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, which was bound with his fellowes, that had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cryed aloud, and began to desire <sup>c</sup> that he would do as he had <sup>c</sup> euer done vnto them.

c The people alwayes mainteine their customs, although they be worth nothing.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and saide, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

10 For he knew that the hie Priests had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the hie Priests had moued the people <sup>d</sup> to desire that he would rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said again vnto them, What will ye then that I do <sup>d</sup> with him, whom ye call the King of the Iewes?

13 And they cryed againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate said vnto them, But what euill hath he done? And they cryed the more feruently, Crucifie him.

d When a iudge hath respect to me, he quite forgetteth justice.

15 So Pilate <sup>d</sup> willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

Or, Prison.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into <sup>e</sup> hall, which is the <sup>e</sup> common hall, and called together the whole bande,

17 And clad him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, & put it about his head,

18 And began to salute him, saying, Haile, King of the Iewes.

Or, flak.

19 And they smote him on the head with a <sup>f</sup> reede, and spat vpon him, & bowed the knees, & did him reuerence.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke the purple of him, and put his own clothes on him, & led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they <sup>g</sup> compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the countrey, & was father of Alexander & Rufus) to beare his crosse.

Mat. 27. 32.

Luke. 23. 26.

It was the custom to make him that was condemned, to carry his crosse, but Iesus was not able for weakness.

22 * And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens skulles.

23 And they gaue him to drink wine mingled <sup>h</sup> with myrrhe: but he receiued it not.

Mat. 27. 33.

Luke. 23. 39.

Iohn. 19. 29.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots for the, what euery man should haue.

f Which was to hasten his death but he would not drinke it, because he would waite for the hour that his Father had appointed, that he might render vnto him perfect obedience.

25 And it was <sup>i</sup> the third houre, when they crucified him.

g The Iewes divided their day into foure parts, so that by the third houre here ment the third part of the day, which was from six a clock to nine, at what time Mat. saith he was crucified.

26 And the title of his cause was written about, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also <sup>j</sup> with him two thieues, the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, * And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, * Hey, thou that destroyest the Temple, & buildest it in three dayes, 30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the hie Priests mocking, saide among them selues with the Scribes, He saued other men, him selfe he cannot saue.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel now come downe from the crosse, that we may see, & beleuee. * They also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

h Meaning the one of the that were crucified.

33 ¶ Now when the sixth houre was come, darkenes arose ouer <sup>k</sup> all the land vntill the ninth houre.

i Because this darkenes was onely ouer the land of Canan, when e here of the world was light, the miracle is the greater.

34 And at the <sup>l</sup> ninth houre Iesus cried with a loud voyce, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsake me?

k Which was the third part of the day, and about three of clock after noone.

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, <sup>m</sup> Behold, he calleth Elias.

l This was spoken mockingly.

36 And one ran, and filled a <sup>n</sup> sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone: let vs see if Elias will come and take him downe.

m Who had charge our hundred men.

37 And Iesus cryed with a loud voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.

38 ¶ And the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome.

39 Now when the <sup>o</sup> Centurion, which stood ouer against him, saw that he thus crying gaue vp the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Sonne of God.

40 ¶ There were also women, which beheld afarre of, among whome was Marie Magdalene, and Marie (the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses) and Salome, 41 Which also when he was in Galile,* followed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other women which came vp with 7 him vnto Ierusalem.

42 ¶ And now when night was come (because it was the day of the preparation, that is before the Sabbath)

43 Ioseph of Arimathea, an <sup>n</sup> honourable Counsellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the body 9 of Iesus.

44 And Pilate marueiled, if he were already dead, and called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether hee had bene any while dead.

45 And when he knew the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the bodie to Ioseph, 46 Who bought a linnen cloth, and tooke him downe, and wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and laid him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the dore of the sepulchre.

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses mother beheld where he should be layed.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The women come to the grave. 9 Christ being risen againe, appeareth to Magdalene. 14 Also to the cleue & reproacheth their vnbelief. 16 He cometh the preaching of the Gospel & the ministration of baptisme vnto the.

1 And when the Sabbath day was past, Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of Iames, and Salome, bought sweete oynments that they might come, & embaulme him.

2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the sunne was yet rising, 3 And they said one to another, Who shall rolle vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they sawe that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one.)

5 So they went into the sepulchre, and saw a yong man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they were afraide.

6 But he said vnto them, Be not afraid: ye seeke Iesus of Nazaret, which hath bene crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place, where they put him.

But go your way, and tell his disciples, & Peter, that he wil go before you into Galile: there shal ye see him,* as he said vnto you.

8 And they went out quickly, & fled from the sepulchre: for they trembled, & were amased, neither said they any thing to any man: for they were afraied.

¶ And when Iesus was risen againe, in y morow (w<sup>h</sup> was the first day of the weeke) hee appeared first to Marie Magdalene, * out of whome he had cast seven deuils.

10 And she went and tolde them that had bene with him, which mourned & wept.

11 And when they heard that he was aliue, and had appeared to her, they beleueed it not.

12 ¶ After that, he appeared vnto two of them in an other forme, as they walked and went into the country.

13 And they went and tolde it to the remnant, but they beleueed them not.

14 ¶ Finally, he appeared vnto the cleuen as they sat together, and reproued the of their vnbelief and hardnes of heart, because they beleueed not them which had seene him, being risen vp againe.

15 And he said vnto them, * Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to e- uerie creature.

16 He that shall beleuee and be baptized, shalbe saued: * but he that wil not beleuee, shalbe damned.

17 And these tokens shall followe them that beleuee, * In my name they shall cast out deuils, and * shall speake with new tongues,

18 * And shall take away serpents, & if they shall drinke any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them: * they shall lay their hands on the sicke, and they shall recouer.

19 * So after the Lord had spoken vnto the, he was receiued into heauen, and sat at the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and preached e- uery where. And the * Lord wrought with them, and confirmed the word w<sup>h</sup> signes that followed, Amen.

5 In the time of Herode king of Iudea, there was a certaine Prieſt named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Eliſabet.

Zacharias is domme.

6 Both were iust before God, and walked in all the commandements and ordinances of the Lord, without reproofe.

7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren: and both were well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, as he executed the Priests office before God, as his course came in order,

9 According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense, when he went into the Temple of the Lord.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning.

11 Then appeared vnto him an Angell of the Lord standing at the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias sawe him, hee was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angell said vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, & thy wife Elisabeth shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioye and gladnes, & many shall reioyce at his birth.

15 For he shall bee great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drinke wine, nor strong drinke: and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turne to their Lord God.

17 For he shall goe before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turne the heartes of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdome of the iust men, to make readie a people prepared for the Lord.

18 Then Zacharias saide vnto the Angell, Whereby shall I knowe this? for I am an olde man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angell answered, and said vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shewe thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be domme, and not be able to speake, vntill the day that these things be done, because thou beleuest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that he taried so long in the Temple.

22 And when he came out, he coulde not speake vnto them: then they perceiued that he had sene a vision in the Temple: for he made signes vnto them, and remained domme.

23 And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that he departed to his owne house.

24 And after those daies, his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid her selfe sixe moneths, saying,

S. Luke.

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me, in the dayes wherein hee looked on me, to take from me my rebuke among men.

26 And in the sixte moneth, the Angell Gabriel was sent from God vnto a city of Galile, named Nazaret, 27 To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And the Angell went in vnto her, and said, Haile thou that art freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and thought what manner of salutation that should be.

30 Then the Angell said vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 For Io, thou shalt conceive in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name IESVS.

32 He shall be great, and shall bee called the Sonne of the most High, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33 And hee shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be none end.

34 Then said Marie vnto the Angell, How shall this be, seeing I knowe not man?

35 And the Angell answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall ouershadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be borne of thee, shall be called the Sonne of God.

36 And beholde, thy cousin Elisabeth, thee hath also conceived a sonne in her olde age: and this is her sixte moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing be vnpossible.

38 Then Marie said, Beholde, the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word. So the Angell departed from her.

39 And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hill country with haste to a citie of Iuda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.

41 And it came to passe, as Elisabeth heard the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her bellie, and Elisabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a loude voyce, and said, Blessed art thou among women, because the fruit of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence cometh this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For Io, as soon as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in myne eares, the babe sprang in my belly for ioy.

by the image of the Angel. The foule, & the spirit of the Lord, which are two principal parts of the soule. This favour of God hath shewed to me, that he will be for ever.

According to promise made to Abraham, he would be his God, and his seed for ever. The wicked paynes for other, wherein they themselves are taken. And Marie abode with her about three moneths after, she returned to her owne house.

Not only for his benefice in pardoning his sin, but also to show he was not punished for his incontinence.

The mightie power of God and his graces which declared that he should be an excellent person. In declaring himselfe mindfull of his people and therefore is come from heaven to visite and save them. When I promise of God seemed to have failed, and the Lord of Israel to have perished, then sent he his Christ who by his invincible strength, as with a strong horne overthrowe his enemies.

- 45 And blessed is shee that beleueed: for those things shalbe performed, which were told her<sup>d</sup> from the Lord.
- 46 Then Marie saide, My<sup>e</sup> foule magnifieth the Lord,
- 47 And my spirit reioycest in God my Saviour.
- 48 For hee hath looked on the "poore degree of his seruant: for behold, I<sup>d</sup> henceforth shal al ages cal<sup>e</sup> me blessed.
- 49 Because, he that is mightie, hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.
- 50 And his mercie is from generation to generation on them that feare him.
- 51 He hath shewed strength with his arme: he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
- 52 Hee hath put downe the mightie from their seates, and exalted them of lowe degree.
- 53 Hee hath filled the hungrie with good things, and sent away the riche empie.
- 54 Hee hath vpholden Israel his seruant, being minded of his mercie
- 55 (* As hee hath spoken to our fathers, to witte, to Abraham & his<sup>e</sup> seede) for euer.
- 56 ¶ And Marie abode with her about three moneths after, she returned to her owne house.
- 57 ¶ Now Elisabets time was fulfilled, that she should be deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.
- 58 And her neighbours, and cousins heard tell howe the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they reioyced with her.
- 59 And it was so that on the eight daye they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.
- 60 But his mother answered, and said, Not so, but he shalbe called Iohn.
- 61 And they sayd vnto her, There is none of thy kinred, that is named with this name.
- 62 Then they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.
- 63 So he asked for writing tables, & wrote, saying, His name is Iohn, and they marueiled all.
- 64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake and praised God.
- 65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt nere vnto them, and al these wordes were noysed abroade throughout all the hill country of Iudea.
- 66 And all they that heard them, layd them vp in their heartes, saying, What maner childe shall this be! and the<sup>e</sup> hand of the Lord was with him.
- 67 Then his father Zacharias was filled with the holie Ghost, and prophesied, saying,
- 68 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, because he hath<sup>e</sup> visited<sup>e</sup> and redeemed his people,
- 69 * And hath raised vp the<sup>e</sup> horne of saluation vnto vs, in the house of his ser-

- uant David,
- 70 * As he spake by the mouth of his holy Prophets, which were since the worlde began, saying,
- 71 That he would sende vs deliuerance from our enemies, and from the handes of al that hate vs,
- 72 That he would shewe<sup>e</sup> mercie towards our fathers, and remember his holy Couenant,
- 73 * And the othe which hee sware to our father Abraham:
- 74 Which was, that he would graunt vnto vs, that we being deliuered out of the hãds of our enemies, should<sup>e</sup> serue him without feare
- 75 All the dayes of our life, in<sup>e</sup> holines and righteousness before him.
- 76 And thou, babe, shalt bee called the Prophet of the most High: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, to prepare his wayes,
- 77 And to giue knowledge of saluation vnto his people, by the<sup>e</sup> remission of their sinnes,
- 78 Through the tender mercie of our God, whereby<sup>e</sup> the<sup>e</sup> day spring from an high hath visited vs,
- 79 To giue light to them that sit in darkenes, and in the shadowe of death, and to guide our feete into the way of<sup>e</sup> peace.
- 80 And the childe grewe, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in<sup>e</sup> the wilderness, till the day came, that he should shewe himselfe vnto Israel.
- ¶ That is, of all felicitie. ¶ He meaneth that part of Iudea which was least inhabited, where also the grosse and rude people dwelled,

CHAP. II.

- 7 The birth and circumcision of Christ. 22. He was receiued into the Temple. 24. Simeon and Anna prophesie of him. 40. He was founde among the doctours. ¶ His obedience to father and mother.
- ¶ And it came to passe in those dayes, that there came a commaundement from Augustus Cesar, that all the<sup>e</sup> worlde should be<sup>e</sup> taxed.
- (This first<sup>e</sup> taxing was made when Cyrenius was gouernour of Syria.)
- ¶ Therefore went all to be taxed, euerie man to his owne citie.
- ¶ And Ioseph also went vp from Galile out of a citie called Nazaret, into Iudea, vnto the citie of<sup>e</sup> David, which is called Beth-lehem (because he was of the house and linage of David.)
- ¶ To be taxed with Marie that was giuen him to wife, which was with childe.
- ¶ And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that she should be deliuered.
- ¶ And she brought forth her<sup>e</sup> first begotten sonne, and wrapped him in swathing clothes, and laid him in a<sup>e</sup> cratche, because there was no rowme for them in the Inne.
- ¶ And there were in the same country shepherdes, abiding in the field, & keeping watche by night because of their flocke.

The shepherdes, Christ circumcised.

S. Luke.

Testimonies of Christ.

Angel.

9 And lo, the Angel of the Lord came vp to them, and the glorie of the Lord shone about them, and they were sore afraid.

10 Then the Angel said vnto them, Be not afraide: for beholde, I bring you tidings of great ioye, that shalbe to all the people:

11 That is, that vnto you is borne this daye in the cite of <sup>f</sup>Dauid, a Sauour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And <sup>g</sup>this shalbe a signe to you, Ye shall finde the childe swaddled, and layde in a cratch.

13 And straight way there was with the Angel a multitude of heauely souldiers, praising God, and saying,

14 Glorie be to God in the high heauens, and peace in earth, and towards men <sup>h</sup>good will.

15 And it came to passe when the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, that the shepheards said one to another, Let vs go then vnto Beth-lehem, and see this thing that is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 So they came with haste, and found both Marie and Ioseph, and the babe laid in the cratch.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroade the thing, which was tolde them of that childe.

18 And all that heard it, wondered at the things which were tolde them of the shepheards.

19 But Marie kept al those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God, for all that they had heard & seene, as it was spoken vnto the.

21 ¶ And when the eight dayes were accomplished, that they should circumsise the childe, his name was then called * <sup>i</sup>IESVS, which was named of <sup>j</sup>Angel, before he was concieued in the wombe.

22 * And when the dayes of <sup>k</sup>her purification after the Lawe of Moyses were accomplished, they brought him to Ierusalem, to present him to the Lorde.

23 (As it is written in the Law of the Lord, * Euerie man childe <sup>l</sup>that first openeth the wombe, shalbe called holy to the Lorde.)

24 And to giue an oblation, * as it is commaunded in the Law of the Lord, a paire of turtle dooues, or two yong pigeons.

25 And beholde, there was a man in Ierusalem, whose name was Simeon: this man was iust, and feared God, & waited for the consolation of Israel, and the <sup>m</sup>holy Ghost was vpon him.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seene the Lords Christ.

27 And he came <sup>n</sup>by the motion of the Spirit into the Temple, & when the parents brought in the childe Iesus, to do for him after the custome of the Law,

28 Then he tooke him in his armes, and praised God, and said,

29 Lord, I now lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy worde:

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy <sup>o</sup>saluation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of al people:

32 A light to be reueiled to the Gentiles, and the glorie of thy people Israel.

33 And Ioseph and his mother marueiled at those things, which were spoken touching him.

34 And Simeon <sup>p</sup>blessed them, and said vnto Marie his mother, Behold, this childe is appointed for the <sup>q</sup>sal and rising againe of many in Israel, and for a signe which shalbe spoken against,

35 (Yea and a <sup>r</sup>sworde shall pearce through thy soule) that the <sup>s</sup>thoughts of manie hearts may be opened.

36 And there was a Prophetisse, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, and had <sup>t</sup>liued with an husband seuen yeres from her virginitee:

37 And she was widow about foure score, & foure yeres, and went <sup>u</sup>not out of the Temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers, night and day.

38 She then comming at the same instant vpon them, <sup>v</sup>confessed likewise the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Ierusalem.

39 And when they had performed al things according to the Lawe of the Lorde, they returned into Galile to their owne cite Nazareth.

40 And the childe grew, and waxed strong in Spirit, and was filled with wisdom, & the grace of God was with him.

41 ¶ Nowe his parents went to Ierusalem euerie yere, <sup>w</sup>at the feaste of the Pasco-

42 And when he was twelue yeere olde, and they were come vp to Ierusalem, after the custome of the feaste,

43 And had finished the dayes thereof, as they returned, the childe Iesus remained in Ierusalem, and Ioseph knew not nor his mother, 44 But they supposing, that he had bene in the companie, went a dayes journey, and sought him among <sup>x</sup>their kinsfolke, and acquaintance.

45 And when they founde him not, they turned backe to Ierusalem, and sought him.

46 And it came to passe three dayes after, that they founde him in the Temple, sitting in the middes of the <sup>y</sup>doctours, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him, were astonished at his vnderstanding, and answers.

48 So when they sawe him, they were amazed, and his mother said vnto him, Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? behold, thy father and I haue sought thee with heauie

<sup>g</sup> Because they shoulde not be offended with Christs poore estate, the Angel preuenieth this doubt, and sheweth in what sort they should find him.
<sup>h</sup> The free mercie and good wil of God, which is the fountaine of our peace and felicitie, and is chiefly declared to the elect.

C. H. A. P. III.

The preaching, baptisme, & prisonment of Iohn. 15 He is thought to be Christ. 21 Christ is baptized. 23 His age, and teaching.

NOW in the fifteth yere of the reigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour of Iudea, and Herode being Tetrarch of Galilee, & his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iurea, and of the countrey of Trachonitis, & Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abilene,

(When Annas and Calaphias were the high Priests) the word of God came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias in the wilderness.

* And he came into all the coasts about Iordan, preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes.

As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Esaias the Prophet, which saith,

The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

Euerie valley shalbe filled, and euerie mountaine, and hill shalbe brought lowe, and crooked things shalbe made straight, and the rough wayes shalbe made smooth.

6 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then said hee to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, * O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruites worthy amendment of life, and begin not to saye with your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to rayse vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Now also is the axe laid vnto the roote of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, shalbe hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

11 And he answered, and said vnto them, * He that hath two coats, let him part with him that hath none: and hee that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12 Then came there Publicanes also to be baptized, and said vnto him, Master, what shall we do?

13 And hee saide vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you,

14 The souldiers likewise demanded him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse anie falsly, and be content with your wages.

15 As the people waited, and al men mused in their hearts of Iohn, if he were not the Christ,

16 Iohn answered, and said to them all, * I indeede baptize you with water, but one stronger then I, commeth, whose shoes latcher I am not worthy to vnloose: he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

17 * Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will make cleane his floore, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaffe will he burne vp with fire that neuer shall be quenched.

18 Thus then exhorting with manie other things, he preached vnto the people.

19 * But when Herode the Tetrarch was rebuked of him, for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the euils which Herode had done, 20 He added yet this about all, that he shut vp Iohn in prison.

21 * Nowe it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, and that Iesus was baptized and did praye, that the heauen was opened:

22 And the holy Ghost came downe in a bodily shap like a doue, vpon him, and there was a voice from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne: in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Iesus him selfe began to be about thirtie yeres of age, being as men supposed the sonne of Ioseph, which was the sonne of Eli,

24 The sonne of Matthat, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Melchij, the sonne of Ianna, the sonne of Ioseph,

25 The sonne of Matthatias, the sonne of Amos, the sonne of Naum, the sonne of Eli, the sonne of Nagge,

26 The sonne of Maath, the sonne of Matthatias, the sonne of Semai, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Iuda,

27 The sonne of Ioanna, the sonne of Rhese, the sonne of Zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Neui,

28 The sonne of Melchij, the sonne of Addi, the sonne of Cosam, the sonne of Elmodan, the sonne of Er,

29 The sonne of Iose, the sonne of Eliezer, the sonne of Iorim, the sonne of Matthat, the sonne of Leui,

30 The sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Iuda, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Ionan, the sonne of Ehacim,

31 The sonne of Melea, the sonne of Manan, the sonne of Mattatha, the sonne of Nathan, the sonne of Dauid,

32 The sonne of Iesse, the sonne of Obed, the sonne of Booz, the sonne of Salmon, the sonne of Naasson, 33 The sonne of Aminadab, the sonne of Aram, the sonne of Eltoim, the sonne of Phares,

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an vnclane deuill, which cryed with a loude voyce, 34 Saying, Oh, what haue wee to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazaret? art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, euen the Holy one of God.
 35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. Then the deuill throwing him in the middes of them, came out of him, and hurt him not.
 36 So feare came on them al, and they spake among them selues, saying, What thing is this? for with authoritie and power hee commandeth the foule spirits, and they come out?
 37 And the fame of him spred abroade throughout all the places of the cuntry round about.
 38 ¶ And he rose vp, and came out of the Synagogue, & entred into Simons house. And Simons wifes mother was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for her.
 39 Then he stooode ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her: and immediatly she arose, and ministred vnto him.
 40 Now when the sunne was downe, al they that had sicke folkes of diuers diseases, brought them vnto him, and he laid his hands on euerie one of them, and healed them.
 41 ¶ And deuils also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art the Christ the Sonne of God: but he rebuked them, and suffred them not to saye that they knewe him to be the Christ.
 42 And when it was day, he departed, and went forth into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him that he should not depart from them.
 43 But he said vnto them, Surely I must also preache the kingdome of God to other cities: for therefore am I sent.
 44 And he preached in the Synagogues of Galilee.

CHAP. V.

¶ Christ preacheth out of the ship. 6 The great draught of fishes. 10 Certaine disciples are called. 13 He cleaueth the Lape. 18 He healeth the man of the palsey. 27 He calleth Mattheu the customar, 30 Eateth with sinners, 34 And excuseth him touching fasting.
 1 ¶ Then it came to passe, as the people pressed vpon him to heare the worde of God, that he stooode by the lake of Genesaret,
 2 And sawe two shippes stande by the lake side, but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.
 3 And he entred into one of the shippes, which was Simons, and required him that he would thrust of a litle from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the ship.
 4 ¶ Now when he had left speaking, hee said vnto Simo, Lanche out into the deep, and let downe your nettes to make a draught.

5 Then Simon answered, and sayde vnto him, Master, we haue trauailed all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheless at thy word I will let downe the net.
 6 And when they had so done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.
 7 And they beckened to their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and helpe them, who came then, & filled both the shippes, that they did sinke.
 8 Nowe when Simon Peter sawe it, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lorde, go from me: for I am a sinful man.
 9 For he was vterly astonied, and al that were with him, for the draught of fishes which they tooke.
 10 And so was also James and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus, which were companions with Simon. Then Iesus said vnto Simon, Feare not from henceforth thou shalt catch men.
 11 And when they had brought the shippes to land, they forooke all, and followed him.

¶ ¶ Nowe it came to passe, as he was in a certaine citie, behold, there was a man full of leprosie, and when he sawe Iesus, he fel on his face, and besought him, saying, Lorde, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 So he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he commanded him that he should tel it no man: but Go, faith he, and shewe thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as Moses hath commanded, for a witnes vnto them.

15 But so much more went there a fame abroade of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, & to be healed of him of their infirmities.

16 But he kepeth him selfe apart in the wilderness, and prayed.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, on a certaine day, as he was teaching, that the Pharises and doctours of the Lawe sate by, which were come out of euerie towne of Galilee, & Iudea, and Ierusalem, and the power of the Lord was in him to heale them.

18 ¶ Then beholde, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palsey, and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the presse, they went vp on the house, and let him downe through the tiling, bed & all, in the middes before Iesus.

20 And when he sawe their faith, he sayde vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharises began to thinke, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? who can forgive sinnes, but God onely?

22 But whē Iesus perceived their thoughts, he answered, and said vnto them, What thinke ye in your hearts?

For as much as his diuinitie was sufficiently shewed by this miracle, he gaue the hereby to vnderstand yf he had power to forgive sinnes.

23 Whether is easier to saye, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to saye, Rise and walke?

24 But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath authoritie to forgive sinnes in earth (he said vnto the sicke of the palse) I say to thee, Arise: take vp thy bed, and go to thine house.

25 And immediately hee rose vp before them, and tooke vp his bed whereon hee lay, and departed to his own house, praising God.

26 And they were all amased, and prayed God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubtes we haue seene strange things to daye.

27 ¶ And after that, he went forth and sawe a Publicane named Leui, sitting at the receit of custome, and said vnto him, Follow me.

28 And hee left all, rose vp, and followed him.

29 Then Leui made him a great feast in his own house, where there was a great companie of Publicanes, and of other that sat at table with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharises among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, Why eat ye and drinke ye with Publicanes and sinners?

31 Then Iesus answered, & said vnto them, They that are whole, neede not the Physicion, but they that are sicke.

32 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 ¶ Then they sayde vnto him, Why do the disciples of the Pharises also, but thine eat, and drinke?

34 And he said vnto them, Can ye make the children of the wedding chamber to fast, as long as the bridegrome is with them?

35 But the dayes will come, euen when the bridegrome shall bee taken awaye from them: then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 Again hee spake also vnto them a parable, No man putteth a piece of a new garment into an olde yesture: for then the newe renteth it, and the piece taken out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde.

Reade Mat. 9. 17.

37 ¶ Also no man powreth new wine into olde vessels: for then the newe wine will breake the vessels, and it will runne out, and the vessels will perish.

38 But new wine must be powred into new vessels: so both are preferred.

39 Also no man that drinketh olde wine, straight way desireth newe: for he sayth, The olde is better.

¶ And it came to passe on the seconde Sabbath, after the firste, that hee went through the corne fieldes, and his disciples plucked the eares of corne, and did eate, and rubbe them in their hands. And certaine of the Pharises saide vnto them, Why do ye that which is not lawfull to do on the Sabbath dayes?

¶ Then Iesus answered them, and sayde, Have ye not read this, that Dauid did when he himselve was an hungred, and they which were with him,

Howe he went into the house of God, & tooke, and ate the shewe bread, and gaue also to them which were with him, which was not lawfull to eate, but for the Priests onely?

¶ And hee said vnto them, The Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day.

¶ It came to passe also on another Sabbath, that he entred into the Synagogue and taught, and there was a man, whose right hande was dried vp.

¶ And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

¶ But he knewe their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hande, Arise, and stand vp in the middes. And he arose, and stood vp.

¶ Then sayde Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question. Whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to doe euill? to saue life, or to destroye it?

¶ And he behelde them all in compasse, and said vnto the man, Stretche forth thine hande. And he did so, and his hand was restored againe, as whole as the other.

¶ Then they were filled full of madnes, & communed one with another, what they might do to Iesus.

¶ And it came to passe in those dayes, that he went into a mountaine to praye, and spent the night in prayer to God.

¶ And when it was day, he called his disciples, and of them hee chose twelue, which also he called Apostles.

¶ Then hee came downe with them, and stood in a plaine place, with the copanie of his disciples, and a great multitude of people.

people out of all Iudea, and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:

18 And they that were vexed with foule spirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ And hee lifted vp his eyes vpon his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye: poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 * Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be satisfied: blessed are ye that weepe now: for ye shall laugh.

22 * Blessed are ye when men hate you, and when they separate you, & reuile you, and put out your name as euill, for the Sonne of mans sake.

23 Reioyce ye in that day, and be glad: for beholde, your rewarde is great in heauen: for after this maner their fathers did to the Prophets.

24 * But wo be to you that are rich: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

25 * Wo be to you that are full: for yee shall hunger. Wo be to you that now laugh: for ye shall waile and weepe.

26 Wo be to you when all men speake well of you: for so did their fathers to the false Prophets.

27 ¶ But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies: do wel to them which hate you.

28 Bless them that curse you, and praye for them which hurte you.

29 * And vnto him that smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: and him that taketh away thy cloke, forbidde not to take thy coate also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 * And as ye would that men should do to you, so do ye to them likewise.

32 * For if yee loue them which loue you, what thanke shall yee haue? for euen the sinners loue those that loue them.

33 And if ye doe good for them which doe good for you, what thanke shall yee haue? for euen the sinners do the same.

34 * And if yee lend to them of whome yee hope to receiue, what thanke shall yee haue? for euen the sinners lend to sinners, to receiue the like.

35 Wherefore loue yee your enemies, and do good, and lend, looking for nothing againe, and your rewarde shall be great, & ye shall be the children of * the most High: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, & to the euill.

36 Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is mercifull.

37 ¶ He that should be discouraged to serue God.

38 They are commonly called sinners, because of a wicked life, and without al feare of God.

39 Not onely not hoping for profit, but to lose the stocke and principal, for as much as Christ byndeth him selfe so repaie the whole with a most liberal interest.

37 ¶ Judge not, and ye shall not be iudged: condemne not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgie, and yee shall bee forgiven.

38 Giue, and it shall bee giuen vnto you: a good measure, pressed downe, shaken together and running ouer shall men giue into your bosome: for with what measure ye mete, with the same shall me mete to you againe.

39 And he spake a parable vnto them, * Can the blinde lead the blinde? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 * The disciple is not aboue his master: but whosoever will be a perfect disciple, shall be as his master.

41 ¶ And why? seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, & considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou seest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Hypocrite, cast out the beame out of thine owne eye first, and then shalt thou see perfectly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 ¶ For it is not a good tree that bringeth forth euill fruite: neither an euill tree, that bringeth forth good fruite.

44 * For euery tree is knowen by his owne fruite: * for neither of thornes gather men figges, nor of bushes gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth good, and an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart bringeth forth euill: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 ¶ But why call ye me * Master, master, & doe not the things that I speake?

47 Whosoever commeth to me, and heareth my wordes, and doeth the same, I will shew you to whome he is like.

48 He is like a man which buildeth an house, and digged deepe, and laid the foundation on a rocke: and when the waters arose, the flood beat vpon that house, and could not shake it: for it was grounded vpon a rocke.

49 But he that heareth & doeth not, is like a man that built an house vpon the earth without foundation, against which the flood did beat, and it fel by and by: and the fall of that house was great.

CHAP. VII.

¶ He healeth the captaines seruant. 11. He raiseth vp the widowe from death to life. 19. He answereth the disciples whome Iohn Baptist sent vnto him.

24. He commendeth Iohn. 32. And reproveth the Iewes for their vnfaithfulness. 36. He censureth the Pharisee. 37. The woman waiteth her siate with her teares, and he forgiveth her finnes.

¶ When he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, hee entred into Capernaum.

¶ And a certaine Centurions seruant was sicke and readie to die, which was deare vnto him.

vnto him.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying that he was worthy that he should do this for him.

5 For he loueth, said they, our nation, and he hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter vnder my rooffe.

7 Wherefore I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but I say the word, and my seruant shall be whole.

8 For I likewise am a man set vnder authoritie, and haue vnder me souldiers, and I saye vnto one, Goe, and hee goeth, and to another, Come, and hee cometh, and to my seruant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him, and said to the people that followed him, I saye vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

10 And when they that were sent, turned backe to the house, they found the seruant that was sicke, whole.

11 And it came to passe the daye after, that he went into a citie called Nain, and manye of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.

12 Now when he came nere to the gate of the citie, beholde, there was a dead man caried out, who was the onely begotten sonne of his mother, which was a widow, and much people of the citie was with her.

13 And when the Lord sawe her, hee had compassion on her, and saide vnto her, Weepe not.

14 And hee went and touched the coffin, (and they that bare him, stoode still) and he said, Young man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And hee that was dead, sat vp, and began to speake, and he deliuered him to his mother.

16 Then there came a feare on them all, & they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is raised vp among vs, and God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth thoroughout al Iudea, and throughout al the region round about.

18 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shal we wait for another?

20 And when the men were come vnto him, they sayde, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou hee that shoulde come, or shall we wait for another?

21 And at that time, hee cured manye of their sickeneses, and plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto manye blinde men hee gaue sight.

22 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Goe your wayes and thewe Iohn, what thinges yee haue seene and heard: that the blinde see, the halte goe, the Lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise againe, and the poore receiue the Gospel.

23 And blessed is he, that shal not be offended in me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, hee began to speake vnto the people of Iohn, What went yee out into the wilderness to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

25 But what went yee out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in Kings courtes.

26 But what went ye forth to see? A Prophet? yea, I saye to you, and greater then a Prophet.

27 This is he of whome it is written, * Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I saye vnto you, there is no greater Prophet then Iohn, among them that are begotten of women: neuertheless, hee that is the least in the kingdome of God, is greater then he.

29 Then all the people that heard, and the Publicanes, iustified God, being baptized with the baptisme of Iohn.

30 But the Pharises and the expounders of the Lawe despised the counsell of God, against them selues, and were not baptized of him.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, Wherevnto shall I liken the men of this generation? & what thing are they like vnto?

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and yee haue not daunted: we haue mourned to you, and yee haue not wept.

day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and he said vnto them, Let vs go ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they lanchd forth.

23 And as they sailed, hee fell a sleepe, and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in ieopardie.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish. And he arose, and rebuked the winde, & the waues of water: and they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then he said vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, and wondered among them selues, saying, Who is this that commandeth both the windes and water, and they obey him?

26 ¶ So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galile.

27 And as he went out to land, there mette him a certaine man out of the citie, which had a deuill long time, and hee ware no clothes, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he sawe Iesus, he cryed out, and fel downe before him, & with a loude voyce said, What haue I to do with thee, Iesus the Sonne of God, the most high? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 For he commaunded the foule spirit to come out of the man: (for oft times hee had caught him: therefore he was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but hee brake the bands, and was caryed of the deuill into wildernes.)

30 Then Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him, that hee woulde not commaunde them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there by, an hearde of many swyne, feeding on an hill, & the deuils besought him, that hee woulde suffer them to enter into them. So hee suffered them.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entered into the swyne: and the herde was caryed with violence from a steepe downe place into the lake, and was choaked.

34 When the heardmen sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the citie and in the country.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Iesus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were affraide.

36 They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he, that was possessed with the deuill, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the country about the Gadarenes, besought him, that he would depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: & hee went into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, besought him that hee might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,

39 Returne into thine owne house, and shew what great things God hath done to thee. So hee went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what great things Iesus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to passe when Iesus was come again, that the people receiued him: for they alwayted for him.

41 ¶ And behold, there came a man named Iairus, & he was the ruler of the Synagogue, who fel downe at Iesus feete, & besought him that he would come into his house.

42 For hee had but a daughter onely, about twelue yeres of age, and she laye a dying (and as he went, the people thronged him).

43 And a woman hauing an yssue of blood, twelue yeres long, which had spent all her substance vpon physitions, & coulde not be healed of any:

44 When shee came behinde him, shee touched the hem of his garment, & immediately her yssue of blood stanchd.

45 Then Iesus said, Who is it that hath touched me? When euery man denied, Peter said and they that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, and treade on thee, and sayest thou, Who hath touched me?

46 And Iesus said, Some one hath touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, & fell downe before him, & tolde him before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, & how she was healed immediatly.

48 And he said vnto her, Daughter, bee of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace.)

49 While hee yet spake, there came one from the ruler of the Synagogues house, which said to him, Thy daughter is dead: diseafe not the master.

50 When Iesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Feare not: beleeue onely, and shee shal be made whole.

51 And when he went into the house, he suffered no man to go in with him, saue Peter, & Iames, & Iohn, and the father & mother of the maide.

52 And all wept, and sorowed for her: but he said, Weepe not: for she is not dead, but sleepeeth.

53 And they laughd him to skorne, knowing that she was dead.

CHAP. IX.

He sendeth out the twelve Apostles to preach. 7 Herode beareth tell of him. 11 He feedeth fise thousand men with fine loaves, and two fishes. 19 Diverse opinions of Christ. 25 He transfigureth him selfe vpon the mount. 42 He deniereth the possessed. 47 And teacheth his disciples to be lowlie. 54 They desire vengeance, but he reprehendeth them.

1 Then * called he the twelve disciples together, and gaue them power and authoritie ouer al deuils, and to heale diseases.

2 * And hee sent them to preach the kingdome of God, and to cure the sicke.

3 And he said to them, * Take nothing to your iourney, neither * staues, nor scrippe, neither bread, nor siluer, neither haue two coats.

4 And whatsoever house yee enter into, there abide, and thence departe.

5 And whosoever will not receiue you, when ye go out of that citie, * shake of the very * dust from your feete for a testimony against them.

6 And they went out, and went through euery towne preaching the Gospel, & healing euery where.

7 * Now Herode the Tetrarch heard of al that was done by him: and he doubted, because that it was saide of some, that Iohn was risen againe from the dead:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: & of some, that one of the old Prophets was risen againe.

9 Then Herod said, Iohn haue I beheaded: who then is this of whom I heare such things? and he desired to see him.

10 * And when the Apostles returned, they tolde him what great things they had done. * Then he tooke them, and went aside into a solitarie place, nere to the citie called Bethsaida.

11 But when the people knew it, they folowed him: and he receiued them, & spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had neede to bee healed.

12 * And when the day began to weare away, the twelve came, and said vnto him, Send the people away, that they may goe into the townes & villages rounde about, and lodge, and get meate: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said vnto them, * Giue yee them to eate. And they said, Wee haue no mo but fise loaves & two fishes, except wee should go, and buy meate for all this people.

14 For they were about fise thousand men. Then he said to his disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit downe,

16 Then hee tooke the fise loaves, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, and * blessed them, and brake, and gaue to the disciples, to set before the people.

17 So they did all eate, and were satisfied: & there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meate.

18 * And it came to passe as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him, & hee asked them, saying, Whome say the people that I am?

19 They answered, and said, Iohn Baptist: and others say, Elias: and some say, that one of the olde Prophets is risen againe.

20 And he said vnto them, But whome saye ye that I am? Peter answered, and saide, The Christ of God.

21 And he warned, and commanded them, that they should tell * that to no man,

22 Saying, * The Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reprobued of the Elders, and of the hie Priests and Scribes, & be slaine, and the third day rise againe.

23 * And hee said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him denie him selfe, and take vp his crosse * daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will saue his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, the same shall saue it.

25 For what auantage it a man, if hee win the whole worlde, and destroy him selfe, or lose him selfe?

26 * For whosoever shal bee ashamed of me, & of my wordes, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when hee shall come in his glory, and in the glorie of the Father, & of the holy Angels.

27 * And I tell you of a surety, there be some standing here, which shall not tast of death, till they haue scene the * kingdome of God.

28 * And it came to passe about an eight daies after those wordes, that he tooke Peter, & Iohn, and Iames, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the facion of his countenance was changed, and his garment was white and glistered.

30 And beholde, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias,

31 Which appeared in glory, & tolde of his * departing, which he should accomplish at Ierusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heauie with sleepe, & when they awoke, they sawe his glory, and the two me standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs therefore make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wist not what he said.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloude, and * ouershadowed them, and they feared when they were entring into the cloude.

40 Now I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

2 Under the colour that his disciples could not heale the sicke man, he reprooueth them, which would haue diminished his authoritie.

41 Then Iesus answered, and said, * O generation faithles, and crooked, how long now shall I bee with you, and suffer you! bring thy sonne hither.

42 And whiles he was yet comming, the deuil rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vnclane spirit, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

For I tell you that many Prophets and Kinges haue desired to see those things which ye see, & haue not seene them: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

Then beholde, a certaine expounder of the Lawe stode vp, and rempted him, saying, Master, what shall I doe, to inherite eternall life?

And he sayde vnto him, What is written in the Lawe? how readest thou?

And he answered, and said, Thou shalt loue thy Lord God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy thought, and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

Then he saide vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt liue,

But he willing to iustifie himselfe, sayde vnto Iesus, Who is then my neighbour?

And Iesus answered, and sayde, A certaine man went downe from Ierusalem to Iericho, and fell among theeues, and they robbed him of his rayment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him half dead.

And by chance there came down a certaine Priest that same way, and when he sawe him, he passed by on the other side.

And likewise also a Leuite, when he was come neere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

Then a certaine Samaritan, as hee journeyed, came neere vnto him, and when he sawe him, he had compassion on him,

And went to him, and bounde vp his woundes, and powred in oyle and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and brought him to an Inne, and made propi-sion for him.

And on the morowe when he departed, he rooke out two pence, and gaue them to the hoste, and said vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompence thee.

Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theeues?

And he said, He that shewed mercie on him. Then said Iesus vnto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

Now it came to passe as they went, that he entred into a certaine town, and a certaine womā named Martha, receiued him into her house,

And she had a sister called Marie, which also sat at Iesus feete, and hearde his preaching.

But Martha was combred about much seruing, and came to him, and said, Master, doest thou not care that my sister hath left me to serue alone? bid her therfore, that she helpe me.

And Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest, & art troubled about many things:

But one thing is needefull, Marie hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

AND so it was, that as he was praying in a certaine place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said vnto him, Master, teache vs to praye, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

<sup>a</sup> * And he said vnto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father, which art in heauen, hallowed be thy Name: Thy kingdom come: Let thy will be done euen in earth, as it is in heauen:

<sup>a</sup> Or every day, <sup>3</sup> or as much as is sufficient for this day.

<sup>a</sup> Or, pardons. <sup>b</sup> By this similitude he teacheth vs that we ought not to be discouraged, if we obtaine not incontinently that which wee demand.

<sup>a</sup> Our daily bread giue vs * for the day: And * forgive vs our sinnes: for euen we forgive euery man that is indebted to vs: And leade vs not into temptation: but deliuer vs from euill.

<sup>a</sup> * Moreouer he said vnto them, * Which of you shall haue a friende, and shall go to him at midnight, & say vnto him, Friende, lend me three loaves?

<sup>a</sup> For a friend of mine is come * out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him:

<sup>a</sup> And he within should answer, and say, Trouble me not: the doore is now shut, & my children are with me in bed: I can not rise and giue them to thee.

<sup>a</sup> I say vnto you, though he would not arise and giue him, because he is his friend, yet doubtles because of his * importunitie, he would rise, and giue him as many as hee needed.

<sup>a</sup> * And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shalbe giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knock, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

<sup>a</sup> For euery one that asketh, receiueth: & he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

<sup>a</sup> * If a sonne shall aske bread of any of you that is a father, will hee giue him a stone? or if he aske a fishe, will he for a fish giue him a serpent?

<sup>a</sup> Or if he aske an egge, will he giue him a scorpion?

<sup>a</sup> If ye then which are euill, can giue good gifts vnto your children, how much more shal you heauenly Father giue * the holy Ghost to them, that desire him?

<sup>a</sup> The chiefeest thing that wee can desire of God, is his holy Spirit.

<sup>a</sup> * Then hee cast out a deuill which was domme: and when the deuill was gone out, the domme spake, and the people wondered.

<sup>a</sup> If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whome do your * children cast them out? Therefore shall they be your iudges.

<sup>a</sup> But if I by the * finger of God cast out deuils, doubtles the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

<sup>a</sup> But when a stronger then he, commeth vpon him, and ouercommeth him: he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and deuiddeth his spoiles.

<sup>a</sup> Hee that is not * with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

<sup>a</sup> * When the vnclane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through drye places, seeking * rest: and when he findeth none, he saith, I will returne vnto myne house, whence I came out.

<sup>a</sup> And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and * garnished.

<sup>a</sup> Then * goeth he, and taketh to him * seuen other spirits worse then him selfe: and they enter in, and dwell there, * so the last state of that man is worse then the first.

<sup>a</sup> * And it came to passe as hee said these things, a certaine woman of the company lifted vp her voyce, & sayd vnto him, Blessed is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes which thou hast sucked.

<sup>a</sup> But he sayde, * Yea, rather blessed are they that heare the worde of God, and keepe it.

<sup>a</sup> * And when the people were gathered thicke together, hee began to saye, This is a wicked generation: they seeke a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen them, but the signe of * Ionas the Prophet.

<sup>a</sup> For as Ionas was a signe to the Nineuites, so shall also the Sonne of man be to this generation.

<sup>a</sup> * The Queene of the South shall rise in iudgement, with the men of this generation, and shall condemne them: for shee came from the vtmoste partes of the earth to heare the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

<sup>a</sup> * No man lighteth a candle, and putteth it in a priue place, neither vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, that they which come in, may see the light.

<sup>a</sup> * The light of the bodye is the * eye: therefore when thine eye is * single, then is thy whole body light: but if thine eye be euill, then thy body is dark.

<sup>a</sup> That is to say, your consciences. <sup>a</sup> The finger of God is taken for the vertue and power of God. <sup>a</sup> And the verbe of the Father: & the Sonne is the * holy Ghost: for so Matthew doth interpret this place. <sup>a</sup> The word signifieth an enemy or porch before an house. <sup>a</sup> Or, signify. <sup>a</sup> They that do not wholly apply them selves to destroy the kingdome of Satan, cannot be counted to be on Christs side, but are his adulteraries: how much more is he against him that maketh open warre with him as Satan doth. <sup>a</sup> Mat. 23. 43. <sup>a</sup> To the intent that he might work according to his malicious nature. <sup>a</sup> More apt to receiue him than it was afore. <sup>a</sup> If by idle words we turne backe from God, we haue greater power ouer him then hee had before. <sup>a</sup> He meneth an infinite number. <sup>a</sup> Heb. 4. 14. & 10. 39. <sup>a</sup> In Christ came here a priue call for that committed the chiefe praise whitherso due vnto him: that was, that they are bled in deed to whom he communicateth himself by his word. <sup>a</sup> Mat. 23. 34. <sup>a</sup> Ioh. 1. 9. <sup>a</sup> 1. Cor. 14. 1. <sup>a</sup> Chap. 1. 1. <sup>a</sup> 1. Cor. 14. 1. <sup>a</sup> Mat. 5. 30. <sup>a</sup> Or, candle. <sup>a</sup> Because it should guide & lead the body. <sup>a</sup> Without spot.

35 Take heed therfore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkened.

36 If therfore thy whole body shal be light, hauing no part dark, then shal all be light, euen as when a candle doeth light thee with the brightness.

37 ¶ And as he spake, a certaine Pharise befought him to dine with him: & he went in, and sate downe at table.

38 And when the Pharise sawe it, he marueiled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 * And the Lord said to him, In deede ye Pharises make cleane the outside of the cuppe, and of the platter: but the inward part is full of frauening and wickednes.

40 Ye fooles, did not hee that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 Therefore, ¶ giue almes of * those things which are within, and behold, all things shal be cleane to you.

42 But wo be to you, Pharises: for ye tithe the mynt and the rewe, & al maner herbs, and passe ouer iudgement and the loue of God: these ought ye to haue done, and not to haue left the other vndone.

43 * Wo be to you, Pharises: for ye loue the vppermost seates in the Synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Wo be to you, Scribes and Pharises, hypocrites: for ye are as graues which appear not, and the men that walke ouer them, perceiue not.

45 ¶ Then answered one of the expounders of the Lawe, and said vnto him, Master, Thus saying thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

46 * And he said, Wo be to you also, ye interpreters of the Law: for ye lade men with burdens grievous to bee borne, and ye your selues touche not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Wo be to you: for ye buye the sepulchres of the Prophets, & your fathers killed them.

48 * Truly ye beare witnes, and allowe the deedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye * builde their sepulchres.

49 Therefore said the wisdom of God, I will send them Prophets and Apostles, & of them they shall slay and persecute,

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation,

51 From the blood of * Abel vnto the blood of * Zacharias, which was slaine betwene the altar and the Temple: verely I say vnto you, it shalbe required of * this generation.

52 Wo be to you, interpreters of the Lawe: for ye haue taken away the key of knowledge: ye entred not in your selues, & the that came in, ye forbade.

53 And as he said these thinges vnto them, the Scribes and Pharises began to vrge him fore, and to prouoke him to speake of many things, 54 Laying wayte for him, and seeking to catch some thing of his mouth, whereby they might accuse him.

CHAP. XII.

Christ commadeth to auoid hypocrisie. ¶ That we should not feare man but God. 5 To confesse his deines. 10 Blasphemie against the Spirit. 14 Not to passe our vocation, 15 Not to giue our selues to conuolous care of this life, 30 But to righte confesse, almes, waiting, patience, wisdom and conseruance.

IN * the meane time, there gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, so that they trode one another: & he began to saye vnto his disciples first,

Take heed to your selues of the leauen of the Pharises, which is hypocrisie.

* For there is nothing couered, that shal not be reueiled: neither hid, that shal not be knowne.

Wherefore whatsoeuer ye haue spoken in darknes, it shalbe heard in the light: & that which ye haue spokē in the eare, in secret places, shalbe preached on the * houses.

* And I saye vnto you, my friends, be not afraid of them that kill the bodie, and after that are not able to do any more.

But I will forewarne you, whom ye shall feare: feare him which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell: yea, I say vnto you, him feare.

Are not fise sparowes bought for two farthings, and yet not one of them is forgotten before God?

Yea, and all the heares of your head are numbered: feare not therfore: ye are more of value then many sparowes.

* Also I saye vnto you, Whosoever shall confesse me before men, him shall the Sonne of man confesse also before the Angels of God.

But he that shall denie me before men, shalbe denied before the Angels of God.

And whosoever shall speake a worde against the Sonne of man, it shalbe forgien him: but vnto him, that shall blaspheme the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgien.

* And when they shall bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers and princes, take no * thought howe, or what thing ye shall answer, or what yee shall speake.

For the holy Ghost shall teache you in the same * houre, what ye ought to say.

And one of the companie said vnto him, Master, bid my brother deuide the inheritance with me.

And he said vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a deuider ouer you?

Wherefore he said vnto the, Take heed, and beware of couetousnes: for though a man haue abundance, yet his life standeth not in his riches.

And he put forth a parable vnto the, saying, * The * ground of a certaine riche mā brought forth frutes plenteously.

Therefore he thought with him selfe, saying, What shall I do, because I haue no room, where I may lay vp my frutes?

18 And he sayd, This will I doe, I will pull downe my barnes, and buyld greater, and therein will I gather all my frutes, and my goodes.

19 And I will saye to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods laide vp for many yeres: liue at ease, eate, drinke & take thy pastime.

20 But God sayde vnto him, O foole, this night will they fetch away thy soule from thee: the whole shal those things be which thou hast prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to himself, and is not rich in God.

22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, * Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eate: neither for your bodie, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more then meate: and the body more then the raiment.

24 Consider the rauens: for they neither sowe nor reape, which neither haue storehouse nor barne, & yet God feedeth the: how much more are ye better the foules?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?

26 If ye then bee not able to doe the least thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they labour not, neither spin they: yet I say vnto you, that Solomon him selfe in all his royaltie was not clothed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grasse which is to daye in the field, and to morowe is cast into the oue, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of litle faith?

29 Therefore aske not what ye shall eate, or wharfe ye shall drinke, neither stande in doute.

30 For all such things the people of the world seeke for: and your Father knoweth that ye haue neede of these things.

31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdom of God, and all these things shalbe ministred vnto you.

32 Feare not, litle flocke: for it is your Fathers pleasure, to giue you the kingdom.

33 * Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: make you bagges, which waxe not old, a treasure that can neuer faile in heauen, where no thiefe commeth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your hearts be also.

35 * Let your loynes be gird about, and your lightes burning,

36 And ye your selues like vnto men that wait for their master, when he will returne from the wedding, that whē he commeth and knocketh, they may open vnto him immediatly.

37 Blessed are those seruantes, whome the Lord when he commeth shall finde waking: verely I saye vnto you, he wil gird him selfe about, and make them to sitte downe at table, and will come forth, and serue them.

38 And if he come in the second watche, or come in the third watche, and shall finde them so, blessed are those seruantes.

39 * Now vnderstand this, that if the good man of the house had knowen at what 40 Be ye also prepared therefore: for the Sonne of man wil come at an houre when ye thinke not.

41 Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tellest thou this parable vnto vs, or euen to all?

42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithfull steward, and wyse, whom the master shall make ruler ouer his housholde, to giue them their portion of meate in season?

43 Blessed is that seruant, whom his master when he commeth, shall finde so doing.

44 Of a trueth I say vnto you, that hee will make him ruler ouer all that he hath.

45 But if that seruant saye in his heart, My master doeth deferre his coming, and shall beginne to smite the seruantes, and maidens, and to eate, & drinke, and to be drunken,

46 The master of that seruant will come in a day when he thinketh not, & at an houre when he is not ware of, and will cut him off, and giue him his portion with the vn-belieeuers.

47 And that seruant that knewe his masters will, & prepared not him selfe, neither did according to his will, shalbe beaten with many stripes.

48 But hee that knewe it not, and yet did commit things worthy of stripes, shalbe beaten with fewe stripes: for vnto whome fouer is much is giuen, of him shalbe much required, and to whom men much comittre, the more of him will they aske.

49 I am come to put fire on the earth, & what is my desire, if it be already kindled?

50 Notwithstanding I must bee baptized with a baptisme, and how am I grieved, till it be ended?

51 * Thinke ye I am come to giue peace on earth? I tel you, nay, but rather debate.

52 For from henceforth there shalbe fure in one house deuided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shalbe deuided against the sonne, & the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, & the daughter against the mother: the mother in law against her daughter in law, & the daughter in law, against her mother in law.

54 * Then saide he to the people, When yee see a cloude ryse out of the West, straightway ye saye, A showre commeth: and so it is.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The crueltie of Pilate. 2 VV e ought not to condemne all to be wicked men which suffer. 3 Christ exhorteth to repentance. 4 He healeth the crooked woman, 5 Answereth to the maister of the Synagoge. 6 By diuers similitudes he declareth what the kingdome of God is, 23 Also that the number of them which shalbe sau'd, is small. 33 Finally he sheweth that no worldly policie or force can lesse the worke and counsell of God.

1 There were certaine me present at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their own sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Suppose ye, y these Galileas were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffred such things?

3 I tel you, nay; but except ye amend your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or thinke you that those eightene, vpon whome the towne in Siloam fell, & slewe them, were sinners aboue all men that dwell in Ierusalem?

5 I tell you, nay; but except ye amend your liues, ye all shall likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable, A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard: and he came & sought fruit therō, and found none.

7 Then said he to the dresser of his vineyarde, Beholde, this three yeres haue I come and sought fruite of this fig tree, & finde none: cut it downe: why keepeth it also the ground barren?

8 And he answered, & said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yere also, til I digge round about it, and dung it.

9 And if it beare fruite, wel: if not, then after thou shalt cut it downe.

10 ¶ And he taught in one of Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmities eightene yeres, and was bowed together, and could not lift vp her selfe in any wise.

12 When Iesus sawe her, hee called her to him, and sayd to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he laide his hands on her, & immediately she was made straight againe, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagoge answered with indignation because that Iesus had healed on the Sabbath day, and saide vnto the people, There are six dayes in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, and sayd, Hypocrite, doeth not eche one of you on the Sabbath day loose his oxe or his asse from the stall, and leade him away to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whome Satan had bounde, lo, eightene yeres, be loosed from this bonde on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: but all the people reioyced at all the excellent things, that were done by him.

18 ¶ Then said he, What is the kingdome of God like? or whereto shall I compare it?

19 It is like a graine of mustard seede, which a man tooke and sowed in his garden, and it grewe, and waxed a great tree, and the fowles of the heauen made nestes in the branches thereof.

20 ¶ And againe he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leaue, which a woman tooke, and hid in three peckes of flour, till all was leauened.

22 ¶ And he went through all cities and townes, teaching, & iourneying towardes Ierusalem.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there fewe that shalbe sau'd? And he said vnto them, 24 ¶ Striue to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say vnto you, will seeke to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When the good mā of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, & ye begin to stand without, & to knock at the doore, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs, and he shall answer, and saye vnto you, I knowe you not whence ye are,

26 ¶ Then shall ye beginne to say, We haue eaten and drunke in thy presence, & thou hast taught in our streetes.

27 ¶ But he shall saye, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquitie.

28 There shalbe weeping and gnashing of reeth, when ye shal see Abraham & Isaac, & Iacob, and all the Prophetes in the kingdome of God, and your selues thrust out at doores.

29 Then shall come many from the East, & from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit at table in the kingdome of God.

30 ¶ And beholde, there are last, which shalbe first, and there are first, which shall be last.

31 The same day there came certaine Pharises, and said vnto him, Departe, and goe hence: for Herode will kill thee.

32 Then said he vnto them, Go ye and tell that foxe, Beholde, I cast out deuils, & will heale til a day, and to morowe, and the third day I shalbe perfected.

33 Neuertheles I must walke to day, and to morowe, and the daye following: for it

5 Then called he euery one of his maſters detters, & ſaid vnto the firſt, How much oweſt thou vnto my maſter?

CHAP. XVII.

Chriſt teacheth his diſciples to auoid occaſions of offence, 3 One to forgive another. 5 VVe ought to pray for the increaſe of faith. 6 He magnifieth the vertues of faith, 10 And ſheweth the vniuerſality of mercy, 11 Healeth ten lepers, 20 Speaketh of the latter dayes, and of the end of the world.

Then ſaid he to the diſciples, It can not be auoyded, but that offences will come, but wo be to him by whom they come.

It were better for him that a great millſtone were hanged about his necke, and that he were caſt into the ſea, the than he ſhould offend one of theſe litle ones.

Take heed to your ſclues: if thy brother treſpaſſe againſt thee, rebuke him: and if he repent, forgive him.

And though he ſinne againſt thee ſeuē times in a day, & ſeuē times in a day turne againe to thee, ſaying, It repenteth me, b God, who doeth here reſent the maſter of the houſe doth rather commend the prodigall waſt of his goods, and the liberal giuing of the ſame to the poore, then the ſtrait keeping & horſing of them. c That is, either wickedly gotten or wickedly kept, or wickedly ſpent: & hereby we be warned to ſuſpect riches which for the moſt part are an occaſion to their poſſeſſours of great wickedneſſe. d They which cannot well beſtowe worldly goods, will beſtowe euill ſpiritual treaſures: & therefore they ought not to be committed vnto them. e As are riches and ſuch like things, which God hath giuen not for your ſclues onely, but to beſtowe vpon others. f Chriſt calleth the gifts which he giueth vnto vs, ouers. o Chriſt deſcribeth ſpiritual things by ſuch manner of ſpeech, as is moſt proper to our vnderſtanding: for our ſenſes haue neither ingers nor eyes, neither are they thirſty or ſpeak: but the Lord as it were in a ſtable, paineth forth the ſtate of the life to come, as our capacities are able to comprehend it.

5 And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.
6 And the Lord said, * If ye had faith as much as a graine of mustard seede, & should say vnto this mulberie tree, Plucke thy selfe vp by the rootes, and plant thy selfe in the sea, it should euen obey you.
7 ¶ Who is it also of you, that hauing a seruant plowing or feeding cattell, would say vnto him by and by, when he were come from the field, Go, & sit downe at table? And would not rather say to him, * Dresse wherewith I may suppe, and girde thy selfe, and serue mee, till I haue eaten and drunken, and afterwarde eate thou, and drinke thou?
8 Doeth he thanke that seruant, because he did that which was comanded vnto him? I trow not.
9 So likewise ye, when ye haue done all those things, which are commanded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruants: wee haue done that which was our duetie to doe.
11 ¶ And so it was when he went to Ierusalem, that he passed through the mids of Samaria and Galile.
12 And as he entred into a certeine towne, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stoode asafare of.
13 And they lift vp their voyces and sayd, Iesus, Master, haue mercie on vs.
14 And when he saw them, he said vnto the, * Go, shewe your selues vnto the * Priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were clenfed.
15 Then one of them, when he sawe that he was healed, turned backe, and with a loud voyce prayed God, 16 And fell downe on his face at his feete, and gaue him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.
17 And Iesus answered, and said, Ace there not ten clenfed? but where are the * nine?
18 There are none found that returned to giue God praye, saue this stranger.
19 And he said vnto him, Arise, go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.
20 ¶ And when he was demanded of the Pharises, whē the kingdom of God should come, he answered them, and saide, The kingdom of God cometh not with obseruation.
21 Neither shall men saye, Lo here, or loe there: for behold, the kingdom of God is within you.
22 And he said vnto the disciples, The daies will come, when ye shal desire to see one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.
23 * Then they shall saye to you, Beholde here, or behold there: but goe not thither, neither follow them.
24 For as the lightning that lighteneth out of the one part vnder heauen, shineth vnto the other part vnder heauen, so shal the Sonne of man be in his * day.

25 But first must he suffer many things, and be reprovcd of this generation.
26 * And as it was in the * dayes of Noe, so shall it be in the dayes of the Sonne of man.
27 They ate, they drank, they married wiuces, and gaue in marriage vnto the day that Noe went into the Arke: & the flood came, and deffroyed them all.
28 * Likewise also, as it was in the dayes of Lot, they ate, they dranke, they bought, they solde, they planted, they buyt.
29 But in the day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heauen, and destroyed them all.
30 After these ensamples shal it be in the day when the Sonne of man shalbe reueiled.
31 At that day he that is vpon the * house, and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: and hee that is in the field likewise, let him not turne backe to that he left behinde.
32 * Remember Lots wife.
33 * Whosocuer will seeke to saue his soule, shall lose it: and whosocuer shall lose it, shal get it life.
34 * I tel you, in that night there shalbe two in one * bed: the one shalbe receiued, and the other shalbe left.
35 Two women shalbe grinding together: the one shalbe taken, and the other shalbe left.
36 Two shalbe in the field: one shalbe receiued, and an other shalbe left.
37 And they answered, and saide to him, Where, Lorde? And he saide vnto them, * * Wherefoeuer the bodie is, thither will also the Egles resort.

1 And * he spake also a parable vnto the, to this end, that they ought alwayes to pray, and not to waxe faint,
2 Saying, There was a iudge in a certeine citie, which feared not God, neither reuerenced man.
3 And there was a widowe in that citie, which came vnto him, saying, * Do me iustice against mine * aduersarie.
4 And he would not for a time: but afterward hee saide with him selfe, Though I feare not God, not reuerence man,
5 Yet because this widowe troubleth me, I wil doe her right, lest at the last she come and make me weary.
6 And the Lord said, Heare what the vnrigheteous iudge saith.
7 Now shal not God auge his elect, which cry day and night vnto him, yea, though he suffer long for them?
8 I tel you he wil avenge them quickly: slow in reueng but when the Sonne of man cometh, shal he finde faithon the earth?

10 Two men went vp into the Temple to pray: the one a Pharise, and the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharise stood and prayed thus with him selfe, O God, I thanke thee that I am not as other men, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or euen as this Publicane.

12 I fast twise in the weeke: I giue tithe of al that euer I possess.

13 But the Publicane standing as farre off, would not lift vp so much as his eyes to heauen, but smote his brest, saying, O God, be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man departed to his house iustified, rather then the other: for eueri man that exalteth him selfe, shall be brought low, and he that humbleth him selfe, shall be exalted.

15 ¶ They brought vnto him also babes, that he shoulde touche them. And when his disciples sawe it, they rebuked them.

16 But Iesus called them vnto him, and saide, Suffer the babes to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

17 Verely I say vnto you, whosoever receyeth not the kingdome of God as a babe, he shall not enter therein.

18 ¶ Then a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good master, what ought I to doe, to inherit eternall life?

19 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, saue one, euen God.

20 Thou knowest the commaundementes, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witness: Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he saide, All these haue I kept from my youth.

22 Now when Iesus heard that, he said vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing. Sel all that euer thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, & thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follow me.

23 But when he heard those things, he was very heauie: for he was marueilous rich.

24 And when Iesus sawe him sorrowfull, he said, With what difficultie shall they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?

25 Surely it is easer for a camell to goe through a needles eye, then for a rich mā to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 Then said they that heard it, And who then can be sau'd?

27 And he said, The things which are vnpossible with men, are possible with God.

28 ¶ Then Peter said, Lo, we haue left all, and haue followed thee.

29 And he said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, there is no mā that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children for the kingdome of Gods sake,

30 Which shall not receiue much more in this world, and in the world to come life euerlasting.

31 ¶ Then Iesus tooke vnto him the twelue, & said vnto them, Behold, We goe vp to Ierusalem, and al things shall be fulfilled to the Sonne of man, that are written by the Prophets.

32 For he shall be deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shall spitefully entreated, and shall be spitted on.

33 And when they haue scourged him, they will put him to death: but the third daye he shall rise againe.

34 But they vnderstoode none of these things, & this saying was hid from them, neither perceyued they the things, which were spoken.

35 ¶ And it came to passe, that as he was come nere vnto Iericho, a certaine blind man fate by the way side begging.

36 And whē he heard the people passe by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they said vnto him, that Iesus of Nazaret passed by.

38 Then he cried, saying, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that he should hold his peace, but he cried much more, O Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

40 And Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be brought vnto him. And whē he was come nere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus said vnto him, Receiue thy sight: thy faith hath sau'd thee.

43 Then immediatly he receyued his sight, and followed him, praying God: and all the people, whē they sawe this, gaue praise to God.

Nowe when Iesus entered and passed through Iericho,

2 Behold, there was a man named Zacharias, which was the chief receiuer of the tribute, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Iesus, who he shuld be, and could not for the prease, because he was of a low stature.

4 Wherefore he ran before, and climed vp into a wilde figge tree, that he might see him: for he should come that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, hee looked vp, and sawe him, and sayde vnto him, Zacharias, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thine house.

6 Then he came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.

7 And when al they sawe it, they murmured, saying, that hee was gone in to lodge with a sinfull man.

o He was minded to see Iesus, because he was of a low stature, and could not see him for the prease.

Or, a man of a low stature.

8 And Zaccheus stode forth, and said vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken from any mā by forged cauillatio, I restore him foure fold.

9 Then Iesus said to him, This day is saluation come vnto this<sup>a</sup> houle, for asmuch as he is also become the<sup>b</sup> sonne of Abraham.

10 * For the Sonne of man is come to seke, and to saue that which was lost.

11 And whiles they heard these things, he continued & spake a parable, because he was nere to Ierusalem, & because also they thought that the kingdom of God should shortly appeare.

12 He said therefore, * A certeine noble mā went into<sup>a</sup> a farre countrey, to receiue for him selfe a kingdome, and so to come againe.

13 And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten<sup>d</sup> pieces of money, & said vnto them, * Occupie till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, when he was come againe, and had receiued his kingdome, that he comāded the seruants to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that he might know what euery man had gayned.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lorde, thy piece hath encreased ten pieces.

17 And he saide vnto him, Well, good seruant, because thou hast bene faithfull in a very litle thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lorde, thy piece hath encreased fise pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fise cities.

20 So the other came and saide, Lord, behold thy piece, which I haue laid vp in a napkin.

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a strait man: thou takest vp, that thou laidest not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sowe.

22 Then he said vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, O euill seruant. Thou knewest that I am a strait man, taking vp that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sow.

23 Wherefore then gauest thou my money into the banke, that at my coming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And he said to the that stode by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they said vnto him, Lorde, he hath ten pieces.)

26 * For I say vnto you, that vnto al the that haue, it shalbe<sup>b</sup> giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shalbe taken from him.

27 Moreouer, those mine enemies, which would not that I should reigne ouer the, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he went forth before, ascending vp to Ierusalem.

29 * And it came to passe, when he was come nere to Bethphage, and Bethania, besides the mount which is called the mount of Olives, he set two of his disciples

30 Saying, Go ye to the towne which is before you, wherein, as sone as ye are come, ye shall find a colte tied, whereon neuer mā sate: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 ¶ And if any mā aske you, why ye loose him, thus shal ye say vnto him, Because y<sup>e</sup> Lord hath neede of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colte, the owners therof said vnto them, Why loose ye the colte?

34 And they sayd, The Lord hath neede of him.

35 ¶ So they brought him to Iesus, & they cast their garmentes on the colte, and set Iesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spred their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was now come nere to the going downe of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, and to prayse God with a loude voyce, for all the great workes that they had seene, 38 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the Name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glory in the hiest places.

39 Then some of the Pharisees of the companie saide vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered, and said vnto them, I tell you, that if these should holde their peace, the stones would cry.

41 ¶ And when he was come nere, he beheld the Citie, and wept for it,

4 Christ stoppeth his aduersaries mouths by an other question. 9 Sheweth their destruction by a parable. 32 The authoritie of Princes. 37 The resurrection, and his diuine power. 46 He reprehendeth the ambition of the Scribes.

1 And<sup>a</sup> it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priests & the Scribes came vpon him with the Elders,

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs by what authoritie thou doest these things, or who is he that hath giuen thee this authoritie?

3 And he answered, and saide vnto them, I also will aske you one thing: tel me therefore:

4 The<sup>a</sup> baptisme of Iohn was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned within them selues, saying, If we shall say from heauen, he will say, Why then beleueed ye him not?

6 But if we shall say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 Then Iesus said vnto them, <sup>b</sup> Neither tel I you, by what authoritie I doe these things.

9 ¶ Then began he to speake to the people this parable, * A certaine mā planted a<sup>c</sup> vineyard, and <sup>d</sup> let it forth to husbandmen: and went into a straunge countrey, for a great season.

10 And at a tyme he sent a<sup>e</sup> seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruite of the vineyarde, but the husbandmen did beat him, & sent him away empty.

11 Again he sent yet another seruant: and they did beat him, & fowle intreated him, and sent him away empty.

12 Moreouer, hee sent the third, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then sayd the Lorde of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will sende my beloued Sonne: it may be that they will doe reuerence, when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen sawe him, they reasoned with them selues, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kil him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, & killed him. What shall the Lord of the vineyard therefore do vnto them?

16 Hee wil come & destroy these husbandmen, and wil giue out his vineyard to others. But when they heard it, they sayde, God forbid.

17 ¶ And he beheld them, and saide, What meaneth this then that is written, * The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head<sup>f</sup> of the corner?

18 ¶ Whosoever shall fall vpon that stone,

S. Luke.

shalbe broken: & on whom soeuer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 Then the hie Priests & the Scribes the same houre went about to lay handes on him: (but they feared the people) for they perceiued that he had spōke this parable against them.

20 ¶ And they<sup>b</sup> watched him, and sent forth spies, which should faine them selues iust men, to take him in his talke, and to deliuer him vnto the power & authoritie of the gouernour.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest, and teachest right, neither doest thou accept mans person, but teachest the way of God truly.

22 Is it<sup>c</sup> lawful for vs to giue Cesar tribute, or not?

23 But he perceiued their craftines, & said vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penie. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cēiars.

25 Then he saide vnto them, * Giue then vnto Cesar the things which are Cēiars, and to God those which are Gods.

26 And they coulde not reprove his saying before the people: but they marueiled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ¶ Then came to him certeine of the Sadducees (which denie that there is any resurrection) and they asked him,

28 Saying, Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die hauing a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and rayse vp seed vnto his brother.

29 Now there were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and hee dyed without children.

30 And the second tooke the wife, and hee died childles.

31 Then the third tooke her: & so likewise the seuen dyed, and left no children.

32 And last of all, the woman died also.

33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for seuen had her to wife.

34 Then Iesus answered, & sayd vnto them, The<sup>d</sup> children of this world marie wiues, and are married.

35 But they which shalbe counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marrie wiues, neither are married.

36 ¶ For they can dye no more, forasmuch as they are equal vnto the Angels, & are the Sonnes of God, * since they are the children of the resurrection.

37 And that the dead shal rise againe, euen * Moses shewed it besides the bush, when he said, The Lorde is the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob.

38 For he is not the God of the<sup>e</sup> dead, but of them which liue: * for all liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Pharisees answered and 43 Til I shal make thine enemies thy footestool.

44 Seeing Dauid calleth him Lord, howe is he then his sonne?

45 ¶ Then in the audience of al the people he said vnto his disciples,

46 * Beware of the Scribes, which desire to go in long robes, and loue salutations in the markets, and the highest seates in the Synagogues, and the chiefe roomes at feasts:

47 Which deuoure widowes houses, euen vnder a colour of long praying: these shal receiue greater damnation.

CHAP. XXI.

¶ Christ commendeth the poore widowe. 6 He forewarneth of the destruction of Ierusalem. 8 Of false teachers. 9 Of the tokens and troubles to come. 27 Of the ende of the world, 27 And of his daily exercise.

1 And * as he behelde, he sawe the rich men, which cast their giftes into the treasure,

2 And he saw also a certaine poore widow, which cast in thither two mites,

3 And he sayd, Of a trouth I saye vnto you, that this poore wydowe hath cast in more then they al.

4 * For they all haue of their superfluitie cast into the offerings of God: but thee of her penurie hath cast in al the liuing that he had.

5 * Now as some spake of the Temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones, and with consecrate things, he said,

6 Are these the things that ye looke vpon? the dayes wil come, wherein a stone shall not be left vpon a stone, that shall not be thrown downe.

7 Then they asked him, saying, Master, but when shal these things be? and what signe shall there be when these things shal come to passe?

8 * And he said, Take heede, that ye be not deceiued: for manie wil come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth neere: followe ye not them therefore.

9 And when ye heare of warres and seditions, be not afraide: for these things must first come, but the ende followeth not by and by.

10 Then said he vnto them, Nation shal rise against nation, & kingdome against kingdome, 11 * And great earthquakes shal be in diuers places, and hunger, and pestilence, and fearefull things, and great signes shal there be from heauen.

12 But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the Synagogues, and into prysons, and bring you before Kings and rulers for my Names sake.

13 And this shall turne to you, for a testimoniall.

14 * Lay it vp therefore in your hearts, that yee premeditate not, what ye shall answer.

15 For I wil giue you a mouth and wisdom, whereagainst all your aduersaries shal not be able to speake, nor resist.

16 Yea, ye shalbe betrayed also of your parentes, and of your brethren, and kinsmen, and friendes, & some of you shal they put to death.

17 And yee shalbe hated of all men for my Names sake.

21 Then let them which are in Iudea, flee to the mountaines: and let them which are in the middes thereof, depart out: and let not them that are in the countrey, enter therein.

22 For these bee the dayes of vengeance, to fulfill al things that are written.

23 But woe be to them that bee with childe, & to them that giue sucke in those dayes: for there shalbe great distresse in this land, and wrath ouer this people.

24 And they shall fall on the edge of the sworde, and shalbe led captiue into all nations, and Ierusalem shalbe troden vnder foote of the Gentiles, vntil the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 * Then there shalbe signes in the Sunne, and in the Moone, and in the starres, and vpon the earth trouble among the nations with perplexitie: the sea and the waters shal roare.

26 And mens hearts shall fayle them for feare, and for looking after those things which shal come on the world: for the powers of heauen shalbe shaken,

27 And then shal they see the Sonne of man come in a cloude, with power and great glorie.

28 And when these things beginne to come to passe, the looke vp, & lift vp your heads: for your redemption draweth neere.

29 And he spake to them a parable, Behold, the figge tree, and al trees,

16 Conspiracie against Christ. 7 They ate the Pasouer. 19 The institution of the Lordes supper. 24
They strive who shalbe greatest, and he reproveth them.
40 He prayeth upon the mount. 47 Iudas treason.
54 They take him, and bring him to the high Priestes house. 60 Peter denieth him thrise, and yet repenteth.
67 Christ is brought before the Counsell, where he ma-keth ample confession.

1 Now the feast of vnleavened bread drew nere, which is called the Pasouer.

2 And the hie Priestes and Scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 Then entred Satan into Iudas, who was called Iscariot, and was of the number of the twelue.

4 And hee went his way, and communed with the hie Priestes and captaines, howe he might betray him to them.

5 So they were glad, and agreed to giue him money.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

7 ¶ Then came the daye of vnleavened bread when the Pasfouer must be sacrificed.

8 And he sent Peter and Iohn, saying, Go, and prepare vs the Pasfouer, that wee may eat it.

9 And they sayd to him, Where wilt thou, that we prepare it?

10 Then he saide vnto them, Behold, when ye be entred into the citie, there shall a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water: followe him into the house that he en-tred in,

11 And say vnto the good man of the house,
The Master saith vnto thee, Where is the lodging where I shall eat my Pasfouer with my disciples?

12 Then he shall shew you a great hie chaber trimmed: there make it ready.

13 So they went, and founde as he had saide vnto them, and made readie the Pasfou-er.

14 ¶ And when the houre was come, he sat
downe, & the twelue Apostles with him.

15 Then he said vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eat this Pasfouer with you before I suffer.

fore I suffer.

16 For I say vnto you, Henceforth I wil not eat of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.

17 And hee tooke the cuppe, and gaue thanks, and sayd, Take this, and decide it among you.

18 For I say vnto you, I wil not drinke of the fruite of the vine, vntill the kingdome of God be come.

19 ¶ And he tooke bread, and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue to them, saying, This is my body, which is gi-uen for you: do this in the remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also after supper he tooke the cup, saying, This cup is the newe Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ¶ Yet behold, the had of him that betrai-eth me, is with me at the table.

22 And truly the Sonne of man goeth as it is appointed: but woe be to that man, by whome he is betrayed.

23 Then they began to enquire among the selues which of them it should bee, that should do that.

24 ¶ And there arose also a strife among them, which of them should seeme to be the greatest.

25 But he said vnto them, The Kings of the Gentiles reigne ouer them, and they that beare rule ouer them, are called Gracious lords.

26 But ye shall not be so: but let the greatest among you be as the least: and the chiefest as he that serueth.

27 For who is greater, he that sitteth at table, or he that serueth? Is not hee that sitteth at table? And I am among you as he that serueth.

28 And ye are they which haue continued with me in my tentations.

29 Therefore I appoint vnto you a kingdome, as my Father hath appointed to me,

30 That ye may eat, and drinke at my table in my kingdome, and sit on seates, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired you, to winow you, as wheat.

32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith faile not: therefore when thou art con-uerted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 ¶ And he said vnto him, Lorde, I am ready to go with thee into prison, & to death.
34 But he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cocke shal not crowe this daye, before thou hast thrise denied that thou knewest me.

35 ¶ And he said vnto the, when I sent you without bag, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then he said to them, But now he that hath a bag, let him take it, and likewise a scrip: and he that hath none, let him sel his coate, and buy a sword.

44 And he rofe vp from prayer, and came to his difciples, and found them fleeping for heauines.

45 And he faide vnto them, Why fleepe ye? rife and pray, left ye enter into tentation.

46 ¶ And whyle he yet fpake, beholde a company, and hee that was called ludas one of the twelue, went before them, and came nere vnto Iefus to kiffe him.

47 And Iefus faide vnto him, ludas, betrayeft thou the Sonne of man with a kiffe?

48 Now when they which were about him, faw what would folow, they faide vnto him, Lord, fhall we fmithe with iworde?

49 And one of them smote a feruant of the hie Priest, and ftrake of his right eare.

50 Then Iefus answered, and fayde, Suffer them thus farre: and he touched his eare, and healed him.

51 Then Iefus faide vnto the hie Priests, and captaines of the Temple, and the Elders which were come to him, Be ye come out as vnto a thiefe with swordes and ftaves?

52 When I was daily with you in the Tēple, ye ftreched not forth the handes againft me: but this is your very houre, and the power of darkenes.

53 ¶ Then tooke they him, and led him, & brought him to the hie Priests house. And Peter followed afarre of.

54 ¶ And when they had kindled a fyre in the middes of the hall, and were fet down together, Peter alfo fate downe among them.

55 And a certaine maide beheld him as he fate by the fyre, and hauing wel looked on him, faide, This man was alfo with him.

56 But he denied him, faying, Woman, I know him not.

57 And after a litle while, another man faw him, and faide, Thou art alfo of them. But Peter faid, Man, I am not.

58 And about the fpace of an houre after, a certaine other affirmed, faying, Verely euen this man was with him: for he is alfo a Galilean.

And Peter faide, Man, I knowe not what thou fayeft. And immediatly while he yet fpake, the cocke crewe.

Then the Lord turned back, and looked vpon Peter: and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had faide vnto him, * Before the cocke crowe, thou fhalt denie me thrife.

And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

¶ And the men that helde Iefus, mocked him, and ftroke him.

And whē they had blindfolded him, they smote him on the face, & asked him, faying, * Prophefie who it is that smote thee.

And many other things blaſphemouſly fpake they againſt him.

* And as ſonne as it was daye, the Elders of the people, and the hie Priests and the Scribes came together, and led him into their Counſel, Saying, * Art thou the Chriſt? tell vs. And he faide vnto them, If I telyou, ye will not beleuee it.

And if alſo I aſke you, ye will not anſwere me, nor let me go.

* Hereafter ſhall the Sonne of man ſit at the right hand of the power of God.

Then ſaide they all, Art thou then the Sonne of God? And he faide to them, Ye ſay that I am.

Then ſaide they, What neede wee any further wimes? for wee our ſelues haue heard it of his owne mouth.

- 10 The hie Priests also and Scribes stood forth, and accused him vehemently.
- 11 And Herod with his men of warre despised him, and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him againe to Pilate.
- 12 And the same daye Pilate and Herode were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.
- 13 ¶ Then Pilate called together the hie Priests, and the rulers, and the people,
- 14 And said vnto the, Ye haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerbed the people: & behold, I haue examined him before you, & haue founde no fault in this man, of those things wherof ye accuse him:
- 15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him: and lo, nothing worthy of death is done to him.
- 16 I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.
- 17 (For of necessity he must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast.)
- 18 Then al the multitude cried at once, saying, Away with him, and deliuer to vs Barabbas:
- 19 Which for a certaine insurrection made in the citie, & murder was cast in prison.
- 20 Then Pilate spake againe to them, willing to let Iesus loose.
- 21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him.
- 22 And he said vnto the the third time, But what euill hath he done? I find no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.
- 23 But they were instant with loud voyces, and required that he might be crucified: & the voyces of them & of the hie Priests preuailed.
- 24 So Pilate gaue sentence, that it should be as they required.
- 25 And he let loose vnto them him that for insurrection & murder was cast into prison, whom they desired, and deliuered Iesus to do with him what they would.
- 26 ¶ And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the field, and on him they laid the crosse, to beare it after Iesus.
- 27 And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.
- 28 But Iesus turned back vnto them, & said, Daughters of Ierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, & for your children.
- 29 For behold, the dayes will come, when men shall say, Blessed are the barren, & the wombs that neuer bare, & the paps which neuer gaue sucke.
- 30 Then shall they beginne to saye to the mountaines, Fall on vs: and to the hilles, Couer vs.
- 31 ¶ For if they do these things to a hie greene tree, what shalbe done to the dry?
- 32 ¶ And there were two others, which were euill doers, led with him to be slayne.

- 33 And when they were come to the place, which is called Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euill doers: one at the right hand, and the other at the left.
- 34 Then said Iesus, Father, forgive them: for they know not what they doe. And they parted his raiment, and cast lottes.
- 35 And the people stood, and beheld: & the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saued others: let him saue him selfe, if he be the Christ, the Chosen of God.
- 36 The souldiers also mocked him, & came and offered him vineger,
- 37 And said, If thou bee the King of the Iewes, saue thy selfe.
- 38 And a superscription was also written ouer him, in Greeke letters, and in Latin, & in Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.
- 39 ¶ And one of the euill doers, which were hanged, rayled on him, saying, if thou be the Christ, saue thy selfe and vs.
- 40 But the other answered, & rebuked him, saying, Fearst thou not God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?
- 41 We are in deepe righteousness here: for we receiue things worthy of that wee haue done: but this man hath done nothing amisse.
- 42 And he saide vnto Iesus, Lorde, remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdome.
- 43 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I saye vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.
- 44 ¶ And it was about the sixt houre: and there was a darkenes ouer al the land, vntill the ninth houre.
- 45 And the sunne was darkened, & the vaile of the Temple rent through the middes.
- 46 And Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, and said, Father, into thine hands I comend my spirit. And when he thus had saide, He gaue vp the ghost.
- 47 ¶ Now when the Centurion sawe what was done, he glorified God, saying, Of a surer this man was iust.
- 48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things, which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.
- 49 And al his acquaintance stood afar of, & the women that followed him from Galile, beholding these things.
- 50 ¶ And behold, there was a man named Ioseph, which was a counsellor, a good man and a iust.
- 51 He did not consent to the counsel & deed of them, which was of Arimathea, a citie of the Iewes: who also himselfe waited for the kingdome of God.
- 52 He went vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus,
- 53 And tooke it downe, and wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and laid it in a tombe hewen out of a rocke, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

1 Now the first day of the weeke early in the morning, they came vnto the sepulchre, and brought the odours, which they had prepared, & certaine women with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre,

3 And went in, but founde not the body of the Lord Iesus.

4 And it came to passe, that as they were amased thereat, behold, two men suddenly stood by them in shining vestures.

5 And as they were afraid, & bowed down their faces to the earth, they said to them, Why seeke ye him that liueth, among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake vnto you, when he was yet in Galile,

7 Saying, that the Sonne of mā must be deliuered into the hands of sinful men, & be crucified, and the third day rise againe.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and tolde all these things vnto the eluen, and to all the remnant.

10 Now it was Marie Magdalene & Ioanna, and Marie the mother of Iames, and other women with the, which tolde these things vnto the Apostles.

11 But their words seemed vnto them, as a fained thing, neither beleued they them.

12 Then arose Peter, & ran vnto the sepulchre, & looked in, & saw the linen clothes laid by them selues, and departed wondering in him selfe at that which was come to passe.

13 ¶ And beholde, two of them went that same day to a towne which was from Ierusalem about three score furlongs, called Emmaus.

14 And they talked together of all these things that were done.

15 And it came to passe, as they communed together, and reasoned, that Iesus him self drew neere, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they could not knowe him.

17 And he said vnto them, What maner of communications are these that ye haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad?

18 And the one (named Cleopas) answered, and said vnto him, Art thou only a stranger in Ierusalem, and hast not knowen the thinges which are come to passe therein in these dayes?

19 And he said vnto the, What things? And they said vnto him, Of Iesus, of Nazaret, which was a Prophet, mightie in deede and in worde before God, and al the people,

20 And how the hie Priests, and our rulers deliuered him to be cōdemned to death, and haue crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had bene he that should haue deliuered Israel, and as touching all these things, to day is the thirde day, that they were done.

22 Yea, & certaine women among vs made vs astonied, which came early vnto the sepulchre.

23 And when they founde not his bodie, they came, saying, that they had also seene a vision of Angels, which said that he was aliue.

24 Therefore certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and founde it euen so as the women had said, but him they sawe not.

25 Then he said vnto them, O fooles and slowe of heart to beleue al that the Prophets haue spoken, 26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glorie?

27 And he began at Moses, and at all the Prophets, and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written of him.

28 And they drew neere vnto the towne, which they went to, but hee made as though he would haue gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs: for it is towards night, and the daye is farre spent. So he went in to tarie with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sate at table with them, he tooke the bread, and gaue thanks, & brake it, and gaue it to them.

31 Then their eyes were opened, and they knewe him: but he was taken out of their sight.

32 And they said betweene the selues, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way, and when he opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned to Ierusalem, and found the eluen gathered together, & them that were with them, 34 Which said, The Lord is risen in deede, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 Then they tolde what things were done in the way, and howe he was knowen of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ And as they spake these things, Iesus him self stood in the middes of them, and said vnto them, Peace be to you.

37 But they were abashed and afraid, supposing that they had seene a spirit.

38 Then hee saide vnto them, Why are ye

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he said, I am not. Art thou the Prophet? And he answered, No.
22 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou that we may giue an answer to them that sent vs? what sayest thou of thy selfe?
23 He said, I am the voyce of him that crieth in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.
24 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.
25 And they asked him, and said vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not the Christ, neither Elias, nor the Prophet?
26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there is one among you, whom ye know not.
27 * He it is that cometh after me, which is preferred before me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.
28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordan, where Iohn did baptize.
29 ¶ The next day Iohn seeth Iesus coming vnto him, and saith, Beholde the lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the worlde.
30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.
31 And I knewe him not: but because he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come, baptizing with water.
32 So Iohn bare recorde, saying, I sawe* the Spirit come downe from heauen, like a doue, and it abode vpon him.
33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, he said vnto me, Vpō whom thou shalt see the Spirit come downe, and tarie stil on him, that is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghōst.
34 And I sawe, and bare record that this is the Sonne of God.
35 ¶ The next day, Iohn stoode againe, and two of his disciples:
36 And he beheld Iesus walking by, & said, Behold the lambe of God.
37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and followed Iesus.
38 Then Iesus turned about, and sawe them follow, and said vnto them, What seeke ye? And they said vnto him, Rabbi (which is to say by interpretation, Master) where dwellest thou?

41 The same found his brother Simon first, and said vnto him, We haue founde the Messias, which is by interpretation, the Christ.
42 And he brought him to Iesus. And Iesus beheld him, and said, Thou art Simon the sōne of Ionathou shalt be called Cephas which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 ¶ The day following, Iesus would go into Galile, and found Philippe, and said vnto him, Follow me.
44 Now Philippe was of Bethsaida, the citie of Andrew and Peter.
45 Philippe found Nathanael, & said vnto him, We haue found him, of whom* Moses did write in the Law, and the Prophets, Iesus of Nazaret the Sonne of Ioseph.
46 Then Nathanael said vnto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazaret? Philippe said to him, Come, and see.
47 Iesus saw Nathanael coming to him, & said of him, Behold, in deede an Israelite, in whom is no guile.
48 Nathanael said vnto him, Whence knewest thou mee? Iesus answered, & said vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast vnder the figge tree, I saw thee.
49 Nathanael answered, and said vnto him, Rabbi, thou art the Sonne of God: thou art the King of Israel.
50 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Because I said vnto thee, I saw thee vnder y figge tree, beleuest thou? thou shalt see greater things then these.
51 And he said vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto you, hereafter shalt ye see heauen open, & the Angels of God* ascending, and descending vpon the Sonne of man.

1 And the third day, was there a marriage in Cana a towne of Galile, and the mother of Iesus was there.
2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the marriage.
3 Now whē the wine failed, the mother of Iesus said vnto him, They haue no wine.
4 Iesus said vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

CHAP. III.

<sup>a</sup>Christ instructeth Nicodemus in the regeneration. 15 Of faith. 16 Of the love of God towards the world. 23 The doctrine and baptisme of Iohn, 28 And the witness that he beareth of Christ.

1 There was now a man of the Pharises named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes.

2 He came to Iesus by night, and said vnto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man coulde do these miracles that thou doest, except God were with him.

3 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee: except a man be borne againe, he can not see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus said vnto him, How can a man be borne which is olde? can he enter into his mothers wombe againe, & be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except that a man be borne of water and of the Spirit, he can not enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh: & that that is borne of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Marueile not that I said to thee, Ye must be borne againe.

8 The winde bloweth where it listeth, & thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tel whence it cometh, & whither it goeth: so is every man that is borne of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, & said vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, we speake that we know, and testifie, that we haue seene: but ye receive not our witness.

12 If when I tel you earthly things, ye beleue not, how should ye beleue, if I shal tel you of heavenly things?

13 For no man ascendeth vp to heauen, but he that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in heauen.

14 And as Moyses lift vp the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Sonne of man be lift vp,

15 That whosoever beleueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternal life.

16 For God so loued the world, that he hath giuen his only begotten Sonne, that whosoever beleueth in him, should not perish, but haue eueralasting life.

17 For God sent not his Sonne into the world, that he should condene y world, but that the world through him might be saued.

18 He that beleueth in him, shal not be condemned: but he that beleueth not, is condemned already, because he beleueth not in the Name of the only begotten Sonne of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loued darkenes rather then light, because their deedes were euil.

20 For cuerie man that euil doeth, hateth the light, neither commeth to light, least his deedes should be reproofed.

21 But he that doeth truth, commeth to the light, that his deedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought according to God.

22 After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iudea, & there taried with them, and baptizd.

23 And Iohn also baptizd in Enon besides Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptizd.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question betwene Iohns disciples & the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyod Iordan, to whom thou barest witness, be-

27 That is, how they might be made cleane before God, which the writings vnder the Law did represent. 28 They were led with ambition, fearing least their master should haue lost his fame.

As the power of God is manifest by the coming of the an- so is it in changing and renewing vs, although the manner be hid from vs.

Although he was excellently learned, yet knew he not those things which the very babes in Christs schole ought to know.

Went not to teach our own inuentions.

He reprooueth him, for that he do teach things which they vnderstand not, and yet others beleue them: but Christs teaching is most certaine and knowe and men will not receiue his doctrine.

Which was after a common & grosse manner. By reason of y vniou of his Godhead with his manhood.

3 He * left Iudea, and departed againe into Galilee.

4 And he must needs go through Samaria.

5 Then came he to a cite of Samaria called Sychar, nere vnto the possession that * Iacob gaue to his sonne Ioseph.

6 And there was Iacobs wel. Iesus then wearied in the iourney, sate thus on the well: it was about the * sixt houre.

7 There came a woman of Samaria to draw water. Iesus said vnto her, Giue me drinke.

8 For his disciples were gone away into the cite, to buye meate.

9 Then said the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it, that thou being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Iewes medle not with the Samaritans.

10 Iesus answered and said vnto her, If thou knewest the * gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Giue me drinke, thou wouldest haue asked of him, & he would haue giuen thee * water of life.

CHAP. V.

8 He healeth the man that was sicke eight & thirtie yeres.
10 The Iewes accuse him. 19 Christ answereth for himselfe, and reproveth them, 32 Shewing by the testimony of his Father, 39 Of Iohn, 46 Of his workes, 49 And of the Scriptures, who he is.

1 A Fter * that, there was a feast of the Iewes, & Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

2 And there is at Ierusalem by * the place of the sheepe, a * poole called in Ebrewe<sup>b</sup> Bethesda, hauing fise porches:

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sick folke, of blind, halt, and withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.

4 For an Angell went downe at a certeine season into the poole, & troubled the water: whosoever then first, after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.

5 And a certeine man was there, which had bene diseased eight & thirtie yeres.

6 When Iesus saw him lie, and knewe that he now long time had bene diseased, he said vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Syr, I haue no man, wher the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Iesus said vnto him, Rise: * take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, and walked: and the same day was the Sabbath.

10 The Iewes therefore said to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: * it is not lawfull for thee to cary thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made mee whole, he said vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, & walke?

13 And he that was healed, knew not who it was: for Iesus had conueyed him selfe away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Iesus found him in the Temple, and said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: * sinne no more, least a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, & sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him: not onely because he had broken the Sabbath: but said also that God was * his Father, and made him selfe equal with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, & said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, The Sonne can do nothing of him selfe, saue that he seeth y Father do. for whatsoeuer things he he doeth, the same things doeth the Sonne also.

20 For the Father loueth the Sone, & sheweth him all things, whatsoeuer he him selfe doeth, and he wil shew him greater works then these, that ye should marueile.

21 For likewise as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them, so the Sonne quickeneth whom he wil.

22 For the Father iudgeth no man, but hath committed all iudgement vnto the Sonne, 23 Because that all men should honour the Sone, as they honour the Father: he that honoureth not the Sone, the same honoureth not the Father, which hath sent him.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that heareth my word, and beleueeth in him that sent me, hath euermore life, and shal not come into cōdemnation, but hath passed from death vnto life.

25 Verely, verely I say vnto you, the houre shal come, and now is, when the dead shal heare the voyce of the Sonne of God: and they that heare it, shal liue.

26 For as the Father hath life in himselfe, so likewise hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in him selfe, 27 And hath giuen him power also to execute iudgement, in that he is the Sonne of man.

28 Marueile not at this: for the houre shal come in the which all that are in the graues, shal heare his voyce.

29 And they shal come forth, * that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life: but they that haue done euil, vnto the resurrection of condemnation.

30 I can do nothing of mine owne selfe: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne wil, but the wil of the Father who hath sent me.

31 If I should beare witness of my selfe, my witness were not true.

32 There is another that beareth witness of me, and I know that the witness, which he beareth of me, is true.

33 * Ye sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witness vnto the trueth.

34 But I receiue not the record of man: neuertheless these things I say, that ye might be sauēd.

35 He was a burning, and a shining candle: and ye would for a season haue reioyced in his light.

36 But I haue greater witness then the witness of Iohn: for the workes which the Father hath giuen me to finishe, the same workes that I do, beare witness of me, that the Father sent me.

37 And the * Father him selfe, which hath sent me, * beareth witness of me. Ye haue not heard his voyce at any time, * neither haue ye seene his shape.

38 And his word haue ye not abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleue not.

39 * Search the Scriptures: for in them ye thinke to haue eternal life, and they are they which testifie of me.

40 But ye wil not come to me, that ye might haue life.

41 I receiue not praise of men.

42 But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

43 I am come in my Fathers name, and ye receiue me not: if * another shal come in his owne name, him wil ye receiue.

44 How can ye beleuee, which * receiue * honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that cometh of God alone?

45 Do not thinke that I wil accuse you to my Father: there is one that * accuseth you, euen Moses, in whom ye trust.

CHAP. VI.

10 Iesus feedeth five thousand men with five loaves & two fishes. 15 He departeth away, that they should not make him King. 16 He reprimandeth the fleshy hearers of his wordes. 21 The carnal are offended at him. 63 The flesh profiteth not.

1 After these things, Iesus went his way ouer the * sea of Galilee, or of * Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.

3 Then Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.

4 Now the Passeouer, a * feast of the Iewes, was nere.

5 * Then Iesus lift vp his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came vnto him, he said vnto Philip, Whence shal we buye bread, that these might eat?

6 (And this he said to proue him: for he him selfe knew what he would do)

Philip answered him, * Two hundred peny worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that euery one of them may take a litle.

8 Then said vnto him one of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother,

9 There is a litle boye here, which hath five barlie loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Iesus said, Make the people sit downe. (Nowe there was much grasse in that place) Then the men sate downe in number, about five thousand.

11 And Iesus tooke the bread, and * gaue thanks, & gaue to the disciples, & the disciples to them that were set downe: & likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 And whē they were satisfied, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate which remaineth, that * nothing be lost.

13 Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the five barlie loaves, which remained vnto them that had eaten.

15 When Iesus therefore perceiued that they would come, and take him to make him a King, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16 ¶ When euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea,

17 * And entred into a ship, & went ouer the sea towards Capernaum: & now it was darke, and Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 And when they had rowed about fise & twentie, or thirtie furlongs, they saw Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nere vnto the ship: so they were afraid.

20 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afraid.

21 Then willingly they receiued him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land, whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, the people which stode on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other ship there, saue that one, wherinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples in y ship, but that his disciples were gone alone,

23 And that there came other shippes from Tiberias nere vnto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had giuen thanks.

24 Now when the people saw that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, ye seeke me not, because ye saw the miracles, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat that endureth vnto euertlasting life, which the Sonne of man shal giue vnto you: for him hath * God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they vnto him, What shal we do, that we might worke the * workes of God?

29 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, * This is the worke of God, that ye beleue in him, whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou the, that we may see it, and beleue thee: what doest thou worke?

31 * Our fathers did eat Manna in the desert, as it is written, He gaue them bread from heauen to eat.

32 Then Iesus said vnto the, Verely, verely I say vnto you, * Moses gaue you not bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the worlde.

34 Then they said vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus said vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me, shal not hunger, and * he that beleueeth in me, shal neuer thirst.

36 But I said vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and beleue not.

37 Al * that the Father giueth me, shal come to me: and him that cometh to me, I cast not away.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to domine ouer wil, but his wil which hath sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers wil which hath sent me, that of al which he hath giuen me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the wil of him that sent me, that euerie man which seeth the Sonne, & beleueeth in him, should haue euertlasting life: and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread, which is come downe from heauen.

42 And they said, * Is not this Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father & mother we know? how then saith he, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus then answered, and said vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the * Prophets, And they shal be al taught of God. Euerie man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh vnto me.

46 * Not that any man hath seene the Father, saue he which is of God, he hath seene the Father.

60 Many therefore of his disciples ( when Doeth this offend you?

62 What then if ye should see the Sonne of 63 It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak vnto you, are spirit and life.

not: for Iesus knewe from the beginning, that no man can come vnto me, except it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 From that time, many of his disciples went backe, & walked no more with him.

67 Then sayd Iesus to the twelue, Wil ye also go away?

68 Then Simō Peter answered him, Master, to whom shal we go? Thou hast the words of eternall life:

69 And we beleuee and know that thou art
the Christ the Sonne of the liuing God.

70 Iesus answered them, Haue not I * chosen you twelue, and * one of you is a deuill?

71 Now he spake it of Iudas Iscariot * some of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, though he was one of the twelue.

CHAP. VII.

6 Iesus reprehendeth the ambition of his cousins. 12 There are diuers opinions of him among the people. 17 He sheweth howe to know the truth. 20 The iudges do vnto him. 47 The Pharisee rebuke the officers because they haue not taken him, 22 And chide with Nicodemus for taking him part.

1 After these things, Iesus walked in Galilee, and would not walke in Iudea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

2 Now the Iewes * * feast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

3 His brethren therefore sayde vnto him, Depart hence, and go into Iudea, that thy disciples may see thy workes that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doth any thing secretly, and hee him selfe seeketh to bee * famous. If thou doest these things, shewe thy selfe to the world.

5 For as yet his brethren beleueed not in him.

6 Then Iesus saide vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world can not hate you: but me it hath, because I testifie of it, that the workes thereof are euill.

8 Go ye vp vnto this feast: I will * not go vp yet vnto this feast: for my time is not yet fulfilled.

9 ¶ These things he saide vnto them, and abode still in Galilee.

10 But as soone as his brethren were gone vp, then went he also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were privately.

11 Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and said, Where is hee?

12 And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some said, He is a good man: other said, Naye: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for feare of the * Iewes.

14 Now when half the feast was done, Ie-sus went vp into the Temple and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled saying, Howe knoweth this man the * Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

16 Iesus answered them and sayde, My doctrine is not * mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man wil do his wil, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it bee of God, or whether I speak of my selfe.

18 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glorie: but hee that seeketh his glorie that sent him, the same is true, and no * vnrighteousnes is in him.

19 * Did not Moses giue you a Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? * Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The * people answered, and saide, Thou hast a deuill: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Iesus answered, and said to them, I haue done one worke, and ye all * marueile.

22 * Moses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, ( not because it is of Moses, but of the * fathers ) and ye on the Sabbath daye circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath receiue circumcision, that the Lawe of Moses should not be broken, be ye angrie with me, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabbath day?

24 * Iudge not according to the appearance, but Iudge righteous iudgements.

25 ¶ Then said some of them of Ierusalem,
Is not this he, whom they go about to kill?

26 And beholde, he speaketh * openly, and they say nothing to him: doe the rulers know in deed that this is the very Christ?

27 Howbeit we know this man whence hee is: but when the Christ cometh, no man shall knowe whence he is.

28 ¶ Then cryed Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye * both knowe me, and k He speaketh knowe whence I am: yet am I not come of this, as it were 33 Then said Iesus vnto them, Ye can 1st a litle while with you, and then goe I vnto him that sent me.

35 Then said the Iewes among them felues, Whither wil he go, that we shall not finde him? Will he go vnto them that are<sup>u</sup> dispersed among the<sup>v</sup> Grecians; and teache the Grecians?

36 What saying is this that he said, Ye shall seeke me, & shall not finde me? and where I am, can ye not come?

37 Now in the last & great day of the feast, Iesus stood and cryed, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.

38 He that belieueth in me, as saith the Scripture, out of his bellie shall flowe riuers of water<sup>o</sup> of life.

39 (* This spake he of the Spirit which they that beleue in him, should receiue: for the holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Iesus was not yet glorified)

40 So many of the people, when they heard this saying, saide, Of a trouth this is the Prophet.

41 Other said, This is the Christ: and some said, But shall Christ come out of Galile?

42 Saith not the Scripture that the Christ shall come of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Beth-lehem, where Dauid was?

43 So was there dissension among the people for him.

44 And some of them woulde haue taken him, but no man laid hands on him.

45 Then came the officers to the high Priests and Pharises, and they sayd vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Neuer man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharises, Are ye also decciued?

48 Doeth any of the rulers, or of the Pharises beleue in him?

49 But this people, which knowe not the Lawe, are cursed.

50 Nicodemus saide vnto them, (* he that came to Iesus by night, and was one of them.)

51 Doeth our Lawe iudge a man before it heare him, & knowe what he hath done?

52 They answered and saide vnto him, Art thou also of Galile? Search and looke: for out of Galile cometh no prophet.

CHAP. VIII.

31 Christ telleth her that she was taken in adulterie. 32 He is the light of the world. 33 He sheweth from whence he is come, whither he goeth. 34 Who are free, and who are bond. 35 Of free men and slaves, and their reward. 36 He despoileth his enemies; 37 And being persecuted, withdraweth him selfe.

1 And Iesus went vnto the mount of Oliues,

2 And early in the morning came againe into the Temple, & al the people came vnto him, and he fate down, & taught them.

3 The Scribes, & the Pharises brought vnto him a woman, taken in adulterie, and set her in the middes,

4 And said vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adulterie, in the verie act.

5 Now Moses in the Law commanded vs, that such should be stoned: what saist thou therefore?

6 And this they sayde to tempt him, that they might haue whereof to<sup>a</sup> accuse him. But Iesus stouped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground.

7 And while they continued asking him, he lift him selfe vp, and saide vnto them, Let him that is among you without sinne, cast the first stone at her.

8 And againe he stouped downe, & wrote on the ground.

9 And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to the last: so Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the middes.

10 When Iesus had lift vp him selfe againe, and sawe no man, but the woman, he sayde vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus sayd, Neither doe I condemne thee: go and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walke in darkenes, but shall haue the light of life.

13 The Pharises therefore saide vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe: thy record is not true.

14 * Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my recorde is true: for I know whence I came & whither I go: but ye cannot tel whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye iudge after the flesh: I iudge no man.

16 And if I also iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father, that sent me.

17 And it is also written in your Law, * that the testimonie of two men is true.

18 I am<sup>b</sup> one that beare witness of my selfe, and the Father that sent me, beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they vnto him, Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye neither knowe me, nor my Father. If ye had known me, ye should haue known my Father also.

20 These wordes spake Iesus in the<sup>c</sup> treasure, as he taught in the Temple, and no man laid hands on him: for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then sayde Iesus againe vnto them, I go my way, and ye shall seeke me, and shall die in your<sup>d</sup> sinnes. Whither I go, can ye not come.

22 Then said the Iewes, Wil he kil him selfe because he saith, Whither I go, can ye not come?

23 And he said vnto them, 'Ye are from be-world: I am not of this world.

24 I sayd therefore vnto you, That ye shall die in your sinnes: for except ye beleue, that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou?
And Iesus saide vnto the, "Euen the same thing that I saide vnto you "from the beginning.

26 I haue many things to saye, and to iudge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and the things that I haue heard of him, those speake I to the world.

27 They vnderstoode not that hee spake to them of the Father.

28 Then sayde Iesus vnto them, When ye haue I lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye know that I am "he, and that I do nothing of my selfe, but as my Father hath taught me, so I speake these things.

29 For he that sent me, is with me: the Father hath not left me alone, because I do alwayes those things that please him.

30 ¶ As he spake these things, many beleue-wed in him.

31 Then saide Iesus to the Iewes which be-leued in him, If ye continue in my word, ye are verely my disciples,

32 And shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, "We be Abrahams seede, & were neuer bond, so any mā: why sayest thou then, Ye shall be made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that whosoever committeth sinne, is the "seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruāt abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If the Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free in deede.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which yee haue seene with your father.

39 They answered, and saide vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus said vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would do the "workes of Abraham.

40 But now ye go about to kill mee, a man that haue tolde you the truth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abrahā.

41 Ye do the workes of your father. Then said they to him, We are not borne of fornication: wee haue one Father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus said vnto them, If God were your Father, then would ye loue me:
for I proceeded forth, and came fro God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not vnderstand my talke? because ye can not "heare my word.

44 "Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lusts of your father ye wil do: he hath bin a murderer: "from the beginning, and "abode not in the truth, because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh hee of his "own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye beleeue me not.

46 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? &
if I say "truth, why do ye not beleue me?

47 "He that is of God, heareth gods words:
ye therefore heare them not, because ye are nor of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Saye we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father, and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne praye: but there is one that seeketh it, and "iudgeth.

51 Verely, verely I say vnto you, If a man
keepe my word, he shall neuer "see death.

52 Then said the Iewes to him, Now knowe wee that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets, and thou sayest, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I honour any selfe, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my Father that honoureth me, whom ye say, that he is your God.

55 Yet ye haue not known him: but I know him, and if I should say I know him not, I should be a liar like vnto you: but I knowe him, and keepe his word.

56 Your father Abraham reioyced to see my "day, and he sawe it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yere olde, and hast thou seen Abraham?

58 Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I saye vnto you, before Abraham was, "I am.

59 "Then tooke they vp stones, to cast at him, but Iesus hid him selfe, and went out of the Temple ||.

The Pharises and he that was blinde.

S. Iohn.

Who see or are blinde,

2 Hereby was prefigured the Messias, who should be sent vnto them.

of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent) He went his way therefore, & washed, and came againe seeing.

8 Now the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: and others said, He is like him: but he him selfe said, I am he.

10 Therefore they said vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said vnto me, Go to the poole of Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, & receiued sight.

12 Then they saide vnto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tell.

13 They brought to the Pharises him that was once blind.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 The againe the Pharises also asked him, howe he had receiued sight. And he saide vnto them, He laide clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Then saide some of the Pharises, This mā is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, Howe can a man that is a sinner, do such miracles? and there was a dissension among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blind againe, What saist thou of him, because hee hath opened thine eyes? And he saide, He is a Prophet.

18 Then the Iewes did not beleue him (that he had bene blinde, and receyued his sight) vntill they had called the parentes of him that had receiued sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say was borne blinde? How doeth he now see then?

20 His parentes answered them, and sayde, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he nowe seeth, we knowe not: or who hath opened his eyes, can we not tell: he is olde ynough: aske him: he shal answer for him selfe.

22 These wordes spake his parentes, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordained already, that if any man did confesse that he was the Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore saide his parentes, He is olde ynough: aske him.

24 Then againe called they the mā that had bin blind, & said vnto him, Giue glory vnto God: we know that this mā is a sinner.

25 Then he answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tel: one thing I know, that I was blinde, and now I see.

26 Then said they to him againe, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I haue tolde you alreadie, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? wil ye also be his disciples?

28 Then checked they him, & said, Be thou his disciple: We be Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and said vnto them, Doubtles, this is a marueilous thing, that ye knowe not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Nowe we knowe that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

33 If this man were not of God, hee coulde haue done nothing.

34 They answered, and said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinnes, and doest thou teach vs: so they cast him out.

35 Iesus heard that they had cast him out: & when he had found him, he said vnto him, Doeest thou beleue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered, and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleue in him?

37 And Iesus said vnto him, Both thou hast seene him, & he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he said, Lord, I beleuee, and worshipped him.

39 And Iesus said, I am come vnto iudgement into this world, that they which see not, might see: and that they which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharises which were with him, heard these things, and said vnto him, Art we blinde also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If ye were blinde, ye should not haue sinned: but now ye say, We see: therefore your sinne remaineth, not so much in fault.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ is the true shepheard, & the doer. 29 Discern the opinions of Christ. 34 He is asked if he be Christ. 35 His workes declare that he is God. 36 The Princes call gods.

Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that entreteth not in by the doore into the sheepfold, but climeth vp on another waye, he is a thiefe and a robber.

But he that goeth in by the doore, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

To him the porter openeth, & the sheepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

And when he hath sent forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, and the sheepe folow him: for they know his voyce.

And they will not followe a stranger, but they flee from him: for they know not the voyce of strangers.

This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstode not what thinges they were which he spake vnto them.

Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

All that euer came before mee, are theeves and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

I am the doore: by me if any man enter in, he shal be saued, & shall go in and go out, and sure of his life.

8 He spake this in mockerie. 11 They thought either to driue him from the truth, or to make him swaue by their oft times examining him: which practise Satans members euer do obserue in examining Christians.

12 He derideth their wilful malice and ignorance.

10 The thiefe cometh not, but for to steale, and to kill, and to destroye: I am come that they might haue life, and haue it in abundance.

11 * I am the good shepheard: the good shepheard giueth his life for his sheepe.

12 But an hireling, and he which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his own, seeth the wolfe comming, and he leaueh the sheepe, and fleeth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good shepheard, and knowe mine, and am known of mine.

15 * As the Father knoweth me, so knowe I the Father: and I laye downe my life for my sheepe.

16 * Other sheepe I haue also, which are not of this folde: them also must I bring, and they shal heare my voyce: and there shal be one shepefolde, and one shepheard.

17 * Therefore doeth my Father loue me, because I lay downe my life, that I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I laye it downe of my selfe: I haue power to lay it downe, and haue power to take it againe: this * commandment haue I receiued of my Father.

19 ¶ Then there was a diffension againe among the Iewes for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, He hath a deuill, and is madde: why heare ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuill: can the deuill open the eyes of the blinde?

22 And it was at Ierusalem the * feast of the * Dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Iesus walked in the Temple, in * Solomons porche.

24 Then came the Iewes round about him, and said vnto him, Howe long doest thou * make vs doute? If thou be the Christ, tell vs plainly.

25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, and ye beleue not: the workes that I do in my Fathers Name, they beare witness of me.

26 But ye beleue not: for ye are not of my sheepe, as I said vnto you.

27 My sheepe heare my voyce, and I knowe them, and they followe me,

28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perishe, neither shall any plucke them out of mine hand.

29 My Father which gaue them me, is * greater then al, and none is able to take them out of my Fathers hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

31 * Then the Iewes againe tooke vp stones, to stone him.

32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my Father: for which of these workes do ye stone me?

33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For the good worke we stone thee not, but for blasphemie, and that thou being a man, makest thy selfe God.

34 Iesus answered them, Is it not written in your Law, * I said, ye are * gods?

35 If he called them gods, vnto whom the word of God was given, and the Scripture can not be broken, 36 Say ye of him, whome the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the Sonne of God?

37 If I do not the workes of my Father, beleue me not.

38 But if I do, then though ye beleue not me, yet beleue the workes, that ye may knowe and beleue, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 Againe they went about to take him: but he escaped out of their hands,

40 And went againe beyond Iordan, into the place where Iohn first baptized, and there abode.

41 And many resorted vnto him, and sayde, Iohn did * no miracle: but all things that Iohn spake of this man, were true.

42 And many beleued in him there.

1 And a certaine man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethania, the towne of Marie, and her sister Martha.

2 (And it was that * Marie which anointed the Lorde with ointment, and wiped his feete with her heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lorde, behold, he whom thou louest, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard it, he said, This sicknes is not * vnto death, but for the glorie of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 ¶ Now Iesus loued Martha, & her sister, and Lazarus.

6 And after he had heard that he was sick, yet abode he two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, said he to his disciples, Let vs go into Iudea againe.

8 The disciples said vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to * stone thee, and dost thou go thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not * twelue houres in the daye? if a man walke in the daye, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this worlde.

10 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake he, and after he said vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeh: but I go to wake him vp.

they thought that hee had spoken of the naturall sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may beleue: but let vs go vnto him.

*d Which signi-

16 Then said Thomas (which is called <sup>d</sup>Didymus) vnto his fellowe disciples, Let vs also go, that we may die with him.

17 ¶ Then came Iesus, & found that he had lien in the graue four dayes already.

18 (Now Bethania was nere vnto Ierusalē, about <sup>e</sup> fiftene furlongs of.)

19 And many of the Iewes were come to Martha and Marie to comfort them for their brother.

20 Then Martha, when she heard that Iesus was comming, went to meete him: but Marie sate still in the house.

21 Then saide Martha vnto Iesus, Lorde, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

22 But nowe I know also, that whatsoever thou askest of God, God will giue it thee.

23 Iesus said vnto her, Thy brother shal rise again.

24 Martha saide vnto him, I knowe that he shall rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus said vnto her, I am the resurrectio and the life: hee that beleueeth in mee, though he were dead, yet shall he liue.

26 And whosoever liueth, and beleueeth in me, shall neuer die. Beleuest thou this?

27 She said vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleue that thou art the Christe the Sonne of God, which should come into the worlde.

28 ¶ And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And whē she heard it, she arose quickly, and came vnto him.

30 For Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Marie, that she rose vp <sup>h</sup> hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 Then when Marie was come where Ie-sus was, and sawe him, she fel downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lord, if thou hadest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

33 When Iesus therefore sawe her weepe, and the Iewes also wepe which came with her, he <sup>i</sup> grieved in the spirit, and was troubled in him selfe,

34 And said, Where haue ye laid him? They said vnto him, Lord, come, and see.

35 And Iesus wept.

36 Then said the Iewes, Beholde, howe he loued him.

37 And some of them said, Could not hee, which opened the cies of the blind, haue made also, that this man should not haue died?

38 Iesus therefore againe grieved in him selfe, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, and a stone was laid vpon it.

39 Iesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, saide vnto him, Lord, he stinketh already: for he hath bene dead four dayes.

40 Iesus said vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if thou diddest beleue, thou shouldest
see the <sup>i</sup> glorie of God?

41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and said, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.

42 I knowe that thou hearest me alwayes, but because of the people that stand by, I said it, that they may beleue, that thou hast sent me.

43 As he had spoken these things, he cryed with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then he that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foote with bands, and his face was bound with a napkin. Iesus saide vnto them, Looke him, and lette him go.

45 ¶ Then many of the Iewes, which came to Marie, and had seene the things, which Iesus did, beleueed in him.

46 But some of them went their way to the Pharises, and tolde them what things Ie-sus had done.

47 Then gathered the hie Priests, and the Pharises a counsell, and said, What shal we doe? For this man doeth manie miracles.

48 If <sup>m</sup> we let him thus alone, al men will beleuee in him, and the Romanes will come and take away both our place, and the nation.

49 The one of them named Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest that same yere, said vnto them, Ye perceyue nothing at all,

50 Nor yet do you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perishe not.

51 This spake he not of him selfe: but being hie Priest that same yere, he <sup>o</sup> propheci-ed that Iesus shoulde dye for the nation:

52 And not for the nation only, but that he shoulde gather together in one the children of God, which were scattered.

53 Then from that day forth they consuled together, to put him to death.

54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence vnto a countrey nere to the wildernes, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ And the Iewes Passeouer was at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to 3 Christ washeth the disciples feete, 14 Exhorting them to humilitie and charitie. 21 Telleth them of Iudas the traitour, 24 And commaundeth them earnestly to loue one another. 38 He forewarneth of Peters deniall.

1 NOw before the feast of the Pascheouer, when Iesus knew that his houre was come, that hee should departe out of this world vnto the Father, forasmuch as hee loued his owne which were in the world, vnto the ende he * loued them.

2 And when supper was done, (and that the deuill had now put in the heart of Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, to betray him)

3 Iesus knowing that the Father had giue all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God,

4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his upper garments, and tooke a towel, & girded him selfe.

5 After that, he poured water into a basin, and began to washe the disciples feete, & to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was girded.

6 Then came he to Simon Peter, who said to him, Lord, dost thou wash my feete?

7 Iesus answered and said vnto him, What I do, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know it hereafter.

8 Peter said vnto him, Thou shalt neuer washe my feete. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt haue no parte with me.

9 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, not my feete onely, but also the handes and the head.

10 Iesus said to him, He that is washed, needeth not, saue to wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are * cleane, but not all.

11 For he knewe who should betraye him: therefore said he, Ye are not all cleane.

12 ¶ So after he had washed their feete, & had take his garments, and was set down againe, he said vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say well: for so am I.

14 If I then your Lorde, and Master, haue washed your feete, ye also ought to wash one anothers feete.

15 For I haue giuen you an example, that ye should do, euen as I haue done to you.

16 Verely, verely I say vnto you, * The seruant is not greater then his master, neither the ambassadour greater then hee that sent him.

17 If ye knowe these things, blessed are ye, if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speake not of you all: I knowe whom I haue chosen: but it is that the Scripture might be fulfilled, * He that eateth bread with me, hath lift vp his heele against me. 19 From henceforth tell I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, yee might beleuee that I am he.

20 * Verely, verely I say vnto you, If I sende any, he that receiueeth him, receiueeth me, and he that receiueeth me, receiueeth him that sent me.

21 When Iesus had said these things, hee was troubled in y Spirit, and testified, & saide, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betray me.

22 * Then the disciples looked one on another, douting of whome he spake.

23 Nowe there was one of his disciples, which leaned on Iesus bosome, whome Iesus loued.

24 To him beckened therefore Simon Peter, that he should aske who it was of whome he spake.

25 He then, as he leaned on Iesus brest, said vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Iesus answered, He it is, to whome I shall giue a soppe, when I haue dipped it: and he wet a soppe, and gaue it to Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne.

27 And after the soppe, Satan entred into him. Then said Iesus vnto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 But none of them that were at table, knew, for what cause he spake it vnto him.

29 For some of them thought because Iudas had the bagge, that Iesus had said vnto him, Buy those things that we haue need of against the feast: or y he shoulde giue some thing to the poore.

31 ¶ When hee was gone out, Iesus saide, Nowe is the Sonne of man glorified, & God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shal also glorifie him in him selfe, and shal straight way glorifie him.

33 Lide children, yet a lide while am I with you: yee shall seeke me, but as I said vnto the Iewes, Whither I goe, can yee not come: also to you say I now, 35 By this shall all men knowe that yee are my disciples, if ye haue loue one to another.

36 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not followe me now: but thou shalt followe me afterwards.

37 Peter said vnto him, Lord, why can I not followe thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Iesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verely, verely I saye vnto thee, The cocke shal not crowe, till thou haue denied me thrise.

1 And he saide to his disciples, Let not your heart be troubled: yee belecue in God, beleue also in me.

2 In my Fathers house are many dwelling places: if it were not so, I woulde haue told you: I goe to prepare a place for you.

3 And though I go to prepare a place for you, I wil come againe, and receiue you vnto my selfe, that where I am, there may ye be also.

4 And whither I go, ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas said vnto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest: how can we then know the way?

6 Iesus said vnto him, I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life. No man cometh vnto the Father, but by me.

7 If yee had knowne me, ye shoulde haue knowne my Father also: and from henceforth ye knowe him, and haue seene him.

8 Philippe said vnto him, Lord, shewe vs thy Father, and it sufficeth vs.

9 Iesus said vnto him, I haue bene so long time with you, and hast thou not knowne me, Philippe? he that hath seene me, hath seene my Father: how then sayest thou, Shewe vs thy Father?

10 Beleuest thou not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? the words that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the workes.

11 Beleue me, that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: at the least, beleue me for the very workes sake.

12 Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleueth in me, the workes that I do, hee shall doe also, and greater then these shal he do: for I go vnto my Father.

13 ¶ And whatsoever ye aske in my Name, that will I doe, that the Father maye be glorified in the Sonne.

14 If ye shal aske any thing in my Name, I wil do it.

20 At that daye shall yee knowe that I am in my Father, and you in mee, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandements, and keepeth them, is he that loueth me: and hee that loueth me, shall be loued of my Father: and I wil loue him, and will shewe mine owne selfe to him.

22 Iudas saide vnto him (not Iscariot) Lorde, What is the cause that thou wilt shewe thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde?

23 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, If any man loue me, hee will keepe my wordes, and my Father will loue him, and we will come vnto him, and will dwell with him.

24 He that loueth me not, keepeth not my wordes, and the worde which yee heare, is not mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you, being present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the holie Ghost, whom the Father will send in my Name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, which I haue told you.

27 ¶ Peace I leaue with you: my peace I giue vnto you: not as the worlde giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

28 Yee haue heard howe I said vnto you, I go away, and wil come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye woulde verely reioyce, because I said, I go vnto the Father: for my Father is greater then I.

- 17 These thinges commande I you, that ye loue one another.
- 18 If the worlde hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before you.
- 19 If ye were of the worlde, the worlde would loue his owne: but because ye are not of the worlde, but I haue chosen you out of the worlde, therefore the worlde hateth you.
- 20 Remember the worde that I said vnto you, * The seruant is not greater then his master. * If they haue persecuted me, they will persecute you also: if they haue kept my worde, they will also keepe yours.
- 21 But all these thinges wil they do vnto you for my Names sake, because they haue not known him that sent me.
- 22 If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they should not haue had sinne: but now haue they no cloke for their sinne.
- 23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.
- 24 If I had not done workes among them which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now haue they both seene, and haue hated both me, and my Father.
- 25 But it is that the word might be fulfilled, that is written in their Lawe, * They hated me without a cause.
- 26 But when the Comforter shal come, who I wil sende vnto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shall testifie of me.
- 27 And ye shall wimes also, because ye haue bene with me from the beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

He putteth them in remembrance of the crosse, and of their owne infirmities to come. 7 And therefore doeth comfort them with the promise of the holy Ghost. 16 Of the coming againe of Christ. 17 Of his ascension. 23 To take in the name of Christ. 23 Peace in Christ, and in the world of affliction.

- 1 These thinges haue I said vnto you, that ye should not be offended.
- 2 They shall excommunicate you: yea, a time shall come, that who soeuer killeth you, wil thinke that he doth God seruice.
- 3 And these thinges wil they doe vnto you, because they haue not knowe the Father, nor me.
- 4 But these thinges haue I tolde you, that when the houre shal come, ye might remember, that I tolde you them. And these thinges said I not vnto you from the beginning, because I was with you.
- 5 But now I goe my waye to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?
- 6 But because I haue said these thinges vnto you, your hearts are full of sorow.
- 7 Yet I tell you the truth, it is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter wil not come vnto you: but if I depart, I wil send him vnto you.

10 Of righteoufnes, because I go to my Father, and ye shall see me no more:

11 Of <sup>e</sup> iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged.

12 I haue yet <sup>a</sup> manie thinges to saye vnto you, but ye can not beare them now.

13 Howbeit, when he is come which is the Spirit of truth, he will leade you into all truth: for he shall not speake of himself, but whatsoever hee shall heare, shall hee speake, and he will shewe you the thinges <sup>to</sup> come.

14 He shall glorifie me: for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

15 All thinges that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shew it vnto you.

16 <sup>a</sup> A little while, and ye shall not see me: & againe a little while, and ye shall see me: for I go to my Father.

17 Then said <sup>some</sup> of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith vnto vs, A little while, and ye shall not see me, and againe, a little while, and ye shall see me, and, For I go to my Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we know not what he saith.

19 Now Iesus knewe that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Doe ye enquire among your selues, of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and againe, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, and the world shall reioyce: and ye shall sorowe, but your sorowe shall be turned to ioye.

21 A woman when she travaileth, hath sorowe, because her houre is come: but as sone as she is deliuered of the childe, she remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And ye now therefore are in sorow: but I will see you <sup>againe</sup>, and your heartes shall reioyce, and your ioye shall <sup>be</sup> no man take from you.

23 And in that day shall ye aske me <sup>nothing</sup>. Verely, verely I say vnto you, what soeuer yee shall aske the Father in my Name, he will giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue ye asked <sup>nothing</sup> in my Name: aske, & ye shall receiue, that your ioye may be full.

25 These thinges haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day shall ye aske in my Name, & in the grace of the holy Ghost. <sup>o</sup> For ye shall haue persie knowledge, and shall no more doubt, as you were wont. Chap. 14. 13. mat. 7. 7. In respect of that, that you shall obtaine, if you aske in faith.

I say not vnto you, that I will <sup>a</sup> pray vnto the Father for you.

27 For the Father him selfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, <sup>a</sup> and haue beleueed that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father, & came into the world: againe I leaue the world, and go to the Father.

29 His disciples saide vnto him, Lo, nowe speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Nowe knowe we that thou knowest all thinges, & needest not that any man should aske thee. By this we beleuee, that thou art come out from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Doe you beleuee now?

32 <sup>a</sup> Beholde, the houre commeth, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man into his owne, and shall leaue me alone: but I am not <sup>a</sup> alone: for the Father is with me.

33 These thinges haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace: in the world ye shall haue affliction, but be of good confort: I haue ouercome the world.

The prayer of Iesus vnto his Father, both for him selfe and his Apostles, & also for all such as receiue the truth.

5 And now glorifie me, thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glorie which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I haue declared thy name vnto the men which thou gauest me out of the worlde: <sup>a</sup> thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy worde.

7 Now they know that all thinges whatsoever thou hast giuen me, are of thee.

8 For I haue giuen vnto them the wordes, which thou gauest me, and they haue receiued them, <sup>a</sup> & haue knowne surely that I came out from thee, and haue beleued that thou hast sent me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast giuen me: for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And nowe am I no more in the worlde, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep the in thy Name, even them whome thou hast giuen mee, that they may be <sup>a</sup> one, as we are.

CHAP. XVIII.

3 Chriſt is betrayed. 6 The wordes of his mouth ſmite the officers to the grounde. 10 Peter ſmiteth of Malchus eare. 13 Ieſus is brought before Annas and Caiaphas, 25 VVhere Peter denieth him. 36 He telleth Pilate what his kingdom is.

1 WHen Ieſus had ſpoke theſe things, he went forth with his diſciples ouer y brooke * Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entred, and his diſciples.

2 And Iudas which betrayed him, knewe alſo the place: for Ieſus oft times reſorted thither with his diſciples.

3 * Iudas then after he had receiued a bad of men & officers of the hie Priests, and of the Phariſes, came thither with laternes, and torches, and weapons.

4 Then Ieſus, knowing all things y ſhould come vnto him, went forth and ſaid vnto them, Whom ſeeke ye?

5 They answered him, Ieſus of Nazaret.
Ieſus ſaid vnto them, I am he. Nowe Iudas alſo which betrayed him, ſtoode with them.

6 Aſſoone then as he had ſaid vnto them, I am he, they went backwardes, and fell to the ground.

7 Then he asked the againe, Whom ſeke ye? And they ſaid, Ieſus of Nazaret.

8 Ieſus answered, I ſaid vnto you, that I am he: therfore if ye ſeeke me, let theſe go their way,

9 *This was that the worde might be fulfilled which he ſpoke, * Of them which thou gaueſt me, haue I loſt none.*

10 Then Simo Peter hauing a ſword, drew it, & ſmote the hie Priests ſeruant, & cut of his right eare. Now the ſeruants name was Malchus.

11 Then ſaid Ieſus vnto Peter, Put vp thy ſword into the ſheath: ſhal I not drinke of the cup which my Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the bande and the captaine, and the officers of the Iewes tooke Ieſus, and broude him,

13 And led him away to * Annas firſt (for he was father in lawe to Caiaphas, which was the hie Priſt * that ſame yere)

14 * And Caiaphas was he, that gaue coun-ſel to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man ſhould dye for the people.

15 ¶ Now Simon Peter followed Ieſus, & an other diſciple, and that diſciple was knowne of the hie Priſt: therfore he went in with Ieſus into the hall of the hie Priſt.

16 But Peter ſtoode at the dore without.
Then went out the other diſciple which was knowne vnto the hie Priſt, & ſpoke to her that kept the dore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then ſaid the maide that kept the dore, vnto Peter, Art not thou alſo one of this mans diſciples? He ſaid, I am not.

18 And the ſeruants and officers ſtoode there, which had made a fire of coles for it was colde, and they warmed the ſelues.
And Peter alſo ſtoode among them, and warmed him ſelfe.

19 ¶ The hie Priſt then asked Ieſus of his diſciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Ieſus answered him, I ſpoke openly to the worlde: I euer taught in y Synagogue and in the Temple, whither the Iewes reſorte continually, and in ſecret haue I ſaid nothing.

21 Why aſkeſt thou me? aſke them which heard me what I ſaid vnto them: behold, they knowe what I ſayd.

22 When he had ſpoke theſe things, one of the officers which ſtoode by, ſmote Ieſus with his rod, ſaying, Anſwereſt thou the hie Priſt ſo?

23 Ieſus answered him, If I haue euill ſpoken, beare witnes of the euill: but if I haue well ſpoken, why ſmiteſt thou me?

25 * And Simon Peter stood and warmed him selfe, and they said vnto him, Art not thou also of his disciples? Hee denied it, & said, I am not.

26 One of the seruants of the hie Priest, his cousin whose eare Peter smote of, sayde, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied againe, and immediately the cocke crewe.

28 ¶ Then led they Iesus fro Caiaphas into the common hall. Now it was morning, & they themselues went not into the common hall, lest they should be defiled, but that they might eat the Pascheouer.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said vnto him, If hee were not an euill doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then saide Pilate vnto them, Take he ye him, and iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Iewes sayd vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

32 ¶ It was that the worde of Iesus might be fulfilled which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 ¶ So Pilate entred into the common hall again, and called Iesus, and said vnto him, Art thou the King of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Saist thou that of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation, and the hie Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me. What hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this worlde: if my kingdome were of this worlde, my seruants woulde surely fight, that I should not be deliuered to Iewes: But now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate then saide vnto him, Art thou a King then? Iesus answered, Thou saist that I am a King: for this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the worlde, that I should beare witnes vnto the trueth: euery one that is of the trueth, heareth my voyce.

38 Pilate saide vnto him, What is trueth? And when he had said that, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, & said vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

39 ¶ But you haue a custome, that I should deliuer you one loofe at the Pascheouer: will ye then that I loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

40 ¶ Then cryed they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: nowe this Barabbas was a murtherer.

CHAP. XIX.

¶ When Pilate could not assuage the rage of the Iewes against Christ, he deliuereth him up with his superscription to be hanged betwene two thieves. 23 They cast lottes for his garments. 26 He commendeth him to the Iewes. 28 Callest for drinke, 33 Dryeth, and his side is pierced, and taken downe from the crosse. 38 He is buried.

1 Then * Pilate tooke Iesus and scourged him.

2 And the souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment.

3 And said, Haile, King of the Iewes. And they smote him with their rodde.

4 Then Pilate went forth againe, and said vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may knowe, that I finde no faulte in him at all.

5 Then came Iesus forth wearing a crown of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate said vnto them, Behold the man.

6 Then when the hie Priests and officers sawe him, they cried, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him and crucifie him: for I finde no faulte in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, Wee haue a lawe, and by our lawe he ought to dye, because hee made him selfe the Sonne of God.

8 ¶ When Pilate then heard that worde, he was the more afraide,

9 And went againe into the common hall and said vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answer.

10 Then said Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto mee? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the greater sinne.

12 From thence forth Pilate sought to loose him, but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Cefars friend: for whosoeuer maketh him selfe a King, speaketh against Cesar.

13 ¶ When Pilate heard that worde, hee brought Iesus forth, and sate downe in the iudgement seate in a place called the Paucement, and in Hebrew, Gabbatha.

14 And it was the Preparatiō of the Pascheouer, and about the sixt houre: and hee said vnto the Iewes, Behold your King.

15 But they cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate saide vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King? The hie Priests answered, Wee haue no King but Cesar.

16 Then deliuered he him vnto them, to be crucified. ¶ And they tooke Iesus, and led him away.

17 And he bare his crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens Skulles, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, & two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the middes.

19 ¶ And Pilate wrote also a title, and put it on the crosse, and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARET THE KING OF THE IEWES.

Pilate that he might take downe the body of Iesus. And Pilate gaue him licence. He came then and tooke Iesus bodie.

39 And there came <sup>q</sup> also Nicodemus (which first came to Iesus by night) and brought of myrrhe and aloes mingled together about an hundreth pounce.

Chap. 10.

40 ¶ Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wrapped it in linen clothes with the <sup>q</sup> o- dours, as the maner of the Iewes is to burie.

q This honours a burial was as a preparation & entrie vnto the resurrection.

41 And in that place where Iesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

42 There then layd they Iesus, because of the Iewes Preparation day, for the sepulchre was nere.

¶ Marie Magdalene cometh to the sepulchre. 3 So do Peter and Iohn. 12 The two Angels appeare. 17 Christ appeareth to Marie Magdalene, 18 And to all his disciples. 25 The incredulitie of Thomas. 28 His confession.

Mar. 16. 1.

2 Then she ranne, and came to Simon Peter, and to the other discipule whom Iesus loued, and said vnto them, They haue taken away the Lorde out of the sepulchre, and we knowe not where they haue layde him.

r She departed from home before day, and came thither about the same rising. Mar. 16. 2.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and the other discipule, and they came vnto the sepulchre.

4 So they ranne both together, but the other discipule did outrunne Peter, & came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stopted downe, and sawe the linen clothes lying: yet went he not in.

6 Then came Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and sawe the linen clothes lye,

7 And the <sup>s</sup> kerchiefe that was vpon his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also the <sup>t</sup> other discipule, which came first to the sepulchre, and he sawe it, and beleued:

t That is, Iohn which wrote this Gospel. c He beleued that Christ's bodie was taken away, according as Marie reported.

9 For as yet they knewe not the Scripture, That he must rise againe from the dead.

10 And the disciples went away againe vnto their <sup>u</sup> owne home.

11 ¶ But Marie stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulchre,

12 And sawe two Angels in whire, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feete, where the bodie of Iesus had laine.

13 And they saide vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She sayd vnto them, They haue taken away my Lorde, and I knowe not where they haue laid him.

14 When she had thus said, she turned her selfe backe, and sawe Iesus standing, and knewe knewe not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She supposing that he had bene the gardener, said vnto him, Syr, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laide him, and I will take him away.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Marie. She turned her selfe, and saide vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus saith vnto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father, but go to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascend vnto my Father, and to your Father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Marie Magdalene came & tolde the disciples that she had seene the Lorde, and that he had spoken these things vnto her.

19 ¶ The same day then at night, which was the first day of the weeke, and when the doores were shut where the disciples were assembled for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus and stood in the middes, and said to them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they had seene the Lord.

21 Then said Iesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: as my Father sent me, so send I you.

22 And when he had said that, he breathed on them, and said vnto them, Receiue the holy Ghost.

23 ¶ Whoso euer sinnes ye remitte, they are remitted vnto the: and whoso euer sinnes ye reteine, they are reteined.

24 ¶ But Thomas one of the twelue, called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore saide vnto him, We haue seene the Lord: but he said vnto them, Except I see in his handes the print of the nailes, and put my finger into the print of the nailes, & put mine hand into his side, I will not beleuee it.

26 ¶ And eight dayes after againe his disciples were within, & Thomas with them. Then came Iesus, when the doores were shut, and stood in the middes, and saide, Peace be vnto you.

27 After, said he to Thomas, Put thy finger here, and see mine handes, and put forth thine hand, and put it into my side, and be not faithles, but faithfull.

28 Then Thomas answered, and sayd vnto him, Thou art my Lord, and my God.

29 Iesus saide vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou beleuest: blessed are they that haue not seene, & haue beleueed.

30 ¶ And many other signes also did Iesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this booke.

31 But these thinges are written, that ye might beleue, that Iesus is the Christ the Sonne of God, and that in beleueing ye might haue life through his Name.

CHAP. XXI.

Christ appeareth to his disciples againe. 15 He commaundeth Peter earnestly to feede his sheepe. 18 He forewarneth him of his death. 25 Of Christes manifeste miracles.

After these thinges, Iesus shewed him selfe againe to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he him selfe, saith.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter saide vnto them, I go a fishing. They said vnto him, We also wil go with thee. They went their way, and entered into a ship straight way, & that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stood on the shore: neuertheless the disciples knewe not that it was Iesus.

5 Iesus then said vnto them, Syrs, haue ye any meate? They answered him, No.

6 Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the shippe, & ye shall finde. So they cast out, and they were not able at all to drawe it, for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore said the disciple whom Iesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lorde. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lorde, he girded his coate to him (for he was naked) and cast him selfe into the sea.

8 But the other disciples came by shippe (for they were not farre from land, but about two hundredth cubites) and they drewed the net with fishes.

9 Asone then as they were come to land, they sawe hoate coales, & fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Iesus said vnto them, Bring of the fishes, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter stepped forth & drewed the net to lande, full of great fishes, an hundredth, fiftie & three: and albeit there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Iesus said vnto them, Come, and dyne. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou, seeing they knewe that he was the Lord.

13 Iesus then came, and tooke bread, and gaue them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Iesus shewed him selfe to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Iesus saide to Simon Peter, Simon sonne of Iona, louest thou me more then these? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my lambes.

16 He said to him againe the second time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the third time, Simon, thou art a rocke, Christ causeth him by these three times confelling, to wipe away the shame of his three times denying.

Or, lake of Gennes. 4 to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias.

Or, Children.

Albeit they knewe him not, yet they followed his counsel, because they had al night taken paines in vaine. It was some linen garment, which fishers used to weare, which being trusted vnto him, covered his nether partes, & also letted not his swimming.

The minister cannot well teach his congregation, except he loue Christ effectually, which loue is not in them that feede not the flocke. Because Peter should be established in his office of an Apostle, Christ causeth him by these three times confelling, to wipe away the shame of his three times denying.

the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? Peter was sorie because he said to him the third time, Louest thou me: and said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus said vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

18 Verely, verely I saye vnto thee, When thou wast yong, thou girdedst thy self, and walkedst whither thou wouldest; but when thou shalt bee olde, thou shalt stretche forth thine handes, & another shall gird thee, and leade thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 And this spake hee, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had said this, he said to him, Followe me.

20 Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whom Iesus loued, following, which had also leane on his breast at supper, and had said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therefore sawe him, he said to Iesus, Lord, what shall this man doe?

22 Iesus said vnto him, If I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee? followe thou me.

23 Then went this worde abroade among the brethren, that this disciple should not dye. Yet Iesus said not to him, He shall not dye: but if I will that he tarie till I come, what is it to thee?

24 This is that disciple, which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimonie is true.

25 * Now there are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they should be written euerie one, I suppose the world could not containe the bookes that should be written, Amen.

THE ACTES OF THE HOLIE APOSTLES, WRITTEN BY LVKE THE EVANGELISTE.

THE ARGVMENT.

Christ, after his ascension, performed his promise to his Apostles, and sent them the holy Ghost, declaring thereby, that he was not onely mindefull of his Church, but would be the head and maine reiner thereof for euer. Wherein also his mightie power appeareth, who notwithstanding that Satan and the world resisted neuer so much against this noble worke, yet by a few simple men of no reputation, replenished all the world with the sounde of his Gospel. And here in the beginning of the Church, and in the increase thereof, we may plainly perceiue the practise and malice which Satan continually vsesh to suppress, and overthrowe the Gospel: he raiseth conspiracies, tumultes, commotions, persecutions, slanders and all kinde of crueltie. Againe we shall here behold the prouidence of God, who overthroweth his enemies enterprises, deliuereth his Church from the rage of tyrants, strengtheneth, and encourageth his most valiantly & constantly to followe their capitaine Christ, leauing as it were by this historie a perpetuall memorie to the Church, that the crosse is so ioyned with the Gospel, that they are fellowes inseparable, and that the end of one affliction, is but the beginning of an other. Yet neuertheles God turneth the troubles, persecutions, imprisonings and sensations of his, to a good issue, giuing them as it were, in forrowe, ioye: in bonds, freedome: in prison, deliuerance: in trouble, quietnes: in death, life. Finally, this booke containeth many excellent sermons of the Apostles and disciples, as touching the death, resurrection, and ascension of Christ. The mercie of God. Of the grace, and remission of sinne through Iesus Christ. Of the blessed immortallitie. An exhortation to the ministers of Christes flocke. Of repentance, and feare of God, with other principall pointes of our faith: so that this onely historie in a manner may be sufficient to instruct a man in all true doctrine and religion.

fallen, be this known vnto you, and hearken vnto my wordes.

15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, since it is but the third houre of the daye.

16 But this is that, which was spoken by the Prophet * Ioei,

17 And it shalbe in the last dayes, saith God, I wil powre out of my spirit vp6 all<sup>m</sup> flesh, and your sonnes, and your daughters shall prophesie, and your young men shall see visions, and your<sup>a</sup> olde men shall dreame dreames.

18 And on my seruants, and on mine handmaidens I will<sup>o</sup> powre out of my Spirit in those dayes, and they shall prophesie.

19 And I will shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, bloud, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

20 * The<sup>a</sup> Sunne shalbe turned into darke-nes, & the Moone into bloud, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.

21 And it shalbe, * that whosoever shall call on the<sup>a</sup> Name of the Lord, shalbe saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, heare these wordes, Iesus of Nazaret, a man approued of God among you with great workes, and wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the mids of you, as yee your selues also knowe:

23 Him, I say, haue ye taken by the hands of the wicked, being deliuered by the<sup>a</sup> deter- minate counsell, and foreknowledge of God, and haue crucified and slaine:

24 Whom God hath raised vp, and looked the<sup>a</sup> sorowes of death, because it was vn- possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Dauid saith concerning him, * I be- held the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my<sup>a</sup> right hand, that I should not be shaken.

26 Therefore did mine heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad, and moreouer also my flesh shall rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leaue my<sup>a</sup> soule in graue, neither wilt suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast shewed me the<sup>a</sup> wayes of life, and shalt make me full of ioye with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, I may boldly speake vnto you of the Patriarke Dauid, * that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre remaineth with vs vnto this day.

30 Therefore, seeing hee was a<sup>a</sup> Prophet, and knewe that God had<sup>a</sup> sworne with an oth to him, that of the fruite of his loynes he would raise vp Christ concerning the flesh to set him vpon his throne,

31 He knowing this before, spake of the re- surrection of Christ, that his<sup>a</sup> soule should not be left in<sup>a</sup> graue, neither his flesh should see corruption:

32 Therefore, being thus armed, hee went into the Temple, and stood in the mids of the people, saying, Men of Israel, heare these wordes.

33 Since then that he by the<sup>a</sup> bright hand of God hath bene exalted, and hath recei- ued of his Father the promes of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this which ye now see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into heauen, but he saith, * The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, 35 Vntill I make thine enemies thy foot- stooles.

36 Therefore, let all the house of Israel knowe for a suretie, that God hath made him both Lord, & Christ, this Iesus, of whom ye haue crucified.

37 Now when they heard it, they were pricked in their hearts, and saide vnto Peter & the other Apostles, Men and brethren, What shal we do?

38 Then Peter said vnto them, Amend your liues, and be baptized euery one of you in the Name of Iesus Christ for the remis- sion of sinnes: and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promes is made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are as farre of, euen as many as the Lorde our God shall call.

40 And with many other wordes hee be- sought & exhorted them, saying, Save your selues from this froward generation.

41 The they that gladly receiued his word, were baptized: and the same day, there were added to the Church about three thousand<sup>a</sup> soules.

42 And they continued in the Apostles do- ctrine, and fellowship, and breaking of bread, and prayers.

43 And there came vpon euery soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And al that beleued, were in one place, and had all things<sup>a</sup> common.

45 And they sold their possessions & goods, and parted them to all men, as euery one had neede.

46 And they continued daily with one ac- corde in the Temple, * and breaking bread at home, did eate their meat to- gether with gladnes and singlenes of heart, 47 Praying God, & had fauour with all the people: & the Lord added to the Church<sup>a</sup> from day to day, such as should be saved.

48 And all these things came to passe in Ierusalem. And the multitude of the people in- creased exceedingly in Ierusalem.

49 And there arose of the people of Is- rael certain sort, who were called Hae- reticks, the same which in Greek are called Schismatics.

50 Whose chief saye was, that it was neede that euery man should be circumcised, and that they should keepe the Lawe of Moyses.

51 And they troubled the people, saying, We haue receiued of the Lord, that we should keepe the Lawe of Moyses, and to be circumcised.

from his mothers wombe, was caried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the Temple called Beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the Temple.

Who seeing Peter and Iohn, that they would enter into the Temple, desired to receiue an almes.

4 And Peter earnestly beholding him with Iohn, said, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receiue some thing of them.

6 Then said Peter, Siluer and gold haue I none, but such as I haue, that giue I thee: In the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazaret rise vp, and walke.

7 And he tooke him by the right hand, & lift him vp, and immediately his feete and ancle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaped vp, stood, & walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walke, and praising God.

10 And they knew him, that it was hee which sat for the almes at the Beautifull gate of the Temple: and they were amazed, and sore astonied at that which was come vnto him.

11 And as the creeple which was healed, held Peter and Iohn, all the people ran amazed vnto them in the porche which is called Solomons.

12 So when Peter saw it, he answered vnto the people, Ye me of Israel, why marueile ye at this? or why looke ye so steadfastly on vs, as though by our owne power or godlines, we had made this man go?

13 The God of Abraham, and Isaac, & Iacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his Sonne Iesus, whom ye betrayed, and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged him to be deliuered.

i That is, none other cause or meane.

12 Neither is there saluation in any other:
for among men there is giuen none other name: vnder heauen, whereby wee must be laued.

13 Now when they saw the boldenes of Peter & Iohn, & vnderstoode that they were vnlearned me & without knowledge, they marueiled, and knew them, that they had bene with Iesus:

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.

15 Then they commaunded them to go aside, out of the Counsell, and * conferred among them selues,

16 Saying, What shall we do to these men?
for surely a manifest signe is done by the,
& it is openly knowne to all them that dwell in Ierusalem: and we can not deny it.

17 But that it be noised no farther among the people, let vs threaten & charge the,
that they speake hence forth to no man in this Name.

18 So they called them, and commaunded them, that in no wise they should speake or teach in the Name of Iesus.

19 But Peter & Iohn answered vnto them, and said, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to obey you rather then God, iudge ye.

20 For wee can not but speake the thinges which we haue * seene and heard.

21 So they * threatened them, and let them go, & found nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for al men praised God for that which was done.

22 For the man was aboute fourtie yere old:
on whome this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then as soon as they were let goe, they came to their * fellowes, and shewed all that the hie Priests and Elders had saide
vnto them.

24 And when they heard it, they liue vp their voyses to God with one accord, and said, O Lord, thou art * God which hast made the heauen and the earth, the sea, and al things that are in them.

25 Which * by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast said, * Why did the Gentiles rage, & the people imagine vaine things?

26 The Kings of the earth assembled, and the rulers came together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For * douteles, against thine holy Sonne Iesus, whom thou haddest * anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles & the people of Israel gathered the selues together,

28 To do whatsoever thine * hand, and thy * counsell had determined before to bee done.

29 And now, O Lord, behold their * threatnings, & * graunt vnto thy seruantes with all boldenes to speake thy word,

30 So that thou stretch forth thine hand, * healing, and signes, and wonders may be done by the Name of thine holy Sonne Iesus.

31 And when as they had prayed, the place was shakē where they were assembled together, and they were all * filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the worde of God * boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleue-d, were of one heart, and of one * soule:
neither any of them saide, that any thing of that which he possessed, was his * owne, but they had al things * common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurre * ction of the Lord Iesus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 Neither was there any smog them, that * lacked: for as many as were possessours of lands or houses, sold them, & brought the price of the things that were sold,

35 And laied it downe at the Apostles feet, & it was distributed vnto euery man, * according as he had neede.

36 Also Ioses, which was called of the Apostles, Barnabas (that is by interpretation the sonne of consolacion) being a Leuite, & of the countrey of Cyprus,

37 Where as he had land, sold it, & brought the money, & laied it downe at the Apostles feet:

his necessitie moderately relieved.

agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord: behold, the feet of them which haue buried thine husband, are at the dore and shal carie thee out.

10 Then the fell downe a straight way at his feet, & yelded vp the ghost: & the yong men came in, and found her dead, and carryed her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came on al the Church, & on as many as heard these things.

12 Thus by the hands of the Apostles were many signes & wonders shewed among the people (and they were al with one accord in Solomons porche.

13 And of the other durst no man ioyne him selfe to them: neuertheles the people magnified them,

14 Also the number of them that beleued in the Lord, both of men & women, grew more and more)

15 In so much that they brought the sicke into the streetes, & laid them on beddes, & couches, that at the least way the shadow of Peter, wher he came by, might shadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, & the which were vexed with vnclean spirits, who were al healed.

17 ¶ Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which was the sect of the Sadduces) and were full of indignation,

18 And laid hands on the Apostles, & put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angell of the Lord, by night opened the prison dores, & brought them forth, and said,

20 Go your way, and stand in the Temple, & speake to the people all the words of this life.

21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chiefe Priest came, & they that were with him, & called the Counsell together, & al the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned and tolde it,

23 Saying, Certainely we found the prison shut as sure as was possible, and the keepers standing without before the dores: but when we had opened, wee founde no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest, & the captaine of the Temple, and the hie priestes heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one & shewed them, saying, Behold, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teache the people.

26 Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence

(for they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Counsell, & the chiefe Priest asked them, 28 Saying, Did not we straitly commaund you, that yee shoulde not teach in this Name? and behold, ye haue filled Ierusalem with your doctrine, & ye would bring this mans blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter & the Apostles answered, & said, We ought rather to obey God then men.

30 The God of our fathers hath raised vp Iesus, whome ye slew, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right had, to be a prince and a Saviour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sinnes.

32 And we are his witnessse concerning these things which we say: yea, & the holy Ghost, whome God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 Now when they heard it, they brast for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp in y counsel a certain Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctour of the Law, honoured of al y people, & commaunded to put the Apostles forth a litle space.

35 And said vnto them, Men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye intende to do touching these men.

36 For before these times, rose vp Theudas boasting himselfe, to whom resorted a number of men, about a foure hundred, who was slaine: & they all which obeyed him, were scatted, & brought to nought.

37 After this man, arose vp Iudas of Galilee, in the dayes of the tribute, & drew away much people after him: he also perished, and al that obeyed him, were scatted abroad.

38 And nowe I say vnto you, refrain your selues from these men, & let them alone: for if this counsel, or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye can not destroy it, lest ye be found euen fighters against God.

40 And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles: & when they had beaten them, they commaunded that they shoulde not speake in the Name of Iesus, & let the go.

41 So they departed from the Counsell, rejoicing, that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And dayly in the Temple, & from house to house they ceased not to teach, and preach Iesus Christ.

21 And when hee was caſt out, Pharaos daughter tooke him vp, & nourished him for her owne ſonne.

22 And Moſes was learned in all the wiſe-dome

dome of the Egyptians, and was mightie in wordes and in deedes.

23 Now when he was full fourty yere olde, it came into his heart to visit his brethre, the children of Israel.

24 * And when he sawe one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, & auenged his quarrel that had the harme done to him, & smote the Egyptian.

25 For hee supposed his brethren would haue vnderstand, that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstood it not.

26 * And the next day, he shewed him selfe vnto them as they stroue, & would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethre: why do ye wróg one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kil me, as thou didest the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 And when fourtie yeres were expired, there appeared to him in the * wildernes of mount Sina, an Angell of the Lord in a flame of fire, in a bush.

31 And when Moses saw it, he wondred at the sight: and as he drew nere to consider it, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, & the God of Isaac, & the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold it.

33 Then the Lord said to him, * Put of thy shooes from thy feet: for y place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, & I haue heard their groining, and am come down to deliuer them: and nowe come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they forsoke, saying, Who made thee a prince & a iudge? the same God sent for a prince, & a deliuerer by the hands of the Angell, which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He * brought them out, doing wóders, & miracles in the land of Egypt, & in the red sea, and in the wildernes * fourtie yeres.

37 This is that Moses, which said vnto the children of Israel, * A * Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you, euen of your brethren, like vnto me: him shal ye heare.

38 * Thus is he that was in the Congregation in the wildernes with the * Angell, who spake to him in mount Sina, and vnto our fathers, who receiued the * liuely oracles to mee vnto vs.

39 To whome our fathers would not obey, but refused, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt,

40 Saying vnto Aaron, * Make * vs gods that may go before vs: for * we know not what is become of this Moses that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

41 And they made a calfe in those dayes, & offered sacrifice vnto the idole, & reioyced in the workes of their owne hands.

42 Then God turned himselfe away, and * gaue them vp to serue the host of heauen, as it is written in the booke of the Prophets, * O house of Israel, haue ye offered to me slaine beasts & sacrifices by y space of fourty yeres in the wildernes?

43 And ye * tooke vp the tabernacle of * Moloch, & the starre of your god Remphan, figures, which ye made to worship them: therefore I wil cary you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of * wittnes in the wildernes, as hee had appointed, speaking vnto * Moses, that he should make it according to the facion that hee had seene.

45 Which tabernacle also our fathers receiued, and brought in with * Iesus into the possession of the Gentiles, which God draue out before our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid:

46 * Who found fauour before God, & desired that he might * finde a tabernacle for the God of Iacob.

47 * But Solomon built him an house.

48 Howbeit the most High * dwelleth not in temples made with hands, as sayeth the * Prophet, 49 Heauen is my throne, and earth is my footstole: what * house will ye build for which abused y me, saith the Lorde? or what place is it that I should rest in?

50 Hath not mine had made al these things?

51 * Ye stiffnecked and of vncircumcised hearts & eares, ye haue alwayes resisted the holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do you.

52 Which of the Prophets haue not your fathers persecuted? & they haue slaine them, which shewed before of the coming of that * Iust, of whome ye are now the betrayers and murderers, 53 * Which haue receiued the Law by the ordinance of Angels, & haue not kept it.

54 But when they heard these things, their hearts brast for anger, and they gnashed at him with their teeth.

55 But he being ful of the holy Ghost, looked stedfastly into heauē, & saw the glory of God, and Iesus standing at the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heauens opē, and the Sonne of man standing at the right hand of God.

57 Then they gaue a shout with a loude voyce, & stopped their eares, & * ran vp on him al at once, 58 And cast him out of the citie, & stoned him: & the * wittneses laid downe their clothes at a yong mā seete, named Saul.

59 And they stoned Steuen, who called on God, & said, Lord Iesus, receiue my spirit.

Yet they knew he was absēt for their commoditie, and so would shortly returne and bring them the Law.

Of the Eunuch.

60 And he kneeled downe, and cryed with a loude voyce, * Lord, lay not this sinne to their charge. And when hee had thus spoken, he slept.

C H A P. VIII.

1 Steuen is lamented and buried. 2 The rage of the Iewes and of Sas against them. 3 The faithfull scattered, preach here and there. 4 Samaria is seduced by Simo the forcerer, but was converted by Philippe, & confirmed by the Apostles. 5 The comensnes and hypocrisie of Simon, 6 And conversion of the Eunuche.

1 AND Saul consented to his death, & at that time, there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Ierusalem, and they were all scattered abroad through the regions of Iudea and of Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 Then certaine men fearing God, * caryed Steuen among them, so be buried, & made great lamentation for him.

3 But Saul made hauocke of the Church, and entred into euery house, & drew out both me & womē, & put the into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the word.

5 Then came Philippe into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto the.

6 And the people gaue heede vnto those things which Philippe spake, with one accord, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vnclane spirits crying with a loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed of them: & many taken with palsies, & that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 And there was before in the citie a certain man called Simon, which vsed witchcraft, & bewitched the people of Samaria, saying, that he him selfe was some great man.

10 To whome they gaue heede from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And they gaue heede vnto him, because that of long time he had bewitched the with forceries.

12 But as soon as they beleued Philippe, which preached the things that concerned the kingdome of God, & the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon him selfe beleued also & was baptized, & continued with Philippe; and wondred, when he sawe the signes & great miracles which were done.

14 Now when the Apostles, which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them, that they might receiue the holy Ghost.

16 For as yet, he was come down on none of them, but they were baptized only in the Name of the Lord Iesus)

17 Then laid they their hands on them, & they receiued the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon sawe, that through laying on of the Apostles handes the holy Ghost was giuen, hee offered them money, 19 Saying, Giue mee also this power, that on whome soeuer I lay the hands, he may receiue the holy Ghost.

20 Then said Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may bee obtained with money.

21 Thou hast neither parte nor fellowship in this busines: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, and pray God, that if it be possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I see that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquitie. * Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye haue spoken, come vpon me.

24 So they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lorde, returned to Ierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many townes of the Samaritans.

25 The Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philippe, saying, Arise, and go towards the South vnto the way that goeth down from Ierusalem vnto Gaza, which is waste.

26 And he arose & went on: and beholde, a certaine Eunuch of Ethiopia, Candaces the Queene of the Ethiopians chief Gouernour, who had the rule of all her treasure, & came to Ierusalem to worship: And as he returned sitting in his charet, he read Esaus the Prophet.

27 Then the Spirit said vnto Philippe, Go nere & ioyne thy selfe to yonder charet.

28 And Philippe ranne thither, and heard him read the Prophet Esaus, & said, But vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

29 And he said, How can I, except I had a guide? And he desired Philippe, that hee would come vp and sit with him.

30 Now the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, * He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter: & like a lambe donne before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

31 In his humilitie his iudgement hath bene exalted: but who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

32 Then the Eunuch answered Philippe, & said, I pray thee of whome speaketh the Prophet this? of him selfe, or of some other man?

33 Then Philippe opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, & preached vnto him Iesus.

suffed, was the beginning of his glorie. That is, how long his age shal endure: for being risen from death, death shal no more reigne, neither shal his kingdome euer haue end: or els we may take generation, for his Church which neuer shal haue end: for now they sit in heavenly places w Christ their head, as Ephe. 2. 6. And he now reigneth in heaue. t He declared at length this matter of so great importance a From the place where he was stoned.

b When the Church is depriued of anie worshipping member, there is iust cause of sorrow: and note that here is no mention of anie reliques or prayers for the dead, or worshipping.

c The conversion of Samaria was as it were the first fruites of calling of the Gentiles.

d This declareth how much more we are inclined to follow the illusions of Satan, then the truth of God. e This is a craft of Satan, to conceal his illusions vnder the name of God.

f The maiestie of Gods word forced him to confesse the truth: but yet was he not regenerate therefore.

g Meaning the particular gifts of the holie Spirit.

h They had onely receiued the common grace of adoption and regeneration which are offered to all faithful in baptism, and as yet had not receiued the gift to speake in diuers languages, and to do miracles.

i Thou art not worthy to be of the number of the faithful.

k That is, turne away from thy wickednes.

l Hereby he would make him to feele his sinne, and not that he doubted of Gods mercies, if he could repent. m Or thine heart is full of despitifull malice, and deuillish poison of impietie, so now Satan hath thee tyed as captiue in his bands.

37 And Philippe said vnto him; If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou maist. Then he answered, and said; I beleeue that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 Then he commanded the chariot to stand still; and they went downe both into the water, both Philippe and the Eunuch, & he baptized him.

39 And as soon as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philippe, that the Eunuch saw him no more: so he went on his waye rejoicing.

40 But Philippe was found at Azotus, and he walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

CHAP. IX.

1 And Saul yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went vnto the high Priest, and desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues; that if he founde any that were of that way (either men or women) he might bring them bounde vnto Ierusalem.

2 Nowe as he journeyed, he came to passe thar as he was come neere to Damascus, & suddenly there shined round about him a light from heauen.

3 And he felte to the earth, & heard a voyce, saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

4 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

5 He was then trembling and astonied, said, Lord, What wilt thou that I do? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise and go into the citie, & it shall be tolde thee what thou shalt do.

6 The men also which journeyed with him, stood amazed, hearing his voyce, but seeing no man.

7 And Saul arose from the ground, and opened his eyes, but saw no man. Then led they him by the hande, and brought him into Damascus.

8 Where he was three daies without sight, and neither ate nor dranke.

9 And there was a certaine discipule at Damascus named Ananias, and to him saide the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

10 Then the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and see to the house of Iudas after one called Saul of Tarsus; for behold, hee prayeth, and hath set a face to see him.

11 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias comming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receiue his sight.)

12 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, howe much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Ierusalem.

13 Moreover here he hath authoritie of the high Priests, to binde at what call on thy Name.

14 The Lord said vnto him, Go thy way: for hee is a chosen vessel vnto mee, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

15 For I will shewe him, howe many things he must suffer for my Names sake.

16 Then Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent me (even Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight, & be filled with the holy Ghost.

17 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized.

18 And receiued meate, and was strenghtened. So was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

19 And straight way he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that hee was the Sonne of God.

20 So that all that heard him, were amazed, and said, Is not this he, that destroyed the which called on this Name in Ierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he should bring them bounde vnto the high Priests?

21 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, confirming, that this was the Christ.

22 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together, to kill him.

23 But their laying awayt was knowne of Saul: now they watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

24 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

25 And when Saul was come to Ierusalem, he assayed to ioine him selfe with the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, & beleued not that he was a discipule.

26 But Barnabas tooke him, & brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had seene the Lord in the way, & that he had spoken vnto him, and how he had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

27 And he was conversant with them at Ierusalem, And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Gospel.

Iudea, and Galile, and Samaria, and were edified, & walked in the feare of the Lord, and were multiplied by the comfort of the 32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout al quarters, he came also to the Saintes which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he founde a certaine man, nadaies in Ioppa with one Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

1 Cornelius admirable by the Angels. 7 He sendeth to Ioppa. 11 The vision that Peter sawe: 17 Howe he was sent to Cornelius. 22 The Gentiles also receive the Spirit, and are baptised.

1 Furthermore there was a certaine man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a captain of the band called the Italian band,

A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his household, which gaue much alms to the people, and prayed God continually.

3 He sawe in a vision evidently (about the ninth houre of the daye) an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

But when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

54 Now therefore send men to Ioppa, & cal-for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

61 He lodged with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his seruants, & a souldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him;

8 And told them all things, & sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their journey, & drew neere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 Then waxed he an hungered, and would haue eate: but while they made some thing readie, he fell into a trance.

11 And he sawe heauen opened, and a certaine vessel come down vnto him, as it had been a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

12 Wherein were all manner of foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beasts and creeping things, and foules of the heauē.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Arise,
Peter: kill, and eate.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lords: for I haue never eaten any thing that is polluted, or vncleane.

15 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the second time. The thinges that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

16 This was, so done thrise: and the vessel was drawn vp againe into heauen.

17 Now while Peter doubted in him selfe what this vision which he had seen meant,< behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had inquired for Simons house, and stood at the gate,

18 And called, and asked, whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said vnto him, Behold, three me seeke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee down, & go with them, & doute nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men, which were sent vnto him frō Cornelius,
and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seeke:
what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they saide, Cornelius the captain, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among al the nation of the Iewes, was warned from heauen by an holy Angel, to sende for thee into his house, and to heare thy wordes.

23 Then called he the men, & lodged them, the next day, Peter went forth with the, & certaine brethren frō Ioppa accompanied him.

had called together his kinsmen, and special friends.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feete, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euen I my selfe am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, & found many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Ye knowe that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iewe, to companie or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man polluted, or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying nay, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me?

30 Then Cornelius said, Foure daies ago, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine house, and behold, a man stood before mee in bright clothing,

31 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and cal for Simo, whose surname is Peter (hee is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner by the sea side) who when he commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, & thou hast wel done to come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all thinges that are commanded thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and sayd, Of a truth I perceiue, that God is no acceptor of persones.

35 But in euery nation he that feareth him, and worketh * righteousnes, is accepted with him.

36 Ye knowe the word which God hath sent to the children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ, which is Lord of all.

37 Euen the worde which came through all Iudea *beginning in Galile, after the baptism which Iohn preached,

38 To witte, how God anointed Iesus of Nazaret with the holy Ghost, & with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuill: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all thinges which he did both in the land of the Iewes, and in Ierusalem: whom they slewe, hanging him on a tree.

40 Him God raised vp the third day, & caused that he was shewed openly:

41 Not to all the people, but vnto the witnesses chosen before of God, enche to vs which did eate and drinke with him, after he arose from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preache vnto the people, and to testifie, that it is he that is ordeined of God a iudge of quicke and dead.

43 To him also giue all the * Prophetes wimes, that through his Name all that beleeue in him, shall receiue remission of finnes.

44 While Peter yet spake these wordes, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 So they of the circumcision which beleeued, were astonied, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holie Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost, as well as we?

48 So he commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarie certaine dayes.

CHAP. XL

4 Peter sheweth the cause wherefore he went to the Gentiles. 18 The Church approacheth it. 21 The Church increaseth. 22 Barnabas and Paul preache at Antiochia. 28 Agabus prophesieth dearth to come. 29 And the remedie.

1 Now the Apostles & the brethren that were in Iudea, heard, that the Gentiles had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Ierusalem, they of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and hast eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, & expounded the thing in order to them, saying,

5 I was in the cite of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I sawe this vision, A certen vessell comming downe as it had bene a great sheete, let down from heauen by the four corners, and it came to me.

6 Toward the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, & saw foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beastes, & creeping things, and foules of the heauē.

7 Also I heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Arise, Peter: slay and eate.

8 And I said, God forbid: Lord, for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me the second time from heauen; The thinges that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done three times, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then beholde, immediately there were three men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit said vnto me, that I should go with them, without doubting: moreouer these six brethren came with me, and we entred into the mans house.

13 And he shewed vs, how he had scene an Angell in his house, which stode & said to him, Send men to Ioppa, and cal for Simon whose surname is Peter.

Herodes tyrannus.

- 15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fel on them, * euen as vpon vs at the beginning.
- 16 Then I remembered the worde of the Lord, howe he said, * Iohn baptizd with water, but ye shalbe * baptizd with the holy Ghost.
- 17 For as much then as God gaue them a like gift, as he did vnto vs, when we beleeued in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I, that I could let God?
- 18 When they heard these things, * they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles graunted * repentance vnto life.
- 19 ¶ And they which were * scattred abroad because of the * affliction that arose about Steuen, walked throughout till they came vnto Phenice and Cyprus, and Antiochia, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto
the Iewes onely.
- 20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus & of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the * Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.
- 21 And the hand of the Lord was with the,
so that a great number beleueed and turned vnto the Lord.
- 22 Then tidings of those things came vnto
the eares of the Church, which was in Ieru-salem, & they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go vnto * Antiochia.
- 23 Who when he was come and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would * cleaue vnto the Lord.
- 24 For hee was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, & faith, and much people ioyned them selues vnto the Lord.
- 25 ¶ Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seeke Saul:
- 26 And whē he had found him, he brought him vnto Antiochia, and it came to passe that a whole yeece they were conuersant with the Church, and taught much people, in so much, that the disciples were first called * Christians in Antiochia.
- 27 In those dayes also, came Prophets from Ierusalem vnto Antiochia.
- 28 And there stood vp one of them named Agabus, and signified by the * Spirit, that there should be great famine throughout all the worlde, which also came to passe vnder Claudius Cesar.
- 29 Then the disciples, euery man according to his abilitie, * purposed to sende succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iudea.
- 30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders, by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAP. XII.

1 Herodes persecuteth the Christians. 2 He killeth Lamias, 4 And putteth Peter in prison. 7 VVhō he the Lord deliuereth by an Angell. 21 The horrible death of Herode. 24 The Gospel flourisheth. 25 Barnabas and Saul returning to Antiochia, take Iohn Marke
with them.

- 1 NOwe about that time, * Herode the King stretched forth his hands to vex certaine of the Church.
- 2 And hee killed Iames the * brother of Iohn with the sword.
- 3 And when he sawe that it * pleased the Iewes, he proceeded further, to take Peter also (then were the dayes of vnleauened bread.)
- 4 And whē he had caught him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to * foure quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after the Passouer to bring him forth to the people.
- 5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.
- 6 And when Herode would haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betweene two souldiers, bound with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.
- 7 * And beholde, the Angell of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fell off from his handes.
- 8 And the Angell said vnto him, Gird thy selfe, and bind on thy * sandales. And so he did. Then he sayd vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and followe me.
- 9 So Peter came out and folowed him, and knewe not that it was true, which was done by the Angell, but thought he had seene a vision.
- 10 Now when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the iron gate, that leadeth vnto the cite, which opened to them by it owne accorde, and they went out, and passed through one street, and by and by the Angell departed from him.
- 11 ¶ And when Peter was come to him selfe, he said, Now I knowe for a trueth, that the Lord hath sent his Angell, and hath deli-uered me out of the hand of Herode, and from all the * waiting for of the people of the Iewes.
- 12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Marie, the mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where many pur-posed.
- 13 And when Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a maide came forth to hearken, named Rhode.
- 14 But when she knewe Peters voyce, shee opened not the entrie doore for gladnes, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the entrie.
- 15 But they saide vnto her, Thou art mad.
Yet he affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his * Angell.
- 16 But Peter continued knocking, & when they had opened it, & saw him, they were astonied.
- 17 And hee beckened vnto them with the hand, to hold their peace, and tolde them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. Such sights.

g For they did know by Gods
worde, that Angels were appointed to defend the faithfull, and so in those dayes
they were accustomed to see such sights.

prison. And he said, Go shew these things vnto Iames & to the brethren: and he departed and went into another place.

18 ¶ Nowe as soon as it was daye, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herode had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded them to be led to be punished. And he went down from Iudaea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 Then Herode intended to make warre against them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came al with one accord vnto him, & perswaded Blastus the kings chamberlain, & they desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the Kings land.

21 And vpon a daye appointed, Herode arrayed him selfe in royall apparell, and fate on the iudgement seat, and made an oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shout, saying, The voyce of God, and not of man.

23 But immediatly the Angell of the Lord smote him, because hee gaue not glorie vnto God, so that hee was eaten of wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

24 And the word of God grewe, and multiplied.

25 So Barnabas and Saul returned from Ierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, and tooke with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas are called to preache among the Gentiles. 7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the forcerer. 13 The departure of Marke. 14 Paul preacheb at Antiochia. 43 The faith of the Gentiles. 48 The Iewes resisted. 49 They that are ordained to life, beleue. 53 The fruit of faith.

1 There were also in the church that was at Antiochia, certaine Prophets and teachers, as Barnabas, and Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen (which had bene brought vp with Herode the Tetrarch) and Saul.

2 Now as they ministred to the Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost saide, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke wherevnto I haue called them.

3 Then fasted they & prayed, and laid their hands on them, and let them go.

4 And they, after they were sent forth of the holy Ghost, came downe vnto Seleucia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the worde of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: & they had also Iohn to their minister.

6 So when they had gone throughout the yle vnto Paphus, they founde a certaine forcerer, a false prophet, being a Iewe, named Bariesus,

7 Which was with the Deputie Sergius Paulus, a prudent mā. He called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the worde of God.

8 But Elymas, the forcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, and fought to turne away the Deputie fro the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtiltie and al mischief, the childe of the deuill, and enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to peruerthe the straites wayes of the Lord?

11 Now therefore behold, the hande of the Lord is vpon thee, & thou shalt be blind, & not see the sunne for a season. And immediatly there fel on him a mist & a darknes, & he went about, seeking some to leade him by the hand.

12 Then the Deputie when hee sawe what was done, beleueed, and was astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and they that were with him were departed by ship from Paphus, they came to Perga a cite of Pamphylia: then Iohn departed from them, and returned to Ierusalem.

14 But whē they departed from Perga, they came to Antiochia a cite of Pisidia, and went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and fate downe.

15 And after the lecture of the law and prophetes, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye haue any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood vp and beckened with the hand, and saide, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, hearken.

17 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of Egypt, & with an high arme brought them out thereof.

18 And about the time of fourtie yeeres, suffred hee their maners in the wyldernes.

19 And he destroyed seuen nations in the land of Chanaan, and deuided their land to them by lot.

20 Then afterward he gaue vnto them Iudges about foure hundredth & fiftie yeres, vnto the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 So after that they desired a King, and God gaue vnto them Saul, the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of fourtie yeres.

22 And after he had taken him away, he raised vp Dauid to be their King, of whom he witnessed, saying, I haue founde Dauid the sonne of Iesse, a man after mine owne heart, which will do all things that I will.

23 Of this mans seede hath God according to his promes raised vp to Israel, the Saviour Iesus:

24 When Iohn had first preached before him comming the baptisme of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And when Iohn had fulfilled his course,

Iohn. 1.20.

he said, * Whom ye thinke that I am, I am not he: but beholde, there cometh one after me, whose shoe of his fecte I am not worthe to loofe.

26 Ye men & brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this saluation sent.

27 For the inhabitants of Ierusalem, & their rulers, because they knewe him not, nor yet the words of the Prophets, which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they founde no cause of death in him, * yet desired they Pilate to kill him.

29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 But God * raised him vp from the dead. 31 And he was seene many dayes of them, which came vp with him from Galile to Ierusalem, which are his witness vnto the people.

32 And we declare vnto you, that touching the promes made vnto the fathers,

33 God hath fulfilled in vnto vs their childre in that he raised vp Iesus, euē as it is written in the second Psalme, * Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

34 Now as concerning that he raised him vp from the dead, no more to returne to the graue, he hath said thus, * I will giue you the holy things of Dauid, which are faithfull.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another place, * Thou wilt not suffer thine Holy one to see corruption.

36 Howbeit, Dauid after he had serued his time by the counsell of God, he slept, and was laid with his fathers, and sawe corruption.

37 But he whome God raised vp, sawe no corruption.

38 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiveness of finnes.

39 And from all things, from which ye could not be iustified by the Lawe of Moses, by him euery one that beleueth, is iustified.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come vpon you, which is spoken of in the Prophets,

41 * Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and vanish away: for I worke a worke in your daies, a worke which ye shall not beleuee, if a man would declare it you.

42 And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles besought, that they would preache these wordes to them the next Sabbath day.

43 Now when the Congregation was dissolved, manie of the Iewes, and profelytes that feared God, followed Paul and Barnabas, which spake to them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole cite together, to heare the worde of God.

45 But whē the Iewes sawe the people, they were full of enuie, & spake against thole things, which were spoken of Paul, contrarying them, and saying on them.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldly, & saide, * It was necessarie that the worde of God should first haue bene spoken vnto you: but seeing ye put it from you, & judge your selues vnworthy of euerlasting life, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldst be the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, & glorified the worde of the Lord: and as many as were ordained vnto eternall life, beleueed.

49 Thus the worde of the Lorde was published throughout the whole countrey.

50 But the Iewes stirred certaine deuoute and honourable women, and the chief men of the cite, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, & expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they shooke of the dust of their feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioye, and with the holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIII.

God giueth successe to his worde. 6 Paul and Barnabas preach at Iconium and are persecuted. 12 At Lystra they would do sacrifice to Barnabas and Paul, which refuse it, and exhort the people to worship the true God. 19 Paul is stoned. 21 They confirme the disciples in faith and patience. 23 Appoint ministers. 26 And passing through many places, make reports of their diligence at Antiochia.

And it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes and of the Grecians beleueed.

But the vnbeleueing Iewes stirred vp, and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

So therefore, they abode there a long time, and spake boldly in the Lord, which gaue testimonie vnto the worde of his grace, and caused signes and wonders to be done by their handes.

But the people of the cite were deuided: and some were with the Iewes, and some with the Apostles.

And whē there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, & of the Iewes with their rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them,

They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, & vnto all the people the region round about.

And there were preaching the Gospel.

9 He heard Paul speake: who beholding him, and perceyuing that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voyce, || Stand vpright on thy feete. And he leaped vp, and walked.

11 Then when the people sawe what Paul had done, they lift vp their voyces, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, supier, and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then supiers Priest, which was before their citie, brought bulles with garlands vnto the gates, and would haue sacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard it, they rent their clothes, & ran in among the people, crying,

15 And saying, O men, why doe yee these things? We are euen men: subject to the like passions that ye be, and preache vnto you, that ye should turne from these vaine idoles vnto the liuing God, * which made heauen and earth, and the sea, & al things that in them are.

19 Then there came certeine Iewes fro Antiochia & Iconium, which when they had perswaded the people, || stoned Paul, & drewe him out of the citie, supposing hee had bene dead.

20 Howbeit as the disciples stood round about him, he arose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day hee departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And after they had preached to that citie, and had taught many, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antiochia, 22 Confirming the disciples hearts, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that we must through many afflictions enter into the kingdome of God.

23 And when they had ordeined them Elders by election in euery Church, and prayed, and fasted, they commended the to the Lord in whom they beleueed.

thered the Church together, they rehearsed al the thinges that God had done * by them, and how he had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 So there they abode a long time with the disciples.

Varianes about circumcision. In the Apostles first determination to the Churches. 35 Paul and Barnabas preach at Antiochia. 36 And separate company be-chose of Tim Marke.

1 Then came downe certeine from Iudea, and taught the brethren, saying, * Excepte ye be circumcised after the manner of Moyses, ye can not be saved.

2 And when there was great dissension, & disputation by Paul and Barnabas against them, they ordeined that Paul & Barnabas, and certeine others of them should go vp to Ierusalem vnto the Apostles & Elders about this question.

3 They being sent forth by the Church, they passed through Phenice, & Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioye vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Ierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles and Elders, & they declared what things God had done by them.

5 But said they, certeine of the secte of the Pharises, which did beleue, rose vp, saying, that it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keepe the Lawe of Moyses.

6 Then the Apostles and Elders came together to looke to this matter.

7 And when there had bene great disputation, Peter rose vp, and saide vnto them, Ye me & brethren, ye know that a good while ago, among vs God chose out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleue.

8 And God which knoweth y hearts, bore them witness, in giuing vnto them the Holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs.

9 And he put no difference betweene vs, and them, after that by faith he had purified their hearts.

10 Now therefore, why tempt ye God, to lay a yoke on the disciples necks, which neither our fathers, nor wee were able to beare?

11 But we beleue, through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ to be saved, euen as they do.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas & Paul, which tolde what signes and wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, Iames answered, saying, Men & brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 * Simeon hath declared, howe God first did visite y Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.

The Apostles Epistle.

The Actes.

Pauls vision.

Amos. 9. 11.
g That is, the Church wherof the Temple was a figure.
h Which are gathered into one familie with the Iewes to the intent they should acknowledge all one God, and one Sauiour Christ Iesus.

i For some thought it none offence to be present in the idoles temples, & there to banquet which S. Paul saith, 1 Cor. 10. 21. k The heathen thought this no vice, but made it a common custome. As touching astragled thing & blood, they were not vnlawfull to them selues, and therefore were obserued but for a time. And whatseruer they would not should be done to themselves, that they should not do it to others.

l Therefore the ceremonies commanded by God could not so lone be abolished, till the libertie of y<sup>e</sup> Gospel were better known. m Whom the holy Ghost hath moued & directed to ordayne, and write these things, not as the authors of this doctrine, but as the ministers of Gods ordinance. Exod. 24. 3. iudge. 7. 30. Hag. 1. 12. And whatseruer ye would doe, that men should do vnto you, doe not to others.

n Having desired leaue of the Church, the brethren praised god to prosper their journey.
o Who for iust causes, changed his minde.

16 After this I will returne, and wil builde againe the tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen down, and the ruines thereof will I build againe, and I will set it vp.
17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lorde, and al the Gentiles vpon whome my Name is called, saith the Lord which doeth all these things.
18 From the beginning of the worlde God knoweth all his workes.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God.
20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstaine themselves from <sup>1</sup>filthines of idoles, and <sup>2</sup>fornication, and that that is strangled, and from blood.
21 For Moses of old time hath in euery citie them that preach him, seeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath.
22 Then it seemed good to the Apostles and Elders with the whole Church, to chuse men of their owne companie to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to wit, Iudas whose surname was Barsabas and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren.

23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, THE APOSTLES, AND the Elders, & the brethren, vnto y<sup>e</sup> brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia, send greeting.

24 Forasmuch as we haue heard, that certain which departed from vs, haue troubled you with words, and combred your minds, saying, Yee must be circumcised & keepe the Law: to whom we gaue no such commandement.

25 It seemed therefore good to vs, when we were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul.

26 Men that haue giuen vp their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 We haue therefore sent Iudas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same thinges by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and to vs, to lay no more burden vpon you, then these necessary things,
29 That is, that ye abstaine from things offered to idoles, and blood, and that that is strangled, and from fornication: || from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shall doe well. Fare ye well.

30 Nowe when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, and after that thei had assembled the multitude, they deliuered the epistle.

31 And whē they had read it, they reioyced for the consolation.

32 And Iudas and Silas being Prophetes, exhorted the brethren with many words, and strengthened them.

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let go in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding Silas thought good to abide there still ||

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antiochia, teaching and preaching with many other the worde of the Lord.

36 ¶ But after certeine dayes, Paul said vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne, & visite our brethren in euery citie, where we haue preached the word of the Lord, and see howe they do.

37 And Barnabas counselled to take with them Iohn, called Marke.

38 But Paul thought it not meete to take him vnto their company, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 Then were they so stirred, that they departed asunder one from the other, so that the most priues Barnabas tooke Marke, and sailed vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas and departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

CHAP. XVI.

¶ *VT*hen Paul had circumsised Timotheus, he tooke him with him. 7 The Spirit calleth them from one country to another. 14 Lydia is converted. 18 Paul and Silas imprisoned, convert the Iailer, 27 And are deliuered as Romanes.

1 Then came he to Derbe and to Lystra: & behold, a certeine discipule was there named * Timotheus, a womans sonne, which was a Iewesse & beleued, but his father was a Grecian.

2 Of whom the brethren which were at Lystra and Iconium, reported well.

3 Therefore Paul would that he should go forth with him, and tooke and circumsised him, because of y<sup>e</sup> Iewes, which were in those quarters: for they knew al, that his father was a Grecian.

4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees to keepe, ordeined of the Apostles and Elders, which were at Ierusalem.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and encreased in number daily.

6 ¶ Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were forbidden of the holly Ghost to preach the word in Asia.

7 Then came they to Mysia, and sought to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffred them not.

8 Therefore they passed through Mysia, & came downe to Troas,

9 Where a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stood a man of Macedonia, & prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediately we prepared to go into Macedonia, being assured that the Lord had called vs to preach the Gospell vnto them.

11 Then went we forth from Troas, and w<sup>h</sup> a straight course came to Samothracia, by the Spirit and God.

And only by dayes.

and the next day to Neapolis,

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief citie in the partes of Macedonia, and whose inhabitants came from Rome to dwell there, and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

13 And on the Sabbath day, wee went out of the citie, besides a riuer, where they were wont to pray: and we satte downe, & spake vnto the women, which were come together.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyratians, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended vnto the things, which Paul spake.

15 And when shee was baptized, and her household, she besought vs, saying, If yee haue iudged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into mine house, and abide there: & she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe that as wee went to prayer, a certaine maid hauing "a spirit" of diuination, met vs, which gate her masters much vantage with diuining.

17 She followed Paul and vs, and cryed, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shewe vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did the many dayes: but Paul being grieued, turned about, and saide to the spirit, I command thee in the Name of Iesus Christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 Now when her masters saw that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place vnto the Magistrates,

20 And brought them to the Gouvernours, saying, These men which are Iewes, trouble our citie,

21 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue seeing we are Romanes.

22 The people also rose vp together against them, and the Gouvernours rent "their" clothes, and "commanded" them to bee beaten with roddes.

23 And when they had beaten them sore, they cast them into prison, commaunding the iaylor to keepe them surely.

24 Who hauing receiued such commandement, cast them into the "inner" prison, and made their feete fast in the stocks.

25 Now at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, & sung a psalme vnto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And sodeinly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the priſon was shaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

27 Then the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and when he saw the prison doores open, he drewe out his sworde, and would haue killed him selfe, supposing the prisoners had bene fled.

28 But Paul cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Do thy selfe no harme: for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fel downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and said, Syr, what must I do to be sau'd?

31 And they said, Beleue in the Lord Iesus Christ, and thou shalt be sau'd, and thine household.

32 And they preached vnto him the worde of the Lord, & to al that were in his house.

33 Afterward he toke them the same houre of the night, and washed their stripes, and was baptized with all that belonged vnto him, straight way.

34 And when hee had brought them into his house, he "set" meat before them, and reioyced that he with all his household beleue in God.

35 And when it was day, the gouernours sent the sergeants, saying, Let those me go.

36 Then the keeper of the prison told these words vnto Paul, saying, The gouernours haue sent to looke you: now therefore get you hence, and go in peace.

37 Then said Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncōdēdēd, which are "Romanes", they haue cast vs into prison, and now would they put vs out priuilege? nay verely: but let them come and bring vs out.

38 And the sergeants told these wordes vnto the Gouvernours, who "feared" when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 Then came they and prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia: and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

1 Now as they passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes disputed with them by the Scriptures,

3 Opening, and alledging that Christ must haue suffered, and risen againe from the dead: and this is Iesus Christ, whome said he, I preach to you.

4 And some of them beleueed, and ioyned in company with Paul and Silas: also of the Grecians that feared God a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

5 But the Iewes which beleueed not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto the certaine vagabonds & wicked fellows, and when they had assembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the citie, & made assault against the

John. 5. 29.

c This was not onely to triell these things which they had heard, veretru, but also to confirme the church in the same, and to increase their faith.

Or, had the charge to condukt him selfe.

d That citie which was the fountaine of all knowledge, was now the sink of most horrible idolatrie.

e Such was his feruent zeale towards Gods glorie, that he laboured to amplyfie the same both in season, & out of season, as he taught afterwards to Timothy.

the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they sold them not, they drew Iason and certein brethre vnto the heads of the citie, crying, These are they which haue subuerted the state of the worlde, & here they are,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued, and these al doe against the decrees of Cesar, saying that there is another King, one Iesus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heades of the citie, when they heard these things.

9 Notwithstanding when they had receyued sufficient assurance of Iason & of the other, they let them go.

10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were also more noble men then they which were at Theffalonica, which receiued the worde with all readines, and searched the Scriptures dayly, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleueed, & of honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

13 But when the Iewes of Theffalonica knew, that the word of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and moued the people.

14 But by and by the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Silas & Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that did conduct Paul, brought him vnto Athens: and when they had receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus that they should come to him at once; they departed.

16 Nowe while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the citie subject to idolatrie.

17 Therefore he disputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market dayly with whomsoever he met.

18 Then certein Philosophers of the Epicures, and of the Stoikes, disputed with him, and some said, What will this babler say? Others said, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods (because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.)

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into Mars streete, saying, May wee not know, what this newe doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certein straunge things vnto our eares: we would knowe therefore, what these things meane.

21 For all the Athenians, and strangers which dwelt there, gaue them selues to nothing els, but either to tell, or to heare some newes.

22 Then Paul stood in the middes of Mars streete, and said, Ye men of Athens,

Or, had leisure. i Which was also called Areo-nes, I perceiue that in all things ye are to superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your deuotions, I founde an altar wherein was written, VNTO THE VNKNOVEN GOD. Whom ye then ignorantly worship, him shew I vnto you.

24 God that made the world, and all things that are therein, seeing that hee is Lord of heauen & earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands,

25 Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giueth to all life and breth and all things.

26 And hath made of one blood all mankind, to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath assigned the times which were ordeined before, and the boundes of their habitation,

27 That they should seeke the Lord, if so be they might haue groped after him, and found him, though douteles he bee not farre from euery one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue our being, as also certein of your owne Poets haue said, For we are also his generation.

29 Forasmuch then, as we are the generation of God, wee ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto gold, or siluer, or stone grauen by arte and the inuention of man.

30 And the time of this ignorance God regarded not: but now he admonisheth all men euery where to repent.

31 Because he hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the worlde in righteounes, by that man whome he hath appointed, wherof he hath giuen an assurance to all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 Now when they heard of the resurrection fro the dead, some mocked, and other said, Wee will heare thee againe of this thing.

33 And so Paul departed from among the.

34 Howbeit certein men claue vnto Paul, and beleueed: among whome was also Denis Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

CHAP. XVIII.

Paul laboureth with his hands, & preacheth at Corinthus. Rem. 1. 9. He is detested of the Iewes, & is received of many. a This was Claudius Cesar who then was Emperour of Rome. b Thus he was where euer he came: but principally at Corinthus, because of the false Apostles which preached without wages to winne the peoples favour. c Or paulinus which the women made of skins.

After these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinthus, and found a certein Iewe, named Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie, and his wife Priscilla (because that Claudius had commanded all Iewes to depart from Rome) & he came vnto the. And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them and wrought (for their craft was to make tents.)

Resistance to Paul.

And he disputed in the Synagogue every Sabbath day, and exhorted the Jewes, and the Grecians.

Nowe when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul<sup>1</sup> burned in spirit, testifying to the Jewes that Iesus was the Christ.

And when they resisted and blasphemed, hee shook his raiment, and saide vnto them, Your blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from henceforth will I go vnto the Gentiles.

So he departed thence, and entred into a certain mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house layed hard to the Synagogue.

And Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleued in the Lord with all his household; and many of the Corinthians hearing he, beleued and were baptized.

Then said the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and hold not thy peace.

For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this citie.

So he continued there a yere and six moneths, and taught the word of God among them: and taught the word of God among them.

Nowe when Gallio was Deputie of Achaia, the Jewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seat.

Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the Law.

And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayde vnto the Jewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deed, O ye Jewes, I would according to reason mainetaine you.

But if it bee a question of wordes, and names; and of your Lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I will be no iudge of those thinges.

And he drave them from the iudgement seat.

Thenooke at the Grecians<sup>2</sup> Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, & beat him before the iudgement seat: but Gallio cared nothing for those thinges.

But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, he toke leaue of the brethren, and sailed into Syria (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that he had a vowe.

Then he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Jewes.

Who desired him to tarie a longer time with them: but he would not consent.

But bade them farewell, saying, I must needs keepe this feast that cometh, in Ierusalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, if God wil. So he sailed from Ephesus.

And when he came downe to Cesarea, he went vp to Ierusalem: and when he had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

Now when he had taried there a while, he departed, and went through the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

And a certaine Iewe named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mighty in the Scriptures.

The same was instructed in the way of the Lord; and he spake feruently in the spirit, and taught diligently the thinges of the Lord, and knew but the baptisme of Iohn onely.

And he began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whence when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

And when he was minded to go into Achaia, his brethren exhorted him, whose to the disciples to receive him: and after hee was come thither, he helpe the much which had beleued through grace.

For mightily he confuted publicly the Jewes with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was the Christ.

And he came to Corinthus, where he taried three moneths. And when the Iewes saw that they could not overcome him, they blasphemed, saying, He teacheth strange doctrine.

And it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when he passed through the upper coast, came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples.

And said vnto them, Haue ye receiued the holy Ghost since ye beleued?

And they said vnto him, We haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost. And he said vnto them, Vnto what were ye then baptized?

And they sayde, Vnto Iohns baptisme. Then said Paul, Iohna verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleue in him, which should come after him, that is in Christ Iesus.

So when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

And Paul laid his hands vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the tongues, and prophesied.

And al the men were about twelue.

And Morcour, he went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and exhorting to the thinges that appertaine to the kingdom of God.

And when certaine were hardened, & disobeyed, speaking euil of the way of God, and before the multitude, he departed from them, & separated the disciples, & disputed daily in the schole of one Tyrannus.

And this was done by the space of two yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard. And when he had taried there a while, he departed, and went through the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

And when he came downe to Cesarea, he went vp to Ierusalem: and when he had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

heard the words of the Lorde Iesus, both Jewes and Grecians.

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that his bodie were brought vnto the sick, kercheifs for handkercheifs, and the diseases departed from them, and the euil spirits went out of them.

13 Then certaine of the vagabonde Iewes, exorcistes, tooke in hand to name ouer them which had euil spirits, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, We salute you by Iesus, whome Paul preacheth.

14 And there were certaine sonnes of Sceura, Iowe, the Priest, whose sonne which said this,

15 And the euil spirit answered, and said, Iesus I acknowledge, and Paul I know, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euil spirit was, ran on them, & ouercame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fled out of that house, naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowne to al the Jewes and Grecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, & feare came on them, that the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came and confessed, and shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious artes, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men, & they counted the price of them, and founde it fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So the word of God grew mightily, & preuailed.

21 Now when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed by the Spirit to passe through Macedonia & Achaia, & to go to Ierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but he remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small trouble about this way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius a siluer smith, which made siluer temples of Diana, brought great gaine vnto the craftes men.

25 Who he called together, with the workemen of like things, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we haue our goods.

26 Moreover ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath persuaded, & turned away much people, saying, That they be not gods which are made with handes.

27 So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, that the state should be reproued, but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana should be nothing esteemed, and that it would come to passe that her magnificence, which all Asia and the world worshippeth, should be destroyed.

28 Now when they heard it, they were full of wrath, & cryed out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole cite was full of confusion, and they rushed into the common place with one assent, and caught, Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, and Pauls companions of his journey.

30 And when Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 Certaine also of the chiefe of Asia which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not present himselfe in the common place.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, and some another: for the assemblye was out of order, and the more parte knewe not wherfore they were come together.

33 And some of the companie drew forth Alexander, the Iewes thrusting him forward. Alexander then beckened with his hand, & would haue exquid the matter to the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Iew, there arose a shout almost for the space of two houres, of al men crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 Then the towne Clarke, when hee had stayed the people, said, Ye me of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the cite of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image, which came downe from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that no man can speake against these things, ye ought to be appeased, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men, which haue acither comitted sacriledge, neither do blaspheme your goddesse.

38 Wherfore, if Demetrius and the crafts men which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the Law is open, & there shall be Depuies: let the accuse one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters, it may be determined in a lawfull assemblye.

40 For wee are euen in iopardie to be accused of this dayes sedition, forasmuch as there is no cause, wherby we may giue a reason of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assemblye depart.

42 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assemblye depart.

43 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assemblye depart.

44 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assemblye depart.

45 Nowe after the tumulte was ceased, Paul called the disciples vnto him, & embraced them, and departed to goe into Macedonia.

46 And when hee had gone through those partes, and had exhorted them with many words, he came into Grecia.

3 And hauing taried ~~there~~ three moneths, because the Iewes laid waite for him; as he was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, & Secundus, & Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of them of Asia Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and taried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed forth from<sup>1</sup> Phillipi, after the dayes of valeauened bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fise daies, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 And<sup>2</sup> the first day of the weeke, the disciples being come together to breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, ready to depart on the morow, and continued the preaching vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber, where<sup>3</sup> they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a windowe a certaine yong man, named Eurychus, fallen into a deepe sleepe: & as Paul was long preaching, he ouercome with sleepe, fel down from the third loft, & was taken vp dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and laid him selfe vpon him, and embraced him, saying, Trouble not your selues: for his life is in him.

11 So when Paul was come vp againe, and had broken bread, and eaten, he communed a long while till the dawning of the day, and so he departed.

12 And they brought the boye aliuie, & they were not a litle comforted.

13 ¶ Then we went forth to ship, and sailed vnto the ciuie<sup>4</sup> Assos, that we might receiue Paul there: for so had he appointed, and would him selfe go afoote.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And wee sayled thence, and came the next daye our against Chios, & the next daye we arriued at Samos, & taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because he would not spende the time in Asia: for he hasted to be, if he could possible, at Ierusalem, at the daye of Pentecoste.

17 ¶ Wherefore from Miletū he sent to Ephesus, & called the Elders of the church.

18 Who when they were come to him, hee said vnto them, Ye knowe from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 ¶ Seruing the Lorde with all modestie, and with many teares, & tentatiōs, which came vnto me by the layings awaye of the Iewes, 20 And how I kept<sup>5</sup> backe nothing that was in the seruants of Iesus Christ. g I neither he lde my tongue for siluer, nor dissembled for gaine.

profitable, but haue shewed you, & taught you openly, and throughout euery house,

21 Witnessing both to the Iewes, and to the Grecians the repentance toward God, &

22 faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

23 And nowe behold, I go<sup>6</sup> bounde in the spirit vnto Ierusalem, and knowe not what things shall come vnto me there;

24 Saue that the holy Ghost<sup>7</sup> witnesseth in euery citie, saying, that bands and afflictions abide me.

25 But I passe not at all, neither is my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfill my course with ioye, & the ministratiō which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospell of the grace of God.

26 And nowe behold, I knowe that henceforth ye all, through whome I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

27 Wherefore I take you to recorde this day, that I am pure from the<sup>8</sup> bloud of all men.

28 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you<sup>9</sup> all the counsell of God.

29 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, whereof the holy Ghost hath made you Ouerscers, to feede the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his owne bloud.

30 For I knowe this, that after my departing shall grievous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

31 Moreouer, of your owne selues shal men arise speaking<sup>10</sup> peruerse things, to drawe disciples after them.

32 Therefore watch and remember, that by the space of three yeres I ceased not to warne euery one, both night & day with teares.

33 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to builde further, and to giue you an inheritance, among all them which are sanctified.

34 I haue coueted no mans siluer, nor gold, nor apparel.

35 Yea, ye knowe, that these handes haue ministred vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

36 I haue shewed you all things, how that so labouring, ye ought to support the weakes, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Iesus, howe that he saide, It is a blessed thing to giue, rather then to receiue.

37 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

38 Then they wept all abundantly, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him,

39 Being chiefly sory for the wordes which he spake, That they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

1 And as we launCHED forth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Coos, & the dayes following vnto the Rhodes, & from thence vnto Patara.

2 And we found a ship that went ouer vnto Phenice, & went aboarde, and set forth.

3 And when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, & sailed toward Syria, and arrived at Tyrus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had founde disciples, we taried there seuen dayes. And they tolde Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go vp to Ierusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all accompanied vs with their wiues and children, euen out of the citie: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when we had embraced one another, we toke ship, & they returned home.

7 And whē we had ended the course from Tyrus, we arrived at Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, Paul & they that were with him, departed, and came vnto Cesarea: & we entred into the house of Philippi the Euangelist, which was one of the seuen Deacons, and abode with him.

9 Nowe he had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as wee taried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iudea, named Agabus.

11 And whē he was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdel, and bound his owne handes and feete, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, so shal the Iewes at Ierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdel, and shall deliuer him into the handes of the Gentiles.

12 And when wee had heard these things, both we and other of the same place besought him that hee would not go vp to Ierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What do ye weeping and breaking mine heart? For I am ready not to be bound onely, but also to die at Ierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 So when he would not be perswaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes we trusted vp our fardels, and went vp to Ierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, & brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Ierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto Iames: and al the Elders were there assembled.

19 And when hee had embraced them, hee tolde by order all things, that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

20 So whē they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou feest, brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which belecue, and they are all zealous of the Law.

21 Nowe they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and saiest, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to liue after the customes.

22 What then to be done? the multitude must needs come together: for they shal heare that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We haue foure men, which haue made a vow.

24 Them take, and purifie thy selfe with them, & contribute with them, that they may shauē their heads: and al shal know that those things, wherof they haue bene informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest & keepst the Law.

25 For as touching the Gentiles, which beleue, we haue written, and determined that they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe them selues from things offered to idoles, and from bloud, and from that that is strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day was purified with them, & entred into the Temple, declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (whē they sawe him in the Temple) moued all the people, and laid hands on him.

28 Crying, men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the Law, and this place: moreover, he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 For they had seene before Trophimus an Ephesian with him in the citie, whome they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the citie was moued, and the people ran together: & they rooke Paul, & drewe him out of the Temple, & forth with the doores were shut.

31 But as they went about to kill him, tydings came vnto the chiefe captaine of the band, that al Ierusalem was on an uproare.

32 Who immediately toke souldiers & Centurions, and ran downe vnto them: and when they sawe the chiefe Captaine and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere & rooke him, and commaunded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cryed this, another that, among the people. So when he could not knowe the 35 And when he came vnto the griecces, it was so that he was borne of the fouldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul should haue bene lead into the castle, he saide vnto the chiefe Capitaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Art not thou the * Egyptia, who before these dayes raised a sedition, and lead out into the wildernes foure thousand men that were murderers?

39 Then Paul sayde, Doubtles I am a man which am a Iewe, and citizen of * Tarsus, a famous citie in Cilicia, & I beseech thee, suffer me to speake vnto the people.

1 Paul rendereth an account of his life and doctrine. 25 He escapeth the whippes by reason he was a citizen of Rome.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he said)

3 I am verely a man, which am a Iewe, borne in * Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this citie at the * feete of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfect maner of the Lawe of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prison both men and women,

5 As also the chiefe Priest doeth beare me witness, and all the state of the Elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus to bring the which were there, bound vnto Ierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 And so it was, as Iourneyed and was come nere vnto Damascus about noone, that sodenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, & heard a voice, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lorde? And he saide to me, I am Iesus of Nazaret, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreouer they that were with me, sawe in deede a light and were afraid: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and go into Damascus: and there it shall be tolde thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to do.

11 So when I could not see for the glorie of that light, I was lead by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a godly man, as pertaining to the Law, hauing good reporte of all the Iewes, which dwelt there, 13 Came vnto me, and stoode, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he sayde, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his wil, and shouldest see that Iust one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnes vnto all men of the things, which thou hast seene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tariest thou? Arise, and bee baptized, and wahe away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lorde.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Ierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance,

18 And sawe him saying vnto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Ierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witness concerning me.

19 Then I sayde, Lorde, they knowe that I am prised, and beat in euery Synagogue them that beleueed in thee.

20 And when the bloud of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also stood by, and consented vnto his death, & kept the clothes of them that slew him.

21 Then he said vnto me, Depart; for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they heard him vnto this worde, but then they lit vp their voyces, & saide, Away with such a fellowe from the earth: for it is not meete that he should liue.

23 And as they cryed and cast of their clothes, and threw dust into the aire,

24 The chiefe capitaine commanded him to be lead into the Castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined, that he might knowe wherefore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stoode by, Is it lawful for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Nowe when the Centurion heard it, he went, and tolde the chiefe capitaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe capitaine came, and said to him, Tell me, art thou a Romane? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe capitaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this burgeship. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straight way they departed from him, which should haue examined him: and the chiefe Capitaine also was afraid, after he knewe that he was a Romane, and that he had bound him.

accused of the Iewes, he loosed him from his bondes, and commanded the hie Priests and all their Counsell to come together: and he brought Paul, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

The answers of Paul bring fruit, and the overthrow of his enemies. 11 The Lord encourageth him. 12 And because the Iewes haide wait for him, he is faine to escape.

1 And Paul beheld earnestly the Counsell, and said, Men and brethren, I haue in all good conscience serued God vntill this daye.

2 Then the hie Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then said Paul to him, God will smite thee, thou whited wall: for thou fittest to iudge me according to the Law, and commandest thou me to be smitten contrarie to the Law?

4 And they that stood by, saide, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I knewe not, brethren, that he was the hie Priest: for it is written, * Thou shalt not speake euill of the Ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one parte were of the Sadduces, and the other of the Pharises, he cryed in the Counsell, Men and brethren, I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 And when he had said this, there was a diffension betweene the Pharises and the Sadduces, so that the multitude was deuided.

8 For the Sadduces saie that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

9 Then there was a great crye: and the Scribes of the Pharises part rose vp, and stroue, saying, We finde none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there was a great diffension, the chief capitaine, fearing lest Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, & to bring him into the castel.

11 ¶ Now the night following the Lorde stood by him, and said, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witness also at Rome.

12 And when the daye was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assemblie, & bound them selues with an othe, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and Elders: and saide, We haue bounde our selues with a solemne othe, that we will eate nothing, vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, ye and the Counsell signifie to the chiefe capitaine, that he bring him forth vnto you to morowe, as though ye would knowe some thing more perfectly of him, and we, or euer he come neere, will be ready to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying await, hee went, and entred into the castel, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and said, Bring this yong man vnto the chiefe capitaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shew him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe capitaine, and saide, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed mee to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe capitaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, & asked him, What hast thou to shew me?

20 And he said, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morowe into the Counsell, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in waite for him of them, more then fourtie men, which haue bounde them selues with an othe, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready, and wait for thy promise.

22 The chiefe capitaine then let the yong man departe, and charged him to speake it to no man, that hee had shewed him these things.

23 And hee called vnto him two certaine Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers, that they may go to Cefarea, and horsemen three score and ten, & two hundred with darters, at the thirde houre of the night.

24 And let them make ready an horse that Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the Gouvernour.

25 And he wrote an epistle in this maner: Claudius Lysias vnto the most noble Gouvernour Felix sendeth greeting.

26 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, and rescued him, perceiuing that he was a Roman.

27 And when I would haue knowne wherfore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsell.

28 There I perceiued that he was accused of questions of their Lawe, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bondes.

29 And when it was shewed me, howe that the Iewes laid wait for the man, I sent him straight way to thee, and commanded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Fare well.

30 Then the souldiers as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

31 And the next day, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned vnto the Cattle.

33 Now when they came to Cefarea, they deliuered the epistle to the Gouvernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the Gouvernour had read it, he asked of what prouince he was: and when he vnderstode that he was of Cilicia, I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers also are come, and commaded him to be kept in Herods iudgement hall.

CHAP. XXIIII.

10 Paul being accusid, answereth for his life and doctrine against his accusers. 25 Felix grepeth him, thinking to haue a bribe, 31 And after leaueth him in prison.

1 Now after five dayes, Ananias the hie Priest came downe with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine Oratour, which appeared before the Gouvernour against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus begā to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obtained great quietnes through thee, & that many worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence, We acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thanks.

3 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy courteisie a fewe wordes.

4 Certainly wee haue founde this man a pestilent felowe, and a mouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout y world, and a chiefe maintainer of the sege of the Nazarites:

5 And hath gone about to pollure the Temple: therefore we tooke him, and woulde haue iudged him according to our Law:

6 But the chiefe captaine Lyfias came vp on vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,

7 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whome thou mayst (if thou wilt inquire) knowe all these things whereof we accuse him.

8 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that it was so.

9 Then Paul, after that the gouernour had beckned vnto him that he should speake, answered, I doe the more gladly answer for my selfe, for as much as I knowe that thou hast bene of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation,

10 Seeing that thou maist know, that there are but twelue dayes since I came vp to worship in Ierusalem.

11 And they neither found me in the Temple disputing with any man, neither making vproare among the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the cite.

12 Neither can they proue the things, whereof they now accuse me.

13 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way (which they call heresie) so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Lawe and the Prophetes,

15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead which they themselves looke for also, shalbe both of iust & vniust.

16 And herein I endeuour my selfe to haue alway a cleare conscience toward God, & toward men.

17 Nowe after many yeeres, I came and brought almes to my nation and offerings.

18 At what time, certaine Iewes of Asia found me purified in the Temple, 19 Neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

20 Who ought to haue bene present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against me.

21 Or let these themselves say, if they haue founde any vniust thing in mee, while I stood in the Counsel, 22 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cryed standing among them, Of the resurrection of the dead am I accused of this day.

23 Now when Felix heard these things, he deferred them, & said, When I shall more perfectly knowe the things which concerne this way, by the comming of Lysias the chiefe Captaine, I will decide your matter.

24 Then hee commanded a Centurion to keepe Paul, and that he should haue ease, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certaine dayes, came Felix with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewesse, and he called forth Paul; and hearde him of the faith in Christ.

26 And as he disputed of righteousness, and temperance, & of the iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time, and when I haue convenient time, I will call for thee.

27 He hoped also that money should haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

28 When two yeeres were expired, Porcius Festus came into Felix roome: and Felix willing to get fauour of the Iewes, left Paul bound.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come downe with vs: and if there be any wickednes in the man, let them accuse him.

6 ¶ Now when he had taried among them no more then ten dayes, he went downe to Cefarea, and the next daye sat in the iudgement seat, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the Jewes which were come from Ierusalem, stood about him and laide many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue, c Paul defendeth him selfe in iudgement.

8 For asmuch as he answered, that he had neither offended any thing against the Lawe of the Jewes, neither against the Temple, nor against Cesar.

Or, so do please.

9 Yet Festus willing to get fauour of the Jewes, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go vp to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me?

d Seing him selfe betrayed by the ambition of the iudge, he desireth that in consideration of his freedome, he may be sent to Rome.

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cefars iudgement seat, where I ought to be iudged: to the Jewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

e It is lawfull to require the defense of the Magistrate to mainteine our right.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.

f Without whose consent he could do nothing.

12 Then when Festus had spoken with the Counsel, he answered, Halt thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou go.

g This was his owne sister who he entertained.

13 ¶ And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and Bernice came downe to Cefarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had remained there many dayes, Festus proposed Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certaine man left in prison by Felix.

15 Of whom when I came to Ierusalem, the high Priests and Elders of the Jewes informed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, that it is not the manner of the Romans for fauour to deliuer any man to the death, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers before him, and haue place to defend him selfe, concerning the crime.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without delay the day following I sat on the iudgement seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood vp, they brought no crime of such things as I supposed.

h This word doeth also signifie religion: but he speaketh in contempt of the true doctrine.

19 But had certaine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of question, I asked him whether he would go to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these things.

21 But because he appealed to be reserued to the examination of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might sende him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morowe, sayd he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pompe, and were entred into the Common hall with the chiefe captaines & chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus sayde, King Agrippa, and all men which are present with vs, see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jewes haue called vpon me, both at Ierusalem, and here, crying, that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet haue I founde nothing worthy of death, that he hath committed: neuertheless, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whome I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lord: wherefore I haue brought him forth vnto you, and specially vnto thee, King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, and not to shewe the causes which are layed against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

The innocencie of Paul is approved by rehearsing his conversation. 25 His modest answer against the iniuries of Festus.

1 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for him selfe.

2 I thinke my selfe happie, King Agrippa, because I shall answer this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Jewes:

3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, and questions which are among the Jewes: wherefore, I beseeche thee, to heare me patiently.

4 As touching my life from my childhood, and what it was fro the beginning among mine owne nation at Ierusalem, knowe all the Jewes.

5 Which knewe mee heretofore (if they would testifie) that after the most strait sect of our religion I liued a Pharise.

6 And now I stand and am accused for the hope of the promises made of God vnto our fathers.

7 Whereunto our twelve tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake O King Agrippa, I am accused of the Jewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God should raise againe the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to do many contrary things against the Name of Iesus of Nazaret.

10 Which thing I also did in Ierusalem: for many of the Saints I shut vp in prison, hauing

i Flatterers first vied to call Tyrants by this name, and after it so growed in to vice, that vertuous Princes refused it not, as appeareth by Plinies epistles to Traiag.

a Forasmuch as he best vnderstood the religion, he ought to be more attentive.

b Paul speaketh of this sect according to the peoples estimation, whose pretension it is as most holie about all others: for their doctrine was least corrupt.

h Heke the Lawe of God that none should not apply themselves.

hauing receiued authoritie of the high Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue my sentence.

11 And I punished them throughout al the Synagogues, and compelled them to blaspheme, & being more mad against them, I persecuted them, euen vnto straunge cities.

12 At which time, euen as I went to * Damascus with authoritie, and commission from the high Priests,

13 At middaye, O King, I sawe in the waye a light from heauen, passing the brightnes of the sunne, shine round about me, and which went with me.

14 So when we were al fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me, & saying in the Hebrew tongue, * Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

15 Then I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vp on thy feet: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose to appoint thee a minister and a witness, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the thinges in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the<sup>d</sup> people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee,

18 To open their eyes, that they may turne from darkenes to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenes of finnes, and inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

19 Wherefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision, 20 * But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Ierusalem, and throughout all the coastes of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent, and turne to God, and do workes worthy amende-ment of life.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught mee in the * Temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Neuertheles, I obtained helpe of God, & continue vnto this daye, witnessing both to smal and to great, saying none other things, then those which the Prophets & Moses did say should come,

23 To wit, that Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise fro the dead, and should shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as hee thus answered for him selfe, Festus said with a loud voyce, Paul, thou art besides thy selfe: much learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, O noble Festus, but I speake the words of truth and sobernes.

26 For I knoweth of these thinges, before whome also I speake boldly: for I am perswaded that none of these thinges are hid from him: for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 O King Agrippa, beleuest thou the Prophets? I know that thou beleuest.

28 Then Agrippa saide vnto Paul, Almost thou periwadest me to become a Christian.

29 Then Paul said, I would to God that not onely thou, but also al that heare mee to daye, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the King rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone asparte, they talked betweene them selues, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death, nor of bondes.

32 Then said Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue bene loosed, if hee had not appealed vnto Cesar.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Pauls dangerous voyage and his company toward Rome.

2 Now when it was concluded, that we should saile into Italie, they deliuered both Paul, & certeine other prisoners vnto a Centurion named Iulius, of the band of Augustus.

3 And * we entred into a ship of Adramyttium purposing to saile by the coastes of Asia, and launched forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.

4 And the next day we arriued at Sidon: and Iulius curteously entreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to go vnto his friends, that they might refresh him.

5 And from thence we lanchd, and sailed hard by * Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

6 Then sailed we ouer the sea by Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, a citie in Lycia.

7 And there the Centurion found a ship of Alexandria, sailing into Italie, and put vs therein.

8 And when wee had sailed slowly manye dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidium, because the winde suffered vs not, we sailed hard by * Candie, nere to * Salomone,

9 And with much a doe sayled beyond it, and came vnto a certaine place called the Faire hauens, neere vnto the which was the citie Lasea.

10 So when much time was spent, and sailing was now ieopardous, because also the * Fast was now past, Paul exhorted them,

11 And said vnto them, Syrs, I see that this voyage will bee with hurte and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good courage: for I belecue God, that it shal be so as it hath bene told me.

i Faith is grounded vpon the word of God.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast into a certaine lland.

k This sea in Strabos time was take for al part, which was about the mountains called Ceramii, and so deuideth Italie fro Dalmatia, and goeth vp to Venice.

27 And when the fourteenth night was come, <sup>4</sup> as we were caried to and fro in the

28 Adriaticall sea about midnight, the shipmen deemed that some countrey approached vnto them,

29 And sounded, and found it twentye fathoms: & when they had gone a litle further, they sounded againe, and found fiftene fathoms.

30 Then fearing lest they should haue falle into some rough places, they cast foure ancores out of the sterne, and wished that the day were come.

31 Now as the mariners were about to flee out of the ship, and had let downe the boat into the sea vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ancores out of the foreship,

31 Paul said vnto the Centurion and the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship, <sup>4</sup> ye cannot be safe.

32 Then the souldiers cut of the ropes of the boat, and let it fall away.

33 And when it began to be daye, Paul exhorted them al to take meat, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue taried, and continued <sup>4</sup> fasting, receiuing nothing.

34 Wherefore I exhorte you to take meat: for this is for your sauegarde: for there shall not <sup>4</sup> an heare fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thanks to God, in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good courage, & they also tooke meate.

37 Nowe we were in the ship in al two hundredth, three score and sixtene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they spied a certaine creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the ship.

40 So when they had taken vp the ancores, they committed the ship vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bondes, and hoied vp the maine saile to the winde, and drew to the shore.

41 And when they fel into a place, where two seas met, they thrust in the ship: and the fore parte stucke fast, and could not be moued, but the hinder part was broke with the violence of the waues.

42 Then the souldiers counsell was <sup>4</sup> to kill the prisoners, lest any of them, when hee had swomme out, should flee away.

43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul, staied them from this counsell, and commaunded that they that coulde swimme, should cast them selues first into the sea, and go out to land:

44 And the other, some on boardes, and some on certaine <sup>4</sup> pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they came al safe to land.

But he shooke off worme into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit they waited when he shoulde haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no inconuenience come to him, they changed their mindes, and said, That he was a God.

7 In the same quarters, the chiefe man of the Ile ( whose name was Publius ) had possessions: the same receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteously.

8 And so it was, that the father of Publius lay sicke of the feuer, and of a bloudie flux: to whome Paul entred in, and when hee praied, he laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 When this then was done, other also in the yle, which had diseases, came to him and were healed,

10 Which also did vs great honour: and when wee departed, they laded vs with things necessary.

11 ¶ Now after three moneths we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintred in the yle, whose badge was Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we arriued at Syracuse, we tarried there three dayes.

13 And from thence we set a compass, & came to Rhegium: and after one day, the South winde blewe, and we came the second day to Putioli, 14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tary with them seuen dayes, and so we went toward Rome.

15 ¶ And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at the Market of Appius, and at the Three Tavernes, whome when Paul sawe, he thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 So when we came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the prisoners to the general Captaine: but Paul was suffered to dwell by him selfe with a souldier that kept him.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together: and when they were come, hee said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people, or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Ierusalem into the hands of the Romans.

18 Who when they had examined me, would haue let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrarie, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not because I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see you, and to speake with you for the hope of Israels sake, I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they saide vnto him, Wee neither receiued letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or spake any euil of thee.

22 But wee will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this secte, we know that euerye where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many vnto him into his lodging, to whome he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, and preached vnto them concerning Iesus, both out of the Law of Moses and out of the Prophets, from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded with the things, which were spoken, and some beleued not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among them selues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one worde, to wit, Well spake the holie Ghost by Elishas the Prophet vnto our fathers,

26 Saying, Go vnto this people, and say, I haue heard you, and shall not understand, and seeing yee shall see, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed fatte, and their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes haue they winked, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and should returne that I might heale them.

28 Be it knowne therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent to the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when he had said these things, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among them selues.

30 And Paul remained two yeres full in an house hired for him selfe, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ, with all boldnes of speech, without let.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAUL TO THE ROMANES.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe great mercie of God is declared toward man in Christ Iesus whose righteousness is made ours through faith. For when man by reason of his owne corruption could not fulfill the Law, yet committed most abominably, both against the Law of God & nature, the infinite bonnie of God, himself of his promise made to his servants Abraham, the father of all beleaguers, ordeined that mans saluation should onely stand in the perfect obedience of his Sonne Iesus Christ: so that not onely the circumcised Jewes, but also the uncircumcised Gentiles should be saved by faith in him: even as Abraham before he was circumcised, was counted iust onely through faith, and yet afterward received circumcision, as a seale or badge of the same righteousness by faith. And to the intent, that none should thinke that the covenant which God made to him, & his posteritie, was not performed: either because the Jewes received not Christ, (which was the blessed seed) or els beleueth not that he was the true redeemer, because he did not onely, or at least more notably preferre the Jewes, the examples of Ismael & Esau declare that al are vnto Abrahams posteritie, which come of Abraham according to the flesh: but also the very strangers & Gentiles grafted in by faith, are made heires of the promise. The cause whereof is the only will of God: for as much as of his free mercie he electeth some to be saved, & of his iust indignitie reiecteth others to be damned, as appeareth by the testimonies of the Scriptures. Yet to the intent that the Jewes should not be so much beaten downe, nor the Gentiles so much puffed up, the example of Elias prometh, that God hath yet his elect out of the natural posteritie of Abraham, though it appeareth not so to many eyes: & for that purpose that y Gentiles haue, it proceedeth of the liberal mercie of God, which he at length will stretch toward the Jewes againe, & so gather the whole Israel (which is his Church) of the both. This ground work of faith & doctrine laid, instructions of Christian maner follow: teaching euery man to walke in roundnes of conscience in his vocation, w al patience & humblenes, reuerencing & obeying the magistrate, exercising charity, putting of the old man, & putting on Christ, bearing w the weak, & louing one another according to Christs exaple. Finally S. Paul after his commendations to y brethren exhorteeth the to vniue, & to flee false preachers & flatterers, & so concludeth w a prayer.

h The free mercy of God, and prosperous successe in all things.

8 First I thanke my God through Iesus Christ for you al, because your faith is published throughout the whole world.

9 For God is my witness (who I serue in my spirit in the Gospel of his Sonne) that without ceasing I make mention of you in my prayers, beseeching, that by some means one time or other I might haue a prosperous iourney by the will of God, to come vnto you.

11 * For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spiritual gifte, to strengthen you,

12 That is, that I might be comforted together with you, through our mutual faith, both yours and mine.

13 Now my brethren, I would that ye should not bee ignorant, howe that I haue often times purposed to come vnto you (but haue bene * let hitherto) that I might haue some * fruite also among you, as I haue among the other Gentiles.

14 I am better both to the Grecians, and to the Barbarians, both to the wief men and vnto the vnwise.

15 Therefore, as much as in me is, I am ready to preache the Gospel to you also, that are at Rome.

16 For I am not * ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the * power of God vnto saluation to euery one that beleueth, to the Iewe first, & also to the Grecian.

18 For the wrath of God is reueiled from heauen against al vngodlines, and vn-righteoulines of men, which withhold the truth in vnrighteoulines, 19 Forasmuch as that, which may be knowe of God, is manifest in them for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible things of him, that is, his eternall power & Godhead, are seene by the creation of the world, being considered in his workes, to the intent that they should be without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankfull, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was full of darkenes.

22 When they professed them selues to be wise, they became fooles.

23 For they turned the glory of the incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, & of birds, & foure footed beasts, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore also God gaue them vp to their hearts lusts, vnto vncleannes, to defile their owne bodies betwene them selues:

25 Which turned the truth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped and serued the creature, forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for euer, Amen.

26 For this cause God gaue them vp vnto vile affections: for euen their women did change the naturall vse that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, and man with man, wrought filthines, and receiued in them selues such recompense of their error, as was meete.

28 For as they regarded not to know God, euen so God deliuered them vp vnto a reprobate minde, to do those things which are not conuenient.

29 Being full of all vnrighteoulines, fornication, wickednes, couetousnes, maliciousnes, full of enuie, of murder, of debate, of deceit, taking all things in the euill parte, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proude, boasters, inuenters of euill things, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer be appeased, merciles.

31 Which men, though they knewe the Law of God, how that they which comit such things, are worthy of death, yet not onely do the same, but also fauour them that do them.

Whereof Moses Law is a plaine exposition. Or, righteousness.

He searcheth the hypocrites with Gods iudgement, 7 And comforteth the faithfull. 12 To beat downe all vaine pretence of ignorance, holines, and of alluiance with God, he proueth all men to be sinners, 13 The Gentiles by their conscience, 17 The Iewes by the Law written.

Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whose euer thou art that iudgeth for in that that thou iudgeth another; thou condemnest thy selfe: for thou that iudgest, doest the same things.

2 But wee knowe that the iudgement of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O thou man, that iudgeth them which do such things; and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifullnes, and patience, and long suffering, not knowing that the bountifullnes of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou, after thine hardnes, and heart that cannot repen, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath, against y day of wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God.

6 Who wil reward euery man according to his workes:

7 That is, to them which by continuance in well doing seeke glory and honour, and immortalitie, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious and disobey the truth, and obey vnrighteousnes, shalbe indignation and wrath.

9 Tribulation and anguish shalbe vpon the soule of euery man that doeth euill: of the Iewe first, and also of the Grecian.

10 But to euery man that doeth good, shalbe glory, and honour, and peace, to the Iewe first, and also to the Grecian.

11 For there is no respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as haue sinned without the Law, shal perish also without the Law: and as many as haue sinned in the Law, shalbe iudged by the Law.

13 For the hearers of the Lawe are not righteous before God: but the doers of the Law shalbe iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the Lawe, do by nature the things conuained in the Law, they haue not the Law, are a Law vnto them selues, 15 Which shewe the effecte of the Lawe written in their heartes, their conscience also bearing witnes, and their thoughtes accusing one another, or excusing.

16 At the day when God shal iudge the secretes of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.

17 Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, and reatest in the Law, and gloriest in God; and knowest his wil, and allowest the things that are excellent, in that thou art instructed by the Law.

18 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkenes,

20 An instructor of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the forme of knowledge, and of the truth in the Law.

And confidence in the Law. Chap. 9. 4. Or, wilt thou things that differ from it. 1 The way to teache others in the knowledge of the truth.

Or, blame. Neither they which do approue euil doers, nor they which reprove the, are excusable before God.

For either thou art guilty of y same fault, or the like.

For he iudgeth the heart, & regardeth not the outward person.

The wicked shalbe condemned, & the faithfull deliuered.

The common sort of men are most vnable to be iustified by their workes, seeing Abraham y father of beleeuers hath nothing to glorie of before God, and therefore al mens workes that condemne the, and they onely shalbe lauded.

which appereth Iesus Christ by faith to be their only iustice and sanctification.

By the Grecian he vnderstandeth the Gentile, and euerie one that is not a Iewe.

As touching anie outward qualitie, but as the potters before he make his vessels, he doeth appoint some to glorie, and others to ignominie.

That is, without y knowledge of the Law written, which was giuen by Moses.

For mans conscience sheweth him when he doeth good or euil.

He awakens y Iewes, which were a sleepe through a certaine security.

Christ shall iudge the secretes of all hearts.

Hypocrites. The Iewes preferment.

To the Romanes.

All are sinners. Iustified by faith.

- 21 Thou therefore, which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest, A man should not steale, dost thou steale?
- 22 Thou that saist, A man should not commit adulterie, dost thou commit adulterie? thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacriledge?
- 23 Thou that gloriest in the Law, through breaking the Law dishonourest thou God?
- 24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, * as it is written.
- 25 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou do the Law: but if thou be a trasgressor of the Law, thy * circumcision is made vncircumcision.
- 26 Therefore if the vncircumcision keepe the ordināces of the Law, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision.
- 27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Lawe) iudge thee, which by the * letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the Law?
- 28 For he is not a Iewe, which is one outward: neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:
- 29 But he is a Iewe which is one within, and the * circumcision is of the heart, in the * spirit, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

The end of circumcision was the keeping of the Law, and the Sacrament separated from his end is of none effect.

Or, condemne. When the Lawe is called the letter, or that it pro-uoketh death in vs, or that it killeth, or is the ministerie of death, or that it is the strength of sinne, it is ment as we consider the law of it selfe wout Christ.

Col. 2. 11. In the inward man and heart.

CHAP. III.

Having granted some prerogatives to the Iewes, because of Gods free and stable promise, 10 He proueth by the Scriptures, both Iewes and Gentiles to be sinners, 21. 24 And to be iustified by grace through faith, and not by works, 21 And so the Law is established.

- 1 What is then the preferment of the Iewe? or what is the profite of circumcision.
- 2 Much euery manner of way: for chieflye, because vnto them were committed the * oracles of God.
- 3 For what, though some did not beleue? shal their * vnbelief make the faith of God without effect?
- 4 God forbid: yea, let God be * true, & * euerye man a liar, as it is written, * That thou mightest be * iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome, when thou art iudged.
- 5 Nowe if * our vnrighteousnes commend the righteousness of God, what shall wee say? Is God vnrighteous which punisheth? (I speake * as a man)
- 6 God forbid: els how shal God iudge the worlde?
- 7 For if the veritie of God hath more aboundeth through my lie vnto his glorie, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?
- 8 And (as we are blamed, & as some affirme that we say) why do we not euil, that good may come thereof? whose dānation is iust.
- 9 What then? are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already pro-

- ued, that al, both Iewes and Gentiles are * vnder sinne.
- 10 As it is written, * There is none righteous, no not one.
- 11 There is none that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.
- 12 They haue all gone out of the way: they haue bene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.
- 13 * Their throte is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceite: * the poyson of aspes * vnder their lippes.
- 14 * Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.
- 15 * Their feete are swift to sheade blood.
- 16 Destruction and calamitie are in their wayes,
- 17 And the * waye of peace they haue not known.
- 18 * The feare of God is not before their eyes.
- 19 Now we know that whatsoever the * Law saith, it saith it to the * which are vnder the Law, that euery mouth may be stopped, & all the worlde be * culpable before God.
- 20 * Therefore by the workes of the * Lawe shal no flesh be iustified in his sight: for by the Lawe cometh the knowledge of sinne.
- 21 But nowe is the * righteousness of God made manifest without the Lawe, hauing witness of the Lawe and of the Prophets.
- 22 To wit, the righteousness of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all, that beleue.
- 23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are * deprivd of the glorie of God,
- 24 And are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,
- 25 Whome God hath set forth to be a reconciliation through faith in his blood, to declare his * righteousness, by the forgiveness of the sinnes that are passed through the patience of God.
- 26 To shewe at this time his righteousness, that he might be iust, and a iustifier of him which is of the faith of Iesus.
- 27 Where is then the reioycing? It is excluded. By what Lawe? of workes? Nay: but by the * Lawe of faith.
- 28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is iustified by faith without the workes of the Lawe.
- 29 God, is he the God of the Iewes onely, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.
- 30 For it is one God who shal iustifie circumcision * of faith, & vncircumcision through faith.
- 31 Doe we then make the Law of none effect through faith? God forbid: yea * we establish the Law.

nie difference, it onely standeth in words: for in effect there is none. The doctrine of faith is the ornament of the Law: for it embraceth Christ, who by his death hath satisfied the Law: so that the Law which could not bring vs to saluation by reason of our own corruption, is now made effectual to vs by Christ Iesus.

CHAP. IIII.

17. He declareth that iustification is a free gift, given by them them selves, of whom the Law was not bound, as of Abraham and of David, 18 And also by the office of the Lawe and faith.

1 What shall we saye then, that Abraham our father hath founde concerning the flesh?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by works, hee hath wherein to reioyce, but not with God.

3 For what saith the Scripture? Abraham beleued God, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

4 Nowe to him that worketh, the wages is not counted by fauour, but by dette,

5 But to him that worketh not, but beleueth in him that iustifieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Euen as David declareth the blessednes of the man, vnto whome God imputeth righteousness without works, saying,

7 Blessed are they, whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose finnes are covered.

8 Blessed is the man, to whome the Lorde imputeth not sinne.

9 Came this blessednes then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then imputed? when he was circumcised, or vncircumcised? not when he was circumcised, but when he was vncircumcised.

11 After hee receiued the signe of circumcision, as the seale of the righteousness of the faith which he had, when he was vncircumcised, that he should be the father of all them that beleue, not being circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed to them also,

12 And the father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the steps of the faith of our father Abraham, which he had when he was vncircumcised.

13 For the promes that hee should be the heire of the world, was not giuen to Abraham, or to his seede, through the Lawe, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the Lawe, be heires, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect.

15 For the Lawe causeth wrath: for where no Law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore it is by faith, that might come by grace, and the promes might be sure to all the seede, not to that onely which is of the Law: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

17 (As it is written, I haue made thee a father of many nations) euen before God whom he beleued, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 Which were nothing, are called by the power of God to be of the number of the faithfull.

18 Which Abraham about hope, beleued vnder hope, that he should be father of many nations: according to that which was spoken to him, So shall thy seede Gen. 15. 3. be.

19 And he not weake in the faith, considered not his owne bodie, which was now dead, being almost an hundred yere old, neither the deadnes of Saras wombe.

20 Neither did he doute of the promes of God through vnbelief, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue glorie to God, 21 Being fully assured that hee which had promised, was also able to do it.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now it is not written for him onely, that it was imputed to him for righteousness,

24 But also for vs, to whome it shalbe imputed for righteousness, which beleue in him that raised vp Iesus our Lorde from the dead.

25 Who was deliuered to death for our finnes, and is risen againe for our iustification.

CHAP. V.

He declareth the fruite of faith, 7 And by comparison setteth forth the loue of God and obedience of Christ, which is the fundation and ground of the same.

1 Then being iustified by faith, we haue peace towards GOD through our Lord Iesus Christ.

2 By whom also we haue access to this grace, wherein we stande, and reioyce vnder the hope of the glorie of God.

3 Neither do we so onely, but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience,

4 And patience experience, & experience hope,

5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

6 For Christ, when we were yet of no strength, at his time, died for the vngodly.

7 Doubtes one will scarce die for a righteous man: but yet for a good man it may be that one dare dye.

8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeing that while wee were yet sinners, Christ dyed for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, wee shalbe saved from wrath through him.

10 For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne, much more being reconciled, we shalbe saved by his life.

11 And not onely so, but we also reioyce in God through our Lorde Iesus Christ, by whom we haue now received the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sinne, and so death went ouer al men: forasmuch as all men

g From Adam <sup>13</sup> For vnto the time of the Law was sinne in the worlde, but sinne is not imputed, while there is no Law.

h He meaneth young babes, which neither had the knowledge of the law of nature, nor any motion of concupiscence, much lesse committed any actual sinne: & this may also comprehend the Gentiles.

i Yet all mankind, as it were, were as yet inclosed in Adams loynes.

k Which was Christ.

o The Lawe of Moses.

p That it might be more manifestly known, and set before all mens eyes.

men haue sinned.

But death reigned from Adam to Moses, euen ouer them also that sinned not after the like maner of the transgression of Adam, which was the figure of him that was to come.

But yet the gift is not so, as is the offence: for if through the offence of one, many be dead, much more the grace of God, & the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

Neither is the gift so, as that which entred in by one that sinned: for the fault came of one offence vnto cōdemnation: but the gift is of many offences to iustification.

For if by the offence of one, death reigned through one, much more shall they which receiue the abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteounes, reigne in life through one, that is, Iesus Christ.

Likewise then as by the offence of one, she fault came on all men to condemnation, so by the iustifying of one, the benefite abounded toward all men to the iustification of life.

For as by one mans disobedience, many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one, shall many also be made righteous.

Moreouer the Lawe entred thereupon that the offence should abound: neuertheles, where sinne abounded, there grace abounded much more:

That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteounes vnto eternal life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serue sinne.

For he that is dead, is freed from sinne.

Wherefore, if we be dead with Christ, we beleeue that we shall liue also with him.

Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

For in that he died, hee died once to sinne: but in that hee liueth, he liueth to God.

Likewise thinke ye also, that ye are dead to sinne, but are aliue to God in Iesus Christ our Lord.

Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that ye should obey it in the lustes thereof.

Neither giue ye your members as weapons of vnrighteounes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, & giue your members as weapons of righteounes vnto God.

For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you: for ye are not vnder the Lawe, but vnder grace.

What then? shal we sinne, because we are not vnder the Law, but vnder grace? God forbid.

Know ye not, that to whomsoever ye giue your selues as seruants to obeye, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey, whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteounes?

But God be thanked, that ye haue bene the seruants of sinne, but ye haue obeyed from the heart vnto the forme of the doctrine, whereunto ye were delivered.

Being then made free from sinne, ye are made the seruants of righteounes.

I speake after the maner of man, because of the infirmities of your flesh: for as ye haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannes & to iniquitie, to commit iniquitie, so now giue your members seruants vnto righteounes in holines.

For when ye were the seruants of sinne, ye were freed from righteounes.

What fruite had ye then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death.

But now being freed from sinne, & made seruants vnto God, ye haue your fruite in holines, and the end, euermore life.

For the wages of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternal life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

pacitie, I vse these similitudes of seruitude & freedom, that ye might the better vnderstand. Or, the rewarde and recompence. I similitude compared to a tyrant which reigneth by force, who giueth death as allowance to them that were preferred by the Lawe.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man should glorie in the flesh, but rather seek to subdue it to the Spirit, he sheweth by the vertue and end of Baptisme, that regeneration is ioyned with iustification, and therefore exhorteth to godly life, setting before mens eyes the rewarde of sinne and righteounes.

What shall we saye then? Shall wee continue still in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

How shal we, that are dead to sinne, liue yet therein?

Know ye not, that as we which haue bene baptized into Iesus Christe, haue bene baptized into his death?

We are buried then with him by baptisme into his death, that like as Christe was raised vp from the dead by the glorie of the Father, so we also should walke in newnes of life.

For if we be grafted with him to the similitude of his death, euen so shall we be to the similitude of his resurrection.

Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, that the body of sinne as long as he liueth?

2 * For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bounde by the Lawe to the man, while hee liueth: but if the man be dead, she is deliuered from the lawe of the man.

3 So then, if while the man liueth, she take another man, she shalbe called an adulteresse: but if the man be dead, she is free from the Law, so that she is not an adulteresse, though she take another man.

4 So ye, my brethren, are dead also to the Law by the body of Christ, that ye should be vnto another, even vnto him that is raised vp from the dead, that wee should bring forth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sinnes, which were by the Lawe, hid force in our members, to bring forth fruite vnto death.

6 But now we are deliuered from the Lawe, being dead vnto it, wherein wee were holden, that we should serue in newnes of Spirit, and not in the oldnes of the letter.

7 What shal we say the? Is the Law sinne? God forbid. Nay, I knew not sinne, but by the Lawe: for I had not known lust, except the Lawe had said, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne tooke an occasion by the commandement, and wrought in me al manner of concupiscence: for without the Lawe sinne is dead.

9 For I once was aliue, without the Lawe: but when the commandement came, sinne reuiued,

10 But I died: and the same commandement which was ordeined vnto life, was founde to be vnto me vnto death.

11 For sinne tooke occasion by the commandement, and deceiued me, and thereby slewe me.

12 Wherefore the Law is holy, and the commandement is holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that the which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid: but sinne, y it might appeare sinne, wrought death in me by that which is good, y sinne might be out of measure sinful by the commandement.

14 For we knowe that the Law is spiritual, but I am carnall, sold vnder sinne.

15 For I allow not that which I do: for what I would, that doe I not: but what I hate, that do I.

16 If I do then that which I would not, I consent to the Law, that it is good.

17 Now then, it is no more I, that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe, that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me: but I finde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For I doe not the good thing, which I would, but the euill, which I would not, that do I.

20 Nowe if I doe that I woulde not, it is no more I that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Lawe, that when I would do good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delite in the Lawe of God, concerning the inner man:

23 But I see another law in my members, rebelling against the lawe of my minde, and leading me captiue vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shal deliuer me from the bodie of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christe our Lord. Then I my selfe in my minde serue the Law of God, but in my flesh the lawe of sinne.

Now then there is no condemnation to the that are in Christ Iesus, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the Law of the Spirit of life which is in Christ Iesus, hath freed me from the law of sinne and of death.

3 For (that that was impossible to the law, in as much as it was weake, because of the flesh) God sending his owne Sonne, in the similitude of sinfull flesh, and for sinne, condemned sinne in the flesh,

5 For they that are after the flesh, saurour the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the Spirit is life and peace.

7 Because the wisdom of the flesh is enemie against God: for it is not subiect to the Law of God, neither in deede can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, can not please God.

- 13 As it is written, * I haue loued Iacob, and haue hated Esau.
- 14 What shall we say then? Is there vnrighteousnes with God? God forbid.
- 15 For he saith to Moses, * I will haue mercie on him, to whom I will shewe mercie: and wil haue compassio on him, on whom I will haue compassion.
- 16 So then is not in him that willett, nor in him that rineth, but in God that sheweth mercie.
- 17 For the <sup>h</sup> Scripture sayeth vnto Pharaos, * For this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shewe my power in thee, & that my Name might be declared throughout all the earth.
- 18 Therefore he hath mercie on whome he will, and whome he will, he hardeneth.
- 19 Thou wilt say then vnto me, Why doeth he yet complaine? for who hath resisted his will?
- 20 But, O man, who art thou which "pleadest against God? shall the "thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?
- 21 Hath not the potter power of the clay to make of the same lump one vessell to "honour, and another vnto dishonour?

- 26 And it shalbe in the place where it was saide vnto them, * Ye are not my people, that there they shalbe called, The childre of the liuing God.
- 27 Also Esaias cryeth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel were as the sand of the sea, yes shall but a remnant be saued.
- 28 For he will make his account, & gather it into a short summe with righteousness: for the Lorde will make a short count in the earth.
- 29 * And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of hostes had left vs a seede, we had bene made as <sup>m</sup> Sodom, and had bene like to Gomorrah.
- 30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not righteousness, haue attained vnto righteousness, euen the

- 31 But Israel which followed the Lawe of righteousness, could not attaine vnto the Lawe of righteousness.
- 32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the Law: for they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone,

- 3 For they, being ignorant of the righteousness of God, & going about to stablish their owne righteousness, haue not submitted them selues to the righteousness of God.
- 4 * For Christ is the <sup>b</sup> end of the Lawe for righteousness vnto euery one that beleueth.
- 5 For Moses thus describeth the righteousness which is of the Lawe, * That the man which doeth these things, shall liue thereby.
- 6 But the righteousness which is of faith, speaketh on this wise, * Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heauen? (that is to bring Christ from aboue)
- 7 Or, Who shall descend into y deepe? (that is to bring Christ againe from the dead)
- 8 But what saith it? The word is nere thee, euen in thy mouth, & in thine heart. This is the <sup>d</sup> word of faith which we preach.
- 9 For if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleuee in thine heart, that God rayed him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saued.
- 10 For with the heart man beleueth vnto righteousness, and with <sup>e</sup> the mouth man confesseth to saluation.
- 11 For the Scripture saith, * Whosoeuer beleueth in him, shall not be ashamed.
- 12 For there is no difference betwene the Iewe and the Grecian: for he that is Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all, that call on him.
- 13 * For whosoeuer shall cal vpon the Name of the Lord, shall be saved.
- 14 But how shall they cal on him, in whome they haue not beleueed? & how shall they beleuee in him, of whome they haue not heard? and how shall they heare without a preacher?

CHAP. XI.

4 God hath his Church although it be not seem to many eye. 5 The grace shewed to the elect. 7 The iudgement of the reprobate. 8 God hath blinded the Iewes for a time, and reucaled him selfe to the Gentiles. 18 VVithout he warrmeth to humble thankfullnes. 29 The gift of God without repentance. 33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

1 Demaunde then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid: for I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which he <sup>h</sup> knewe before. Knowe ye not what the Scripture saith of Elias, howe hee maketh request vnto God <sup>h</sup> against Israel, saying, * Lord, they haue killed thy Prophets, & digged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seeke my life?

3 But what saith the answere of God to him? * I haue reserved vnto my selfe <sup>h</sup> seven thousand men, which haue not bowed the knee to Baal.

4 Euen so the at this present time is there a remnant through the <sup>h</sup> election of grace. And if it bee of grace, it is no more of workes: or els were grace no more grace: but if it be of workes, it is no more grace: or els were worke no more worke.

5 What then? Israel hath not obtained that he sought: but the election hath obtained it, and the rest haue bene hardened.

6 According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirit of <sup>h</sup> slumber: eyes that they should not see, and eares that they should not heare vnto this day.

7 And Dauid saith, * Let their <sup>h</sup> table be made a snare, and a net, and a stumbling block, cuen for a recompence vnto them.

8 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, and <sup>h</sup> bowe downe their backe always.

11 I demaunde then, Haue they stumbled, that they <sup>h</sup> should fall? God forbid: but <sup>h</sup> without hope through their fall saluation <sup>h</sup> cometh vnto the Gentiles, to <sup>h</sup> prouoke them to follow them.

12 Wherefore if the fall of them be the riches of the worlde, and the diminishing of them the <sup>h</sup> riches of the Gentiles, how <sup>h</sup> much more shall their abundance be?

13 For in this I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 To <sup>h</sup> vie if by any meanes I might <sup>h</sup> prouoke them of my fleshe to followe them, and might saue some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the worlde, what <sup>h</sup> shall the receiving be, but <sup>h</sup> life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruites be holy, so is the whole lump: and if the <sup>h</sup> roote be holy, so are the branches.

17 And though some of the branches bee broken of, and thou being a wilde olive tree, wast grafted in <sup>h</sup> for them, and made partaker of the roote, and fatnes of the <sup>h</sup> olive tree, 18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches: and if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt saye then, The branches are broken of, that I might be grafted in.

20 Wel: through vnbelief they are broken of, and thou standest by faith: be not high minded, but <sup>h</sup> feare.

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heede, lest he also spare not thee.

22 Beholde therefore the bountifullnes, & <sup>h</sup> seueritie of God: toward them which haue fallen, seueritie: but toward thee, bountifullnes, if thou continue in <sup>h</sup> his bountifullnes: or els thou shalt also be cut of.

23 And they also, if they abyde not still in vnbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou wast cut out of the olive tree, which was wilde by nature, and wast grafted contrarie to nature in a right olive tree, howe much more shall they that are by nature, bee grafted in their owne olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this secret (lest ye should be arrogant in your selues) that partly obstinacie is come to Israel, vntill the fulnes of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so <sup>h</sup> all Israel shall be saued, as it is written, * The deliuerer shall come out of Sion, and shall turne away the vngodlines from Iacob.

27 And this is my covenant to them, * Which I shall take away their sinnes.

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers sakes.

29 For the <sup>h</sup> giftes and calling of God are without repentance.

CHAP. XII.

The conuersation, loue & works of such as beloeue in Christ.
19 Not to seek reuengence.

1 Befeech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that yee giue vp your bodies a<sup>1</sup> liuing sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your<sup>2</sup> reasonable ser-uing of God.

2 And facion not your selues like vnto this worlde, but be ye changed by the renewing of your minde, that yee maye<sup>3</sup> proue what is the<sup>4</sup> good will of God, and accept-table, and perfect.

3 For I say through the grace that is giuen vnto me, to euery one that is among you, that no mā presume to vnderstand aboue that which is meet to vnderstand, but that hee<sup>5</sup> vnderstand according to<sup>6</sup> sobrietic, as God hath dealt to euery mā the<sup>7</sup> measure of faith.

4 For as we haue many members in one bodie, & al members haue not one office, 5 So we being many are one body in Christ, and euery one, one anothers members.

6 * Seeing then that we haue giftes that are diuers, according to the grace that is gi-uen vnto vs, whether we haue<sup>8</sup> prophetic, let vs prophesie according to the proportion of faith:

7 Or an office, let vs waile on the office: or he that teacheth, on teaching:

8 Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that<sup>9</sup> distributeth, let him do it<sup>10</sup> with simplicitie: he that ruleth, with diligence: he that<sup>11</sup> sheweth mercie, with<sup>12</sup> chearefulnesse.

9 Let loue be without dissimulation. * Abhorre that which is euill, and cleaue vnto that which is good.

10 * Be affectioned to loue one another with brotherly loue. In giuing honour, goe one before another,

11 Not slothful to do seruice: seruent in spirit: serueng<sup>13</sup> the Lord,

12 Reioicing in hope, patient in tribulatio, * continuing in prayer,

13 * Distributing vnto the necessities of the Saintes: * giuing your selues to hospitalitie.

14 * Blesse them which persecute you: blesse,
I say, and curse not.

15 Reioyce with them that reioyce, & weep with them that weepe.

16 Be of like affection one towards another:
be not hie minded: but make your selues equal to them of the lower sort: bee not wise in<sup>14</sup> your selues.

17 * Recompense to no man euill for euill:
* procure things honest in the sight of all men.

18 * If it bee possible, as much as in you is,
haue peace with all men.

19 Dearly beloued, * avenge not your selues, but giue place vnto wrath: for it is writte, * Vengeance is mine: I wil repaye, saith
the Lord.

20 * Therefore, if thine enemie hunger, feed him: if he thirst, giue him drinke: for so to doing, thou shalt heape<sup>15</sup> coales of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome of euill, but overcome euill with goodnes.

his conscience shall beare him witnesse that Gods burning wrath has geth ouer him.

CHAP. XIII.

The obedience to the Rulers. * Why they haue the sword. * Charitie ought to measure all our doings.
21 An exhortation to innocencie and puritie of life.

1 Let<sup>16</sup> euery soule be subiect vnto the higher powers: for there is no power but of God: & the powers that be, are ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they resist, shal receiue to ths selues iudgement.

3 For Princes are not to be feared for good works, but for euill. Wilt thou then be without feare of the power? do wel: so shalt thou haue praise of the same.

4 For hee is the minister of God for thy wealth: but if thou do euill, feare: for he beareth not the sword for nought: for hee is the minister of God to take vengeance on him that doeth euill.

5 Wherefore yee must bee subiect, not because of wrath onely, but also for<sup>17</sup> conscience sake.

6 For, for this cause ye pay also tribute: for they are Gods ministers, applying them selues for the same thing.

7 * Giue to all men therefore their due: to tribute, to whom ye owe tribute: custome, to whom custome: feare, to whom feare:

cannot wrest this place to establish their tyrannie ouer the conscience.

honour, to whome ye owe honour.

8 Owe nothing to any mā, but to loue one another: for he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the<sup>d</sup> Law.

9 For this,* Thou shalt not commit adul-terie, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witness, Thou shalt not couet: and if there be any other commandement, it is briefly com-prehended in this saying, euen in this,
Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

ro Loue doeth not euill to his neighbour :
therefore is loue the *fulfilling of the Law.

11 And that, considering the season, that it is now time that we should arise from sleep:
for now is our salvation * nerer, then whē
we beleueed it.

12. Thenight is past, and the day is at hand:
let vs therefore cast awaye the workes of darkenes, and let vs put on the <sup>f</sup>armour of light,

13 So that we walke honestly, as in the day:
not in *gluttonie, and drunkennes, neither in chambering and wantonnes, nor in strife and enuyng:

14. * But put ye on the Lord I E s v s Christ, and take no thought for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts of it.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The weake ought not to be despised. 10 No man should offend anothers conscience, 15 But on to support another in charitie and faith.

I Him that is weake in the <sup>a</sup>faith, receiue vnto you, but not <sup>b</sup> for controuersies of disputations.

2 One beleueth y he may eat of al things:
and another, which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not : and let not him which eateth not, judge him that eateth : for God hath

4 * Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant? he standeth or falleth to his owne * master: yea, he shalbe established: for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man esteemeth one day aboue another day, and another man counteth euery day alike. let euery man be fullyc perswaded in his minde.

6. He that observeth the day, observeth it to the Lord: and he that observeth not the day, observeth it not to the Lord. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord: for he giueth God thanks: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thanks.

701 For none of vs liueth to him selfe, neither doeth any die to him selfe.

28 For whether wee live; wee live vnto the 29 selfe; whether wee die; wee die vnto the 30 selfe; y<sup>e</sup> he speaketh of things which of themselves
31 live in the law they were not next, that he reasoneth 32 of the ayle, but of the perijns; thirdly; that he 33 hubburne and malicious, whom he calleth dogs and 34 he weake and infirme, to whome as yet God had not 35 free libertie: i Both our life and death ought to 36 be free.

Lord: or whether we die, we die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or die, we are the Lords.

For Christ therefore died and rose again, and reuiued, that he might be Lord both of the dead and the quicke.

But why dost thou iudge thy brother? or why dost thou despise thy brother? * for we shall all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ.

For it is written, * I<sup>k</sup> liue, saith the Lord, and euerie knee shall bowe to me, and all tongues shall<sup>1</sup> confesse vnto God.

So then euery one of vs shall giue accou<sup>ts</sup> of him self to God.

Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but use your iudgement rather in this, that no man put an occasion to fall, or a stumbling block before his brother.

¶ I know, and am perswaded through the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vncleane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vncleane, to him it is vncleane.

But if thy brother bee grieved for the meat, nowe walkest thou not charitably: * destroye not him with thy meate, for whome Christ dyed.

Caufe not your <sup>a</sup> commoditie to be euill spoken of.

For the ° kingdome of God is not meate nor drinke, but righteousnes, and peace, &
ioye in the holy Ghoſt.

For whosoever <sup>p</sup>in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approved of men.

Let vs then followe those things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

Destroy not the worke of God for meats sake : * all things in deede are pure : but it is euill for the man which eateth with offence.

* It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor anie thing, whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weake.

Haſt thou ⁊ ſayth ⁊ haue it with thy ſelfe before God : bleſſed is he that ⁊ condem-neth not him ſelfe in that thing which he alloweth.

For he that doubteth, is condemned if he eate, because he eateth not of fayth : and whatsoever is not of fayth, is sinne.

СНАР. XV.

Paul exhorteth them to support and love one another by the example of Christ, 9 And by the only way of God which is the cause of saluation both of the one and the other. 14 He sheweth his zeale toward them and the Church; 30 And requireth the same of them.

WE which are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weak, & not to please our selves.

Therefore let every man please his neighbours

bour in that that is good to edification.

For Christ also would not please himself, but as it is written, * The rebukes of them which rebuke thee, <sup>fel</sup> on me.

For whatsoever things are written afore time, are written for our learning, that we through patience, & comfort of the Scriptures might have hope.

Now the God of patience and consolation giue you that ye be like minded one towaordes another, according to Christe Iesus,

That yee with one minde, and with one mouth may praise God, euē the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ also receiued vs to the glorye of God.

Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision, for the truth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers.

And let the Gentiles praise God for his mercy, as it is written, * For this cause I will confesse thee among the Gentiles, & sing vnto thy Name.

And againe he saith, * Reioyce, ye Gentiles with his people.

And againe, * Praise the Lorde, all yee Gentiles, and laude ye him, al people together.

And againe Esaias saith, * There shalbe a roote of Iesse, and hee that shall rise to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shal the Gentiles trust.

Nowe the God of hope fil you with all ioye, and peace in beleeuing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

And I myself also am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, and filled with all knowledge, and are able to admonish one another.

Neuerthelesse brethren, I haue somewhat boldly after a sort written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen mee of God,

That I shoulde bee the minister of Iesus Christ towaerde the Gentiles, ministring the Gospel of God, that the offering vp of the Gentiles might be acceptable being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those things which pertaine to God.

For I dare not speake of any thing, which Christ hath not wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient in word & deede,

With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God: so that from Ierusalem, and round about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abound the Gospel of Christ.

Yea, so I enforced my selfe to preache the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I shoulde haue built on another mans foundation.

But as it is written, * To whome hee was not spoken of, they shall see him, and they that heard not, shall vnderstand him.

Therefore also I haue bene * oft let to come vnto you.

But now seeing I haue no more place in these quarters, and also haue bene desirous manye yeeres agone to come vnto you,

When I shal take my iourney into Spaine, I wil come to you, for I truit to see you in my iourney, and to bee brought on my waye thitherwarde by you, after that I haue bene somewhat filled with your company.

But now go I to Ierusalem, to minister vnto the Saints.

For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certeine distribution vnto the poore Saintes which are at Ierusalem.

For it hath pleased them, and their detters are they: for if the Gentiles be made partakers of their spirituall things, their duetic is also to minister vnto them in carnal things.

When I haue therefore performed this, and haue sealed them this fruite, I will passe by you into Spaine.

* And I knowe when I come, that I shall come to you with abundance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

Also brethren I beseech you for our Lord Iesus Christs sake, and for the loue of the spirit, that ye would strue with mee by prayers to God for me,

That I maye be deliuered from them which are disobedient in Iudea, and that my seruice which I haue to doe at Ierusalem, may be accepted of the Saints,

That I may come vnto you with ioye by the wil of God, and may with you bee refreshed.

Thus the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE CORINTHIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that S. Paul had preached at Corinthus a yere & an half, he was copelled by the wickednes of the Jewes to saile into Syria. In whose absence false Apostles entred into the Church, who being passed up in vaine glory, & affectat eloquence sought to bring into contempt the simplicitie which Paul vsed in preaching the Gospell. By whose ambition such factions and schismes sprang up in the Church, that from opinions in policies & ceremonies they fel to false doctrine and herefter, calling into dout the resurrection from the dead, one of the chiefest points of Christian religion. Against these euils the Apostle proceedeth, preparing the Corinthian hearts, and eares with gentle salutations: but soone after he reprehendeth their contentions & debates, their arrogancie & pride, & exhorteth thē to concord and humilitie, setting before their eyes the spiritall versus, & heavenly wisdom of the Gospell, which cannot be persuaded by worldly wit & eloquent reasons, but is reuelled by Gods Spirit, & so sealed in mans hearts. Therefore this saluatio may not be attributed to the ministers, but only to God, whose ser-uants they are, & haue receiued charge to edifie his Church: wherein S. Paul behaued himself skilfully, building according to the foundation (which is Christ) & exhorteth euerys to make the end proportionable to the beginning, taking diligent heed that they be not polluted with vaine doctrine, seeing they are the Temple of God. And as for those which douted of his Apostleship, he sheweth them that hee dependeth not on mans iudgement, altho he had declared by manifest signes that he neuer sought his own glory, neither yet how he might liue, but only the glory of Christ: which thing at his comming hee would declare more amply, so the shame of those vaine glorious braggers, who sought them selues only, and therefore suffered most horrible vices vnreproued & unpunished, as incest, contentions, pleadings before infidels, fornication, & such like, so the great slander of the Gospell. This done, he answereth to certain points of the Corinthian letter, as touching single life, dutie of marriage, of discorde and diffension among the married, of virginities, and second marriage. And because some thought it nothing to be presens at idle sermone, seeing in their hearts they worshipped the true God, he warneth them to haue

have respect to their weak brethren, whose faith by that dissimbling was hindered, and their consciences wounded, which thing rather then he would do, he would neuer use that liberie which God had given him. But forasmuch as pride, & selfwill was the cause of those great evils, he admonisheth the by the example of the Iewes not to glory in these outward giftes, whose horrible punishment for the abuse of Gods creatures, ought to be a warning to all men to follow Christ uprightly, without all pollution & offence of others. Then he correcteth diuers abuses in their Church, as touching the behaviour of men & women in the assemblie: of the Lords supper, the abuse of the spirituall giftes, which God hath giuen to maine in loue and edifie the Church: as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospel serueth to no use. Last of all he exhorteth the Corinthians to relieue the poore brethren at Ierusalem, so perseuere in the loue of Christ, and well doing, sending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

1 He praiseth the great graces of God shewed toward them, 10 Exhorting them to con corde and humilitie. 19 He beareth down all pride, and wisdom which is not grounded on God, 26 Shewing whom God hath chosen to confound the wisdoms of the world.

Aul called so be an Apostle of Iesus Christ, through the wil of God, & our brother Sothenes,

Vnto the Church of God which is at Corinthus, to them that are sanctified in Christ Iesus, * Saints by calling, * with al that cal on the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ in euery place, both their Lord, and ours:

3 Grace be with you, & peace frō God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 I thank my God alwaies on your behalf for the grace of God, which is giuen you in Iesus Christ,

5 * That in all things ye are made rich* in him, in al kinde of speech, & in all knowledge:

6 As the testimonie of Iesus Christ hath bene confirmed in you:

7 So that ye are not destitute of any gifte: * waiting for the appearing of our Lorde Iesus Christ.

8 * Who shal also cōfirme you vnto the end, that ye may be blamelesse in the day of our Lord Iesus Christ.

9 * God is faithful, by whom ye are called vnto fellowship of his Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord.

10 Nowe I beseech you, brethren, by the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, * that ye all speake one thing, and that there be no dissensions among you: but be ye knit together in one minde, and in one iudgement.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you by them that are of the Name, & of those giftes in you, whose abuse he doeth reprove, as eloquence, philosophie, and their knowledge of Gods worde. house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Nowe this I saye, that euery one of you saith, I am Pauls, and I am * Apollos, & I am Cephas, and I am Christs.

13 Is Christ deuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptized into the name of Paul?

14 I thank God, that I baptized none of you, but * Crispus, and Gaius, 15 Left any should say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the household of Stephanus: furthermore knowe I not, whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel, not with * wisdom of words, * lest the crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to the that perish, foolishnes: but vnto vs, which are saued, it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will cast away the vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the? Scribe? where is the? disputer of this world? hath not God made the wisdom of this world foolishnes?

21 For seeing the world by wisdom knew not God in the wisdom of God, it pleased God by the foolishnes of preaching to saue them that beleeue:

22 Seeing also that the Iewes require a * signe, and the Grecians seeke after wisdom.

23 But we preach Christ crucified: vnto the Iewes, euen a stumbling blocke, and vnto the Grecians, foolishnes:

24 But vnto them which are called, both of the Iewes and Grecians we preach Christ, the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 For the foolishnes of God is wiser then men, and the weakenes of God is stronger then men.

26 For brethren, you see your calling, howe that not many wise men after the fleshe, not many mightie, not many noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the worlde to confounde the wise, and ledge their owne follie and weakenesse. f According as the world termeth wise men.

1 ANd I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with * excellencie of words, or of wisdom, shewing vnto you the * testimonie of God.

2 For I esteemed not to know any thing a: mong you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 * And I was among you in * weakenes, & in feare, and in much trembling.

4 Neither stood my word, & my preaching in the * enticing speach of mans wisdom, but in plaine euidence of the Spirit and of power,

5 That your faith should not be in the wis-dome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And wee speake wisdom among them that are * perfect: not the wisdom of this worlde, neither of the * princes of this worlde, which come to nought.

7 But we speake the wisdom of God in a mysterie, euen the hid wisdom, which God had determined before the worlde, vnto our glorie.

8 Which none of the princes of this worlde hath knowne: for had they knowne it, they wolde not haue crucified the * Lorde of glorie.

9 But as it is written, * The things which eye hath not seen, neither eare hath heard neither * came into mans heart, are, which God hath prepared for them that loue
him.

10 But God hath reueiled them vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit h searcheth all things, yea, the deepe things of God:

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the spirit of a man, which is in him? euen so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we haue * receiued not the Spirit of the worlde, but the Spirit, which is of God, that he might knowe the things that are giuen to vs of God.

13 Which things also wee speake, not in the glorie, Ac. 7. 2. and hereby appeareth the diuinitie of Christ, & con-

CHAP. III.

1 Paul rebuketh the selfes and auisers thereof. 7 No man ought to attribute his saluation to the ministers, but to God. 10 That they beare erroneous doctrines. 11
Christ is the foundation of his Church. 18 The dignitie & office both of the ministers, and also of all the faithful.

1 AND I coulde not speake vnto you, bre-thre, as vnto spiritual men, but as vnto carnal, euen as vnto * babes in Christ.

2 I gaue you milke to drinke, & not meate:
for ye were not yet able to beare it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnal: for where as there is among you enuying, and strife, and diuisions, are ye not carnal, and walke as men?

4 For when one saith, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apollos, are ye not carnal?

5 Who is Paul then? & who is Apollos, but the ministers by whom ye beleueued, and as the Lord gaue to euery man?

6 I haue planted, Apollos watred, but God gaue the increase.

7 So then, neither is he that planteth, any thing, neither he that watreth, but God that giueth the increase.

8 And he that planteth, & he that watreth, are * one, & euery man shal receiue his wages, according to his labour.

9 For we together are Gods labourers: ye are Gods husbandrie, and Gods building.

10 According to the grace of God giuen to me, as a skilful master builder, I haue laid the foundation, & another buildeth thereon: but let euery man take heede how he buildeth vpon it.

11 For other foundation can no man lay, then that which is laid, which is Iesus Christ.

12 And if any man build on this foundation, gold, siluer, precious stones, tymbre, haye,
or stubble,

13 Euery mans worke shalbe made manifest: for the * day shal declare it, because it shalbe reueiled by the * fire: & the fire shal trie euery mans worke of what sort it is.

14 If any mans worke, that hee hath builde vpon, abide, he shal receiue wages.

it: but he shalbe safe him selfe: neuerthe-

- 16 * Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?
- 17 If any man destroy the Temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the Temple of God is holy, which ye are.
- 18 Let no man deceiue him selfe. If any man among you seeme to be wise in this worlde, let him be a foole, that he may be wise.
- 19 For the wisdom of this worlde is foolishnes with God: for it is writtē, * He catcheth the wise * in their owne craftines.
- 20 * And againe, the Lorde knoweth that the thoughts of the wise be vaine.
- 21 Therefore let no man reioyce in men: for all things are yours.
- 22 Whether it be Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the worlde, or life, or death: whether they be things present, or things to come, even all are yours.
- 23 And ye Christs, and Christ Gods.

CHAP. III.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 2 Seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 He appealeth to Gods iudgement, 5 Beating downe their glorie which hindered them to prayse that, which they dispraised in him. 16 He sheweth what he requirith on their part, and what they ought to looke for of him at his returne.

- 1 Let a man so thinke of vs, as of the * ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secretes of God.
- 2 And as for the rest, it is required of the disposers, that euery man be found faithfull.
- 3 * As touching me, I passe verie litle to be iudged of you, or of mans iudgement: no, I iudge not mine owne selfe.
- 4 For I know nothing by my self, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lord.
- 5 Therefore * iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who will lighten things that are hid in darkenes, and make the counsels of the hearts manifest: and then shall euerie man haue prayse of God.
- 6 Now these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mine owne selfe and Apollos, for your sakes, that ye might learne * by vs, that no man presume aboue that which is written, that one swel not against another for any mans cause.
- 7 For who separateth thee? & what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou haddest not receiued it?
- 8 Now ye are full: now ye are made riche: ye reigne as Kings without vs, and would to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.
- 9 For I thinke that God hath set forth vs the last Apostles, as men appointed to death: for we are made a gasing stock vnto the worlde, and to the Angels, and to men.
- 10 We are * fooles for Christs sake, and yet are wise in Christ: we are weake, and yet strong: ye are honourable, and wee are despised.

- 11 Vnto this houre wee both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffered, and haue no certaine dwelling place,
- 12 * And labour, working with our owne handes: we are reuiled, and yet we bleste: we are persecuted, and suffer it.
- 13 * We are euill spoken of, and we praye: we are made as the filth of the worlde, the ofskowing of all things, vnto this time.
- 14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued children I admonishe you.
- 15 For though ye haue ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet haue ye not manie fathers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotte you through the Gospel.
- 16 Wherefore, I praye you, be ye followers of me.
- 17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timothy, which is my beloued sonne, and faithfull in the Lorde, which shall put you in remembrance of my wayes in Christ as I teache euerie where in euerie Church.
- 18 Some are puffed vp as though I would not come to you.
- 19 But I will come to you shortly, * if the Lord will, and will knowe, not the speache of them which are puffed vp, but the power.
- 20 For the * kingdome of God is not in word, but in power.
- 21 What will ye? shal I come vnto you with a rodde, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenes?

CHAP. V.

1 He reproveth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3 VViling them to excommunicate him, 7 To embrace puritie, 9 And flee wickednes.

- 1 It is heard certainly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not once named among the * Gentiles, * that one should haue his fathers wife.
- 2 And ye are puffed vp and haue not rather sorowed, that hee which hath done this deede, might be put from among you.
- 3 * For I verely as absent in body, but present in spirit, haue determined already as though I were present, that hee that hath thus done this thing,

8 Therefore let vs keepe the feast, not with olde leauen, neither in the leaue of malicioulnes and wickednes: but with the vnleauened bread of synceritie and trueth.
9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, * that ye should not companie together with fornicarours,
10 And not altogether with the fornicarours of this world, or with the couetous, or with extortioners, or with idolaters: for then ye must go out of the world.
11 But now I haue written vnto you, that ye companie not together: if any that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such one eate not.

CHAP. VI.

3 Knowe ye not that wee shal iudge the Angels? howe much more things that pertaine to this life?
4 If then yee haue iudgements of things pertaining to this life, set vp them which are least esteemed in the Church.
5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no not one, that can iudge betweene his brethren?
6 But a brother goeth to Lawe with a brother, and that vnder the infidels.
7 Nowe therefore there is vterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another: * why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather susteine ye not harme?
8 * Naye, ye your selues do wrong, and do harme, and that to your brethren.
9 Knowe ye not that the vnrighteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceived: * neither fornicarours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantons, nor bouggerers,

10 Nor thieues, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shal inherite the kingdome of God.
11 And such were * some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the Name of the Lowe Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God.
12 * All things are lawfull vnto me: but all things are not profitable. I may doe all things, but I wil not be brought vnder the power of any thing.
13 Meats are ordeined for the bellie, and the bellie for the meats: but God shal destroye both it, and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the bodie.
14 And God hath also raised vp the Lord, & shall raise vs vp by his power.
15 Knowe ye not, that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.
16 Do ye not know, that he which coupleth him selfe with an harlot, is one bodie? for two, saith he, shal be one flesh.
17 But he that is ioyned vnto the Lorde, is one spirit.
18 Flee fornication: euery sinne that a man doeth, is without the bodie: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne bodie.
19 Knowe ye not, that * your body is the temple of the holie Ghost, which is in you, whome ye haue of God? and ye are not your owne.
20 * For ye are bought for a price, that ye glorifie God in your bodie, and in your spirit: for they are Gods.
more polluteh his owne bodie, then he that committeth any other sinne. Chap. 3. 16. 3. cor. 6. 16. Chap. 7. 23. 1. pet. 1. 19.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Apostle answereth to certain questions, which the Corinthian desired to knowe. 2 As of single life. 3 Of the dutie of marriage. 4 Of discordes and dissension in marriage. 5 Of marriage betweene the church and the world. 6 Of circumcising the circumcised. 7 Of seruants. 8 Of virginities. 9 And second marriages.

1 Now concerning the things whereof I wrote vnto mee, It were good for a man not to touch a woman.
2 Neuerthelesse, to auoyde fornication, let euery man haue his wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.
3 Let the husband giue vnto the wyfe due beneuolence, and likewise also the wife vnto the husband.
4 The wife hath not the power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne bodie, but the wife.
5 Defraude not one another, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may giue your selues to fasting and prayer; and againe come together that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

Or, expedient because marriage, through mans corruptio, and naty by gods institution bringeth cares and troubles.
b Speaking to al men in general.
c Which concerneth al duties pertaining to marriage.

6 But I speake this by permission, <sup>d</sup> not by commandement.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I my selfe am: but euery man hath his proper gifte of God, one after this maner, and another after that.

8 Therefore I say vnto the vnmarried, and vnto the widowes, it is good for them if they abide euen as I do.

9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marrie: for it is better to marrie the to burne.

10 And vnto the married I command, not I, but the Lorde, Let not the wife departe from her husband.

11 But and if she depart, let her remain vnmarried, or be recõciled vnto her husband, & let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant I speake, and not the Lorde, If any brother haue a wife, that beleueeth not, if she be content to dwell with him, let him not forsake her.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that beleueeth not, if hee be content to dwell with her, let her not forsake him.

14 For the vnbeleueing husband is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleueing wife is sanctified by the husband, els were your childre vncleane: but now are they holy.

15 But if the vnbeleueing departe, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiectio in such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lorde hath called euery one, so let him walke: and so ordeine I, in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not gather his vncircumcision: is any called vncircumcised? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, & vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.

20 Let euery man abide in the same vocation wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a seruant? care not for it: but if yet thou maist be free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lorde being a seruant, is the Lords freema: likewise also he that is called being free, is Christs seruant.

23 Ye are bought with a price: be not the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgines, I haue no cõmandement of the Lord: but I giue mine aduise, as one that hath obtained mercie of the Lorde to be faithful. I suppose then this to be good for the present necessity: I meane that it is good for a man so to be.

Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed: art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: and if a virgine marrie, shee sinneth not: neuertheles, such shall haue trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, hereafter that both they which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

And they that weepe, as though they wept not: & they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buye, as though they possessed not:

And they that vse this world, as though they vsed it not: for the facion of this world goeth away.

And I would haue you without care. The vnmarried careth for the things of the Lorde, how he may please the Lorde.

But he that is married, careth for the things of the world, how he may please his wife.

There is difference also between a virgine & a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things of the Lorde, that she may be holy, both in body & in spirit: but she that is married, careth for things of this world, how she may please her husband.

And this I speake for your owne commoditie, not to tangle you in a snare, but that ye follow that, which is honest, & that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lorde without separation.

But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgine, if shee passe the flower of her age, and neede so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

Neuertheles he that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no neede, but hath power ouer his owne wil, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keepe his virgine, he doeth well.

So then he that giueth her to marriage, doeth well, but he that giueth her not to marriage, doeth better.

The wife is bound by the Lawe, as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband be dead, she is at libertie to marrie with whom she will, onely in the Lorde.

But she is more blessed, if she so abide, in my iudgement: and I thinke that I haue also the Spirit of God.

Here bueth them that vse their libertie to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices, & And sheweth howe men ought to behaue them toward such as be weak.

And as touching things sacrificed vnto idoles, we knowe that we all haue knowledge: knowledge puffeth vp, but loue ward things.

Or, beleued. To be single. In these afflictions and persecutions.

As worldly cares of their children and familie.

He doeth not preferre singleness as a thing more holie then marriage, but by reason of incommodities, which the one hath more then the other.

In wishing if you could liue without wiues.

Or, it remaineth that.

Which be in adulterie.

Which be in prosperitie.

In this world there is nothing but mere vanity.

Which only appertene to this present life.

And he is denied, meaning in to diuers cares.

He may attaine vnto it sooner then y other, because she is with out cares.

Seeing S. Paul could binde no mans conscience to single life.

What presumption is it if any other should do it?

That is, if she should marrie to auoide fornication.

Meaning, he is fully persuaded that he hath no neede.

For the fathers will dependeth on his childrens in this point: in so much as he is bound to haue respect to their infirmities, neither can he iustly require of them singleness, if they haue not y gift of God to foliue.

And more commodious for his children in preferring them from cares.

loue edifieth.

2 Now, if any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.3 But if any man loue God, the same is known of him.4 Concerning therefore meate sacrificed vnto idoles, we know that an idole is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.5 For though there be y are called gods, whether in heaven, or in earth, (as there be many gods, and many lords)6 Yet vnto vs there is but one God, which is the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him: and one Lord Iesus Christe, by whom are all things, and we by him.7 But euery man hath not knowledge: for some haue the conscience of the idole, vntil this houre, eat as a thing sacrificed vnto the idole, and so their conscience being weake, is defiled.8 But meate maketh not vs acceptable to God: for neither if we eate, haue we the more: neither if we eate not, haue we the lesse.9 But take heede lest by any meanes this power of yours be an occasion of falling to them that are weake.10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weake, be boldened to eat those things which are sacrificed to idoles?11 And through thy knowledge shall the weake brother perish, for whom Christ died.12 Nowe when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wound their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christ.13 Wherefore if meat offend my brother,
I wil eat no flesh while the world standeth that I may not offend my brother.

CHAP. IX.

He exhorteth them by his example to use their libertie to the edification of others. 24 To runne on forth in the course that they haue begun.1 AM I not an Apostle? am I not free?
haue I not seene Iesus Christe our Lord? are ye not my worke in the Lord?2 If I bee not an Apostle vnto other, yet doutles I am vnto you: for ye are the seale of mine Apostleship in the Lord.3 My defense to them that examine me, is this,4 Haue we not power to eate, & to drinke?
Or haue we not power to leade about a wife being a sister, as well as the rest of the Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?5 Or I onely and Barnabas, haue not we power not to worke?6 Who goeth a warrefare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruite thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

7 Say I these things according to man?

saith not the Law the same also?

9 For it is written in the Lawe of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne: doeth God take care for oxen?10 Either saith he it not altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt it is written, that he which careth, should care in hope:
and that he that thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.11 If wee haue sown vnto you spirituall things, is it a great thing if we reape your carnall things?12 If others with you be partakers of this power, are not we rather? neuertheles, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer all things, that wee shoulde not hinder the Gospel of Christ.13 Do ye not knowe, that they which minister about the holy thinges, eate of the things of the Temple? & they which wayte at the altar, are partakers with the altar?14 So also hath the Lord ordeined, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.15 But I haue vsed none of these things: neither wrote I these things, that it should be so done vnto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my reioicing vaine.16 For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to reioyce of: for necessitie is layd vpon me, and wo is vnto me, if I preache not the Gospel.17 For if I do it willingly, I haue a reward:
but if I do it against my wil, I must be the dispensation is committed vnto me.18 What is my rewarde then? verely that when I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ free, that I abuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.19 For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my self seruant vnto al men, that I might winne the mo.20 And vnto the Iewes I become as a Iew, that I may winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the Lawe, as though I were vnder the Law, that I may winne them that are vnder the Law.21 To them that are without law, as though I were without Law (when I am not without Lawe as pertaining to God, but am in the Lawe through Christ) that I may win them that are without Law.22 To the weake I become as weake, that I may winne the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.23 And this I do for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.24 Know ye not, that they which runne in a race, runne all, yet one receiue the price? so runne, that ye may obtaine.25 And euery man that proueth masteries, absteineth from all thinges: and they do to obtaine a corruptible crowne: but we for an vncorruptible.

26 I therefore so runne, not as vncertainly:

CHAP. X.

He sheweth them with the examples of the Lewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14 Exhorting them to flee all idolatrie, 23 And essence of their neighbour.

1 Moreouer, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, that al our fathers, were vnder the cloude, and al passed through the sea,
 2 And were all baptized vnto Moses, in the cloude, and in the sea,
 3 And did all eate the same spirituall meat,

4 And did all drinke the same spirituall drinke (for they dranke of the spirituall Rocke that followed them; and the Rocke was Christ)

5 But with manie of them God was not pleased: for they were ouertrowen in the wilderness.

6 Now these are ensamples to vs, to the intent that wee shoulde not lust after euill things* as they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters as were some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe to eat & drinke, & rose vp to play.

8 Neyther let vs committe fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fel in one day three & twety thousand.

9 Neither let vs tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted him, and were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmure ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 Now al these things came vnto them for ensamples, and were written to admonish vs, vpon whome the endes of the world are come.

12 Wherefore, let him that thinketh hee standeth, take heede lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you, but such as appertaineth to man: and God is faithfull, which will not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you be able, but will euen giue the issue with the tentatio, that ye may be able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my beloued, flee from idolatrie.

15 I speake as vnto them which haue vnderstanding: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessing which we = blesse, is it not the communion of the bloud of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the communion of the bodie of Christ?

How God will plague vs, if we be subiect to the like vices, k Or, many dayes of Christs coming. I He that led you into this temptation, which cometh vnto you either in prosperitie or aduersitie, or for your sinnes past, will turne it to your comoditie, & deliuer you. Or, thanksgiving. In Or, prepare to this holy vie with praise & thanksgiving.
 The effectual badge of our consociation & incorporation w Christ?

For we y are manie; are one bread & one bodie, because we all are partakers of one bread.

18 Beholde Israel which is after the fleshe: are not they which eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19 What saye I then? that the idole is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idoles, is any thing?

20 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils; and not vnto God: and I woulde not that ye should haue fellowship with the deuils.

21 Ye cannot drinke the cup of the Lorde, and the cup of the deuils. Ye can not be partakers of the Lordes table and of the table of deuils.

22 Do wee prouoke the Lorde to anger: are we stronger then he?

23 All things are lawfull for mee, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawfull for me, but all things edifie not.

24 Let no man seeke his owne, but euerie man anothers wealth.

25 Whatsoeuer is folde in the shambles, eate ye, and aske no question for conscience sake.

26 For the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is.

27 If any of them which beleue not, call you to a feast, and if ye wil go, whatsoeuer is set before you, eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is sacrificed vnto idoles, eate it not, because of him that shewed it, and for the conscience (for the earth is the Lordes, and all that therein is)

29 And the conscience I say, not thine, but of that other: for why should my libertie bee condemned of an other mans conscience?

30 For if I through Gods benefite be partaker, why am I euill spoken of, for that wherefore I giue thanks?

31 Whether therefore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye do, do all to the glorie of God.

32 Giue none offence, neither to the Lewes, nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church of God:

33 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profite, but the profite of many, that they might be saued.

CHAP. XI.

He rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their Church, 4 As touching prayer, prophesying, 18 And ministering the Lords supper, 23 Bringing them againe to the first institution thereof.

1 Be ye the followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.

2 Now, brethren, I commend you, that ye remember all my things, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.

3 But I will that ye know, that Christ is the head of euery man: and the man is the womans head: and God is Christs head.

4 Euery man praying or prophesying whole Church may be said to pray or preach. Or, preaching.

If we that are many in number, are but one body in effect, ioyned with our head Christ, as many comes make but one loafe, let vs renounce idolatry which doeth separate our vnitie.

Which is gouerned according to the cremonies of the lawe.

d The image of Gods glorie, in whome his maiestie and power shine concerning his authoritie.

e Or receiue her glorie, in commendation of man & therefore is subiect.

f Some thing to couer her head in signe of subiection.

g To whome they also shewe their dissolutiō, and not onely to Christ.

h Who is author and maintainer of their mutuall coniunction.

i For as God made the womā of man, so now is man multiplied by y woman.

k As women vse to weare.

l For God hath giuen to woman longer heare the vnto man, to the end the shoulde truste in vnto her head, where by she declareth that she must couer her head.

m Northall were so, but the most part.

n Gods Church is not onely subiect to diffension as touching orders and maners, but also to heresies as touching doctrine.

o Who ought only to beare authoritie in the Church.

p Signifying the manner of his death when his bodie should, as it were, be torne and broken with most grieuous torments (albeit not as y thighees of the thieues were) the which thing the breaking of the breade, as a figure, doth most liuely represent.

hauing any thing on his head, dishonoureth his head.

3 But euerie woman that prayeth or prophesyeth bareheaded, dishonoureth her head: for it is euen one verie thing, as though she were shauen.

6 Therefore if the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: and if it be shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her be couered.

7 For a man ought not to couer his head: forasmuch as he is the image and glorie of God: but the woman is the glorie of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

* For the man was not created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake.

10 Therefore ought the woman to haue power on her head, because of the Angels.

11 Neuertheles, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman: but all things are of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncouered?

14 Doeth not nature it selfe teach you, that if a man haue long haire, it is a shame vnto him?

15 But if a woman haue long haire, it is a praise vnto her: for her haire is giuen her for a couering.

16 But if any man lust to be contentious, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.

¶ Now in this that I declare, I praise you not, that ye come together, not with profite, but with hurt.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there are diffensions among you: & I beleeeue it to be true in some part.

19 For there must be heresies euen among you, that they which are approued among you, might be known.

20 When ye come together therefore in one place, this is not to eat the Lords supper.

21 For euery man when they should eate, taketh his owne supper afore, and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 Haue ye not houses to eat and to drinke in? despise ye the Church of God, & shame them that haue not? what shal I say to you? shal I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I haue receiued of the Lord that which I also haue deliuered vnto you, so wis: That the Lord Iesus in the night that he was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 * And when he had giuen thanks, hee brake it, and sayde, Take, eate: this is my bodie, which is broken for you: this do ye in remembrance of me.

crits, as was done against Ananias, Elymas, &c. i Meaning the decaratiō of Gods mysteries. & To try both the doctrine & the persons.

25 After the same manner also he tooke the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New testamēt in my blood: this do as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye shall eate this bread, and drinke this cup, ye shew the Lordes death till he come.

27 Wherefore, whosoever shall eate this bread, and drinke the cup of the Lord vnworthily, shalbe gilty of the bodie & blood of the Lord.

28 * Let a man therefore examine him selfe, and so let him eate of this bread, & drinke of this cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh his owne damnation, because hee discerneth not the Lords bodie.

30 For this cause many are weake, and sicke among you, and many sleepe.

31 For if wee would iudge our selues, wee should not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chastened of the Lord, because we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eate, tarie one for another.

34 And if any man be hungry, let him eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. Other things will I set in order when I come.

CHAP. XII.

The diuersitie of the giftes of the holy Ghost ought to be vsed to the edifying of Christs Church. 12 As the members of mans bodie serue to the vsf one of another.

1 Now concerning spirituall giftes, brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye knowe that ye were Gentiles, & were caried away vnto the domme idoles, as ye were led.

3 Wherefore, I declare vnto you, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Iesus execrable: also no man can not haue your say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Now there are diuersities of giftes, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are diuersities of administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but God is the same, which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is giuen to euery man, to profit withall.

8 For to one is giue by the Spirit the word of wisdom: and to another the word of knowledge, by the same Spirit:

9 And to another is giuen sayth, by the same Spirit: and to another the giftes of healing, by the same Spirit:

10 And to another the operations of great workes: and to another, prophetic: and to another, the discerning of spirits: and to another, diuersities of tongues: and to another, the interpretation of tongues.

But as though these holy mysteries of the Lords bodie and blood were common meates, so without reverence he cometh vnto them.

Or, die. Let them looke to them selues which either adde or take away from the Lords institution.

The Corinthians ans hauing notable giftes seemed to haue forgotten, of whom, and they had receiued them.

b Which coule be which could be your say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

c By Satans suggestion.

d As no man that hath the spirit of God, can blasphemize Christ, & worship idoles.

e To wit, the Church, which is y whole body.

f That is, the vnderstanding of scriptures.

g To do onely miracles by.

h To worke by miracles against Satan and hypocrites.

i Meaning the decaratiō of Gods mysteries. & To try both the doctrine & the persons.

11 And

- 11 * And al these things worketh euen the self same Spirit, distributing to euery man severally as he will.
- 12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, which is one, though they be manye, yet are but one body: euen so is Christ.
- 13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one bodie, whether we be lewes or Grecians, whether we be bond, or free, and haue bene all made to drinke into one Spirit.
- 14 For the body also is not one member, but many.
- 15 If the foote would say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the bodye, is it therefore not of the body?
- 16 And if the eare would say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the bodie, is it therefore not of the body?
- 17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?
- 18 But now hath God disposed the members euery one of them in the body at his owne pleasure.
- 19 For if they were all one member, where were the body?
- 20 But now are there many members, yet but one body.
- 21 And the eye can not say vnto the hand, I haue no neede of thee: nor the head againe to the feete, I haue no need of you.
- 22 Yea, much rather those members of the body, which seeme to be "more feeble, are necessary.
- 23 And vpon those members of the body, which we thinke most vn honest, put wee more honestie on: & our vncomely partes haue more comelines on.
- 24 For our comely partes neede it not: but God hath tempered the body together, & hath giuen the more honour to that part which lacked,
- 25 Left there should be any diuision in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.
- 26 Therefore if one member suffer, all suffer with it: if one member be had in honour, all the members reioyce with it.
- 27 Now ye are the body of Christ, & members "for your part.
- 28 * And God hath ordained some in the Church: as first, Apostles, secondlye Prophets, thirdly teachers, then them that do miracles: after that, the giftes of healing, helpers, gouernours, diuersitie of tongues.
- 29 Are all Apostles? are all Prophets? are all teachers?
- 30 Are all doers of miracles? haue all the giftes of healing? do all speake with tongues? doe all interpret?
- 31 But desire you the best giftes, and I will yet shewe you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Because loue is the fountaine & rule of edifying the Church, he setteth forth the nature, office and praise thereof.

- 1 Though I speake with the tongues of men and Angels, and haue not loue, I am as sounding brasse, or a tinkeling cymball.
- 2 And though I had the gift of prophecie, and knewe all secrets and all knowledge, yea, if I had all fayth, so that I could remoue mountains and had not loue, I were nothing.
- 3 And though I feede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my bodye, that I be burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth me nothing.
- 4 Loue suffreth long: it is bountifull: loue enuieth not: loue doeth not boast it selfe: it is not puffed vp:
- 5 It disdaineth not: it seeketh not her own things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thinketh not euill:
- 6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:
- 7 It suffreth all things: it beleeueth all things: it hopeth all things: it endureth all things:
- 8 Loue doeth neuer fall away, though that prophesying be abolished, or the tongues cease, or knowledge vanish away.
- 9 For we know in part, and we prophesie in part.
- 10 But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is in parte, shall be abolished.
- 11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I vnderstoode as a childe, I thought as a childe: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.
- 12 For now we see through a glasse darkely: but then shall we see face to face. Nowe I know in parte: but then shall I know euen as I am known.
- 13 And now abideth faith, hope & loue, & these three: but the chiefest of these is loue.

when we shall be before Gods presence, where we shall neither neede scholes nor teachers. f That is, imperfectly. g Or, teach. h The mysteries of God. Or, taught of God. i Because it serueth both here & in the life to come: but faith and hope appertaine only to this life.

CHAP. XIII.

He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues, & other spiritual giftes, s But chiefly prophesying. 34 He commendeth women to keepe silence in the Church, 40 And sheweth what good order ought to be obserued in the Church.

- 1 Followe after loue, and couet spiritual giftes, & rather that ye may prophesie.
- 2 For he that speaketh a strange tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man heareth him: howbeit in the spirit he speaketh secret things.
- 3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and to exhortation, and to comfort.
- 4 He that speaketh strange language, edifieth him selfe: but he that prophesieth, edifieth the Church.
- 5 I would that ye all spake strange languages, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth, then he that speaketh diuers tongues, except he expound a If the Angels had tongues, & I had the vnderstanding, and did not bestowe them to profit my neighbour, it were nothing but vaine babbling.

b Faith is here taken for gift of doing miracles, which the wicked may haue, as Mat. 7. 22. and also for that faith (called historical) which beleeueth them mightie power of Christ, but can not apprehend Gods mercie through him: and this deuils haue, I am a. 19: and therefore is separated from charitie, but the faith that iustifieth in effect can not, as 1. Ioh. 2. 9. Mat. 17. 20. Luke. 17. 6.
c Not that it suffreth it selfe to be abused, but iudgeth others by al loue and humanitie.
d Which may be without offence of Gods word.

found it, that the Church may receiue c-

6 And nowe, brethren, if I come vnto you speaking diuers tongues, what shall I pro-fite you, except I speake to you, either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 Moreouer things without life which giue a sound, whether it be a pipe or an harpe, except they make a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 And also if the trumpet giue an vncertaine sound, who shall prepare him selfe to batle?

9 So likewise you, by the tongue, except ye utter words that haue signification, howe shall it bee vnderstand what is spoken? for ye shall speake in the aire.

10 There are so many kinds of voyces (as it cometh to passe) in the world, & none of them is domme.

11 Except I knowe then the power of the voyce, I shall be vnto him that speaketh, a barbarian, and he that speaketh, shall be a barbarian vnto me.

12 Euen so, for as much as ye couet spiritual giues, seeke that ye may excell vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh a strange tongue, pray, that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in a strange tongue, my spirit prayeth: but mine vnderstanding is without fruit.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, but I will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will sing with the spirit, but I will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 Els, when thou blestest with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the vnlearned, say Amen, at thy giuing of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verely giuest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye al.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake few wordes with mine vnderstanding, that I might also instruct others, then ten thousand words in a strange tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnder-standing, but as concerning malicioufnes be children, but in vnderstanding be of a ripe age.

21 In the Law it is written, * By men of other tongues, and by other languages will I speake vnto this people: yet so shall they not heare me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore strange tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleue, but to them that beleue not: but prophesying serueth not for them that beleue not, but for them which beleue.

23 If therefore, when the whole Church is come together in one, & al speake, strange tongues, there come in they that are vn-learned, or they which beleue not, will they not say, that ye are out of your wittes?

24 But if al prophesie, and there come in one that beleue not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of al.

25 And so are the secrets of his heart made manifest, and so he will fall downe on his face & worship God, and say plainly that God is in you in deede.

26 What is to be done then, brethren? when ye come together, according as euery one of you hath a psalme, or hath doctrine, or hath a tongue, or hath reuelation, or hath interpretation, let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake a strange tongue, let it be by two, or at the most, by three, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there bee no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, which speaketh languages, and let him speake to him selfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake two, or three, & let the other iudge.

30 And if any thing be reueiled to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one,
ye all may learne, and al may haue comfort.

32 All the spirits of the Prophetes are subiect to the Prophetes.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as we see in all the Churches of the Saintes.

34 * Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but they ought to be subiect, as also the Law saith.

35 And if they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbandes at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 * Came the worde of God out from you?
either came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke him selfe to be a Prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge, that the things, that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.

38 * And if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, brethren, couet to prophe-sie, and forbid not to speake languages.

40 Let all things be done honestly and by order.

45 As it is also written, The first man * Adā was made a liuing foule : and the last Adam was made a quickening Spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first made which is

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE CO- RINTHIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

As nothing can be written either so perfectly, or with so great affection and zeale, which is now con-profitable to many, & resisted by some: so the first epistle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, besides the puritie and perfection of the doctrine, sheweth a love toward them far passing all naturall affections: which did not only not profuse al, but hardened the hearts of many to remaine in their stub-borne, and contemne the Apostles auctoritie. By reason whereof S. Paul, being les with iust occasions to come vnto them, wrote this epistle from Macedonia, minding to accomplish the same which he had begonne among them. First therefore he wisheth them well in the Lord, declaring that some certain wicked person abused his afflictions to condemne thereby his auctoritie, yet they were not to be despised, & sent to him by God for their bettering. And where as they blame his long absence, as if he were inconstancie, but to beare with their inabilitie & imperfection, lest contrary to his purpose, he should have bene compelled to use rigour & seueritie. And as touching his short writing, he saith former epistle, it came through their fault, as is now euident both in that, that he putteth downe the superfluous things, seing he doth repent: & also in that he was vnquiet in his minde all because of the fault of their epistle. But forasmuch as the falsapostles went about to undermine his auctoritie, he confutes the arrogant bragges, & commendeth his office, & the diligence & zeale of the same: so that Satan might have greatly blinded their eyes: which see not the brightness of the Gospell in his preaching: the effect whereof is newnes of life, forsaking of our selues, cleaung to God, fleeing from idolatrie, embracing the true doctrine, & that sorrow which engendreth true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercy & compassion towards our brethren: also wisdom, to put difference betwixt the simplicitie of the Gospell, & the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the truest things, only to fill their bellies, where as be contrariwise sought them, & not their goods, as those ambitious persons standered him: wherefore as he commending the menaceth such arrebel against his auctoritie, that he will declare by liuely example, that he is the faithfull ambassadour of Iesvs Christ.

CHAP. I.

He declareth the great profit that cometh to the faith-full by their afflictions. 15. 17. And because they should not impute religion, that he deferred his coming, contrary to his promise, he prometh his constancie, both by the finesse of his preaching, & also by the inuincible truth of the Gospell. at Which tract is grounded on Christ, and sealed in our hearts by the holy Ghost.

PAUL AN A-POSTLE OF IESVS CHRIST;
by the will of God; &
our brother Timotheus, to the church of God, w hich is at Corinthus with all the Saintes, which are in al<sup>a</sup> Achaia:

Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesvs Christ.

Blessed be God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesvs Christ the Father of mercies, and the God of al comfort,

Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort the which are in any affliction by the comfort wherewith wee your selues are comforted
of God.

For as the<sup>a</sup> sufferings of Christ abound in vs, so our consolation aboundeth through Christ.

And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation; and <sup>a</sup>saluation, which is wrought in the induring of the same sufferings, which wee also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation.

And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as much as we know that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

For brethren, we would not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, howe wee were pressed out of measure passing strength, so that we altogether doubted, euen of life.

Yea, we receiued sentence of death in our selues, because wee should not trust in our selues, but in God, which raise the dead.

Who deliuered vs fro so<sup>a</sup> great a death,
and doeth deliue us: in whome we trust, that yet hereafter he will deliue us.

So that yee labour together in prayer for vs, that for the gifte bestowed vpon vs, for many, thanks may be giuen by many persons for vs.

For our reioycing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godly purenes, and not in fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God wee haue had our conuersation in the worlde, and most of all to you wardes.

For wee write none other things vnto you, then that yee read, or els that ye acknowledge, and I trust yee shall acknowledge vnto the ende.

Euen as ye haue acknowledged, vs partially, that we are your<sup>a</sup> reioycing, euen as ye are ours, in the<sup>a</sup> day of our Lord Iesvs.

And in this confidence I minded first to come vnto you, that ye might haue had a double grace,

Hereby he sheweth his owne inimitie that it might ap-peare how wonderfully Gods graces wrought in him.

p Which is rashly to promes & not to performe.

q Now to affirme one thing, and then to denie it, which is a signe of inconsistency.

r He taketh god to witness that he preacheth y<sup>e</sup> truth.

s He preached nothing vnto them but only Iesus Christ, who is the most constant & infalible truth of y<sup>e</sup> Father.

t They are made & performed & we are partakers only by him, who is our Amen, in that he hath fulfilled them for vs. Eph. 4. 30. u In that I say I came not because I would spare you, I mean not that I haue authoritie to alter true religion, or to bind your consciences: but that I am Gods minister to confirme & comfort you. x And faith is not in subiection to man.

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth toward Iudea of you.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnes? or minde I those things which I minde, according to the fleshe, that with me should be, yea, yea, & Nay, nay?

18 Yea, God is faithful, that our worde toward you, was not Yea, and Nay.

19 For the Sonne of God Iesus Christ who was preached among you by vs, that is, by me, & Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay, but in him it was Yea.

20 For all the promises, of God in him are Yea, and are in him Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And it is God which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs.

22 Who hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Now, I call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we haue dominion ouer your faith, but we are helpers of your ioye: for by faith ye stand.

9 For this cause also did I write, that I might know the prooffe of you, whether ye would be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgie any thing, I forgie also: for verely if I forgave anye thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it in the sight of Christ, 11 Left Saran should circumuent vs: for we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but tooke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14 Now thanks be vnto God which alwaies maketh vs to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the saueur of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 For we are vnto God the sweet saueur of Christ, in them that are saued, and in the which perish.

16 To the one we are the saueur of death, vnto death, & to the other the saueur of life, vnto life, who is sufficient for these things?

17 For we are not as many, which make marchandise of the worde of God: but as of synceritie, but as of God in the sight of God speake we in Christ.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth his loue towards the, 7 Requiring likewise that they would be fauourable to the incontinent adulterer, seeing he did repent. 14 He also reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine, 17 Confessing thereby such quarels pickers, as vnder pretence of speaking against his person, sought nothing but to ouerthrow of his doctrine.

1 Bvt I determined this in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauines.

2 For if I make you fory, who is hee then that should make me glad, but the same which is made fory by me?

3 And I wrote y<sup>e</sup> same thing vnto you, left when I came, I should take heauines of them, of whom I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you al, that my ioye is the ioye of you al.

4 For in great affliction, and anguise of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye should be made forye, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

5 And if any hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me fory, but partely (least I should more charge him) you al.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that now contrarywise ye ought rather to forgie him, and comforte him least the same should be swallowed vp with ouermuch heauines.

8 Wherefore, I praye you, that you woulde confirme your loue towards him.

CHAP. III.

He taketh for example the faith of the Corinthians for a probation of the truth which he preached. 6 And to exalt his Apostleship against the bragges of the false apostles, 7-13 He maketh comparison betwixt the Lawe and the Gospell.

1 Doe wee begin to praise our selues againe? or neede we as some other, epistles of recommendation vnto you, or letters of recommendation from you?

2 Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, which is vnderstand and read of al men,

3 In that ye are manifest, to be the epistle of Christ, ministred by vs, & written, not with inke, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

4 And such trust haue we through Christe to God:

5 Not that wee are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiency is of God.

6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the newe testament, not of the letter, but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giueth life.

11 For if that which should be abolished, was glorious, much more shall that which remaineth be glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such trust, we vse <sup>1</sup>great boldenes of speach.

13 * And we are not as Moses, which <sup>m</sup>put a vaile vpon his face, that the children of Israel should not looke vnto the ende of that which should be abolished.

14 Therefore their mindes are hardened: for vntill this day remaineth the same couering vntaken away in the reading of the Olde Testament, which vaile in Christ is put away.

15 But euen vnto this daye, when Moses is read, the vaile is layde ouer their hearts.

16 Neuertheles when their hears shalbe turned to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away.

17 Now the <sup>2</sup>Lord is the * Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie.

18 But we al behold as in a mirrour the glorie of the Lorde with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glory to glorie, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

o In Christ, who is God manifested in the flesh, we see God the Father as in a most cleare glasse.

CHAP. III.

1 He declareth his diligence and roundnes in his office. 2 And that which his enemies took for his disadvantage, to wit, the crosse and afflictions which he endured, he turneth to his great advantage. 11. 17 Shewing what profite cometh thereby.

1 Therefore, seeing that we haue this ministerie, as we haue receiued mercie, we faint not:

2 But haue cast <sup>m</sup>from vs the <sup>b</sup>clokes of shame, and * walke not in craftines, neither handle we the worde of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the trueth we approue our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to the <sup>2</sup>that are lost.

4 In whome the <sup>c</sup>god of this worlde hath blinded the mindes, that is, of the infidels, that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the <sup>d</sup>image of God, should not shine vnto them.

5 For we preach not our *selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

6 For God that *commanded the light to shine out of darkenes, is he which hath shined in our hearts, to giue the <sup>2</sup>light of <sup>e</sup>Which are the knowledge of the glorie of God in the face of Iesus Christ.

7 But wee haue this <sup>2</sup>treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of that power might be of God, and not of vs.

8 We are afflicted on euery side, yet are we not in distresse: in pouertie, but not ouercome of pouertie.

9 We are persecuted, but not forsaken: cast downe, but we perish not.

10 Euery where we beare about in our bodie the <sup>1</sup>dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life of Iesus might also be made manifest in our bodies.

11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might bee made manifest in our mortall flesh.

12 So then <sup>2</sup>death worketh in vs, and life in you.

13 And because we haue the same <sup>1</sup>Spirit of faith, according as it is written, * I beleuee, and therefore haue I spoken, we also beleuee, and therefore speake,

14 Knowing that he which hath raised vp the Lord Iesus, shal raise vs vp also by Iesus, and shall set vs with you.

15 For al things are for your sakes, that most plenteous grace by the thankesgiuing of *many, may redounde to the prayse of God.

16 Therefore we faint not, but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed daily.

17 For our <sup>1</sup>light affliction which is but for a moment, causeth vnto vs a farre most excellent and an eternal weight of glorie:

18 While we looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporall: but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

CHAP. V.

1 Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that cometh by the crosse. 4 Howe we ought to prepare our selues vnto it. 5 By whom, 9 And for what end. 14. 19 He setteth forth the grace of Christ, 20 And the office of ministers, and all the faithfull.

1 For we know that if *our earthly house of this tabernacle be destroyed, we haue a building giuen of God, that is, an house not made with handes, but eternal in the heauens.

2 For therefore we sigh, desiring to be clothed with our house, which is from heauē.

3 * Because that if we be clothed, we shall not be found * naked.

i All the faithful and chiefly the ministers must drinke of this cup, because the worlde hateth Christ: and also that the members shoulde be conformable to Christ their head, yet by the mightie power of Christ, who ouercame death, they are made conquerours.

CHAP. VII.

1 He exhorteth them by the promises of God to keepe them selues pure, 9. 7 Assuring them of his loue, 8. 13 And doeth not excuse his seueritie toward them, but reioyceth thereat, considering what profite came thereby. 10 Of two sortes of sorowe.

1 Seeing then wee haue these promises, dearely beloued, let vs cleanse our selues from all filthines of the flesh and spirit, and grow vp vnto fulholines in the feare of God.

2 Receiue vs: we haue done wrong to no man: we haue consumed no man: we haue defrauded no man.

3 I speake it not to your condemnation: for I haue said before, y ye are in our hearts, to die and liue together.

4 I vse great boldnes of speach toward you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, & am exceeding ioyous in al our tribulation.

5 For whē we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but wee were troubled on euery side, fightings without, & terrors within.

6 But God, that comforteth the abiect, comforted vs at the coming of Titus:

7 And not by his coming onely, but also by the consolation wherewith he was comforted of you, when he told vs your great desire, your mourning, your seruent mind to meward, so that I reioyced much more.

8 For though I made you sorie with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce, not that ye were sorie, but that ye sorowed to repentance: for ye sorowed godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorowe causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the worldly sorowe causeth death.

11 For behold, this thing that ye haue bene godlie sorie, what great care it hath wrought in you: yea, what clearing of your selues: yea, what indignation: yea, what feare: yea, howe great desire: yea, what a zeale: yea, what punishment: in all things ye haue shewed your selues, that ye are pure in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I did not it for his cause that had done the wrong, neither for his cause that had the injury, but that our care toward you in the sight of God might appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore wee were comforted, because ye were comforted: but rather we reioyced much more for the ioye of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not bene ashamed: but as I haue spoken vnto you all things in trueth, euen so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And this inward affection is more abundant toward you, when he remembereth the obedience of you all, and howe with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

16 I reioyce therefore that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 And Christ, he exhorteth the to continue in relieuing the poore Saignts, commending their good beginning. 13 After he commendeth Titus and his fellowes vnto them.

WE do you also to wit, brethren, of the grace of God bestowed vpon the Churches of Macedonia,

2 Because in great trial of affliction their ioy abounded, and their most extreme pouertie abounded vnto their riche liberallitie.

3 For to their power (I beare record) yea, & beyond their power, they were willing, And prayed vs with great instance that we would receiue the grace, & felowship of the ministring which is toward the Saints.

4 And this they did, not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues, first to the Lorde, and after vnto vs by the will of God,

5 That we should exhort Titus, that as he had begonne, so he would also accomplish the same grace among you also.

6 Therefore, as ye abound in euerie thing, in faith and word, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towards vs, euen so see that ye abound in this grace also.

7 This say I not by commandment, but because of the diligence of others: therefore proue I the naturalnes of your loue.

8 For ye knowe the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that he being riche, for your lakes became poore, that ye through his pouertie might be made rich.

9 And I shewe my minde herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begonne not to do onely, but also to will, a yeere agoe.

10 Nowe therefore performe to doe it also, that as there was a readines to will, euen so ye may performe it of that which ye haue.

11 For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, & not according to that he hath not.

12 Neither is it that other me should be eased and you grieved,

13 But vpon like condition, at this time your abundance supplieth their lacke, that also their abundance may be for your lacke, that there may be equalitie.

14 As it is written, He that gathered much, had nothing ouer, & he that gathered litle, had not the lesse.

15 And thanks be vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you.

16 Because he accepted the exhortation, yea, he was so carefull, that of his owne accorde he went vnto you.

17 And we haue sent also with him the brother, whose praise is in y Gospel throughout all the Churches,

18 (And not so onely, but is also chosen of Ooooo ij. the a This benefite of God appeared in two things:

first, that the Macedonians being in so great afflictions were so prompt to helpe others: and next that being in great pouertie, were very liberall to wardes others.

b So that a most abundant riuier of riches flowed out of their pouertie.

c So he calleth their liberalitie, eyther because they were the bestowers of Gods graces, or because they receiued them of God freely, & so they desired Paul to see to the distribution thereof.

3 The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them. 6 He exhorteth to giue almes cheerefully, 7 Shewing what fruit will come thereof.

1 For as touching the ministring to the Saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

2 For I know your readines of mind, whereof I boast my self of you vnto them of Macedonia, and say, that Achaia was prepared a yere ago, and your zeale hath prouoked manie.

3 Nowe haue I sent the brethren, lest our reioycing ouer you should be in vaine in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue saide) be readie:

4 Lest if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, we (I neede not to say, you) should be ashamed in this my constant boasting.

5 Wherefore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your beneuolence appointed afore, that it might be ready, and come as of beneuolence, and not as of sparing.

6 This yet remember, that he which soweth sparingly, shall reape also sparingly, and he that soweth liberally, shall reape also liberally.

7 As euery man wisheth in his heart, so let him giue, not grudgingly, or of necessity: <sup>a</sup> for God loueth a cherefull giuer.

8 And God is able to make all grace to abounde toward you, that ye alwayes haue <sup>a</sup> all iudiciencie in all things, may abound in euery <sup>b</sup> good worke.

9 * As it is written, He hath sparfed abroad and hath giuen to the poore: his beneuolence remaineth for euer.

10 Also he that findeth seede to the sower, will minister likewise bread for foode, and multiplie your seede, & increafe the fruits of your beneuolence,

11 That on all partes ye may be made rich vnto all liberalitie, which causeth through vs thanksgiuing vnto God.

12 For the ministring of this seruice not only supplieth the necessities of the Saints, but also is abundant by the thanksgiuing of many vnto God,

13 (Which by the experiment of this ministring prayse God for your voluntarie submission to the Gospell of Christe, and for your liberall distribution to them, and to all men)

14 And by <sup>d</sup> their prayer for you, "desiring after you greatly, for the abundant grace of God in you.

15 Thanks therefore be vnto God for his vnspokeable gitt.

CHAP. X.

He toucheth the false Apostles and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience, 11 And sheweth what his power is, 12 And how he useth it.

1 Nowe I Paul my selfe beseeche you by the meekenes, and gentlenes of Christ, which when I am present among you, <sup>a</sup> am <sup>b</sup> bafe, but am bolde toward you being absent:

2 And this I require you, that I need not to be bold when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to be bold against some, which esteeme vs as though we walked <sup>b</sup> according to the flesh.

3 Neuertheles, though wee walke in the flesh, yet we do not warre after the flesh,

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mightie through God, to cast downe holdes)

5 Casting downe the imaginations, and euerie high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captiuitie euery thought to the obedience of Christ,

6 And hauing readie the vengeaunce against all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke ye on things after the apperance? If any man trust in him selfe that he is Christe, let him consider this again of him selfe, that as he is Christes, euen so are we Christes.

8 For though I shoulde boaste somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lorde hath giuen vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I shoulde haue no shame.

9 This I say that I may not seeme as it were to feare you with letters.

10 For the letters, <sup>a</sup> saith hee, are fore and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech is of no value.

11 Let such one thinke this, that such as we are in word by letters whē we are absent, such will we be also in deede, when we are present.

12 For we dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selues to the, which praise them selues: but they vnderstand not that they <sup>d</sup> measure them selues with them selues, & compare them selues with them selues.

1 Besidesthem by their liberalitie God shall be praised, they also shall be commended to God by their prayers who they haue holpen, yea, and all men shall reuerence them, as being endued with an excellent gift of God.

Or greatly assisting and toward you.

a These wordes his backbiters vied, thinking thereby to diminish his authoritie, as verho.

b As though we boasted of our selues by a carnall affection

c Meaning, a certaine manner among them, which thus spake of Paul.

d He that measureth any thing must haue some line or measure to mete by, and not to measure anything by it selfe: so these boasters must measure themselves by their worthe actes: and if they will compare with others, let them shew what countreite, what cities, & people they haue woon to the Lord: for who will praise that souldier, which only at the table can fully talke of the warres, & when he commeth to the brunt, is neither valiant nor 13 But we will not reioyce of thinges, which are not within our measure, * but according to the * measure of the line, whereof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

14 For we stretch not our selues beyond our measure, as though wee had not attained vnto you: for euen to you also haue wee come in preaching the Gospel of Christ.

15 Not boasting of thinges which are within our measure: that is, of other mens labours: and we hope, when your faith shall increase, to be magnified by you according to our line abundantly,

16 And to preach the Gospel in those regions which are beyond you: not to reioyce in another mans line, that is, in the thinges that are prepared already.

17 * But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in the Lord.

18 For he that prayeth him selfe, is not allowed, but he whom the Lord praiseth.

CHAP. XI.

He declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie. 9 And his diligence in the same. 13 The perches of the false Apostles. 16 The peruerse judgement of the Corinthians. 22 And his owne praife.

1 Would to God, ye could suffer a little my * foolishnes, and in deede, ye suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you, with godlie ielousie: for I haue prepared you for one husband, to present you as a pure virgine to Christ:

3 But I feare lest as the * serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, so your mindes should be corrupt from the simple truth that is in Christ.

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth another * Iesus then him whom we haue preached: or if ye receiue another * spirit then that which ye haue receiued: either another Gospel, then that ye haue receiued, ye might well haue suffered him.

5 Verely I suppose that I was not inferior to the verie chiefe Apostles.

6 And though I be * rude in speaking, yet I am not so in knowledge, but among you we haue bene made manifest to the utmost, in all thinges.

7 Haue I committed an offence, because I abased my selfe, that ye might be exalted, and because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I * robbed other Churches, and tooke wages of them to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had need, I was * not slothfull to the hindrance of any man: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia, supplied, & in all thinges I kept and will keepe my selfe, that I should not * be grieuous to you.

10 * The truth of Christ is in me, that this for his liuing, but in his extreme pouertie preached diligently, without burdening any man, or els waxing slothfull to doe his dutie touerie man. Chap. 12. 13. 14. 20. 24. k Let not the truth of Christ be thought to be in me, if I suffer my ioy to be shut vp, which I haue obtained of Grecia.

reioycing shall not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that will I do: that I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion, that they might be founde like vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce.

13 For such false * Apostles are deceitfull workers, and transforme them selues into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no maruile: for Satan him selfe is transformed into an Angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing, though his ministers transforme them selues, as though they were the ministers of righteousness, whose ende shalbe according to their workes.

16 I say againe, let no man thinke, that I am foolish: nor els take me euen as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a litle.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the * Lord: but as it were foolishly, in this my great boasting.

18 Seeing that many reioyce * after the flesh, I will reioyce also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, because that ye are wise.

20 For ye suffer euen if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure you, if a man take your goods, if a man exalt him selfe, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speake as concerning the reproche: as though that wee had bene * weake: but wherein any man is bold (I speake foolishly) I am bolde also.

22 They are Ebrewes, * so am I: they are Israelites, so am I: they are the seede of Abraham, so am I:

23 They are the Ministers of Christe (I speake as a foole) I am more: in labours more abundant: in stripes aboute measure: in prison more plenteously: in death oft.

24 Of the Iewes fise * times receiued I fouertie stripes: * saue one.

25 I was thrise * beaten with rodde: I was * once stoned: I suffered thrise * shipwracke: night and day haue I bene in the deepe sea.

26 In journeying I was often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine own natio, in perils among the Gentiles, in perils in the citie, in perils in wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren, 27 In wearines and painefulnes, in watching often, in hunger & thirst, in fastings often, in colde and in nakednes.

28 Beside the thinges which are outward, I am combed daily, and haue the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weake, and I am not weake? who is offended, and I burne not?

30 If I must needs reioyce, I wil reioyce of mine * infirmities.

CHAP. XII.

He reioyce in his perseruance. 32 But chiefly in his humblenes, 33 And layeth the cause of his boasting vpon the Corinthians. 34 He sheweth what good will he beareth them; 35 And proueth to come vnto them.

I am not expedient for me no doubt to reioyce: for I will come to visions & revelations of the Lord.

I knowe a man in Christ aboute foure yeres ago, (whether he were in the bodie, I can not tell, or out of the bodie, I can not tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the third heauen.

And I know such a man whether in the bodie, or out of the bodie, I can not tell: God knoweth.

How that he was taken vp into Paradise, and heard wordes which can not be spoken, which are not possible for man to utter.

Of such a man will I reioyce: of my selfe will I not reioyce, except it be of mine infirmities.

For though I would reioyce, I should not be a foole: for I will say the truth, but I refraine, lest any man should thinke of me aboute that he seeth in me, or that he heareth of me.

And lest I should be exalted out of measure through the abundance of revelations, there was giuen vnto me a pricke in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

For this thing I besought the Lord thise, that it might depart from me.

And he sayde vnto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made perfect through weakness. Very gladly therefore will I reioyce rather in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may dwell in me.

Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguish for Christs sake: for when I am weake, then am I strong.

I was a foole to boast my selfe: ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue bene commended of you: for in nothing was I inferior vnto the verie chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.

The signes of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience, with signes, and wonders, and great workes.

For what is it, wherein ye were inferiours vnto other Churches, except that I haue not bene slothfull to your hinderance? forgiue me this wrong.

Beholde, the third time I am ready to come vnto you.

come vnto you, and yet will I not be slothfull to your hinderance: for I seeke not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay vp for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

And I will most gladly bestowe, and will be bestowed for your soules: though the more I loue you, the lesse I am loued.

But be it that I charged you not: yet forasmuch as I was crafty, I tooke you with guile.

Did I pill you by any of them whome I sent vnto you?

I haue desired Titus, & with him I haue sent a brother: did Titus pill you of any thing? walked we not in the selfe same spirit? walked we not in the same steppes?

Againe, thinke ye that wee excuse our selues vnto you? we speake before God in Christ. But we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

For I fear lest when I come, I shall not finde you such as I would: and that I shall be found vnto you such as ye would not, and lest there be strife, enuying, wrath, contentions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings and discorde.

I fear lest when I come againe, my God shall abase me among you, and I shall be wayle many of them which haue sinned already, and haue not repented of the vncleannes, and fornication, & wantonnes, which they heare, as when I haue committed.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APO-

STLE PAUL to the Galatians.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Galatians after they had bene instructed by S. Paul in the truth of the Gospel, gave place to false apostles, who entering in, in his absence corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, & taught that the ceremonies of the Law must be necessarily obserued, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he proueth that the graining thereof is the ouerthrow of mans saluation purchased by Christ: for thereby the light of the Gospel is obscured: the conscience burdened: the reformation confounded: mans iustice established. And because the false teachers did pretend, as though they had bene sent of the chief Apostles, & that Paul had no authoritie, but spake of him selfe, he proueth both that he is an Apostle ordained by God, & also that he is not inferior to the rest of the Apostles: which thing established, he proceedeth to his purpose, prouing that we are freely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which notwithstanding in their time had their use and commoditie: but now they are not only unprofitable figurers, but also pernicious, because Christ the truth & the end thereof is come: wherefore men ought now to embrace that libertie, which Christ hath purchased by his blood, and not to haue their consciences shamed in the gennes of mans traditions: finally he sheweth wherein this libertie standeth, and what exercises appertaine thereunto.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul rebuketh their inconstancie which suffered themselves to be seduced by the false Apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the Law were necessary to saluation. 8 And desireth them that preach any otherwise then Christ purely. 13 He sheweth his appt. conuersion, magnifieth his office & Apostleship, and declareth him selfe to be equal with the chief Apostles.

1 Paul an Apostle (not of man, neither by man, but by Iesus Christ, & God the Father which hath raised him from the dead)

And al the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be with you, & peace from God the Father, & from our Lord Iesus Christ,

4 Which gaue him selfe for our sinnes, that he might deliuer vs from this present euill worlde according to the will of God euen our Father,

5 To whome be glory for ever and euer, Amen.

6 I amurcile that yee are so soone remoued away vnto another Gospel, from him that had called you in the grace of Christ,

7 Which is not another Gospel, saue that there be some which trouble you, and intende to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though that we, or an Angell from heauen preach vnto you otherwise, then that which wee haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I nowe againe, If any man preach vnto you otherwise then y ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For now I preach I mans doctrine, or Gods? or go I about to please men? for if I should yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

11 Now I certifie you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me, was not after man.

12 For neither receited I it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Iewish religion, how that I persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it,

14 And profited in the Iewish religion aboue many of my companions of mine owne nation, and was much more zealous of the traditions of my Fathers.

15 But when it pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, & called me by his grace)

16 To reuile his Sonne in me, that I should preache him among the Gentiles, immediately I communicated not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither came I againe to Ierusalem to them which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, and turned againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeres I came againe to Ierusalem to visite Peter, and abode with him fiftene dayes.

19 And none other of the Apostles sawe I, saue Iames the Lords brother.

preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, * In thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the <sup>4</sup>workes of the Law, are vnder the curse: for it is written, * Cursed is euery man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Law, to do them.

11 And that no man is iustified by the Lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: * for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the <sup>5</sup>law is not of faith: but * the mā that shal do those things, shal liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the Law, when he was made a curse for vs (for it is written, * Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Iesus, that we might receiue the <sup>6</sup>promises of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, <sup>7</sup>I speake as men do, * Though it be but a mans couenant when it is confirmed, yet no man doth abrogate it, or <sup>8</sup>addeth any thing thereto.

16 Nowe to Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He saith not, And to the seedes, as <sup>9</sup>speaking of many: but, And to thy seede, as of one, which <sup>10</sup>is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Lawe which was foure hundredth and thirty yeres after, can not disanull the couenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, <sup>11</sup>it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the Lawe, <sup>12</sup>it is no more by the promise, but God gaue it vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then <sup>13</sup>serueth the Law? It was added because of the <sup>14</sup>transgressions, till the seede came vnto the which the promise was made: and it was ordeined by <sup>15</sup>Angels in the hand of a Mediatour.

20 Now a Mediatour is not a Mediatour of <sup>16</sup>one: but God is <sup>17</sup>one.

21 <sup>18</sup>In the Law then against the promise of God: God forbid: for if there had bene a Lawe giuen which could haue giuen life, surely righteousnes should haue bene by the Law.

22 But the Scripture hath <sup>19</sup>concluded <sup>20</sup>all vnder sinne, that the promises by the faith of Iesus Christ shoulde bee giuen to them that beleue.

23 But before <sup>21</sup>faith came, we were kept vnder the Lawe, and shut vp vnto the faith, which should afterward be reuelled.

24 Wherefore the <sup>22</sup>*Law was our scholemaster to bring vs to Christ, that we might be made righteous by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, wee are no longer vnder <sup>23</sup>a scholemaster.

26 For ye are al the sonnes of God by faith, in Christ Iesus.

27 * For al ye that are baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ.

28 There is neither lew nor Grecian: there is neither bond nor free: there is neither male nor female: for ye are all <sup>24</sup>one in Christ Iesus.

29 And if ye be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heires by promise.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 He sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordeined. 2 VVhich being shadowes must end when Christ the truth cometh. 3 He moueth them by certaine exhortations, 4 And confirmeth his argument with a strong example or allegorie.

1 Then I say, that the <sup>25</sup>heire as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lord of al.

2 But is vnder <sup>26</sup>tutors & gouernours, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so, wee when wee were children, were in bondage vnder the <sup>27</sup>rudiments of the world.

4 But when the fulnes of time was come, God sent forth his Sonne made of a woman, and made <sup>28</sup>vnder the Law,

5 That he might redeeme them which were vnder the Law, that we might receiue the adoption of the sonnes.

6 And because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the <sup>29</sup>Spirit of his Sonne into your hearts, which cryeth, <sup>30</sup>Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore, thou art no more <sup>31</sup>a seruant, but a sonne: now if thou be a sonne, show as also the heire of God through Christ.

8 But euen then, when ye <sup>32</sup>knew not God, ye did seruiue vnto the, which by <sup>33</sup>nature are not gods.

9 But now seeing ye know God, yea, rather are known of God, how turne <sup>34</sup>ye againe vnto impotent and beggerly rudimentes, whereunto as from the beginning ye will be in bondage againe?

10 Yee obserue <sup>35</sup>dayes, and monethes, and times, and yeres.

11 I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Be ye as <sup>36</sup>I: for I am euē as you: brethren, I beseech you: ye haue not hurt <sup>37</sup>me at al.

13 And ye knowe, how through <sup>38</sup>infirmities of the flesh I preached the Gospell vnto you at the first.

14 <sup>39</sup>And the triall of me which was in my flesh, ye despised not, neither abhorred: but ye receiued me as an <sup>40</sup>Angel of God, yea, as Christ Iesus.

15 What was then your felicitie? for I beare your record, that if it had bene possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

backward from him. 1 Ye obserue dayes, as Sabbathes, new moones, &c: ye obserue monethes, as the first and seuenth moneth: ye obserue times, as Easter, Witsonide, feast of Tabernacles: ye obserue yeres, as the lubile, or yere of forgiveness, which beggerly ceremonies are most pernicious to the which haue receiued the sweet libertie of the Gospell, & thrust them back into superstitious slavery. m So friend-ful to me, as I am affectioned toward you. n For I pardon you, if you repent. o Being in great dangers and afflictions, or without pompe & ostentation. p That is, the troubles and vexations which God sent to trie me while I was among you. q For my ministeries sake.

20 And I would I were with you now, that I might change my voyce: for I am in doute of you.

21 Tell mee, ye that wilbe vnder the Lawe, do ye not heare the Law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes,* one by a seruant, and * one by a free woman.

23 But he which was of the seruant, was borne after the flesh: and he which was of the free woman, was borne by promises.

24 By the which thinges an other thing is ment: for these mothers are the two Testaments, the one which is * Agar of mount Sina, which gendred vnto bondage;

25 (For Agar or Sina is a mountaine in Arabia, and it answereth to Ierusalem which now is) and shee is in bondage with her children.

26 But Ierusalem, which is above, is free: which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written,* Reioyce thou barren that bearest no children: breake forth, and crie, thou that trauailest not: for the desolate hath many moe children, then shee which hath an husband.

28 * Therefore, brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, children of the promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the spirit, euen so it is now.

30 But what faith the Scripture? * Put out the seruant and her sonne: for the sonne of the seruant shal not be heire with the sonne of the free woman.

9 * A litle leauen doth leauen the whole lump.

10 I haue trust in you through the Lorde, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you, shal beare his condemnation, whosoever he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? This is the slander of the crosse abolished.

12 Woulde to God they were euen cut off, which do disquiet you.

13 For brethren, yee haue bene called vnto libertie: onely vs not your libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For al the Law is fulfilled in one word, which is this,* Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

15 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heed lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say,* walke in the Spirit, and ye shal not fulfil the lusts of the flesh.

17 For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not do the same things that ye would.

18 And if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not vnder the Law.

19 Moreouer the workes of the flesh are manifest, which are adulterie, fornication, vncleannes, wantonnes,

20 Idolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, debate, emulations, wrath, contentions, seditions, heresies,

21 Enuie, murders, drunkennes, gluttonie, and such like, whereof I tell you before, as I also haue tolde you before, that they which do such things, shal not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But the fruites of the Spirit is loue, ioye, peace, long suffering, gentlenes, goodnes, faith, 23 Meekenes, temperance: against such there is no Law.

24 For they that are Christs,* haue crucified the flesh with the affections and the lusts.

25 If we liue in the Spirit, let vs also walke in the Spirit.

26 Let vs not be desirous of vaine glorye, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

7 Be not deceiued: God is not mocked: for 14 But God forbid that I should reioyce, but in the crosse of our Lord Iesus Christ, whereby the world is crucified vnto mee,

and vnto the world.

15 For in Christ Iesus neither circumcision auaileth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE EPHESIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

While Paul was prisoner at Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians false teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which he had taught them, by reason whereof he wrote this Epistle to confirme them in that thing, which they had learned of him. And first after his salutation, he assur-eth them of saluation, because they were therinto predestinate by the free election of God, before they were born, and sealed up to this eternall life by the holy Ghost, giuen vnto them by the Gospell, the knowledge of the which mystrie he prayeth God to confirme toward them. And to the intent they should not glory in them selues, he sheweth the their extreme misery, wherein they were plunged before they knew Christ, as people without God, Gentiles to who the promises were not made, & yet by the free mercy of God in Christ Iesus, they were saved, & he appointed to be their Apostle, as of al other Gen-tils: therefore he desireth God to lighte the Ephesians hearts with the persis understanding of his Sone, & exhorteth the likewise to be mindful of so great benefis, neither to be moued with the false apostles, which seke to ouerthrow their faith, & tread vnder foote the Gospell, which was not preached to them, as by chance or fortune, but according to the eternal counsell of God: who by this meaner preseruethe only his Church. Therefore the Apostle commendeth his ministry, forasmuch as God thereby re:gneth among men, & causeth it to bring forth most plentiful fruit, as innocencie, holines, with al such offi-ces appertaining to godlines. Last of al, he declareth not onely in general what ought to be the life of the Christians, but also sheweth particularly, what things concerne euery mans vocation.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation, 4 He sheweth that the chief cause of their saluation shaldesth in the free election of god through Christ. 16 He declarth his good wiltoward them, giuing thanks and praying God for their faith. 21 The main sis of Christ.

Christ our peace.

The Gentiles.

f That is, in Christ.

g By this he meaneth the whole body of the Church, which he deuoth into them, which are in heauen, and them which are in earth: also the faithful which remaine in earth stand of the Iewes and the Gentiles.

h To wit, the Iewes.

i Though we be redeemed fro the bondage of sinne by death of Christ, Rom. 6. 2. yet wee hope for this second redemption which shall be when we shall possesse our inheritance in the heauens, where of we haue the holy Ghost for a gage, as Chap. 4. 30.

k Of Christ.

Col. 3. 12. chap. 3. 7. I made him Gouernour of all things both in heauen and in earth: so that Christes bodie is now onely there, on selfe it should not be a true bodie, and his ascension should be but a fantastical thing and onely imagined.

Pal. 1. 6. m This is the great loue of Christ toward his Church, that he counteth not him selfe perfect without vs which are his members: and therefore this Church is called Church, as 1 Cor. 12. 13.

his blood, even the forgiveness of sinnes, according to his rich grace:

8 Whereby he hath bene abundant toward vs in all wisdom and vnderstanding,

9 And hath opened vnto vs the myserie of his will according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed in him,

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnes of the tymes he might gather together in one al things, both which are in heauen and which are in earth, even in Christ:

11 In whome also we are chosen when wee were predestinate according to the purpose of him, which worketh al things after the counsell of his owne will,

12 That we, which first trusted in Christ, should be vnto the praise of his glorie:

13 In whom also ye have trusted after that ye heard the word of truth, even the Gospel of your saluation, wherein also after that ye beleueed, ye were sealed with the holy Spirit of promise,

14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, 'vntill the redemption of the possession purchased vnto the praise of his glory.

15 Therefore also, after that I heard of the faith, which ye haue in the Lord Iesus, & loue toward al the Saintes,

16 I cease not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lord Iesus Christ the Father of glory, might giue vnto you the Spirit of wisdom, and reuelation thorough the knowledge of his will,

18 That the eyes of your vnderstanding may be lightened, that ye may know what the hope is of his calling, and what the riches of his glorious inheritance is in the Saintes,

19 And what is the exceeding greatnes of his power toward vs, which beleue, according to the working of his mightie power,

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when hee raised him from the dead, and set him at his right hand in the heauenly places,

21 Farre above all principallitie, and power, and might, & domination, & euery name that is named, not in this world onely, but also in that that is to come,

22 And hath made al things subiect vnder his feete, and hath appointed him ouer al things to be the head of the Church,

23 Which is his bodye, even the fullnes of him that filleth all in all things.

CHAP. II.

5 To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the only cause of saluation. 12 He sheweth them what manner of people they were before their conversion, 18 And what they are now in Christ.

1 AND you haue he quickened, that were dead in trespasses and sinnes,

2 Wherein, in time past ye walked, according to the course of this world, and after the prince that ruleth in the aire, even the spirit, that now worketh in the children of disobedience,

3 Among whom we also had our conuersation in time past, in the lusts of our flesh, in fulfilling the will of the flesh, and of the minde, and were by nature the children of wrath, as well as others.

4 But God which is rich in mercy, through his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Even when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs together in Christ, by whose grace ye are laued,

6 And hath raised vs vp together, & made vs sit together in the heauenly places in Christ Iesus,

7 That he might shew in the ages to come the exceeding riches of his grace, through his kindnes toward vs in Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace are ye laued through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God,

9 Not of workes, lest any man should boast him selfe.

10 For wee are his workmanship created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordained, that we should walke in them.

11 Wherefore I remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, and called vncircumcision of them, which are called circumcision in the flesh, made with hands,

12 That yee were, I say, at that time without Christ, and were aliens from the common wealth of Israel, and were strangers from the covenants of promise, and had no hope, and were without God in the worlde.

13 But now in Christ Iesus, ye which once were farre off, are made nere by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stoppe of the partition wall,

15 In abrogating through his flesh the hatred, that is, the Law of commandements, which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in him selfe, so making peace,

16 And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body by his crosse, and slaye hatred thereby,

17 And came, and preached peace to you which were as farre off, and to them that were nere.

18 For through him we both haue an entrance vnto the Father by one Spirit.

19 Nowe therefore ye are no more straungers and forreners: but citizens with the Saintes, and of the household of God,

20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Iesus Christ him selfe being the chiefe corner stone,

21 In whom all the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lorde, 22 In whome yee also are built together to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 Desirith them not to faint because of his trouble, 14 And prayeth God to make them steadfast in his Spirit.

1 For

Not by creation, but by Adams transgression, and so by birth.

Both Iewes & Gentile.

Or, with Christ. We that are the members, are raised vp into death and reigne with our head Christ in heauen by faith.

Here he meaneth, as concerning grace, and not by nature.

He sheweth here that the further the Gentiles were of fro the grace of God, the greater debtors they are now to the same.

The Angels.

The Church being gathered of so many kind of people, is a temple, or a house for the Angels to beholde the wisdom of God.

That is, the cause of the diuision that was betweene the Iewes and the Gentiles.

For in Christ all things were accomplished, which were prefigured in the Law.

For of the Iewes and the Gentiles he made one flocke.

For death.

- 1 For this cause, I Paul am the *prisoner of Iesus Christ for you Gentiles,
- 2 If ye haue heard of the <sup>b</sup> dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to you warde,
- 3 That is, that God by reuelation hath shewed this myserie vnto me (as I wrote <sup>a</sup> aboue in fewe wordes,
- 4 Whereby when ye reade, ye may knowe mine vnderstanding in the myserie of Christ)
- 5 Which in other ages was <sup>a</sup> not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now reueiled vnto his holy Apostles and Prophetes by the Spirit,
- 6 That the Gentiles should be inheritors also, & of the same body, and partakers of his promes in Christ by the Gospell,
- 7 Whereof I am made a minister by the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto mee through the working of his power.
- 8 * Euen vnto me the least of all Saintes is this grace giuen, that I should preach among the * Gentiles the vnsearcheable riches of Christ,
- 9 And to make cleare vnto all men what the fellowship of the <sup>a</sup> myserie is, which from the beginning of the worlde hath bene hid in God, who hath created all things by Iesus Christ,
- 10 To the intent, that now vnto * principallities & powers in heauenly places might be knownen <sup>a</sup> by the Church the manifold wisdom of God,
- 11 According to the eternal purpose, which he wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord.
- 12 By whom we haue boldenes & entrance with confidence, by faith in him.
- 13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for your sakes, which is your glorie.
- 14 For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ,
- 15 (Of whom is named the whole <sup>a</sup> familie in <sup>b</sup> heauen and in earth)
- 16 That he might graunt you according to the riches of his glorie, that ye may be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,
- 17 That Christ may dwell in your heartes by faith, that ye, being rooted and grounded in loue,
- 18 May bee able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the <sup>a</sup> breadth, & length, and depth, and height:
- 19 And to knowe the loue of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled with all fulnes of God.
- 20 * Vnto him therefore that is able to do exceeding abundantly aboue all that we aske or thinke, according to the power that worketh in <sup>a</sup> vs,
- 21 Be prayse in the Church by Christe Iesus, throughout all generations for euer, Amen.

CHAP. IIII.

He exhorteth them vnto meekenes, long suffering, vnto loue and peace, 2 Emerie on to forme and edifie another with the gift that God hath giuen him. 14 To beware of strange doctrine. 22 To lay aside the olde conuersation of greedie lustes, and to walke in a new life.

- 1 * Therefore, being prisoner in the Lord, praye you that ye walke worthe of the vocation whereunto yee are called,
- 2 With all humblenes of minde, and meeknes, with long suffering, supporting one another through loue,
- 3 Endeavouring to keepe the vnite of the Spirit in the bond of peace.
- 4 There is <sup>b</sup> one bodie, and one <sup>a</sup> Spirit, euen as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.
- 5 There is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme,
- 6 * One God and Father of al, which is <sup>a</sup> aboue all, and <sup>a</sup> through al, and in you all.
- 7 * But vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the <sup>a</sup> gift of Christ.
- 8 Wherefore he saith, * When he ascended vp on hie, he <sup>a</sup> led captiuitie captiue, and gaue giftes vnto men.
- 9 (Now, in that he ascended, what is it but that he had also descended first into the lowest parts of the earth?)
- 10 He that descended, is euen the same that ascended, farre aboue all heauens, that he might fill <sup>a</sup> all things)
- 11 * He therefore gaue some to be Apostles, and some Prophets, & some Euangelists, and some Pastours, and Teachers,
- 12 For the <sup>a</sup> gathering together of the Saintes, for the worke of the ministerie, <sup>a</sup> and for the edification of the bodie of Christ,
- 13 Till we all meete together (in the vnite of faith and knowledge of the Sonne of God) vnto a <sup>a</sup> perfire man, and vnto the measure of the age of the fulnes of Christ,
- 14 That wee henceforth be no more children, wauering and caryed about with euery winde of doctrine, by the deceite of men, and with craftines, whereby they lay in waite to deceiue.
- 15 But let vs followe the truth in loue, and in all things growe vp into him, which is the <sup>a</sup> head, that is Christ,
- 16 By whome all the bodie being coupled and knit together by euery ioynt, for the furniture <sup>a</sup> thereof (according to the effectual power, which is in the measure of euery part) receiueth increafe of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.
- 17 This I saye therefore and testifie in the Lorde, that ye henceforth walke not as <sup>a</sup> other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their <sup>a</sup> minde,
- 18 Hauiing their cogitation darkened, and beeing strangers from the life of <sup>a</sup> God through the ignorace that is in them, because of the <sup>a</sup> hardenes of their heart:

Put on the new man.

To the Ephesians.

Awake from sleepe.

19 Which being<sup>1</sup> past<sup>2</sup> feeling, haue giuen them selues vnto wantonnes, to worke all vnclannes, euen with griedines.

20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.

21 If so be ye haue heard him, and haue bene taught by him, as the<sup>1</sup> truth is in Iesus,

22 That is, <sup>1</sup> that ye cast of, concerning the conuersation in time past, the<sup>2</sup> olde man, which is corrupt through the deceiuable lusts,

23 And bee renewed in the spirit of your minde,

24 <sup>1</sup> And put on the newe man, which<sup>2</sup> after God is created in righteousnes, & true holines.

25 <sup>1</sup> Wherefore cast of lying, and speake euery man truth vnto his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 <sup>1</sup> Be<sup>2</sup> angrie, but sinne not: let not the sunne go downe vpon your wrath,

28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour, and worke with his handes the thing which is good, that hee may haue to giue vnto him that needeth.

29 <sup>1</sup> Let no corrupt communication proceede out of your mouths: but that which is good, to the vse of edifying, that it may minister<sup>2</sup> grace vnto the hearers.

30 And<sup>1</sup> grieue not the holy Spirit of God, by whom ye are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

31 Let al bitternes, and anger, & wrath, crying, and euill speaking be put away from you, with all malicioulnes.

32 <sup>1</sup> Be ye courteous one to another, & tender hearted, forgieuing one another, euen as God for Christs sake forgaued you.

CHAPTER V.

<sup>1</sup> He exhorteth them vnto loue, <sup>2</sup> VVarneth them to beware of vnclannes, couetousnes, foolish talking, and false doctrine, <sup>3</sup> To be circumspect, <sup>4</sup> To auoide drunkennes, <sup>5</sup> To reioyce and to be thankfull toward God, <sup>6</sup> To submitte them selues one to another, <sup>7</sup> His exhortation of corporall marriage, and of the spiritual bytwixt Christ and his Church.

1 BE ye therefore followers of God, as dere children,

2 <sup>1</sup> And walke in loue, euen as Christ hath loued vs, and hath giuen him selfe for vs, to be an offering and a sacrifice of a sweete<sup>2</sup> smelling fauour to God.

3 <sup>1</sup> But fornication, & al vnclannes, or couetousnes, let it not bee once named among you, as it becommeth Saints,

4 Neither filchines, neither foolish talking, neither<sup>2</sup> jesting, which are thinges not comely, but rather giuing of thanks.

5 For this ye knowe, that no whoremonger, neither vnclane persone, nor couetous persone, which is<sup>1</sup> an idolater, hath any inheritaunce in the kingdome of Christ, and of God.

6 For this cause he hath left vs, as 1.King.18.27. c. Because he thinketh that his life standeth in his riches.

6 <sup>1</sup> Let no<sup>2</sup> man deceiue you with vayne wordes: for, for such thinges commeth the wrath of God vpon the children of disobedience.

7 Bee not therefore companions with them.

8 For ye were once darkenes, but are now light in the Lorde: walke as<sup>1</sup> children of light,

9 (For the fruite of the Spirit<sup>2</sup> in al goodnes, and righteousnes, and trueth)

10 Approouing that which is pleasing to the Lord.

11 And haue no fellowship with the vnfruitfull works of darkenes, but euen<sup>2</sup> reprove them rather.

12 For it is shame euen to speake of the thinges which are done of them in secret.

13 But all thinges when they are reprobued of the<sup>1</sup> light, are manifest: for it is light that maketh all thinges manifest.

14 Wherefore he saith, <sup>1</sup> Awake thou that sleepest, and stand vp from the dead, and Christ shall giue thee light.

15 Take heede therefore that ye walke circumspectly, not as fooles, but as<sup>2</sup> wise, <sup>3</sup> Redeeming the time: for the<sup>4</sup> dayes are euill.

17 <sup>1</sup> Wherefore, bee ye not vnwyse, but vnderstande what the will of the Lorde is,

18 And be not drunke with wine, wherein is excessie: but be fulfilled with the Spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your selues in psalmes, and hymnes, and spiritual songs, singing, and making melodie to the Lord in your<sup>1</sup> hearts,

20 Giuing thanks alwayes for all thinges vnto God euen the Father, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ,

21 Submitting your selues one to another in the<sup>2</sup> feare of God, 22 <sup>1</sup> Wiues, submitte your selues vnto your husbandes, as vnto the Lord.

23 <sup>1</sup> For the husband is the wiues head, euen as Christ is the head of the Church, and the same is the sauour of his<sup>2</sup> bodie.

24 Therefore as the Church is in subiection to Christ, euen so<sup>3</sup> let the wiues be to their husbandes in euery thing.

25 <sup>1</sup> Husbands, loue your wiues, euen as Christ loued the Church, and gaue him selfe for it,

26 That he might sanctifie it, and cleanse it by the<sup>2</sup> washing of water through the worde,

27 That he might make it vnto him selfe a glorious Church, not hauing<sup>3</sup> spot or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues, as their own bodies: he that loueth his wife, loueth him selfe.

29 For no mā euer yet hated his own flesh, but nourisheth & cherisheth it, eue as the Lord<sup>1</sup> doth the Church.

THE EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

Paul being warned by the holy Ghost to go to Macedonia, planted first a Church at Philippi a citie of the same countrey: but because his charge was to preache the Gospel vniuersally to all the Gentiles, he traualled from place to place, till at the length he was taken prisoner at Rome, whereof the Philippians being aduertised, sent their minister Epaphroditus with relief vnto him: who declaring him the state of the Church, caused him to write this Epistle, wherein he commendeth them that they stood manfully against the false apostles, putting them in minde of his good will toward them, and exhorteth them that his imprisonments make them not so shrink: for the Gospel thereby was confirmed and not diminished: especially he deserveth them to flee ambition, and to embrace modestie, promising to sende Timotheus vnto them, who should instructe them in matters more amply: yea, and that he himselfe would also come vnto them, adding likewise the cause of their ministers so long abode. And because there were no greater enemies to the crosse then the false apostles, he confuteth their false doctrine, by proving only Christ to be the end of all true religion, with whom we haue all thing, & without whom we haue nothing, so that his death is our life, and his resurrection our iustification. After this followe certaine admonitions both particular and generall with testification of his affection toward them, and thankfull accepting of their beneuolence.

CHAP. I.

1 S. Paul discovereth his heart toward them, 2 By his thanksgiving, 4 Prayers, 8 And wishes for their faith and saluation. 7. 12. 20 He sheweth the fruites of his crosse, 15. 27 And exhorteth thū to unitie, 28 And patience.

Paul & Timotheus & seruants of Iesus Christ, to al the Saints in Christ Iesus which are at Philippi, with the Bishops, and Deacons:

Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

* I thanke my God haueing you in perfect memory,

4 (Always in all my prayers for all you, praying with gladnes)

5 Because of the b fellowship which ye haue in the Gospel, fro the c first day vnto now.

6 And I am perswaded of this same thing that he that hath begonne this good work in you, will performe it vntill the d daye of Iesus Christ,

7 As it becometh me so to iudge of you al, because I haue you in remembrance * that both in my bands, and in my defence, and confirmation of the Gospell you all were partakers of my e grace.

For God is my recorde, how I long after you all from the verie heart roote in Iesus Christ.

And this I pray, that your loue may abound, yet more and more in knowledge, and in all iudgement,

10 That ye may discern things that differ one from another, that ye may be pure, & without offence, vntill the day of Christ, onely ye can put difference betwene good and euil: but also that ye profite more and more without slipping backe, or standing in a stay.

11 Filled with the fruites of b righteounesse, which are by Iesus Christ vnto the glorie and praise of God.

12 ¶ I would ye vnderstoode, brethren, that the things which haue come vnto me, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospell,

13 So that my bandes in l Christ are famous throughout al the *i*udgement hal, and in all other places,

14 In so much that many of the brethren in the Lorde are boldened through my bandes, and dare more frankly speake the *w*ord.

15 Some preache Christ euen through enuie and strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one part preacheeth Christ of contention and not purely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bandes:

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospell.

18 What then? yet Christ is preached al manner wayes, whether is b vnder a pretence, or sincerely: and I therein ioye: yea, and will ioye.

19 For I knowe that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and by the helpe of the Spirit of Iesus Christ.

20 As I heartily looke for, and hope, that in nothing I shalbe ashamed, but that with al confidence, as alwayes, to now Christ shal be magnified in my body, whether is b by life or by death.

21 For Christe is to me both in life, and in death advantage.

22 And whether to lie in the flesh were profitable for mee, and what to choos I knowe not.

23 For I am greatly in doubt on both sides, desiring to be looked & to be with Christ, which is best of all.

24 Neuertheles, to abide in the *f*lesh, is more needefull for you.

25 And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, be plunged in the filthie concupiscences of f flesh.

- 26 That ye may more abundantly reioyce in Iesus Christ for me, by my comming to you againe.
- 27 * Onely let your conuersation be, as it becommeth the Gospel of Christe, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may heare of your matters that ye continue in one Spirit, and in one minde fighting together through the faith of the Gospel.
- 28 And in nothing feare your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition, & to you of saluation, and that of God.
- 29 For vnto you it is giuen for Christe, that not onely ye should beleene in him, but also suffer for his sake,
- 30 Hauing the same fight, which ye sawe in me, and now heare so be in me.
- 31 Constant persequerance for Christs sake is an euident signe of saluatiō.
- 32 God sheweth by this meanes of bearing the crosse who are his, & who are not. Or, Christs cause.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth them about all things to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly maintained, 19 Promising that he and Timotheus will speedily come vnto them, 27 And exhorteth the long taryng of Epaphroditus.

- 1 If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any compassion & mercie,
- 2 Fulfill my ioye, that ye bee like minded, hauing the same loue, beeing of one accord, and of one iudgement,
- 3 That nothing be done through contentiō or vaine glorie, but that in meekenes of minde every man esteeme other better then him selfe.
- 4 Looke not euery man on his own things, but euery man also on the things of other men.
- 5 Let the same minde be in you that was euen in Christ Iesus,
- 6 Who being in the forme of God, thought it no robbery to be equall with God:
- 7 * But he made him selfe of no reputation, and tooke on him the forme of a seruant, and was made like vnto men, & was found in shape as a man.
- 8 * He humbled him selfe, and became obedient vnto the death, euen the death of the crosse.
- 9 Wherefore God hath also highly exalted him, and giuen him a Name above euery name,
- 10 * That at the Name of Iesus should euery knee bowe, both of things in heauen, & things in earth, & things vnder the earth,
- 11 * And that euery tongue should confesse that Iesus Christe is the Lorde, vnto the glorie of God the Father.

- 12 Wherefore my beloved, as ye haue alwaies obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in mine abeence, so make an ende of your owne saluation with feare and trembling.
- 13 For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and the deede, then of his good pleasure.
- 14 Doe all things without murmuring and reasonings,
- 15 That ye may be blameles, & pure, and the sonnes of God without rebuke in the middes of a naughtie & crooked nation, among whom ye shine as lightes in the world,
- 16 Holding forth the worde of life, that I may reioyce in the daye of Christ, that I haue not runne in vaine, neither haue laboured in vaine.
- 17 Yea, and though I be offered vp vpon the sacrifice, and seruiſe of your faith, I am glad, and reioyce with you all.
- 18 For the same cause also be ye glad, and reioyce with me.
- 19 And I trust in the Lorde Iesus, to sende Timotheus shortly vnto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I knowe your state.
- 20 For I haue no man like minded, who will faithfully care for your matters.
- 21 * For all seeke their owne, and not that which is Iesus Christs.
- 22 But ye know the prooue of him, that as a sonne with the father, he hath serued with me in the Gospel.
- 23 Him therefore I hope to sende asone as I knowe how it will go with me,
- 24 And trust in the Lorde, that I also my selfe shall come shortly.
- 25 But I supposed it necessary to sende my brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companion in labour, and fellowe souldier, euē your messenger, and hee that ministred vnto me such things as I wanted.
- 26 For he longed after all you, and was full of heauines, because ye had heard that he had bene sicke.
- 27 And no doubt he was sicke, very neere vnto death: but God had mercy on him, & not on him onely, but on me also; lest I should haue sorowe vpon sorowe.
- 28 I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when ye shoulde see him againe, ye might reioyce, and I might bee the lesse sorowfull.
- 29 Receiue him therefore in the Lorde with all gladnes, and make much of such:
- 30 Because that for the worke of Christ he was neere vnto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfill that seruiſe which was lacking on your part toward me.

Paul, and was in neede of necessities. r He approueth them which hazard their life to relieue the prisoners of Christ.

THE COLOSSIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Epistle S. Paul putteth difference between the lively, effectually & true Christ, & the fained, counterfeit and imagined Christ, whom the false Apostles taught. And first, he confirmeth the doctrine which Epaphras had preached, wishing them increase of faith, to esteem the excellencie of Gods benefice toward them, teaching them also that salvation, and whatsoever good thing can be desired, standeth only in Christ, whom onely we embrace by the Gospel. But forasmuch as the false brethren would have mixed the Law with the Gospel, he toucheth those flatterers vehemently, and exhorteth the Colossians to stay onely on Christ, without whom all things are but mere vanitie. And as for Circumcision, abstinence from meates, external holines, worshipping of Angels as meanes whereby to come to Christ, he utterly condemnes it, shewing what was the office and nature of ceremonies, which by Christ are abrogate: so that now the exercises of the Christians stand in mortification of the flesh, newnes of life, with other like offices appertaining both generally and particularly to all the faithful.

Christs diuinitie

- 18 And he is the head of the bodie of the Church: he is the beginning, * and the first borne of the dead, that in al things he might haue the preeminence.
- 19 * For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fulnes dwell,
- 20 And by him to reconcile all things vnto him selfe, and to set at peace through the blood of his crosse both the things in earth, and the things in heauen.
- 21 And you which were in times past strangers & enemies, because your minds were set in euill workes, hath he nowe also reconciled,
- 22 In the body of his flesh through death, to make you holy, and vnblameable, and without fault in his sight,
- 23 * If ye continue, grounded and stablished in the faith, and be not moued away from the hope of the Gospell, whereof ye haue heard, and which hath bene preached to every creature which is vnder heauen, whereof I Paul am a minister.
- 24 Now reioyce I in my sufferings for you, & fulfil the rest of the afflictions of Christ in my fleshe, for his bodies sake, which is the Church,
- 25 Whereof I am a minister, according to the dispensation of God, which is giuen me vnto youward, to fulfil the worde of God,
- 26 * Which is the mystery hid since the world began, and from all ages, but now is made manifest to his Saintes,
- 27 To whome God woulde make known what is the riches of this glorious myserie among the Gentiles, which riches is Christ in you, the hope of glorie,
- 28 Whome we preache, admonishing every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Iesus:
- 29 Whereunto I also labour and stricke, according to his working which worketh in me mightily.

CHAP. II.

- 1 Having protested his good wil toward them, 4 He admonisheth them not to turne backe from Christ, 8 To the seruice of Angels or any other invention, or ceremonies of the Law, 12 VVhich haue finished their office, and are ended in Christ.
- 1 * Or, paine and care
- 2 Me present in bodie.
- 3 For I would ye knew what great fighting I haue for your sakes, and for the of Laodicea, and for as many as haue not scene my person in the flesh,
- 4 That their hearts might be comforted and they knit together in loue, and in all riches of the ful assurance of vnderstanding, to know the myserie of God, euen the Father, and of Christ:
- 5 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.
- 6 And this I saye, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words:
- 7 * For though I be absent in the fleshe, yet am I with you in the spirit reioycing, and beholding your order, and your steadfast faith in Christ.

- 6 As ye haue therfore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord, so walke in him,
- 7 Rooted and built in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye haue bene taught, abounding therein with thankes giuing.
- 8 Beware lest there be any mā that spoile you through philosophic, and vaine deceit, through the traditions of men, according to the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.
- 9 * For in him dwelleth all the fulnes of the Godhead bodily.
- 10 And ye are compleate in him, which is the head of all Principalitie and Power:
- 11 In whome also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without handes, by putting of the sinfull bodye of the fleshe, through the circumcision of Christ,
- 12 In that ye are buried with him through baptisme, in whome yee are also raised vp together through the faith of the operation of God which raised him from the dead.
- 13 * And ye which were dead in sinnes, and in the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickned together with him, forgiving you all your trespasses.
- 14 And putting out the hand writing of ordinaunces that was against vs, which was contrary to vs, he euen tooke it out of the way, and fastened it vpon the crosse,
- 15 And hath spoiled the Principalities, and Powers, & hath made a shewe of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer them in the same crosse.
- 16 Let no man therefore condemne you in meate and drinke, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moone, or of the Sabbath dayes,
- 17 Which are but a shadowe of thinges to come: but the body is in Christ.
- 18 * Let no man at his pleasure beare rule ouer you by humbles of minde, & worshipping of Angels, aduancing him selfe in those thinges which he neuer saw, rashly putt vp with his fleshly minde,
- 19 And holdeth not the head, whereof al the body furnished and knit together by ioynes and bandes, increaseth with the increasing of God.
- 20 Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the ordinances of the worlde, why, as though ye liued in this world, are ye burdened with traditions?
- 21 Touch not, Taste not, Handle not.
- 22 Which al perissh with the vying, and are after the commandements and doctrines of men:
- 23 Which thinges haue in deede a shewe of wisdom, in voluntary religion and humbles of mynde, and in not sparing the bodye: neyther haue they it in anie estimation to satisfie the flesh.

Meaning, that the hypocrites led them at their pleasure into al superstition, and error. Or, defrauding you of your prize. And apperteyne nothing to the kingdome of God. n Such men haue chosen according to their owne fantasie. Or, but they are of no value save for the filling of the flesh. o They pinche and defraude their bodie to the we them selues greater hypocrites.

CHAP. III. He sheweth where we should seek Christ. He exhorteth to mortification. To put off the old man & to put on Christ. To the which he addeth exhortations, both general and particular, to charity and humilitie.

- 1 If ye then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are above, where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God.
- 2 Set your affections on things which are above, and not on things which are on the earth.
- 3 For ye are dead, and your life is hidde with Christ in God.
- 4 When Christ which is our life, shall appeare, then shall ye also appeare with him in glorie.

5 * Mortifie therefore your members which are on the earth, fornication, uncleannes, the inordinate affection, euil concupiscence, and couetousnes which is idolatrie.

6 For the which things saies the wrath of God commeth on the children of disobedience.

7 Wherin ye also walked once, when ye liued in them.

8 * But now put ye away euē all these things, wrath, anger, maliciouſnes, cursed speaking, filthy speaking, out of your mouth.

9 Lie not one to another, seeing that yee haue put off the old man with his workes,

10 And haue put on the new, which is renewed in knowledge * after the image of him that created him,

11 Where is neither Grecian nor Iewe, circumcision nor vncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond, free: but Christ is al and in all things.

12 * Now therefore, as the elect of God * holy and beloued, put on tender mercy, kindenes, humblenes of mind, meekenes, long suffering:

13 Forbearing one another, and forgiuing one another, if any man haue a quarrel to another: euē as Christ forgauē you, euē so do ye.

14 And aboute all these things put on loue, which is the bond of perfectnes.

15 And let the peace of God rule in your heartes, to the which ye are called in one bodie, and be ye amiable.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wise dome, teaching and admonishing your own selues, in psalmes, & hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing with a * grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 * And whatsoever ye shal do, in word or deed, do al in the Name of the Lord Iesus, giuing thanks to God euē the Father by him.

18 * Wiues, submit your selues vnto your husbands, as it is comely in the Lord.

19 * Husbands, loue your wiues, and be not bitter vnto them.

20 * Children, obey your parentes in all things: for that is well pleasing vnto the Lord.

21 Fathers, * prouoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22 * Seruants, bee obedient vnto them that are your masters according to the Lord, in all things, not with eye seruice as men please, but in singleness of heart, fearing God.

23 And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not vnto men, 24 Knowing that of the Lord ye shal receiue the rewarde of the inheritance: for yee serue the Lord Christ.

25 But hee that doeth wrong, shal receiue for the wrong that he hath done, & there is no respect of persons.

CHAP. IIII.

He exhorteth them to be seruants in prayer. To walke wisely towards them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ. He saluteth them, and wisheth them all prosperitie.

YE masters, do vnto your seruants, that which is iust, and equal, knowing that ye also haue a master in heaven.

* Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thankes giuing,

* Praying also for vs, that God may open vnto vs the doore of vterance, to speake the myserie of Christ: wherefore I am al- so in bonds,

That I may utter it, as it becommeth me to speake.

* Walke wisely toward them that are without, and redeeme the time.

Let your speech be gracious alwayes, and powdered with salt, that yee may knowe how to answer euery man.

* Tychicus our beloued brother, and faithful minister, and fellow seruant in the Lorde, shall declare vnto you my whole state,

Whom I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose that he might know your state, & might comfort your heartes, * With Onesimus a faithful and a beloued brother, who is one of you. They shall shew you of all things here.

Aristarchus my prison fellowe saluteth you, and Marcus, Barnabas sisters sonne (touching whom ye receiued commaundements, If he come vnto you, receiue him)

And Iesus which is called Iustus, which are of the circumcision. These onely are my workefellowes vnto the kingdome of God, which haue bene vnto my consolation.

Epaphras the seruant of Christ, which is one of you, saluteth you, and alwayes striveth for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect, and ful in all the wil of God.

For I beare him recorde, that he hath a great zeale for you, and for them of Laodicea, and them of Hierapolis.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the Thessalonians had bene wel instructed in the faith, persecution, which perpetually followeth the preaching of the Gospell, arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet S. Paul (as most careful for them) sent Timothee to strengthen them, who some after admonishing him of their estate, gave occasion to the Apostle to confirme them by diuers arguments to be constant in faith, and to suffer whatsoeuer God calleth them vnto for the testimonie of the Gospell, exhorting the to declare by their godly liuing the puritie of their religion. And as the Church can neuer be so purged, that some cockle remaine not among the wheat, so there were among the wicked men, which by mouing vaine and curious questions to overthrow their faith, taught falsely, as touching the point of the resurrection from the dead, whereof he briefly instructeth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to seeke curiously to know the tyme, willing them rather to watch lest the sodein coming of Christ come vpon them at vnperceiued: and so after certeine exhortations, and his commendations to the brethren, he endeth.

CHAP. I.

1 He thanketh God for them, that they are so steadfast in faith and good worker, 6 And receiue the Gospell with such earnestnes, 7 That they are an example to al others.

PAUL and Siluanus, & Timotheus vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in GOD the Father, and in the Lord

Iesus Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

Philp. i. 3. b Which declarith it selfe by most liuely fruites. c Whereby you declared your selues most readie and painefull to helpe y<sup>e</sup> poore. d The effectual preaching of the Gospell is an euident token of our election. e To beleue, & to be fully persuaded to haue y<sup>e</sup> giftes of the holy Ghost, and joyfully to suffer for Christs sake, are most certeine signes of our election. f Or, patternes.

1 * We giue God thanks alwayes for you all, making * mention of you in our prayers Without ceasing, remembering your effectual faith, and diligent loue and the patience of your hope in our Lord Iesus Christe, in the sight of God euen our Father, 2 Knowing, beloved brethren, that ye are elect of God. 3 For our <sup>d</sup> Gospell was not vnto you in word onely, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as yee know after what manner wee were among you for your sakes. 4 And ye became followers of vs, & of the Lord, and receiued the word in much affliction, with ioy of the holy Ghost, 5 So that ye were as <sup>e</sup> ensamples to all that beleue in Macedonia and Achaia. 6 For from you sounded out the worde of the Lord, not in Macedonia & in Achaia onely: but your faith also which is toward God, spread abroad in all quarters, that wee neede not to speake any thing.

9 For they them selues shew of you what the maner of entering in we had vnto you, and howe yee turned to God from idoles, to serueth the liuing and true God, 10 And to looke for his sonne from heauen, whom he raised from the dead, euen Iesus which delinereth vs from the wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

1 To the intent they should not faint vnder the crosse, 2 He commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 And theirs in obeying. 18 He exhorteth his absence, that he could not come and open his heart to them.

For ye your selues know, Brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in vaine,

2 But euen after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated at <sup>a</sup> Philippi (as ye knowe) we were bolde in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospell of God with much struing.

3 For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by vncleannes, nor by guile.

4 But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospell shoulde be committed vnto vs, so we speake, not as they that please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

Neither yet did we euer vfe flattering words, as ye know, nor colored couetousnes, God is recorder.

6 Neither sought we praise of men, neither of you, nor of others,

7 When we might haue bene chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ: but wee were gentle among you, euen as a <sup>a</sup> nourse cheriseth her children.

8 Thus being affectioned toward you, our her childrens good sake.

g For idoles are dead things and onely fained fables. h Which helial execute vpon wicked.

a Not in outward shew and in pompe, but in fauour and in the treu of God. b By his helpe and grace.

c Which deathly reth a nought conscience. d He humbled him selfe to support al things out al respect of lucre: euen as tender mother which nourish her children and thinketh no office to vile for her childrens good sake.

good wil was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onely, but also our own soules, because ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, * our labour and travail: for we laboured day & night, because we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, and preached vnto you the Gospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and iustly, & vnblameably we behaued our selues among * you that beleue.

11 As ye knowe how that we exhorted you, and comforted, and besought euery one of you (as a father his children)

12 That ye * would walke worthy of God, who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glory.

13 For this cause also thanke we God without ceasing, that when ye receiued of vs the word of the preaching of God, ye receiued it not as the word of men, but as it is indeede the worde of God, which also worketh in you that beleue.

14 For Brethren, ye are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in * Christ Iesus, because ye haue also suffred the same things of your own countrymen, euen as they haue of the Iewes,

15 Who both killed the Lord Iesus & their owne Prophets, and haue persecuted vs, and God they please not, & are contrarye to all men,

16 And forbid vs to preach vnto the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to * fulfil their sinnes alwayes: for the wrath of God is * come on them, to the vtmost.

17 Forasmuch, Brethren, as we were kept from you for a season, concerning fight, but not in the heart, we * enforced the more to see your face with great desire.

18 Therefore we woulde haue come vnto you (I Paul, at least once or twise) but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope or ioy, or crowne of reioycing, are * not euen you it in the presence of our Lord Iesus Christ at his coming?

20 Yes, ye are our glory and ioy.

CHAP. III.

1 He sheweth how greatly he was afflicted toward this both in that he sent Timotheus to them, 10 And also prayed for them.

1 Wherefore since we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to remaine at Athens * alone.

2 And haue sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, & our labour fellow in the Gospel of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,

3 That no man shoulde bee moued with these afflictions: for ye, your selues know, that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verely when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulations, euen as it came to passe, and ye know it.

5 Euen for this cause, when I coulde no longer forbear, I sent him that I might know of your faith, lest the * tempter had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had bene in vaine.

6 But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and loue, and that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as we also do you,

7 Therefore, brethren, we had consolation in you, in al our affliction and necessitie through your faith.

8 For now are we * aliue, if ye * stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we recompence to God againe for you for al the ioy wherewith we reioyce for your sakes before our God,

10 Night and daye * praying exceedinglye that we might see your face, and might * accomplish that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God him selfe, euen our Father, & our Lord Iesus Christ, guide our iourney vnto you,

12 And the Lord increase you, & make you about in loue one toward another, and toward all men, euen as we do toward you:

13 * To make your hearts stable and vnblameable in holines before God euen our Father, at the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ with all his Saintes.

CHAP. III.

1 He exhorteith them to holines, 6 Innocencie, 9 Loue, 12 Labour, 13 And moderation in lamenting for the dead, 17 Describing the end of this resurrection.

1 And furthermore we beseech you, Brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Iesus, that ye increase more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke and to please God.

2 For ye know what commandements we gaue you by the Lord Iesus.

3 * For this is the wil of God euen your justification, * and that ye should abstaine from fornication,

4 That euery one of you should know how to possesse his * vessel in holines & honor,

5 And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which know not God:

6 * That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for the Lord is a uenger of al such things, as we also haue tolde you before time, and testified.

7 * For God hath not called vs vnto vncleannes, but vnto holines.

8 He therefore that despiseth * these things, despiseth not man, but God who hath euen giuen * you his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly loue, ye need not * I write vnto you: * for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Yea, and that thing verely ye do vnto al the brethren, which are throughout all Macedonia: but we beseech you, Brethren, that ye increase more and more,

11 * And that ye study to be quiet, & to meddle with your own busines, and to work w your owne hands, as we comanded you, x In this suddē taking vp there shalbe a kind of mutatio of the qualites of our bodies which shalbe as a kind of death.

12 That ye may behaue your selues honestly toward them that are without, & that nothing be lacking vnto you.

13 ¶ I would not, brethren, haue you ignorant concerning them which are a sleepe, that ye forsoe nor euen as other which haue no hope.

14 For if we beleue that Iesus is dead, and is risen, euen so them which sleepe in Ie-sus, will God bring with him.

15 For this say we vnto you by the worde of the Lord, that we which liue, and are remaining in the coming of the Lorde, shal not preuent them which sleepe.

16 For the Lord him selfe shal descend from heauen with a shoute, and with the voyce of the Archangel, & with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

17 Then shall we which liue and remaine, be caught vp with the also in the clouds, to meete the Lord in the aire: and so shall we euer be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore, comfort your selues one another with these wordes.

¶ In this suddē taking vp there shalbe a kind of mutatio
of the qualites of our bodies which shalbe as a kind of death.

CHAP. V.

¶ He exhorts them of the day of iudgement and coming of the Lord, & exhorting them to watch, & to regarde such as preach Gods word among them.

¶ Vt of the times and seasons, brethren, yee haue no neede that I write vnto you.

2 For ye your selues know perfectly, that the daye of the Lorde shall come, euen as a thiefe in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace, & safetie, then shal come vpon them sudden destruction, as the trauaile vpon a woman with childe, and they shal not escape.

4 But yee, brethren, are not in darkenes, that that day shuld come on you, as it were a thiefe.

¶ Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the daye: wee are not of the night, neither of darkenes.

¶ Therefore let vs not sleepe as do other,
but let vs watch and be sober.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be sober,

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAVL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

THE ARGVMENT.

¶ Left the Thessalonians should thinke that Paul neglected them, because he went to other places rather then came to them, he writeth vnto them & exhorteth them to patience & other fruits of faith, neither to be moued with that vaine opinion of such as taught that the coming of Christ was at hand, forasmuch as before that day there should be a falling away from true religion, euen by a great part of the world, & that Antichrist should reigne in the Temple of God: finally commending him self to their prayers, & encouraging them to confidence, he willeth them to correct such sharply, as liue idly of other mens labours, whom, if they do not obey his admonitions, he commandeth to excommunicate.

CHAP. I.

He thanketh God for their faith, love, and patience. 11 He prayeth for the increase of the same, 12 And sheweth what fire shall come thereof.

Aul & Silvanus, and Timotheus vn to y Church of the Thesalonians, which is in God our Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ:

Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

* We ought to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of euery one of you toward another aboundeth,

So that wee our selues reioyce of you in the churches of God, because of your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer,

* Which is a toke of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for the which ye also suffer.

For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulatio to them that trouble you,

And to you which are troubled, rest with vs * when the Lord Iesus shall shewe him selfe from heauen with his mightie Angels,

In flaming fire, rendring vengeance vnto them that do not knowe God, and which obey not vnto the Gospel of our Lord Iesus Christ.

Which shall be punished with euerlasting perdition, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glorie of his power,

When he shal come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be made marueilous in all them that beleuee (because our testimonie toward you was beleueed) in that day.

Wherefore, wee also praye alwayes for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling, and fulfill al the good pleasure of his goodnes, and the work of faith with power,

That the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shall not come, till the departing from the faith come first, 9 And the kingdom of Antichrist, 13 And therefore he exhorteth them not to be deceived, but to stande steadfast in the things that he hath taught them.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lorde Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,

That yee be not suddenly moued from your minde, nor troubled neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as it were from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

* Let no man deceiue you by any means; for that day shall not come, except there come a departing first, and that that man of sinne be disclosed, euen the sonne of perdition,

Which is an aduersarie, & exalteth him selfe against all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he doeth sit as God in the Temple of God, shewing him selfe that he is God.

Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these things?

And nowe ye know what withholdeth, that he might be reueiled in his time.

For the myserie of iniquitie doeth alreadie worke: onely hee which now withholdeth, shall let till he be taken out of the way.

And then shall the wicked man be reueiled, whom the Lord shall consume with the Spirit of his mouth, and shal abolishe with the brightnes of his coming,

Euen him whose coming is by the working of Satan, with all power and signes, and lying wonders,

And in all deceyueablenes of vnrighteousnes, among them that perish, because they receyued not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

And therefore God shall sende the strong delusion, that they shoulde beleue lyes,

That all they might be dāned which beleued not the truth, but had pleasure in vnrighteousnes.

But we ought to giue thanks alwaye to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because that God hath frō the beginning chosen you to saluation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and the faith of trueth, Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to obtaine the glorie of our Lord Iesus Christ.

Therefore, brethren, stand fast and keepe the instructions, which yee haue bene taught, either by worde, or by our Epistle.

Now the same Iesus Christ our Lord and our God euen the Father which hath loved vs, & hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation and good hope through grace, Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in euery word and good worke.

e Who as he destroyeth others, so shall he be destroyed himselfe.

f Because the false Apostles had perswaded after a sort the Thessalonians, that the day of the Lorde was nere, and so the redemption of the church, Paul teacheth them to looke for this horrible dissipation before: and therefore rather to prepare them selues to patience then to rest and quietnes: for as yet there was a let, that is, that the Gospel should be preached throughout all, Mar. 24. 14.

¶ The second Epistle to the Theſſalonians, written from Athens.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMOTHEVS.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN writing this Epistle Paul seemed not onely to haue respect to teache Timotheus, but chiefly to keepe other in awe, which would haue rebelled against him, because of his youth. And therefore he doeth arme him against those ambitious questioners, which vnder pretence of zeale to the Law, disguised the godly with foolish and vnprofitable questions, whereby they declared, that professing the Law, they knewe not what was the chiefe end of the Law. And as for him selfe, he so confesseth his unworthines, that he sheweth to what worthines the grace of God hath preferred him: and therefore he willesh prayers to be made for all degrees and sortes of men, because that God by offering his Gospel and Christ his Sonne to them all, is indifferens to euery sorte of men, as his Apostleship, which is peculiar to the Gentiles, witnesseth. And for as much as God hath left ministers as ordinarie meanes in his Church to bring men to saluation, he describeth what manner of men they ought to be, to whom the mysterie of the Sonne of God manifested in flesh is committed to be preached. After this he sheweth him what troubles the Church as all times shall sustaine, but specially in the latter dayes, whē as vnder pretence of religion men shall teach things contrarie to the word of God. This done, he teacheth what widowers should be receiued or refused to minister to the sick: also what Elders ought to be chosen into office, exhorting him neither to be hasty in admitting, nor in iudging any: also what is the due tie of seruantes, the nature of false teachers, of vaine speculations, of comensures, of rich men, and aboue all things he chargeth him to beware false doctrine.

CHAP.

CHAP. I.

He exhorteth Timotheus to waig upon his office, namely to see that nothing he taught but Gods word. &c. 5 Declaring that faith, with a good conscience, charitie and edification are the end thereof, 20 And admonisheth of Hymeneus and Alexander.

Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by his commanement of God our Sauour, and of our Lorde Iesus Christ, our hope, Vnto Timotheus my naturall sonne in the faith: grace, mercy, and peace from God our Father, and from Christ Iesus our Lord.

As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so do, that thou maist commande some, that they teache none other doctrine,

Neither that they giue heede to fables and genealogies, which breede question rather than godly edifying which is by faith.

For the end of the commandement is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfeined.

From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine iangling.

They would be doctours of the Law, and yet vnderstand not what they speake, neither wherof they affirm.

And we know, that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully, Knowing this, that the Law is not giuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, & to sinners, to the vnholly, and to the prophane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

To whom eugers, to buggerers, to men-stealers, to liars, to the periured, and if there be any other thing, that is contrary to wholesome doctrine,

Which according to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.

Therefore I thank him, which hath made me strong, that is, Christ Iesus our Lorde: for he counted me faithfull, and put me in his seruice:

When before I was a blasphemers, and a persecuter, and an oppresser: but I was receiued to mercie: for I did it ignorantly through vnbeliefe.

But the grace of our Lorde was exceeding abundant with faith & loue, which is in Christ Iesus.

This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued, that Christ Iesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

Notwithstanding, for this cause was I receiued to mercie, that Iesus Christ should first shewe on me all long suffering vnto the ensample of them, which shall in time to come beleeue in him vnto eternall life.

Now vnto the King, euertlasting immortall, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, be honour and glorie for euer, and euer, Amen.

This commandement committe I vnto thee, sonne Timotheus, according to the prophesies, which went before vpō thee: that thou by them shouldest fight a good fight,

Hauiing faith and a good conscience, which some haue put away, and as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

Of whom is Hymeneus, and Alexander, whom I haue deliuered vnto Satan, that they might learne not to blasphem.

That is, found doctrine, Excommunicate, and cast out of the church.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth to pray for all men, & vnto heresy, & And home. 9 As touching the apparell and modestie of women.

Exhorte therefore, that first of all supplications, prayers, intercessions and giuing of thanks be made for all men,

For Kings, and for all that are in authority, that we may leade a quiet & a peaceable life, in all godlines and honestie.

For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Sauour,

Who will that all men shalbe saved, & come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

For there is one God, and one Mediator betwene God and man, which is the man Christ Iesus,

Who gaue him selfe a ransom for all men, to be a testimonie in due time,

Whereunto I am ordeined a preacher, & an Apostle (I speake the truth in Christ and lie not) euen a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and veritie.

I will therefore that the men pray, euery where lifting vp pure hands without wrath, or doubting.

Likewise also, the women, that they aray them selues in comely apparell, with shamefastnes & modestie, not with broyded heare, or gold, or pearles, or costly apparell,

But (as becommeth women that profess the feare of God) with good workes.

Let the woman learne in silence with all subiection.

I permitte not a woman to teache, neither to vsurpe authoritie ouer the man, but to be in silence.

For Adam was first formed, then Eue.

And Adam was not deceiued, but the woman was deceiued, and was in the transgression.

The worde signifieth to plat, to crispe, to broyde, to folde, to bush, to curl, or to lay it curiously: wherby al pompe & wantonnes is condemned, which women vse in trimming their heads. I Reader. Cor. 14. 34. Gen. 1. 27. Gen. 3. 6. m The woman was first deceiued, and so became the instrument of Satan to deceiue the man: and though therefore God punisheth them with subiection and paine in their travell, yet if they be faithfull and godly in their vocation, they shalbe saved.

That is, guiltie of the transgression.

He brasteth forth into these godly affections, considering gods great mercie towards him.

It appeareth that the vocation of Timotheus was approved by notable prophesies, which then were reueiled in the primitive church as Paul & Barnabas by oracle were appointed to go to the Gentiles.

15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shalbe saued if they continue in faith, and loue, and holines with modestie.

CHAP. III.

He declareth what is the office of Ministers, 11 And as touching their families, 15 The dignity is of the Church, 18 And the principall point of the Christian doctrine.

1 This is a true saying. * If any man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a worthy worke.

2 A Bishop therefore must be vnprouenable; the husband of one wife, watching, sober, modest, harberous, apt to teache,

3 Not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthy lucre, but gentle, no fighter, not couetous,

4 One that can rule his owne house honestly, hauing children vnder obedience with all' honestie.

5 For if any can not rule his owne house, how shal he care for the Church of God?

6 He may not be a yong scholar, lest hee being puffed vp fall into the condemnation of the deuil.

7 He must also be well reported of, euen of them which are without, lest he fall into rebuke, and the snare of the deuil.

8 Likewise must Deacons be honest, not double tongued, not giuen vnto much wine, neither to filthy lucre,

9 * Hauing the myserie of the faith in pure conscience.

10 And let them first be proued: then let them minister, if they be found blameles.

11 Likewise their wiues must be honest, not euill speakers, but sober, and faithfull in all things.

12 Let the Deacons be the husbands of one wife, and such as can rule their children well, and their owne householdes.

13 For they that haue ministered well, get them selues a good degree, and great libertie in the faith, which is in Christe Iesus.

14 These things write I vnto thee, trusting to come very shortly vnto thee.

15 But if I tary long, that thou maiest yet know, howe thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the pillar and ground of truth.

16 And without controuersie, great is the myserie of godlines, which is, God is manifested in the flesh, * iustified in the Spirit, * scene of Angels, preached vnto the Gentiles, beleeued on in the worlde, and receiued vp in glorie.

a With a fervent zeale to profite the Church of God, wherefoeuer he shall call him.

b Whether he be Pastor or Elder.

c Both for the difficultie of the charge, and also the excellencie thereof, and the necessitie of the same.

d For in those countreies at that time some men had mo then one, which was a signe of incontinencie.

e Or, yuence.

f If it be requi- fied that a man should take care in governing his owne house, how much more are they bounde to be careful, which shall gouern the church of God?

g Left being proude of his degree, he be like- wise condemned as the Deuill was, for lifting vp himselfe by pride.

h That is, no man may haue any thing iustly to laye to his charge.

i As being de- famed, should be come impudent, and do much harme.

k Chap. 1. 9.

l Hauing the true doctrine of the Gospell, and the feare of God.

1 Of the Bishops & Deacons. m The good report of al men. n To serue God with greater assistance, because they haue alway a good conscience. o This is spoken in respect of men, forasmuch as in this worlde the truth only remaineth in the church, by reason of Gods word: for otherwise Christ is the fundatō & the corner stone, which both beareth, and mainteinh his Church. p Approued iust in that he was not only a man, but God also. q So that the Angels marueyled at his excellencie. r To the right hand of God the Father.

1 NOwe the Spirit speaketh evidently, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, and shal giue heede vnto spirits of errour, and doctrines of deuils,

2 Which speake lies through hypocrisie, and haue their consciences burned with an hote yron,

3 Forbidding to marrie, and commanding to abstaine from meates which God hath created to be receiued with giuing thanks of them which beleuee and knowe the truth.

4 For euery creature of God is good, & nothing ought to be refused, if it be receiued with thanksgiving.

5 For it is sanctified by the worde of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christe, which hath bene nourished vp in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.

7 But cast away prophane, and old wiues fables, and exercise thy self vnto godlines.

8 For bodily exercise profiteth litle: but godlines is profitable vnto all thinges, which hath the promes of the life present, and of that that is to come.

9 This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued.

10 For therefore we labour & are rebuked, because we trust in the liuing God, which is the Sauour of all men, specially of those that beleuee.

11 These things command and teache.

12 Let no man despise thy youth, but be vnto them that beleuee, an ensample, in worde, in conuersation, in loue, in spirit, in fayth, and in purenesse.

13 Till I come, giue attendance vnto reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.

14 Despise not the gift that is in thee, which was giue thee by prophetic with the laying on of the hands of the company of the Eldership.

15 These things exercise, and giue thy selfe vnto them, that it may be seene howe thou profitest among all men.

16 Take heed vnto thy selfe, and vnto learning: continue therein: for in doing this thou shalt saue thy selfe, and them that heare thee.

Or, that all may see how thou profitest. k Thou shalt faithfully do thy dutie, which is an assurance of thy saluation.

CHAP. V.

He teacheth him howe he shall behaue him selfe in beholding all degrees. 3 An order concerning widoues. 17 The establishing of Ministers. 23 The gouernantes of his bodie, 24 And the iudgements of finnes.

Rebeuke not an Elder, but rebuke him as a father, and the younger man as brethren; and the elder woman as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all patience and kindness.
1. Honour widowes, which are widowes in deede.
2. But if any widowe haue children or nephewes, let them learne first to shew godlines toward their owne house, and to recompence their kintred: for that is an honest thing and acceptable before God.
3. And she that is a widowe in deede, & left alone, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.
4. But she that smeth in pleasure, is dead, while the lueeth.
5. These things therefore commande, that they may be blameles.
6. If there be any that prouideth not for his owne, and namely for them of his household, he denieth the faith, and is worse than an infidel.
7. Let not a widowe be taken into the number vnder threecore yere olde, that hath bene the wife of one husband,
8. And well reported of for good workes: if she haue nourished her children, if she haue lodged the strangers, if she haue washed the Saints feete, if she haue ministered vnto them which were in aduersitie, if these were continually giuen vnto euery good worke.
9. But refuse the younger widowes: for when they haue begun to waxe wanton against Christ, they will marrie,
10. Having damnation, because they haue broken the first faith.
11. And likewise also being ydle they learne to go about from house to house: yea, they are not onely ydle, but also prateclers and busybodies; speaking things which are not comely.
12. I will therefore that the younger women marrie, and beare children, and gouerne the house, and giue none occasion to the aduersarie to speake euill.
13. For certeine are alreadye turned back againe Satan.
14. If any faithfull man, or faithfull woman haue widowes, let them minister vnto the, and let not the Church be charged, that there may be sufficient for them that are widowes in deede.
15. The Elders that rule well, are worthe of double honour, specially they which labour in the word and doctrine.
16. For the Scripture saith, Thou shalt not moue the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne; and, The labourer is worthy of his wages.
17. Against an Elder receiue none accusation, but vnder two or three witnessess.
18. Them that sinne, rebuke openly, that the rest also may feare.
19. I charge thee before God and the Lorde Iesus Christ, and the elect Angels, that thou obserue these things without preferring one to another, & do nothing partially.

20. Lay handes suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens finnes: keepe thy selfe pure.
21. Drink no longer wine, but vie a little wine for thy stomakes sake, & thine often infirmities.
22. Some mens finnes are open before some mens eyes, and go before vnto judgement: but some mens finnes followe after.
23. Likewise also the good workes are manifest before hand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.
24. As many seruantes as are vnder the yoke, count their masters worthe of all honour, that the Name of God, and his doctrine be not euill spoken of.
25. And they which haue beleuing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather do seruice, because they are faithfull, and beloued, and partakers of the benefite. These things teach and exhort.
26. If any man teach otherwise, and consenteth not to the wholesome wordes of our Lorde Iesus Christe, and to the doctrine, which is according to godlines,
27. He is puffed vp and knoweth nothing, but doeth about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh euill, strife, railings, euill surmisinges,
28. Vayne disputations of men of corrupt minds, and deliquate of the truth, which thinke that gaine is godlines: from such separate thy selfe.
29. But godlines is great gaine, if a man be content with that he hath.
30. For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certaine, that wee can carrie nothing out.
31. Therefore when we haue foode and rayment, let vs therewith be content.
32. For they that will be rich, fall into temptation and snares, and into many foolish and noysome lustes, which drawe men in perdition and destruction.
33. For the desire of money is the roote of al euill, which while some haue said, they erred from the faith, and perceded them selues through with many sorowes.
34. But thou, O man of God, flee these things, & followe after righteousnes, godlines, faith, love, patience, & meeknes.
35. Fight the good fight of faith: thou shalt haue holde rule of eternall life, whereunto thou art also called, & hast professed a good profession before many witnessess.
36. I charge thee in the sight of God, who quickneth al things, & before Iesus Christ, which vnder Pontius Pilate was witnessed a good confession,

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMOTHEVS.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Apostle being now ready to confirme that doctrine with his blood, which he had professed and taught, encourages Timothy, and in him all the faithful in the faith of the Gospel, and in the constant & sincere confession of the same, willing him not to shrink for feare of afflictions, but patiently to abide the same, as do labourers which at length receive the fruites of their labours, and so call of all feare and care, as soldiers do, which seeke only to please their captaine, shewing him briefly the summe of the Gospel, which he preached, commanding him to preach the same to others, diligently taking heed of conspurators, curious distractions, and vaine questions, so the intent that his doctrine may altogether cleane. Considering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which subverted the true doctrine of the resurrection, was so horrible, and yet so the intent that his doctrine may altogether cleane. Considering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which subverted the true doctrine of the resurrection, was so horrible, and yet so the intent that his doctrine may altogether cleane.

C H A P. I.

Paul commendeth Timothy to his grace and patience in performing his office as a minister in the Gospel, that he had taught him, as K. V. here of his bonds and afflictions were a signe, &c. A commendation of his person.

1. And an Apostle of Ie sus Christ, by the will of God, according to the promises of life, w he in Christ Iesus.

2. To Timothy my be loved sonne: Grace, & peace from God the Father, & from Iesus Christ our Lord.

3. I thank God, whose I stand from mine election, and pure conscience, that with one thinking I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day.

4. Desiring to see thee, manifoldd of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioye.

5. When I call to remembrance the vnsai ned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mo ther Eunice, and am assured, that it dwel leth in thee also.

6. Wherefore, I put thee in remembrance, offer by the gift of

 God. 6. 6.

that thou stirre vp the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of saint hands.

7. For God hath not given to vs the spirit of feare, but of power, and of love, and of abound calnde.

8. Be not therefore ashamed of the testimo nie of our Lord, neither of mee, his pris ner: but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God.

9. Who hath saved vs, and called vs with an * holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his owne pur pose and grace, which was giuen to vs through Christ Iesus before y world was.

10. But now made manifest by the ap pearng of our Saviour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality vnto light through the Gospel.

11. * Wherunto I am appointed a preacher, here of his first coming, which though it seemed poore & con temptible, yet was honorable and glorious: therefore our mindes ought to be lifted vp from the consideration of worldly things, to contemplate the maiesty thereof. 1. Tim. 2.

And Apostle; & a teacher of the Gentiles.
12 For the which cause I also suffer these things; but I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have beleueed; and I am perswaded that he is able to keepe that which I have committed to him against that day.

13 Keepe the true paterne of the wholsome wordes, which thou hast heard of me in faith and loue which is in Christ Iesus.

14 That worthy thing, which was committed to thee, keepe through the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me: of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercy vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, & was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was at Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord graunt vnto him, that he may finde mercy with the Lord at that day, & in how many things he hath ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. XL

He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer many, & to abide faithfull in the wholsome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ; 11 Shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsel reaching the saluation of him. 12 And the marks thereof.

1 Thou therefore, my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

2 And what things thou hast heard of me, by many witnesses, the same deliuer to faithful men, which shall be able to teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Iesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth him selfe with the affaires of this life, because he woulde please him that hath chosen him to be a souldier.

5 And if any man also strue for a martirie, he is not crowned, except he strue as hee ought to do.

6 The husbandman must labour before he receiue the fruites.

7 Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember that Iesus Christ made of the seed of Dauid, was raised againe from the dead according to my Gospell.

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euil doer, each vnto bondes: but the worde of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I suffer all things, for the electes sake, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternal glorie.

11 It is a true saying, For if we be dead with him, we also shall liue with him.

12 If we suffer, we shall also reigne with him: if we denie him, he also will denie vs.

13 If we beleuee not, yet abideth he faithfull: he can not denie himselfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, and present before our Lord: that they stand not about wordes, which is to no profit, but to the peruertering of the hearers.

15 Studie to shewe thy selfe approved vnto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, diuiding the worde of truth aright.

16 Scay prophane, and vaine babblings: for they shall increase vnto more vngodliness.

17 And their worde shall feed as a canker of which sort is Hymenæus and Philetus, 18 Which as concerning the truth haue erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and do destroy the faith of certeine.

19 But the fundation of God remaineth sure, and both this seale, The Lord knoweth who are his, and Let every one that calleth on the Name of Christ, depart fro iniquitie.

20 Now withstanding in a great house are not onely vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth, and some for honour, and some vnto dishonour.

21 If any man therefore purge himself from these, hee shall bee a vessel vnto honour, sanctified, & meete for the Lord, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

22 Flee also from the lusts of youth, & followe after righteousness, faith, loue, and peace, with them that call on the Lord with pure heart.

23 And put away foolish, and vnlearned questions, knowing that they ingender strife.

24 But seruant of the Lord must not strue, but must be gentle towards men, apt to teach, suffering the euill men patiently.

25 Instructing them with meeknes that are contrary minded, prouing if God at any time wil giue them repentance, that they may know the trueth.

26 And that they may come to amendment out of the snare of the deuil, which are taken of him at his wil.

which as yet are not come to the knowledge of the trueth, and fall through ignorance. For they haue delivered out of the snare of the deuil of whom they are taken, they may come to amendment.

CHAP. V.

He prophecieth of the perillous times, & teacheth out hypocrites in their cellars; 11 Shewing the state of the Christians; 12 And how he is minded to depart, & how he will perseuer in the company of the Saints.

1 This knowe also, that in the last daies shall come perillous times.

2 For men shall be louers of their owne selues, conuocous, boasters, puffed, curled of them which make promise to be Christi-
3 Without natural affection, true breakers, false accusers, intemperate, fierce, despisers of them which are good,

CHAP. III.

He exhorteth Timotheus to be firm in the wordes, and to suffer aduersion, & Maketh mention of his own death, and biddeth Timotheus come vnto him.

I Charge thee therefore before God, and before the Lord Iesus Christ, which shall iudge the quicke and dead at his appearing, and in his kingdome,

Preach the worde: be instant, in season and out of season: imroue, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine.

For the time will come, when they will not suffer wholesome doctrine: but hauing their eares itching, shall after their owne lustes get them an heape of teachers,

And that turne their eares fro the truth, and shalbe giuen vnto fables.

But watch thou in all things: stand fast: do the worke of an Euangelist:
make thy ministerie fully known.

For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departing is at hand.

I haue fought a good fight, and haue finished my course: I haue kept the faith.

For henceforth is layed vp for me the crowne of righteousness, which the Lorde the righteous iudge shall giue me at that day: and not to me only, but vnto all them also that loue his appearing.

Make speede to come vnto me at once.

For Demas hath forsaken me, and hath embraced this present world, & is departed vnto Thessalonica. Crescens is gone to Galatia, Titus vnto Dalmatia.

At my first answering no man assisted me, but al forsooke me: I pray God, that it may not be laid to their charge.

Notwithstanding the Lord assisted me, & strengthened me, that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles should heare, and I was deli-uered out of the mouth of the Lyon.

And the Lord wil deliuer me from eu-

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITVS.

THE ARGUMENT.

When Titus was left in Creta to finish that doctrine which Paul had there begun, Satan stirred up certaine which went about not onely to overthrow the government of the Church, but also to corrupt the doctrine: for some by ambition would have thrust in them selves to be pastors, others, under pretex of Moses Law brought in many trifles. Against these, two sorters of men Paul armed Titus: first teaching him what manner of ministers he ought to choose, chiefly requiring that they be men of sounde doctrine to the intent they might resist the aduersaries, and among other things hee noteth the Iewes which put a certain holines in meates and such outward ceremonies, teaching them which are the true exercises of a Christian life, and what things appertain to every mans vocation, against the which if any man rebel or els doeth not obey, he willett him to be avoided.

CHAP. I.

He aduertiseth Titus touching the government of the Church. 7 The ordinance and office of ministers. 12 The nature of the Cretians, and of them which sowe abroad Iewish fables and inventions of men.

Paul a servant of God, and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, according to the faith of Gods elect, & the knowledge of the truth, which is according to godlines, Vnder the hope of eternall life, which God that cannot lie, hath promised before the world began:

But hath made his word manifest in due time through the preaching, which is committed vnto me, according to the commandement of God our Saviour:

To Titus my naturall sonne according to common faith, grace, mercy & peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ our Saviour.

For this cause left I thee in Creta, that thou shouldest continue to redresse the things that remaine, and shouldest ordein Elders in euery cite, as I appointed thee,

If any be vnreprouable, the husband of one wife, hauing faithful children, who are not sladdred of riot, neither are disobedient.

For a bishop must be vnreprouable, as Gods steward, not froward, not angry, not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthy lucre,

But harberous, one that loueth goodnes, wife, righteous, holy, temperate,

Holding fast the faithful word according to doctrine, that he also may be able to exhort with wholesome doctrine, & improve them that say against it.

For there are many disobedient & vaine talkers and deceiuers of mindes, chiefly they of the Circumcision,

Whose mouthes must be stopped, which God i Which were not onely the Iewes, but also the Hebionites, and Cherimthians heretikes, which taught that the Law must be ioyned with Christ.

subuert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not for filthy lucre sake.

One of them selles, even one of their own prophets said, The Cretians are alwayes liers, euil besties, slow bellies,

This witness is true: wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be found in the faith,

And not taking heede to Iewish fables and commandements of men, that turne from the truth.

Vnto the pure are all things pure, but vnto them that are defiled, & vnbeleuing, is nothing pure, but even their mindes & consciences are defiled.

They profess that they know God, but by works they denie him, and are abominable and disobedient, and vnto euery good worke reprobate.

And to the infidels from time to time, but it turneth to their greater condemnation. Forasmuch as they stay at things of nothing, and passe not for them, that are of importance, and so giue them selves to all wickednes.

CHAP. II.

He commendeth vnto him the wholesome doctrine, and telleth him how he shal teach al degrees to blesse them selues, 11 Through the benefite of the grace of Christ.

But speake thou the things which become wholesome doctrine.

That the elder men be sober, honest, discrete, sound in the faith, in loue, & in patience:

The Elder women likewise, that they be in such behauiour as becommeth holines, not false negusers, not giue to much wine, but teachers of honest things,

That they may instruct the yong women to be sober minded, that they loue their husbands, that they loue their children,

That they be discrete, chaste, keeping at home, good and subiect vnto their husbands, that the words of God be not euill spoken of.

Exhort yong men likewise, that they be sober minded.

Above all things shew thy self an ensample of good workes with vnecorrupt doctrine, with grauitie, integritie,

And with the wholesome worde, which can not be reproued, that he which withstandeth,

He calleth him pimesides the Philosopher, or Poet, whose verse he here reciteth a Prophecy because the Cretians so esteemed him: & as Lactantius writeth, the y sacrificed vnto him as to a God, forasmuch as he had a marvellous gift to vnderstand things to come, which thing Satan by the permission of God hath opened.

Obey the powers.

To Titus.

Stay foolish questions.

standeth, may be ashamed, hauing nothing concerning you to speake euill of.

9 * Let seruants be subiect to their masters, and please them in al things, not answering againe,

10 Neither pykers, but that they shew all good faithfulness, that they may adorne the doctrine of GOD our Sauour in all things.

11 * For the grace of God, that bringeth saluation vnto al men, hath appeared,

12 And teacheth vs that we should deny vngodlines and worldly lusts, and that wee should liue soberly and righteously, and godly in this present world.

13 Looking for the blessed hope, and appearing of y<sup>e</sup> glory of the mighty God, and of our Sauour Iesus Christ, 14 Who gaue him selfe for vs, that he might redeeme vs from al iniquitie, & purge vs to be a peculiar people vnto him selfe, zealous of good workes.

15 These thinges speake, and exhorre, and rebuke with al<sup>e</sup> authoritie. See that no man despise thee.

CHAP. III.

1 * Of seruants vs such as be in authority. 9 He warneth Titus to beware of foolish and vnprofitable questions, 12 Concluding with certaine preceptes, 15 And salutations.

1 Put them in remembrance that they be subiect to the principalities and powers, and that they be obedient, & redie to euery good worke.

That they speake euill of no man, that they be no fighters, but soft, shewing all meekenes vnto all men.

* For we our selues also were in times past vnwise, disobedient, deuiued, seruing the lusts and diuers pleasures, liuing in malicioulnes and enuie, hateful, & hating one another.

4 But when the bountifullnes and loue of God our Sauour toward man appeared,

5 * Nor by the workes of righteousnesse, which we had done, but according to his mercy he saued vs, by the washing of the new birth, and the renewing of the holy Ghost,

6 Which he shed on vs abundantly, through Iesus Christ our Sauour,

7 That wee, being iustified by his grace, should be made heires according to the hope of eternal life.

8 This is a true saying, & these thinges I will thou shouldst affirme, that they which haue beleued in God, might be careful to shew forth good workes. These thinges are good and profitable vnto men.

9 * But stay foolish questions, & genealogies, and contentions, & brawlings about the Lawe: for they are vnprofitable and vaine.

10 * Reiect him that is an heretike, after once or twice admonition, knowing that he that is such, is peruerter, and sinneth being damned of his owne selfe.

12 When I shal send Artemas vnto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come to me vnto Nicopolis: for I haue determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zenas the expounder of the law, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that they lacke nothing.

14 And let ours also learne to shewe forth good workes for necessary yies that they be not vnfruitful.

15 All that are with me, salute thee. Greete them that loue vs in the faith. Grace be with you all, Amen.

To Titus, elect the first bishop of the Church of the Cretians, writte from Nicopolis in Macedonia.

2. Tim. 1. 5. God doeth not iustifie vs for respect of any thing, which he seeth in vs, but doth preuent vs with his grace & freely accepteth vs.

d Baptisme is a sure signe of our regeneration, which is wrought by the holy Ghost.

1. Tim. 1. 4. & 4. 2. 1. Tim. 2. 2.

e This commandement is giuen to the minister, & so particularly to all men to whome the sword is not committed: but the magistrate, whose chiefe office is to maintain Gods glory in his church, ought to cut off all such rotten & infectious members from the body. f So that there is no hope of amendment. g Willingly, & wittingly. h It is probable, that he was an interpreter of the Law of Moses, as Apollos, &c.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a greane witness, & a declaration of the same. For sate passing the basenes of his master, he sleeth as it were up to heauen, and speaketh with a diuine grace and maiestie. Onesimus seruant to Philemon both robbed his master, and fled away, whome Paul hauing worne so Christ, sent againe to his master, earnestly begging his pardone, with most weightie arguments proouing the dutie of one Christian to another, and so with salutations endeth.

He reueryeth to haue of the faith and loue of Philemon, & vnderstandeth howe he desireth to forgive his seruant Onesimus, and howe he receiue him againe.

Aulaprisoner of I E S V S Christ, & our brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon our dere friend & fellow helper,

And to our deere sister

Apphia, and to Archippus our fellowe souldier, and to the Church that is in thine house:

Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

I giue thanks to my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers,

(When I heare of thy loue and faith, which thou hast toward the Lorde Iesus, and toward al Saints)

That the fellowship of thy faith may be made fruitfull, and that whatsoeuer good thing is in you through Christ Iesus, may be knowne.

For we haue great ioye and consolation in thy loue, because by thee, brother, the Saints hearts are comforted.

Wherefor, though I be very bold in Christ to commaund thee that which is conuenient, yet for loues sake I rather beseeche thee, though I be as I am, euen Paul aged, and euen now a prisoner for Iesus Christ.

I beseech thee for my sonne Onesimus, whom I haue begotten in my bondes,

Which in time past was to thee vnprofitable, but now profitable both to thee and to me,

Whom I haue sent againe: thou therefore, receiue him, that is mine owne bowels, Whome I would haue retained with me, that in thy stead he might haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the Gospel.

But without thy mind would I doe nothing, that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessitie, but willingly.

It may be that he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receiue him for euer,

Not nowe as a seruant, but aboute a seruant, euen as a brother beloued, specially to me: howe much more then vnto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

If therefore thou count our things common, receiue him as my selfe.

If he hath hurt thee, or oweth thee ought, that put on mine accounts.

I Paul haue written this with mine owne hand: I wil recompence it, albeit I do not say to thee, that thou owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe.

Yea, brother, let me obtaine this pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my bowels in the Lord.

Trusting in thine obediēce, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilt do euē more then I say.

Moreouer also prepare me lodging: for I trust through your prayers I shalbe giue vnto you.

There salute thee Epaphras my fellowe prisoner in Christ Iesus, Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas & Luke, my fellow helpers.

THE EPISTLE TO THE ### HEBREWES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Forasmuch as diuers, both of the Greeke writers and Latines witnesseth, that the writer of this Epistle for iust causes would not haue his name knowne, is were curiositie of our parts to labour much therein. For seeing the Spirit of God is the author thereof, is diminisheth nothing the authoritie, although we know not with what pen he wrote is whether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or some other, his chiefe purpose is to perswade vnto the Hebrewes (whereby he principally meaneth them that abode at Ierusalem, & vnder them al the rest of the Iewes) that Christ Iesus was not onely the redemer, but also that as his comming all ceremonies must haue an ende: forasmuch as his doctrine was the conclusion of all the prophetes, & therefore not onely Moses was inferior to him, but also the Angels: for they all were seruants, and he the Lord, but so Lord, that he hath also taken our flesh, & is made our brother to assure vs of our saluation through himselfe: for he is eternal Priest, whereof al the Levitical Priest were but shadowes, and therefore as his comming they ought to cease, & al sacrifices for sinne to be abolished, as he prometh from the 7. Chap. vers. 11 vnto the 12. Chap. vers. 18. Also he was that Prophet of whom al the Prophets in time past witnessed, as is declared from the 12. Chap. vers. 18. so the twentie and five verse of the same Chapter: yea, & is the King to whom al things are subiect, as appeareth from that vers. 25. so the beginning of the last chap. Wherefore according to the examples of the old fathers, we must constantly beleue in him, that being sanctified by his iustice, taught by his wisdom, and governed by his power, we may stedfastly, and courageously perseuere vnto the end in hope of that ioy that is set before our eyes, occupying our selues in Christian exercises that we may both be thankfull to God, and duefull to our neighbour.

CHAP.

C H A P. I.

1 He sheweth the excellencie of Christ 4 Above the Angels, 7 And of their office.

T sundrie times & in diuers manners God spake in the olde time to our Fathers by the Prophets:

In these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his Sone, whom he hath made heire of all things, by whome also he made the worldes,

Who being the brightnes of the glory, and the ingraued forme of his persone, and bearing vp al thinges by his mightie word, hath by him self purged our finnes, and sitteth at the right hand of the maiestie in the highest places,

And is made so much more excellent then the Angels in as much as he hath obtained a more excellent name then they.

For vnto which of the Angels said he at any time, Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee? and againe, I will bee his Father, and he shal be my sonne?

And againe when he bringeth in his first begotten Sonne into the world, hee saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

And of the Angels he saith, He maketh the Spirits his messengers, and his ministers a flame of fire.

But vnto the sonne he saith, O God, thy throne is for euer & euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousness.

Thou hast loued righteousness and hated iniquitie. Wherefore God, when thy God, hath anointed thee with the oyle of gladnes about thy felowes.

And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine handes.

They shall perishe, but thou doest remaine: & they al shal waxe olde as doeth a garment.

And as a vesture shalt thou folde them vp, and they shal be changed: but thou art the same and thy yeres shal not faile.

Vnto which also of the Angels saide hee at any time, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestool?

Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister, for their sakes which shal be heires of saluation?

C H A P. II.

1 Hee exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new Lawe which Christ hath giuen vs, 9 And not to be offended at the infirmities and low degree of Christ, 10 Because it was necessarie that for our sakes he should take such an humble shape vpon him, that he might be like vnto his bretheren.

Wherefore we ought diligently to giue heede to the things which we haue heard, lest at any time we should let them slippe.

For if the worde spoken by Angels was stedfast, and euery transgression, and disobedience receiued a iust recompense of rewarde,

How shall wee escape, if we neglect so great saluation, which at the first began to be preached by the Lord, and afterward was confirmed vnto vs by them that heard him,

God bearing witness thereto, both with signes and wonders, and with diuers miracles, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will,

For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the world to come, whereof we speake.

But one in a certeine place witnessed, saying, What is man, that thou shouldst be mindeful of him? or the sonne of man that thou wouldest consider him?

Thou madest him a litle inferior to the Angels: thou crownedst him with glorie and honour, and hast set him aboute the workes of thine handes.

Thou hast pural things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put al things in subiection vnder him, he left nothing that should not be subiect vnto him. But we yet see not al things subdued vnto him.

But we see Iesus crowned with glorie & honour, which was made a litle inferior to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for al men.

For it became him, for whome are all things, and by whome are all things, seeing that hee brought many children vnto glorie, that hee should consecrate the Prince of their saluation through afflictions.

For he that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are al of one: wherefore he is not ashamed to call them bretheren,

Saying, I will declare thy Name vnto my bretheren: in the mids of the Church I will sing praises to thee.

And againe, I will put my trust in him.

To man, as he is of Christ. By his vertue which most manifestly appeareth in the church. I Iesus Christ by humbling himselfe & taking vpon him the forme of a seruant, which was our flesh, and mortalitie, giue us assurance of our saluation. Therefore we by our faith are made like to the Sonne of God, in the head & the members are of one nature: so Christ which sanctifieth vs, and we that are sanctified are al one by the vnion of our flesh. This proueth Christes humanitie. Meaning, that Christ touching his humanitie put his trust in God.

And againe, "Beholde, here am I, and the children, which God hath giuen me.

14 For as much then as the children were partakers of flesh and bloud, he also him self likewise tooke part with them, that he might destroy through death, him that had the power of death, that is the deuill,

15 And that he might deliuer all the, which for feare of death were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 For he in no sorte rooke the Angels, but he tooke the seede of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be mercifull, and a faithfull high Priest in things concerning God, that he might make reconciliation for the finnes of the people.

18 For in that he suffered, & was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

He requireth this to be looked vnto the word of Christ, 17 he is more worthy than Moses. 18 The punishment of such as will harden their hearts, and not beleue, that they might haue eternall rest.

Therefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heauenly vocation, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Iesus:

Who was faithfull to him that hath appointed him, euen as Moses was in all his house.

3 For this man is counted worthy of more glorie then Moses, in as much as he which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, and he that hath built all things, God. Now Moses verely was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witness of things which should be spoken after.

6 But Christ is as the Sonne, ouer his own house, whose house we are, if wee holde fast the confidence and the reioicing of the hope vnto the ende.

7 Wherefore, as the Holy Ghost saith, To day if ye shall heare his voyce,

8 Hard not your hearts, as in the prouocation, according to the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

9 Where your fathers tempted me, and law my workes foure yeres long.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They erre euery in their heart, becauise they knowe not my waies.

11 Therefore I sware in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heede, Brethren, least at any time there be in any of you an euill heart, and vnfaithfull, to departe away from the liuing God.

13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day, least any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sinne.

1 As disobeying God, they in olde time were deuided from the land of Chanaan: so they, which do not obey Christ, shall not enter into the heauenly rest. Which is al that where God doth call vs: while he therefore speaketh, Let vs heare

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the ende the beginning, wherewith we are vpholden, 15 So long as it is said, To day if ye heare his voyce, harden not your heartes, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked him to anger: howbeit, not al that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he displeased fourety yeres? Was he not displeased with them that sinned, whose carkeises fell in the wilderness?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them, that obeyed not?

19 So we see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeleife.

CHAP. IIII.

The words without faith is vnprofitable. 7 The Sabbath rest of the Christians. 8 Punishment of vnbeleif. 12 The nature of the word of God.

Let vs feare therefore, lest at any time by forsaking the promises of entering into his rest any of you shoulde seeme to be deprivid.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospell preached as also vnto them: but the worde that they heard, profited not the, because it was not mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 For we which haue beleued, do enter into rest, as he saide to the other, As I haue sware in my wrath, If they shal enter into my rest: although the workes were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certaine place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they shal enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therinto, and they to whom it was first preached, entered not therein for vnbelievers sake:

7 Againe hee appointed in Dauid a certaine daye by To day, after so long a time, saying, as it is sayd, This daye if ye heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Iesus had giuen them rest, then would he not after this daye haue spoken of another.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, hath also ceased from his owne workes, as God did from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore so enter into that rest, least any man fall after the same ensample of disobedience.

12 For the word of God is lively, & mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and penetrith through, euen vnto the diuiding asunder of the soule & the spirit, and of the ioyntes, and the marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughtes, and the intents of the heart.

13 Neyther is there any creature, which is Where the affections are: Which containeth wil and reason.

He compareth the preaching of the Gospel, as it were, to wine, whereof if we will taste, that is, heare and vnderstand with profit, we must remper or mixe it with faith.

Although hee God by his rest, after the creation of his workes, signified the spiritual rest of the faithful, yet he sware to giue rest in Chanaan, which was but a figure of the heauenly rest, and dured but for a time.

The perfectio of Gods workes, and so his rest, and so his rest, signify our heauenly rest.

CHAP. VI.

He proceedeth in reproofing them, and exhorteth them not to faint, 12 But to be steadfast and patient, 17 Forasmuch as God is true in his promises.

1 Therefore, leaving the doctrine of the beginning of Christ, let vs be led forward vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God, 2 Of the doctrine of baptismes, & laying on of hands, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternall iudgement. 3 And this will we do if God permit. 4 * For it is impossible that they, which were once lightened, & haue tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the powers of the world to come, 6 If they fall away, should be renewed againe by repentance: seeing they crucified againe to them selues the Sonne of God and make a mocke of him. 7 For the earth which drinketh in the raine that commeth ofte vpon it, & bringeth forth herbes meete for them by whom it is dressed, receiueth blessing of God. 8 But that which beareth thornes & briars, is reproofed, and is nere vnto cursing, whose ende is to be burned.

9 But beloued, we haue perswaded our selues better things of you, & such as accompanie saluation, though we thus speake. 10 For God is not vnrighteous, that hee should forget your worke, and labour of loue, which ye shewed toward his Name, in that ye haue ministered vnto the Saints, and yet minister.

11 And wee desire that euerie one of you shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende, 12 That ye be not slouthfull, but followers of them, which through faith & patience, inherite the promises.

13 For when God made the promises to Abraham, because hee had no greater to sweare by, he sweare by him selfe,

14 Saying, Surely I wil abundantly bless thee and multiply thee maruailously.

15 And so after that he had taried patiently, he enioyed the promises.

16 For men verely sweare by him that is greater then them selues, and an othe for confirmation is among them an end of all strife.

17 So God willing more abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promises the steadfastnes of his counsell, bounde him selfe by an othe,

18 That by two immutable things, wherein it is vnpossible that God should lye, we might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to hold fast the hope that is set before vs,

19 Which we haue as an ancre of the soule, both sure and steadfast, and it encreth into a That is, the first rudiments of our Christi. religion. b He mentioneth five pointes of catechisme, which was then in vse: confession of amende. ment of life: the summe of the faith: a briefe explication of Baptisme, and laying on of hand: the article of the redemption, and the last iudgement. c Then vnto of Baptisme was declared, when on the (solenne daies) appointed to baptize, the Church came together.

d It is Gods singular gift to increase in knowledge, and to go forward in the vnderstanding of Gods word. Mat. 11. 49. 2. pet. 1. 20. chap. 10. 28. e They which are apostates, & sinne against the holie Ghost, haue Christ crucified and mocke him, but to their owne destruction, and therefore fall into desperation, and cannot repent.

f Whereby it may appeare, that you are fully perswaded of our euertlasting. g As the holy fathers, prophets and martyrs, that were before vs. Gen. 12. 6. & 17. 1. h Because of mans wickednes, which will not beleue God except he sweare in Gods word & othe, are rowning in him vnchangeable. k Herein is the comparison between Christ's Promise & the Leuitical which he had begun in the 5. chap.

k As that thing which is clef, a funder even through the middes of the backe, and so is made open, that it may be seene throughout. Or, concerning whom we speake. l Therefore when we heare his word, we must tremble, knowing thereby that God soundeth our hearts.

CHAP. V.

He compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuiticall Priests, shewing wherein they either agree, or dissent. 11 Afterward he reproofeth the negligence of the Levites.

1 For euery hie Priest is taken from among men, & is ordeined for men, in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both giftes and sacrifices for sinnes, 2 Which is able sufficiently to haue compassion on them that are ignorant, and that are out of the waye, because that he also is compassed with infirmities, 3 And for the fumes sake hee is bounde to offer for sinnes, as well for his owne parte, as for the peoples.

4 * And no man taketh this honour vnto him selfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 So likewise Christ tooke not to him selfe this honour, to be made the hie Priest, but hee that saide vnto him, * Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee, Gen. 1. 14. 6 As hee also in another place speaketh, * Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchisedec.

7 Which in the dayes of his flesh did offer vp prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares vnto him, that was able to saue him from death, and was also heard in that which he feared.

8 And though he were the Sonne, yet learned he obedience, by the things which he suffered.

9 And being consecrate, was made the author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him.

10 And is called of God an hie Priest after the order of Melchisedec.

11 Of whom we haue many things to say, which are hard to be vitered, because ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the things ye ought to be teachers; yet haue ye neede againe that we teach you the first principles of the word of God: and are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that vseth milke, is inexperienced in the wordes of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are of age, which through long custome haue their wities exercised, to differne both good and euill.

a He sheweth if man can haue none access to God without an hie Priest, because of his selfe he is prophane and sinful. b Which were of things without life. c As, of beastes which are killed. d That is, of sinners. 1. Chro. 13. 10.

into that which is within the vaile, 20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred in, even Iesus that is made an hie Priest for euer after the order of Melchi-sedec.

CHAP. VII.

He compareth the Priesthood of Christ vnto Melchi-sedec, 11 Also Christ's Priesthood with the Leuites.

1 For this Melchi-sedec * was King of Salem, the Priest of the most hie God, who met Abraham, as he returned from the slaughter of the Kings, & blessed him:
2 To whom also Abraham gaue the tithe of all things: who first is by interpretation King of righteousness: after that, he is also
King of Salem, that is, King of peace.

3 Without * father, without mother, without kinned, and hath neither beginning of his dayes, neither end of life: but is like vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

4 Nowe consider howe great this man was, vnto whom euen the Patriarke Abraham gaue the tithe of the spoiles.

5 For verely they which are the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthode, haue a * commandement to take, according to the Lawe, tithe of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But hee whose kinned is not counted among them, * receiued tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction the lesse is blessed of the greater.

8 And here men that dye, receiue riches:
but there he receiueth them, of whom it is witnessed, that he liueth.

9 And to say as the thing is, Leui also which receiueh tithe, payed tithes in Abrahā.

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father
Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met him.

11 If therefore perfection had bene by the Priesthode of the Leuites (for vnder it the Lawe was established to the people) what needed it furthermore, that another Priest should rise after the order of Mel-chi-sedec, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the Priesthode be changed, then of necessitie must there bee a change of the Lawe.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, whereof no man serued at the altar.

14 For it is euident, that our Lord sprang out of Iuda, concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthode.

15 And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec, there is risen vp another Priest,

16 Which is not made Priest after the Law of the carnall commandement, but after the power of the endles life.

17 For he testifieth thus, * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.

18 For the commandement that went afore, is disannulled, because of the weakenes thereof, and vnprofitableness.

19 For the Law made nothing perfite, but bringing in of a better hope made perfit, whereby we drawe nere vnto God.
20 And for as much as it is not without an othe (for these are made priests without an othe:

21 But this, hee is made with an othe by him that saide vnto him, * The Lorde hath sworne, & wil not repēt, Thou art a Priest
for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec) 22 By so much is Iesus made a suretie of a better Testament.

23 And among them manie were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure, by the reason of death.

24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an * eueralsting Priesthode.

25 Wherefore, he is able also perfectly to saue them that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercessio for them.

26 For such an hie Priest it became vs to haue, which is holy, harmeles, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made hier then the heauens:

27 Which needed not daily as those hie Priests to offer vp sacrifice, * first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that did he once, when hee offered vp him selfe.

28 For the Lawe maketh men hie Priests, which haue infirmities: but the word of the othe that was * since the Lawe, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euer more.

For none coulde offer him, but him selfe.
first made after the Lawe was giuen: but because the declaration of eternal oth was then reuiled to the worlde.

CHAP. VIII.

He proueth the abolishing of all of this Leuiticall Priesthode, as of the old Cōuenant by the spiritual & eueralsting Priesthode of Christ, 1 And by the new Cōuenant.

1 Nowe of the things which we haue spoken, this is the summe, that we haue such an hie Priest, that sitteth at the right hand of the throne of the maiestie in heauens,

2 And is a minister of the * Sanctuarie, and of the true * Tabernacle which the Lorde pight, and not * man.

3 For euerie hie Priest is ordeined to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man shoulde haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing there are Priests that according to the Lawe offer giftes,

5 Who serue vnto the paterne and shadow of heauenly things, as Moses was warned by God, when he was about to finishe the Tabernacle. * See, said he, that thou make all things according to the * paterne, the-wed to thee in the mount.

6 But nowe our hie Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediatour of a better * Testament, which is established vpō better promises.

7 For if that first Testament had bene fau-heauenly Sanctuarie, his Tabernacle and office are farre more excellent. * Or, Cōuenant.

The Tabernacle, a figure.

- 1 Then the first Testament had also * ordinances of religion, and a worldly Sanctuarie.
- 2 For the first * Tabernacle was made, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread, which Tabernacle is called the Holy places.
- 3 And after the second vaile was the Tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of al,
- 4 Which had the golden censer, and the Arke of the Testament ouerlaide rounde about with golde, wherein the golden pot which had manna was, & * Aarons rodde that had budded, and the tables of the Testament.
- 5 And ouer the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the mercy scate:
of which things wee will not nowe speake particularly.
- 6 Nowe when these things were thus ordained, the Priests went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the seruice.
- 7 But into the second went the hie Priest alone, once euery yere, not without blood which he offered for him selfe, and for the ignorances of the people.
- 8 Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the way into the Holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet the first Tabernacle was standing,
- 9 Which was a figure for the time present, wherein were offered giftes and sacrifices that could not make holy, concerning the

- conscience, him that did the seruice,
- 10 Which only stode in meats and drinks, and diuers washings, and carnal rites, vntill the time of reformation.
- 11 But Christ being come an hie Priest of good things to come, by a greater and a more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this building,
- 12 Neither by the blood of goates and cal-ues : but by his owne blood entred he in once vnto the Holy place, and obtained eternall redemption for vs.
- 13 For if the blood of bulles & of goates and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vncleane, sanctifieth as touching the purifying of the flesh.
- 14 Howe much more shall the blood of Christ which through the eternall Spirit offred him self without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?
- 15 And for this cause is he the Mediatour of the new Testament, that through death which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the former Testament, they which were called, might receiue the promise of eternall inheritaunce.
- 16 For where a Testament is, there must be the death of him that made the Testament.
- 17 For the Testament is confirmed when men are dead : for it is yet of no force as long as he that made it, is aliue.
- 18 Wherefore neither was the first ordained without blood.
- 19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to the people, according to the lawe, he tooke the blood of calues & of goates, with water and purple wolle and hyssope, and sprinkled both the booke, and all the people,
- 20 Saying, This is the blood of the Testament which God hath appointed vnto you.
- 21 Moreouer, he sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the mini-sting vessels.
- 22 And almost all things are by the Lawe purged with blood, and without sheading of blood is no remission.
- 23 It was then necessarrie, that the simi-tudes of heauenly things should be purified with such things : but the heauenly things them selues are purified with better sacrifices then are these.
- 24 For Christe is not entred into the holy places that are made with handes, which are similitudes of the true Sanctuarie : but is entred into very heauen, to appeare now in the sight of God for vs,
- 25 Not that he should offer him self often,
as the hie Priest entred into the Holie place euery yere with other blood,
- 26 For then must hee haue often suffred ged, which signified Christ would pacifie his Fathers wrath w his blood. Exod. 24. 1. g Albeit there is but one sacrifice, which is Christ him selfe once offered, yet because this true and eternal sacrifice is compared w al those which were figurative, and is more sufficient then al they, therefore he calleth it in the plural number, sacrifices. Or, patiens. r Therefore to make anie other offering or sacrifice for sinne after this Christs bodie was once offered, is blasphemie.

since the foundation of the worlde ) but nowe in the ende of the worlde hath he appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of him selfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto me that they

28 So * Christ was once offered to take away the finnes of * many, and vnto them that looke for him, shall he appeare the second time * without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. X.

1 The old Law had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10 But Christ did it with offering of his body once for all. 23 An revelation to receive the goodness of God thankfully with patience and steadfast faith.

1 For the * Law hauing the * shadowes of good things to come, & not the very image of the things, can neuer with those sacrifices, which they offer yere by yere co-tinually, * sanctifie the comers thereunto.

2 For would they not than haue ceased to be offered, because that y offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of finnes?

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe of finnes euery yere.

4 For it is vnpossible y the blood of bulles and goates should * take away finnes.

5 Wherefore when he * commeth into the worlde, he saith, * Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not: but a * body hast thou ordained me.

6 In burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I saide, Lo, I come ( In the beginning of the booke it is written of me) that I should do thy will, O God.

8 About, when he said, Sacrifice & offering, and burnt offerings, & sinne offerings thou wouldest not haue, neither hadst pleasure therein (which are offered by the Lawe)

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God, he taketh away the first, that he may stablish the * seconde.

10 By the which will we are sanctified, euery by the offering of the body of Iesus Christe once made.

11 And euery Priest appeareth daily mini-string, and oft times offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take away finnes:

12 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for finnes, * sitteth for euer at the right hand of God,

13 And from henceforth saith, * till his enemies be made his foottoole.

14 For with one offering hath * he consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.

15 For the holy Ghost also beareth vs recorde: for after that he had said before,

16 * This is the Testament that I will make vnto them after those dayes, sayeth the Lord, I will put my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I will write them.

17 And their finnes and iniquities will fre-member no more.

18 Nowe where * remission of these things hath beene repented, there can be none other sacrifice but that, and it can be no more reiterated.

is, there is no more * offering for sinne.

19 Seeing therefore, Brethren, that by the blood of Iesus we * may be bolde to enter into the Holy place,

20 By the newe and * living way, which he hath prepared for vs, through the vaile, that is, his flesh:

21 And seeing we haue an high Priest, which is ouer the house of God,

22 Let vs drawe nere with a true heart in assurance of faith, * sprinkled in our hearts from an euill conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water.

23 Let vs keepe the profession of our hope, without waivering (for he is faithfull that promised)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good workes.

25 Not forsaking the fellowship that wee haue among our selues, as the manner of some is: but let vs exhorde one another, and that so much the more, because ye see that the * day draweth nere.

26 * For if we sinne * willingly after that we haue receiued the knowledge of the truth, there remayneth no more sacrifice for finnes,

27 But a fearfull looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the aduersaries.

28 He that despiseth Moses law, dieth without mercy * vnder two, or three witnesses.

29 Of how much forer punishment suppose ye shall be worthy, which treadeth vnder foote the Sonne of God, & counteth the blood of the Testament as an vnholie thing, wherewith hee was sanctified, and doeth despise the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, * Vengeance belongeth vnto me: I will recompence, saith the Lorde. And againe, The Lord shall * iudge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.

32 Nowe call to remembrance the dayes that are passed, in the which, after ye had receiued light, ye endured a great fight in afflictions,

33 Partly whye you were made a gazing stocke both by reproches and afflictions, and partly whye ye became * companions of them which were * so tossed to and fro.

34 For both ye sorrowed with me for my bondes, and suffred with ioye the spoiling of your goods, knowing in your selues how that ye haue in heauen a better, and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye haue neede of patience, that after ye haue done the wil of God, ye might receiue the promes.

37 For yet a very litle while, and he that shall come, will come, and will not tary.

38 * Nowe the iust shall liue by faith: as if Habak. 2.

haue no pleasure in him,

k For the offing of thank-giving, which is

CHAP. XI.

Nowe faith is the ground of thinges, which are hoped for, and the confidence of thinges which are not seene.

1 By it our Elders were well reported.

2 Through faith we vnderstand that the world was ordeined by the worde of God, so that the thinges which we seee, are not made of thinges, which did appeare.

3 By faith Abel offered vnto God a greater sacrifice then Cain, by the which he obtained witness that he was a righteous God testifying of his gift by the which faithfully he being dead, yet speaketh.

4 By faith was Enoch taken away, that he should not see death: neither was hee found: for God had taken him away: for before he was taken away, he was reported of, that he had pleased God.

5 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh vnto God, must believe that God is, and that he is a re-warder of them that seeke him.

6 By faith Noah being warned of God of the thinges, which were as yet not seene, moved with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the saving of his household, through the which Arke he condemned the world, and was made heire of y righteousness, which is by faith.

7 By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed God: to go out into a place, which hee should afterwarde receive for inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

8 By faith he abode in the land of promes, as in a strange country, as one that dwelt in tents with Isaac and Iacob, heires with him of the same promes.

9 For hee looked for a citie having a foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

10 Through faith Sarra also receiued strength to conceiue seede, and was deli-uered of a childe when she was past age, because she iudged him faithful, which had promised.

11 And therefore sprang there of one, euen of one which was dead, so many as the starres of the skie in multitude, and as the sand of the sea, shote which is innumerable.

12 All these died in faith, and receiued not the promises, but sawe them a farre of, & belieued them, and receiued them thankfully, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

13 For they that saye such thinges, declare plainly that they seeke a country.

14 And if they had bene minded of that country, from whence they came out, they had lesse care to haue returned.

15 But nowe they desire a better, that is an heavenly: wherfore God is not ashamed of them to bee called their God: for hee hath prepared for them a citie.

16 By faith Abraham offered vp Isaac, when he was tried, & he that had recei-ued the promises, offered his onely begotten sonne.

17 (To whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called)

18 For hee considered that God was able to raise him vp euen from the dead: from whence hee receiued him also after a sorte.

19 By faith Isaac blessed Iacob and Esau, of easening things to come.

20 By faith Iacob when he was aying, blessed beniamin the sonnes of Ioseph, and said, I will see thee againe.

21 By faith Ioseph when hee died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel, and gaue commandement of his bones.

22 By faith Moses when hee was borne, was hid three monthes of his parents, because they sawe hee was a proper childe, neither feared they the King's commandement.

23 By faith Moses when hee was come to age, refused to be called the sonne of Pha-raos daughter.

24 And chose rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioye the pleasures of sinnes for a season.

25 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ greater, riches then the treasures of Egypt: for hee had respect vnto the recompense of the reward.

26 By faith he forsooke Egypt, and feared not the fiercenes of the King: for hee endured, as hee sawe him which is invisible.

27 Through faith he ordeined the Passouer, and the effusion of blood, least hee that destroyed the first borne, should touch them.

28 By faith they passed through the red sea as by drie land, which when the Egyptians had assayed to do, they were drowned.

29 By faith the walles of Iericho fell down, after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

30 By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them which obeyed not, when shee had receiued the spies peaceably.

31 And what shall I more say? for the time would be too short for me to tell of Gedeon, of Barac, and of Sampson, and of Iephth, also of Dauid, and Samuel, and of the Prophets:

32 Which through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained the promises, stopped the mouthes of Lions,

33 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, of weakes were made strong, waxed valiant in battell, turned to fight the armies of the aliances.

of this world.

n That is, of Mesopotamia.

35 The women received their dead raised to life: other also were racked, and would not be deliuered; that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others haue bene liued by mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover by bonds and imprisonment.

37 They were stoned: they were hewn & funder, they were tempted; they were slaying with the sword, they wandered vp and downe in sheepskins, & in goats skins, being destitute, afflicted and tormented.

38 Whose the world was not worthy of: they wandered in wildernesses and mountains, & in dens, & in caves of the earth.

39 And these although falsly obtained good reports, & received no of the promise.

40 God prouiding a better thing for vs, that they should not be made partakers of the same.

Chap. XII.

1 Therefore, let vs also, seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloud of witnesses, cast away euery thing that presseth downe, and the linneth that hangeth so fast on vs, let vs runne with patience the race that is set before vs.

2 Looking vnto Iesus the author and finisher of our faith, who for the ioye that was set before him, endured the croffe, & despised the shame, and is set at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against himselfe, lest yee should bee wearied and fainte in your mindes.

4 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto blood, striving against sinne.

5 And ye haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto childre, My sonne, depeue not the chattering of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whome the Lord loueth, he chasteneth: and he scourgeth euery sonne that he receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God offreth him selfe vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whome the father chasteneth not?

8 If therefore ye be without correction, whereof al are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not of sonnes.

9 Moreover we haue had the fathers of our bodies which corrected vs, and wee gaue them reuerence: should we not much rather be in subiection vnto the Father of spirits, that we might liue?

10 For they verely for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he chasteneth vs for our profite, that we might be partakers of his holines.

11 For he doeth create our spirit without any worldly meane, so he doeth instruct and mainteine them by the wonderful vertue of his Spirit.

11 Nowe no chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grievous: but afterward, it bringeth the quiet fruite of righteousness vnto them which are thereby exercised.

12 Wherefore lift vp your hands which hang downe, and your weake knees.

13 And make straight kappes vnto your feete, lest that which is halting be turned out of the way, but let it rather be halld.

14 Followe peace with all men, and holiness, without the which no man shall see the Father.

15 Take heed, that no man fall away from the grace of God: let no roote of bitterness spring vp, and trouble vs, lest thereby many be defiled.

16 Let there be no fornication, or prophane person as Esau, which for a portion of meate sold his birthright.

17 For yee knowe howe this welward also, when he would haue inherited the blessing, was reiectet: for he had no place to repent in, though he sought the place.

18 For ye were not come vnto the mount that might be touched, nor vnto burning fire, nor to blackenes and darkenes, and tempest.

19 Neither vnto the sound of a trumpet, and the voyce of wordes, which they that heard it, excused them selves: that the word should not be spoken to them any more.

20 For they were not able to abide that which was commanded: yee, though a beast touch the mountaine, it shall be stoned, or thrust thorow with a diuer.

21 And for soeble was the sight, which appeared, that Moyses said, I feare & quake.

22 But ye are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the citie of the liuing God, the celestial Ierusalem, and to the company of innumerable Angels.

23 And to the congregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the Iudge of al, and to the spirits of iust and perfect men.

24 And to Iesus the Mediatour of the newe Testament, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things then that of Abel.

25 See that yee despoise not him that speaketh: for if they escaped not which refused him, that spake on earth: much more shall we not escape, if we turne away from him, that speaketh from heauen.

26 Whole voyce then shooke the earth, and nowe hath declared, saying, Yet once more will I shake not the earth onely, but also heauen.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the remouing of those things, which are shaken, as of thinges which are made with hands, that the thinges which are not shaken, may remaine.

28 Wherefore seeing we receiue a kingdom, which can not bee shaken, let vs haue grace,

CHAP. XIII.

1 He exhorteth vs to holines, 2 To baptizatiue, 3 To shunke upon such as be in aduersitie, 4 To moue certaine wedlocks, 5 To auoide euill company, 6 To make much of them that preach Gods words, 7 To beware of strange learning, 8 To be content to suffer rebuke with Christ, 9 To be thankfull vnto God, 10 And obedient vnto our gouernours.

4 Marriage is honorable among al, and the bed vndefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God wil iudge.

5 Let your conuersation be without couetousnes, and be content with those things that ye haue: for he hath said, "I will not faile thee, neither forsake thee:"

6 So that we may boldly say, "The Lorde is my helper, neither will I feare what man can do vnto me."

7 Remember them which haue the ouersight of you, which haue declared vnto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering what hath bene the ende of their conuersation.

9 Bee not caried about with diuers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, & not with meates, which haue not profited them that haue bene occupied therein.

10 We haue an altar whereof they haue no authoritie to eate which serue in the Tabernacle.

11 They which stick to the ceremonies of the Law, cannot eat, that is, can not be partakers of our altar, which is thanksgiving and liberalitie, which two sacrifices or offerings are now onely left to the Christians.

Written to the Hebrewes from Italie, & sent by Timotheus.

11 For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the Holy place by the high Priest for sinne, are burnt without the campe.

12 Therefore euen Iesus, that hee might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

13 Let vs goe forth therefore out of the campe, bearing his reproche.

14 For here haue we no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

15 Let vs therefore by him offer the sacrifice of praise alwayes to God, that is, the fruit of the lippes, which confesse his Name.

16 To do good, & to distribute forget not: for with such sacrifices God is pleased.

17 Obey them that haue the ouersight of you, and submit your selues: for they watch for your soules, as they that must giue account, that they may do it with ioye, and not with grief: for that is inprofitable for you.

18 Pray for vs: for wee are assured that wee haue a good conscience in al things, desiring to liue honestly.

19 And I desire you somewhat the more earnestly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you more quickly.

20 The God of peace that brought againe from the dead our Lorde Iesus, the great shepheard of the sheepe, through the blood of the euerlasting Couenant, 21 Make you perfect in al good workes, to doe his wil, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight through Iesus Christ, to whom be praise for euer and euer, Amen.

22 I beseech you also, brethren, suffer the words of exhortation: for I haue written vnto you in few words.

23 Know that our brother Timotheus is deliuered, with whom (if he come shortly) I wil see you.

24 Salute al them that haue the ouersight of you, and al the Saints. They of Italie salute you.

25 Grace be with you all, Amen.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF IAMES.

THE ARGUMENT.

Iames the Apostle and some of Alphaeus wrote this epistle to the Jewes which were converted to Christ, but dispersed throughout diuers countries, & therefore he exhorteth the to patience & prayer, to embrace the true worde of God, and not to be partiall, neither to boast of an idle faith, but to declare a true faith by liuely fruites, to auoide ambition, to bridle the tongue, to rule the affections, to be humble & loue their neighbours, to beware of swearing, to utter their faults when they haue offended, to pray one for another, and so bring him which is out of the way, to the knowledge of Christ.

CHAP.

* That is, writ to no one man, citie or country, but to al Jewes generally, being now dispersed.

CHAP. I.

1 He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6 To perseuer in prayer with steadfast belief, 17 To looke for al good things from above, 21 To forsake al vice, and thankfully to receiue the word of God, 22 Not only hearing it, and speaking of it, but to do therafter in deed, 27 X<sup>p</sup>s true religion is.

1 Ames a seruāt of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the twelue Tribes, w<sup>h</sup> are scattred abroad, salutation. My brethren, count it exceeding ioye, when ye fall into diuers tentations.

3 * Knowing that the trying of your faith bringeth forth patience.

4 And let patience haue her perfect work; that ye may be perfect and entier, lacking nothing.

5 If any of you lacke wisdom, let him aske of God, which giueth to all men liberally, and reprocheth no man, and it shalbe giuen him.

6 * But let him aske in faith, & wauer not: for he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the winde, and caryed away.

7 Neither let that man thinke that he shal receiue any thing of the Lord.

8 A d<sup>r</sup> wauering minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.

9 Let the brother of lowe degree reioyce in that he is exalted:

10 Again he that is rich, in that he is made lowe: for as the flower of the grashe, shal he vaniish away.

11 For as when the sunne riseth with heate, then the grashe withereth, and his flower falleth away, & the beaucie of the fashion of it perisheth: euen so shal the riche man fade away in al his wayes.

12 * Blessed is the man, that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shal receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with euill, neither tempteth hee any man.

14 But euery man is tempted, when hee is drawne away by his owne concupiscence, and is entised.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Erre not, my deare brethren.

17 Euery good is giuing, and euery perfect gift is from above, & cometh down fro the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadowing by turning.

18 Of his owne will begate he vs with the word of truth, that we should be as the first fruites of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my deare brethren, * let euery man be swift to heare, slow to speak, and slow to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man doeth not accomplish the righteousnes of God.

21 Wherefore lye apart all filthines, and su-perfluitie of malicioulnes; & receiue with meekenes the worde that is graffed in you, which is able to saue your soules.

22 * And be ye doers of the worde, and not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selues.

23 For if any heare the word, and do it not, he is like vnto a man, that beholdeth his natural face in a glasse.

24 For when he hath considered him selfe, he goeth his waye, and forgetteth immediately what manner of one he was.

25 But who so looketh in the perfect Lawe of libertie, and continueth therein, he not being a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the worke, shalbe blessed in his dede.

26 If any man among you seemeth religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueh his owne heart, this mans religion is vaine.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God, euen the Father, is this, to visite the fatherles, and widowes in their affliction, and to keepe him selfe vnspotted of the worlde.

CHAP. II.

1 He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5 Bar to re- garde the poore as well as the rich, 8 To be loving and mercifull, 12 And not to boast of faith, withoute deedes are: 17 For it is but a dead faith, where good workes fol- lowe not.

1 My brethre, haue not the faith of our glorious Lord Iesus Christ in respect of persons.

2 For if there come into your companie a man with a golde ring, and in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man in vile raiment,

3 And ye haue a respect to him, that weareth the gay clothing, and saye vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place, & saye vnto the poore, Stande thou there, or sit here vnder my footstoole,

4 Are ye not partial in your selues, and are become iudges of euill thoughts?

5 Hearken my beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, that they should be rich in faith, & heires of the kingdome which hee promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Doe not the rich oppresse you by tyrannie, and do not they draw you before the iudgement seates?

7 Do not they blaspheme the worthy Name after which ye be named?

8 But if yee fulfil the royal Lawe according to the Scripture, which saith, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self, ye do well.

9 * But if ye regarde the persons, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the Lawe, as transgressours.

10 For * whosoever shall keepe the whole Law, and yet faileth in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 For he that saide, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie, said also, Thou shalt not kill. Nowe though thou doest none adul- terie, l So that faith was not idle.

m The more
his faith was declared by his obedience and good workes, the more was it knowne to men to be perfect, as the goodnes of a tree is knowne by her good fruit, other wise no mā can have perfectio in this world:
for euery man must pray for remission of his finnes, and increase of faith. Gm. 3. 4. rom. 4. 3. gal. 3. 4. n Is so knowne and declared to mā.

teric, yet if thou killest, thou art a trans gressor of the Law.
12 So speake ye, and so do, as they that shal be iudged by the Law of libertie.
13 For there shalbe iudgement merciles to him that sheweth no mercie, and mercie reioyceth against iudgement.
14 What auaileth it, my brethren, though a man saith he hath faith, when he hath no workes? can the faith saue him?
15 For if a brother or a sister be naked and destitute of daily foode, 16 And one of you say vnto them, Departe in peace; warme your selues, and fill your bellies, notwithstanding ye giue them not those things which are needefull to the bodie, what helpeth it?
17 Euen so the faith, if it haue no workes, is dead in it selfe.
18 But some man might say, Thou hast the faith, and I haue workes: shew me thy faith out of thy workes, and I will shewe thee my faith by my workes.
19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God:
thou doest wel: the deuils also beleeue it,
and tremble.
20 But wilt thou vnderstande, O thou vaine man, that the faith which is without workes is dead?
21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when he offered Isaac his sonne vpon the altar?
22 Seest thou not that the faith wrought with his workes? and through the workes was the faith made perfect.
23 And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, * Abraham beleueed God, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousness:
and he was called the friend of God.
24 Ye see then how that of workes a man is iustified, and not o<sup>n</sup>ly of faith onely.
25 Likewise also was not * Rahab the har lot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and sent them out another way?
26 For as the bodie without the spirit is dead, euen so the faith without workes is dead.
his faith was declared by his obedience and good workes, the more
was it knowne to men to be perfect, as the goodnes of a tree is knowne
by her good fruit, other wise no mā can have perfectio in this world:
for euery man must pray for remission of his finnes, and increase of

CHAP. III.

1 He forbiddeth al ambition to seeke honour aboute our bre thren. 2 He describeth the propertie of the tongue, 15.
3 And what difference there is betwixt the wisdom of God, and the wisdom of the world.
1 MY brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receiue the greater condemnation.
2 For in many things we sinne al. * If a ny man sinne not in word, he is a perfect man, and able to bridle al the bodye,
3 Ye aske, and receiue not because ye aske amisse, that ye might consume it on your lustes.

3 Beholde, wee put bittes into the horses mouthes that they should obey vs, and we turne about al their bodie.
4 Beholde also the shippes, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very small rudder, whither soeuer the go uernour listeth.
5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member, & boasteth of great things: beholde, howe great a thing a litle fire kindleth.
6 And the tongue is fire, yea, a worlde of wickednes: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature,
and it is set on fire of hell.
7 For the whole nature of beastes, and of birds, and of creeping things, and things of the sea is tamed, and hath bene tamed of the nature of man.
8 But the tongue can no man tame. It is an vnruely euill, full of deadly poyson.
9 Therewith blesse we God euen the Fa ther, and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.
10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing & cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.
11 Doeth a fountaine send forth at one place
sweete water and bitter?
12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, bring forth oliues, either a vine figges? so can no fountaine make both salt water and sweet.
13 Who is a wise man and ended w know ledge among you? let him shew by good conuersation his workes in meekenes of wisedom.
14 But if ye haue bitter enuying and strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither be ly ers against the truth.
15 This wisdomdeme defendeth not from a boue, but is earthly, sensual, and diuinish.
16 For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and al maner of euil workes.
17 But the wisdomdeme that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easie to be entreated, full of mercie & good fruites without iudging, and without hypocri sie.
18 And the fruite of righteousness is lowen in peace, of them that make peace.

CHAP. IIIL

1 Having shewed the cause of all wrong and wickednes, and also of all graces and goodnes. 4 He exhorteth them to loue God, 7 And submit them selues to him, 11 Not speaking euil of their neighbours, 13 But patiently to depend on Gods prouidence.
FROM whence are warres and contenti ons among you? are they not hence, even of your lustes, that fight in your mē
bers?
2 Ye lust, and haue nott ye enuie, and haue indignation, & cannot obteine: yee fight and warre, and get nothing, because yee aske not.
3 Ye aske, and receiue not because ye aske amisse, that ye might consume it on your lustes.

4 Ye adulterers and<sup>d</sup> adulteresses, know ye not that the amitie of the worlde is the enimitie of God? * Whoſoeuer therefore wilbe a friend of the world, maketh him ſelfe the enimie of God.

5 Do ye thinke that the Scripture ſaith in vaine, The ſpirit that dwelleth in vs, luſteth after enuie?

6 But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore ſaith, * God reſiſteth the proud, and giueth grace to the humble.

7 * Submit your ſelues to God: reſiſt the deuil, and he will flee from you.

8 Drawe neere to God, and hee will drawe nere to you. Clenſe your hands, ye ſinners, and purge your hearts, ye wauering minded.

9 Suffer afflictions, and<sup>d</sup> ſorowe yee, and weepe: let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your ioye into heauines.

10 * Caſt downe your ſelues before the Lord, and he will liſt you vp.

11 Speake not euil one of another, brethren. He that ſpeaketh euil of his brother, or he that condemneth his brother, ſpeaketh euil of the Lawe, and * condemneth the Law: and if thou condemneſt the Law, thou art not an obſeruer of the Law, but a iudge.

12 There is one<sup>d</sup> Lawgiuer which is able to ſaue, and to deſtroy. * Who art thou that iudgeſt another man?

13 Go to now ye that ſay, * To day or to morowe we wil go into ſuch a citie, and continue there a yere, and buy and ſell, & get gaine,

14 (And yet ye can not tell what ſhall be to morow. For what is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle time, & afterwarde vaniſheth away)

15 For that ye ought to ſay, * If the Lorde wil, and, if we liue, we wil do this or that.

16 But now ye reioyce in your boſtings: al ſuch reioycing is euill.

17 Therefore, * to him that knoweth how to do wel, and doeth it not, to him it is ſinne.

CHAP. V.

GO to nowe, ye rich men: weepe, and howle for your miſeries that ſhall come vpon you.

2 Your riches are corrupt: and your garments are motheaten.

3 Your gold and ſiluer is cankred, and the ruſt of them ſhalbe a<sup>b</sup> wimes againſt you, and ſhal eate your fleſh as it were fire. * Ye haue heaped vp treaſure for the<sup>c</sup> laſt dayes.

4 Behold, the hire of the labourers, which haue reaped your fieldes (which is of you kept backe by fraud) crieth, and the cries of them, which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of hoſtes.

5 Ye haue liued in pleaſure on the earth, & in wantonnes. Ye haue nourished your hearts, as in a day of<sup>d</sup> ſlaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and haue killed the iuſt, and he hath not reſiſted you.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the coming of the Lord. Beholde, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruite of the earth, & hath long patience for it, vntill he receiue the<sup>e</sup> former, and the latter raine.

8 Be ye alſo patient therefore and ſettle your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nere.

9 Grudge not one againſt another, brethren, leſt ye be condemned: behold, the iudge ſtandeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an enſample of ſuffering aduerſitie, and of long patience, which haue ſpoken in the Name of the Lord.

11 Beholde, wee count them bleſſed which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue known what end the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitiful & merciful.

12 But before all thinges, my brethren, * ſwear not, neither by heauen, nor by earth, nor by any other office: but let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, leſt yee fall into<sup>d</sup> condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merry? Let him ſing.

14 Is any ſicke among you? Let him call for the<sup>e</sup> Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and anoint him with<sup>f</sup> oyle in the<sup>g</sup> Name of the Lord.

15 And the prayer of faith ſhall ſaue the ſicke, and the Lord ſhal raiſe him vp: and if he haue committed ſinne, it ſhal be forgiven him.

16 Acknowledge your faultes one to another, and praye one for another, that yee may be healed: for the prayer of a righteous man qualeth much, if it be ſeruent.

17 * Elias was a man ſubiect to like paſſions as wee are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not raine, and it rained not on the earth for three yeres and ſix moneths.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heauen gaue raine, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, if any of you hath erred from the truth, and ſome man hath conuerſed him,

20 Let him know that he which hath conuerſed the ſinner from going aſtray out of his way, ſhal ſaue a ſoule from death, and ſhal hide a multitude of ſinnes.

<sup>d</sup> Which wereſ days of the ſacrifices, or feaſts when they vied to banquet and feede more abundantly the other daies.

<sup>g</sup> That which muſt be affirmed, affirme it ſimply & without otherlike wiſe that which muſt be denied by this hea- keth not from ſeigneſtate his authoritie who may require an oath for the maintenance of iuſtice, judgement, and truth.

<sup>h</sup> The gift of healing was the ſigne of the gift of healing, but now the gift being taken away, the ſigne is not to be.

<sup>i</sup> Which in theſe daies was a ſigne of the gift of healing, but now the gift being taken away, the ſigne is not to be.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

THE ARGUMENT.

HE exhorteth the faithful to denie themselves, & to conuince the world, that being delivered from carnal affections & inordinations, they may more speedily ascende to the heavenly kingdom of Christ, whereunto we are called by the grace of God reueiled to us in his Sonne, and haue already receiued in by faith, possessed in by hope, & are therein confirmed by holines of life. And to the intent this faith should not faile, seeing Christ conuicted and reiecte almost of the whole worlde, he declareth that this is nothing els but the accomplishing of the Scriptures, which testifie that he should be the stumbling stone to the reprobate & the sure foundation of saluation to the faithful: therefore he exhorteth them courageously to go forwards, considering what they were, and to what dignitie God hath called them. After he enreateth particular points, teaching subiects how to obey their gouernours, and seruants their masters, & how married folkes ought to behaue themselves. And because it is appointed for all that are godly, to suffer persecutions, he sheweth them what good issue their afflictions shal haue, and contrariwise what punishment God reserueth for the wicked. Last of all he teacheth how the ministers ought to behaue themselves, forbidding them to vsurpe authoritie ouer the Church: also that young men ought to be modest, and apt to learne, and so endeth with an exhortation.

CHAP. I.

1 He sheweth that through the abundant mercy of God we are left & regenerate to a lively hope, 2 And haue faith must be tried, 10 That the saluation in Christ is no neuer, but a thing prophesied of old, 13 He exhorteth them to a godly conuersation, forasmuch as they are now borne anew by the word of God.

<sup>1</sup> He exhorteth them to lay aside all vice, <sup>4</sup> Shewing that Christ is the foundation whereupon they build. <sup>9</sup> The excellent estate of the Christians. <sup>11</sup> He prayeth them to abstaine from fleshly lusts. <sup>13</sup> To obey the rulers. <sup>14</sup> How seruants shoulde behaue them selues toward their masters. <sup>16</sup> He exhorteth to suffer after the ensample of Christ.

- <sup>1</sup> Wherefore, *laying aside all maliciousnes and all guile, and dissimulation, and enuie, and all euil speaking,
- <sup>2</sup> As newe borne babes desire * the "fin-cere milke of the word, that ye may growe thereby,
- <sup>3</sup> If so be that ye haue tasted how bountifull the Lord is.
- <sup>4</sup> To whom ye come as vnto a liuing stone disallowed of men, but chosen of God and precious.
- <sup>5</sup> And ye as liuely stones, be made a spiritual house, and holy * Priesthood to offer vp spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.
- <sup>6</sup> Wherefore it is contained in the Scripture, * Behold, I put in <sup>b</sup> Zion a chiefe corner stone, elect & precious: & he that be-leeueth therein, shal not be ashamed.
- <sup>7</sup> Vnto you therefore which beleue, it is precious: but vnto them which be disobedient, the * stone which the * buylders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,
- <sup>8</sup> And a * stone to stumble at, and a rocke of offence, euen to <sup>them</sup> which stumble at the word being disobedient, vnto the which thing they were euen ordeined.
- <sup>9</sup> But ye are a chosen generation, a <sup>d</sup> royal * Priesthood, an holy nation, a * peculiar people, that ye should shewe forth the ver-tues of him that hath called you out of darkenes into his marcuilous light,
- <sup>10</sup> * Which in time past were not a people, yet are now the people of God: which in time past were not vnder mercie, but now haue obtained mercie.
- <sup>11</sup> Dearly beloved, I beseeche you, as stragers and pilgrims, * abstaine from fleshly lusts, which fight against the soule,
- <sup>12</sup> * And haue your conuersation honest among <sup>y</sup> Gentiles, that they which speake cuill of you as of euil doers, may by <sup>your</sup> * good workes which they shal see, glori-fic God in the day of * the visitation.
- <sup>13</sup> * Submit your selues vnto all * maner ordinance of man for the Lordes sake, whether it be vnto the King, as vnto the superior,
- <sup>14</sup> Or vnto gouernours, as vnto them that are sent of him, for the punishment of eu-il doers, and for the praise of them that do well.
- <sup>15</sup> For so is the wil of God, that by well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men,
- <sup>16</sup> As free, and not as hauing the liberty for a cloke of malicioufnes, but as the seruants
of God.
- <sup>17</sup> Honour all men: * loue <sup>b</sup> brotherly fellowship: feare God: honour the King.

- <sup>18</sup> * Seruantes, be subiect to your masters <sup>Eph. 6. 5.</sup> with all feare, not onely to the good and courageous, but also to the * froward. <sup>col. 3. 22.</sup>
- <sup>19</sup> * For this is thanke worthy, if a man for his conscience toward God endure griefe suffring wrongfully.
- <sup>20</sup> For what praise is it, if whē ye be buffeted for your faultes, ye take it patiently: but and if when ye do wel, ye suffer wrong and take it patiently, this is acceptable to God.
- <sup>21</sup> For hereunto ye are called: for Christ also suffered for vs, leauing vs an ensample that ye should followe his steppes.
- <sup>22</sup> * Who did no sinne, neither was there guile found in his mouth.
- <sup>23</sup> Who whē he was reuiled, reuiled not again. when he suffered, he threatened not, but committed it to him that iudgeth righteously.
- <sup>24</sup> * Who his owne selfe bare our sinnes in his bodie on the tree, that we being deli-uered frō sinne, should liue in righteousnes: by whose stripes ye were healed.
- <sup>25</sup> For ye were as sheepe going astray: but are now returned vnto the shepherd and bishop of your soules.

CHAP. III.

- <sup>1</sup> How wiues ought to order themselves toward their husbands, <sup>3</sup> And in their apparel. <sup>7</sup> The duty of men toward their wiues. <sup>8</sup> He exhorteth all men to unite and loue, <sup>14</sup> And patiently to suffer trouble by the example & benefite of Christ.
- <sup>1</sup> Likewise * let the wiues be subiect to <sup>Col. 3. 18.</sup> their husbands that euen they which <sup>ephe. 5. 22.</sup> obey not the word, may without the word be wonne by the couersatiō of the wiues,
- <sup>2</sup> While they behold your pure conuersation, which is with feare.
- <sup>3</sup> * Whole apprelling let it not be outward, <sup>1. Tim. 2. 9.</sup> as with broyded heare, and golde put about, or in putting on of apparel.
- <sup>4</sup> But let the hid mā of the heart be vncorupt, with a meeke and quiet spirit, which is before God a thing much set by.
- <sup>5</sup> For euen after this maner in time past did the holy women, which trusted in God, tier themselves, and were subiect to their husbands.
- <sup>6</sup> As Sarra obeyed Abraham, and * called him * Syr: whose daughters ye are, whiles ye do wel, not being afraid of any terrour.
- <sup>7</sup> * Likewise ye husbands, dwell with them as men of <sup>b</sup> knowledge, * giuing honour vnto the woman, as vnto the weaker vessel, euen as they which are <sup>d</sup> heires together of the grace of life, that your * praers be not interrupted.
- <sup>8</sup> Finally, bee ye all of one minde: one suffer with another: loue as brethren: be pitifull: be courteous,
- <sup>9</sup> * Not rendring euill for euill, neither rebuke for rebuke: but contrariwise blessed knowing that ye are therunto called, that ye should be <sup>b</sup> heires of blessing.

10 *For if any mā long after life, and to see good dayes, let him refraine his tongue from euill, and his lippes that they speake not euill.

11 *Let him eschewe euill and do good: let him seeke peace, and follow after it.

12 *For the eyes of the Lorde are ouer the righteous, & his eares are open vnto their prayers: & the face of the Lorde is vpon them that do euill.

13 And who is it that will harme you, if ye follow that which is good?

14 *Now standing blessed are ye, if ye suffer for righteounes sake. Yea, feare not their feare, neither be troubled.

15 *But sanctifie the Lorde God in your hearts, and be readie alwayes to giue an answer to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you,

16 *And that with meekenes and reuerence, hauing a good conscience, that when they speake euill of you as of euill doers, they may be ashamed, which blame your good conuersation in Christ.

17 For it is better (if the will of God be so) that ye suffer for well doing, then for euill doing.

18 *For Christ also hath once suffered for sinnes, the iuste for the vniuste, that he might bring vs to God, & was put to death concerning the fleshe, but was quickened in the spirit.

19 By the which he also went, & preached vnto the spirits that are in prison.

20 Which were in time passed disobedient, who once the long suffering of God abode in the dayes of * Noe, while the arke was preparing, wherein fewe, that is, eight soules were saued in the water.

21 To the which also the figure that nowe saueth vs, euen Baptisme agreeth (not the putting away of the filth of the fleshe, but in that a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Iesus Christ,

22 Which is * at the right hande of God, gone into heauen, to whome the Angels, and Powers, and might are subiect.

CHAP. II.

* He exhorted vs to eschew sinne, & to spend more time in vice, 7. To be sober and apt to pray, 8. To loue eche other, 12. To be patient in tribulation, 13. To be care that no man suffer in an euill doer, 14. But as a Christian man, and find to be ashamed.

1 Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the fleshe, arme your selues likewise with the same * miode, which is that he which hath suffered in the fleshe, hath ceased from sinne.

2 That he henceforwarde shoulde liue (as much time as remaineth in the fleshe) not after the lustes of men, but after the will of God.

3 * For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the time past of the life, after the lust of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnes, lustes, drunkenness, in gluttony, drinkings, and in abominable idolatries.

4 Wherein it seemeth to them strange, that ye runne not with the vnto the same excess of ryote: therefore speake they euill of you.

5 Which shall giue accounts to him, that is readie to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose was the Gospell preached also vnto the deade, that they might be condemned, according to men, in the fleshe, but might liue according to God, in the spirit.

7 Now the end of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore sober, and watching in prayer.

8 But about all things haue feruent loue among you: * for loue couereth the multitude of sinnes.

9 * Be ye harborous one to another, without grudging.

10 * Let euery man as he hath receiued the gift, minister the same one to another, as good disposers of the manifold grace of God.

11 If anye man speake, let him talke as the words of God. If any man minister, let him do it as of the abilitie which God ministreth, that God in all things may be glorified through Iesus Christ, to whome is praise and dominion for euer, and euer, Amen.

12 Dearly beloued, thinke it not strange concerning the fire trial, which is among you to proue you, as though some strange thing were come vnto you:

13 But reioyce, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christes sufferings, that when his glory shall appeare ye may be glad and reioyce.

14 * If ye be rayled vpon for the Name of Christ, blessed are ye: for the spirit of glory, and of God resteth vpon you: which on their part is euill spoken of: but on your part is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderere, or as a thiefe, or an euill doer, or as a busie bodie in other mens matters.

16 But if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorifie God in this behalfe.

17 For the time is come, that iudgement must beginne at the house of God. If it first begin at vs, what shall the end be of the which obey not the Gospel of God?

18 * And if the righteous scarcely be saued, where shall the vngodly & the sinner appeare?

19 Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit their soules to him in wel doing, as vnto a faithful Creator.

CHAP. V.

* The duties of Pastours is to feed the flocks of Christ, and what rewards they shall haue if they be diligent. 3. He exhorted young persons to submit them selues to the Elders, 4. To be sober and to watch that they may resist the enemy.

b Although the wicked thinke this Gospel new, and vexe you that embrace in yet, hath it been preached to the of tyme past, which now are dead, to the intent that they might haue been condemned, or dead to sinne in the fleshe, and also might haue liued to God in the spirit, which two are the effect of the Gospel.

c As hate moueth vs to re- proche our brother when hee offendeth vs: so loue hideth and pardoneth the fautes which hee committed against vs, though they be neuer so many.

THE SECOND EPISTLE

GENERAL OF PETER.

THE ARGUMENT.

The effect of the Apostle here is to exhort them which have once professed the true faith of Christ to stand to the same even to the last breath: also that God by his effectuall graces inwardly manumeth them to holines of life, in punishing the hypocrites which abuse his Name, and in increasing his gifts in the godly: wherefore by godly life he being now almost at death's doore, exhorts them to promise their vocation, not setting their affections on worldly things (as he had oft written unto them) but lifting their eyes toward heauen, as they be taught by the Gospel, whereof he is a cleare witness, chiefly in that he heard with his owne eares that Christ was proclaimed from heauen to be the sonne of God, as likewise the Prophets testified. And lest they should promise to them selves quietnes by professing the Gospel, he warneth them both of troubles which they should sustaine by the false teachers, and also by the mockers and commenders of religion, whose manners and craft he lively setteth forth as in a table: aduertising the faithfull not onely to waite diligently for Christ, but also to behold presently the day of his coming, and to preforme them selves vnpossed against the same.

CHAP. I.

4 Forasmuch as the power of God hath given them all things pertaining unto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lusts, 10 To make their calling sure with good work, 11 and fruites of faith. 12 He maketh mention of his own death, 17 Declaring the Lord Jesus to be the true sonne of God, as he him self had sene upon the crosse.

iudgement, and of the destruction of vn-godlie men.

8 Derely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lorde, * as a thousand yeres, & a thousand yeres,
as one day.

9 The Lorde is not slack concerning his promise (as some men counte shal) (euer) but is patient toward vs, and * would haue no man to perishe, but would all men to come to repentance.

10 * But the daye of the Lorde will come as a thief in the night, in the which the hea-uens shall passe away with a noyse, and the elements shall melte with heate, and the earth with the workes, that are therein, shall be burnt vp.

11 Seeing therefore that all these things must be dissolved, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlines,

12 Looking for, and haasting vnto the com-ming of the day of God, by the which the heauens being on fire, shall be dissolved, & the elements shall melte with heate.

13 But we looke for * newe heauens, and a newe earth, according to his promise, wherin dwelleth righteousnes.

14 Wherefore, beloued, seeing that ye looke for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in * peace, without spot and blameles.

15 * And suppose that the long suffering of our Lorde is saluation, euen as our beloued brother Paul according to the wisdom giuen vnto him wrote to you,

16 As one, that in all his Epistles speaketh of these things: among the which some things are * hard to be vnderstand, which they that are vnlearned & unstable, per-uert, as they do also other Scriptures vnto their owne destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloued, seeing ye knowe these things before, beware, lest ye be al-plucked away with the errour of the wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnes.

18 But growe in grace, and in the knowe-ledge of our Lorde and Sauour Iesus Christ: to him be glorie both now and foreuermore. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE
GENERAL OF IOHN.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that S. Iohn had sufficiently declared, howe that our whole saluation doeth consist only in Christ, lest that any men should thereby take a boldnes to sinne, he sheweth that no man can beleeue in Christ, vnlesse he doeth endeuour him selfe to keepe his commandments, which thing being done, he exhorteth them to beware of false prophetes, whome he calleth Antichrists, and to knowe the spi-rites. Last of all he doeth earnestly exhort them vnto brotherly loue, and to beware of deceiues.

through him
10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his sonne to be a reconciliation for our finnes.

11 Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought al so to loue one another.

12 No man hath seene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby knowe we, that we dwell in him, and he in vs: because he hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

14 And we haue seene, and do testifie, that the Father sent the Sonne to be the Sui our of the world.

15 Who euer confesseth that Iesus is the Sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

16 And we haue knowen, and beleueed the loue that God hath in vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we shoulde haue boldenes in the day of iud gement: for as hee is, euen so are wee in this world.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath pain fulness: and he that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue him, because he loued vs first.

20 If any man saye, I loue God, and hate his brother, he is a lyer: for howe can he that loueth not his brother whom he hath seene, loue God whom he hath not seene?

21 And this commandment haue wee of him, that he which loueth God, shoulde loue his brother also.

CHAP. V.

1. Iohn 3. 16. I am as one of
I am to him

1 Who euer beleueeth that Iesus is the Christ, is borne of God, and euery one that loueth him, which begate, loueth him also which is begotten of him.

2 In this we knowe that we loue the chil dren of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commandmentes.

3 For this is the loue of God, that we keep his commandmentes: and his command mentes are not grievous.

4 For all that is borne of God, ouercom meth the world: and this is the victorie that ouercometh the world, euen our faith.

5 Who is it that ouercometh the world, but he which beleueeth that Iesus is the Sonne of God.

1 This is that Iesus Christ that came by water and blood, not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the Spirit, that beareth witness: for the Spirit is truth.

2 For there are three, which beare recorde in heauen, the Father, the Worde, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.

3 And there are three, which beare record in the earth, the spirit & the water & the blood: and these three agree in one.

4 If we receiue the witness of men, the wit nes of God is greater: for this is the wit nes of God, which he testified of his Sonne.

5 Hee that beleueeth in the Sonne of God, hath the witness in himself: he that beleueeth not God, hath made him a lier, because he beleueeth not the record, that God witnessed of his Sonne.

6 And this is the recorde, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in his Sonne.

7 He that hath the Sonne, hath life: and he that hath not the Sonne of God, hath not life.

8 These things haue I written vnto you, that beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God: that ye may knowe that ye haue eternall life, and that ye may beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God.

9 And this is the assurance, that we haue in him, that if we aske any thing accord ing to his will, he heareth vs.

10 And if wee knowe that hee heareth vs, what euer we aske, we knowe that wee haue the petitions that we haue desired of him.

11 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne that is not vnto death, let him aske, and he shall giue him life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne, vnto death: I say not that thou shouldest praye for it.

12 All vniuerse is sinne, but there is a sinne not vnto death.

13 We knowe that whosoever is borne of God, sinneth not: but he that is begot ten of God, keepeth himselfe, and the wicked one toucheth him not.

14 We knowe that we are of God, and the whole world is with in wickedness.

15 But we knowe that the Sonne of God is come, and hath giuen vs a minde to knowe him, which is true: and wee are in him that is true, as in his Sonne, as in his life: this life is very life, and it is eternall life.

16 Babes, keepe your selues from idols,
 Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE

He writeth vnto a certain Dalry, & sayeth that his children walk in their wrath, & exhorteth them vnto a 30 earnest that he be more of such doctrine as denie that Iesu Christ is come in the flesh. 30 Prayeth them so continue in the doctrine of Christ, & And to haue nothing to do with them that bring in the same doctrine of Christ Iesu and Sathan.

The Elder to the elect Lady, and her children
 wherof I am the truth:
 & not I only, but also I have knowe the truth.
 For the truths sake w dwellen in vs, and thal be with vs for euer!

3 Grace be with you, mercy & peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ the Sonne of the Father, wth truth and loue.

4 I reioyced greatly, that I founde of my children walking in trieth, as we haue received a commaundment of the Father.
5 And now beleeche I thee, Ladie; (not as writing a newe commaundment into thee, but that faith which we had from the beginning) that we loue one another.
6 And this is the love, that we should walk

after his commandements. This commandement is, that as yee haue heard from the beginning, ye should walke in it.

For many deceivers are entered into the world, which confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. He that is such one, is a deceiver and an Antichrist.

Looke to your selues, that we <sup>4</sup> lose not the things which we haue done, but that we may receiue a full reward.

Whoeuer transgresseth, & abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God.
Hee that continueth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Sonne.

o If there come any vnto you, and bring not this doctrine, * receiue him not to house, neither bid him. † God speede.

For he that briddeth him, God speede, is partaker of his euill deedes. Although I had many things to write vnto you, yet I would not write with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you, & speake mouth to mouth, that our ioye may be full.

The sonnes of thine" elect filter greet thee, Amen.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

He is glad of Gain that he walketh in the truth, & Exhorteth them to be loving unto the poore Christen in their perfection. & Sheweth the unkind dealing of Diotrophes: 13 And the good report of Demetrius.

I He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whome I loue in the truth.

Beloued, I wish chiefly that thou prosperedst & faredst well, as thy soule prospereth.

3 For I reioyced greatly whē the brethren came, and testified of the trueth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the trueth.

4 I haue no greater ioy then this, thus is, to heare that my sonnes walke in <sup>a</sup> veritie.
5 Beloued, thou doest faithfully whatsoeuer

6 Which bare witness of thy lone before the Churches. Whom if thou bringest on 7 Because that for his Names sake they w<sup>e</sup>r forth and took nothing of the Gentiles

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be helpers to the truth.

I wrote unto the Church but Diocletian which loveth to haue the preeminence among them receiued it not.

Wherefore if I come, I will declare his deedes which he doeth, preaching against vs with malicious words, & not therewith content, neither he him self receiveth the brethré, but forbiddeth them that would,
and thrusteth them out of the Church.

Beloued, followe not that which is euill, but that which is good: he that doeth wel, is of God: but he that doeth euill, hath not seene God.

Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth it selfe: yea, and wee our selues beare record, and ye know that our record is true.

I haue many thinges to write: but I will not with ynke and pen write vnto thee.

For I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. The friends salute thee. Greete the friends by name.

THE GENERAL EPI-

THE ARGUMENT.

Saint Iude admonisheth al Churches generally to take heede of false teachers, which go about to draw away the hearts of the simple people from the truth of God, and willesh them to have no fellowship with such, whome he setteth forth in their liuely colours, shewing by diuers examples of the Scriptures what horrible vengeance is prepared for them: finally he comforteth the faithful, and exhorteth them to persevere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

Vde a seruaut of I E S V S lames, to them which are called and sanctified of God, the Father, and Christ.

2 Mercie vnto you, and peace and loue be multiplied.

3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needfull for me to write vnto you to exhort you, that ye shoulde earnestly contend for the maintenance of the faith, which was once giuen vnto the Saintes.

4 For there are cerrein men crept in which were before of old ordained to this condemnation: vngodlye men, they are which turne the grace of our God into wantonnes, and deny God the onely Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, forasmuch as ye once knew this, how that the Lord, after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, destroyed them afterward which beleued not.

6 The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitatio, he hath referred in euermolde chaine, vnder darkenes vnto the iudgement of the great day.

7 As Sodom and Gomorreh, & the cities about them, which in like maner as they did, committed, & followed strange flesch, are set forth for an ensample, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fire.

8 Likewise notwithstanding these dreamers also defile the flesh, and despise gouernement, and speake euil of them that are in authoritie.

9 Yet Michael the Archangel, when hee strove against the deuill, & disputed about the bodie of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these speake euil of those thinges, which they knowe not: and whatsoever thinges they know naturally, as beastes, which are without reason, in those thinges they corrupt them felices.

11 Wo be vnto them: for they haue followed the way of Cain, & are cast away by the thing, o God, in by their carnal iudgement. Gen. 4. 1.

the deceit of Belaaams wages, and perishe in the gainelaying of Core.

12 These are spottes in your feasts of chaistie when they feast with you, without all feare, feeding themselves: cloudes they are without water, caried about of winds, corrupt trees, & without fruit, twice dead, & plucked vp by the rootes.

13 They are the raging waues of the sea, foaming out their owne shame: they are wandering starres, to whome is referred the blacknes of darkenes for euer.

14 And Enoch also the seutenth from Adam, prophesied of such sayings. Behold, the Lord commeth with thousands of Saints.

15 To giue iudgement against all men, and to rebuke all the vngodly among them of all their wicked deeds, which they haue vngodly committed, and of all their cruel speakings, which wicked sinners haue spoken against him.

16 These are murderers, complainers, walking after their owne lusts: whose mouthes speak proud thinges, hauing men perones in admiration, because of a vantage.

17 But ye beloued, remember the wordes which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesus Christ.

18 How that they told you that there should be mockers in the last time, which should walke after their owne vngodly lusts.

19 These are makers of sectes, fleshlye, hauing not the Spirit.

20 But, yee beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the hoyle Ghost.

21 And keep your selues in the loue of God, looking for the mercy of our Lorde Iesus Christ vnto eternall life.

22 And haue copalsion of some, in putting difference.

23 And other saue with feare, pulling the out of the fire, and haue euen the garnet sported by the flesh.

24 Nowe vnto him that is able to keep you, that ye fall not, and to present you faultles before the presence of his glorie with loye.

25 That is, to God only wife, our Satiour, be glory, and maiestie, and dominion, & power, both now and for euer. Amen.

also to take away all occasions which are as preparatives and riet to the same.

THE REVELATION OF

John the Diuine.

THE ARGUMENT.

IT is manifest, that the holy Ghost would as it were gather into this most excellent booke a summe of those propheties, which were written before, but should be fulfilled after the comming of Christ, adding also such thinges as should be expedite, aswell so forewarne vs of the dangers so come, as to admonish vs to beware some and encourage vs against others. Herein therefore is lively set forth the Dominie of Christ, and the testimonies of our redemption, what things the Spirit of God alloweth in the ministers

CHAP. I.

1 The cause of the revelation. 2 Of them that reade it. 3 John writeth to the seven Churches. 4 The manifest and office of the Sonne of God. 5 The vision of the candlesticks and starres.

3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that heare the wordes of this prophesie, and keepe those things which are writt therein: for the time is at hand.

4 Iohn, to the seven Churches which are in Asia, Grace be with you, & peace from him, Which is, and Which was, & Which is to come, and from the seven Spirites which are before his Throne.

7 Beholde, he cometh with cloudes, & euery eie shall see him: yea, eue they which beared him through: and al kinred of the earth shall waile before him, Euen so, Amen.

8 I am alpha and omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, Which is, & Which was, and Which is to come, euen the Almighty.

9 Iohn, euen your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom & patience of Iesus Christ, was in the ylle called Patmos, for the worde of God, and for the witnessing of Iesus Christ.

10 And I was rauished in spirit on the Lords day, and heard behinde me a great voyce, as it had bene of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am alpha and omega, the first and the last: and that which thou seest, write in a booke, and send it vnto the seven Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, & vnto Pergamus, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardi, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 Then I turned backe to see the voyce, that spake with me: & when I was turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks, 13 And in the middes of the seven candlesticks, one like vnto the Sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, and girded about the pappes with a golden girdle.

14 His head, and heares were white as white wooll, and as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

15 And his feet like vnto fine brasse, burning as in a fornace: and his voyce as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seuen stars: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged sworde: and his face shined as the sunne shined in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feete as a dead: then he laid his right hand vpon me, saying vnto me, Feare not: I am the first and the last,

18 And am aliue, but I was dead: & beholde, I am aliue for euermore, Amen: & I haue the keyes of hell and of death.

Vnto the Angel of the Church of Ephesus write, These things sayth hee that holdeth the seven starres in his right hande, and walketh in the middes of the seven golden candlestickes.

I knowe thy workes, and thy labour, and thy pacience, and how thou canst not forbear them which are euill, and hast examined them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars. And thou hast suffred, and hast pacience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, & hast not fainted.

Neuertheles, I haue somerwhat agaynst thee, because thou hast left thy first loue. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, & do the first workes; or els I will come against thee shortly, and will remove thy candlesticke out of his place, except thou amend.

But this thou hast, that thou hatest the workes of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. Let him that hath an eare, heare, what the Spirit sayeth vnto the Churches, To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the tree of life, which is in the middes of the Paradise of God.

And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Smyrnians write, These things sayeth he that is first, and last, which was dead, and is aliue.

I know thy workes and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art rich) and I knowe the blasphemie of them, which say they are Iewes, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

Feare none of those things, which thou shalt suffer: behold, it shall come to passe, that the deuill shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried, and ye shall haue tribulation ten dayes: but thou faithful vnto the death, and I will giue thee the crowne of life.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit sayeth to the Churches. He that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the second death.

And to the Angel of the Church which is at Pergamus write, This faith he which hath the sharpe sword with two edges.

I knowe thy workes and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans throne is, & thou keepst my Name, and hast not denied my faith, euen in those dayes when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

But I haue a fewe things agaynst thee, because thou hast there them that mayn-taine the doctrine of Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling block before the childre of Israel, that they should eate of things sacrificed vnto idoles, and commit fornication.

Euen so hast thou them, that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

Repent thy selfe, or els I will come vnto thee shortly, and will fight agaynst them with the sword of my mouth.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches. To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the Manna that is hid, and will giue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, sauing he that receyueh it.

And vnto the Angel of the Church which is at Thyatira write, These things sayth the sonne of God, which hath his eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feete like fine brasse.

I know thy workes and thy loue, and seruice, and faith, and thy pacience, and thy workes, and that they are mo at the last end at the first.

Notwithstanding, I haue a fewe things agaynst thee, that thou suffrest the woman Jezabel, which falleth herself a Prophetesse, to teache & to deceiue my seruants to make them commit fornication, and to eate meates sacrificed vnto idoles.

And I gaue her spate to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

Beholde, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her, into great affliction, except they repent of their workes.

And I will kill her children with death: and all the Churches shal knowe that I am he which searche the reins and hearts: and I will giue vnto euery one of you according vnto your workes.

And vnto you I say, the rest of them of Thyatira, As many as haue not this learning, neither haue knowne the deepnes of Satan (as they speake) I will put vpon you none other burden.

But that which yee haue already holde fast, I will I come.

For he that ouercommeth and keepeth my workes vnto the ende, to him will I giue power ouer nations,

And he shall rule them with a rodde of yron: and as the vessels of a potters, shall they be broken.

Euen as I receiued of my Father, so will I giue him the morning starre.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit sayth to the Churches.

CHAP. III.

He exhorted the Churches or ministers to the true profession of faith and to watching, in VIIth promise to them that persevere.

1 And write vnto y<sup>e</sup> Angel of the Church which is at Sardis. These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God; & the seven starres, I know thy workes: for thou hast a name that thou liuest, but thou art dead.

2 Bee awake and strengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die: for I haue not founde thy workes persefure before God.

3 Remember therefore, how thou hast receiued and heard, and holde fast, and repent. If therefore thou wilt not watch, I will come on thee as a thiefe, and thou shalt not knowe what houre I will come vpon thee.

4 Now withstanding thou hast a fewe names yet in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments: and they shall walke with me in white: for they are worthe.

5 He that ouercometh, shall be clothed in white aray, & I will not put out his name out of the Booke of life, but I will confesse his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

6 Let him that hath an eare, heare, what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

7 And write vnto y<sup>e</sup> Angel of the Church which is at Philadelphus. These things saith he that is Holy & True, which hath the keye of Dauid, which openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth & no man openeth.

8 I knowe thy workes: beholde, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a litle strength & hast kept my worde, and hast not denied my Name.

9 Beholde, I will make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which call them selues Iewes and are not, but doo lie: beholde, I say, I will make them, that they shall come and worship before thy feete, and shall know that I haue loued thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the worde of my patience, therefore I will de huer thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the world to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come shortly: holde that which thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

12 Him that ouercometh, I will make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: & I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the cite of my God, which is the newe Ierusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God, & I will write vpon him my newe Name.

13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

14 And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These things saith

Amen, the faithfull and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God. I knowe thy workes, that thou art neither colde nor hote: I would thou wast colde or hote.

16 Therefore, because thou art luke warme, & neither colde nor hote, I will send to passe, that I shall spew thee out of my mouth.

17 For thou saiest, I am rich and increased with goods, and haue neede of nothing, and knowest not howe thou art wretched and miserable, and poore, & blinde, and naked.

18 I counsel thee to bue of me golde tryed by the fire, that thou maist be made rich, and white raiment, that thou maist be clothed, and that thy shewe nakednes doe not appeare: & I anoint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou maist see.

19 As many as I loue, I rebuke and chastise: zealous therefore and amend.

20 Behold I stand at the doore, and knocke: If any man heare my voyce and open the doore, I will come in vnto him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that ouercometh, I will grant to sit with mee in my throne, euen as I haue come, and sit with my Father in his throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

23 Amen. Iesus sayeth thus, I knowe thy workes, & thou art luke warme, & neither colde nor hote. I would thou wast colde or hote.

After this I looked, and beheld, a doore was open in heauen: & the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, saying, Come vp hither, and I will shewe thee things which must be done hereafter.

And immediately I was wafted in the spirit, and beholde, a throne was set in heauen, and one sat vpon the throne.

And he that sat, was to looke vpon the vnto a staffe stone, & a sea line, & there was a rainbow round about the throne, in light like to an emerald.

And rounde about the throne were foure and twenty seats, & vpon the seats I saw foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and had on their heads crownes of golde.

And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces, and there were seven lampes of fire, burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

And before the throne there was a sea of glasse like vnto crystal: and in the middles of the throne, & round about the throne, were foure beasts full of eyes before and behinde. The world is compared to a sea because of the changes and mutableness. It is as clear as crystal before the eyes of God, because there is nothing in it to hide that is hid from him. They are called Cherubims, Iack 10.10.

7 And the first beast was like a lyon, and the second beast like a calfe, & the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 And the foure beasts had eche one of them six wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they cealed nor daye nor night, saying, <sup>1</sup> Holy, holy, holy Lorde God almighty, Which was, and Which is, and Which is to come.

9 And when those beasts gaue glorie, and honour, & thanks to him that sat on the throne, which lieth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie Elders fel downe before him that sat on the throne, and worshipped him, that lieth for euermore, and cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art <sup>1</sup> worthy, O Lord, to receiue glorie and honour, and power: for thou hast created all thinges, and for thy willes sake they are, and haue bene created.

CHAP. V. And I sawe in the right hande of him that sat vpon the throne, a Booke written within, & on the backside, sealed with <sup>7</sup> seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a strong Angel, which preached with a loude voyce, Who is worthy to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heaue, nor in earth, neyther vnder the earth, was able to open the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 Then I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to reade the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the elders sayde vnto mee, Weepe not: beholde, the <sup>1</sup> Lyon which is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of David, hath obtained to open the Booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 Then I behelde, and lo, in the middes of the throne, & of the foure beasts, and in the middes of the Elders, stood a Lambe, as though he had bene killed, which had <sup>7</sup> seuen hornes, and <sup>7</sup> seuen eyes, which are the <sup>7</sup> seuen spirits of God, sent into all the world.

7 And he came, and tooke the Booke out of the right hande of him that sat vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the Booke, the foure beasts & the foure and twentie Elders fel downe before the Lambe, hauing euerie one harpes and golden vials full of odoures, which are the <sup>1</sup> prayers of the Saints,

9 And they sung a new song saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed, & hast <sup>1</sup> redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euery kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation,

10 And hast made vs vnto our God <sup>1</sup> Kings and Priests, and we shall <sup>1</sup> reigne on the earth.

11 Then I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many Angels round about the throne, & about the beasts and the Elders, and there were <sup>1</sup> thousand thousands,

12 Saying with a loude voyce, Worthie is the <sup>1</sup> Lambe that was killed to receiue power & riches, & wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and praise.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, & vnder the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them, heard, I, saying, Prayse and honour, and glory, and power be vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen, & the foure & twentie Elders fel downe, & worshipped him that lieth for euermore.

CHAP. VI. The Lambe opened the first seale, and many things followe the opening thereof, so that this containeth a general prophesie to the ende of the worlde.

1 Then I behelde when the Lambe had opened one <sup>1</sup> of the seales, & I heard one of the foure beasts say, as <sup>1</sup> was the noise of thunder, Come and see.

2 Therefore I behelde, and lo, there was a <sup>1</sup> white horse, and he that <sup>1</sup> sat on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering that he might ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the seconde seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse, <sup>1</sup> that was red, & power was giuen to him that sat thereon, to take peace fro the earth, and that they should kill one another, and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see.

6 Then I beheld, and lo, a blacke horse, & he that sat on him, had balances in his hand.

7 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beasts say, <sup>1</sup> Measure of wheat for a penie, and <sup>1</sup> measure of barley for a penie, and oyle, & wine hurt thou not.

8 And when hee had opened the fourth of the seales, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

9 And I looked, and behelde, a <sup>1</sup> pale horse, & his name that sat on him was Death, and <sup>1</sup> Hell followed after him, and power was giue vnto them, ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, & with the beasts of the earth.

10 And when he had opened the <sup>1</sup> fifth seale, I saw vnder the altar the soules of them, all perfection of the Church noted by the fifth seale. The Saints are vnder the altar, which is Christ, meaning that they are and death of man and beast. <sup>1</sup> On the ground that were killed for the word of God, and for testimony which they maintained.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, How long, Lord, holy and true! dost not thou iudge and auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white robes were given vnto euery one, and it was said vnto them, that they shoulde rest for a litle season vntill their fellow seruants, and their brethren that shoulde be killed euen as they were, were fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the fixt seale, & lo, there was a great earthquake, and the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth of heare, & the moone was like blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, as a figge tree casteth her greene figs, when it is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And heauen departed away, as a scrole when it is rolled, and euery mountaine & yle were moued out of their places.

15 And the Kings of the earth, & the great men, and the rich men, & the chief captaynes, and the mightie men, & euery bondman, and euery free man, hid their selues in denes, and among the rockes of the mountaines,

16 And said to the mountaines and rocks, Fall on vs, & hide vs from the presence of him that sitteth on the throne, & from the wrath of the Lambe.

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who can stand?

dreth & foure & fourtie thousand of al the tribes of the children of Israel.

Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousande.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After these things I beheld, & lo, a great multitude, which no man coulde number, of al nations and kindreds, and people, & tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long white robes, and palmes in their hands.

10 And they cried with a loude voyce, saying, Saluation cometh of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, and of the Lambe.

11 And al the Angels stood round about the throne, and about the Elders, & the foure beasts, and they fel before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God.

12 Saying, Amen. Praise and glorie, & wisdom, and thanks, and honour, & power, & might, be vnto our God for euer more, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, What are these which are arrayed in long white robes, & whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lorde, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they, which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes and haue made their tog robes white in the blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day and night in his temple, and he that sitteth on the throne, wil dwell among them.

16 They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neyther shall the sunne light on them, neither any heate.

17 For the Lambe, which is in the middes of the throne, shal gouerne them, and shal lead them vnto the liuely fountaines of waters, and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

18 He shall giue them life and conserue them in eternall life. These are the names of them which are sealed.

CHAP. VIII.

The seventh seale was opened: there wasten in beames. The foure Angels of the four winds, and the foure plagues follow vpon the sixth.

1 And when he had opened the seventh seale, there was silence in heau above corruption of the doctrine: but vnder the seventh he sheweth the great danger thereof, and what troubles, pestes, and heresies haue bene and shall be brought vnto the Church thereby. 10 Then I heard a loud voice, saying, Now is salvation in heaven, and strength and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 But they buoed him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the words of their testimony, and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come down vnto you which hath great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man child.

14 But to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and time, and halfe a time, from the presence of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman like a flood: that he might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 But the earth helpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

17 Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made waste with the remnant of her seede, which keepe the commandmentes of God, and haue the testimony of Iesus Christ.

18 And I stood on the sealand.

CHAP. XVII.

1 And I saw a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seven heades, and ten hornes, & vpon his hornes were ten crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leopard, and his feete like a beares, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gaue him his power and his throne, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, but his deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondered and followed the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, that he spake great things, and blasphemies, that he should make warre with the Saints, and to overcome them: and he was allowed to doe so for forty and two monethes.

& power was giuen vnto him, to doe two and fourtie monethes.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his Name and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make war with the Saints, and to overcome them, and power was giuen him ouer euerye kindred and tongue, and nation.

8 Therefore all that dwell vpon the earth, shal worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the Lambe, which was slaine from the beginning of the worlde.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

10 If any leade into captiuitie, he shall go into captiuitie: if any kill with a sword, he must be killed by a sword: here is the patience, and the faith of the Saints.

11 And I beheld another beast coming vp out of the earth, which had two hornes like the Lambe: but he spake lyke the dragon.

12 And he did all that the first beast could doe before him, and he caused the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wounde was healed.

13 And he did great wonders, so that hee made fire to come downe from heauen on the earth, in the sight of men.

14 And he deceyued them that dwell on the earth by the signes, which were permitted to him to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make the image of the beast, which had the wound of a sword, and did lue.

15 And it was permitted to him to giue a spirite vnto the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast should speake, and shoulde cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, shoulde be killed.

16 And hee made all, both small and great, riche and poore, free and bonde, to receiue a marke in their right hande, or in their foreheades.

And I sawe another <sup>1</sup> signe in heauen, great and marueilous, <sup>2</sup> seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

And I sawe as it were <sup>3</sup> a glasse sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glasse sea, hauing the harpes of God,

And they sung the song of Moses the <sup>4</sup> seruāt of God, & the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous <sup>5</sup> are thy workes, Lord God almightie: iust and true are thy <sup>6</sup> wayes, King of Saints.

Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name: for thou only <sup>7</sup> art holy, and al nations shall come and worshippe before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

And after that I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen.

And the seuen Angels came out of the temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure <sup>8</sup> & bright linen, and hauing their <sup>9</sup> breasts girded with golden girdles.

And one of the <sup>10</sup> foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vialles full of the wrath of God, which liueth for euermore.

And the Temple was ful of the smoke of the glorie of God and of his power, and no man was able to <sup>11</sup> enter into the Temple, til the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

God giueth vs full entrie into his Church by destroying his enemies: for the Saints can not cleerely knowe all Gods iudgements before the full ende of all things.

CHAP. XVI.

The Angels poure out their vialles full of wrath, & And what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heed and watch.

And I heard a great voyce out of the <sup>1</sup> Temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Go your wayes, and poure out the seuen vialles of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

And the first went, and poured out his vial vpon the earth: and there fell a noy-<sup>2</sup> some, & a grieuous, <sup>3</sup> sore vpon the men, which had the marke of the beast, & vpon them which worshipped his image.

And the second Angel poured out his vial vpon the sea, and it became as the <sup>4</sup> blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing died in the sea.

And the third Angel poured out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they became <sup>5</sup> blood.

And I heard the Angel of the <sup>6</sup> waters say, Lord, thou art iust, Which art, and the first plague of Egypt, which signifieth all kindes of pestilences and contagious diseases. <sup>7</sup> That is, corrupt and infected. <sup>8</sup> The first plague of Egypt was like vnto this. <sup>9</sup> Hee bringeth forth these Angels: the one which is gouernour of the waters, and the other vnder the altar, as witnesses and commendours of Gods iust iudgements.

Which wast, and Holy, because thou hast iudged these things.

For they shed the blood of the Saints, & Prophetes, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drink: for they are worthy.

And I heard another out of the Sātuarie say, Euen so, Lord God almightie, <sup>1</sup> true and righteous are thy iudgements.

And the fourth Angel poured out his vial on the sunne, and it was giuen vnto him to torment men with <sup>2</sup> heate of fire,

And men boyled in great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to giue him glories.

And the fift Angel poured out his vial vpon the throne of the <sup>3</sup> beast, & his kingdom waxed darke, and they <sup>4</sup> gnaw their tongues for sorrow,

And blasphemed the God of heauen for their paines, and for their sores, and repented not of their workes.

And the sixt Angel poured out his vial vpon the great riuer <sup>5</sup> Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the Kings of the East should be prepared.

And I sawe three <sup>6</sup> vnclane spirites like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, & out of the mouth of the false Prophet.

For they are the <sup>7</sup> spirits of devils, working miracles, to go vnto the <sup>8</sup> Kings of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the battel of that great day of God almightie.

(Behold, I come as a thiefe. Blessed is hee that watcheth and keepeth his <sup>9</sup> garments, least he walke naked, and men see his filthineffe)

And they gathered them together into a place called in Hebrew <sup>10</sup> Arma-gedon.

And the seuenth Angel poured out his vial into the ayre: and there came a loude voyce out of the Temple of heauen from the throne, saying, <sup>11</sup> It is done.

And there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, euen so mightie an earthquake.

And the great <sup>12</sup> citie was deuided into three parts, and the <sup>13</sup> cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to giue vnto her the king like frogges and come out of Antichrists mouth, because they should speake nothing but lies and vse all manner of craftie deceit to mainteyne their riche Euphrates against the true Christians. <sup>14</sup> Albeit they call them selues spirituall and holy fathers. <sup>15</sup> For in all kings courts the Pope hath had his ambassadours to hinder the kingdome of Christ.

1 Praises are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore, and for auenging the blood of his seruantes. 10 The Angell wil not be worshipped. 17 The foules and birdes are called to the slaughter.

And after these things I heard a great voice of a great multitude in heaue, saying, * Hallelu-iah, saluation, & glorie, and honour, and power be to the Lord our God.

chap. 17. 14.

x This signifieth that the day of iudgement shall be cleare & euident, so that none shall be hid.

y For the Pope and the worldly Princes shall fight against Christ, even vntill this last day.

z The ouerthrow of the beast and his which shall chiefly accomplished at the second coming of Christ.

11 And I sawe heauen open, and beholde a white horse, & he that sat vpon him, was called, Faithful and true, and he iudged and fighteth righteously.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes: and he had a name written, that no man knewe but himselfe.

13 And hee was clothed with a garment dipt in blood, and his name is called, THE WORD OF GOD.

14 And the warriors which were in heauen, followed him vpon white horses, clothed with fine linen white and pure.

15 And out of his mouth went out a sharpe sworde, that with it he shoulde smite the heathen: for he shall rule them with a rod of yron: for he it is that treadeth the wine presse of the fiercenes and wrath of almightie God.

16 And he hath vpon his garment, & vpon his thigh a name written, THE KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an Angel stand in the sunne, who cried with a loude voice, saying to all the fowles that did flie by the middes of heauen, Come, & gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God, That ye may eate the flesh of Kings, and the flesh of hie Captaines, and the flesh of mightie men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men and bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the Kings of the earth, and their warriors gathered together to make battell against him, that sat on the horse and against his fouldiers.

20 But the beast was taken, and with him that false Prophet that wrought miracles before him, whereby hee deceived them that receiued the beastes marke, & them that worshipped his image. These both were alieue cast into a lake of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sworde of him that sat vpon the horse, which commeth out of his mouth, and all the fowles were filled ful with their flesh.

For the trumpet shall blowe aloud and all shall vnderstand it.

For the Pope and the worldly Princes shall fight against Christ, even vntill this last day.

The ouerthrow of the beast and his which shall chiefly accomplished at the second coming of Christ.

CHAP. XX.

Satan being bound for a certaine time, 7 And after let loose, vexeth the Church grievously. 16. 14. And after the worlde is iudged, he & his are cast into the lake of fire.

1 And I saw an Angel come down from heauen, hauing the keye of the bottomles pit, and a great chain in his hand. And he tooke the dragon that olde serpent, which is the deuill and Satan, and he bound him a thousand yeres;

a This Angel representeth the order of the Apostles, whose vocation and office was from heauen: or may signifie Christ, which should tread downe the serpents head. b Hereby he meaneth the Gospell whereby hell is shut vp to the paythfull, and Satan is chained that he can not hurt them, yea & the ministers, hereby open it to y infidels, but through their impietie and stubbornes. c That is, from Christs natiuitie vnto the time of Pope Syluester the seconde: so long the pure doctrine should after a sort remaine.

3 And cast him into the bottomles pit, and he shut him vp, and sealed the doore vpon him, that he shoulde deceyue the people no more, till the thousande yeeres were fulfilled: for after that he must bee loosed for a litle season.

4 And I saw seats: & they sat vpon them, & iudgement was giuen vnto them, and I saw the foules of them, that were beheaded for the witness of Iesus, & for y worde of God, and which did not worship the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheades, or on their hands: and they liued, and reigned with Christ a thousand yere.

5 But the rest of the dead men shall not liue againe, vntill the thousand yeres life be finished: this is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he, that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power: but they shall be the Priestes of God and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yere.

7 And when the thousande yeeres are expired, Satan shall bee loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall goe out to deceyue the people, which are in the foure quarters of the earth: cum Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell, whole number as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went vp into the plaine of the earth, which compassed the tentes of the Saints about, and the beloued citie: but fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them.

10 And the deuill that deceyued them, was cast into a lake of fyre and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophete shall be tormented euery day and night for euermore.

11 And I sawe a great white throne, & one that sat on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and heauen, & their places were no more found.

12 And I saw the dead, both great & small stand before God: and the bookes were opened, & another booke was opened, which is the booke of life, and the deade were iudged of those things, which were written in the bookes, according to their workes.

13 And the sea gaue vp her dead, which were in her, and death and hel deliuered vp the dead, which were in them: & they were iudged euery man according to their workes.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not founde written in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

death, whereby men haue bene slaine. Hell and death which are the last enemies, shall be destroyed.

CHAP. XXI.

3. 24 The blessed estate of the gedy; 8. 27. And the miserable condition of the wicked. 11 The description of the beaunty Ierusalem, and of the wife of the Lambe.

1 And I saw * a new heaven, and a new earth: * for the first heaven, and the first earth were <sup>b</sup> passed away, and there was no more sea.

2 And I Iohn sawe the holy cite newe Ierusalem come <sup>d</sup> downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride, trimmed for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voyce out of heauc, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them: and they shall be his people, and God himselfe shall be their God with them.

4 * And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more paine: for the first things are passed.

5 And he that sat vpon the throne, sayde, * Beholde, I make all things new: and he said vnto me, Write: for these wordes are faithful, and true.

6 And he saide vnto me, \* It is done, I am  $\alpha$  and  $\omega$ , the beginning, and the ende, I will give <sup>e</sup> to him that is thirstie of the water of life freely.

7 He that ouercometh, shall inherite all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my sonne.

8 But the * fearefull, and vnbeleeuing, and the * abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and forcerers, and idolaters, & all such shall haue their part in the lake, which burneth with fire, and brimstone, which is the second death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vialles full of the seuen last plagues, & talked with me, saying, Come: I wil shew thee the * bride, the Lambes wife.

10 And he caried me away in the spirit to a great & an hie mountaine, and he shewed me the great * cite, holy Ierusalem, <sup>d</sup> descending out of heauen from God,

11 Hauing the glorie of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, as a * Iasper stone cleare as crystal,

12 And had a great * wall and hie, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, & the names written, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Israel.

13 On the East part there were three gates, and on the Northside three gates, on the Southside three gates, and on the West side three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelue foundations, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue * Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golde reede to measure the cite withal, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the cite laye foure square, and the length is as large as the bredth of it, and he measured the cite with the reede, twelue thousand furlongs: & the length, & the bredth, & the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundredth, fortie and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the Angell.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Iasper: and the cite was pure golde like vnto cleare glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones: the first foundation was Iasper: the second of Saphire: the third of a Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Emerald.

20 The fifth of a Sardonyx: the sixth of a Sardiush: the seventh of a Chrysolite: the eighth of a Beryl: the ninth of a Topaze: the tenth of a Chrysoprasus: the eleventh of a Iacynth: the twelfth an Amethyst.

21 And the twelue gates were twelue perles, and euery gate was of one perle, and the street of the cite was pure golde, as shining glasse.

22 And I sawe no Temple therein: for the Lord God almighty, and the * Lambe are the Temple of it.

23 And the city hath no need of the sunne, neither of the Moone to shine in it: for the glory of God doth light it: and the Lambe is the light of it.

24 * And the people which are saved, shall walke in the light of it: and the Kings of the earth shall bring their glorie, and honour into it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And the glory and honour of the Gentiles shall be brought vnto it.

27 And there shall enter into it none vn-cleane thing, neither whatsoever worketh abomination or lies: but they which are written in the Lambes * Booke of life.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The fruitfullnes of the light of the cite of God. 3 The Lord giueth euery his seruants warning of things to come. 4 The Angel will not be worshipped. 5 To the words of God may nothing be added nor diminished there from.

1 And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, cleare as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God, & of the Lamb.

2 In the middes of the streete of it, and of either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bare twelue manner of fruits, & gaue fruit euey moneth: and the leaues of the tree serued to heale the nations with.

3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God & of the Lambe shall be in it, and his seruants shall serue him.

4 And they shall see his face, and his Name shall be in their foreheads.

5 * And there shall be no night there, and they need no candle, neither light of the Sunne: for the Lorde Gpd giueth them light, and they shall reigne for euermore.

6 And he saide vnto me, These wordes are faithfull and true: and the Lorde God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shew vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

Behold, I come shortly. Blessed is he that keepeth the wordes of the prophesie of this booke.

And I am Iohn, which saw & heard these things: and when I had heard & seene, I fel downe to worshipping before the feete of the Angel, which shewed me these things.

But he saide vnto me, See thou do not for I am thy fellowe seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, & of them which keepe the wordes of this booke: worshipping God.

And he saide vnto me, Seale not the wordes of the prophesie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

He that is vniust, let him be vniust still: & he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

And beholde, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, to giue euery man according as his worke shalbe.

I am A and O, the beginning & the end, the first and the last.

Blessed are they that do his commandments, that their right may be in the tree of life, & may enter in through the gates of the city. They that are thirsty, let them come, and take of the water of life free.

into the citie. For without shalbe dogs, & enchanter, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loueth or maketh lies.

I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches: I am the roote & the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, saye, Come: and let him that is athirst, come: and let whosoever wil take of the water of life freely.

For I protest vnto euery man that heareth the wordes of the prophesie of this booke, If any man shall add vnto these things, God shall add vnto him the plagues, which are written in this booke.

And if any man shall diminish of the wordes of the booke of this prophesie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from those things which are written in this booke.

He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Even so come, Lord Iesus.

The grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Seeing the Lorde is at hand, we ought to be constant and reioyce, but wee must beware wee glorie not in our length nor shortness of the Lorde coming by our owne imagination. This declareth the earnest desire that the faithful haue to be deliuered out of these miseries, and to be ioyned with their head Christ Iesus.

A BRIEF

A BRIEF TABLE OF THE INterpretation of the proper names which are chiefly founde in the olde Testament, wherein the first number signifieth the Chapter, the second the Verse.

WHereas the wickednesse of time, and the blindness of the former age hath bene such, that all things altogether have bene abused and corrupted, so that the very right names of diuers of the holy men named in the Scriptures have bene forgotten, and now seeme strange vnto vs, and the names of infants that should euer haue some godly aduersements in them, and should be memorials and markes of the children of God receiued into his householde, haue bene hereby also changed and made the signes and badges of idolatry and heathenish impietie, we haue now set forth this table of the names that be most used in the olde Testament with their interpretations, as the Hebrew importeth, partly by callinge the godly from that abuse, when they shal know the true names of the godly fathers, and what they signifie, that their children now named after them, may haue testimonies by their very names, that they are within that faithfull familie that in all their doings had euer God before their eyes, and that they are bound by these their names to serue God from their infancie, and haue occasion to praise him for his workes wrought in them, and their fathers: but chiefly to restore the names to their integritie, whereby many places of the Scriptures and secret mysteries of the holy Ghost shall better be vnderstand. We haue modelled vnderly with the Greeke names, because their interpretation is vncertaine, and many of them are corrupted from their originall, as we may also see these Hebrew names set in the margent of this Table, which haue bene corrupted by the Grecians. Now for the other Hebrew names that are not here interpreted, let not the diligent Reader be carefull: for he shall finde them in places most conuenient amongst the annotations: at least so many as may seeme to make for any edification, and vnderstanding of the Scriptures.

The end of the Table.

A PERFITE SUPPUTATION OF the yerres and times from Adam vnto Christ, prooued by the Scriptures, after the collection of diuers Authors.

The summe of the yerres of the first age.

From Adam vnto Noes flood are yerres 1656.

For when Adam was 130. yeere
olde, he begate Seth.

Seth being 105. yerres, begate Enos.

Enos being 90. yerres, begat Cainan.

Cainan being 70. yerres, begate Ma-haleleel.

Mahaleleel being 65. yerres, begate Iared.

Iared at the age of 162. yerres, begate Enoch.

Enoch being 65. yerres, begate Ma-thuseleah.

Mathuseleah at the age of 187. yerres, begate Lamech.

Lamech being 182. yerres, begate
Noe.

Noe at the coming of the flood was 600. yerres olde, as appeareth in the seuenth of Genesis.

The whole summe of the yerres are 1656.

From the said flood of Noe vnto Abrahams departing fro Chal-
de were 163. yerres, & ten daies.

For the said flood continued one whole yeere, and ten daies.

Sem (which was Noes sonne) begate Arphaxat two yerres after that.

Arphaxat begate Salah when he was
35. yerres olde.

Salah being 30. yerres olde, begate
Heber.

Heber at his age of 34. begate Phalech.

Phalech being 30. yerres, begate Regu.

Regu being 32. yerres, begat Saruch.

Saruch being 30. yerres, begate Nahor.

Nahor being 29. yerres, begate Tha-re.

Thare being 70. yerres, begate Abraham.

And Abraham departed fro Chal-
de when he was 70. yerres olde.

These said yerres accounted are 363.
yerres, and ten daies.

From Abrahams departing fro Vr in Chalde vnto the departing of the children of Israel from Egypt are 430. yerres, gathered as followeth.

Abraham was in Charran sine yerres, and departed in the 75. yeere.

He begate Isaac when he was 100.
yerres olde, and in the 25. yeere of his departing.

Isaac begate Iacob when he was
60. yerres olde.

Iacob went into Egypt with all his familie, when he was 130. yerres olde.

Israel was in Egypt 220. yerres, which remaine from that time.

Then rebate 80. yerres fro this: for so olde was Moses when he conducted the Israelites from Egypt.

So the rest of the yerres, that is to say, 130. are deuided betwixt Am-ram and Chath.

Then Chath begate Amram at his age of 67. yerres.

Amram being 65. yerres, begate Moses, who in the 80. yeere of his age departed with the Israelites from Egypt.

So this supputation is the 430. yerres mentioned in the 12. of Exodus, and the third to the Galatians.

From the going of the Israelites from Egypt vnto the first building of the temple are 480.
yerres, after this supputation and account.

Moses remained in the desert or wildernes 40. yerres.

Iosue and Othoniel ruled 40. yerres.

Aioth 70. yerres.

Dehora 40. yerres.

Geddon 40. yerres.

Abimelech 3. yerres.

Thela 23. yerres.

Iair 22. yerres.

Then were they without a capitaine vnto the 18. yeere of Iepthe.

Iepthe 6. yerres.

Abissam 7. yerres.

Elom 10. yerres.

Abaton 8. yerres.

Samphon 20. yerres.

Heli Iudge and Priest 44. yerres.

Samuel and Saul reigned 40. yerres.

Dauid was King 40. yerres.

Salomon in the 4. yeere of his reigne began the building of the Temple.

These are the 480. yerres mencio-ned in the first of the Kings, and the 6. chapter.

From the first building of the Temple vnto the captiuitie of Babylon are 419. yerres and an halfe.

Salomon reigned yet 36. yerres.

Roboam 17. yerres.

Abia 3. yerres.

Afa 41. yerres.

Iosaphat 25. yerres.

Ioram 8. yerres.

Ochafias one yeere.

Athalia the Queene 7. yerres.

Iozas 40. yerres.

Amasias 29. yerres.

Ozias 52. yerres.

Iothan 16. yerres.

Achas 16. yerres.

Ezechias 29. yerres.

Manasses 55. yerres.

Amon 2. yerres.

Iosias 31. yerres.

Iozas has 3. moneths.

Eliachim 11. yerres.

Iochim, Iechonias 3. moneths.

And here beginneth the captiuitie of Babylon.

The summe of these yerres are 419.
yerres.

Ierusalem was reedified and builded againe after the captiuitie of Babylon. 143. yerres.

The captiuitie continued 70. yerres.

The children of Israel were deliue-red & restored to their freedome in the first yeere of Cyrus.

The Temple was begun to be builded in the 1. yeere of the said Cyrus, and finished in the 46. yeere, which was the 6. yeere of Darius.

After that Darius had reigned 20. yerres, Nehemias was restored to libertie, and went to build the citie, which was finished in the 32. yeere of the said Darius.

All the yerres fro the building of the Temple againe are 26. yerres.

The whole summe of yerres amount to 143. yerres.

From the reedifying of the citie
vnto the coming of Christ, are 483. yerres, after this supputation or nombring.

It is mentioned in the 9. of Daniel, that Ierusalem should be builde vp againe, and that fro that time vnto the coming of Christ are 67. weekes, and euery weeke is reckened for seuen yerres. So 67.
weekes amount to 483. yerres.

For from the 32. yeere of Darius vnto the 42. yeere of Augustus, in the which yeere our savior Christ was borne, are iust and complee so many yerres, whereupon wee reken, that from Adam vnto Christ are 3974. yerres, fixe mo-neths and ten daies, and from the birth of Christ vnto this present yeere, is 1577.

Then the whole summe & number of yerres from the beginning of the worlde vnto this present yeere of our Lorde God 1576. are iust 5551. and the said odde fixe mo-neths and ten daies.

THE ENDE.

IOSHYA CHAP. I. VERSE 8.

Let not this Booke of the Lawe departe out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and night, that thou mayst obserue and do according to all that is written therein: for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou haue good successe,
